

D. S. 31075

MARK TWAIN'S

PERFORATED INTERLEAVED

SCRAP BOOK.

Vol. 39.

PATENT NUMBER 477,040

May 1, 1917 to September 15, 1917.
DIRECTIONS.

Use but little moisture, and only on gummed lines. Press the scrap on without wetting it.
After filling the gummed pages, remove the interleaving leaf at the perforated line, allowing the short stub to remain, which will keep the book of uniform thickness.

DANIEL SLOTE & COMPANY,

321 BROADWAY

NEW YORK

GENERAL PERSHING SUCCEEDS FUNSTON

Formally Appointed Commander of Southern Department.

1917

Washington, Feb. 21.—Major General John J. Pershing was formally appointed commander of the Southern department today, succeeding Major General Frederick Funston. The appointment will take effect immediately and does not require confirmation by the Senate. General Pershing, while in command of the expedition into Mexico, was slated for command of the department of New Mexico, which it was proposed to create if military operations on a large scale were undertaken in Mexico. The plan never was put into effect.

Pershing's Career.

Brigadier General John Joseph Pershing was born in Linn county,

Mo., September 15, 1858. He graduated with the highest honors from the Kirksville school at 20 and entered the military academy. He graduated from West Point in 1880 and was assigned to the Signal Corps under General Nelson A. Miles.

His first actual command was under General Miles in the Geronimo campaign against the Indians. He was the victor in the hand-to-hand encounter at Red Bank. He was mentioned in the early part of the war as a major in the 8th Cavalry. He was made a major in the campaign against the Indians in Cuba as a volunteer. His greatest fame came in the Philippines, where he returned from duty after eight years. He was in the campaign against the

He spent a year in the campaign against the bandits in Japan and two months in the army during the war. He was promoted to brigadier-general in 1906 and returned to the Philippines in 1906, at the request of the Philippine government in 1913. He returned to the States and took command of the 8th Brigade at the outbreak of the Mexican revolution and later took part in the bandit campaign against the town of Cuernavaca and pursued him in the mountains of Mexico.

In 1915, while he was in the Philippines, his wife and three children were killed in a fire at the house they lived in San Francisco.

A WORLD

When General Pershing first time that was against the Barbary force to Europe, against the Barbary naval. It marked world war. Europe and all are actively Mexico and Central America count as world power. Brazil is on the side of and so are Argentina a sentiment, and the similarity or two is all that is to make them actively so. She may well say that she is "ed by a string of enemies," has made them all herself only friend is the Kaiser's and he seems to have lost it in the Kaiser's troops or to be more efficient than Hindenburg. In including all Europe in war it is of course understood that Holland and Denmark are right out of it, for their situation is such that they could be devastated by the Kaiser's troops in a fortnight. But it does seem strange that Norway does not join the allies, for Germany pays no attention to her rights on the sea, and she could exercise considerable influence in the North sea and come out with credit as part of the world.

Gen Pershing see also Vol 44 p. 1.

*Pershing Sailed June 1917
Returned September 1919 See large envelope.*

PERSHING ACROSS AHEAD OF ARMY.

U. S. NAVY FLYING CORPS MEN.

Washington, June 8.—One hundred American aviators from the navy flying corps have arrived safely in France for any duty that may present itself, according to a statement issued to-day by Secretary Daniels.

London, June 8.—9:10 a. m.—General Pershing and his party arrived early this morning at a port in Great Britain.

The general arrived in London this afternoon. He was welcomed by Walter Hines Page, the American ambassador; Lord Derby, secretary of state for war; Viscount French, commanding the British home forces and other officers, including Lord Brooke, who will be attached to General Pershing's staff during his stay in England.

Pershing Talks.

Where They Are Staying.

General Pershing and the twelve officers of his senior staff are to be guests of the British government at the Savoy. The remainder of the contingent will be looked after by American societies in London.

The American chamber of commerce, the Pilgrims, the Luncheon club, the American society, and the American Women's club have combined to entertain the visitors and look after their needs, and James E. Dunning, European manager of the National City bank, has been delegated to take charge of the civil entertainment. The junior staff officers also are to have quarters at the Savoy, while the officers and enlisted men comprising the special headquarters detail, will be quartered in the Tower of London. The civilian clerks will stop at the Imperial hotel.

Major-General Pershing, whose safe arrival in England is recorded, has with him 198 officers, enlisted men and other attaches.

The party sailed more than a week ago without any publicity being given to their departure. The party made the trip on scheduled time. It learned to-day that the government had advised yesterday that the vessel on which they crossed was on time relieving any anxiety that might have been felt. Reports from Paris yesterday said sites for the camps of American troops had been selected. Presumably General Pershing will inspect these and make complete arrangements for the reception of his troops. No information as to the composition of the American force or when it may be expected to reach France has been given out beyond the original statement that a division of regular troops supplemented by a regiment of marines would be sent "at the earliest prac-

BALDWIN GOES TO

IMMANUEL CHURCH

NEW MUSIC LEADER

AT FOURTH CHURCH

Harry R. Pratt Begins

1a

GENERAL PERSHING AND MARSHAL FOCH SAYING

Major-General John J. Pershing

—[Greeley Photo Service.]

CESSOR OF MAJOR-GENERAL FREDERICK FUNSTON, U. S. A., IN COMMAND OF SOUTHERN DEPARTMENT.

... Warren, not Pershing a bit abashed by his father's exalted rank, threw himself in his arms and fairly cried for joy. Father and son had not met for three years. lost his wife and three daughters in a fire at the Presidio, San Francisco, in 1915.

... Congregational Church, the predecessor of the Immanuel Church, April 1, 1892, during which time he has conducted the church a number of anist and er. May 1 who has been in as organ- the Fourth assumed time Sunday predictions followed his usician, not actual ac- osen field—the work so y his pre-lesley Hills, n. When 8 y soloist at n, and sang ie state. La- nist of the merly sung, oointed or- of Grace he remained was also or- services at When 17 osition to be r was accept- on Company.

lege, he stud- int and com- or Spaulding e and attend- Conservatory no instructor d his teacher stration and W. Chadwick. d the Welles- mixed chorus gave concerts erable atten-

BALDWIN

Farewell to or nearly fif- rector at the Church, who ere May 1, to or of the Im- Church, was people, most rs, or former outh Church given in the ing in his of the choir re- aining $50 in New lcers present- up and sticks to off- sident of the o betation for the Baker, in the J. J. Dunlop, on for the Donchian, for- at the church, w York, and s. Mrs. Mary fly a soprano soloist in the choir, also sang. Miss Sexton read several selections, and the Brower Trio played. Refresh- ment were serv-

PAGE Ge

60TH BIRTHDAY OF LOCKWOOD & SONS

Electrotyping Concern to Celebrate

In business the proud electrotypist Lockwood pronounced himself a pioneer in Connecticut; Hartford.

William Lockwood, a training father, J. senior partner & Brainard binders, that complement to New York months Lockwood returned the print father was

William H. Lockwood

He responded to President Lincoln's call for troops at the outbreak of the Civil War and went to front as a first lieutenant and was advanced to the place of captain. After two years of service he returned to take over the electrotyping business and has since conducted as an independent enterprise. F. P. Lockwood and James L. T. George L. Vannais

Department Store to Form Accounting Institute.

George L. Vannais, for a quarter of a century will be retiring having other accounts in which incorporated state, stock of shales, will be operators J. S. T. J. E. M. will stand July 1, countanford Life at No. 2 George corporat of the most tw January very val of the regret it will tak Mr. V 1888 from the emp ness Co keeping ed there the empl worked i the Con

George L. Vannais.

Company and was employed as bookkeeper at the Stanley Works of New Britain. He has been a member of the state accountancy board.

A GENUINE D. A. I Real Daughter of 99 YE Revolution, Aged 102

(Special to The Cour Putnam)

Mrs. Sarah Bosworth real daughter lution, obs birthday an Eastford.

39-11-1920
Putnam, April 30.—Daughters of the American Revolution belonging to Putnam chapter to-day followed their custom of going to Eastford to call upon Mrs. Sarah Bosworth Bradway, a real daughter, who to-day enjoyed her 102nd birthday anniversary.

Wm. H. Lockwood Surrounded by Flowers

MRS. BRADWAY OBSERVES HER 103D BIRTHDAY
Leaving 1924
Eastford Woman Daughter of Revolutionary War Hero.

William H. Lockwood is not a fiction seen above, might indicate to the content Mr. Lockwood on the day last week with handsome floral gifts from relatives at the anniversary.

Annie M. Hatch was married to Peter Boorn Maud E. Hatch to George. The brides are bridegrooms brother Albert B. Todd performed. Miss Elizabeth in Eastford village. Present during this city was maid of Maud Hatch and Miss of Malden, Mass., brides, was maid of from the Elizabeth Porter Annie Hatch. Paul Zeron Bagdagian w Revolution, for Mrs. white satin and chiffon cent trimming and bouquets of pink and Miss Beyers wore a blue crepe de chine with bud trimming and light blue taffeta and crepe. They carried Mrs. George Hatch, brides, wore brown beaded trimming. D'Arche played the v from "Lohengrin" an were Miss Margaret Mary Hollis, Miss Esth Miss Elvira Yeaman, brides. Relatives and present from New York ain, Bridgeport, Meri adjoining town. Mrs. chester. After the ception was held, a couples left for a w New York and New will be at home at N avenue.

(Special to The Courant.)
1921 Eastford, May 1.

Mrs. Sarah Bosworth Bradway, Connecticut's oldest woman, observed her 103d birthday yesterday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Darwin Clark in Eastford village. Present during the day were a number of the four generations of the family from Eastford and nearby towns, a delegation from the Elizabeth Porter Putnam Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, for Mrs. Bradway in a "real daughter of the American Revolution."
Rev. and Mrs. J. R. Miller of Thompson also were present. Their daughter married Donald Clark, a great grandson of the venerable lady, Donald Clark has the distinction of having living six grandparents and two great grandmothers, one of whom is Mrs. Bradway. On his maternal side, Mrs. Miller's mother, Mrs. Abbie Buell is in her 81st year. Donald has two great grandmothers, two grandmothers and two grandfathers. Mrs. Bradway is the sole survivor of a family of eleven children. She was born in Eastford, April 30, 1818, in a house but a short distance from the one that she now lives in. Her father was Allan Bosworth, a non-commissioned officer of the Revolutionary Army. He enlisted in Ashford and joined town. Mrs. Bradway retained excellent facilities to a remarkable extent and is in good health for a woman of her age. She has an excellent memory and can recall events that transpired in the early history of the country when she was a little girl.

MARCH 26, 1918.
HARTFORD BOY WINS COMMISSION IN FRANCE

LIEUT. JOHN W. STORRS.

Lewis A. Storrs of No. 360 Farmington avenue has just received word that his son, John W. Storrs, has received a commission as second lieutenant in the United States army in France. Lieutenant Storrs went to France last May to drive an ambulance but after reaching there he entered the camion service. Last October he enlisted as a private in the United States army and went at once to a famous French training school. His commission is the result. He was a student at Dartmouth College and went to France with the Dartmouth unit. He is 22 years old.

LIEUT. J. W. STORRS RETURNS FROM FRANCE

July 1919
First Lieutenant John W. Storrs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis A. Storrs of No. 360 Farmington avenue, returned to this country from France last Sunday morning. He first went to Camp Merritt and from there will go to Camp Upton. He expects soon to receive his discharge and to return to Hartford. Lieutenant Storrs went to France in May, 1917, with the American Ambulance Corps. Later he entered the United States Army as a private and subsequently went to a training school in France, where he received his commission. He was a student at Dartmouth College when he went to France, and was graduated from that institution last June, his father going to Hanover, N. H., to receive the degree for him.

SNOW ON MAY DAY.

Hanover, N. H., May 2.—May day brought snow to northern New Hampshire. Several inches fell during the day.

HARTFORD BOY GOING TO FRANCE

About May 1, 1917
John W. Storrs, Leaves Dartmouth College to Join Ambulance Corps.

John W. Storrs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis A. Storrs of No. 360 Farmington avenue, will sail in the near future for France where he will join the American Ambulance Corps. He is a member of the sophomore class at Dartmouth College and is

John W. Storrs

21 years old. A few days ago he telegraphed his father from Hanover, N. H., that he wished to join the ambulance corps and he came to Hartford the latter part of the week and at once made arrangements to secure his passport. He will go to New York the early part of this week and will secure the major part of the equipment which is necessary to have before leaving this country. His enlistment with the American Ambulance Corps will be for a period of six months.

LIEUTENANT JOHN W. STORRS.

Lieutenant John W. Storrs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis A. Storrs, of No. 360 Farmington avenue, who has been in active service in France since May, 1917, was expected to return to Hartford the middle of next month and his parents were so informed by him. The day after that good news came another letter was received from him announcing that he had received orders to take his company to Antwerp. He is to operate with the Army of Occupation and does not expect to reach home before Christmas. He went to France with the Dartmouth College Unit, while an undergraduate at that college, and later received his commission in the United States Army in France.

MAY, MAY 25, 1916.

1d CAPT. ROBINSON
90 YEARS OLD
CAPTAIN ROBINSON AND MME. NORDICA

ANDREWS GOING TO FT. OGLETHORPE

PAGE

Captain James Bartlett Robinson, who celebrated his ninetieth birthday at his home at No. 617 Wethersfield avenue last week, is very proud of the accompanying picture taken of him and the late Lillian Nordica on the porch of the captain's homestead at Vineyard Haven, Mass. Captain Robinson is the father of Mrs. William E. Whittemore and grandfather of Rev. Lewis Bliss Whittemore of Christ Church, New York. He received flowers and telegrams from many friends last week.

He is one of the old-time whalers. He was born at Chilmark, Martha's Vineyard, a direct descendant of Rev. John Robinson, one of the earliest settlers of New England. When he was still in his teens he shipped on a whaling boat in a humble capacity and later rose by way of boat-steerer and mate to the captain's post, sailing out of New Bedford harbor in the Talimaroo of Fair-haven. In 1864 he enlisted in the United States navy and served off Charlestown. After the war he again followed the lure of the waves, sailing on the Palmetto to the Pacific.

In that same year that he joined the navy he married Sarah D. Barrows, who died in 1908. Captain Robinson also lived in California for twenty-five years and engaged in the sheep-raising industry. His mother was a sister of "Camp Meeting" John Allen, the celebrated evangelist of Maine, who was a grandfather of Mme. Lillian Nordica, the prima donna, who visited the captain at his Vineyard Haven home. He spends the greater part of his time there, passing the winter months with his daughter in this city. He is a member of Henry Clay Wade Post, No. 201, G. A. R.; a warden of Grace Church in Vineyard Haven and a prominent Mason.

M. ANDREWS ANCE
G ARMY 917 n to be a Fort

ANDREWS.

most of the war de-

917
M. Andrews,
Myron A. An-
h Main street,
e of the forty-
American Ex-
commended for Pershing in a Wednesday by Mr. Andrews, untry early last
d lieutenant in corps. He now a first lieu-
National Army.
resident of the
nk in this city.
tsburg camp of Lieutenant An-
ctions for a se-
in the fall of time he was a iversity. He sion in Decem-
ay was ordered
Ga. He was to finish his se, but in June
e in absentia.
month he was eastern military as for a time ork.
lor, said to-day
any particulars
promotion.
Colgate, one of
bers of the class
manager of the in college journerly. He is 23

on Morris Corps, of training at may ac-Pershing
 s division according this city ews, who the Re-
 been recrom the
 to the rding to nant An-Hartford nothing et Ogle-Andrews

 commen-

is a son Andrews
 e traina little
 He is at Colive his born in
 4. His 0 years
 Middle Boys' nd two Military
 udson.
 Plattsive offid lieullowing

is effian ex-
 years on in e uni-
 or of Corps
 comes. mber appa llege,
 and Fra-
 the ditor man amit-class

HARTFORD NURSE

HARTFORD NURSE GETS CHEVRON ABROAD

Miss Blanche Jones First in Her Sector to Be Thus Honored.
SEPTEMBER 8, 1918.

Miss Blanche Jones, formerly a head nurse at the Hartford Hospital, holds the honor of being the first nurse in her section of France to be honored by being decorated with the service chevron, according to a letter received last week by Dr. Calvin I. Elliot of this city.

Miss Jones reports in her letter mailed August 15, that "the officers and nurses are splendid" and Major Burke, a Springfield doctor, who is commanding officer of the base hospital, where she is stationed, is very well liked. She says that the quarters are comfortable and in general has a head nurse in a unit, who is a member of the (New York) Unit, has been in readiness to European service since she joined the unit when it was formed in the spring and was formerly at the Sinai Hospital in London, England, where she held a place of honor at the Hartford Hospital.

Miss Blanche Jones.

Brothers in Army. 917.

she received her commission in the Mt. Sinai Hospital on January 28, when she was following letter from the hospital, superintendent, Sinai Hospital.

to hold you vice with o wing to unse ation there you may notice, ther
 or you to call witho

formed of an communicat
 all signifyin ond to a ca
 ed that it w
 to call at th
 to sign th Kindly do s or immediate ou cannot b sent you for

of Nurses."
 following care fones:—
 its are called
 t. Sinai Unit within two y return mail arations are

of Nurses."
 evening that and ready to or New York,
 rchases will be.
 what the court fees and lawyers will not amount to it will lose in money as the European bat-tive service,
 the least the
 has cost the town $100 and the ex-on being Dr. Weldon. Already have left only three to sign, one of the country that of Mt.
 to the declaration of a state of war between the United States and Germany, there was great care in choosing the units, the fact that some members were of Canadian birth, for instance, barring them from participating in mobilization orders, during the period that the United States was neutral.

Miss Jones is a Canadian, coming to the United States from Brockville, Ont. She was born in Staf-

HARTFORD NURSE HEROINE OF WAR.

FEBRUARY 12, 1919.
Miss Ruth Hovey Aboard Transport Metapan, Arriving at New York.

CHATEAU-THIERRY BROUGHT NEARER

Hospital Work Under Fire Where U. S. Troops Smote the Foe.

ever, and the English nurse, Miss Albert Sopotamia of Wales, who was wounded in the ambulance service later. John E. member of the Toronto, British ser-from the York, also Hospital the Guggen-scholar- or of the Sinai after NURSE.

 Avenue,
 and Mrs.

- each.
- orted, regular 50c. kind at 55c.
- One lot of Lather Brushes, as-
- egake, sale price 3 in box for 21c.
- cream and glycerine, regular 10c.
- Toilet Soap, containing cold
- regular 25c. at 15c.
- White Celluloid Soap Boxes,
- One lot of Hair Brushes, 45c.
- Combs, regular 50c. at 30c.
- Back Hard Rubber Dressing
- regular 25c. at 18c.
- Hardin De Paris Face Powder,
- st. 30c.
- Rubber Sponges, regular 50c.
- at 19c.
- Rajah Cold Cream, regular 25c.
- at 19c.
- White Ivory Combs, regular
- at 10c.
- Sylvan Talcum Powder, regular
- at 19c.
- Tooth Brushes, regular 25c.

Department At Toilet Goods

it is prob-
 soon.
 of twenty-five nurses
 erent of 152
 - engineers,
 s and elec-ganized at s the Pres-York and
 "Dr. George arrival of ded that y active ser-

Coats

good selection

$22

WASH DRESSES.
 for many the Aetna

WASH DRESSES.
 $2.50 and $7.98

TAILORED SUITS.
 $22

Miss Ethel
 Ethel R.
 Connecticut
 trip, but from
 and heavy woolen macondroy and velours, at the velour and plush, all lined.

FOR the first time in ten years, the old Jonathan Niles house on Farmington avenue, which is one of the oldest in the western section of the city, is to be occupied. Through the kindness of the present owner, Thomas F. Garvan, the Hartford Chapter, American Red Cross, will establish an annex in the building, in order more efficiently to carry on the work of organization.

The house was built in 1859 for Jonathan Niles by the Porteus Company, he and his family occupying the house the following year. There were seventeen acres in the original estate, the grounds extending west some distance beyond what is now Laurel street. Mr. Niles's brother, James Niles, built the house on the adjoining property to the west, the house later being bought by Marshall Jewell. It was through this property that Marshall street was later cut. The house, which is now on the northwestern corner of Farmington avenue and Marshall streets, is at present occupied by Collins W. Benton and Mrs. R. B. Parker. Through the rear of the property of the Niles brothers, Niles street was cut, and Laurel street from Farmington avenue to Niles street was cut through the property of Jonathan Niles. After several years, the late Patrick Garvan bought the eastern section of his estate, on which he built the house now owned by his son, Thomas F. Garvan.

Mr. Niles died in 1878 and the house was occupied by his daughters, Miss Frances Z. Niles and Mrs. Gordon W. Trumbull until the marriage of the latter, after which Miss Niles remained until 1903, when the house was sold to the Roman Catholic diocese of Hartford, through Bishop Tierney. For about a year, the nuns who taught at Mount St. Joseph's Seminary, lived there, after which they moved to the Hamilton Heights School, which was then completed. They were the last occupants of the house, and at the time Patrick Garvan bought the estate to protect his own property. The grounds in the rear he used as gardens and the buildings remained unused. After his death, the grounds were bought by his son, Thomas Garvan, who has now given the use of the house for war relief work.

The children of Jonathan Niles, who are now living, are Miss Frances Z. Niles of Forest street, Mrs. Gordon W. Trumbull of Asylum avenue and Lucien Niles of New York.

The house contains five spacious rooms on the first floor, which will be used at first by the Red Cross. The bedrooms on the second and third floor may also be used as classrooms. The building is of red brick and brownstone and has a rectangular tower.

WAR GIFT IS MADE BY MRS. N. F. BRADY.
Sept 4, 1917
Fire Commissioner Garvan's Sister Presents Red Cross With Property. Former Hartford Woman Announces Her Latest $400,000 Philanthropy.

PAGE

PAGE

Mrs. Nicholas F. Brady of New York, sister of Fire Commissioner Thomas F. Garvan of this city, will place at the disposal of the American Red Cross for the period of the war, property which she is acquiring at a price said to be about $400,000. This property, according to the New York World, is the old home of the Colony club at Thirtieth street and Madison avenue, New York city, and will be used as general administrative headquarters of the Red Cross for the New York district. The Colony club early this year moved into its new $600,000 club house at Park avenue and Sixty-second street.

This proposed action by Mrs. Brady is in line with the decision of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Garvan of this city to place at the disposal of the Hartford chapter of the organization a large house on Farmington avenue, which is now used as the headquarters of the chapter.

Negotiations for the sale of the property to Mrs. Brady virtually have been completed, and announcement of the gift is expected within a few days. Joseph P. Day is said to be handling the transaction, but no information on the matter could be obtained at his office.

What Mrs. Brady intends to do with the house after the war is not disclosed. Mrs. Brady is in Canada, but at the Brady summer home in Monmouth Beach, N. J., the report of her purchase was confirmed.

Mrs. Brady was Miss Genevieve F. Garvan, daughter of former Senator Patrick Garvan of this city. She was married to Mr. Brady in this city August 11, 1906. Mr. Brady is the youngest son of the late Anthony N. Brady. He is president of the New York Edison company, and a director of other corporations.

ADDS GIFT OF $500.

Mr. Thomas F. Garvan has followed up his generous offer to the Red Cross of his house and grounds at 246 Farmington avenue by a gift of $500. Mr. Garvan is also spending $500 to remake the outside of his house so that the wide verandas on the side and rear may be made available. The house is spacious and should prove a valuable addition to the congested City Hall headquarters. Mr. Garvan's letter concludes as follows "I will give you very gladly $500 in cash as a contribution to your society any time you decide to occupy the house. Wishing you every success in your great undertaking, Sincerely yours, Thomas F. Garvan"

of bringing their guns MAJOR

There was only one German plan. The es- Summe was reasonably. The delay to the Allies sure, absolutely sure. of the retreat would be back not the center b should prove successf

Now, it is too ea- planned in advance of and not the center. B the British army, the as explained that the early as February reasons, which I cannot back upon the other t nary of this year.

In any event the A- and the eastern fla- k, just as soon after permit. And on b- es, the British much- are been due to the f- ded that their pos- Ridge, were impreg- as front as less secur- greater portion of the

HOW GERMAN
 at this point, then, th- back their center and- y in the belief that- ths. The Allies at c-other ations. special-aly in has e New time. ren in l's is- Santa s said about

Stoughton Becomes

The marriage of Miss Marion J. Wyper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Wyper of No. 760 Prospect avenue, and Robert C. Stoughton, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Hooker Stoughton of No. 206 Beacon street, will take place at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening, June 12, at the home of the bride's parents, in the presence of relatives and a few friends. There will be no reception. The bride will have as maid of honor and her only attendant her sister, Miss Jean C. B. Wyper and Howard W. Beardsley will be best man.

Bank Teller 1917 son of Treason of the State
ken the position
Savings Bank
bert B. Newell, ated vice-presi-
Trust Company.
ew teller, has
of the National ork and has lesman for the street. Mr. Stoughton, who is a graduate of Dartmouth College, is a member of the Dartmouth Alumni Association.

of bringing their guns up over the destroyed roads.

MAJOR PROFIT VITIATED?

There was only one possibility of miscalculation in the German plan. The escape from the deadly embrace at the Somme was reasonably sure, absolutely sure, as it turned out. The delay to the Allied advance and offensive was reasonably sure, absolutely sure, as the event proved. But the major profit of the retreat would be vitiated if the Allies had planned to attack not the center but upon the flanks and if this attack should prove successful.

Now, it is too early to say definitely that the Allies had planned in advance of the German retreat to attack the flanks and not the center. But we do know that General Maurice, of the British army, the official spokesman of the General Staff, has explained that the British had planned to attack at Arras as early as February. As to the French, I have very good reasons, which I cannot mention now, for believing that their attack upon the other flank was in preparation as early as January of this year.

In any event the Allies did attack, both upon the Arras flank and the eastern flank, which we may call the Rheims flank, just as soon after the German retreat as the weather would permit. And on both flanks they won considerable successes, the British much greater than the French. This seems to have been due to the fact that the Germans had mistakenly concluded that their positions about Arras, resting on the Vimy Ridge, were impregnable, while they had regarded their Rheims front as less secure and had massed against the French the greater portion of their artillery and reserves.

HOW GERMAN STRATEGY MAY FAIL

To this point, then, the situation is plain. The Germans drew back their center and in drawing back devastated the country in the belief that they would delay the Allied attack by months. The Allies at once met this strategy by attacking bridegroom had as his best man his brother, James Edgar Davidson, and the following acted as ushers: Dwight A. Pease of Hartford, Yale, 1914; R. Cleveland Hastings, of Hartford, Yale, 1914; Roger Perry of New Haven, brother of the bride; Otis T. Bradley of Derby, Yale, 1915; Donald G. Loomis, of Troy, N. Y., Yale, 1915; Chandler Bennitt, of Springfield, Mass., Yale, 1915; Franklin R. Hoadley, of Ansonia, Yale, 1914; Hugh P. Grady of Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

The bride wore an exquisite gown of white satin, with a long tulle veil, caught with orange blossoms, and carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Davidson will make their home at Suffern, N. Y. The bride is a graduate of Wellesley college in the class of 1913.

May 5 1917
Miss Marguerite Fuller Woods, daughter of Mrs. Jessie B. Woods of No. 178 Ashley street, and Norman H. Gillette of No. 107 Evergreen this afternoon of the Rev. Edwin Stebbins. Only the late family of Mrs. Gillette journeyed to the home.

June 5, 1918. Mrs. Norman H. Gillette. daughter of Mother of

DIAGRAM 3

French Fr

one flank was practically covered. The German tactics failed to gain ground and they could not. Two days later they had shown played by Miss Annie Ash, the bride's sister. The bride wore white chiffon taffeta with silk net overdrapery and trimming of iridescent bands of taffeta. She wore a veil of tulle and carried a bouquet of bride's roses and maidenhair fern. The maid of honor wore a gown of pale pink crepe de chine with picture hat to match, the hat trimmed with black velvet streamers. She carried white roses and spirea. The flower girls were Emily Bliven, Norwich, a niece of the bridegroom, and Dorothy Green. The conference they attended on their trip to Washington, where they attended a meeting of representatives of the Council of National Defense. These they received information as to what other states were doing. The conference they attended on their trip to Washington, where they attended a meeting of representatives of the Council of National Defense. These they received information as to what other states were doing.

WIDENING

Meantime the British tried to widen their wedge at once from the sides of the wedge and over their attacks aimed into the second diagram. By then the Germans were beginning to reach the present situation.

FOR the first time in ten years, the old Jonathan Niles house on Farmington avenue, which is one of the oldest in the western section of the city, is to be occupied. Through the kindness of the present owner, Thomas F. Garvan, the Hartford Chapter, American Red Cross, will establish an annex in the building, in order more efficiently to carry on the work of organization.

The house was built in 1859 for Jonathan Niles by the Porteus Company, he and his family occupying the house the following year. There were seventeen acres in the original estate, the grounds extending west

WAR GIFT IS MADE BY MRS. N. F. BRADY.

Sept 7, 1917
Fire Commissioner Garvan's Sister Presents Red Cross With Property. Former Hartford Woman Announces Her Latest $400,000 Philanthropy.

IND

PAGE

PAGE

ED CROSS ANNEX TO BE OPENED TOMORROW

used. After his death, the grounds were bought by his son, Thomas Garvan, who has now given the use of the house for war relief work.

The children of Jonathan Niles, who are now living, are Miss Frances Z. Niles of Forest street, Mrs. Gurdon W. Trumbull of Asylum avenue and Lucien Niles of New York.

The house contains five spacious rooms on the first floor, which will be used at first by the Red Cross. The bedrooms on the second and third floor may also be used as classrooms. The building is of red brick and brownstone and has a rectangular tower of the New York Edison company, and a... ADDS GIFT OF $500. other ations. special ly in

Mr. Thomas F. Garvan has followed up his generous offer to the Red Cross of his house and grounds at 246 Farmington avenue by a gift of $500. Mr. Garvan is also spending $500 to remake the outside of his house so that the wide verandas on the side and rear may be made available. The house is spacious and should prove a valuable addition to the congested City Hall headquarters. Mr. Garvan's letter concludes as follows "I will give you very gladly $500 in cash as a contribution to your society any time you decide to occupy the house. Wishing you every success in your great undertaking, Sincerely yours, Thomas F. Garvan"

other ations. special ly in rs has e New time. ren in l's Santa s said about

Stoughton Becomes

The marriage of Miss Marion J. Wyper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Wyper of No. 760 Prospect avenue, and Robert C. Stoughton, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Hooker Stoughton of No. 206 Beacon street, will take place at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening, June 12, at the home of the bride's parents, in the presence of relatives and a few friends. There will be no reception. The bride will have as maid of honor and her only attendant her sister, Miss Jean C. B. Wyper and Howard W. Beardsley will be best man.

1917
street. Mr. Stoughton, who is a graduate of Dartmouth College, is a member of the Dartmouth Alumni Association and of the University Club of Hartford. He is Connecticut representative of the National City Bank of New York. The wedding will take place in June.

Acheson, was married in Detroit, Mich., May 5, the bride being Miss Alice Caroline Stanley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Stanley, of that city.

Acheson was graduated from Yale University two years ago and afterwards attended the Harvard Law School.

A daughter has been born to Mr. and Mrs. Dean Acheson of Middle-Former Yale Man Takes Graduate of Wellesley for Bride—Hartford Men Ushers at Wedding.

Special to The Times.
New Haven, May 5.

Miss Grace Rogers Perry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Perry, was married here to-day to Robert Jackson Davidson, jr., Yale 1914, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jackson Davidson of Hillburn, N. Y. The ceremony took place at the home of the bride's parents on St. Ronan street, which had been attractively decorated for the event. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Oscar E. Maurer, pastor of the Center church, shortly after high noon. The bride was attended by Miss Ellen Bliss of New Haven as maid of honor, and six bridesmaids: Miss Florence Davidson, sister of the bridegroom, of Hillburn; Miss Frances Whitney, of New Haven; Miss Constance Reed of Lexington, Mass.; Miss Celia Hersey, of Hingham, Mass.; Miss Emily Pardee, of New York, and Miss Dorothy Harrison, of Montclair, N. J. The bridegroom had as his best man his brother, James Edgar Davidson, and the following acted as ushers: Dwight A. Pease of Hartford, Yale, 1914; R. Cleveland Hastings, of Hartford, Yale, 1914; Roger Perry of New Haven, brother of the bride; Otis T. Bradley of Derby, Yale, 1915; Donald G. Loomis, of Troy, N. Y., Yale, 1915; Chandler Bennitt, of Springfield, Mass., Yale, 1915; Franklin R. Hoadley, of Ansonia, Yale, 1914; Hugh P. Grady of Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

The bride wore an exquisite gown of white satin, with a long tulle veil, caught with orange blossoms, and carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Davidson will make their home at Suffern, N. Y. The bride is a graduate of Wellesley college in the class of 1913.

*Had died 1924
April -
March 9
1919*

May 5 1917
Miss Marguerite Fuller Woods, daughter of Mrs. Jessie B. Woods of No. 178 Ashley street, and Norman H. Gillette of No. 107 Evergreen

Robert C. Stoughton.

this afternoon. Edwin ate. Only late family and Mrs. Gilling journey be at home nue.
June 5, 1918.
Mrs. Norman pet.

5-daughter of Mather, of Bert J. Reed, A. Reed, of married at the its yesterday Rev. Arthur Windsor Avenue. Miss of the bride, and the best ark of Free- the wedding Ir. and Mrs. eptember 1, be at home The bride was graduated from the Hartford Public High School in 1912.

A daughter, Elizabeth, was born Sunday to Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Stoughton of No. 206 Beacon street.

SEPTEMBER 12, 1920.

May Johnson-Beach. 5-
Miss Eva May Beach, daughter of Mrs. Kate M. Bates, of No. 93 Windsor avenue, and Joseph Bernard Johnson of No. 44 Governor street, Providence, R. I., were married yesterday noon in the parish house of the Windsor Avenue Congregational

May PUTNAM. 5- Bennett-Ash Society Wedding In Pomfret—Boy Injured.

Christ Church, Pomfret, was filled to capacity at noon Saturday when Miss Eleanor Ash, daughter of Representative and Mrs. John Ash, Pomfret, became the bride of Herbert Bowen Bennett of New York, formerly of Norwich. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Charles J. Harriman, pastor of St. Philip's Church, Putnam. The bride was given away by her father. The bridegroom's attendant was his brother, Nathan Bennett of Norwich. The maid of honor was Miss Gladys Ash, Hartford, sister of the bride. The ushers were William K. Ash, Boston, the bride's brother, and Leonard Watson, Pomfret. The wedding music was played by Miss Annie Ash, the bride's sister. The bride wore white chiffon taffeta with silk net overdrapery and trimming of iridescent bands of taffeta. She wore a veil of tulle and carried a bouquet of bride's roses and maidenhair fern. The maid of honor wore a gown of pale pink crepe de chine with picture hat to match, the hat trimmed with black velvet streamers. She carried white roses and spirea. The flower girls were Emily Bliven, Norwich, a niece of the bridegroom, and Dorothy Green. The conference the... information as to what other states... There they received infor- pices of the Council of National De- representatives, held under the aus- mors of the various states and their they attended a meeting of gover- on their trip to Washington, where

Miss Helen
ington street an of Woodland st
at the weddi Linderman, dau
Packer Linderr
Lehigh County
Moore Robinson of New York, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Robinson, which ernoon a tivity, A mony wa
The wed war, as t last sur member Corps of will rece into camp lowing th tended by was held mother, a ment of Christine maid of F
W. Allison
Mr. Rich senior cl
He is son
dent of th
Coal & I who has city, was

REV. F. H. MILLER RESIGNS FROM ST. THOMAS'S CHURCH DURING STORM

RECTOR RESIGNS.

Rev. Franklin H. Miller.

John and Miss Lyman at the Misses Masters' School at Dobbs Ferry, N.
Y.

May 5 - 1917
Miss Doris Jeannette Bartlett, daughter of Rev. Dr. William A.
Bartlett and Mrs. Bartlett of Lewistton, Me., and Richard Howard Wheeler were married Saturday in Lewiston. Dr. Bartlett was formerly pastor of the Farmington Avenue Congregational Church. The bride was a member of the class of 1913 at the Hartford Public High School and is a ter of the

DR. W. PAR Elected ceed

May 7
Dr. G. elected to Gross as p park com meeting, y appointme
tion by t Professor l chosen to s ber of the years, hav 1914, as a expired term.

Dr. G. C. F. Williams.

Quits, "To Once," A
ed Offic Serve - Didn't J
One Re

Rev. Frank
St. Thomas's
ing a stormy day night wh
church, who refused to s rector, it was presiding, an fused to ser
and resigned once," and
The meeting and today the certain whether or any officers. erable time has
events took place
beginning to leak
many of the prom
making determin it quiet. The who be taken up bef Brewster, the bis

"The rector's jibe with ours," is ber would say as Came He
Rev. Franklin
Hartford in 1913.
for the first time that year. He wa was educated at civil engineering

He has preached at St. Thomas's a number of times since the retirement of Mr. Miller.
Mr. Belden was born in Waterbury 1909, from which
and was educated in the public schools in this state and Massachusetts. He is a graduate of Trinity College and the General Theological Seminary of New York. For two years he was curate in St. John's Church, Dobbs Ferry, N. Y., for four years rector of a church in Duluth, Minn., and for six years rector of a church in Cincinnati, O. Before becoming rector of the church in Unionville, where he is at present, he was associated with Rev. Dr. John T. Huntington at St. James's Church, this city. He has been in Unionville six years, two of which have been spent in the joint rectorate of the Unionville and the Collinsville churches.

The rectory lives, next to th
the church in Charles E. Jonc made by the w tax payment, but the property has since been taken over by the church, which raised the necessary amount.

Rev. Louis I. Belden.

REV. L. I. BELDEN FOR NEW RECTOR AT ST. THOMAS'S CHURCH

SEPTEMBER 15, 1917.
Vestry Nominates Union-ville Man to Succeed
Rev. F. H. Miller.

Rev. Louis I. Belden of Unionville, spending five year or six years rector of Christ Church, Unionville, and for two years joint rector of that church and Trinity Church of Collinsville, was nominated last night by the vestry of St. Thomas's Episcopal Church as rector in the theological seminary place of Rev. Franklin H. Miller, who resigned some months ago after a stormy parish meeting. The parish vestry vote on the nomination of Mr.
Belden at a meeting Friday evening.
He has preached at St. Thomas's a number of times since the retirement
of Mr. Miller.
Mr. Belden was born in Waterbury 1909, from which
and was educated in the public schools in this state and Massachusetts. He is a graduate of Trinity College and the General Theological Seminary of New York. For two years he was curate in St. John's Church, Dobbs Ferry, N. Y., for four years rector of a church in Duluth, Minn., and
for six years rector of a church in Cincinnati, O. Before becoming rector of the church in Unionville, where
he is at present, he was associated
with Rev. Dr. John T. Huntington at St. James's Church, this city. He has been in Unionville six years, two of which have been spent in the joint rectorate of the Unionville and the Collinsville churches.

RECTOR WHY

Rev. F. Financia

Matters at now in an un no vestry com following the H. Miller, as yesterday. B ster has recei nation and wi Mr. Miller and ers today.

"I resigned sons," said M have no fault men, personall of managing

EX-FOOTBALL STAR JUMPS INTO PULPIT AT ELEVENTH HOUR.

REV. F. H. MILLER

LEAVES HARTFORD

JUNE 22, 1917.

Former Rector of St.

Thomas's Church May Go to Stamford.

REV. F. H. MILLER

DECLINES TO STAY

Sees List of St. Thomas's Officers and Sticks to Resignation.

Rev. Franklin H. Miller, who resigned as rector of St. Thomas's Church at the annual meeting of the church held Tuesday, May 8, when the officers elected at the meeting refused to serve, last night refused to reconsider his resignation when asked to do so by a committee of three appointed at an adjourned annual meeting held earlier in the evening in the parish house. Mr. Miller asked the result of the election of officers and, upon seeing that the men elected were the men who had refused to serve at the annual meeting, he told the committee that he absolutely refused to reconsider his action.

The adjourned annual meeting lasted nearly three hours and there were approximately sixty people present. When Mr. Miller's resignation came up, after a long discussion which "went along smoothly," according to one member of the church, it was voted, 23 to 17, to appoint a committee of three to see Mr. Miller and ask him to reconsider his action. Included in the number were many members who were admitted at the previous meeting. These men voted almost unanimously in favor of requesting Mr. Miller to reconsider and the question has arisen as to whether they should have been allowed to vote on the question.

The committee that waited upon Mr. Miller was comprised of T. J. Creighton, senior warden; Charles M. Lane and Clemons R. Darnstaedt.

The officers elected are as follows:—

- Senior warden, T. J. Creighton; junior warden, Carl Long; treasurer, John Dunlop; assistant treasurer, John S. Douthwaite; clerk, Wells R. Bill; vestrymen, Lewis H. Stedman, James J. Gourley, E. C. Graves, E. E. Hall, Edward W. Chapman, Raymond G. Blydenburgh, Gordon Caldwell.

FORMER FOOTBALL STAR JUMPS INTO ST. THOMAS'S GAP

Frank Lambert Preaches in Rev. F. H. Miller, signed.

TREASURER

E MAY TALK.

Rev. Franklin Hoyt Miller, the rector of St. Thomas's Episcopal Church who resigned after a stormy business meeting on May 8, has left Hartford, it was learned last night. It is said that Mr. Miller, his wife and children, packed up their household goods and left for Stamford, Conn., yesterday.

The resignation of Rev. Franklin Hoyt Miller, the rector of St. Thomas's Episcopal Church, who resigned after a stormy meeting on May 8, was accepted last night at a special meeting of the parishioners which was presided over by Senior Warden Thomas J. Creighton. There was a good attendance and the action of the church was unanimous. There are no candidates under consideration for the vacancy.

Rev. Mr. Miller suddenly resigned as rector of the church at the annual meeting on May 8, when there was some difficulty in electing officers. The resignation was due, he said, to the state of the financial affairs at the church.

Recently, Rev. Mr. Miller packed up his household goods and moved from the city. It is said that has moved to the home of his father in Stamford. He declared that he will not leave the ministry, but awaits another appointment from Bishop Brewster.

Meanwhile, the pulpit at St. Thomas's is being occupied every Sunday. Archdeacon Henry S. Harte has been in charge of the affairs at the church since the resignation. He will send candidates to the church each Sunday until the parishioners call the one who seems best fitted.

Frank Lambert, who preached in the church last night, is a former Trinity Church member and a junior at Middlebury College. He is the son of a prominent Hartford family.

The resignation of Rev. Franklin Hoyt Miller, the rector of St. Thomas's Episcopal Church, who resigned after a stormy meeting on May 8, was accepted last night at a special meeting of the parishioners which was presided over by Senior Warden Thomas J. Creighton. There was a good attendance and the action of the church was unanimous. There are no candidates under consideration for the vacancy.

Rev. Mr. Miller suddenly resigned as rector of the church at the annual meeting on May 8, when there was some difficulty in electing officers. The resignation was due, he said, to the state of the financial affairs at the church.

Recently, Rev. Mr. Miller packed up his household goods and moved from the city. It is said that has moved to the home of his father in Stamford. He declared that he will not leave the ministry, but awaits another appointment from Bishop Brewster.

Meanwhile, the pulpit at St. Thomas's is being occupied every Sunday. Archdeacon Henry S. Harte has been in charge of the affairs at the church since the resignation. He will send candidates to the church each Sunday until the parishioners call the one who seems best fitted.

A NORTH SHORE WEDDING

May 7, 1914
Miss Mary Katharine Ayer Married at

"Avalon," Pride's Merrill of Minnea
Man

In His Grandsire's Steps.

lined with variegated silver and blue brocaded silk, with which she wore a hat of orchid shades and blue. She carried roses.
A little niece of the bride, Beatrice Patton, the daughter of Lieutenant and Mrs. Pat-

"Avalon," the esta
at Pride's Crossing, wedding at noon tod
arine Ayer, the daug
Ayer, was married
Minneapolis. Mr. J
Mr. and Mrs. Euger
city, who have a pl California. He is a g of 1911, and of the 1914, and since then profession in Minnea

The wedding was fi
it was decided to a
today was chosen, in birthday anniversary as it is also of one erick Ayer, Jr.

Miss Ayer's engag was announced last dinner at "Avalon," opened for the holi residence is at 395 C Miss Ayer was forr season of 1911, at a c gave in her honor which was a note
There is a large fa
was well represente Miss Ayer has tra
has spent considera
When the engagem Merrill was serving with the First Minr

The marriage cere
living room, which where several me Symphony Orchestr
of nuptial characte
the ceremony the March," as an inn
mary "Bridal Chor
The Mendelssohn n at the close of the was an informal room was arranged decorated in gold, e and orange blossom
which the bride pa
for the ceremony
white ribbons, whi
tion by the bride's and Anne Beekma
Mr. and Mrs. Cha
and Hamilton.

Falling from th hangings of dark bands and an anc terest was placed
small stand of gr of the officiating c
Gordon, D. D., Church, Boston.
other greenery l
effective setting f

The bride, who
by her father, wa
the long square shoulders. The ge rose point lace. I worn by her mot
ning, she was m
It was worn also in "not in May, seve trice Ayer, who tenant George S. day, the bride wd
of orange blossom
of white orchids.

Mrs. Patton wa sister and was l sowned in

U. S. GRANT, 4TH, MARRIED.

Miss Bartikofsky Secret Bride of Officer at Spartanburg.

Spartanburg, S. C. March 1918

Her Father & Mother's daughter H. W. P. Co

46 yrs old girls from England or looking back for the reinforcements that are slow to come. On one of these, about four by five feet in size, is shown a Tommy on French soil, looking under his shading hand toward England. "Boys," he says, "Come over here. You're wanted."

The Union Jack in all the brilliance of its familiar coloring, is used alone, on one of the posters, to make a striking patriotic appeal. The flag of England is not displayed at her military or official posts except on special occasions, a custom quite different from that of the United States; so that a display of the Jack on a recruiting poster would excite wives and mothers is characterized on a poster that shows two women, one with her arm about the other,

who stand watching the soldiers march away. Their faces are resolutely set, and their eyes, though intently set, betray no sign of rather wistful, betray no sign of tears. The words that accompany this picture are, "The women of Britain say GO!"
Humor is used in a poster presenting a jolly quartet of Gordon Highlanders, marching along in care-free fashion; one with a bottle peeping from his haversack, one with his rifle reversed on his shoulder, all grinning broadly. "Line up, boys," they shout; "enlist to-day."

Twenty-fifth Anniversary of Cathedral Dedication To Be Observed May 8.

On May 8, 1892, St. Joseph's cathedral in this city was dedicated and consecrated. That was twenty-five years ago, and on the same date in May this year, which, as it happens, is a Tuesday, the interest

D., archbishop of Boston. The very Rev. James Hughes, V. G., pastor of St. Patrick's, was the assistant priest. The deacons of the mass were the Rev. Thomas W. Broderick of St. Peter's and the Rev. Dr. T. J. Shahan, who, as a bishop and the head of the most important Catholic institution of learning in the country, will preach the sermon at the twenty-fifth anniversary of the consecration. The acolytes were the Revs. Thomas Welch of Tariffville and Thomas of New Haven.

IMPRESSIVE FRONT AND EAST SIDE OF ST. JOSEPH'S CATHEDRAL.

by Bishop Patrick Ludden, D. D., of Syracuse, N. Y.; St. Bridget's by Bishop L. F. La Flanche, D. D., of Three Rivers, Canada; St. Francis' by Bishop Mathew Harkins, D. D., of Providence, R. I., who preached the sermon at the funeral of his close personal friend, the late Bishop Tierney; and St. Bernard's by Bishop MacDonnell of Brooklyn, N. Y., who but a short time previously had been consecrated bishop. The pontifical mass was said by the Most Rev. John J. Williams, D.

of the Civil war and every year since his death his comrades of the G. A. R. honor his memory on Memorial day by placing a wreath on his resting place in the crypt at the cathedral. Of those who took part as bishops only two, Bishop MacDonnell of Brooklyn, N. Y., and Bishop Harkins of Providence, R. I., survive. A number of the priests, including Father Hughes, who was pastor of St. Patrick's, this city, for over forty years, and Father Broderick of St. Peter's, have passed away.

ley
af-ral nt was ev.
the ers nes
the
of nas
ev.
her en-who top sed

ere for-
He
M. chiber ials.
Ed-Rev.
' X.
Ger-den, were phys of nell, cher
New mls-

hose here ex-
ago
of
and New
of paid Mc-
A.
Faradley elandy of dens-

were
The Mc-ts the ilding prede-
ugust, after eteran

Cornerstone Laid in 1877.

The cornerstone of the cathedral was laid April 29, 1877, by Archbishop Williams of Boston. Bishop Galberry was the bishop of the diocese. The prelates who assisted at the ceremonies were Bishop Conroy of Albany, N. Y., Bishop O'Reilly of Springfield, Mass., Bishop Shannahan of Harrisburg, Penn., and Bishop Loughlin of Brooklyn, N. Y., who preached. The master of ceremonies was the Rev. V. former rector of the cathedral. The cross bearer was the John A. Mulcahy, who afterwards vicar general of the cathedral and who died in 1908. Patrick's parish was founded 20 years ago. tended the

Basement

The basement was completed on Monday, February 15, 1877, by Bishop Galberry. The first liturgical mass was celebrated in the basement of the cathedral on the same day. The mass was celebrated by the Rev. De Goesbrink and Bishop Galberry. The sermon was preached by the Rev. De Goesbrink. The Rev. Walsh, V. G., was the assistant priest. The Rev. deacon was the Rev. Tierney, who afterwards vicar general of the diocese. The Rev. Tierney, who afterwards vicar general of the diocese, preached the vespers in the cathedral on the same day. The Rev. Tierney, who afterwards vicar general of the diocese, preached the vespers in the cathedral on the same day.

On the same day, St. Joseph's parish was organized as the third parish in Hartford. The Rev. Tierney, who afterwards vicar general of the diocese, was the pastor of the cathedral. The Rev. Tierney, who afterwards vicar general of the diocese, was the pastor of the cathedral. The Rev. Tierney, who afterwards vicar general of the diocese, was the pastor of the cathedral.

land decided to give $70,000 for the cathedral.

Bishop MacFarland from James Goodwin Morgan farm on Farmington avenue as a site for the cathedral. The purchase was made July 1, 1874. The land was conveyed by the late James Affleck to the bishop. The purchase price for the land was $70,000. It had a frontage of 400 feet. The only building erected there was an old building erected there by the Rev. Tierney's convent.

The cornerstone of the cathedral was laid May 8, 1873, by Bishop MacFarland. The people worshipped in the cathedral for some time before the completion of the cathedral. Bishop MacFarland died on October 2, 1874. He was succeeded by Bishop Galberry. The Rev. Tierney, who afterwards vicar general of the diocese, was the pastor of the cathedral. The Rev. Tierney, who afterwards vicar general of the diocese, was the pastor of the cathedral. The Rev. Tierney, who afterwards vicar general of the diocese, was the pastor of the cathedral.

Two Parishes Set Apart.

Since the cathedral parish was established two parishes, which are now flourishing and populous, have been taken from its territory. Most of the territory embraced within the limits of the parish of the Immaculate Conception formed a part of the cathedral parish. When the latter was organized as a separate parish the cathedral gave up 2,500 of its membership to it. The Immaculate Conception parish and its ginning in a chapel that was built at the corner of Park and Hungerford streets by the Rev. Dr. Shanley when he was rector of the cathedral. The Parkville church was built as a mission of the cathedral by the late Rev. William A. Harty when he was rector. Two streets containing 190 persons have been cut off the cathedral parish and added to St. Patrick's.

Parish of 6,700 Persons.

BISHOP LAWRENCE S. McMAHON.

Head of Hartford Diocese When Cathedral Was Consecrated.

preparative notice from the editors of publications; John F. Quinn, of Montville; F. J. Jordan, of South Farms, Middletown; Andrew F. Kelly, of Thompsonville; John G. Murray, the present chancellor; William H. Flynn, assistant chancellor; William O'Shea, J. Clement Martin and William Collins, the present assistants.

Bishop Tierney succeeded Bishop McMahon in 1894 and died in October, 1908. Bishop Nilan was appointed Bishop Tierney's successor some time later.

Impressive Services Mark Return of Cathedral

Dedication Date.
BISHOP SHAHAN

PREACHES SERMON Clergymen From All Connecticut Have a Part in Program.

May 8 - 1917

Catholics throughout the state are observing to-day the twenty-fifth anniversary of the mother church of the diocese St. Joseph's cathedral on Farmington avenue in this city.

Especially is the anniversary of special interest to the Catholics of Hartford, and the large attendance at the services this forenoon was, in a manner, evidence of this interest. The church, on the day of its dedication twenty-five years ago, was entirely free of debt and was consecrated. It could not have been consecrated if there had been a penny of debt on it. There are very few churches in the diocese which have been consecrated. There are a large number of Catholics in this city who recall the ceremony of consecration a quarter of a century ago which was the realization of the hopes of their beloved bishop, the late Right Reverend Lawrence S. McMahon, and the completion of his years of anxious work. They shared their bishop's hope and rejoiced with him in its realization. Of the large number of bishops and priests who took part in the ceremony in May, 1892, quite a number have died. The bishop and his immediate successor, the late Bishop Tierney, have passed away and the rector of the cathedral in 1892, the Rev. William A. Harty, died some years ago as rector of St. Mary's, New Britain. During the intervening space of twenty-five years since the cathedral was consecrated death has been busy among the Catholic laity of the city and the members of St. Joseph's parish who were prominently identified with the exercises then.

To-day's Services.

From an early hour this morning there were masses said in honor of the observance of the day. The first mass was said by the Rev. J. Clement Martin at 6 o'clock. Thirty minutes later the Right Rev. Monsignor T. S. Duggan, V. G., rector

- Pieces
- Sets of Fruit Knives.....$3.50
 - Sets of Dinner Knives.....$4.25
 - Sets of Dessert Knives.....$4.15
 - Sets of Hollow Handle Dinner Knives.....$7.00
 - Sets of Hollow Handle Dessert Knives.....$6.75

Gift of $3,000 Announced.
Rt. Rev. Monsignor Thomas W. Duggan announced yesterday that he had received a check for $3,000 to pay for the building of the celestial, which is a part of the grand organ just installed, from Fire Commissioner Thomas F. Garvan.

25TH ANNIVERSARY AT ST. JOSEPH'S

Seventh Anniversary Bishop Nilan's Consecration.

PAY HIGH HONOR TO MONSIGNOR DUGGAN

Knights of Columbus Present Gold Watch and Chain to Vicar General.

April 20, 1921

Monsignor Thomas S. Duggan, vicar-general of the Roman Catholic Diocese of Hartford and editor of the "Catholic Transcript," who recently accepted the position of chaplain of Hartford Council, Knights of Columbus, was the guest of honor at dinner at the Hartford Club and a reception at the council's clubhouse last night and a handsome watch and chain were given to him. The inner case of the watch was inscribed. Judge Thomas J. Molloy, the grand knight, presided at the exercises at the clubhouse and told Monsignor Duggan that the members of the council felt that the organization was greatly honored when a man holding so many responsible positions accepted the position offered him by the council.

Monsignor Duggan, in reply, spoke of the work of the Knights of Columbus and said the council should extend its activities. He said he hoped that when the new building was built in the rear of the clubhouse that it would be of good size and a credit to the city. William J. McGinley of New Haven, the supreme secretary, spoke of the war work of the order, Supreme Knight Flaherty of Philadelphia, who was expected to be present, sent word that he was obliged to go to Montreal. The clubhouse was decorated with American flags. The fourth degree team in full regalia acted as a guard of honor to the guest. The Kacey Quartet, consisting of John Coffey, John Barry, Thomas Quilty and Thomas Carey, sang and Lynch's Orchestra played.

After the exercises, many members were introduced to Monsignor Duggan and Mr. McGinley. The clubhouse was filled throughout the evening.

T. S. DUGGAN GAINED 25 YEARS
Y 18, 1917.

receives $1,000 Chalice m Ten of His Associates.

Rev. Mgr. Thomas S. Duggan, St. Joseph's Cathedral, received a $1,000 gold chalice, set with stones from ten of his associates at a surprise party held last night at the home of T. F. Garvan, 36 Farmington avenue. The chalice was given to Fr. Duggan in honor of the twenty-fifth anniversary of his ordination, which will be celebrated to-day. Those present at the party who are associated with Fr. Duggan in his work in the development of the St. John's Industrial School at Deep River, of which Fr. Duggan is in charge, were: Ex-Senator Patrick McGovern, William F. O'Neil, Charles J. Dillon, Edward J. McDonough, Thomas F. Garvan, E. L. McGurk, Timothy J. Long, James F. Donlin, Edward Balf and William BroSmith. Rev. John Murray was a guest at the party.

Fr. Duggan is editor of the "Catholic Transcript," and is chancellor of the Hartford diocese. Immediately after his ordination he came to this city, which has since been his field of labor.

8

He died 1919

May Brown-White. 10
 Miss Mary Noyes White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Davis White of Norwich, and William Cheney Brown, jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. William Cheney Brown of Barker avenue, West Hartford, were married Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents by Rev. Dr. Samuel H. Howe, pastor of the Park Congregational Church in Norwich. An orchestra made up of Boston Symphony Orchestra players played the wedding marches and also played during the ceremony. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was unattended. She wore the wedding dress and point lace veil worn by her sister, Mrs. J. Ralph Howe, at her wedding, and carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley and bride roses. Sheldon Pitney of Washington, D. C., was the best man. The wedding was hastened because of the war and only a few friends and relatives attended. Those present from this city were the bridegroom's parents and sister, Miss Rachel Brown, a member of the senior class at Wellesley College. The bride is a graduate of Miss Porter's School in Farmington and Mr. Brown is a graduate of Harvard University in 1914 and Harvard Law School in 1917. On Monday, he will join the Field Artillery officers' camp at Fort Myer, Va.

Mrs. William Cheney Brown, jr., of Norwich has gone to Washington, D. C., to spend the next three months. Mr. Brown, who is son of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Brown of Barker avenue, West Hartford, left a few days after his wedding for a three months' course of training at Fort Myer, Va., and will spend the week-ends in Washington.

Sumner-Bartlett.
 Miss Chrystabel Russell Bartlett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold W. Bartlett of Sargeant street, and Leslie Graham Sumner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Sumner of this city, were married yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents by the bride's uncle, Rev. Herbert J. Wyckoff, pastor of the Second Congregational Church of Norwich. There were no attendants. The bride wore a dress of white crepe de chine, with pearl and silver trimmings, and a veil of tulle, caught with a wreath of orange blossoms. She carried an arm bouquet of white rosebuds. The house was prettily decorated with palms and spring flowers. Following the ceremony, a reception was held for the relatives and a few friends. After their wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Sumner will live temporarily at No. 18 Park terrace. Mr. Sumner was graduated from the Sheffield Scientific School in 1915, and is associated with the

MAY Sugden's Lease New York Property ment at the den, former occupying th
 have opened Deal N. J.

Frank W. Sugden and Mary M. Sugden, formerly of Hartford, owners of a chain of lunchrooms, have leased the entire building at No. 7 Hanson place, Brooklyn, N. Y., for a term of twenty-one years for lunchroom purposes, the rental price being $50,000 annually. The lease contains a purchase option.

JANUARY 1, 1918.

MARRIES FAMOUS AVIATOR

Miss Louise Paine of Boston the Bride of Count de Sieyes de Veynes May 10
 Miss Louise Paine, eldest daughter

CLOCK TOWER ON NEW YORK CITY HALL IS BURNED

Historic Building Saved By Prompt Work of Firemen —Loss $25,000.

New York, May 10.—New York's historic city hall, built more than 100 years ago, constructed mostly of marble and considered architecturally one of the most beautiful buildings in the country, was threatened with destruction by fire today. Flames started in its wooden clock tower, but after an hour's work by the firemen were under control.

City Hall was the scene yesterday of the reception of the French commission by the city and was brilliantly decorated. Tomorrow the British commission is due to be received. Although the decorations were torn down during the fire, the officials said they would be restored and the reception held.

Only a shell of the clock tower remains and the clock which for generations has told time to millions who passed through Park Row, and Broadway, was destroyed. The statute of justice which surmounted the tower still stands serene, however.

Many priceless relics and paintings of historical significance to the city and nation were saved by the prompt efforts of firemen, policemen and volunteers. Some damage was done to the interior of the building by water, but it was said that nothing unreplaceable had been lost.

The damage was estimated at $25,000. An hour and a half after the fire was out, a large force of workmen was busy putting the building into shape for the reception to the British commission tomorrow afternoon. The ruined clock tower will be covered with bunting and the promise was given that no trace of the fire would be visible when the commission arrives.

The fire was due to the carelessness of a workman, according to a statement made by Fire Commissioner Adamson tonight. An investigation conducted by him had established, the commissioner said, that a roofer, engaged by the city to do some repair work, had left unattended a lighted charcoal furnace near the cupola.

The city hall was erected more than 100 years ago and has been regarded as one of the most beautiful pieces of architecture in the country. The architect was John McComb. Construction began in 1803 and it was completed in 1812.

LUNCHEON FOR BRIDE

May 1 - 1917
Miss Dorothy A. Phelps Entertains for Miss Helen G. Cutter

Miss Dorothy Alice Phelps, daughter of Mr and Mrs Walter D. Phelps of Trinity terrace, gave a pretty luncheon at her home yesterday afternoon in honor of Miss Helen Goodspeed Cutter of Glendell terrace, who is to be married on Saturday, the 12th, to Clifton C. West of White street. Miss Phelps is to serve as one of the bridesmaids and the guests at the luncheon included the other attendants, Mrs Harold Hastings Cutter, sister-in-law of the bride-elect, who is to be matron of honor; Mrs Chauncey Depew, who is to be the bridemaid with Miss

ENTERTAINED AT SUPPER

Springfield May 12
Cutter-West Wedding Party Have Enjoyable Evening

The rehearsal of the wedding of Miss Helen Goodspeed Cutter, daughter of Mr and Mrs Frank Albert Cutter of Glendell terrace, and Clifton Chapin West of this city, which is to take place this evening, was held last night at Miss Cutter's home at 7 o'clock, and after the rehearsal the members of the bridal party were entertained at supper. Covers were laid for 11, and the decorations were charmingly carried out in pink and white. On the center of the table was the wedding cake in white and silver, with silver leaves around the edges and the base. From the cake rose a little white standard of white lace with a spray of lilies and bride roses, while on the top was a silver and lace bell. After the bride-to-be had cut the cake and wished on it, it was removed and replaced by the bridal loaf.

On either side of the centerpiece were pink and white baskets, from which went pink ribbons to each place with pink hearts on the ends. When the guests pulled these they drew the gifts from the bride and bridegroom. Miss Cutter's presents to her matron of honor, Mrs Harold H. Cutter, and to her two bridesmaids, Mrs Chauncey M. Depew and Miss Dorothy A. Phelps, and to Miss Flora Mather, who is to sing at the wedding, were attractive pins of cloisonne enamel mounted on silver. To Frances West, the little flower girl, she gave a pair of the cloisonne pins set with pearls. Mr West's gift to Harold H. Cutter his best man, was a leather belt with silver monogram, and to the ushers, Raymond Surprise and Leland Bradley of Putnam, Ct., and to the pianist, Edward P. Brown, he presented cloisonne cuff links, each pair of a different color. Miss Cutter and Mr West each drew from the baskets a miniature dressed in w patriotic tou cream was with little fl as it was p Star Spangl on the victr numbers by Phelps. Oth the bridal party were Mrs J. C. West, mother of the bridegroom, and Mrs Herman Sweezey of New Haven, Ct., who is the house guest of Mr and Mrs Walter D. Phelps of Trinity terrace over the wedding

They will live on Whitney street. Mr. Carter was graduated from Yale University in 1915 and was prominent in the college athletics, being a member of the varsity football team. Those attending the wedding from this city included the bridegroom's parents, his brother, Dwight Herrick Carter, Mrs. Carter and Mrs. Frank S. Allen

Mr and Mrs N. P. Ames Carter and their daughter, Miss Ilsa Carter of Chicopee Falls are going to Boston tomorrow to attend the wedding of Mr Carter's nephew, Lyon Carter of Hartford, Ct., and Miss Ruth Sherburne, daughter of Mr and Mrs Frank Foster Sherburne of Lexington, which is to take place at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon in the Unitarian church at Lexington. The ceremony will be followed by a reception at the bride's home. The wedding will be of interest to many Springfield people as the bridegroom is a son of Rev and Mrs Charles F. Carter of Hartford, formerly of Chicopee Falls. He is a graduate of Yale university with the class of 1915 and was a member of the varsity football team. His father is now pastor of the Farmington-avenue church in Hartford, Miss Sherburne is also well known in town, having visited here a number of times. Mr Carter and his bride are to make their home on Whitney street in Hartford. Miss Ilsa Carter is expected home from her studies at Vassar to-day and will motor to Lexington to-morrow with a party of young friends.

CARTER-SHERBURNE

May 12 - 1917
Lyon Carter, son of Rev. Charles Francis Carter, pastor of the Immanuel Congregational church and Mrs. Carter, and Miss Ruth Sherburne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Foster Sherburne of Lexington, Mass., were united in marriage this afternoon at 4 o'clock

Miss Ruth Sherburne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. Foster Sherburne of Lexington, Mass., and Lyon Carter, son of Rev. Dr. Charles Francis Carter and Mrs. Carter of this city, were married Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the First Parish Church, Lexington. The ceremony was performed by the pastor, Rev. John M. Wilson, assisted by the bridegroom's father. Dwight Carter, brother of the bridegroom, was the best man and the ushers were Sherburne Wiggin of Brookline, Mass., Raymond Vail of Boston, Seth Howe of Boston, Martindale Sheddon of Brookline, William Bright of New York and Lucius Hill of Brookline. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Elizabeth Sherburne, as maid of honor, and the bridesmaids were Miss Sarah Sherburne of Boston, cousin of the bride; Miss Dorothy Talbot of Brookline, Miss Ruth Humphrey of Milton, Miss Helen Davis of Lexington, Miss Margaret Kenney of Haverford, Pa., and Miss Edwina Sikes of Buffalo, N. Y. The bride wore a dress of white satin, with pearl embroidery, and the maid of honor was dressed in pale pink taffeta and tulle with a hat to match. She carried a bouquet of American beauty roses. The bridesmaids wore dresses of a deeper shade of pink and black leghorn hats, trimmed with pink roses. They carried bouquets similar to that of the maid of honor. A reception followed the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents.

CARTER—March 11, 1920, a son, Foster Sherburne, to Lyon and Ruth Sherburne Carter of Lexington, Mass.

A son, Charles Francis Carter, 2d, has been born to Mr. and Mrs. Lyon Carter of Lexington, Mass. The boy is a grandson of Rev. Charles Francis Carter and Mrs. Carter of No. 40 Kenyon street.

MARCH 28, 1923.

May 12
 Melville Douglas Truesdale, son of William Haynes Truesdale, president of the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Railroad Company, and Mrs. Truesdale, of Greenwich, and brother of Mrs. Richard M. Bissell of this city, and Miss Bulkley Moss, daughter of Mrs. Frederick K. Moss, were married Saturday afternoon in the chantry of St. Thomas's Church, New York, by Bishop Leonard and the rector, Rev. Dr. Ernest M. Stires. Invitations had been issued for June 2, but Mr. Truesdale has joined the Naval Coast Defense Reserve and will soon be called out. The bride, who was given in marriage by her uncle, Jonathan Bulkley, was attended by her cousin, Miss Sarah Tod Bulkley, as maid of honor, and the bridesmaids were Miss Althea Gibb and Miss Doris Mangam. Almet Jenks was the best man and the ushers were Henry Blair Keep of Chicago, Calvin Truesdale, brother of the bridegroom, and Clifford McCall, Boylston A. Tompkins of Trenton, N. J., John Williams, Dean G. Achison of Middletown, Eugene Moore and Ronald Hugh McDonald of New York, classmates of the bridegroom, who was graduated from Yale University in 1915. A reception followed at the home of the bride's uncle.

May 12
 Miss Marian Crampton, daughter of John Marshall Crampton, superintendent of the state fish and game department, and Mrs. Crampton, and Donald G. North were married Saturday afternoon at St. John's Episcopal Church, New Haven, the ceremony being performed by the rector, Rev. Stuart Means. Mr. North's appointment to the Officers' Reserve Training Camp, Camp Upton, also hurried the wedding, with only a day's notice. Ushers are to be Robert McAdoo and William Gibbs McAdoo, brothers of the bride; Giusappe Brambilla, counsellor of the Italian embassy; Thomas Spring-Rice, second secretary of the British embassy, and Jules C. F. Blondel, third secretary of the French embassy. The reception, which will be small, will be at the home of the secretary and Mrs. McAdoo. Mr. Mohrenschildt has taken a house at Edgemoor, Md., for the summer.

May 16
 The marriage, which took place on Friday, May 11, in New York city. The bride was formerly Miss Helen Karr Ryce, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lucius Chester Ryce of New York, formerly of Hartford.

Miss Una Lenora Foster of Boston and Rule, Texas, and Charles Alfred Weatherby of East Hartford were united in marriage, to-day, at the home of Miss Mary C. Burr, No. 857 Beacon street, Boston, by the Rev. Samuel R. Maxwell pastor of the Second Church of Boston. Only relatives and a few intimate friends

The Republican

SPRINGFIELD, SAT., MAY 12, 1917

In appointing James Bissett Pratt to succeed the late John E. Russell as Mark Hopkins professor of moral and intellectual philosophy, Williams college has taken action that will commend itself to all familiar with the situation. Prof Pratt was graduated at Williams in 1898, and earned the degrees of A. M. and Ph. D. at Harvard. He also studied at Columbia university and in the university of Berlin. He was made instructor of philosophy in Williams in 1905, became assistant professor the next year and professor of philosophy in 1913. His standing as student, teacher and writer is recognized by the men of his department in other colleges. Dr Pratt spent the year 1913-14 in India studying native religions, and the result was the book, "India and Its Faiths," published two years ago. He is also the author of "Psychology of Religious Faith," issued in 1907, and "What Is Pragmatism?" published in 1909. With steadily growing mastery of his chosen line, Prof Pratt has kept the art of interesting the students who come under him. He is to take the chair which Dr Mark Hopkins filled from 1830 to 1887, when he was followed by Dr Edward H. Griffin and Prof Russell.

MISS M'ADOO MAY BRIDE.

Groom Is Ferdinand de Mohrenschildt, Second Secretary of Russian Embassy at Washington.

Washington, May 16.—The marriage of Miss Nona Haselhurst McAdoo, daughter of the secretary of the treasury, to Ferdinand de Hohrenschildt, second secretary of the Russian embassy, took place in St. John's Episcopal church yesterday afternoon.

Attending the ceremony were the President and Mrs. Wilson, the Vice-President and Mrs. Marshall, all of the cabinet members, the diplomatic corps, representatives of British and French commissions and former Russian Ambassador George Bakhmeteff and Mme. Bakhmeteff.

The bride, who presided over the home of Secretary McAdoo until his marriage to Miss Eleanor Wilson, three years ago, was given in marriage by her father.

The bride wore a gown of white tulle over satin, with pearl embroidery and a long tulle veil caught with a bandeau of pearls. She was attended by her sister, Mrs. Taber Martin of Chestnut Hill, Pa.; Miss Mary McAdoo of New York and Miss Mary Ethel Harriman. Little Nona McAdoo Martin, niece of the bride, was her flower girl.

Mr. de Mohrenschildt comes of an old and distinguished Russian family and is considered one of the most talented of the younger diplomats. Baron Renaud d'Ungern Sternberg of the Russian embassy WESTBROOK-DUNHAM—In Hartford, May 16, 1917, at the bride's home, No. 1030 Asylum avenue, Miss Frances Collins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel G. Dunham, to Stillman Foote Westbrook of Hartford.

Westbrook-Dunham.

Miss Frances Collins Dunham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel G. Dunham, and Stillman Foote Westbrook of this city, were united in marriage at 6:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents by Rev. Henry Hallam Tweedy of New Haven. Miss Helen O. Rider, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor and the flower girl was her cousin, Miss Louise Malloy. Mathias Loewe, cousin of the bride, was the page. Frederick S. Carpenter of New York was the best man. The bride wore a dress of ruffled tulle over white satin with

CAPT. WESTBROOK HEADS MASS. LIST

MARCH 29, 1918.

STILLMAN F. WESTBROOK, COMMISSIONED MAJOR, COMMANDS 101st, M.G.B.

Hartford Officer Promoted and Transferred to Old Organization in France—Went Overseas as First Lieutenant—Afterwards Captain of 104th Infantry.

March 4 1919
FORMER MEMBER OF HORSE GUARD

Myron Adams Griswold, 16
Myron Adams Griswold, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick A. Griswold of Wethersfield, and Miss Gladys Rider, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rider of No. 11 New street, Danbury, were married Wednesday evening at 6:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents by Rev. Henry Hallam Tweedy of New Haven. Miss Helen O. Rider, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor and the flower girl was her cousin, Miss Louise Malloy. Mathias Loewe, cousin of the bride, was the page. Frederick S. Carpenter of New York was the best man. The bride wore a dress of ruffled tulle over white satin with

HARTFORD MAN NOW IN COMMAND OF 101ST MACHINE GUN BATTALION

Major Stillman F. Westbrook.

09—St ford, Cor
Miss Fra
of Mr.
her home in Troop necticut granted the wedd
A son jr., was Stillman
ford formerl
The ford A Goodwi hostess, formed this wi Humph
an int dress its pro club m charm home,
and t being and Miss C. Louise Williams.

was served at the home of their daughter, Mrs. W. J. Tatro. The day was also observed as Mrs. Butler's birthday. Mr. and Mrs. Butler were married by Rev. Dr. Washington Gladden at the home of Mrs. Butler's father, James Easton, of North Adams. Soon after their marriage, they removed to this city, where they lived for several years, after which they went back to North Adams, where Mr. Butler is a contractor. Mrs. Butler was born in North Adams sixty-nine years ago and Mr. Butler was born in this city November 2, 1845. They have one daughter, Mrs. Tatro, and one grandson, Harold B. Tatro.

Feb 12 1920

May 16

Springfield

ENTER THE ARMY
we 14, 1918
 HIS REPRESENTATIVE
 TARY SERVICE UNDER OOD

ranscript: 1917
 ay 16—Congressman Au-or of Hamilton, Mass., a member of the House
 rve officer in the United re announcement of the Gardner, the first memo a swer the call of his d by the clerk of the House assembled this

ardner was a member of Reserve Corps with the Under the more recent embers of the old corps the new establishment.
 d only to take physical nation. The congressman and received a commisthe new corps. Yester-rders to report for active on, the headquarters of Wood. As a result, he n to Governor McCall.
 n appeared in the House and was immediately sur-spondents and congress-congratulated him upon tive duty. Member after ands with the congressrting, said "good luck, an one said they would e long.

a colonel in the adjutant ent about a year ago," the correspondents. "A ssued to me on Feb. 14 [received orders placing and directing me to ren, S. C., on May 24 for Constitution of the United ed to take my choice ben Congress and proceed-
 It was plain to me that thing for me to do and the order to the letter.
 my resignation from the ally succeeded in break-his friends. From the went to his office to at-portant business. The keep his office at the s own expense until his s elected. Although no been received from Govs believed here that the issue a call immediately on in Mr. Gardner's disufklin will be in charge e time being. If a sped be held, it is possible ill be a candidate.

 for Charleston the con-to Hamilton for a few nits. Several important ere command his attenr plans to stay in Wash-h or so. When summer
 ly will go to the home of Henry Cabot Lodge, at Lodge is said to have re-when his son-in-law told signed: "There, you have of a job." s done as much as any ss in recent years to emily of an adequate pre-out the weakness of

Mr. Gardner will be fifty-two years old in the fall and one question raised was how his

There are Victors and Victorias in grea organized the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey.
Victor Talking
Important Notice. Victor Records and Victor M processes of manufacture, and their use, one with New Victor Records demands

K,
 R,
 C.B.
 W OIST LLION
 book.
 one of their atro. The s Mrs. Bul-
 Mrs. Butler
 Dr. Washing-
 some of Mrs.
 Easton, of after the
 to this several years back to North tler is a
 was born nine years born in this They have and one g

DR. POTTER WILL VISIT LOS ANGELES

Center Church Pastor Has Leave of Absence to Meet Committee.

REV. DR. POTTER WILL STAY HERE.

May 20 1917
Center Church Pastor Declines Offer to Los Angeles Pulpit.

Henry Chapin of School street, who was to have been the best man at the Dutton-Chapin wedding this afternoon will be unable to be present as he could not obtain leave of absence from the officers' training camp at Plattsburg, where he is stationed. His place will be taken by his younger brother, Stuart Chapin.

MAY 19, 1917

Dinner for Bride-to-Be

Mr and Mrs William Henry Chapin of School street gave a dinner at the Country club last evening in honor of Miss Edith Dutton, daughter of Mr and Mrs Arthur C. Dutton of Firglade avenue, whose marriage to their oldest son, Maurice Scott Chapin, is to be an event of this afternoon. Dinner was served at 7 o'clock and a simple but charming arrangement of daffodils and other spring blossoms was used on the tables. Dancing followed the dinner. The guests included the members of the bridal party and one or two other friends, those present being Miss Helen Stratton of Bronxville, N. Y., Miss Catherine Chapin, Miss Frances Chapin, Miss Dorothy Kirkham, Miss Esther Holbrook, Miss Marie Louise Hatch, Miss Carolyn Davey of East Orange, N. J., Miss Ethel Andrews of New Haven, Ct., Rodney L. Smith, Converse Lincoln, Harold Small, Donald Bridgeman, Charles Wallour of New York, N. Y., Talbot Freeman of Medfield, Stuart Chapin, David Dutton and Mr and Mrs Arthur C. Dutton.

Stuart Chapin is expected to-morrow from his studies at Princeton university to stay with his parents, Mr and Mrs William H. Chapin of School street, coming on for the wedding of his brother, Maurice Scott Chapin, and Miss Edith Dutton of Firglade avenue, which is to take place Saturday. Mr Chapin will go on from here after the wedding to join the Harvard unit of the officers' reserve corps in Cambridge. His other brother, Henry Chapin, who is now at the officers' training camp at Plattsburg, hopes to come on for the wedding if MIDDLETOWN, Thursday, May 21. McCutcheon-Morgan Wedding.

The marriage of Ernest L. McCutcheon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. McCutcheon of the Durant District, to Miss Luella M. Morgan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. L. Morgan of the Hunting Hill district, was solemnized yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock at the Church of the Holy Trinity. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Frank Flood German, rector of the church. The bride was given in marriage by her father, Charles A. L. Morgan. The bride was attended by Miss Lillian Powers of Portland, while the best man was Harry McCutcheon, brother of the bride. The bride wore a silk dress worn by her grandmother as a wedding dress, while her bridal veil was the same worn by her great-grandmother at her wedding. The bridesmaid wore a gown of flowered tulle with a picture hat of white silk. The bride carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and the bridesmaid carried sweet peas.

The ushers at the ceremony were Abbott G. Davis and A. Sears Pruden. The bridegroom's brother, Ronald McCutcheon, played the wedding march. The ceremony was followed by a reception in the parish house of Holy Trinity, after which Mr. and Mrs. McCutcheon left on a wedding trip to Plattsburg and Niagara Falls. Mr. McCutcheon is a field representative of the Travelers Insurance Company.

PEARSON SUCCEEDS ELLIOTT AS HEAD OF 'NEW HAVEN' ROAD

APRIL 25, 1917.

Mr. Elliott Will Continue to Act in Advisory Capacity —Change Effective May 1

New York, April 24.—The resignation of Howard Elliott as president of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad, was accepted today at a meeting of the board of directors here. His retirement becomes effective on May 1, but he will continue to act in an advisory capacity with the presidents of the various companies comprising the "New Haven" system.

As Mr. Elliott's successor the directors elected E. J. Pearson, who since March 9, 1916 has been vice-president and Mr. Elliott's general assistant in charge of construction, operation and maintenance.

The directors created a committee of intercorporate relations which is to consist of the presidents and vice-presidents of the various companies and Mr. Elliott will co-operate with this committee "to coordinate and harmonize its activities." Recently Mr. Elliott was selected as a member of an executive committee of railroad presidents to co-operate with the Counsel of National Defense in putting the country's transportation lines on a war basis. This is believed to have been one of his reasons for resigning the presidency of the "New Haven."

Benjamin Campbell was elected vice-president of the "New Haven" and president of the New England Steamship Company, of the Hartford & New York Transportation Company, and of the New Bedford, Martha's Vineyard & Nantucket Steamboat Company.

Mr. Pearson.

Mr. Pearson, since March 9, 1916, has been a vice-president of the "New Haven" road, with headquarters in Boston.

He has acted as a general assistant to Mr. Elliott, and in particular has had charge of all matters relating to construction, operation and maintenance.

Mr. Pearson is 53 years old and of New England stock. In 1883 he was graduated from Cornell with the degree of civil engineer. His mother was born in East Corinth, Me., and the family later moved to Branford, Conn. His father was born at Byfield, near Newburyport, Mass. Like many New England families, they moved to the West, but Mr. Pearson always kept up his associations with New England.

When in the services of the Northern Pacific, he made a complete examination of the wharf and dock properties of the "New Haven" road all the way from New York to Boston so that he could be helpful in the construction of similar facilities at Duluth and Puget Sound.

Statement by Elliott.

Mr. Elliott today made the following statement:—

New Pro With much regret I have come to the conclusion that it is for the best interest of my family and myself to relieve myself of the work incident to the executive management of the "New Haven" road and its associated properties. I considered taking this step a year ago, but felt that the work of reorganizing the staff of the company had not gone far enough to justify me in retiring.

ELLIOTT HEAD OF NORTHERN PACIFIC

Resumes Office of President From Which He Resigned in 1913.

New York, July 10.—The directors of the Northern Pacific Railway Company, at a meeting here today, accepted the resignation as president of J. M. Hannaford, who has been appointed federal manager of the lines, and elected as his successor Howard Elliott, who has been chairman of the executive committee.

Mr. Elliott thus becomes president of the Northern Pacific a second time. He resigned the office in 1913 to become active head of the "New Haven" and is still a member of the executive committee of that company. C. W. Bunn, general counsel, and Thomas Cooper, land commissioner of the company, were elected vice-presidents.

ence in railroad ws:—
acific: Assistant
; engineering
ision engineer, assistant engi-
years—in this charge of the consin Central that time, was Pacific; divithree difficult assistant gen-
vo years; chief

& St. Paul: building the on of the St.
tant piece of years.
tem: He was
Mrs. Bush, in ce, operation
ld much work
oping the line
nomical oper-
r years.
was vice-pres-
property and with head-

was vice-pres-property and
with head-

With much regret I have come to the conclusion that it is for the best interest of my family and myself to relieve myself of the work incident to the executive management of the "New Haven" road and its associated properties. I considered taking this step a year ago, but felt that the work of reorganizing the staff of the company had not gone far enough to justify me in retiring.

Nearly four years ago the directors of the Northern Pacific Railway Company, at a meeting here today, accepted the resignation as president of J. M. Hannaford, who has been appointed federal manager of the lines, and elected as his successor Howard Elliott, who has been chairman of the executive committee.

Mr. Elliott thus becomes president of the Northern Pacific a second time. He resigned the office in 1913 to become active head of the "New Haven" and is still a member of the executive committee of that company.

C. W. Bunn, general counsel, and Thomas Cooper, land commissioner of the company, were elected vice-presidents.

of the company, were elected vice-presidents.

FENWICK HALL TO BECOME A CLUB

Plans have been started by Hon. Morgan G. Bulkeley to have Fenwick Hall at Fenwick entirely remodeled and to be occupied entirely as a club to be known as the Riversea Club. This will mean the passing of Fenwick Hall as a hotel. The club membership will come from the colony at FIRE DESTROYS FENWICK HALL. Fenwick Station of Hartford Yacht Club Also in Ruins.

Saybrook Point, May 19. Fire, shortly after noon to-day completed the demolition of Fenwick Hall, a historic hostelry, re-

:: Fenwick Hall Which Was Burned Yesterday ::

THE N GLOV DRESS SUITS MILL

side, with
s. The for that ning room ghty feet ranged in nd six.
the hotel
vision of ty, then ook coma bridge oint and ructured.
t opened ts in the Road of this city.
by other marked five-year Chatfield een con-House at Manhattan land. He lete reno-livery for ate success

ford yacht club, located on Long Point at the mouth of the Connecticut river, was valued at $12,700. It was a three-story frame structure and was built on land donated to the club by former Senator Morgan G. Bulkeley, about 17 years ago. For many years, before the popularity of the automobile superseded that of the yacht, it was a popular resort and the rendezvous of scores of small craft. Of late years, it has been used by members of the club on week-end trips. The station was an attractive building and contained between eighteen and twenty rooms for sleeping accommodation besides a large loft on the third story. A large dining hall occupied the lower floor. The building was erected at the cost of $7,500. Additional improvements since its construction have brought the value up to $10,000. The furniture was worth about $2,500, and a garage in the rear was worth about $200. The property was partly covered by insurance. It had been planned by the club to make several improvements on the property this spring, and James Connelly of Saybrook, had accepted the position of steward.

Bulkeley and their daughter, Mrs. John A. Ingersoll, of New York.

Yacht Club Station Burned.

About three-quarters of an after the fire in Fenwick Hall discovered flames were seen in station of the Hartford Yacht C a quarter of a mile away. Effor save the building were unaval The station had a large dining r about eighteen sleeping rooms a large loft. Its original cost $7,500. Additions brought the to $12,500. Furniture was w $1,000 to $2,000. A garage was

ONLY DAYS OF FENWICK HA

Not Connected With Val Railroad, Says Conductor of First Train.

Although the general impres has been that Fenwick Hall, w was burned last Saturday was l and operated by the Valley Railr chiefly because of the fact that two were opened within a day of e other, J. B. Halmon, a vete conductor who was nected with the New Y New Haven & Hartford Railroad many years and who ran the train to Saybrook for the Va Railroad, assured "The Cour yesterday that the enterprises v entirely independent. Fenwick l was erected by a company of H ford capitalists, he said, A. M. H but being the builder and Colone A. Rood the first proprietor. Col Rood ran the United States H on State street this city, a num of years. He was the father of Fr D. Rood and Arthur W. Rood.

The hotel was opened July 1871, the first guests going to S brook Point by the steamer Sunsh and then taking a sailboat.

Miss Eames's Professional Debut

April 18, 1915

Miss Clare Eames, prominent in Cleveland and Hartford society will make her professional debut in a leading role in "The Big Scene" by Arthur Schnitzler, translated by Charles Henry Meltzer, a one-act play to be produced at the Green-Village theater next week Thursday night. Included on the

Miss Eames who is 21 years old, is a niece of Mme Emma Eames de Gogorza, grand opera prima donna, whom she somewhat resembles, and has been looking forward to a stage career since her childhood, this having been her first appearance. She is of unusual type, having a profile like those in some of the classic Dutch paintings, and seems to possess an intellectual

Sale Price $1.25 Panama Hats, 98c

Sale Price Dress Shapes, 75c

$2 Hemp and Split Braid

Untrimmed Hats

ORDINARY PRICE

GLOVES

WAISTS

NERV

other large season. Eames. Ty looks to be in for an busting for Detroit in his practice Ty Cobb is doing some fancy ball- ing by lining, beginning Monday. The major league baseball games. The Times, as usual, will bulletin player will do in the major league I should be willing to gamble ability, a great arm and he is a Spoke. "He has a natural hitting These are the three mechanic requests for a baseball star. Graws team looks like a well ba I ever have seen him manage, at

have been stopping with their aunt while in the metropolis

William Faversham, in which Miss Eames has the leading role, and which is one of the greatest successes in the metropolis today, was written in novel form by Mark Twain. As was told in the columns of "The Sunday Courant" several weeks ago, "The Prince and the Pauper" was first dramatized in Mark Twain's home over fifty years ago, with Mrs. Clemens as stage manager and prominent Hartford people in the various roles. Again it appeared here as a popular production several years ago, when it was given at Parsons's theater by the Jesters, the Trinity College dramatic organization, and at that time Richard Barthelmess, now one of the leading motion picture stars, appeared in the part which Mr. Faversham has now.

So it has gone. For years Hartford has appeared to feel closer to "The Prince and the Pauper" than it has felt to any other Twain work. This feeling may possibly be because the book was written in this city; in the room where it was first dramatized. In addition to all of the ties mentioned previously, there stands the largest one, perhaps, in the statement made by Mr. Faversham to a representative of "The Courant" in New York on the evening of the Mark Twain anniversary, that he would do everything in his power to assist in the saving of the Hartford home of the great American humorist.

In the account of the Mark Twain anniversary celebration given in the "Courant" recently, mention was made of the fact that Harold Webster, a Hartford man, was playing one of the parts in the production, although not a major role. At the time it was not known that one of the principal parts was taken by Miss Eames, who cleverly and splendidly takes the part of Princess Elizabeth and who succeeds in giving to the character of the afterwards notorious Queen Bess the only human touch which the writer ever has associated with her.

Miss Eames was born in Hartford

As is of course fitting, it was in Paris that Miss Eames began her theatrical career. Acting upon the advice of her aunt, one of the leading grand opera artists, she studied the drama for several years. Four years ago she went to New York and took special dramatic studies under the late Sarah Cowell Lemoine, and at the Sargeant School. Then, apparently, there came a note of discouragement.

"The American Magazine," to the contrary, there seems to come a period in the life of every individual who later achieves success, when the sun of hope is darkened and the skies are heavy with leaden clouds of discouragement. Few successful men or women have trod the rough and rocky road leading to fame without a brief, forced halt. On this road, stone bruises and wrenched ankles are numerous, and even the most energetic and ambitious traveler now and then pauses to reflect on the broad, smooth, even highway of indifference which is not far distant, and wonder if after all that is not the best road. And so it was, for a time, with Miss Eames.

In one of the periods of discouragement, perhaps, she decided that she had no dramatic ability; she thought that she would have more success at art, which she had studied along with the drama while abroad. So she was at least leaving one rough pathway for another equally as rough. It was not long before she was forced to answer the lure of the footlights, and back to the stage she came—for a short time.

At a student matinee of the Sargeant school in 1917 she appeared and then went down to the end of West Fourth street to the Greenwich Village theater. This was before the folly fad had stuck that playhouse and at the time when more attention was paid to art—for art's sake mostly. Miss Eames appeared in various one act plays, including Schnitzler's "The Big Scene," in which she had the part of the wife. But after a successful engagement in this production, she again left the stage and took up painting, specializing in portraiture.

Clare Eames of Hartford in "The Prince and the Pauper."

By a peculiar coincidence, William Faversham, the star who has raised Miss Eames to the Olympian heights of stardom where he himself has so high a seat, was the man who caused the former Hartford girl to abandon art for a second time. Mr. Faversham had seen Miss Eames in one of the Greenwich Village plays, and liked her work so well that he determined to place her in one of his productions as soon as the opportunity presented itself. This opportunity came two years later.

Two years after, Mr. Faversham produced "Freedom," and by another peculiar coincidence gave to Miss Eames the role of Elizabeth—a role which portrayed the so-called Virgin Queen at a much later period of her life than is shown in "The Prince and the Pauper." Miss Eames studied Queen Elizabeth thoroughly at this time, but was herself dissatisfied with her performance, which she termed "too amateurish." She later took part in the mob scenes in "Through the Ages," and then made a splendid success with Ethel Barrymore as Lady Wildering, wife of the ambassador, in "Declasse." Then came the part which she is now playing in Mr. Faversham's production.

While one might believe that the hand of fate, or Kismet, or whatever it is that regulates the lives of mortals, has dealt with Miss Eames in an exceedingly kind way, unfortunately, such is not the case. The World War brought to her as to hundred of other Americans, its message of sorrow. Her fiance, Lieutenant Philip Livingston Rose, of Hartford, son of Major John H. Rose of the surgeon general's office in Washington, was killed in action on October 6, 1918.

MARRIED AT LOS ANGELES

May 22 1917
 Miss Charlotte W. Porter Becomes the Wife of Donald Myrick, Princeton '15, Son of Herbert Myrick of Springfield Charlotte Williams Porter, daughter of Mrs. Edward Clark Porter of Hubbard Woods, Chicago, was married at Los Angeles, Cal., yesterday to Donald Myrick of Springfield. The ceremony was performed by Rev. George Davidson at St. John's Episcopal Church, in the presence of the bridegroom's mother, Mrs.
 Herbert Myrick; his classmate at Princeton University, Richard Bard, and Mrs.
 Bard of Huen
 of Santa Bar wedding brea
 Clark, Los A
 from a weddi considerable r
 Mrs. Myrick v avenue, Holly
 geles.
 Mr. Myrick
 the Los Ange
 of Herbert My lisher and edit
 class of 1915
 ber of the Un

MISS HELEN TAFT
DEAN OF BRYN MAWR
Acting President 1919 Ex-President's Daughter Is Regarded as One of Ablest of Younger Graduates.

American Envoy to the Netherlands, Just Resigned

(Copyright Photo by International Film Service, Inc.)

Dr. Henry van Dyke

In a lonely bay concealing
 She lingers for days, and slips
 At dusk from her covert stealing Thro' channells feared by the ships.
 Brave are the men, and steady.
 Who guide her over the deep British mariners, ready
 To face the sea wolf's leap.
 Lord of the winds and waters,
 Bring our ship to her mark, Safe from this game of hide and seek
 With murderers in the dark.

MARRI

May
 Mr and Mrs Lib
 ly Observe
 Mr and Mrs celebrated the their marriage Berkshire road
 of friends called couple, and thei Switzer, gave a
 to each comer.
 married in Thor
 by a justice of zer is 95 and v
 while Mrs Switze
 Brimfield, is fo
 They have one Switzer, who i them.

HARR

May Miss Alice H.
 of Mr. and Mrs.
 city, and Frank
 Mr. and Mrs. Cl Warehouse Poir

DR VAN DY

ILL SINCE VI

Former Ministe Wants to $

May Dr Henry Van ican minister to T
 rived in New Yo England. He res
 in the diplomatic ber, and has since been in England and France.

Dr Van Dyke said he had but recently left a hospital in London, where he had suffered two months from a heavy cold contracted on a visit to the Verdun front.

"I have come to volunteer my services to my government in any way I can," Dr Van Dyke said. "I will go to ray home in Princeton for a few days and then to Washington to see Lansing."

a for and train Nell w

The

May THOMASTON. 25

DR. BERG RESIGNS FROM SOUTH CHURCH

APRIL 30, 1917 Accepts Call to Col Church in New York New Pastorate One Best and Richest in

Following the services at the Congregational Church this morning, the resignation of Irving H. Berg, the pastor, by Rev. R. W. Earstow, the pastor. The resignation in effect the last Sunday in May. Voted to receive the committee and a committee consisting of T. Robinson, James H. Henry C. Dwight, Professor S. Pratt and Robert D. appointed to wait on Dr. ask him to reconsider his committee will meet Dr. B and will report at a special of the church which will Thursday evening.

Dr. Berg has resigned the pastorate of the Fort Washington Collegiate Church in New York, one of a group of five churches several chapels in the city, one corporation. They are as the Middle Collegiate, the Collegiate, the Collegiate St. Nicholas, the West End and the Fort Washington. The Fort Washington Church is located on the corner of Washington avenue and 181st street where there is at present a parish house and chapel it is proposed to erect a new

Old and Wealthy
The Collegiate Church is a colonial church of New York, original church having been founded at Fort of New Amsterdam. The denomination of which Dr. Berg is pastor is the Reformed Church of America, planted by the earliest settlers from the Palatinate. Its form of government is Presbyterian and the church are administered by a consistory made up of representatives from each of the five churches and presided over in turn by the five ministers. New York corporation, the church possesses the largest endowment of any church in the city.

Dr. Berg's grandfather, Joseph F. Berg was professor of theology in the seminary formed Church at New

DR. I. H. BERG MAY LEAVE HARTFORD

APRIL 19, 1917. Has Call From Collegiate Church of New York.

A committee representing the Collegiate Church of New York called at the home of Rev. Dr. Irving H. Berg in this city yesterday afternoon and invited him to become one of the Collegiate ministers. If he accepts he will have charge of the church which the Collegiate corporation is planning to build at Fort

Rev. Dr. Irving H. Berg.

Washington avenue and 181st street, New York. It was agreed that Dr. Berg would give his answer by May 1.

The Collegiate Church is the oldest church corporation in New York when he returned to his back which was in good health until three weeks ago and since then has successfully carried on farm work at home. He has worked outside work about fifteen years for nearly thirty years. He retired from the feed and grain business late W. W. Cooper and worked for 1872. He entered the employ of the Springfield, moving to Suffolk in September 25, 1868, Julia Burke of Springfield where he married, September 73 years. He came to this country in 1865 and located on Hill street, yesterday morning, James L. Teach died at his home

The Washington Herald's account of New York is one of the most recent and rapid of the recent developments of that city and is teeming with fine class of people most abundant in the large apartments and in that neighborhood, one of the healthiest in the of Resignation.

his resignation, as read at the church yesterday, follows:—
I have resigned from the Church of Christ in Hartford, Conn.

Some time ago this month you called on me to the pastorate of this church. Changes in the city, resulting in an exodus of the church to other cities, coupled with serious death had left a greatly reduced congregation here. I have an ever-increasing membership and a growing church. The use of the word, "The Church of Christ," brought new life and increased our membership. No other church in Hartford is more densely populated with Protestant families. I have so closely identified that I could not induce me to leave the church which I firmly believe the best for the South. I have had a call to the church here and to other scenes. I have been called to the Reformed Church of New York, which was led to offer me a position as one of its ministers, at the church at Fort Washington, avenue and 181st street. I intend to build a new parish house and a parsonage on that site.

I have most carefully investigated and earnestly considered the situation involved. My inclination is to resist any suggestion to leave this beloved city. For short years we have been here. We have faced problems; but your loyalty and devotion to your minister and to the church have made problems only a renewed effort. You have shown leadership even when to face radical steps and the loss of cherished traditions. I have never opposed me, but always made me feel that you were in sympathy with me and you have led me to the happy solution of the questions over which I would have stumbled without your patience and your

of you individually and a prudential committee have discussed this call to me. While you have exercised your willingness to give me the power to keep my position, you have, with a regard for unselfishness and agreement with me that I could hardly refuse.

I have considered this summons as a call to a new and old colonial church of New York and where three of my immediate family members are now living. I always with the confidence of my duty to the South and with an ever growing faith that this call constituted a more imperative duty.

I ask you to accept my resignation as pastor that I may be able to accept a call to the pastorate of the South Collegiate Church, which has bought a large farm in Arkhamsted, Dr. and Mrs. Berg and children are now at Columbia lake, Columbia. They expect to go to Arkhamsted the first of next month for the entire month, after which they will return to New York.

I am, dear friends, most gratefully and affectionately, as ever, your friend, Irving H. Berg

Rev. Dr. Irving H. Berg, formerly pastor of the South Collegiate Church, has bought a large farm in Arkhamsted. Dr. and Mrs. Berg and children are now at Columbia lake, Columbia. They expect to go to Arkhamsted the first of next month for the entire month, after which they will return to New York. 1919

SILK SALE

$27.00

DR. I. H. BERG TO LEAVE SOUTH CHURCH, MA

BENNET QUOTES REV. DR. BERG. OCTOBER 5, 1917.

COUNCIL DISMISSES DR. I. H. BERG

Resignation Accepted Regret at Special Meeting.

May 4 — 1917

The resignation of Rev. Dr. I. H. Berg as pastor of the South Church was accepted at a special meeting of the church held last evening. His resignation was read at the close of the service last Sunday and will take effect last Sunday this month. He will leave the pastorate of the Fort Washington Reformed Church of New York, one of five churches of the Collegiate Church of New York. Although Dr. Berg's resignation will take effect May 27, he will be in the city more or less until October 1. He intends to spend three months' vacation, which he will spend at Columbia Lake.

At the meeting Sunday a committee of five, consisting of J. Robinson, James H. Bidwell, Henry C. Dwight, Professor S. Pratt and Robert D. Bone, was appointed to wait on Dr. Berg and endeavor to have him reconsider his resignation. The committee met with him last evening and he expressed his regret that he could not be as helpful in his work.

The Council, having approved the action of the Second Church of Christ in Hartford, in accepting the resignation of the Rev. Dr. Irving H. Berg, hereby declares the dissolution of the Pastoral relation. It desires to put on record its sense of appreciation of the services of Dr. Berg, and its deep regret that he feels called upon to terminate his work in this city.

Five years ago he came to the Pastorate of this historic church. He was not unknown to some of us, having been graduated from the Hartford Theological Seminary. He brought to his work in this church the experience secured in a successful pastorate in the Reformed Church in America, courage of high order, a fine enthusiasm, and a vision which enabled him to see things both as they were and as they ought to be. His labors have been richly rewarded, and in manifold ways evidences of Divine Blessing have been granted to him and to his people.

The Council would further make mention of the brotherly and earnest manner in which Dr. Berg has served the common tasks of the churches in the city and state, his ardent and zealous participation in the duties of citizenship, not forgetting his marked service to the country in the capacity of Chaplain of the First Connecticut Regiment.

The Council would commend Dr. Berg as a brother beloved to the fellowship of the Reformed Church in America, to which his new work calls him.

JOHN BROWNLEE VOORHEES, ROSCOE W. NELSON,
EDWIN KNOX MITCHELL, Committee.

May 23, 1917
The records of the church show that during the five years of Dr. Berg's pastorate there were received into membership on profession of faith, ninety-seven persons; from the Wethersfield Avenue Church three hundred and ninety-two, and by letter from other churches, ninety; a total of five hundred and seventy-nine.

At the Bible School Teachers' meeting last Tuesday evening, Dr. and Mrs. Berg were presented with five-dollar gold pieces, and on Friday evening the Junior Brotherhood presented to Dr. Berg a cane, engraved with his fraternity emblems. The committee will meet Tuesday afternoon.

OBJECTS TO CALL TO REV. DR. BERG.

Lawyer Bennet of New York Hasn't Anything Against Man, However.

TROUBLE IS WITH CHURCH MANAGERS

Claims Dutch Reformed Congregation Had No Choice in Pastor.

At least one member of the Fort Washington Collegiate Reformed church in New York objects to having the Rev. Dr. Irving H. Berg

At the Ecclesiastical Council which met for the dismissal of Dr. Berg, the following resolution was adopted—is Adopted Com- g His Work in his City.

of Congregational Hartford, Poquonock, Wethersfield, West Hartford, Windsor and Windsor the South Congregational yesterday to dismiss Rev. H. Berg, who has accepted the pastorate of the Fort Washington Collegiate Church

g was called to order by Edwin P. Parker, pastor of the South Church, and presided by Rev. Dr. M. After the action of the Congregational Church in accepting the resignation was confirmed by a committee consisting of Rev. J. W. Voorhees, Rev. J. and Professor Edwin was appointed to draw up expressing the action of the council. The resolutions, read by Dr. J. B. Voorhees, dismissed Dr. Berg and told PASTOR AND WIFE

Berg, roses for Mrs. Berg, leaves Hartford

WEEK

Berg
New who rein Con-ned the Washing-
Mrs.
Berg will he said in New household work to-pastor of church for months'
e. The church essor to low, asn, filling Barstow

is head of the pre-
of the church.

DR. BERG'S SERMON CHARLOTTE RUSSE, SAYS PARISHIONER

Former Hartford Pastor Attacked By Lawyer Bennet in Open Letters.

Charging that Rev. Dr. Irving H. Berg, pastor of the Fort Washington Reformed Church and formerly of Hartford, preaches "charlotte russe" sermons and that the results of his pastorate are not commensurate with the $20,000 expended on his church and the pastor's salary of $8,000, James E. Bennet, a New York lawyer, and for a short time an official of the Fort Washington Church, has been carrying on a campaign against Dr. Berg in a series of five letters sent to the members of the consistory.

In a letter dated April 24, Mr. Bennet comments upon the small number of new accessions to church membership, compares them with the large number received by nearby Presbyterian churches, and makes the following comment on Dr. Berg's preaching.

"If anybody had joined our church on confession the question would have been, What were they confessing? We have had many Sunday lectures on the war and addresses on various kinds of ethics. One of the sermons preached on Sunday, April 14, entitled 'The Love of the World,' has been published, and I think that every member of the consistory should have a copy of it. When you have read it you will undoubtedly see why we received no members on confession. Charlotte russe is a tasty morsel, but it is by no means a square meal"

Mr. Bennet's latest letter to the Great Consistory of the Collegiate Church, which helps to support the Fort Washington Church, is dated May 8. When Mr. Bennet's criticisms were referred to Dr. Berg, he answered, "I do not wish to be drawn into any controversy with James E. Bennet."

Y. MAY 15, 1918.

Hartford Boys Back From "Over There"

W. W. Walker.

AMBULANCE DRIVER ACCEPTED FOR ARMY OCTOBER 15, 1917.

Wilbur W. Walker Passes
First District Examinations

FOUND TOO MANY AMBULANCE DRIVER

OCTOBER 13, 1917

Redfield and Walker, Back From France, Tell of Conditions.

Charles H. Redfield, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward D. Redfield, of No. 229 Kenyon street, and Wilbur W. Walker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Walker, of No. 50 Farmington avenue, who were among the Hartford men who went to France for service in the American Ambulance Corps have recently returned to this city. They report little excitement on the trip, and are enthusiastic in their praise of the equipment and general outfitting of the Ambulance Corps.

There are more than enough to drive the ambulances, according to the two who have returned, and practically the only work there is left for new arrivals consists of truck driving, garage work and the attendant duties. Many of those who went to France for ambulance work have been disappointed at having other very ordinary work allotted to them, which hardly suited their adventurous spirits.

The young men left France and the service, intending to enlist with Company B in the Machine Gun Corps. They arrived a day too late to do that, however, with the result that other plans will have to be made, as both of them are determined to

LIEUT. BOARDMAN BACK FROM FRANCE

Returns After Year's Stay He did An War Zone.

Oct 23, 1918

Lieutenant Thomas Bradford Boardman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Boardman of No. 76 Oxford street, and who has been in the service in France for more than a year, has returned to this country for an indefinite stay, according to a cablegram received by his parents yesterday morning. Lieutenant Boardman was a member of the class of 1919 at Trinity College, leaving early in June, 1917, to become an ambulance driver in France. He later attended a school of training in France and received his commission in the artillery from French officials. He is now at Newport News, Va., and will not be able to return to his home for a few days. Lieutenant Boardman was prominent in Trinity affairs and was a member of the Psi Upsilon fraternity. It is as yet not known by his parents what the purpose of his return to this country will be.

Lieutenant T. B. Boardman, who is spending a seven days' leave at his home, No. 76 Oxford street, is to report at the end of his furlough at Camp Jackson, near Columbia, South Carolina, to give instructions in artillery fire.

JULY 10, 1918.

man lines are not far away.

Roger B. Ladd
Wells Root, ...

Invitations were received in this

BOARD ACCEPTS 97

Saunders street are at Chapman Beach, Westbrook, for the remainder of the month

Connecticut Librarian Appointed to Connecticut League for Women.

MES SATURDAY, JUNE 9, 1917.

garet Baker Foley, librarian at the Hartford Public Library, was learned yesterday, to accept the place of reference librarian here years and was considered fully fitted for her work.

She was graduated from the Hartford Public High School in 1885, an alumnus of Smith College, and holds a degree of B.L. and also a degree from the University of New England. Miss Foley is currently on a vacation in the White Mountains, New Hampshire. She has been a noted professional librarian and was known as Signorina.

LOT ESCORTS BRIDE

Miss Elisabeth Eliot and Arthur C. McGiffert, Jr., in First Parish Church, Cambridge, May 29

Miss Elisabeth Eliot, daughter of Rev. Dr. D. D. and Mrs. Eliot of Cambridge, and Arthur C. McGiffert, Jr., Harvard, '13, of Cambridge, son of Professor A. C. McGiffert, Theological Seminary, will be married this afternoon in the First Parish Church, Cambridge. The bride will be escorted by her grandfather, Dr. Charles C. McGiffert, assisted by the Rev. Dr. D. D. Eliot.

The bride is the daughter of Rev. Dr. D. D. and Mrs. Eliot of Cambridge, and Arthur C. McGiffert, Jr., Harvard, '13, of Cambridge, son of Professor A. C. McGiffert, Theological Seminary, will be married this afternoon in the First Parish Church, Cambridge. The bride will be escorted by her grandfather, Dr. Charles C. McGiffert, assisted by the Rev. Dr. D. D. Eliot.

for his best man. Beverly, a classmate of the bride, will be the best man. Ushers will be Mr. C. Baker and Mr. J. C. Warren, Pa., and Mr. J. C. Hills, N. Y. Mr. J. C. Hills will live in New Dwight Pratt, of their house Franklin G. Y., will motor to attend the wedding of Miss Elisabeth Eliot, daughter of Rev. Dr. D. D. and Mrs. Eliot of Cambridge, and Arthur C. McGiffert, Jr., Harvard, '13, of Cambridge, son of Professor A. C. McGiffert, Theological Seminary, will be married this afternoon in the First Parish Church, Cambridge. The bride will be escorted by her grandfather, Dr. Charles C. McGiffert, assisted by the Rev. Dr. D. D. Eliot.

Their Bit in France

BARCLAY ROBINSON, Yale, 1919.

EDWARD G. REDFIELD, Williams, 1918.

Barclay Robinson, Yale, 1919, and Edward G. Redfield, Williams, 1918, are among the young men who have volunteered for service in France. Robinson is a member of the Yale Athletic Union and Redfield is a member of the Williams Athletic Union. Both are graduates of their respective institutions and are now serving in the United States Army.

Edward G. Redfield, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward D. Redfield of this city, has just returned from France, where he served in the United States Army. He is now in Pennsylvania and writes that just as soon as his heel heals he is going to join the navy.

Manchester Boys With Crowd.

While there has been nothing received in town in the way of a message which will bear out the truth of the opinion, there is ample reason to feel that Manchester will have at least three soldiers among those who are the first Americans to land in France. The announcement yesterday that General Pershing had arrived in England leads one to suppose that his army is near there and if this is true it is almost sure that three of the Manchester men who were with him in Mexico are with him in Europe.

Many Subscriptions.

The report that the committee is working on a big syndicate of Pennsylvania, and of the Western Reserve University, Yale University and Harvard University.

MISS FLINT A BRIDE.

Wedded to Reginald L. Whitman in New York City.

New York, May 29.—Miss Adelaide Flint, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Austin Flint, was married to Reginald L. Whitman, a son of Mrs. Charles L. Whitman, in St. Bartholomew's church yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock, in the presence of a large assemblage of relatives and friends. The Rev. Dr. Leighton S. Parks, rector of the church, and Bishop David H. Greer were the officiating clergymen.

John S. Norton, whose marriage to Miss Beatrice Tapley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Wells Tapley of Springfield, will be married to-night.

TAPLEY-NORTON REHEARSAL

Mrs Tapley Entertained for Daughter's Last Night

Mr and Mrs William Wells of Mill street entertained at in the Colony club last evening honor of their daughter, Miss Beatrice Tapley, whose marriage to Schade Norton, son of Mr and Edward H. Norton of Maplewood, is to be an event of this evening. Covers were laid for 20 and the NORTON-TAPLEY WEDDING

Springfield

FLOWERS ADORN THE

May 26 1917

Lavish use of sparkleberry, roses, Boston ferns and Lawsons transformed the home and Mrs William Wells Tapley street last evening for the marriage of their second daughter, Miss Beatrice Tapley, and John Schade Norton of Mr and Mrs Edward H. Norton of Maplewood terrace. Like so many of the weddings this season the ceremony was hastened because of the illness of the bride's brother, Russell W. Tapley, is to sail June 2 for service in France with the American ambulance corps. For the ceremony, which was performed at 7 o'clock, only relatives and intimate friends had been invited while some 650 invitations were for the reception following the ceremony. Rev E. B. Freeman, pastor of the State street Baptist church, performed the ceremony, reading the single ring service, and was assisted by Rev Reuben J. Goddard, of Faith Congregational church.

A background of palms was ranged in the living room where the bridal party stood during the ceremony. In bold relief against the wall were the American, British and French flags. At either side of the screen were high white pedestals which were vases of Russell W. Tapley's name mingled with flags, while these pedestals ran the ribbons formed the aisle for the entrance to the bridal party. Sparkleberry, Boston ferns were used elsewhere in the room by Ostermann & Stebbins, who had charge of all the decorations. The former vine outlining the case, the banking the mantels and borders upon which were large vases of

The bridal party made its entrance to the living room to the strains of the Lohengrin wedding music, played by Mrs. [unreadable]

WEARS WAR CROSS

JOB WAS UNDER FIRE

SUCCESSOR THE WOUNDED

DRIVER TAPLEY COMES HOME

NOVEMBER 22, 1917

Springfield Boy Returns from Ambulance Service

GIVEN WAR CROSS

HONOR R. W. TAPLEY

NOW SERVING IN FRANCE

IS AWARDED FOR BRAVERY

Son of Mr and Mrs W. W. Tapley of This City is Youngest Driver in American Ambulance Service

Sept 1917

Russell W. Tapley, 18, son of Mr and Mrs W. W. Tapley of 146 Mill street, sailed for France June 2, the youngest driver in the American ambulance field service. He has been awarded the French war cross. His name is included in a list of 23 American ambulance drivers decorated for conspicuous bravery, announced yesterday.

Although the young man has not written to his parents recently, it is evident from a letter received by Dr Philip Kilroy from Mrs Kilroy, who is in France, that the lad has displayed remarkable bravery on at least one occasion. Mrs Kilroy said that Russell had written her, acknowledging the receipt of some candy and cigarets she had sent him, and said that he had "run into a gas attack."

Apparently he escaped without injury for he tells later of driving his ambulance, filled with wounded soldiers, into a curtain of shell fire. The engine, after the manner of all engines at the crucial moment, stalled. Tapley climbed down from the driver's seat and squirmed under the automobile to adjust the mechanism. A shell crashed into the car, overturned it and killed four of the wounded soldiers. Because of his position Tapley again escaped unhurt.

RUSSELL W. TAPLEY

Springfield Ambulance Driver in France Who Has Been Awarded War Cross

RIVES MASK TOO

The Way Ambulance Men Go through German Gas and sleeping in the same without a change for seven save life. Yet Russell W. son of W. W. Tapley of 164 street of this city, gained 20 while undergoing privation this during six months in the ambulance service. Went to War at 17

Frederic M. Green of Miss Isabelle Peterson of Buffalo, and Miss Gladys Preston of

Vertical text on the right edge of the page, partially cut off.

and] Middletown, May 29.- Married 56 Years.
This is the 56th anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Langdon Johnson who reside on the Middlesex turnpike. Both are in good health for persons of their age.
Reaches Age of 97.
Miss Emily A. Selden was 97 years old, Sunday. Miss Selden is the oldest woman in town and probably in Middlesex county. She is in very feeble health now and her mind is not clear. She is being cared for at the family homestead on Washington street by her niece.

ROSES AND GOLD FOR DEAN KNIGHT.

Teacher at School of Religious Pedagogy Honored by Alumni.

As a part of the anniversary exercises of the Hartford Seminary foundation, which started Friday with

FACULTY NAMES SEMINARY FELLOW

John W. Flight Receives Thompson Award, Allow ing for Advanced Study

It has been announced by the faculty that John W. Flight, a senior in the Hartford Theological seminary, has been awarded the William Thompson fellowship. The seminary has two fellowships, the Thompson and the Welles, which provide opportunities either in this or in other fields. Flight is assigned to the latter and will spend two years of the fellowship pursuing the direction of their make qualified for the fellowship is a graduate of Mt. Holyoke College and of the Hartford School of Religious Pedagogy and is in her fifth year of service in the Young Women's Christian Association in Passaic, where she is junior work secretary. Mr. Belcher is a graduate of Dartmouth College and is now in the employ of the United States Rubber Company, as an analytical chemist.

Dean Edward H. Knight of the Hartford School of Religious Pedagogy, and Mrs. Knight announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Avis Knight, to Thomas Lewis Belcher of Passaic, N. J., formerly of Somerville, Mass. Miss Knight is a graduate of Mt. Holyoke College and of the Hartford School of Religious Pedagogy and is in her fifth year of service in the Young Women's Christian Association in Passaic, where she is junior work secretary. Mr. Belcher is a graduate of Dartmouth College and is now in the employ of the United States Rubber Company, as an analytical chemist.

At present he is pastor of the Bay State Union chapel, at Northampton, Mass., and is preaching there every Sunday. In the seminary he has specialized in Old Testament studies under Professor Lewis B. Paton, and in systematic theology under Professor Arthur L. Gillette. Normally, Mr. Flight would plan to go abroad to do his graduate work, and study for his Ph.D. degree, but the war makes this impossible. Therefore his graduate study will probably be done in this country. For his life work Mr. Flight expects to take a professorship rather than become a pastor.

*May 28
257 am*

BELCHER-KNIGHT—In this city, on June 30, 1917, by Rev. Edward H. Knight, D. D., the father of the bride, Miss Avis Knight and Mr. Thomas Lewis Belcher, of Passaic, N. J.

Rev. Dr. Edward H. Knight, dean of the Hartford School of Religious Pedagogy, and Mrs. Knight, and Thomas L. Belcher of Passaic, N. J., were married Saturday noon at the home of the bride's parents, No. 71 Tremont street. The house was decorated with palms, pink roses and laurel. The ceremony was performed by Dr. Knight, father of the bride. The bride wore a dress of lace over taffeta and a veil of tulle with a crown of orange blossoms, and carried a shower bouquet of sweet peas and bridal roses. She was attended by her sister, Miss Marian E. Knight, as maid of honor, who wore a pink silk dress and picture hat to match and carried a bouquet of pink sweet peas. The best man was Herbert Belcher of Brookline, Mass., a brother of the bridegroom. Mrs. Robert Hazens of Thomaston, a cousin of the bride, played Mendelssohn's wedding march and other selections previous to the ceremony. An informal reception followed and a luncheon was served, during which several songs were sung by Mrs. Harold Moulton of West Hartford, accompanied by Miss Marian Knight on the violin. After a short wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Belcher will live in Passaic, N. J., where Mr. Belcher is employed as a chemist by the United States Rubber Company.

Dean Edward H. Knight of the Hartford School of Religious Pedagogy and Mrs. Knight received a telegram Saturday from Passaic, N. J., announcing the birth of a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Belcher. Mrs. Belcher was formerly Miss Avis Knight.

DECEMBER 15, 1919.

GOLDE IN V

Mr. and Mrs. Smith on Br

A pleasant affair was given by Mrs. Smith at her home in Wethersfield yesterday afternoon. The occasion was the wedding of her daughter, Miss Avis Knight, to Thomas Lewis Belcher of Passaic, N. J. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Edward H. Knight and Mrs. Knight of No. 71 Tremont street.

her home in Alfred Gates. They came to Wethersfield to live and have lived here all their married lives. Two daughters were born to them, Mrs. Henry Douglas Warner and Mrs. Katherine E. Morgan. The latter is at home. The child, Miss Avis Knight, was born of Bristol. Her marriage, with Morgan, daughter of Morgan of Waterford Rowena Cadstead and Mrs. of Hartford and Strong brother.

Mr. Smith of field, June 20 and Lucy Frank H. R. is a sister of G. Smith of Edgar R. Smith retired from years ago. Governor's served in the years.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith yesterday many cut glass, gold and also a set of the tables, were displayed linen damask Smith had years ago, a

JOHN W. FLIGHT.

The husband of the family was not at home when the agents vis-

Daughter of Mrs. Helen E. Goodrich of Glastonbury and Rockville Man Married.

Special to The Times.

Glastonbury, May 31.

Miss Bertha Helen Goodrich, daughter of Mrs. Helen E. Goodrich, and the late P. Henry Goodrich, and Ralph Carl Kingsbury of Rockville were married at the home of the bride on Main street this afternoon at 3 o'clock. The Rev. Francis A. Fate officiated, assisted by the Rev. Frederick W. Raymond, pastor of the First Congregational church. The ceremony took place in the living room. Apple blossoms were the decorations.

PORTER SCHOOL HAS COMMENCEMENT

Professor Henry Van Dyke Makes Principal Address.

(Special to The Courant.)

Farmington, June 1.

Commencement exercises for the Porter School began here today with an address this evening by Professor Henry Van Dyke. A play will be given on the school lawn tomorrow afternoon and the ivy will be planted. If it is stormy the exercises will be in the town hall. A baccalaureate sermon will be preached in the Congregational Church Sunday morning. There are many out-of-town people here from many cities far and near attending the exercises. Among those stopping at the Elm Tree Inn were Van Dyke, R. L. Patterson, N. J., W. B. Goodwin of Pa., the Misses Stewart of Md., the Misses White of N. Del., Mr. and Mrs. G. of Boston, Mrs. R. G. Colw York and Mr. and Mrs. ds of Boston.

Celebrate Golden Wedding.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN W. EDGERTON.

Special to The Times.

Rockville, May 31.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Edgerton celebrated their golden wedding at their home in Vernon Center, on Memorial day, receiving from 3 to 6 o'clock, and from 7 to 10 o'clock. The affair was a delightfully informal one, and was attended by a large number of neighbors and friends from surrounding towns. The house was handsomely decorated with apple blossoms and American flags.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgerton received their guests in the front parlor, and were assisted by their two daughters, Mrs. Milton Fish of Manchester, Mrs. Arthur Baker of Vernon Center, Mrs. Anna Pomeroy of Willington and Mrs. Leverett Merrick of Bristol. Luncheon was served in the dining room, a number of the young ladies of Vernon Center catering. The table decorations were apple blossoms and cut flowers.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgerton were married in Willington, Conn., May 30, 1867, by the Rev. Mr. Howe, then pastor of the Congregational church of that place. They lived in Willington for eight years, when they bought a farm in Tolland, where they remained for thirty-seven years, removing to Vernon Center five years ago. For many years Mr. Edgerton was a farmer, but he has also done considerable road work in the past twenty-five years, and at present is patrolman on the state road, looking after the construction work, etc. For the past thirty years, he has been taking tickets at both the Rockville and Stafford fairs, having charge of the big gate. Mr. and Mrs. Edgerton have two daughters, Mrs. Milton Fish, who resides in Manchester, and Mrs. Arthur Baker, who resides in Vernon Center.

Mr. Edgerton was born in Tolland, September 1, 1846, the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Edgerton. Mrs. Edgerton was also born in Tolland, September 5, 1842, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Edgerton.

Many beautiful gifts were received by the venerable couple, consisting mostly of gold.

Guests were present from Hartford, Tolland, Willington, Coventry, Stafford, Westford, Bristol, Andover, and Rockville.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Edgerton are enjoying excellent health.

Last Saturday's festivities at Porter's school in Farmington, Miss Helen Pratt of Farmington, and Professor Henry Van Dyke of Princeton University, presided at the commencement exercises. Miss Lucy Talcott of Farmington and Miss Frederica of Lawrence, L. I., presided at the exercises. The exercises were witnessed by a gathering of parents, "old girls," including a number of Hartford people. Miss of Bridgeport and Miss Armstrong of St. Paul presided over the girls, with many friends, who are back for the day. Miss Mary Sturges of

FRANK J. BAILEY

Frank J. Bailey of this city, the first Hartford dentist to receive a commission in the United States Army, is shown in the photograph. He is a member of the Officers' Reserve Corps and has been a member of the National Dental Association since its organization. He was at the border last summer with the 101st Cavalry. His commission is that of a first lieutenant.

HOME
Troop B D
While a Gas Att expects France Activities
JULY 3
Lieutenant B
248 Laurel street
ed with Troop
to this country
grassed, and visit
on a twenty-fo
ence. He ar Saturday and re day afternoon to New York, th
by auto Lieutenant B
assigned to the Railway corps ta
his regular work being called upon owing to a shortage plans. He was itted for this work
medical profession
the field of dentistry
Two Gas
Lieutenant B
twice. The first tim 21, at the opening man offensive. T
pus, and he reco
only to be passed
May. He was plac law field hospital in there saw Irving B Jenkins, of Willing Lieutenant Bailey
July 4, 1911, and York on July 11, re port by commission later. During the one has been near the
is practically all the
Has Office
He was formerly a city and will remain
expects to take up again, but as he war is over. Who tr to the Mexican border return and later
seemingly well cre
ect of him on his
is enough that for to American hospital
his. He does stantly during the manant. He expects most two.
The degree own, and open in to 1 p a called

John V. Farwell of Chicago shares with Otto T. Bannard the honorable distinction of being the only candidate for the vacancy on the Yale preliminary ballot...

H. F. FISHER TO JOIN GEORGE B. FISHER CO. Separated 1919 Has Been Seventeen Years with Connecticut Mutual Life. Herbert F. Fisher, assistant manager

F. G. BAILEY ME FROM FRONT.

Doctor Visits Here while Recovering From Attack.

Troop B Doctor Visits Here while Recovering From Attack. Troop B Doctor Visits Here while Recovering From Attack.

October 30, 1918.

Ensign Frank G. Bailey, of No. 140 Commercial street, formerly connected with Troop B. has been sent back to his home country as a result of being wounded in the line of duty and visited his home, to-day, on a twenty-four-hour leave of absence from the front line.

Ensign Bailey has been assigned to the Fourteenth British Infantry corps taking up not only regular work as dentist, but also called upon for medical work, to a shortage in regular physicians. He was particularly well qualified for this work by study for his profession before he chose dentistry.

Two Gas Attacks.

Ensign Bailey was gassed twice. The first time was on March 15, at the opening of the first German offensive. This was not serious and he recovered completely. He was gassed a second time in the White House hospital in Paris, and while recovering at the home of Archie Roosevelt and Dr. J. H. Willimantic.

Has Office Here.

Ensign Bailey left Hartford in 1917, and sailed from New York on July 27, returning to that city on a coincidence, just a year ago. During his service abroad, he has been near the front trench-line practically all the time.

Ensign Bailey has been awarded a higher degree in dentistry by the American Dental Association, and will be open in the State of Connecticut.

Fisher Joins Fisher in Fire Insurance.

Active In Housewives' League

MRS. HERGERTH F. FISHER.

Mrs. Herbert F. Fisher is president of the Hartford Housewives' League, under whose auspices the new bureau of household occupations has been opened at No. 17 Lewis street.

HERBERT F. FISHER, Secretary. In this city, November 4, 1917, a son, John Hermon Fisher, to Mr. and Mrs. Herbert F. Fisher of No. 52 Kenyon street. In this city, January 25, 1918, a son, to Mr. and Mrs. Herbert F. Fisher of North Beacon street. A daughter was born at the Niles Street Hospital yesterday morning to Mr. and Mrs. Herbert F. Fisher of No. 151 North Beacon street. OCTOBER 11, 1920.

Handwritten note: Mrs. Boy & Fisher 1910

This Is Their Birthday Anniversary

MAJOR HENRY P. HITCHCOCK.

MAJOR EDWARD V. PRESTON.

CAPTAIN FRANCIS B. ALLEN.

June 1, 1916
Major Henry P. Hitchcock is 79 years old to-day, but he carries his years so lightly that few realize that he is so near fourscore.

It was on June 1, 1837, that the major was born in a house at the corner of High and Walnut street. It was after his early boyhood in Hitchkissville, now Riverton, and in Farmington, that he began his career of more than sixty years of active business life in the heart of Hartford. It was first as a clerk in the store of N. J. Brockett at No. 6 State street, the pioneer dealer in men's furnishings, that the major had his start. Then he was a clerk in the clothing store of Kelsey & Carpenter at the corner of Main and Pearl streets (the Alderman Drug store location) a year, and then became a partner in the firm. There he was located some twenty years.

In 1884 the major returned to No. 6 State street, and ever since has had his tailoring establishment there. The major and his store have become landmarks at Exchange corner. Always alert and cognizant of what transpires, the major is a mine of information of what has occurred in Hartford in the past sixty years. been its secretary more than thirty years.

The major received many personal congratulations to-day. He received many remembrances of flowers and letters.

Major Preston 79, Also.

The fires of patriotism which burned in his youthful breast in the days of 1861-1865 and prompted him to four years of loyal service for his country are still aglow in the life of Major Edward V. Preston. and to-day, the seventy-ninth anniversary of his birth, he was active and eager in his preparations for the preparedness parade on Saturday in which he will be marshal of the Travelers unit. All day he has been busy in consultation with his aids, John McGinley, John E. Ahern and Miss Helen L. McManus, in the plans for the parade.

Major Preston has been nearly fifty-one years with the Travelers, of which he is the oldest employee and officer.

On his desk to-day were two large bouquets of old-fashioned stocks, the gift of Vice-President John L. Way, whom the major said never forgot his anniversary. During the day the telephone was constantly ringing, and many congratulations were extended to the major.

He was born in Willington Hollow, town of Willington, June 1, 1837. He came to Hartford when 13 years old and has since lived here.

Major Hitchcock was born in a house at the corner of High and Walnut streets, June 1, 1837. In his youthful days he was a clerk in the same building to which he returned in 1884 and engaged in merchant tailoring. There he has been ever since, on State street, near Exchange corner. Gifted with a wonderful memory, the major readily recalls the many business changes which have taken place in Hartford during his long business career. Major Hitchcock was a member of the Hartford City Guard and later served as commandant of the veteran battalion. He was secretary of the battalion more than thirty years. Major Hitchcock also received let-

June 1, 1837, and came to Hartford in 1850.

Captain Allen's Natal Day, Too.

Captain Francis B. Allen, vice-president of the Hartford Steam Boiler Inspection company, was happily reminded of the important fact that he had to-day reached his seventy-fifth birthday when, on entering his office this morning, he saw two vases filled with carnations on his desk, the number of blossoms corresponding with the number of years he has lived. The following letter, which was placed near the vases, explained the source of the floral gift and the occasion of it:

Mr. Francis B. Allen:
The officers and other employees of this office extend to you their most hearty congratulations on this your 75th birthday and trust that you may be spared many years, and happier ones than any which have gone before.

Yours most respectfully,
THE HOME OFFICE.

June 1, 1916.

During the day the officers of the company and clerks called on their venerable associate to pay their personal respects to him.

Captain Allen is a native of Baltimore, June 1, 1841. He served in the navy during the Civil war, as a lieutenant. Shortly after to-day. This afternoon Major Hitchcock will be the guest of Major Preston at dinner. Last year Major Hitchcock was host to Major Preston.

Captain Allen, vice-president of the Hartford Steam Boiler Inspection & Insurance company, was 76 years old to-day. He has a cold, and, by advice of his physician, remained at home. It was the first birthday in many years that he failed to be at his office, and his associates regretted his absence. Captain Allen was born in Baltimore, June 1, 1841. He served in the navy in the Civil war, and is one of the leading members and officers of the Navy League of the United States.

In 1872 he entered the New York office of the Hartford Steam Boiler Inspection and Insurance company, and ten years later was transferred to the Hartford office.

June 1, 1917
Among the thousands of June 1 birthdays were those of three well known Hartford men, Major Edward V. Preston, Major Henry P. Hitchcock and Captain Francis B. Allen.

Major Preston and Major Hitchcock, attained four score years, to-day. Both were at their places of business, but were frequently interrupted by a host of friends who extended congratulations. On Major Preston's desk at the Travelers were several bouquets of roses from associates. Aside from a slight weakness following an attack of the grip a few weeks ago, the major said he was as well as ever. Major Preston is the oldest officer of the Travelers. He entered its employ June 9, 1865, following his service of four years in the army. He has been gen-

Vice-President of Hartford Steam Boiler Remem- bered.

June 1 — 1916
 Captain Francis B. Allen, vice-president of the Hartford Steam Boiler Inspection & Insurance Company, was 75 years old yesterday. He was greatly surprised on entering his office yesterday morning to find seventy-five carnations in two large baskets on his desk, one basket containing white and the other pink carnations. He thanked the officers and employees of the company who had remembered his birthday, saying that he was proud to be identified with a company which has made such advances as has the Hartford Steam Boiler Inspection & Insurance Company and that he holds his fellow officers and employees in high esteem.

Captain Allen said yesterday afternoon that he was especially surprised at finding the flowers on his desk because he said nothing about it. When Captain Allen was 70 years old, in 1911, a silver loving cup was given to him by his associates and employees. He has been connected with the company for about forty-four years, having entered the employ of the New York office in 1872, several years after he resigned as an officer from the American navy. He was connected with the New York office as a special agent of the company. He traveled extensively as the company's representative.

Captain Allen was commissioned an ensign in the Philadelphia navy yard on March 1, 1862, and before the end of the war rose to the rank of master of the engineer corps. Captain Allen took part in the battle of Mobile Bay and his ship, the Fort Royal, closely followed the Hartford, Admiral Farragut's flagship, which led the way past Fort Morgan. After the battle of Mobile Bay, Captain Allen was promoted to the rank of junior lieutenant. Captain Allen spent a year on the ironclad ram Dictator which was the largest boat of the Monitor type built during the war. He is probably the only man who has had the distinction of having held at the same time the ranks of rear admiral of the navy and major general of the army.

Captain Allen's ancestors took part in the Revolutionary War and the War of 1812. He is past junior vice commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic and past commander-in-chief of the National Association of Naval Veterans. He is vice-president for life of the Connecticut Secretaries Association, composed of secretaries of the regimental associations of Civil War veterans. Captain Allen is chair-

MAJOR PRESTON 52 YEARS WITH TRAVELERS

June 15 — 1917
 Major E. V. Preston, general manager of agencies of the Travelers Insurance Company, who was 80 years old June 1, had another anniversary Saturday when he completed fifty-two years with the Travelers.

WAR VETERANS HAVE BIRTHDAY

Major Hitchcock Gives City Guard Records to State Library.

June 1 — 1917
 The birthdays of three men well known in this city were fittingly observed yesterday, those of Major Edward V. Preston, Major Henry P. Hitchcock and Captain Francis B. Allen. Both Major Preston and Major Hitchcock attained their eightieth birthday anniversary yesterday, while Captain Allen was 76 years old. The two majors were at their places of business yesterday and were frequently interrupted by visits from a large number of their friends. On Major Preston's desk at the Travelers office, were several bouquets of roses from associates. Major Preston is the oldest officer in the Travelers Insurance Company, having entered its employ June 9, 1865, following his service of four years in the Civil War. He has been general manager of agencies for many years.

Major Hitchcock also received letters of congratulations and flowers, and at noon yesterday was the guest of Major Preston at dinner, having been host last year. Yesterday afternoon he enjoyed an automobile ride. Captain Allen, vice-president of the Hartford Steam Boiler Inspection & Insurance Company, who is under the care of a physician because of a cold, remained at his home yesterday. It was the first time in many years that he failed to be at his office on his birthday and his associates regretted his absence.

Major Hitchcock was a member of the Hartford City Guard and later served as commandant of the veteran battalion. He was secretary of the battalion for more than thirty years. Recently Major Hitchcock presented the records relating to the Hartford City Guard to the state library for permanent deposit. The records were contained in a beautiful oak chest. George S. Godard, state librarian, has acknowledged the gift in the following letter:—

CONNECTICUT STATE LIBRARY
 Hartford, May 31, 1917.

Major H. P. Hitchcock, 59 Garden Street, Hartford, Conn.

My dear Major Hitchcock:

The receipt of the records and memorabilia relating to the Hartford City Guard, all contained in a beautiful oaken chest, which you brought to the State Library this morning for permanent deposit, is hereby acknowledged with thanks. It will be my pleasure to make these several items as conveniently accessible as possible bearing in mind at all times their safety.

It is a pleasure to have records of this character placed here in our State Library where provision has been made for the receipt and care of just such records pertaining to the life and activity of the various organizations of Connecticut as it has been, as it is now and as it is to be. It is especially pleasing to receive these records of the Hartford City Guard for in no instance thus far have I received records which have had the apparent care and attention of and Mrs. Fred Jones of East Hampdays with Mrs. Clark's parents, Mr. dren of this city are spending a few

 Mr. and Mrs. Percy Clark and chil-

Major Hitchcock,
 Dies Nov. 18, 1917,
 His Will,
 His Estate $672,578
 Major Preston,
 Gives Autographs
 to State Library.

MAJOR PRESTON'S PARTY.

It Was On His Birthday Night and a Surprise — Testimonial From Church Committee.

Major Edward V. Preston, senior deacon of the Asylum Avenue Baptist church, was reminded of his eightieth birthday in a delightful manner by members of the church Friday evening.

The major had received many congratulations during the day and did not anticipate the call of a general committee representing the church, to extend good wishes and congratulations and to give the major a handsome testimonial on behalf of the parish.

The testimonial was a booklet with covers of imported leather and eight pages of heavy paper. On the front of the cover was "E. V. P." and underneath, "1837-1917," all embossed in gold. Engrossed on the first inner page was "Asylum Avenue Baptist Church, Deacon Edward V.
 Preston, 1837-1917. We wish you as many returns of the day as you can enjoy." "Sail on, Sail on."

On the third page the signatures of the general committee of the church were written. They were the following: John Gemmill, Charles F. Gordon, Alfred Spencer, jr., Charles Edward Prior, Willis B.
 Case, J. Allen Wiley, Howard H.
 Burdick, Lewis M. Robotham, Herbert Spencer, Frederick W. Blauvelt, Harvey W. Corbin, Kirby C. Pratt, Alexander Cameron.

In addition the major was given three dozen Sawyer roses in a basket.

Alfred Spencer, jr., as spokesman for the committee, made the presentation remarks. Major Preston responded with words of deep appreciation. A social hour followed.
 Refreshments were served by Mis Preston.

All of the members of the general committee were present, except Allen Wiley, who is in Philadelph and Kirby C. Pratt, who is in south attending a wedding. 3.
 Wiley sent a telegram.

Miss Mitchell applied yesterday in the office of the clerk of the United States district court for the passport.
 She will probably be accompanied to Paris, by Mlle. Louise Delpit, professor of French at Smith College.
 Miss Mitchell is a graduate of the Hartford High School and of Smith College. Mlle. Delpit was her in-

Home 2, 1917
 Miss Blanche Mitchell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emlyn V. Mitchell of
 No. 888 Asylum avenue, left for New York to-day and will sail Saturday for Bordeaux, from which place, in company with Mlle. Louise Delpit, professor of French at Smith college, she will go to hospital, No. 16, Dordogne, in which the family of the latter is interested. Miss Mitchell will then go to Paris, where she will be nurse in auxiliary hospital No. 232, at
 No. 49 Rue la Boetie. Both institutions are French. Miss Mitchell was registrar at the Hartford dispensary until May 1. She was accompanied to New York by Mrs.
 Mitchell.

HARTFORD GIRL, SAFE IN BORDEAUX, WATCHED OUT FOR PERISCOPE

Miss Blanche Mitchell MISS MITCHELL BACK FROM FRANCE

Hartford Girl Tells of Service in War Hospital in Paris.

After spending the summer working as an auxiliary nurse with the French Red Cross in hospital No. 232, Rue le Boetie, Paris, Miss Blanche Mitchell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Mitchell of No. 388 e Asylum avenue, returned to her home in this city Wednesday, having arrived in New York that morning. She is the first feminine war worker to return to Hartford.

Miss Mitchell lived and worked among French people throughout her term of service and learned the living conditions and the feeling of the people of France as no ordinary American visitor or war worker could. The hospital, where she served, cared only for French soldiers and contained 100 beds, and Miss Mitchell expresses the most profound admiration for the spirit and courage of the men and women in that country who have done their part to help win the war in the trenches or at home.

"The soldiers in the hospital were wonderful," said Miss Mitchell today. "They were patient, brave, uncomplaining and resigned, although we had all sorts of cases, and among them were some who had been in the hospital for several years."

Miss Blanche Mitchell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Mitchell of No. 388 e Asylum avenue is doing translations for the war industry department in Washington. French and Italian are the languages in which she specializes. Miss Mitchell spent six months of last year in France where she served as an auxiliary nurse of the French Red Cross.

Miss Mitchell said she was surprised to find that the men treated were not only presentable but improved. One man who came to our hospital had fourteen operations because part of his face had been shot away. One operation would repair his nose, another a cheek, another an ear and so on. The parts were replaced by grafting flesh from other portions of his body and the result was splendid. In the end some of those men look better than they did before being wounded.

Many amputations were also performed in the hospital, but the courage of even the sorely-crippled men was unflinching. The hospital fare, Miss Mitchell said, was very plain, and jams, jellies and such articles, which are being collected in this country for the French wounded, would be appreciated. In Paris there is much enthusiasm for America, and the people are courageous, but the general atmosphere is depressing.

Women in Everything.

"There are many mutilated and wounded soldiers on the streets," said Miss Mitchell, "and much black, because the French women who don mourning do so very completely. The people feel certain that they are going to win the war, but they are not expecting the end immediately, although they are placing their hope in the American aid to victory. They are just plugging ahead and doing their best. Women run trams, handle trucks at the railroad stations, and do all kinds of heavy work as a matter of course."

Horseflesh Tastes Good.

Living is high in Paris, and many necessities scarce.

"There are two days every week in Paris, Monday and Tuesday," said Miss Mitchell, "when the only meat that can be purchased is horse flesh. It costs sixty cents a pound but it is very good and tastes exactly like beef. Then on Tuesdays and Wednesdays the bakeries are closed and nobody can buy cakes, candy or chocolate. There is evident need of flour in Paris. One cannot get any crackers, the cakes are not good and the bread very poor. There Visited by Zepps.

"We were visited by Zeppelins two or three times," she said. "But they did no particular damage, only dropping a few bombs."

When asked how the German raids impressed her, Miss Mitchell said she had rather anticipated some excitement, and was disappointed. Because of her constant association with the French, the Hartford young woman met few Americans, but she did come in contact with the Smith college unit, which went abroad to do relief work and of which Miss Lucy Mather of this city was a member. Miss Mitchell was graduated from Smith in 1914, and found a classmate among the members of the relief mission, which, she said, was delayed in Paris for several weeks before going to Greccourt to begin its work.

Miss Mitchell, who went to France June 1, found some difficulty in returning. Although boats are supposed to sail for New York from Bordeaux every week, she said, there was none between September 1 and September 29. The steamer on which she returned was supposed to leave that port on September 15, but Miss Mitchell was delayed a week in Paris, being notified that the sailing had been postponed, and then, on arrival at Bordeaux, had to live on board the boat for another week, while heavier guns were installed as precaution against submarines.

Steamer Crowded.

On the voyage across, Miss Mitchell said, the steamer was crowded, the passengers including 200 French sailors who were said to be destined for coast patrol work on this side and a mission of French military officers, including specialists in engineering and aviation, who were to act as instructors in this country. Returning Red Cross workers and some drivers of the American ambulance service were also on board. The voyage was uneventful, Miss Mitchell said, and the passengers obtained entertainment from watching the daily anti-submarine practice by the gunners.

Miss Mitchell has made no plans, she said, for immediately resuming her work or returning to France, but enjoyed her summer in a Paris hospital.

OCTOBER 26, 1918.

June Ramsdell-Goodale. 2
Miss Maida Blanche Goodale, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward W. Goodale, of Rus street, and Thomas Young Ramsdell, son of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Ramsdell of New Britain avenue, were married last evening at 7:30 o'clock at the Church of the Redeemer by the pastor, Rev. Dr. John Coleman Adams. The wedding marches and program of music preceding the ceremony were played by Arthur Priest, organist at Christ Church. The church was decorated with palms, ferns and white lilacs, which were clustered around the pulpit. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attended by Mrs. Henry W. Tracy, as matron of honor, and by her cousins, Miss Florence Ure of this city and Miss Marjorie Killam of South Glastonbury, as bridesmaids, and her sister, Miss Althea Goodale, as flower girl. The bridegroom's brother, George Ramsdell of Manchester, was the best man and the ushers were Leonard E. Goodale, brother of the bride, and Walter U. Soby. The bride wore a dress of valentine white bridal satin, trimmed with pearls and chantilly lace, and a tulle veil, fastened to a bandeau of pearls. She carried a shower bouquet of lilies-of-the-valley and bridal roses. The matron of honor was dressed in Shadowlawn green Georgette crepe over white satin, trimmed with silver lace, and she wore a hat of flesh-colored Georgette crepe, trimmed with silver flowers. Her bouquet was of pink roses. Miss Ure wore a dress of turquoise blue taffeta and tulle, trimmed with silver and pearls, and Miss Killam's dress, which was of apricot yellow, was made in a similar style. They carried pink roses and white lilacs, tied with large bows of gauze ribbon. The flower girl wore a white lace frock, over pink silk and carried a basket of smilax and sweetpeas, filled with rose petals. The bride's gifts to her bridesmaids were gold friendship pins, to the matron of honor a pearl brooch and to the flower girl a forget-me-not pin. The bridegroom's gift to the best man was gold cuff links and to the ushers, he gave stickpins. Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, about seventy-five guests being present. Apple blossoms were used in decoration. Mr. and Mrs. Ramsdell left for a wedding trip to New York, Atlantic City and Washington, D. C., and after September 1, they will be at home, at No. 186 Adelaide street. The bride is a well known fancy dancer.

Feb 13 1920
X daughter, Wilma Jane, was born last night at the Nile street private hospital, to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Y. Ramsdell. Mrs. Ramsdell was for-

June Fraser-Crane. 2
Miss Ellnor V. Crane and Harry N. Fraser will be united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents, No. 19 Brown street, at 5:30 this afternoon by the Rev. Robbins W. Barstow acting pastor of the South Congregational church. Miss Crane is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Crane and Mr. Fraser is the son of Mrs. Robert Fraser of Montreal. They will be at home at Montreal, on street, after July 1.

June Patterson-Tinker. 2
Miss Catherine Matson Tinker, for several years a member of the faculty of the Hartford Public High School, and George L. Patterson of New York, were married yesterday noon at the home of the bride on Whiting lane, West Hartford. The ceremony was performed by Rt. Rev. Chauncey E. Brewster in the presence of about forty friends and relatives. The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Professor Chauncey Brewster Tinker of Yale University, was unattended. The bride wore a dress of white lace and carried a shower bouquet of orchids and white sweet peas. The house decorations consisted of apple blossoms and pink and white carnations. Following the ceremony, a wedding breakfast was served, after which Mr. and Mrs. Patterson left for a short wedding trip. They will be at home after November 1 at the Hotel Robert Fulton, New York. Bishop Brewster was a classmate of the bride's father at Yale University. The bride is a graduate of Emerson College and took a post graduate course at Radcliffe College.

June Haug-Pearson. 2
In the presence of a small gathering of relatives and immediate friends, the marriage of Miss May E. Pearson, daughters of Mrs. N. C. Pearson of this city, formerly of Baltimore, and John S. Haug of Philadelphia, took place at noon to-day at Trinity church, the Rev. Dr. Ernest DeF. Miel, rector of the church, officiating. The bride, who was unattended, wore a gown of white satin and Georgette crepe and carried a shower bouquet of white roses. Arthur Rowland of Montreal was best man. The ceremony was followed by a wedding breakfast at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Harry C. Brook, on Tremont street, where decorations of apple blossoms, white violets and pink roses were used.

After a wedding trip to the Berkshires, Mr. and Mrs. Haug will live in Philadelphia.

June Knox-Blake. 2
Miss Jessie Blake of No. 122 Barker street, daughter of George A. Blake, of Storrs and Howard T. Knox, son of Mrs. Frank H. Knox of New York.

June Whipple-Colvin. 2
Miss Adeia Hees Colvin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Addison Beecher Colvin of No. 271 Glen street, Glens Falls, N. Y., and Frank Augustus Whipple of Hampton, Va., son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Whipple of Laurel street, were married yesterday noon by Dr. H. B. Frissell, principal of Hampton Institute, at the home of the bride's parents, in the presence of the immediate relatives, only. The bride was attended by Miss Marion E. Whipple, sister of the bridegroom, who is a student at Wellesley College, and Merle W. Whipple, brother of the bridegroom and a student at Yale University, was the best man. The bride wore a dress of white satin with Valenciennes lace drapery, trimmed with pearls, and her mother's wedding veil. She carried a shower bouquet of lilies-of-the-valley. The maid of honor was dressed in pink chiffon, with a tunic of embroidered white net, and a picture hat, with a wreath of roses. Mr. and Mrs. Whipple left for a motor trip and after October 1, will be at home at Hampton Institute, Hampton, Va.

June Walker-Speirs. 2
 Miss Janet D. Speirs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Speirs of Black Hall, and William H. Walker of New Haven were married Saturday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents by Rev. Kenneth B. Welles, pastor of the Old Lyme Congregational Church, who used the Presbyterian service. The ceremony was performed beneath an arch of apple blossoms and laurel, and the room was decorated with sweetpeas, apple blossoms and ferns. Miss Jessie A. Whittelsey of this city was the maid of honor and John Speirs, brother of the bride, was the best man. Robert Speirs and Alex Fraser were the ushers. Miss May Petts of New Britain played "The Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin" by Wagner as the bridal party entered the room. The bride wore a dress of white satin and tulle, her tulle veil being fastened with a wreath of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of white Killarney roses and lilies of the valley. Her attendant was dressed in pink satin and tulle and carried an arm bouquet of pink roses. The bride's gift to the maid of honor was a gold brooch, with a ruby setting, and to the best man, the bridegroom gave a watch fob. The bride received a bracelet watch from the bridegroom. Following the ceremony, an informal reception was held at which guests were present from Hartford, Bristol, New Britain, Southington, Chester and Ivoryton. Mr. and Mrs. Walker left for a wedding trip to Atlantic City, and after their return will live at No. 76 Beacon street, New Haven. The bride was until recently a stenographer in the street commissioner's office in this city.

June Barrett-Dean. 2
 Miss Florence Dean, daughter of Edwin Dean of Enfield, and James R. Barrett, son of Mrs. Ellen M. Barrett of Windsor Locks, were married yesterday morning at 11 o'clock by Rev. J. A. Creedon at St. Mary's rectory, Windsor Locks. The bride was attended by Miss Dorothy Dean as bridesmaid and the best man was Henry L. Barrett, cousin of the bridegroom. Following the ceremony, a wedding luncheon was served at the Allyn House. Mr. and Mrs. Barrett left for a wedding trip to New York.

JAMES R. BARRETT GETS COMMISSION

(Special to The Courant.) 1918
Thompsonville, June 11.

James R. Barrett has been commissioned a lieutenant after completing a course of training in the officers' training school at Camp Devens, Ayer, Mass. At present he is located at Camp Gordon, Atlanta, Ga. Lieutenant Barrett was born in Windsor Locks and was educated in the schools of that place and at the technical high school in Springfield, Mass., later attending New York University. He was employed by the Travelers Insurance Company at their home office in Hartford and later at branch offices in Bridgeport, Newark, N. J., and Cleveland, O. He was married on June 2, 1917 to Miss Florence Dean of Enfield, a former resident of Hartford. A daughter was born to them on April 29, 1918. Lieutenant Barrett is a son of Mrs. Ellen Barrett of Windsor Locks.

John Watson-Goodfellow. 2
 Miss Edith Ross Watson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Watson of No. 59 South Whitney street, was married to William Henderson Goodfellow of New Haven, at the Presbyterian parsonage, Saturday evening at 8 o'clock, by the Rev. Dr. John F. Johnstone, pastor of the First Presbyterian church. Only the immediate families of the bride and groom were present. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Goodfellow left on a wedding trip to New York city and Washington, D. C. Upon their return they will reside at No. 729 Tyler street, East Haven. Before her marriage Mrs. Goodfellow was one of the workers at the Charity Organization society. Mr. Goodfellow is a foreman in the employ of the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. company.

June Jones-Elwin. 2
 Miss Dorothy Maude Elwin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Elwin, of Newington, and Wilfred Fuller Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Jones, of Ludlow, Mass., were married at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the Church of the Good Shepherd, in the presence of a number of guests, the Rev. George T. Linsley, rector of the church, officiating. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Jones left for a long motor trip, after which they will live in Ludlow. Mr. Jones was graduated from the Worcester Polytechnic Institute in 1909.

John Deasy-Jones. 2
 The marriage of Miss Jessie Rue

(Special to The Courant.)
 ROCKY HILL, Monday, June 2
 Saturday evening at 8 o'clock, at the home of Deacon and Mrs. Horace R. Merriam, of Washington street, their youngest daughter, Caroline Walkley Merriam, was married to Willet Benjamin Sherwood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Sherwood, of Prospect Park, Ridgewood, N. J. Only the members of the immediate families were present. The ceremony was performed in the living room of the old colonial home, where the bride's father, who was 74 years old, Saturday, was born and has always lived, by Rev. Morris E. Alling, pastor of the Congregational Church. The Episcopal ceremony, with ring, was used. The bride wore white Georgette crepe, trimmed with lace and wore a veil and carried a bouquet of white roses. She was attended by Miss Marian Crane Maercklein of Hartford, whose gown was orchid crepe. She carried pink roses. The best man was David Woodcock of Passaic, N. J., a classmate of the bridegroom in Hamilton College. During the ceremony Miss Anne Robbins played the Lohengrin Wedding March and later sang "Your Heart Will Call Me Home," while Mrs. Morris E. Alling sang "Somewhere a Voice Is Calling" and "A Perfect Day." The house was decorated with ferns and dogwood. Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Sherwood and daughter, Margery, of Ridgewood, N. J., and Mr. and Mrs. Edmund A. Merriam and two children of New Rochelle, N. Y. The bride attended school in Rocky Hill and was graduated from the Hartford High and later from the State Normal School, after which she took the course for a teacher for the State of Connecticut.
 Perhaps, this poem on "Bra Angelico" see our meaning. But, best of all,

Justice of Mrs. Hiram in Dept. of office

APPLE BLOSSOMS ALL ABOUT

June 2, 1917
Longmeadow's First June Wedding Has Double Ceremony at Home of Mr and Mrs J. D. Allen

June's first wedding in Longmeadow made brides of two sisters, Miss Esther Phelps Allen and Miss Ruth Carolyn Allen, daughters of Mr and Mrs John D. Allen, yesterday afternoon. The bridegrooms were Leslie Rankin Frew of Thompsonville, Ct., and Clay Littleton, formerly of Springfield, Mo. With the exception of the dining room, where the decorations were yellow, a color scheme of pink, white and Esther Phelps Allen and Leslie Rankin Frew were married with the full Episcopal two ring service, and Ruth Carolyn Allen and Clay Littleton were married directly afterward by the Episcopal single ring service. Rev Ernest L. Jones officiated at both services, assisted by Rev Robert Johnson. The little flower girl served as ring bearer for her sisters. Miss Ruth Allen was the bridesmaid for her sister and Mrs Frew, soon after, was the matron of honor for the second bride.

After the ceremony the couples were assisted in receiving by their parents. Mr and Mrs John D. Allen and Mr and Mrs John H. Frew. Mr Littleton's parents were unable to be present. After congratulations Miss Edna Morrison, Miss Margaret Frew, Mrs Harry Frew, Miss Dorothy Phelps, Miss Nellie Allen and Miss Katherine Phelps, assisted in serving ice cream and refreshments. A little later Mr and Mrs Frew left for a motor trip, going south, their destination was unannounced.

They will be at home to their friends after September 1 at 37 Wilment street, Springfield. Mr and Mrs Littleton after a trip to New York and Philadelphia will be at home in South Barre.

Both parties were sufficiently showered with flower petals and confetti to be easily recognized as newlyweds.

Two rooms on the second floor of the brides' home were devoted to wedding gifts. Mr and Mrs Littleton received a large check from the Barre wood company, Mr and Mrs Frew, silver spoons from the choir in which Mr Frew sang and silver pieces from Mrs Frew's associates at the New Britain library. Other valuable and beautiful presents included an amount

THE distinction and refinement which characterizes our larger productions is found in even the modest marker, so often crude and commonplace. Our designer will call by appointment

5 Door

Over Boot

PUTNAM, 3 -

June
Rev. C. J. Harriman Called To Rhode Island—Two Weddings.

Rev. C. J. Harriman, rector of St. Phillip's Church, announced to his congregation, Sunday, that he had resigned to accept a call to become junior curate at St. Stephen's Church, Providence. Mr. Harriman has been in Putnam since May 1, 1912, and has identified himself with the civic life of the city and for two years has been secretary of the Putnam Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Harriman will take up his new duties August 1.

SIMPLE WEDDING PLANS

June 4
Miss Genevieve Clark to Marry John Rogers of Boston Monday

The marriage of Miss Genevieve Clark, only daughter of Mr and Mrs Henry M. Clark of Lafayette street, and John Rogers of Boston, is to take place Monday morning at 10 o'clock in the church of the Holy Family, at the corner of Eastern avenue and King street. Because of the fact that Miss Clark's brother, Richard Stanley Clark, will be unable to obtain leave from the Plattsburg camp and because six other members of the immediate families of Miss Clark and Mr Rogers have enlisted in various branches of the national service, all appointments for the wedding have been kept in simplest form. No formal invitations have been sent out and no reception will follow the ceremony, which is to be performed by Rev Lawrence Killian of Plymouth, a classmate of Mr Rogers at Harvard, where they graduated in 1911. Albert Hussey of Boston, Harvard, '10, is to act as best man, and the bride's only attendant will be her classmate, Miss Marguerite Jones of Waterbury, Ct., Smith, '13.

The entertaining in honor of Miss Clark has been of an informal nature and one of the prettiest parties given for her was the card party and tea at which Miss Mildred Faber entertained at the Oaks yesterday afternoon, the affair being likewise complimentary to the sister-in-law of the hostess, Mrs Conrad Faber, a recent bride. There were three tables of bridge in play during the afternoon

June 4
Miss Ruth Ethel Kelsey, daughter of Captain James E. Kelsey and Mrs. Kelsey of Westbrook, and Edwin Abel Newton of this city were married Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents by Rev. C. R. Watkins, pastor of the Westbrook Congregational Church. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was unattended and the ceremony was performed in the presence of relatives and a few friends. Following the ceremony, a wedding luncheon was served, after which Mr. and Mrs. Newton left for a wedding trip to New York and vicinity. They were accompanied by the bride's father, who returned to Coast Guard service at Tompkinsville, Staten Island, N. Y., having a forty-eight hour furlough. Mr. and Mrs. Newton will live in this city.

HERRMAN-GREEN—In this city, June 4, 1917, at the South Church, by Rev. Dr. Edwin Pond Parker, Marjorie Barton Green and Dr. William Gettier Herrman of Plainfield, N. J.

Miss Marjorie Barton Green, daughter of Major Alfred W. Green and Mrs. Green of Seymour street, and Dr. William Gettier Herrman of Plainfield, N. J., were married last evening at Congregat... emeritus, Parker. T... i, marriag... tended by Turner of honor and maids. Th... white Geo... satin, with... veil of tull... bouquet of roses. Th... dressed in... willow taff... the same s... carried wh... groom, wh... assistant su... serve Corps... his full re... brother, Ja... Plainfield... aviation sec... of the Unit... best man ar... The ushers... Broeck Tod... Rutgers, 19... Amos of N... 1912, membe... ternity, of v... also a men... decorated w... lilacs. Foll... reception wa...

Dr. William G. Herrman, first lieutenant, U. S. Medical Reserve Corps, and Mrs. Herrmann are visiting for the week-end the latter's parents, A. W. Green and Mrs. Green of Seymour street. Dr. Herrman has been appointed as assistant instructor in X-ray science at Cornell Medical School, New York City.

Dr. William G. Herman, first lieutenant Medical Reserve Corps, has arrived in France, according to cable advices received yesterday.

HERRMAN—In this city, July 1, a daughter, Jean Barton, to First Lieutenant William G. Herrman, U. S. N. R. Corps, and Mrs. Marjorie Barton (Green) Herrman.

June Creedon-Walker. Miss Grace M. Walker, daughter of Mrs. William A. Walker of Ambler, Penn., and Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Alexander W. Creedon of No. 105 Oak street were united in marriage Monday at the home of the bride at Ambler. Miss Helen A. Walker, sister of the bride, was her attendant and Roger B. Flaherty of Chicago, a classmate of the groom was best man. Miss Grace Smith and Miss Mary Elizabeth Smith, daughters of Judge and Mrs. Edward L. Smith of this city, acted as flower girls. Relatives and intimate friends were the only guests at Twin children, Margaret and William, were born last evening at Asbury Park, N. J., to Dr. W. G. Herrman and Mrs. Herrman of Asbury. Mrs. Herrman is the youngest daughter of Major A. W. Green and Mrs. Green of this city.

JULY 14, 1920.

WATCHING FOR FATHER—Sally Ann and Mrs. Creedon. Father is Judge Alex. W. Creedon of Oak st.

bridegroom.

JUDGE J. P. TUTTLE RESIGNS OFFICE

Says Salaries on Superior Court Bench Are In- adequate.

Judge Joseph P. Tuttle of Hartford has sent a letter to Governor Marcus H. Holcomb, resigning from the superior court bench. He bases his resignation on what he considers inadequate salaries paid to judges.

Judge Tuttle's Letter.

Judge Tuttle's letter follows:—

Hartford, Conn., May 14, 1917.

My dear Governor:—

You may perhaps recall the receipt of a letter from me last fall expressing a desire to confer with you about a matter of vital personal concern. The matter referred to was that of my further service upon the superior court bench, a subject which had already become one of serious thought on my part, and of discussion with my immediate friends.

Very soon after your re-election many of the leaders of the bar of the state began to call public attention to the very inadequate compensation being paid to the judges, and later the same opinion was freely expressed in the editorial columns of the public press. Finally a bill was introduced into the General Assembly, not with the object of making the compensation commensurate with that of private practitioners or with that of men in other lines of activity employing a similar amount of industry and experience, but simply with the object of making the purchasing power of the service approximately equal to that when the present salaries were fixed a dozen years ago. Unsolicited advices from the reputed leaders of the Legislature during the session have repeatedly come to me that the bill met with favor and that some substantial increase in salary could be relied upon. In consequence thereof, and at the urgent solicitation of my associates and of lawyers to whom I had communicated by purpose, my intended resignation was withheld.

I am now advised that after favorable action by the judiciary committee the bill was referred to the committee on appropriations, from whom it received not even the courtesy of unfavorable action.

For myself I do not care, but in behalf of the others I cannot but protest against this indignity cast upon them by a co-ordinate branch of the state government with reference to a bill which was introduced and advocated in their behalf without the inspiration or solicitation of a single one of them. They asked nothing themselves of the legislative branch other than the ordinary courtesies between public servants. This could have been extended even in an unfavorable report. The failure of the committee to report of course prevents further legislative action upon the matter. It also prompts an interesting, though perhaps fruitless, speculation as to a possible conflict between the expressed sympathy of the so-called leaders and the will of those actually in control.

For several years prior to my appointment to the bench my earnings exceeded the salary of a superior court judge. I had hoped, however, by the exercise of economy to bring the needs of myself and family within the limits of a reduced income, but the ever-increasing cost of living has made the effort increasingly difficult and finally impossible.

I have opportunities to return to practice with every assurance of a satisfactory income. I feel that my duty to my family and myself compels me to accept them, for I have not the independent fortune without which under the present policy of the state it seems to me no competent man can afford to serve.

I therefore tender to you herewith my resignation as a judge of the superior court, to take effect on August 31st, 1917, at which time I shall have been able to complete this year's work.

GOVERNOR ACCEPTS

Judge Tuttle's letter.

Judge Tuttle's letter to Governor Holcomb follows:—

Hartford, Conn., June 1, 1917.

My dear Governor Holcomb:—

I have delayed answering your letter of May 23, because I did not wish to intrude during your regrettable illness and because I desired to give to it that thoughtful and careful consideration which your request so fully merits.

I was mindful of the fact that the days preceding the final adjournment of the General Assembly were busy ones, but I felt impelled to interpose my resignation at that time that you might nominate my successor for appointment before that adjournment if you had any doubt as to your power to make an ad interim appointment. I think however, that an examination of the case of Eberle vs. Clark, 87 Conn., 539, will resolve any doubts you may have entertained upon this subject.

I regret exceedingly the unwarrantable discussion and vast amount of misinformation which my resignation seems to have provoked, but I trust you will do me the honor of believing that I am neither responsible for, nor that I give credence to, these absurd products of a too vivid imagination.

Better service would have been rendered if public discussion had been confined to the real reasons prompting my action, which seem to me to be plainly set forth in my letter of resignation. For instance, I tried to make it clear that it was not the failure of the salary bill but the cause and manner of its failure against which my resignation was offered as a protest.

Neither of the contradictory reasons offered by the House chairman of the committee on appropriations, as appearing in the newspapers, seem to me convincing. If, in fact, as he is reported to have said, "pressure in favor of the bill was almost overpowering" I am sure it was the pressure of an enlightened public sentiment, and I am glad to know that some of this so called pressure was exerted by you. A perfectly disinterested statement should not charge the judges with "receiving $7,500 a year," when it is known that for two-thirds of the year they have to live away from home, paying all railroad fares, hotel bills and every single item of necessary expense, out of the amount received. I think the judges would have been satisfied if their expense account had been taken over by the state, thus enabling them to receive $7,500 a year, net. That would have been the practical effect of the passage of the bill as reported by the judiciary committee.

I appreciate in the highest degree your complimentary reference to the acceptability of my work upon the bench. I can never be sufficiently grateful for the kindness and indulgence shown me during my service, and since I have indicated my intention to discontinue it. The work has been, as you suggest, very congenial to me and I lay it down with great reluctance. I feel, however, that it is my duty to do so and I must, therefore, ask you to accept my resignation to take effect on August 31st of the present year.

With kindest personal regards and congratulations upon your return to health, I am,

Very sincerely yours,

[Signed] Joseph P. Tuttle.

To Hon. Marcus H. Holcomb, Governor of Connecticut.

Governor's Acceptance.

Governor Holcomb, in his letter accepting Judge Tuttle's resignation, said that he knew he had the power to fill any vacancy in the office of a judge of the superior court, but that he would have preferred to have had the appointment confirmed by the General Assembly. His letter follows:—

June 4, 1917.

"My Dear Judge Tuttle:— I received your letter of June 1st when I reached the Capitol this morning. I know, of course, that I have power to fill any vacancy in the office of a judge of the superior court, but I should prefer to have made the appointment and had it confirmed by the General Assembly if there had been opportunity. The time, however, when I received your resignation and the large amount of legislation I was compelled to examine, made it impracticable, if not impossible, to do this—and, too, there was but a single legislation day left, which was then fixed for final adjournment.

"Your letter leaves me no alternative but to accept your resignation, to take effect on August 31, 1917, the date fixed by you.

"With regret that the state is to lose your services as judge, and with the hope that your future at the bar will be congenial and successful, am

"Sincerely yours, (Signed) Marcus H. Holcomb.
"Hon. Joseph P. Tuttle,
"Hartford, Conn."

Following out his idea of buying some of the best property in the business section of Hartford, Ferdinand Richter of the firm of Richter & Co., has just completed a deal, whereby property on Trumbull street between Allyn and Church streets has been transferred to him from Sarah B. and Susan M. Fisher. The two-story brick house on this property, which was occupied for many years by Rev. C. C. Fisher, well known in Hartford as an Episcopal clergyman, who married more couples than any two other ministers, is an old Hartford landmark. The property has a frontage of forty-five feet on Trumbull street, and a depth of 115 feet.

Sarah B. Fisher and Susan N. Fisher have sold to Ferdinand Richter land and buildings at No. 273 Trumbull street, the property having a frontage of 43.9 feet on the west side of the street. A con-

June 1917
June North-Platt. Miss Margaret Platt of this city, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Platt of Ivoryton, and John C. North of this city were married on Tuesday at the home of the bride's parents by Rev. Irving A. Burnap, formerly of this city, but now pastor of the Congregational Church of Ivoryton. The house was prettily decorated with laurel and apple blossoms. The bride was attended by Miss Bertha Greaves of this city and Julian M. Lawrence was the best man. Miss Eleanor Holt, niece of the bridegroom, was the flower girl and the ring bearer was Gilbert Shannon. Guests were present from Hartford, Collinsville, New London, Clinton, Westbrook and Saybrook. After a short wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. North will live in this city.

BAKER-KRUG—Marvin S. Baker and Rosa Krug by the Rev. J. H. Rosebaugh at Christ church, June 6, 1917.

S. D. CHAMBERLIN ADMITTED TO FIRM.

Aug 30 1919
Receives Interest in Dried Beef Business, Years in the Family.

Samuel D. Chamberlin, son of Frank D. Chamberlin, has been admitted to the firm of S. D. Chamberlin and Sons, owners of "Chamberlin's old fashioned New England cured dried beef," which has been a favorite commodity for eighty-three years. Mr. Chamberlin was born and educated in Hartford and is of the fourth generation of Chamberlins to engage in this business.

He is 24 years old and was in the navy during the war, stationed at New London. He was married to Miss Olive Hurr Milliken of Munhal, Penn., in June 1917.

The house was established in 1837 by the late Samuel S. Chamberlin, who remained active in the business until succeeded by his son, Samuel D. Chamberlin, in 1876. The business was greatly extended by the latter, who in 1905 admitted his two sons, Albert and Frank D., to the firm. Samuel D. Chamberlin died in 1911 and since that time the business has been under the direct control of Albert S. Chamberlin and Frank D. Chamberlin. Few Connecticut business houses have remained in the sole ownership of one family as long as the house of Chamberlin.

Samuel S. Chamberlin, the founder, was born on the Colbrook river in 1812. In 1827 he was a clerk in a general store and in 1837 he was a partner in a firm. He was an expert in the manufacture of hair killers, soaps, combs, sneeders, setlers, cockers, etc. Dox shepherds, dog, Dachshund, Pomeranian, Boston terriers, Alphas, fox terriers, poodles, etc. To-day—Toy silk poodles, does, pigs to select from. New arrival—PUPPIES AND GROWN PUPPIES. 14 Chapel st. Ch. 8400.

FOR SALE—GOOD USED RANGES—furniture and household articles. C. H. Woods, 14 Chapel st. Ch. 8400.
FOR SALE—ALL SIZES NEW AND REBUILT—Ray Dynamo and Motor Co., 25 High street.
FOR SALE—120 QUARTS OF MILK—daily until April 1st. Address MILK GRANBY, Conn.
FOR SALE—RUBBER PLANT—quite of Mrs. E. F. Roster, East street.
FOR SALE—SILVER—also silverware, extension, off Blue Hills ave. and cows, Morris Decker, Holcomb street.
FOR SALE—SILVER—also silverware, door to Long's hotel.
FOR SALE—SILVER—also silverware, door to Long's hotel.

This City To

ken of a. 1916 the old rose n. Pittsburg, liken. 5 liken, daughter Foster Millen and Samuel of this city evening in the rch of Home-ohn Morrison isted by Rev. an, pastor of nce of several e altar was palms, silver rangeas, while l to light the marches were V. Schaney of re Fell Smith The brides- nie Baker of s. Catherine o wore orchid ary Stevenson l Miss Marga- gh, Pa., who d silver; Miss and Miss Castle, whose and silver, and ouquets, given -heme. Miss urgh was the as dressed in all.

will take afternoon at nd Mrs. H. H. Britain ave- ighter, Miss r, will become Hall, of Sims- to be per- bert C. Dief- are Stuart J. he bride, and sbury, brother and Samuel D. piscopal cere- bride being the father. The ite and green; Few Con- valley, laurel, The bride's its crepe de in; trimmings She will carry a the roses and She will also bridal gown e and first great-great- ce, 200 years be of tulle, ossoms. The Lohengrin will ary B. White, Mrs. Haben- room will be blossoms and will be present Haven, Spring- Box 97, Times. will go for will include a They will re- re the groom firm of Hall ontractors. eautiful pres- and cut lasss to the

Hartford Boy Becomes Manager of Philadelphia Branch

Office—John S. Turn in New York.

MISS HAZEL F

Springfield
Ceremony at Home of Mr and Mrs
F. O. Cook, Parents of Bride, Yesterday June 5

Another of the many weddings which have been hastened by the war crisis this spring took place yesterday afternoon at the home of Mr and Mrs F. O. Cook of Burton street when their daughter, Miss Hazel Pearl Cook, became the bride of Dr William H. Ordway of New York city, son of William H. Ordway of Chicopee. The ceremony was performed at 4 o'clock by Rev. William C. Thompson.

FAITHFUL WORKMAN GETS PURSE OF GOLD

F. W. Woodworth Fifty Years At Pratt & Whitney Plant. 5

June
Flavel W. Woodworth of Windsor avenue, Wilson Station, employed by the Pratt & Whitney Company, was summoned to the main office of the concern yesterday while he was at work. Arriv found several perintendents know why h but on inqu of him, Vice-son, advised marked the his service entered the June 5, 18 June 5, 1917 niversary of pany. He employ on J dent Hansor appreciated press the v ices and g substantial officers con worth on hi and Lord conducted the service of the Hoekannum Child Welfare Club for a picnic for the school children. The Ladies' Aid Society will serve a supper in the chapel of the church at 6 o'clock this evening. The Burnside All-Stars and the Hudson Athletic Club baseball team of Manchester will play Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock on the Sand Hill Grounds. Timothy Cooney of No. 65 William street has entered the employ of the Travelers Insurance Company of Hartford.

Harold K. Remington, who has recently been appointed manager of the Philadelphia branch office of the Aetna Life and affiliated companies, as announced in "The Courant" of Friday, is well known in this city, where he formerly lived and went to school. He is a brother of Charles H. Remington, assistant treasurer of the Aetna Life. For the past six years he has been the manager of the Aetna companies' branch office in Springfield, Mass., where he has been remarkably successful in developing a substantial volume of multiple line casualty and surety business and has acquired an enviable reputation as a popular and efficient underwriter of unusual ability.

Mr. Remington took charge of the Philadelphia office on the first of June as the successor of John S. Turn, who has been elected secretary of the Aetna companies and placed in charge of their branch office in New York city.

Mr. Remington has been associated with the Aetna companies for many years. He acquired his first experience in the insurance business at the home office of the Aetna companies, where he began to work after leaving school. He is a graduate of the Hartford Public High School.

Mr. Turn has been associated with the Aetna companies for some years as manager of their Philadelphia branch office.

J. S. TURN TO BE AETNA LIFE GUEST AT NEW YORK DINNER

President Bulkeley and Party to Go on Special Cars—Banquet at Waldorf. gun

A pret
nesday a Nora A. Rosenthal and Robert J. Rosenthal were united in marriage by the Rev. Paul F. McAlenney. Miss Margaret Kennedy, cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid. Bernard Turley was best man. The bride wore a gown of white crepe de meteor and a white Georgette crepe hat and carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. The bridesmaid was attired in a gown of pink Georgette crepe with silver trimming and wore a white lace hat, embroidered in pink and she carried a bouquet of pink sweet peas.

The ushers were William P. Turley, Frank Singer of New Haven, William E. Turley and John Turley. A wedding breakfast was served to a large circle of friends at their future home, No. 48 Babcock street. Guests were present from New York, Bridgeport, New Haven, Meriden, Wallingford, Bristol and Hartford. After a short wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Rosenthal will be at home to their friends.

She lived with a girl & a boy

MUCH INTEREST IN

IN HIS FATHER'S STEPS. ARTY FRANCE

Rev. Charles Miel, Father of Trinity's Rector, Had Arived in France at Time of Civil War.

June Simms-Griffin. Miss Doris Welthie Griffin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Meade E. Griffin of East street, West Hartford, and Alva Edwin Simms, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Simms of Bond street, were married Thursday evening at 7 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents by Rev. Dr. Herbert Judson White, pastor of the First Baptist Church. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attended by her sister, Miss Bernice Arline Griffin, as maid of honor, and the best man was the bridegroom's brother, Frank Harrison Simms of this city. The house was decorated with palms, ferns, lilacs and roses, the ceremony being performed before the mantel, which was banked with palms. The bride wore a dress of white crepe meteor and lace, with opalescent trimmings, cut with a court train and her tulle veil was held in place at the back of the head with a bandeau of four ropes of pearls and a wreath of orange blossoms over the crown of the head. She carried a shower bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley. Her attendant wore white satin, trimmed with white fur, and carried pink sweet peas. The music was furnished by Mrs. C. D. Bacock of Rochester, N. Y., who sang DeKoven's "Oh, Promise Me," preceding the ceremony, and "O, Perfect Love" following. A reception was held, about forty guests being present, after which a buffet lunch was served. The table was decorated with a large cluster of Ward roses. Dancing followed. The out-of-town guests included Mrs. Robert J. Strasenburg and Mrs. Clay D. Babcock of Rochester, N. Y., sisters of the bride's father. Mr. and Mrs. Simms left for a wedding trip, and after their return will be at home on Deerfield avenue.

June Ponsaing-Chase. Miss Antoinette Viola Chase, niece of Mr. and Mrs. Leo F. Guethlein of Pearl street, and J. Richard Ponsaing, son of Mrs. John Ponsaing of West Hartford, were married Thursday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at Christ Church by the acting rector, Rev. John H. Rosebaugh. The bride, who was given in marriage by her uncle, was attended by her cousin, Miss Isabelle Guethlein as bridesmaid. The bride wore a Cheruit afternoon model of Chinese blue silk, trimmed with gold lace, and a black picture hat. Her shower bouquet was of white sweet peas and lilies of the valley. Her attendant wore a Premet model in yellow, with a black picture hat, and carried a Colonial bouquet of forget-me-nots and sweet peas. Henry K. Ponsaing, brother of the bridegroom, was the best man and there were no ushers. Mr. and Mrs. Ponsaing left for a southern trip, after which they will return to Morris Cove to spend the summer. They will be at home in this city after September 1.

When the Rev. Dr. Ernest DeF. Miel, rector of Trinity church, went abroad June 2, as a member of a Red Cross commission to France to prepare for the arrival of American troops in Europe, he was following, in a way, the precedent established by his father, the Rev. Dr. Charles F. B. Miel, who went to France during the Civil War to make known the objects of the north in that conflict. Dr. Miel has gone to help establish centers of recreation and amusement, to obtain supplies and provide medical resources to meet emergencies, and to arrange facilities by which troops can receive gifts from their relatives and friends in this country. With a commission headed by Major Grayson M. P. Murphy, U. S. A., and including prominent financiers, physicians, lawyers and ministers, his father went to enlist the sympathy of the French people through the press in the Union side in the war of more than half a century ago. The commission of which Hartford's Dr. Miel is a member will work as the committee of relief in Belgium.

PHILIP L. GOODWIN ON WAY TO FRANCE

Among the members of the American Red Cross Committee on the way to Europe to make preparations for the coming of American troops

Philip L. Goodwin.

Philip Lippincott Goodwin of New York, son of Mrs. James J. Goodwin of Woodland street, sailed for France last week Saturday. Mr. Goodwin is an architect by profession and will devote his energies to rehabilitating the devastated part of France.

Philip L. Goodwin, son of Mrs. James Goodwin of No. 83 Woodland street. Mr. Goodwin is a graduate of Yale College and an architect. Rev. Dr. Ernest DeF. Miel and Dr. Alexander Lambert are also in the party.

2, 1917
ade yesterday
Red Cross
king prepara of American to help the
on its way
acted great Ernest DeF. church, is a Philip James Good-
d street, is ich is made obtain supplies n, sociologi-
resources to meet
as well as to arrange facilities by which troops
can receive gifts
from their relatives
w York city.
d is one of ue of Yale
ects of the his graduat-
ade a sight-
in the conse-
sey and his ble time in oodwin was by the bank-
n. Leaving
o the study
udied three in Paris. He Delano & his return
r he opened
r. Goodwin ears old.
who also
to a num-
is a grad.

DR. MIEL SAILS.

New York Saturday Bound for Red Cross Work in France—Departure Not Known.

June 2, 1917
Rev. Dr. Ernest DeF. Miel, rector of Trinity church, sailed Saturday from New York to do Red Cross work in France, traveling on the same steamer with several Hartford boys who went as members of Yale ambulance unit. The fact that Miel's departure was not made known until after the ship had left. He was recently elected dean of the Berkeley Divinity school at Hartford, to succeed the late Dr. Miel Hart.

917.

S IN EUROPE

sen received
DeF. Miel, rector of the safe ar-destination in Philip L. Goodscently sailed Red Cross war

for France to take up Red Cross work

SHOULD SEND 26TH BACK AT ONCE

JANUARY 25, 1919.

Rev. Dr. Ernest deF. Miel, rector of Trinity Church, arrived home in Hartford, yesterday afternoon, after more than nine months of active field service with the American Red Cross in France, most of the time being spent with the Twenty-sixth (Yankee) Division.

"It's a good thing to get home again in Hartford," Dr. Miel said last evening, "yet, I cannot but feel keenly the sorrow that has entered so many of the Hartford families by the loss of many splendid men, at home and overseas, who have given their best to the country's cause. One's joy at being back again is solemnized by thoughts of the sacrifices made, and the fine young men and those of mature years who have been taken from us.

"We have been living over there," he continued, "in the midst of suffering and under the shadow of sudden death and you over here have also had affliction to endure in the loss of some of our best citizens, both young and old, to whom this community will always be indebted for their generous service and noble example.

"My conviction is that it is the most urgent need," Dr. Miel stated, "to get our own soldiers and more particularly the Twenty-sixth Division back as quick as possible. That division fought a tremendous fight and acquitted itself with the highest honor during the long time of service in the field. For nearly nine months, with several periods of rest, the men were in the front line trenches and engaged in every decisive battle that the American forces took part.

French Admires Twenty-sixth.

"The men won for themselves the admiration of the French officers, who regarded them as 'shock' troops of the first order. Nothing could exceed the courage and endurance in the men in the ranks as well as the officers who led them. This is specially true in the Verdun sector, where they fought for four weeks under the fiercest fire, and were obliged to put over an offensive almost daily.

"The strong positions held by the enemy in this sector made the men fight for every inch of ground. They came out of the struggle naturally very much exhausted, but we can do more for them by urging those in authority, for their immediate return to their homes.

First Complete Division.

"People want to remember that the division was the first complete division to arrive in France and they were

REV. ERNEST DE F. MIEL WILL GO TO FRANCE FOR AMERICAN RED CROSS

Rev. Dr. Ernest deF. Miel.

See envelope for his experience
Application Favorably Considered and Leave of Absence Granted by Trinity Church, Which Votes stored to normal activity, is just so much gained in the struggle in which we are now engaged. I doubt if 2 per cent. of the people of the country fully realize the gigantic task before us. This realization will ultimately be brought home to them, and when it is, America will rise as one man, eager and willing to do its part."

A commission will be sent to France to study conditions and to report back without delay. In the meantime plans will be made to raise money on a large scale. Other members of the council, beside Mr. Davison, are William Howard Taft of New Haven, Edward N. Hurley of Chicago, former chairman of the federal trade commission, Cornelius N. Bliss, jr., Charles D. Norton, Grayson M. P. Murphy of New York and Eliot Wadsworth of Boston, chairman of the executive committee of the American Red Cross.

Dr. Miel's Career.

Rev. Dr. Ernest DeF. Miel was born in San Francisco and was educated at Trinity College and the Berkeley Divinity School Middletown. He was assistant to St. George's Church, New York, from 1891 to 1893, and has been rector of Trinity Church since 1893. He was chaplain of the First Regiment, C. N. G., from 1905 to 1909, examining chaplain of the diocese of Connecticut from 1905 to 1911, trustee of the Church Home, Widows' Home, Open Hearth Association and other charitable organizations, a member of the board of missions of the Protestant Episcopal Church in 1907, delegate to the general convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the same year and trustee of the Berkeley Divinity School, besides being prominently connected with a variety of other interests. He has recently been mentioned as a possible successor to the late Rev. Dr. Samuel Hunt as dean of the Berkeley Divinity School.

HAROLD K. REMINGTON.

WADSWORTH ATHENEUM VACANCIES FILLED

April 23, 1917
 Mr. and Mrs. Colin M. Ingersoll of No. 167 East Seventy-first street, New York, announce the engagement of Mr. Ingersoll's daughter, Miss Coline Macrea Ingersoll, to Stewart Campbell Woodworth, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Alfred S. Woodworth of Boston. Miss Ingersoll made her debut about three years ago and is a sister of Mrs. John Cunningham of Brookline, Mass. Her mother, Mr. Ingersoll's first wife, was Miss Theresa McAllister, a niece of the late Ward McAllister. Mr. Woodworth was graduated from Harvard University in 1910 and later from the

A VERY NICE
LATE S. P. AVERY'S GIFT TO ATHENEUM

More Than $300,000 Given to Institution—Trustees' Statement, 25—
Held, Sept 25, 1921

A gift of more than $300,000 by the late Samuel P. Avery to the Wadsworth Atheneum was announced Monday at the meeting of the board of trustees of SAMUEL P. AVERY.

PINE CORNER CHAIR
 Churchill house Newin Haven. Slat-back side bannister back armchair many gifts of Mr. Avery to the athen-eum was adopted. George A. Gay of Brown, Thomson & company was elected a trustee to succeed Mr. Lyman.

Capt. Charles Cour of New (left) and crown design

at top arc loans from Mr. Seymour. (C) Curtiss-Schervae is a mem-Algonquin bride is a Connecticut

 at one time
 York, New ad, is a na-er paternal Ingersoll,
 his brother,
 governor of
 ears ago.
 Ingersoll,
 oll of New Haven, and worth of day after-Church,
 e of rela-
 The cere-
 the rector,
 d was fol-
 the home
 bride, who er father, a Wyeth as brides-
 s the best obert Mc-
 of the es Clark Boston.
 ll live in s father harge of ridges in er home r, Colin duate of

Dorothy
 nd Mrs. on, and
 nd Mrs.
 ton, N.
 Trinity esmaids les Cay Wood Brooks
 on Art man, ington
 mas C. kleton Clar-

Amber 5?

Frank Courtenay Dodd, treasurer and general manager of the publishing firm of Dodd, Mead and Company, and Miss Emily Sayre Harris, daughter of Colonel Henry S. Harris, U. S. A. (retired), were married Thursday at the home of the bride's father. Mr. Dodd was graduated from Yale University in 1907.

MRS. BRITTON LOSES CUSTODY OF SON

NEITHER PARENT CAN HAVE BOY.

Judge Decides That Guardian Must Be Named for Britton, Jr.

MOTHER IN COURT ON CONTEMPT CHARGE

Fails to Carry Out Order Allowing Youngster to Visit Father at Intervals.

Feb. 26, 1918

That neither Ralph D. Britton, nor his former wife, Edna Nettleton Britton, was a proper person to be the guardian of their son, Ralph, Jr., was the conclusion reached by Judge Burpee in the superior court today and he advised the half dozen lawyers interested in the case to agree upon some responsible person, if they could find one, who would take the guardianship of the boy and in his or her discretion decide whether Ralph, 9 years old, should continue to live with his mother, and when and where and how the boy should see his father, if at all.

Judge Burpee reached this conclusion after a talk with the boy, who had come to court with his mother. The latter had been summoned to show why she should not be held in contempt for disobeying a court order to the effect that she was to send the boy to his father on Saturdays and Sundays.

A galaxy of legal talent is interested in the case. Lewis Sperry and Senator Edward W. Broder appear for Mr. Britton, B. M. Holden is attorney for Mrs. Edna Nettleton Britton, State's Attorney H. M. Alcorn and John H. ...

ried the woman who as stated by the lawyer had caused trouble in the home.

Conduct of Mr. Britton toward his former wife and the absolute refusal of the boy to go to him were set out as a reason why the court order was not kept, but Judge Burpee said he did not take seriously the statements that the mind of a child of 9 years would arrive at such material conclusions as Mr. Holden said it did.

Mrs. Ralph D. Britton.

Mrs. Sadie L. Britton, wife of Ralph D. Britton, died at her home, No. 484 Farmington avenue, Wednesday evening. She had been in ill health several months. Mrs. Britton was born in Millerton, N. Y., a daughter of Cornelius and Mary Lynehan, and was 36 years old. The family came to Hartford when she was a small child and had since lived here. She was a graduate of the Hartford High school and then Morse Business college. Mrs. Britton entered the employ of the R. D. & C. Britton company as bookkeeper, which position she filled fifteen years. When the R. D. Britton company was organized twelve years ago she became secretary-treasurer. Her husband is president of the company. They were married five years ago. Besides her husband, Mrs. Britton leaves three sisters and a brother. The funeral will be held

—Photo by Jahnston.

MRS. RALPH D. BRITTON.

The funeral of Mrs. Sadie L. Britton, wife of Ralph D. Britton, president of the R. D. Britton company, was held this afternoon at 2:30 at her late home, No. 484 Farmington avenue. The Rev. Frank B. Haggard, pastor of the Asylum Avenue Baptist church, officiated. There were many floral tributes. The bearers were Irving C. Treat, Merrett A. Alfred, Everett C. Willson, Alton E. Woodford, Howard D. Graves and John J. Curtin. Burial was in Cedar Hill cemetery. The store of the R. D. Britton company was closed Thursday and to-day.

This conference was the appointment of Mr. Alcorn.

Boys' Shoes

retail at 65c. pair, 15c seconds of a high grade, come if you were among is appointed; here's the second mail orders.

sale beginning at 10 o'clock.

Section.

June

Britton

trove

ents,

Ja

Ralph

years, it

day, cri

his fath

father d

Since

Emma

decree

there ha

the par

boy and

mer wit

tempt c

not allow

and Sun

dered.

Mr. B

red Mis

then the go and s presente

his super

Nettleto

modifica

was also tempt ag

Severa

the case

neys nov

M. Alcorn

Britton

den and ton by

Sperry.

Judge

explanat

it was

Britton

go to see

of the se

and had he must go to jail

Tears

fellow's

day whe

his moti

Greene's

to questi

"I don't

to go" of partitions

Judge

torneys

case for regardle

of his lawyers

After a withdra

court, ar

the boy

to have an hour

on Sund

Mr. B

was evid

boy had tile towar

to dislik

when questione

empt

ntid-

be-on,

su-

as-

de,

ipt

of

fit

he

NEHAN—Ralph D. Britton and Sadie M. Lynehan, Novem-

M. Lynehan and Ralph D. Britton were married, Wednesday, October 28, 1917. The bride is daughter and treasurer of the R. D. Britton company.

this city, October 26, 1921, at the home of Ralph D. Britton, 484 Farmington avenue. Notice of marriage.

pr

ti es

ns

oy

nr

tr

ig

yl

f

d

s

h

pr

is er

is all

n

y.

p ot

is

h

pr

oy

nr

tr

ig

yl

f

d

s

h

pr

is er

is all

n

y.

p ot

is

h

GOLF AND DANCE AT WETHERSFIELD.

New Country Club Has Its Informal Formal Opening
To-day.

9-HOLE COURSE FOR ENTHUSIASTS

Tennis Courts, Verandas and Dance Room for Others.

Special to The Times.

Wethersfield, June 9.

A social event of especial interest in Wethersfield to-day is the formal opening of its new Country club. The board of governors and house committee will keep open house this afternoon and evening, and members and their families have been invited to enjoy the pleasures connected with the club.

An informal reception will be held from 4 until 6 o'clock this afternoon and for the benefit of many who wish to remain over for the evening festivities, a supper will be served from 6 to 8 o'clock, a caterer from New Britain having charge. Over 150 requests for supper reservations have been received. This evening dancing will be enjoyed, the Charter Oak orchestra furnishing the music. The club house has been handsomely decorated with cut flowers and ferns and with its pretty new furnishings looks wonderfully attractive. Windows and doors have been thoroughly screened, lockers put in place and other minor details completed to have everything in readiness to-day for the comfort and pleasure of the members.

A 60-foot flag staff has been set in the lawn in front of the club house and to-day, for the first time, the flag is flying from its top.

Heads of Wethersfield Club

FREDERICK A. GRISWOLD, President.

STEPHEN MORGAN, Treasurer.

DR. EDWARD G. FOX,
Vice-President.

ALLEN R. GOODALE, Secretary.

$500

na National Bank

subscriptions. Sure to offer our services in connection with your business.

invest- secure a perfectly safe investment. A patriotic service and at the same time a profitable one. Loan $50 or more to the Loan Office and for their support.

and proud to loan our money to the young men going to the front to help our country. We should be proud to have our money in the hands of our boys.

Loan of 1917

Surplus and Profits $2,100,000.

ong brassie to clear the brook and water hazard beyond. As this requires two good shots to clear, the best efforts of a good player will be called for and if successful, the third will be an easy pitch to the green, also wrapped to punish a poorly played shot. Par 5.

Number 7 hole. A drive takes one back again over the water hazard and brook and the green is placed on a knoll with sloping sides 430 yards away, making a difficult second shot to hold. On this account the Par of this hole will be 5.

Number 8 hole is the short hole over a ditch to a well trapped green 170 yards away. Par 3.

Number 9 hole is the home hole is 400 yards away for the second pert will find it a course that requires to be played with skill to get a good score, and those who are learning the game will find new distances to strive for as they progress in their play.

The women will also find it a course that is easily played as there is no hill climbing and the rolling ground gives the effective character which all golfers appreciate.

The tennis courts are built near the eastern boundary with the driveway approach between the clubhouse and the courts.

295 Members.

The club has a membership of 295 and thanks to the successful efforts of the finance committee

The Liberty

Capital $2,000,000.

Government

TO INSTALL REV. DOUGLAS HORTON. Imposing Ceremony at Middletown Congrega- tional Church To-day.

Middletown, June 7.

The Rev. Douglas Horton, pastor of the North Congregational church, which is nearly as old as the town itself and has had in its membership from the earliest times men who have been conspicuous in the life of the town and state, and the nation, will be installed at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon by an ecclesiastical council of the like of which has probably

Unto the Churches and Brethren in Christ, Greeting:

Douglas Horton having responded favorably to the expressed wish of this church and society that he be installed as its pastor, it is our desire that we may have the advice of an ecclesiastical council as to the proposed step, and if it approve may have its aid in the service of installation. We therefore affectionately invite you to meet in our seventh day block, p. m., above named and aid by the community: Ed- gur, Charles rt, Paul H. Hadwin.

vice at 7:30
ther pastors
Rev. E. R.
itist church.

ON WETHERSFIELD'S HIGHEST LAND.

COUNTRY CLUB HOUSE AS IT STANDS COMPLETED.

Francis Roman Catholic church, St. John's Roman Catholic church, St. John's Evangelical Lutheran church, St. Paul's German Evangelical Lutheran church, St. Mary's Polish Roman Catholic church, African Methodist Episcopal church, the First Church of Christ, Scientist, the Church of the Holy Trinity, the First Baptist church, the First Methodist Episcopal church, the South Farms Methodist Episcopal church, the South Congregational church, the Swedish Congregational church, the Swedish Evangelical Lutheran Tabor church and the Third Congregational church.

These additional Congregational churches have been invited to be represented: Central of Brooklyn, N. Y., Swedish and First of Cromwell, Durham, East Haddam, East Hampton, Haddam, Hadlyme, Higganum, Middlefield, Middle Haddam, Portland, Plymouth of Hartford.

The letter which was sent to these churches was as follows:

wedding marches were played by Miss Mary B. White of Pomfret and the bridegroom's brother, Earl R. Hall of Simsbury, was the best man. A buffet lunch was served, following the ceremony, after which Mr. and Mrs. Hall left for a wedding trip to Washington, D. C. They will live in Simsbury.

June Carmody-Kiely.
Thomas F. Carmody of the street department and Miss Mary A. Kiely of Newington were married in the Sacred Heart Church in Wethersfield by Rev. Oliver Magnell yesterday. John C. Carmody, brother of the bridegroom was the best man. Miss Jane Kiely was the bridesmaid. After a trip to Washington, D. C., Mr. and Mrs. Carmody will live at No. 87 Newton street.

Paul Pihl Has Highest Mark
—Hartford Boy Third

Paul Pihl, Rev. Gustaf Swedish Church in Hartford, graduated with the highest mark in the class at the University of Southern Maine. He is a graduate of the Hartford High School and was named second in the state examination. His father, John Pihl, is a student at the University of Southern Maine.

Paul Pihl.

Pihl, the naturally good student, has been graduated from the Hartford High School with the highest honors at Yale University for the freshmen class.

June Ruth Viola Adams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Crane Hathaway-Adams, 15 South Q. Mrs. Walter lyn, N. Y., a daughter of the Episcopal C. Ross officiated. The church was green and yellow. Kappa Gamma Emersor. Co. the bride at given away in a dress of over bridal mings with embroidered.

June PIHL PASSES EXAMS.
July 15
Son of Minister Take Physical Test for Entrance to Annapolis.

Paul E. Pihl, son of Rev. and Mrs. G. E. Pihl of No. 74 Hart street was notified yesterday afternoon by the bureau of navigation that he has been accepted for the examinations in

ENSIGN PIHL WEDS AFTER GRADUATION

Ceremony Takes Place Shortly After He Receives Annapolis Honors.

(Special to The Courant, 1920)
NEW BRITAIN, Saturday, June 5. Word was received in this city last night of the marriage of Ensign Paul Pihl, son of Rev. Gustave E. Pihl, pastor of Swedish Bethany Church, which took place Thursday afternoon, a short time after Ensign Pihl's graduation from the Naval Academy. The graduation exercises were held in the forenoon and Ensign Pihl, a few hours later took as his bride, Miss Charlotte Wilki of Ellwood, Indiana. His father was present at the graduation and the wedding.

June Miss Marg D. DeForest, daughter of Dr. J. C. DeForest, Bridgeport, Pa., uncle of lilacs and decoration. The bride fastened with her brother, who was his roommate at Annapolis. They became engaged some time ago, deciding to await the completion of their school work before marrying. The couple will spend a few weeks at Ensign Pihl's home in Maine before he will report for duty aboard the "Bridgport." A number of other graduates were married immediately after graduation at Yale University.

June Gates-Sherman, 9
Miss Beatrice B. Sherman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Alfred Sherman, of Webster street, and Leonard Clayton Gates, son of Mrs. Frank G. Gates, of Simsbury, were married yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock at Center Church House by Rev. Samuel A. Fiske of Berlin, cousin of the bridegroom. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attended by her sister, Miss Dorothy Sherman, as bridesmaid and Frank Ward Gates, brother of the bridegroom, was the best man. The ushers were Edmund A. Holcomb and Harold Humphrey of Simsbury. The decorations consisted of palms, ferns and hydrangeas, before which the ceremony was performed. About 150 guests were present. The bride's dress was of white net and lace over satin, with a long tulle veil caught with orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of bride roses and lilies-of-the-valley. Her attendant was dressed in pink Georgette crepe and wore a picture hat of the same material. She carried pink sweetpeas. Music was furnished by Mrs. Fred Borst, cousin of the bride, violinist, and Miss Rosee Sherwood, pianist. Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where the decorations were roses and palms. The entire color scheme of the wedding and reception was pink and white. After a short wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Gates will live in Simsbury.

June Griswold-Treadwell, 9
Miss Lyla Mae Treadwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Edwin Treadwell of Wethersfield, and Donald William Griswold, son of William G. Griswold of Wethersfield, were married last evening at 7:30 o'clock at the Wethersfield Congregational Church by the pastor, Rev. George L. Clark, who used the Episcopal service. The church was decorated with palms and apple blossoms, which were banked around the pulpit. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attended by Miss Julia Emerson Bill of this city as maid of honor and the best man was William Alden Horton of this city. The ushers were Frederick Albert Griswold, 2nd., William Goodrich Griswold, jr., Samuel Adams Griswold and Robbins Newson Griswold brothers of the bridegroom; Richard Whitmore and William Henry Treadwell. The flower girls were Evelyn Elizabeth Treadwell and Ruth Louise Treadwell. The music was furnished by Harold Clapp of Wethersfield, the church organist, who played a program of music preceding the ceremony. The bride wore a dress of white satin, trimmed with duchess and princess lace and pearls, and she carried a shower bouquet of sweet peas and gardenias. The maid of honor was dressed in pink charneuse and Georgette crepe, with silver trimmings and she carried pink sweet peas. The flower girls, who wore white frocks, carried baskets of white sweet peas and mignon roses. Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride for the relatives and intimate friends. After a short wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Griswold will live in Brighton, N. J.

New Haven, June 9.

A pretty wedding took place here at 4 o'clock this afternoon when Miss Florence Bailey, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Gustavus Elliot of this city was married to Howard Swiggert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. of Brooklyn.

Rooms of the house were attractively decorated with palms and smilax, together with quince blossoms and flowers, pink and white being used in quantities. In the ceremony where the bride and groom were joined, a canopy of green had been arranged, underneath which the bride and groom stood while the Rev. Dr. R. Sanford of Stonington, pastor of Grace Protestant church in this city, and the officiating minister of the bride, performed the ceremony.

The bride entered with her father, and was given away to her in marriage. She was accompanied by Miss Margaret Eliot, the bridesmaid, and two bridesmaids, Miss Anna Eliot and Miss Anna both of this city. Charles of Chicago, Yale, 1914, was best man and the ushers were Raymond Dodge of New York, and Raymon Conroy, Brooklyn.

The bride wore an exquisite gown of crepe meteor with pearls and diamonds made with a court train. She wore a long tulle veil with orange blossoms and a shower bouquet of lilies-of-the-valley and gardenias.

After the reception, the bridal party was entertained in receiving by Dr. and Mrs. Elliot, the latter wearing a gown of blue georgette crepe. Mrs. Swiggert left in the evening for a wedding trip of two weeks, returning from which she will live in New York where she has taken an apartment. She was a member of the class of 1914 at Smith college, and the bridegroom graduated from Yale in 1914.

ml - 4
Wedding of Miss Margaret Swiggert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Swiggert of New York, and Heaton Rockwell, son of Allen T. Rockwell, representative at Washington Stockbridge, Mass., was celebrated yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Collegiate Church of New Haven, Conn. The bride is a daughter of Bank President and Yale instructor United.

Merdine, June 9.

Merilee Lee Rockwell, daughter of L. Rockwell, president of the National Bank of Meriden, Conn., and Stanley Rockwell, and Stanley Williams, son of Charles M. Williams, superintendent of the school for boys in this city, were married this evening at 8 o'clock in the First Methodist Church by William Arnold Shanklin, pastor of Wesleyan University, assisted by the Rev. Victor G. Mills, new pastor of the First Baptist Church. The bride is a graduate of the Meriden High School and Smith college.

Miss Helen Elizabeth Pease, daughter of Mrs. Alfred H. Pease, and Dr. Wilbert E. McClellan of this city, were married yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the home of the bride's mother on Prospect avenue by Rev.

SAMPSON at the instrument table in the local Bureau office. At right: triple registration and velocity, sunshine and rainfall are automatically recorded from the inand orchids. Last evening a wedding dinner was served at the Hotel Heublein, after which Mr. and Mrs. Stevens left for a wedding trip to New York, Philadelphia and Atlantic City. After their return they will be at home in Glastonbury.

CHIEF OF THE INSTRUMENT STAFF—The mercurial barometer for measuring the pressure.

Does display the same vig ing to their conservatism e a few of our thorough

Paul Pihl Has Highest Mark
—Hartford Boy Third

Paul Pihl, Rev. Gustaf Swedish Church in Hartford, is graduated by Lonergan from Annapolis Naval Academy. Pihl is a graduate of High School at Yale University of Southern Maine, Chatham, Loomis, named second. W. Kennedy terrace, was Kennedy is man John V. a student at young men's ministrations.

Pihl, the highly good record, has been graduated from High School with honors at Yale for the freshman crew.

June Hathaway-Adam
Ruth Viola Adams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pihl, P

15 South Q Crane Hathay Mrs. Walter Test for E lyn, N. Y., a Paul E. Pi ity College, G. E. Pihl of at 8 o'clock notified yest Episcopal C bureau of n Ross official Carter, a clergy
the Campbell
Sarah Newt
the Emerse both of V bride and Jo Mass., a bro groom, acted Bernice Gran
bride, was n

The church green and v
Kappa Gam
Ernersor. Co
the bride at given away b a dress of over bridal mings with embroidered

June D night of the Miss Marg (Pihl, son o
ter of Dr. Jo pastor of Mrs. Felty, at which took est of New a short time ert DeFore a tion from Bridgeport, graduation
noon at the forenoon an ents on Pr later took a bridegroom's Wilki of E DeForest of was preser by Rev. M. the weddin Pa., uncle of Miss Wil lilacs and of Indiana decoration. at the Colo of white sat Washington fastened wit her brother blossoms. H at Annapol sisted of whi some time valley. The completion and the brid fore marrying by her fathe few weeks a est left for this city. He Maine woods aboard the will live in of other gra DeForest is mediately at at Yale University.

The couple will spend a few days at Pihl's home in Hartford. Pihl will report for duty at the college in September. A number of other graduates were married in Hartford.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride for the relatives and intimate friends. After a short wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Griswold will live in Brighton, N. J.

June Gates-Sherman. 9
Miss Beatrice B. Sherman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Alfred Sherman, of Webster street, and Leonard Clayton Gates, son of Mrs.

SHE CAN TAME BEARS 'N EVERYTHING
"SUNNY BILL"
© C. A. Johnston
and Mrs. W. E. McClellan of Farmington ter TW

we 4 mo Jan Chu ice wh with
the brid of h by Yale Jarvi
and Smith
city.
field.
thur
Smith
Mr. at the ri and a ent at which ished Haven
white court
face.
of the
Her at regard carried
and Mrs
trip and ber 15
ments.
The brie years at Hartford

Miss Helen Elizabeth Pease, daughter of Mrs. Alfred H. Pease, and Dr. Wilbert E. McClellan of this city, were married yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the home of the bride's mother on Prospect avenue by Rev. James W. Bradin, rector of St. John's Church, who used the Episcopal service. The house was decorated with white lilacs, wistaria and palms, which formed a bank, before which the ceremony was performed. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Marion Church Pease, as maid of honor, and was given in marriage by her brother, Dwight A. Pease, Yale, 1914. Dr. Henry Gildersleeve Jarvis of this city was the best man, and the ushers were F. Goodwin Smith, John T. Roberts, both of this city, Dr. Charles Turkington of Litchfield, Dr. Lewis Crigler and Dr. Arthur B. Duell of New York. Robinson Smith and Frances Smith, sons of Mr. and Mrs. F. Goodwin Smith, were the ribbon boys. Only the relatives and a few intimate friends were present at the ceremony and reception which followed. The music was furnished by Ward's Orchestra of New Haven. The bride wore a dress of white satin and chiffon, cut with a court train, and a veil of tulle and lace. She carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley and orchids. Her attendant was dressed in pink organdie, with a hat to match, and carried white lilacs and wistaria. Dr. and Mrs. McClellan left for a wedding trip and will be at home after October 15, in the Netherlands apartments, No. 30 Farmington avenue. The bride, who made her debut three years ago, has been prominent in Hartford society.

A pretty wedding took place here at 4 o'clock this afternoon when Miss Florence Bailey, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Gustavus Eliot of this city was married to Howard Swiggert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Swiggert of Brooklyn.

The rooms of the house were attractively decorated with palms and running smilax, together with quantities of roses and flowers, pink and white being used in quantities. In the library where the ceremony was performed, a canopy of green had been arranged, underneath which the bridal party stood while the Rev. Frederick R. Sanford of Stonington, formerly rector of Grace Protestant Episcopal church in this city, and an uncle of the bride, performed the ceremony.

The bride entered with her father, who gave her in marriage. She was attended by Miss Margaret Eliot, the maid of honor, and two bridesmaids, Miss Esther Eliot and Miss Anna Metcalf, both of this city. Charles Street of Chicago, Yale, 1914, was the best man and the ushers were Philip Lyndon Dodge of New York, Yale, 1907, and Raymon Conroy, 1913, of Brooklyn.

The bride wore an exquisite gown of white crepe meteor with pearl trimming made with a court train. She also wore a long tulle veil caught with orange blossoms and carried a shower bouquet of lilies-of-the-valley and gardenias.

At the reception, the bridal party were assisted in receiving by Dr. and Mrs. Eliot, the latter wearing a gown of pale blue georgette crepe.

Mr. and Mrs. Swiggert left in the early evening for a wedding trip of several weeks, returning from which they will live in New York where they have taken an apartment. The bride was a member of the class of 1913 at Smith college, and the bridegroom graduated from Yale in 1914.

JULY 9, 1919

A daughter was born yesterday morning at the Charter Oak Hospital to Dr. Wilbert E. McClellan and Mrs. McClellan of No. 581 Farmington avenue. Mrs. McClellan was formerly Miss Helen E. Pease, daughter of Mrs. Alfred H. Pease of Prospect avenue.

June Stevenson-Smith. 9
Miss Marjorie Adeline Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George O. Smith of Sisson avenue, and Adelbert Leslie Stevenson of this city were married yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the chapel of Trinity

June Stevens-Hart. 9
Miss Bertha Beatrice Hart daughter of Police Lieutenant Henry L. Hart and Mrs. Hart of Blue Hills avenue, and William B. Stevens of Glastonbury were married yesterday afternoon by Rev. Dr. John Brownlee Voorhees, pastor of the Asylum Hill Congregational Church, at his home on Asylum street. The bride was attended by Miss Marion Weir and the best man was the bride's brother, Graham R. Hart. The bride wore a gray traveling suit and a corsage bouquet of lilies of the valley and orchids. Last evening a wedding dinner was served at the Hotel Heublein, after which Mr. and Mrs. Stevens left for a wedding trip to New York, Philadelphia and Atlantic City. After their return they will be at home in Glastonbury.

June - 9
The wedding of Miss Margaret Kalt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Kalt of New York, and Heaton Ives Treadway, son of Allen T. Treadway, representative at Washington from Stockbridge, Mass., was celebrated yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Collegiate Church of St. Nicholas, New York. Daughter of Bank President and Yale Instructor United.

(Special to The Courant.)
Merdine, June 9.

Miss Mary Lee Rockwell, daughter of Charles L. Rockwell, president of the First National Bank of Meriden and Mrs. Rockwell, and Stanley Thomas Williams, son of Charles M. Williams, superintendent of the State School for Boys in this city, were married this evening at 5 o'clock in the First Methodist Church by Dr. William Arnold Shanklin, president of Wesleyan University, assisted by the Rev. Victor G. Mills, new pastor of the First Baptist Church. The bride is a graduate of the Meriden High School and Smith

... a few of our thorough ng to their conservatism oes display the same vig

*June 9
1919*

209 advised

Success of This Year's Festival and Something of Obscure's History

From Our Special Correspondent
WINSTED, Ct., Sat., June 9

The three-days' music festival held at the music shed on Whitehouse grounds in Norfolk this week was acclaimed by many of the 10,000 present the most notable in the annals of the Litchfield county choral union, whose illustrious patrons, Mr and Mrs Carl Stoeckel are giving Litchfield county residents a musical education second to none in the com-singing to improve the choir service of the church. Joseph's son, Robbins Battell, the father of Mrs Stoeckel, in whose honor the Litchfield county choral union was formed, was a highly accomplished musician and composer, and with his sisters, Irene and Ellen, founded the professorship at Yale now held by Dr Horatio Parker. Robbins Battell was one of the organizer and the conductor of the old Litchfield county musical association, which gave concerts in Litchfield, Winsted, Norfolk and other towns in the county. Later he organized the famous concerts given on Norfolk green, and from his activities in musical matters sprang the present choral union.

Robbins Battell, although an ima-

Stoeckel Estate, Scene of Coming Fete.

WATERBURY BRIDE FOR R. C. WILCOX

Weds Miss Katherine Smith, Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Smith.

Special to The Times. 1920
Meriden, October 23.

An event of social importance to Meriden and Waterbury was the wedding this afternoon at 4 o'clock of Miss Katherine Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Archer Jerome Smith, of No. 191 Prospect street, Waterbury, to Roy Cornwell Wilcox, son of George H. Wilcox, of No. 57 Pleasant street, this city, president of the International Silver company. The event was held at the Second Congregational church of Waterbury with the Rev. Robert E. Brown, pastor, performing the ceremony.

The bride was attended by Miss Francis Jackson, of Watertown, as maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Mrs. Sherbourne Rockwell of Waterbury, Mrs. Clarence T. Cooke of Waterbury, Miss Louise Hemingway of New Haven, Miss Caroline Jamison of Greensburg, Penn., Miss Elizabeth Wilcox of Middletown and Miss Bessie Wilcox of Middletown. The best man was Horace Wilcox, brother of the bridegroom. Ushers were Roger W. Squire of this city, Frederick A. Pearson of Great Barrington, Vt.; Clifford McAll of New York, Herbert C. Sneath of Brookline, Mass.; Sherbourne Rockwell of Waterbury, Julius Smith, a brother of the bride, and Carter Phelps of Farmington.

After their honeymoon trip the couple will reside in the Wilcox mansion on Colony street. Mrs. Wilcox is a college graduate and a social favorite. Mr. Wilcox since his return from the war has been acting as manager of one of the I. S. C. plants in this city.

LEUT. WILCOX HOME.

Officer Back From Transport Service in France. 1919

en, April 28.—Roy C. Wilcox, George H. Wilcox, president of International Silver company, returned from France a first lieutenant and is recommended for a captaincy. He went overseas in June, 1917, and was in the Mallet reserve commission in the field service. He was given command of a transport unit consisting of three camions and 253 men, which became known as the "Group Wilcox" and in eleven major engagements in various sectors and lost five and many men under shell fire. Lieutenant Wilcox is well but shows evidence of the terrific experiences he has undergone.

The bride, who will reappear on the stage for a time, has been acting since she was a child. She is appearing in "Our Bette," which has been at the Hudson Theatre. She was known through her association with Lou Tellegen and the Washington Square Players. Wilcox was graduated from the University in 1916 and will in two weeks to join the American Ambulance Corps in France.

WILCOX-PATTISON.

Son of President of International Silver Company and Member of "Our Bette's" Company Married.

Special to The Times. 1917
Rahway, N. J., June 11.

Miss Dianthe Pattison, daughter of Mrs. Frank C. Pattison, of Colonia, and Roy C. Wilcox, son of George H. Wilcox, president of the International Silver company, of Meriden, Conn., were married Sunday evening at garden at the

The Rev. W. J. Horace Wilcox of Meriden is Promoted in Navy Service. 1919

Special to The Times. Meriden, January 23.

Horace Wilcox, son of George H. Wilcox, president of the International Silver company, has just been commissioned an ensign in the navy. He is stationed at the District Communication school in New York. Ensign Wilcox enlisted in the naval reserve in April, 1917 and after training went aboard the U. S. S. Mohican.

He was assigned several months to duty under the command of the U. S. S. Mohican for information at New York in September of last year entered the District Communication school. He is a member of the U. S. S. Mohican.

Thought to Have Been Seen on Keene Express, With Alfredo Cocchi, Whose Disappearance Followed That of the Girl, and Both Thought to Have Left Story of Disappearance.

Tuesday afternoon, February 13, Ruth Cruger, 17 years old, left her home at No. 180 Claremont avenue and went to the machine shop of Al-

MRS HUMISTON'S WORK

Solver of Cruger Mystery May Take Up Similar Cases for City

A recognition of the value of women's services in fighting vice is shown by the offer to Mrs Grace Humiston, of a place on District Attorney Swann's staff. If she takes the place, she will be the first woman in the history of New York county, to hold such a position. She will devote herself excluding girls and with James E. District attorney, who this work for five have cases of a become that the applied to have main open during ely for the prose- under indictment. hould accept this have at her dis- e of men and she ortunity to go be- to present the evi- n hand.

nt offer of Dis- n was tendered is quoted in the 1: "Vice conditions astounding, but orse than ever be- because I am not conditions. The York are as much ess of their city as to be to the seri- The records of hundreds ar. There ing is not because of re to reach such girls blicity will ch in my

TRIAL

a bureau, ributions, m getting ts, rescue are, and ailment. au I have through- uarters of ut of town e the girls them out vironment Secluded kind, with y the As- are nobody Cocchi, on women— of Ruth the girls February, hen their on four employment here work OCCHI This em- ay, would with the Associa- ke for the ous of reformed

TED, YEARS

20

r think the have the lepartment, full sym- it. If this enough it and public ed to do— city." r legal ca- s admitted e establish-young girls were invited by telephone to meet in Dr. Pattison's home at No. 849 St. Nicholas avenue, and pray for the safe and quick return of the missing girl. They assembled and appointed Mrs. Pattison and Mrs. Gershom Smith, Mrs. John E. Brown and Mrs. B. M. Oxley a committee to ask the city papers to give publicity to a description of the girl. Also the use of the "movie" screens has been taken up in an effort to find the girl.

travo—" from the spectators in the court room today greeted Signor Franchini during his summing up of the case against Alfred Cocchi, who is charged with the murder in New York City of Ruth Cruger, an 18-years-old high school student. Signor Franchini asked for the conviction of the prisoner for murder in the first degree, attempted criminal assault, falsifying passports and false enrollment in the military service, with the maximum penalty on all of the charges

f Com PATTISON of International S and Member of the Married.
1917
Mrs. C. W. W. W.
GENT
Special to The
He was one of the dry under the
for information
Members of the

ment of the People's law firm—a sort of 5 and 10-cent affair, where the law, in defiance of all approved methods, was made to order. This was the next New York Times sensation would drop on and tell ho

June 4
A Bodyguard for Mrs. Humiston

LAWYER WHO SOLVED T

Mrs Grace Humiston, Who City Police Force at Their From Law School in 1903 This Picture Was Taken J $1000 Which Had Been O

MRS. HUMISTON JOINS POLICE DEPARTMENT

Appointed Special Investigator By Commissioner Woods.

New York, July 22.—Mrs. Grace Humiston, the woman lawyer who solved the mystery of Ruth Cruger's disappearance after the police had failed, has herself joined the police department. Commissioner Woods yesterday appointed her a special investigator, with authority to wear a badge, carry a revolver and a whistle and to execute warrants.

Mr. Woods expects Mrs. Humiston's aid to be of great value to the force and believes her official connection will be of assistance to her in her efforts to promote the welfare of girls. Her efforts are to be centered largely on missing girl cases. She will receive no salary unless the Board of Aldermen votes her remuneration.

Mrs. Humiston expects to go to Study Art This Summer at the New School of

OF BOSTON
DRAWING, PAINTING, ILLUSTRATION, COM-MERCIAL ART, COS-TUME DESIGN AND INTERIOR DECORATION

FOR WOMEN Design
Architectural and Landscape
The Cambridge School of June 20 (so) 1909
South Byfield, Mass.
CHARES. S. INGHAM, Ph.D., Headmaster
References required.
For boys from 9 to 14, number limited.

LEN GETS A TWELVE

Sept 25 1918
Former National Salesman Has a Chance to Speed a Bit in the War Zone in Fast Car.

Leonard D. Fisk, jr., formerly a salesman for the Reid Motor company writes Fred T. Reid of the company under date of September 25 regarding his experiences in the war zone which are quite interesting. In his last letter to Mr. Reid young Fisk, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard D. Fisk of Bloomfield, told of having a National sedan blown up. He formerly drove for Machine Gun Parker, commander of the 102d in which the Connecticut troops figured. In the course of time Len was transferred and says that when his superior officer learned that he was a National man offered to get a twelve-cylinder car if Len thought he could make it work. It appears from young Fisk's letter that various other drivers had had a chance at the machine so that when it was turned over to him its condition was by no means A1. He writes Mr. Reid that he made his own adjustments and soon had her hitting on all twelve much to the satisfaction of the superior officer. There have been times when fast work was necessary and Len found the car ready and willing on such excursions. In the course of service this old car has been driven many thousands of miles, far more in fact than a private owner would think a car could be driven over decent roads. Len says the only trouble he had was when the timer went wrong and he had to wait for spare parts. These were hard to get. He broke a spring but put in a new one himself in four hours. Len says that he will be glad to get back in Hartford and sell cars once more and is convinced that he will be able to put up some real convincing arguments.

Young Fisk makes no especial mention of peace and of course the big event occurred after his letter was written. He has been overseas for more than a year and has had a full measure of excitement. He is of the opinion that the road leading to his home in Bloomfield is a boulevard. Len lays especial emphasis on driving over shelled roads.

Widow of Yale Football Star Married in New York to Virginia

SHEVLIN'S WIDOW REMARRIES.

MRS. MA

Thomas L. Shevlin, the f ago, leaving his widow $2,0 Russell, a broker of Winches

Mr. and Mrs. L. Kibbe street of Styers of Easton on Thursday n home. The bri white satin over a shower of bride maid was Miss I city, who wore crepe and carried sweet peas. Do used and Miss I bride's niece, w will celebrate their golden wedding, best man was J York, an uncle ushers were Gu E. Flavell of B The ceremony Rev. Mr. Wunc under an illumir was given away were sung by Mrs. F. Loeser o ding march wa Hallbauer, and a buffet lunch w received many g five people were honeymoon, whic to New York a couple will live 60 South Whitne

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM S. WILLIAMS.

Special to The Times.

East Hartford, June 12.

Mr. and Mrs. William S. Williams will celebrate their golden wedding, informally, at their home on Naubuc avenue, Hockanum, Thursday evening from 7 to 10 o'clock, and will be pleased to receive their friends and neighbors at that time.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams were married in Manchester, June 14, 1867, by the Rev. Mr. Wadsworth, pastor of the Center Congregational church of that town. Nearly all of their married life has been spent in East Hartford.

Mr. Williams has been engaged in farming for many years, and has a wide reputation as a very successful grower of melons in large quantities. He has a wide acquaintance in Hart-

Mr. and Mrs. William S. Williams of Glastonbury Celebrate Golden Anniversary.

Special to The Times June 14

East Hartford, June 15.

ing feature of the golden anniversary of Mr. and William S. Williams at their Naubuc avenue, Hockanum, evening, was a march in vo little great grandchildren and congratulated the couwed by eight grandchildren, extended congratulations. anniversary was informal and he evening many neighbors nds called to pay their red offer congratulations. The ere prettily decorated with white and there were many including a large bouquet of roses and two bouquets of tions each. The four daugh- r. and Mrs. Williams—Mrs. Cox of Glastonbury, Mrs. W. Benn of Hockanum, liam J. Bryan of New Brit- Mrs. Homer Lee of Hartford in receiving.

tulatory remarks were the Rev. Clayton E. Dela- pastor of the Hockanum church.

ford county. He was born in East Hartford, September 25, 1846.

Mrs. Williams, Miss Mary E. Doughty, before their marriage, was born in New York, February 15, 1850.

They have five children: Carrie E. (Mrs. Frank S. Cox of Glastonbury); Hattie L. (Mrs. Frederick W. Benn of Hockanum); Grace M. (Mrs. William J. Bryan of New Britain); Lot- tie (Mrs. Homer Lee of Hartford); and William B. Williams of Mont- clair, N. J. There are nine grand- children, Hazel M. (Mrs. W. H. Os- born of Windsor); Everett W., Mary E. and Eleanor C. Benn; Lewis M. and William J. Bryan; Malcolm and Harold Lee, and George Williams. There are great-grandchildren, Al- thea W. and Wyman H. Osborn.

Mr. Williams is a member of Daskam lodge, F. and A. M., of Glastonbury.

James Cunningham Bishop of Torrresdale, Pa., has announced the engagement of his daughter, Miss Nathalie Holmes Bishop, to Charles Choate, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Choate of Boston. Miss Bishop was graduated from the Western School at Middlebury last June, where she was a classmate of Mr. Choate's sister, Miss Betty Choate. She is a member of the Junior League and a granddaughter of the late Heber R. Bishop, whose collection of jade and porcelain was bequeathed to the Metropolitan Museum of Art. Mr. Choate is a grandnephew of Joseph H. Choate and served with his regiment, the Second Massachusetts Artillery last summer at the border. He will be graduated from the Harvard Law School in June.

The marriage of Miss Nathalie Holmes Bishop, daughter of James Cunningham Bishop of Torrresdale, Tenn., and Charles F. Choate, 3d, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Choate of Boston, will be solemnized on June 14 in New York. The wedding will be a very quiet affair on account of the recent death of Mr. Choate's uncle, Hon. Joseph H. Choate.

Miss Cynthia Wesson Driving an Ambulance in France

Miss Cynthia Wesson, formerly of Maple street, this city, is now in France driving an ambulance at the front. Miss Wesson gave up her position as assistant instructor at the physical training department at

TWO BRIGHT WOMEN.

One of the features of the recent graduation exercises at Mt. Holyoke College was the presence of two bright women who were graduated from the old seminary in 1847, and who received their diplomas from the hands of Mary Lyon. One of them, Mrs. James Blaisdell of Claremont, Cal., came across the country unattended; the other, Mrs. Francis Chamberlain of Medford, Mass., was a shade the older of the two, but both were careful not to miss any feature of the exercises and both sat out the two-hour graduation program on Wednesday in high spirits and both seemed mentally as young as any member of the class graduated this year.

ohn, Baby Annette with her dances and shines, Master Joe with his wittily each individual, or near-ditties, for each individual, or near-does not confine itself to Mother Goose shoe-house as a background, does a Mother Goose act with the big hold. "Storyland," though staged as of Leon Kimberley and Rena Art more intellectual and witty variety children in "Storyland," and the of the innocent as given by the eighth the latter part of this week, the fun

MISS PRISCILLA PERRY ENGAGED

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Perry of Boston and Nahant Is to Marry Francis Cooley Hall of Brookline

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Perry of 10 Marlboro street, and who have a summer home at Nahant, announce the engagement of their daughter, Priscilla, to Francis Cooley Hall of Brookline. Miss Perry, who is a member of the 1914 Sewing Circle, was presented at a tea at her Marlboro street home. She is the sister of Arthur Perry, Jr., of Short Side drive, who married Miss Rebecca Hutton

Hall-Perry. 14
Miss Priscilla Perry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Perry of No. 10 Marlborough street, Boston, and of Dr. Francis Cooley Hall of Brookline, Mass., were married yesterday noon at the Central Church, Boston, by the pastor, Rev. Willard L. Sperry.

The bride was attended by her cousin, Miss Marjorie Buffum, as maid of honor, and by her niece, Miss Penelope Perry, as flower girl. The bridesmaids were Miss Clarissa Hall, sister of the bridegroom, Miss Mary Fay, Miss Ruth Gordon and Miss Harriet Dexter. Dr. Hall's brother, Gordon Hall, who was to have been the best man, is at the Reserve Officers' Training Camp at Plattsburg, N. Y., and in his place was Paul Myers, a classmate of Dr. Hall at Princeton University. The ushers were the bridegroom's brothers, Merwin Hall and Phillips Hall, Arthur Perry, jr., and Henry H. Perry, brothers of the bride, Dr. J. A. S. Brady, Dr. F. Dennette Adams and Dr. J. Warren White, all members of the class of 1917 at Harvard Medical School. The bride and her father entered the church to the strains of Wagner's "Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin," and the ceremony was partly in accordance with the custom of the Society of Friends, of which the bride is a member. A marriage certificate was signed and afterwards read to the congregation by the officiating clergyman. Following the ceremony, a small reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The bride wore a dress of white satin, cut with a court train, the corsage being embroidered in pearls. She wore a tulle veil, caught with a wreath of orange blossoms, and her only ornament was a string of pearls. She carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley with roses. The bridesmaids were dressed in sunset taffeta and brown hats with tulle streamers. They carried bouquets of yellow roses and lavender sweet peas. The flower girl carried a basket of yellow rose petals, which she scattered before the bride. Among the Hartford guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Cooley, Mr. and Mrs. Francis R. Cooley and Rev. Dr. Melancthon W. Jacobus, dean of the Hartford Theological Seminary. Dr. Hall is the eldest son of Rev. George Atwater Hall of Brookline, Mass., and grandson of the late Francis B. Cooley of this city, whose name he bears. He was graduated from Phillips-Andover Academy in 1909, from Princeton University in 1913 and is a member of the graduating class of Harvard Medical School. The bride was introduced to society at a tea given in her honor by her mother at their home in November, 1913, and she is a member of the Sewing Circle of that year.

MIDDLETOWN, Monday, June 11.
 Professor William North Rice, for fifty years a member of the faculty of Wesleyan University, and known to almost three generations of Wesleyan men, has resigned as professor of geology and natural history at the college, his resignation to take effect one year from date. The resignation was read at the meeting of the trustees on Saturday.

Prof. Will

Seeks Year H
 Middletown Annual meeting tees to-morrow
 be made by nold Shanklin fessor William as an active one year from for Rice will years of teaching mater.

He was graduated in 1865 and his specialty was such a member of the faculty for fifty years.

his appointment, however, he was studying abroad. For this reason he desires to remain on the teaching force for another year and to actually complete a half century of service in the class room.

This decision of Professor Rice will come as a surprise to many. No one has noted any decrease in his ability to turn off the large amount of work which has fallen to him to do. Undergraduates have thought of him as possessing large power of endurance. When he has led some of them off on geological trips of a Saturday there has been no evidence of increasing years. He is as energetic and as tireless as he appeared to be several decades ago when his lasting powers were proverbial on the hill.

Professor Rice will be eligible for a grant from the Carnegie foundation when he retires. The university will make him professor emeritus.

Last year the trustees invited Professor Rice to collaborate with Professor C. T. Winchester, '69 in writing a history of Wesleyan. With more leisure at his command he will probably find time for this work.

Springfield has an interest in the decision of Prof William North Rice, for 50 years a member of the Wesleyan university faculty, to retire from active service next June. He is the son of the late Rev Dr William Rice, long librarian of our city library. Prof Rice, widely known as a geologist and a student of natural history, is an inspiring teacher and friend of students, who has had a large share in the development and success of Wesleyan. When the time for his departure comes he will be given emphatic evidence of the esteem in which he is held.

GEORGE W. V. SMITH

Was 85 Yesterday and Still Active

G. W. V. SMITH IS 85
 "Hell Can't Hold Germans," He Says of Ruinous Teutons in Birthday Comment—World's Finest Art in This Country

George Walter Vincent Smith, giver of the valuable collections in the Springfield art museum, of which he is the curator, quietly observed his 85th birthday yesterday in his home at 49 Chestnut street. The day was observed informally with its simple recognition by Mr Smith's many friends and relatives. The aged art collector was born in New York June 14, 1832. Since 1867, when he retired from active business, Mr Smith has been collecting works of art from almost every country on the globe. He visited Europe in 1867 and has spent 12 years in foreign countries.

Mr Smith's interest is as absorbed as ever in his collections and he is always planning additions. He deprecates the fact that space is so limited in the museum that extensive additions will be impossible. Two rooms will soon be opened up on the first floor and filled with enamels and embroideries.

"The prices of curios and works of art are constantly increasing," Mr Smith complained last night. "They cost nearly four times as much as they did 15 years ago. The war has not materially affected the collection of works of art in this country," Mr Smith whimsically continued, "because

The Republica

SPRINGFIELD, FRIDAY JUNE 15, 1911

EIGHTEEN PAGES

All Springfield takes pleasure in the fact that George Walter Vincent Smith, one of its notable benefactors, celebrated yesterday his 85th birthday. To have reached this stage of life with interest in all that is worth thinking about unimpaired and as keen and discriminating as heretofore is an achievement worth celebrating. In few men in this country has the artistic sense been more intelligently and broadly cultivated, and that which has been the resource of Mr Smith's life is to remain and bless the people of this city and beyond during the years that are to come. It means much to have made such a collection of fine things as Mr Smith has given to Springfield, but it is even more to have kept touch and step with the progress of one's community, country and the world. Mr Smith is a municipal asset of the first order, and that he may long remain one of the striking personal figures in our life is the wish of the entire population. It is to be hoped that the years may long continue to sit as lightly upon him as now.

Wm. Borchert, Andrews, 16
Miss Madeleine L. Andrews, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Myron Allen Andrews of No. 12 North Main street, West Hartford, and Rev. Walter Frederick Borchert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Borchert of Newburgh, N. Y., were married yesterday morning at 10 o'clock in the chapel at Berkeley Divinity School, Middletown, by Suffragan Bishop E. Campion Acheson, who used the full Episcopal service. Only the members of both families were present and there were no bridal attendants. The music was furnished by William Davis, organist at the chapel and instructor of music at Wesleyan University. The bride was given in marriage by her father. No reception was held after the ceremony, and Mr. and Mrs. Borchert left immediately for a short wedding trip. They will be at home after September 1 at St. Paul's rectory, Williamantic, as Mr. Borchert will have charge of St. Paul's Church. He was graduated from Trinity College in 1914, and is a member of the Alpha Chi chapter of Delta Kappa Epsilon. The bride was graduated from Wellesley College in 1911. She is sister of Second Lieutenant Myron Morris Andrews, Reserve Officers' Corps of West Hartford, who spent May in training at Fort Oglethorpe, Ga. It was expected that he was going to France with Maj.-Gen. Pershing, but his parents have not heard where he is at the present time. He is a member of the senior class at Colgate College and will receive his degree, although absent. Mr. Borchert was socially prominent, during his course at Trinity College, for which he trained at Colgate Academy, Hamilton, N. Y. He was editor-in-chief of the "Ivy" during his junior year and was a member of the "Tripod" board. He also won the Toucey scholarship, founded by Hon. Isaac Toucey of Hartford, one-time governor of Connecticut, for students studying with a view to entering the ministry. He was graduated from Berkeley Divinity School, where he was a member of the Phi Delta Sigma fraternity, on June 5 and was ordained to the Episcopal ministry on Sunday morning, June 3, at the Cathedral of St. John the Divine, New York, by Bishop David H. Greer of the diocese of New York. The ordination sermon was preached by Rev. Frank Heartfield of St. George's Church, Newburgh. The bride's father is first vice-president and cashier of the Colonial National Bank.

NEW WILLIMANTIC RECTOR.

Special to The Times
W. Thorndike Saville, son of Mr. and Mrs. Caleb Mills Saville of this city, who has received the degree of master of science from the Massachusetts Institute at St. Paul's at St. Paul's Institute of Technology Tuesday. Because of the war, Mr. Saville gave up his study for the degree of doctor of engineering and applied for appointment in the Engineer Corps of the United States army. He will also receive a degree of master of science from Harvard University next week. In 1914, he received the degree of bachelor of arts from Harvard University and a degree of bachelor of science from Dartmouth and in 1915 a degree of civil engineer from Dartmouth.

BRANDT-BACON.

West Hartford, June 18.

In a setting of pink and white blossoms and in the presence of more than 100 guests, the marriage of Miss Martha A. Bacon of No. 316 North Main street, West Hartford, daughter of Mrs. James A. Bacon and Harold Reaberger Brandt of Hartford, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Brandt of Kitchener, Ont., took place at 7:30 Saturday evening, at the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick E. Duffy, No. 208 North Main street, West Hartford. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. T. M. Hodgston, pastor of the First Congregational church of West Hartford.

The colonial style of the house and its summery decorations formed a delightful setting for the bridal party, the costume of the bride's attendant carrying out the color scheme. The decorations, which consisted of daisies in panels and tall baskets, with ferns and palms, and a profusion of pink and white wigelia blossoms, were arranged by Mrs. F. L. Everett, an aunt of the bride. The wedding music was played by Elliott S. Foote, pianist.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her mother, had as maid of honor and her only attendant, her sister, Miss Anne E. Bacon. Carl Vail of New York city was best man. A pretty feature of the wedding was provided by three little children, Jane and Cornelia Everett and John Anderson, who scattered daisies from little baskets to form a path for the bride in the aisle through the drawing room. The bride wore an elaborate and handsome gown of embroidered white silk, trimmed with Duchess lace and carried a bouquet of white roses and maiden hair fern. The maid of honor's gown was of silver shot chiffon over pink satin and she carried pale pink roses. The bridegroom's gift to the bride was a pendant of aquamarine and diamonds. A reception, at which more than 100 guests were present, followed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Brandt left afterward to spend a fortnight in the Adirondacks and will be at home after September 1 at No. 88 Sisson avenue. Mr. Brandt is a graduate of Toronto university and foreman chemist at the Hartford Rubber Works.

Among the out of town guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Lester Baker, Mrs. H. K. Baker, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. E. Lieutenant Thorndike Saville of this city has been discharged from the United States army. He trained at the field, Mass.; Plattsburg camp and at Fortress Monroe, J. J. Morse, being commissioned in the coast artillery and then transferred to the Fennimore, Signal Corps, Division of Military W. Rowe, Aeronautics. He was in the service a year and a half. He will now become Thorndike associate professor of sanitary engineering at the University of North Carolina. He is a graduate of Harvard University, class of 1914, and received the additional degree of master of science in 1917. He also received the degree of bachelor of science in 1914 and civil engineer in 1915 from Dartmouth College and in 1917, the degree of master of science from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

1919

Last of June.

DUPONT-COLEMAN WEDDING

CEREMONY AT NORTHAMPTON

Miss Catherine Clark of Northampton Marries Son of Well-Known Delaware Family

June 16
A wedding ceremony of wide interest, at the First Congregational church in Northampton last evening at 7.30, united Miss Katharine Clark, daughter of George Wright Clark of Northampton, and Francis Victor duPont, son of Gen and Mrs Coleman duPont of Wilmington, Del. The church service was attended by a large company and a reception, attended by relatives and intimate friends, followed at the home of the bride's father, 105 Elm street, at 8 o'clock. The decoration of the church was an elaborate and beautiful arrangement of larkspur and peonies, with background of green at the altar. While the guests assembled the following program of organ music was played by Ralph L. Baldwin of Hartford, Ct: "Epithalamium," wedding hymn, Woodman; "Messe de Mariage," by Dubois; "entree du cortege, benediction nuptiale, offertoire, invocation, "Laus Deo" (sortie); "Nuptial March," by Guilman; "Burlasca e Melodia," by Baldwin; "Benediction Nuptiale," by Hollins; introduction to act III from "Lohengrin," by Wagner.

The processional march was the bridal procession from "Lohengrin," and preceding the bride and her father in the bridal procession were the ushers and the maid of honor. The maid of honor, the only attendant of the bride, was Miss Renee dePellepont duPont, sister of the bridegroom, and the best man was C. Douglass Buck of Wilmington. The ushers were Elenthere I. duPont of Wilmington, brother of the groom; Joseph H. Dallett of Wilmington, Gardner Catlin of Waterbury, Ct., Howard H. McClintock of Pittsburg, Pa., Thomas A. D. Fessenden of Boston and William P. Arnold of Northampton. The officiating minister was Rev Wendell Phime Keeler, pastor of the First church. During the service "Elsa's Dream" from "Lohengrin" was played, and the recessional was the Mendelssohn wedding march. The bride's gown was of pearl embroidered tulle, with satin court train and veil of tulle and lace, and she carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and white orchids. The gown of the maid of honor was of apricot and silver brocade and she carried Mme Ward roses and blue orchids.

The decoration of the house for the reception was made with larkspur, stocks, snapdragon and flowers of the season. The bride and groom were assisted in receiving by the bride's father, with her aunt, Mrs Samuel W. Lee, and the bridegroom's parents, Gen and Mrs duPont. A stringed or-

June Feingold-Ruffkess. 17
Miss Etta Florence Ruffkess, daughter of Mrs. Moses S. Ruffkess of No. 21 Mahl avenue, and Dr. Gustave A. Feingold, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Feingold of No. 28 Wooster street, were married Sunday evening at the home of the bride, Rabbi I. S. Hurwitz officiating. Owing to the recent death of the bride's father the ceremony was very simple, the guests consisting only of the members of the families of bride and bridegroom. A buffet lunch was served following the ceremony. After a trip to Atlantic City and Washington, D. C. Dr. and Mrs. Feingold will live in this city. Dr. Feingold is a graduate of Trinity college and Harvard university and a writer on psychology and education.

June Sanford-Totman. 16
The marriage of Miss Ethel Marguerite Totman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter W. Totman of No. 206 North Oxford street, and Robert Vincent Sanford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Sanford of Bristol, took

New Britain, June 15.—The South Congregational church will be the scene of the marriage of Miss Anna J. Montague to R. Louis Tryon of Medford, Mass., to-morrow evening at 6:30 o'clock. It will be one of the prettiest of the June nuptials. The church will be specially decorated for the occasion with cut flowers, palms and ferns. Invitations have been issued to a large number of relatives and friends. The Rev. Dr. George W. C. Hill, pastor of the South church, will officiate, and the Episcopal double ring service will be used.

Organist J. C. Beebe will play the bridal chorus from Lohengrin as the bridal party enters the church. The bride will be escorted by her father, William Bidwell Montague, who will give her away at the altar. The groomsmen with his best man will enter from the vestry and meet the bridal party at the altar.

Miss Isabell James of Montclair, N. J., a classmate of Miss Montague at Smith college, will be maid of honor, and the bridesmaid will be Miss Mabel Steele of this city. Miss Elizabeth Tryon of Medford was to be flower girl, but illness interferes. J. Edward Tryon of Medford, brother of the groom, will be the best man, and the ushers will be Donald MacJannet of Washington, D. C., Rufus Harrington of Medford, Mass., Malcolm Valentine of Medford, Graydon Cowles, who will be home from the officers' training camp at Plattsburg, N. Y., and Durward Boehm, a student at Middlebury college. The last two are cousins of the bride.

The bride's dress will be white georgette crepe, trimmed with brocade taffeta and Venise lace over white satin. The dress will have a court train. She will wear a tulle veil, and will carry a shower bouquet of bride roses and white sweet peas.

The maid of honor will wear pale blue dress with white accents. The bride's shoes will be moved from the part affected. For all unnecessary pressure will be relieved. The shoes are absolutely essential, so the shoes built with soles as broad as the feet. Where such a tendency exists the condition favors the development of a wide foot, together with the prevailing custom of wearing narrow shoes.

S

of France---Anne Morgan and

ND RESTORATION WORK IN FRANCE

1924

Compiegne, France, July 20.—(By

ION OF HONOR FOR MISS MORGAN

1924 the First Year's Work of the American at Devastated Country and the Facts and Will Be Read With Unusual Interest in Boston

By J. OLIN HOWE

eris, July 22.—Official notice has received by Mrs. A. M. Dike that and Miss Anne Morgan have been le officers of the Legion of Honor d that three of their associates in e American committee for devastat-France have been created Chev-ers of the Legion.

Mr. ...
No. 104 ...
the aff ...
wedding ...
one of ...
B. Hart ... the heal ...
encourage ...
celebrate ...
and Mrs. ...
of this ...
years. M ...
years at ...
the Intern ...
Meriden ... that comm ...
ognition ...
rice.
Born in ...
September ...
GOLD ...
On ...
of ...
at Mr. an ...
Recently ...
Mr. Rocky ... wedding ...
on High ...
Hall was ...
April 23 ...
Miss Me ...
Zollard ... were m ...
Charles ...
Congrega ...
Mass. T ...
tion took ...
J. A. Sm ...
F. Hodg ...
H. M. Ha ...
Hall live ...
Hall of H ... ter-inde ...
non. Fred ...
children ...
son, Fran ... was un ...

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hart, Whose Golden Wedding Comes To-Morrow.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry F. Hart of No. 104 Capen street will celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding, Saturday, at the home of one of their seven sons, Dr. Albert B. Hart, in New London. Because the health of the couple does not encourage it, there will be no special celebration of the anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. Hart have been residents of this city for upwards of forty years. Mr. Hart worked for many years at his trade of machinist for the International Silver company of Meriden, and has been retired by that company on a pension in recognition of long and faithful service.

Born in Oldenberg, Germany, September 18, 1845, Mr. Hart served in the Twenty-sixth New York Cavalry during the Civil War.

GOLDEN WEDDING IN ROCKY HILL

(Special to The Courant.)
Rocky Hill, May 16.

Mr. and Mrs. I. Duane Hall, who recently moved from Newington to Rocky Hill, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary in their home on High street this afternoon. Mr. Hall was born in Granville, Mass., April 23, 1845. Mrs. Hall, who was Miss Merissa A. Hunt, was born in Tolland, Mass, July 16, 1847. They were married May 16, 1867, by Rev. Charles J. Hinsdale, pastor of the Congregational Church in Blandford, Mass. Those present at the celebration today were two daughters, Mrs. J. A. Smith of Windsor and Mrs. H. F. Hodge of Bridgeport; two sons, H. M. Hall, with whom Mr. and Mrs. Hall live in this town, and Ira R. Hall of Hayden Station; their daughter-in-law, Mrs. H. M. Hall; a grandson, Fred Hall, and two great-grandchildren, Shirley and Ray Hall. A son, Frank A. Hall of Chelsea, Mich., was unable to be present.

and a past senior vice-commander of the state department.

Mrs. Hart, whose maiden name was Bertha Bold, was born in Prussia, and, like her future husband, came to this country as a child. Both families settled in New York, and the marriage of the couple took place there on June 16, 1867. They lived in Meriden shortly after their marriage, later returning to New York city.

Mr. Hart has served in the board of aldermen in this city, and is a member of Hartford lodge, F. and A. M. Mrs. Hart is a member of Ivanhoe chapter and of the Woman's Relief corps. The seven sons of the couple are: Charles H. of No. 104 Capen street; Captain of Police Henry L. of No. 186 Blue Hills avenue; City Collector Otis J. of No. 397 Sigourney street; Louis M. of Blue Hills avenue; Dr. Albert B. of New London; William S. of No. 104 Capen street, and Raymond T. of many avenue.

figured in a crash on the highway here May 30 and out of which Clarence Schnare, age 14, lost an eye. He did not contend when charged with operating a machine while under the influence of liquor in court today. A fine of $200 was imposed by Judge Bushnell of this charge and $50 additional for reckless driving. The machine struck was that of E. M. Atwood of Springfield. Schnare was riding with him. It was shown by testimony that Miss Ayer with two friends from Smith college had been in Hartford for dinner and were returning.

Miss Ayer's father is a manufacturer in Ellington, Conn. It is understood that the delegates so employed in maritime and air warfare, mechanical means which may be employed for the restriction of the rights of nations or food, modification of the rights of all raw materials for cloth-making especially in the cotton and woolen industries, taking their place in the production of prize coupons, and the future of merchandise.

Nina Perry Mr. and Mrs. New York, and a son of Mrs. en, S. C., and yesterday in nedral of St. ceremony was lliam B. Lusk Mr. and Mrs. home. Miss LOSE EYE Easthampton Thomp-

1917
e collision oct- et, Thompson- O. E. M. Att- street, Spring- the Fisk rub- t the face, head trence Schnare, field, received nose and right on of Dr F. F. led both, that he eye. Both glass from the car, owned by hampton and er, Miss Sadie passengers Miss lo, N. Y., and of 24 Wallace n, N. Y., the e students, was field while Mr ing south. The r with a crash s of both were left forward chines snapped were taken into Quinlan, near was soon at the the wounds the boy to ur for treat- dist. Chief ne within a er joined by ox-stick. Miss rty had left 0 yesterday and went to he exhibited did for the $10.85. She lock to visit She left t. for home. said she was another car. ved at him. he was not 28 miles an hen she ap- ar she was and did not living when

It was shown by testimony that Miss Ayer with two friends from Smith college had been in Hartford for dinner and were returning. Miss Ayer's father is a manufacturer in Ellington, Conn. It is understood that the delegates so employed in maritime and air warfare, mechanical means which may be employed for the restriction of the rights of nations or food, modification of the rights of all raw materials for cloth-making especially in the cotton and woolen industries, taking their place in the production of prize coupons, and the future of merchandise.

June 17, 1917
At a family gathering in honor of their wedding anniversary, at their country home, Valley Falls farm, in

ARTHUR WADLUND AND ALLEN JONES.

Valley Falls Farm, the New Country Home of Dr. C. C. Beach.

FROM THE SECOND TERRACE THE LITTLE TOWN OF VERNON CAN BE SEEN.

High among the hills about Bol- | The wide drive through the en-
ton, the drive through the en- | trance gate, marked by stone pillars,

THE

THE

308-314 Asylum St.

GROCEER

IMPORTERS

THE LATHR

Bottled Beers by the case and barrel.

Guinness

Victoria Dry Gin by bot-

Sauterne Clarets, Sherry, Port, Catawba, Old White

Newport Cocktails.

French Brandy.

1867 Rye, bottle or gal-

Gordon Dry Gin.

Plymouth Gin.

Sloe Gin.

Bacardi Rumm.

gallon.

Sherwood Rye, bottle or lon.

1867 Rye, bottle or gal-

le or gallon.

Appointed Trinity's Valedictorian and Salu- torian.

Arthur Pehr Robert Wadlund of Trinity was appointed to deliver the valedictory and Allen Northey was appointed salutatorian at the commencement exercises at Trinity, Conn., on the morning, June 18, by the faculty at a meeting Tuesday afternoon. Dudley Scott Stark of New York city appointed to deliver the valedictory addresses. Wadlund was appointed salutatorian and Northey also received appointment to deliver addresses. The speakers on the commencement program compete for the F. Wadlund prize of $75, which is given to each commencement. Wadlund, the valedictorian, has been a land scholar for three years and a Edwin-Hoadley scholar for two years. He recently received a Terry fellowship for 1917-18. He has served on many important committees, including the honor society, sophomore hop committee, smoker committee, the men's committee, the Ivy League of 1917. He is a member of the Phi Beta Kappa. He was salutatorian, was a member of the football team last year on the second foot- ball team for three years, being captain for three years. He has served on many important committees and was a member of the sophomore committee. He has served as secretary-treasurer, vice-presi- dent, and Class Day President.

Wade Macrum has been elected president of the class by the class day commit- tee on Saturday afternoon. Neumann Rock, of New York who was elected president of the class, has withdrawn from the class and is at present an ensign in the navy. The appointed class president was a member of his high school team, two years, and of Trinity basketball and football team last year. He has served as secretary-treasurer, vice-president, and president of his class. In addition to serving on several committees as manager of the football team. He is a member of the Phi Beta Kappa, the Phi Kappa Phi, and the Phi Kappa Phi. It is probable that the class his- tory will be omitted from the class program this year, as John Kramer, of Fairbairn, Minn., who was elected historian by the class, is at the reserve officers' camp at Plattsburg. Sidney Hungerford, of New York, a member of the senior class, returned to college, Monday, June 18, for a month, during his absence at Plattsburg. He will be discharged from the camp and will participate in the class day exercises and receive his degree.

Friends Looking for Charles Wooster and Miss Bidwell Hear They Were Married in Afternoon.

June 18
 Charles Adams Wooster, of Tariffville of the graduating class of Trinity college was married shortly after the commencement exercises Monday to Miss Alice Bidwell of Thomaston. The young Trinity man received his degree shortly after noon and was married at 3 o'clock at Christ church. Dr. John J. McCook of Trinity, who has been one of Wooster's instructors for the past four years, performed the ceremony. Only members of the immediate family were present. Paul Edwin Fenton of Thomaston, the bridegroom's room mate at college, was best man. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Wooster departed on an automobile trip.

The announcement of the marriage was circulated among the students Monday evening and caused considerable surprise as no announcement had been made. Mr. Wooster had arranged to take Miss Bidwell to the senior promenade in alumni hall last night and had already partly filled a dance card with his college mates. It was while different students were looking about the hall for the absent one that the announcement of his wedding became known.

Wooster has been very popular on the campus during his four years at Trinity. He has been a member of the musical clubs for four years. He is a member of the Alpha Chi chapter of Delta Kappa Epsilon. He prepared for Trinity at the Hartford Public High school.

RETIRED AFTER 29 YEARS' SERVICE

At the meeting of the board of fire commissioners last night, a petition from David J. McSweegan for retirement was granted, to date from June 15. He asked to be retired owing to ill health. He has been in the service for twenty-nine years, being appointed on December 18, 1888. He is a private and had been doing duty at Engine Company No. 14 up to a few days ago, when he became ill.

MR. AND MRS. COWLES WED 60 YEARS

(Special to The Courant.)

Southington, June 18.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin C. Cowles of Meriden avenue today celebrated the sixtieth anniversary of their marriage. During the day there were nearly 100 visitors. The couple received many gifts. Both Mr. and Mrs. Cowles have been lifelong residents of this town and have been members of the Grace Methodist Church almost from its beginning here. Both of them have taken active part in the work of the church. Mr. Cowles has been employed at the Plantsville branch of the Peck, Stow & Wilcox Company plant for many years. Mrs. Cowles is an expert in poultry raising.

PHILIP P. GALE ACTING PRES'T, STANDARD SCREW

And Will Be Elected President at Annual Meeting.

Philip B. Gale, first vice-president of the Standard Machine Screw Company and the Hartford Machine Screw Company, has been acting as head of the companies since the death of W. B. Pearson, of Chicago, Ill., president of the companies, some weeks ago. The annual meeting of the Standard Machine Screw Company, Tuesday, will be held before his Philip B. Gale.

MENT OF REW CO.

on Execu- at Meet- tors.

19

...ager of the ...ew Company, ...of the Stand- ...a meeting of ...andard Com- ...New York. ...s a subsidiary ...any and Mr. ...resident of ...ce the death of President W. B. Pearson of Chicago, Ill., some weeks ago. It was Mr. Pearson's wish that Mr. Gale be his successor. At the meeting of the directors yesterday Robert H. Schutz of this city was elected a member of the executive committee of the Standard Screw Company to fill a vacancy.

Mr. Gale's many Hartford friends will be heartily pleased over his election to the presidency of the Standard Screw Company. The company employs all told in its different plants over 12,000 men.

WEST HARTFORD.

S. N. Robinson Buys More Than 100 Acres on Mountain Road.

Seymour N. Robinson of No. 145 Oxford street, treasurer of the Berlin Construction Company, has bought four pieces of land on Mountain road from Morgan Goodwin and Nellie E. Ten Eyck and Mary C. Reed, amounting to more than 100 acres, the deed having been passed Saturday. The two pieces of property from Mrs. Ten Eyck and Mrs. Reed consisting of about twenty-nine acres, are on the west side of Mountain road, just south of Albany avenue, and are along the Alcott and Goodwin properties, having a fine elevation for building purposes. The pieces from Morgan Goodwin embrace the Goodwin farm house and land surrounding it and also land on the east side of Mountain road on Flag street, including about eighty acres. The property has a frontage of more than 2,600 feet on Mountain road. It is bounded on the south by the farm of J. Scofield Rowe, vice-president of the Aetna Life Insurance Company. The deed allows Mr. Goodwin to remain upon the place until April 1, 1918, with privilege to pass through and also to build upon the high elevation back from the Goodwin homestead.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morton Crehore Married at St. Stephen's Church in Cohasset to John Galt, Who Will Take Her to His Home in Honolulu

June 19 Miss Eleanor Crehore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morton Crehore of Cohasset, was married at noon today to John Galt of Honolulu, at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church in Cohasset, which has been the scene of many of her life's events. Mr. and Mrs. Morton S. Crehore of Cohasset, Mass., announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Eleanor Crehore, to John Galt of Honolulu, Hawaii. Miss Crehore is sister of Morton S. Crehore, jr., a member of the senior class at Trinity College, and Mr. Galt is well known in this city, where he has frequently visited relatives. He is a member of the senior class at Yale University. He is the son of John R. Crehore, a banker in Honolulu. The wedding will take place in a few months and will be a grand affair. The bride's only attendant was a maid of honor, Miss Mary Cunningham of Milton, who is a

A NOTABLE GOLDEN WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. William Clapp of Dorchester Observe Their 50th Wedding Anniversary Under Conditions of Historic Interest

Interest far out of the ordinary marked the celebration, on Tuesday, by Mr. and Mrs. William Clapp of Dorchester, of the anniversary of their marriage. Fifty years ago a young couple stood in a room of an old residence at 195 Boston street, Dorchester, and received their friends, following their marriage, and on Tuesday night they stood in the same room, having the same carpet, wall paper, curtains and furniture, as on the night of the marriage, and received scores of friends at their golden wedding anniversary reception.

Mr. and Mrs. Clapp are both descendants of old Dorchester families. Ever since the wedding the cherished wish of their lives has been to keep the room as it was on the wedding night, and the room and its contents have been well preserved. The paint is hardly scratched, the carpet but little worn, the old-fashioned furniture whole and the tapestries untorn. Mrs. Clapp wore the dress in which she was married and her husband showed the guests the tall hat he had worn on the day of the wedding.

The couple told how Mr. Clapp's father, Captain Lemuel Clapp, had been married in the same room and how his grandfather, William Clapp, also had been married in the same room in 1806 and fifty years later, in 1856, had celebrated his golden wedding there. From 1806 to this day the old homestead has been maintained. Although the march of progress shows the building of scores of houses in the vicinity, the Clapp estate, with its broad acres, remains the same.

Mr. Clapp was born on Aug. 31, 1843, in the old mansion, and his wife was born on June 24, 1845, in another house in the vicinity. Rev. Nathaniel Hall married them at the First Parish Church, Meeting House Hill. Mr. Clapp's grandfather was the originator of the Clapp pear, which became a favorite throughout New England. The first tree upon which the sprouts were grafted to grow the pears died a few years ago, but several later specimens still stand on the estate and bear fruit.

TRINITY HONORS COL. "JIM" ERWIN, PURSUER OF VILLA

Head of Seventh Cavalry Was Also in Geronimo Campaign.

Colonel James Brailsford Erwin, U. S. A., was among those who attended the commencement exercises at Trinity College yesterday and received the degree of Bachelor of Science as of the class of 1876.

While a student at the college he was a roommate of Colonel W. C. Skinner, president of Colt's Patent GENERAL ERWIN.

Newly Promoted Army Officer Was a Student at Trinity College With Classmates in Hartford.

Aug 1917 Among the promotions of army officers recently announced by the war department is the name of Colonel James Brailsford Erwin, of the Alabama whom Trinity college last June conferred the degree of B. A. as of the class of 1876. Colonel Erwin was a student at Trinity for three years, during which time he was a roommate of Colonel W. C. Skinner, president of the Colt Patent Firearms Manufacturing company. His recent promotion is to the grade of brigadier general. At present he is engaged in special inspection duty for the eastern department, with headquarters at Governors Island.

Colonel Erwin entered West Point after leaving Trinity, being graduated in the class of 1880. He was assigned to the Fourth cavalry, and during the late '80's saw service against Geronimo, the Apache chief. Subsequently Colonel Erwin was on duty in the Philippines for seven years. He accompanied the Pershing expedition into Mexico last year. The late Robert G. W. Erwin, a brother of the colonel, was also a graduate of Trinity, class of 1874. He was president of the Atlantic Coast line.

June 19

Miss Helena Alvord of this city was maid of honor at the marriage of Miss Edith Helen Alvord, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Alvord of Winsted, and William Clinton Burwell, a Trinity college graduate, which took place at 7 o'clock, Tuesday evening, at the home of the bride's parents. The Rev. Dr. Karl Relland, rector of St. George's church, New York, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, officiated. Theodore Burwell, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Mr. and Mrs. Burwell will be at home after September 1 in Hinsdale avenue, Winsted, where Mr. Burwell is associated with his father in the lumber business. Among the guests were Mrs. David Woodhouse and Miss Field of Wethersfield.

Draft

- Emil Henry Lukeman
Francis Lukeman
Marcus Mack
Albany, Francis
George Olin Ma
Mansfield, Mi
Herbert Wilson
Walter Ma
Philip James
MacDougall
Lake McCau
Thomas Jo
James McFall
Michael
William Mikalo
Mastell, Geste
William Morell
August Mor
Morton, Howard
Frank Muska, Jo Korten, Harry Henry Nor Henry Oliva,
John Dennison
Edward Osborn,
Major Pappa
Pascoe, Herbert
Raymond Pease,
Paul Michael Pfeiffer, Wol Podlisky,
Richard Poeh
Alfred Franklin
Stephen Potwin,
James Prance,
Edward Charles
Francis Frank Donato Angelo
Joseph
John Reid, An Francis Exavie
Roe, Julius
Ruzza, John
Albert Ryan,
James Hor
Abraham, Stanley
Albert Ed
Louis Schaed
Fran Schaedlich,
Albert Leslie
Hilting, Hans
Schmitt, Fred Smith,
Lerby, Highast
Joseph S
bride, a at Tale
ubers
'15, Ga
Mass.; the brid
River;
brook, Eale, '1
ine the
New Lo
will liv
mother
the stat
has been ticut Fe and is a Joseph

the Draft in Neat

Miss Dora May Randall, daughter Mrs. H. Randall of Riverview evard, and Albert Schirm of fford, were married at the home r, and Mrs. George A. Douglass, e and aunt of the bride, this att- on at 4 o'clock. The ceremony

William Loos, Emil Henry Joseph Francis Lukeman, 454 WINDSOR

MEN REGISTERED

Alphabetical List Comprised by Town Clerk Maude.

(Special to The Courant.)

Windsor, June 15.

Town Clerk George R. Maude has compiled in alphabetical form the names of the 454 men of Windsor who registered on June 5, for the conscriptive draft. For the first voting precinct they are as follows:

First Precinct.

Machinsky, Marcus Mack-ed John Mahoney, Francis honey, George Olin Ma-lliam Henry Mandrey, Milargelony, Herbert Wilson Joseph Matonis, Walter Ma-eph Maukaus, Philip James rdon Duvar, MacDougall, rthy, Delmar Lake McCau-Leo McCauley, Thomas Jo-ath, Willis James McFall, rancis McKenna, Michael spie, Joseph Mihelson Si-zarcakas, William Mikalo-Howard Miskell, Gestin George William Morell, loah Morell, August Mor-Wilson Morton, Howard
nson, Frank Muska, Jo-Miller.

John Abcunnis, George H. Adams,
Mathias Adams, Leon Alfano, Alden E.
Alford, Lewis William Allen, Andrew
J. Alohus, Andrew T. Anderson, Arthur Andrews, Albert D. Andrus, Nicholas Antinck, Edward W. Aubinger, Standley A. Austin, Howard W. Barss, Cliff-
ford V. Barber, Steve Rozen Barps, kl, Henry M. Bartlett, Leon Barnes, William K. Barnes, William
I. Barber, Carl Raymond Babcockes.
Joseph Banzis, Andrew Bakston, Archie Batyete, Henry P. Babcock, Arthur R. Babcock, Frank S. Bennet-Bonjamin Bennett, Wallright W. Bee-ker, Frank Harold Berg, Joseph Bennett, Aldemor Benway, Albert
Becker, Joseph M. Benway, Charles
Becker, William A. Becker, Harold
Bill, Leon A. Bincoski, Mike Bincoski
Merrill Edwin Bill, Peter Blozatis
Raymond Austin Bond, Peter Bond, Stanley Boxus, Waslin Boudar, John
Bobins, Alvin E. Brown, Hilliard Bryant, Jake Erlitzis, John Bronyevag, Bernard Oliver Broderick, Daniel Joseph Broderick, Francis Albert Broderick, Frank Brewer, John Burn-
stary, Frank Butsk, Charles H. Burchard, Joseph Francis Bushnell, Joh-
J. Bushnell, Joseph Massey Burnet-
John W. Campbell, William Ralph
Caye, Raymond F. Canfield, Benjamin S. Carter, Henry O. Christense-John Christensen, John Osborn
Clapp, Benjamin Warner Clark, his
Raymond B. Clark, George Marshal-Clarke, Herbert Edwin Clay, Kennet-
B. Cowan, Thomas Leslie Cowan, Cliff-ford A. Coe, Gilbert H. Coffey, Howard Clark Cooley, John Cordo, William B. Cornish, Harold R. Coe, Ro-N. Comp, Mortimer C. Cooke, Osceol-
A. Crandell, Felix Czmiskekl, Jame-
M. Daniels, Lester Andrew Dear-

Francis Norton, Harry North, Walter Henry Nor-

on, Roland Henry Oliva, czlinsky, John Dennison Roger Howard Osborn, rd Otto.
yde Palmer, Isador PAPA-Allen Pascoe, Herbert
e, John Raymond Pease, ett Pelkey, Paul Michael derick E. Pfeiffer, Wol-Phelps, Joe Podilsky,
y, Albert Richard Poeh-Polozia, Alfred Franklin
orge Stephen Potwin, er, jr., James France, Pratt, Roland Charles Wolcott Prentic, Frank-Leo Quisquey.

Radesky, Donato Angelo
John Reichle, Joseph William John Reid, An-aka, Francis Exavier old Bretoun Roe, Julius Sabature Ruzza, John Francis Albert Ryan,
ard Ryan, James Hor-Walter Saponis, Stanley Salaska, Albert Eds, Fred Louis Schaed-Herman Schaedlich, Schlude, Albert Leslie
cles Schlichting, Hans Charles Schmiutt, Fred-

John Abcunnis, George H. Adams,
Mathias Adams, Leon Alfano, Alden E.
Alford, Lewis William Allen, Andrew
J. Alohus, Andrew T. Anderson, Arthur Andrews, Albert D. Andrus, Nicholas Antinck, Edward W. Aubinger, Stand-
ley A. Austin, Howard W. Barss, Cliff-
ford V. Barber, Steve Rozen Barps,
kl, Henry M. Bartlett, Leon
Barnes, William K. Barnes, William
I. Barber, Carl Raymond Babcockes.
Joseph Banzis, Andrew Bakston, Archie Batyete, Henry P. Babcock, Arthur R. Babcock, Frank S. Bennet-Bonjamin Bennett, Wallright W. Bee-
ker, Frank Harold Berg, Joseph Bennett, Aldemor Benway, Albert
Becker, Joseph M. Benway, Charles
Becker, William A. Becker, Harold
Bill, Leon A. Bincoski, Mike Bincoski
Merrill Edwin Bill, Peter Blozatis
Raymond Austin Bond, Peter Bond,
Stanley Boxus, Waslin Boudar, John
Bobins, Alvin E. Brown, Hilliard Bryant, Jake Erlitzis, John Bronyevag, Bernard Oliver Broderick, Daniel Joseph Broderick, Francis Albert Broderick, Frank Brewer, John Burn-
stary, Frank Butsk, Charles H. Burchard, Joseph Francis Bushnell, Joh-
J. Bushnell, Joseph Massey Burnet-
John W. Campbell, William Ralph
Caye, Raymond F. Canfield, Benjamin S. Carter, Henry O. Christense-
John Christensen, John Osborn
Clapp, Benjamin Warner Clark, his
Raymond B. Clark, George Marshal-
Clarke, Herbert Edwin Clay, Kennet-
B. Cowan, Thomas Leslie Cowan, Cliff-
ford A. Coe, Gilbert H. Coffey, Howard Clark Cooley, John Cordo, William B. Cornish, Harold R. Coe, Ro-N. Comp, Mortimer C. Cooke, Osceol-
A. Crandell, Felix Czmiskekl, Jame-
M. Daniels, Lester Andrew Dear-

performed by Rev. Francis Dell, or of the First Presbyterian rch of Thompsonville. Miss Eva en of Windsor played the wed-march from Lohengrin and selections. The color scheme ouse decorations was pink and
e and the ceremony took place er a canopy of ferns and pink buds. The attendants were Miss herine Reanby of Gloucester, rm of Hartford, a brother of bridegroom, as best man. The ars were Miss Vera Vietts of Suff-Mrs. Matthew Leggett of mpsonville, Mrs. George Ronald-of Springfield, and Miss Eva
th of Barre, Vt. The bride wore wn of white Georgette crepe with
l trimmings, full length white veil and carried a bouquet of thur Andrews, Albert D. Andrus, Nich-and lilies of the valley. The Stand of honor wore pink crepe de e and carried a bouquet of pink Net peas. The ushers wore white ns with corsage bouquets of pink
A reception followed the emony which was attended by ut 100 guests from Barre, Vt., ose, Gloucester, Boston, Spring-
Wilbraham and Thompsonville, Windsor and Hartford, and York city. After a two weeks'
Mr. and Mrs. Schirm
live in Hartford and will be at after October 15 at No. 649
one

June Durston-Woodin. 20 Miss Gladys Melinda Woodin, daughter of Wallace I. Woodin, sec-ary of the Connecticut Sunday ore, was born in the town of Blaine, was born yes-on at the Hartford
West Hart-Sidney Durs-
f Rev. Alfred
henectady, N.
were married
4 o'clock at Lex-onal Church.
Lieutenformed by the assisted by the church, Rev.
pastor of the ew York. The ew York. The
Lowry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs.
Ralph M. Lowry, of West Hartford, as flower girl. There were no bridesmaids. The bride was dressed in white embroidered net and wore a large picture hat. Following the ceremony, an informal reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where a wedding supper was served for the members of the bridal party and their relatives. The members of the Brides' Club of girls assisted at the reception and were dressed in white, with pink hats and wore corsage bouquets of pink sweet-peas. The house was decorated with white roses and wild flowers. Relatives were present from Albany, New York and Philadelphia. Mr. and Mrs. Durston left for a two weeks' wedding trip on Long Island and will be at home after September 1 at No. 1090 Farmington avenue, West Hartford.

Lindeman, of Kelley Station, Penn.
Smith, '18; Miss Nancy Bradley, of Derby, and Miss Elizabeth H. Tillinghast of Hope Valley, R. I. Joseph S. G. Bolton, brother of the bride, and a classmate of Mr. Bailey at Yale, was best man, and the ushers were Lyman Porter, Yale,
'16, Gardner Murphy, of Concord, Mass.; Clarence Bolton, brother of the bride; John Chittenden, of East River; Paul Murdock, of Westbrook, and Raymond E. Dudley, Yale, '16, of Clinton. After spending the summer at Eastern Point, New London, Mr. and Mrs. Bailey will live in Kent. The bride's mother is well known throughout the state for her club work and has been president of the Connecticut Federation of Women's clubs, and is a daughter of the late Judge Joseph Sheldon.

John Abcunnis, George H. Adams,
Mathias Adams, Leon Alfano, Alden E.
Alford, Lewis William Allen, Andrew
J. Alohus, Andrew T. Anderson, Arthur Andrews, Albert D. Andrus, Nicholas Antinck, Edward W. Aubinger, Stand-
ley A. Austin, Howard W. Barss, Cliff-
ford V. Barber, Steve Rozen Barps,
kl, Henry M. Bartlett, Leon
Barnes, William K. Barnes, William
I. Barber, Carl Raymond Babcockes.
Joseph Banzis, Andrew Bakston, Archie Batyete, Henry P. Babcock, Arthur R. Babcock, Frank S. Bennet-Bonjamin Bennett, Wallright W. Bee-
ker, Frank Harold Berg, Joseph Bennett, Aldemor Benway, Albert
Becker, Joseph M. Benway, Charles
Becker, William A. Becker, Harold
Bill, Leon A. Bincoski, Mike Bincoski
Merrill Edwin Bill, Peter Blozatis
Raymond Austin Bond, Peter Bond,
Stanley Boxus, Waslin Boudar, John
Bobins, Alvin E. Brown, Hilliard Bryant, Jake Erlitzis, John Bronyevag, Bernard Oliver Broderick, Daniel Joseph Broderick, Francis Albert Broderick, Frank Brewer, John Burn-
stary, Frank Butsk, Charles H. Burchard, Joseph Francis Bushnell, Joh-
J. Bushnell, Joseph Massey Burnet-
John W. Campbell, William Ralph
Caye, Raymond F. Canfield, Benjamin S. Carter, Henry O. Christense-
John Christensen, John Osborn
Clapp, Benjamin Warner Clark, his
Raymond B. Clark, George Marshal-
Clarke, Herbert Edwin Clay, Kennet-
B. Cowan, Thomas Leslie Cowan, Cliff-
ford A. Coe, Gilbert H. Coffey, Howard Clark Cooley, John Cordo, William B. Cornish, Harold R. Coe, Ro-N. Comp, Mortimer C. Cooke, Osceol-
A. Crandell, Felix Czmiskekl, Jame-
M. Daniels, Lester Andrew Dear-

performed by Rev. Francis Dell, or of the First Presbyterian
rch of Thompsonville. Miss Eva en of Windsor played the wed-
march from Lohengrin and selections. The color scheme ouse decorations was pink and
e and the ceremony took place er a canopy of ferns and pink buds. The attendants were Miss herine Reanby of Gloucester, rm of Hartford, a brother of bridegroom, as best man. The ars were Miss Vera Vietts of Suff-Mrs. Matthew Leggett of mpsonville, Mrs. George Ronald-
of Springfield, and Miss Eva
th of Barre, Vt. The bride wore wn of white Georgette crepe with
l trimmings, full length white
veil and carried a bouquet of
thur Andrews, Albert D. Andrus, Nich-and lilies of the valley. The Stand of honor wore pink crepe de
e and carried a bouquet of pink Net peas. The ushers wore white ns with corsage bouquets of pink
A reception followed the emony which was attended by
ut 100 guests from Barre, Vt.,
ose, Gloucester, Boston, Spring-
Wilbraham and Thompsonville, Windsor and Hartford, and
York city. After a two weeks'
Mr. and Mrs. Schirm
live in Hartford and will be at after October 15 at No. 649
one

Chicago Heiress Who Married Russian Nobleman, Seeks Divorce.

Chicago, June 19.—The Countess Eleanor Patterson Gizycka, formerly Miss Eleanor Medill Patterson of Chicago, testified in her suit for divorce today, telling a story of neglect and unhappiness on the lonesome estate in Russia of her husband, Count Josef Gizycka, that finally won from Judge Charles M. Thomson the announcement that he was satisfied she could receive her decree.

The ancestral estate of the Russian nobleman, which he had described vividly before their marriage in Washington in 1904, proved to be a tumble-down, ramshackle castle, surrounded by peasants' huts and five miles from a railroad. Countess Gizycka testified. The imposing array of seventy servants promised proved to be a horde of Russian peasant boys and girls, who received no pay but their food and a trifling present at Christmas.

She declared that her husband's life was centered on hunting, drinking and women, that his father had died insane, that the servants lived in constant terror of him and that he had married her solely for her money.

The countess said that she wished to be known as Mrs. Gizycka and wanted to lose her title forever. All of her income of $20,000 a year had been used to maintain her titled husband's establishment, she continued.

"He thought he would get hold of me when he married me."

June 20
One of the largest June weddings of the season in New Haven was that of Miss Dorothea Bolton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Bolton of that city and Harold Chapman Bailey, Yale, '16, which took place at 7:30 Wednesday evening at the Church of the Messiah in New Haven, the Rev. Theodore A. Fischer, pastor of the church, officiating, assisted by the Rev. G. F. Bailey of Collinsville, father of the bridegroom. There were two flower girls, Frances Bolton, sister of the bride, and Elizabeth H. Tillinghast of Hope Valley, R. I., and seven bridesmaids, Miss Marion Bailey, of Collinsville, a sister of the groom; Miss Ruth S. Curtis, Miss Dorothy Arskine, of Smith college, '18, of Rochester, Vt.; Miss Virginia Lindeman, of Kelley Station, Penn., '18; Miss Nancy Bradley, of Derby, and Miss Elizabeth H. Tillinghast of Hope Valley, R. I. Joseph S. G. Bolton, brother of the bride, and a classmate of Mr. Bailey at Yale, was best man, and the ushers were Lyman Porter, Yale, '16, Gardner Murphy, of Concord, Mass.; Clarence Bolton, brother of the bride; John Chittenden, of East River; Paul Murdock, of Westbrook, and Raymond E. Dudley, Yale, '16, of Clinton. After spending the summer at Eastern Point, New London, Mr. and Mrs. Bailey will live in Kent. The bride's mother is well known throughout the state for her club work and has been president of the Connecticut Federation of Women's clubs, and is a daughter of the late Judge Joseph Sheldon.

Schirm-Randall.
(Special to The Courant.) Suffield, June 20.

59

Miss Dora May Randall, daughter of Mrs. H. Randall of Riverview boulevard, and Albert Schirm of Hartford, were married at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Douglass, uncle and aunt of the bride, this afternoon at 4 o'clock. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Francis Dell, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Thompsonville. Miss Eva Tilden of Windsor played the wedding march from Lohengrin and other selections. The color scheme of house decorations was pink and white and the ceremony took place under a canopy of ferns and pink rosebuds. The attendants were Miss Katherine Reany of Gloucester, Mass., maid of honor, and Charles Schirm of Hartford, a brother of the bridegroom, as best man. The ushers were Miss Vera Vietts of Suffield, Mrs. Matthew Leggett of Thompsonville, Mrs. George Ronaldson of Springfield, and Miss Eva Smith of Barre, Vt. The bride wore a gown of white Georgette crepe with pearl trimmings, full length white tulle veil and carried a bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley. The maid of honor wore pink crepe de chine and carried a bouquet of pink sweet peas. The ushers wore white gowns with corsage bouquets of pink roses. A reception followed the ceremony which was attended by about 100 guests from Barre, Vt., Melrose, Gloucester, Boston, Springfield, Wilbraham and Thompsonville, Mass., Windsor and Hartford, and New York city. After a two weeks' wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Schirm will live in Hartford and will be at home after October 15 at No. 649 Maple avenue.

June 20
Miss Gladys Melinda Woodin, daughter of Wallace I. Woodin, secretary of the Connecticut Sunday School Association, and Mrs. Woodin, was born yesterday afternoon at the Hartford Hospital to Lieutenant James A. S. Durston and Mrs. Durston of West Vernon, Mass., formerly of this city. Mrs. Durston was before her marriage with Miss Gladys Woodin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace I. Woodin of Lexington road, West Hartford. Lieutenant Durston served in France with the 101st Machine Gun Battalion, church, Rev. Sidney Durston, pastor of the New York. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attended by Jane Lee Lowry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph M. Lowry, of West Hartford, as flower girl. There were no bridesmaids. The bride was dressed in white embroidered net and wore a large picture hat. Following the ceremony, an informal reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where a wedding supper was served for the members of the bridal party and their relatives. The members of the Brides' Club of girls assisted at the reception and were dressed in white, with pink hats and wore corsage bouquets of pink sweet-peas. The house was decorated with white roses and wild flowers. Relatives were present from Albany, New York and Philadelphia. Mr. and Mrs. Durston left for a two weeks' wedding trip on Long Island and will be at home after September 1 at No. 1090 Farmington avenue, West Hartford.

SEPTEMBER 9, 1920

"Old Guard" Gathered to Do Honor to Amos Whitney

Members of Noted Whitney Family an ret or Ho

cia Pr
Co Me
the Ma pla her
of late suc
ney
He
was pres
nev day year ing ago secr Man dent pho
M Har
ingt ford
T
is V & S mak are fore chil lonj
are Gre
ing
WH

Major George Q. Whitney, Amos Whitney, Clarence E. Whitney, George F. W.

UNDER LAUREL ARCH

Springfield
Miss Lois E. Thomas Becomes the Bride of Raymond A. Harwood June 20

The marriage of Miss Lois E. Thomas, daughter of Mr and Mrs George H. Thomas of Allen street, and Raymond A. Harwood, son of Mr and Mrs E. E. Mallette of White street, took place at the home of the bride's parents at 7 o'clock last evening. Dr [unclear] of Hartford, Ct. permony and was assisted by Rev. H. Hope of the Emanational church. The service was used. Miss Thomas, while the only Thomas, cousin of the

WIVES' ANNIVERSARY

MINCKINSON MARRIED
June 20

Mother Used 29 Years in Same Room

anniversary of the marriage of her parents, Mr and Mrs Oliver Dickinson, was chosen by Miss Minckinson for her wedding day.
The day she became the bride was the anniversary of the marriage of Arthur Ramberg, son of P. E. Ramberg of Wakefield. The wedding ceremony being performed in the parlor on home at Atwater street, a very room in which the bride and groom had been married.

The richness of sentiment was the feature of the ceremony, which took place at 4 o'clock by Rev.
Rice of St Paul's University church. The wedding music from "Lohengrin" was played by the bride's cousin, Miss Helen Fisk. Miss Minerva Dickinson was her sister's maid of honor, and Willard G. Barron of School street served as best man.
The bridal party also included two children, Elizabeth Dickinson of Hemp-stead, L. I., a cousin of the bride, who was flower girl, and Richard Ram-berg of Bradford, nephew of the bridegroom, as page.

An informal reception followed the ceremony. Mr and Mrs Ramberg left for a wedding trip, the bride's traveling costume being a tan poiret twill suit with brown hat. The out-of-town guests here for the wedding included Mrs A. Don Dickinson and children, Asa and Elizabeth, of Hempstead, L.
I., Mr and Mrs H. A. Ramberg and son Richard, and Edward Westland of Bradford, Mr and Mrs W. S. Kimball and family of Hinsdale, N. H., Mr and Mrs F. C. Johnson, Donald Johnson of Mill Neck, L. I., Mr and Mrs McHarg Davenport of New Hyde Park, L. I.
The parents of the bridegroom were unable to be present owing to the illness of Mrs Ramberg.

VAIL-MEADE

AMOS WHITNEY—In Poland Springs, Me., August 5, 1920. Amos Whitney, aged 83 years. Funeral service at his late residence, No. 568 Farmington avenue, this city, Monday afternoon at three o'clock.

AMOS WHITNEY
DIES IN MAINE

One of Pratt & Whitney Company Founders — In 88th Year of Age.

FIRST FACTORY IN RENTED ROOM

Growth of Business From Making Spoolers to One of Largest in World.

Amos Whitney, for many years one of the leaders in Hartford manufacturing and a founder of the Pratt & Whitney company, died at the Poland Springs house, Poland, Me., Thursday afternoon, after an illness of four weeks. He was a frequent visitor at Poland Springs and was there when he was taken ill.
The death of Mr. Whitney removes one of the best known inventors in Hartford and a man who, starting in a 20 de, former-

Robert E.
married at
ning at St.
ev. Peter C. bridegroom,
high mass
Rev. J. A. astor of the ore a gown ie and car-
of forget-

Company Organized in 1869.
The Pratt & Whitney company was organized in 1869 with a capital of $350,000. Mr. Whitney was superintendent and Mr. Pratt president. The company soon moved from Prospect street to the shop of Fales & Gray on Potter street. The plant was burned in less than a year and the company began anew near Main and Groves streets. The business increased and the first building of the present immense plant in the west side factory section was occupied.

War Orders of 1873.

The excellence of the work of the Pratt & Whitney company attracted the attention of the German government, after the close of the Franco-Prussian war, and several orders were given, some being for armory equipment in Erfurt, Spandau and Danzig. These orders aided the company to weather the financial depression of 1873, and with the return of prosperity the business grew rapidly.

In the years since the panic the company has continued to expand. In addition to the orders in this country for machinery of a varied character, many large contracts for machinery in foreign lands have been filled. The capital of the company was increased in 1875 to $500,000 and in 1893 to $3,000,000. It was reorganized in January, 1901, and the capital increased to $4,000,000.

Mr. Whitney was superintendent of the company until 1899. He became vice-president in 1893 and president following the death of Mr. Pratt. He continued as president until, January, 1901, when the control of the company was acquired by the Niles-Bement-Pond company. He had continued as a director.

He was president of the Gray Telephone Pay Station company and a director, treasurer and a director of the Whitney Manufacturing company and a director of the Hartford Faience company.

He graduated in the class of free this year
w School and he practice of rington. The of the Boston
class of 1914.
a teacher of
Y. Miss Ada
College, a sis-
was the maid
r Johnson of ast man. Mrs.
ter in marriage
Jennie Benton
N. Y., played the organ. Mr.
ill be at home
t No. 115 Mig-
ton. Mr. Holy College from his junior year
the Alpha Chi

He is a Holcomb. He will begin his law practice in the local office of his father, state's attorney for Litchfield county.

56 95 resses Now

66

Miss Trowbridge Daughter of Princeton Professor, June Bride.

New York Perkins, jr. George W. avenue, and bridge, dau Mrs. Augt Princeton, J terday in T Princeton.

The cerej the Rev. R of the chur Dr. Alfred I tor.

Miss May was the mi held at

BI

Wedding of H

Miss Hele daughter of Miller of th ome Hannon ried at the h tonbury ave Wyllis A. F white lace bridal veil with pearl ornaments. She carried a shower bouquet of bride roses. The matron of honor was Mrs. Robert A. Mercer of Hartford, who wore a dress of pink chiffon taffeta, trimmed with silver, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The maid of honor was Miss Evelyn Hauser of Evanston, Ill. Miss Hauser wore green satin, trimmed with silver lace, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The bridegroom was attended by Lawrence Nagle of Erie, Pa. The flower girls were Miss Marjorie Miller Wolfe of Bloomfield and Miss Ruth Miller Henn of Cleveland, O., both nieces of the bride, who wore white net over blue silk, and carried baskets of pink sweet peas. Miss Dorothy Brown of Windam played the wedding march from "Lohengrin." The ushers were Albert E. Henn of Cleveland, brother-in-law of the bride, and Herbert A. Mercer of Hartford. The house was decorated with locust blossoms, laurel and roses. The bridegroom's gift to the bride was a platinum pin set with a cluster of diamonds. He gave his best man a gold watch and the ushers received gold knives. The bride's gift to the bridegroom was a watch. The other attendants of the bride and the organist received gold pins. There were many gifts of cut glass, silver and china. After a wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Hannon will live in Erie, Pa., where Mr. Hannon is in business. Guests were present from Cleveland, Evanston, Ill., Erie, Pa., Meriden, Hartford and Bloomfield.

AGED BANKER LOSES $225,000 BREACH OF PROMISE SUIT

New York, June 18.—A verdict of $225,000 in favor of Miss Honora May O'Brien, 28 years old, in her breach of promise suit against John B. Manning, a retired banker, 85 years old, was awarded by a state supreme court jury in Long Island City, today. The plaintiff, secretary to a New York newspaper man, alleged that the defendant, father of grown children, broke his promise to marry her.

Roswell W. Parish, formerly of this city, but now living in Boston, is visiting in Hartford, and is calling on old friends. Mr. Parish was a teacher in the Hartford Public High School, when it was at the corner of Asylum and Ann streets.

Francis A. Beach.

(Special to The Courant.)

MIDDLETOWN, Friday, June 22.
The directors of the Middletown

National Bank, the oldest banking institution in the city, yesterday elected Francis A. Beach, cashier of the bank, as president to succeed the late William H. Burrows. George A. Craig, the present secretary of the Farmers' & Mechanics Savings Bank, was chosen cashier to succeed Mr. Beach, while Allen W. Holmes was promoted to be assistant cashier.

Mr. Beach, the new president entered the employ of the bank as clerk in 1886, and has been connected with it ever since that time, with the exception of about three years which he spent in Bristol, organizing the Bristol Trust Company. He will be the eighth president of the bank since its organization in 1801. Mr. Beach plans to give his entire time to the bank for the time being, but later will only give a portion of each day, having recently been elected to the board of directors of the Wilcox, Crittenden Company. Major Samuel Russell, jr., was elected director of the bank to succeed Edward H. Wilkins, who has resigned to become secretary of the Farm Loan Bank in Springfield, Mass.

HEADS TRUSTEES.

Professor Arthur L. Gillett Gets Temporary Appointment as Leader of Smith College Board.

June 19

Professor Arthur L. Gillett of this city, a member of the faculty of the Hartford Theological seminary, was elected acting head of the board of trustees of Smith college, at the annual meeting of the trustees, Tuesday, during the college commencement at Northampton, Mass., until a new president for the college has been elected to succeed Marion LeRoy Burton, who has been chosen president of the University of Minnesota.

The seniors who received diplomas as bachelors of arts included Miss Beatrice Ranson Baxter, Miss Helen Cletus Cannon, Miss Estelle Harriet Greenberg, Miss Louise Hedwig Range, Miss Elizabeth Montgomery Purnell and Miss Theodate Maines Soule of this city; Miss Dorothy Lucille Clark of Windsor, Miss Dorothy Olive Lorentz of East Windsor Hill, Miss Ruth Augusta Staye of South Manchester, Miss Dorothy Thomson of New Britain and Miss Wilhelmina Margaret Wright of Bristol.

At the 1917 class supper, Tuesday evening, in the college gymnasium, Miss Elizabeth M. Purnell of this city responded to the first toast, "The Twelfth Night Review," which alluded to the dramatic production by the seniors. Miss Nell Battle Lewis of Raleigh, N. C., was toastmistress.

At the annual meeting of the Smith college alumnae, Monday morning, in the students' building, Miss Helen Gross of this city, a graduate in the class of 1905, was elected a member of the board of directors. The officers chosen were:

President, Mrs. Elizabeth Cutter Morrow, 1895, of Englewood, N. J.; vice-president, Mrs. Harriet Seelye Rhees, 1888, of Rochester, N. Y.; secretary, Miss Ruth Holman, 1906, of Southport, this state; treasurer, Mrs. Mary Rankin Wardner, 1892, of Boston.

TABLETS UNVEILED

See Oct. 10, 1914
Aetna Life Honors Judge

Its First President—Son and Great Grandsons Burns &
Bronze memorial tablets of Judge Eliphalet Adams first president of the Aetna Insurance company, erected in the main hallway of the company building, were unveiled Wednesday afternoon.

President Morgan G. Bulkeley, son of Judge Bulkeley, gave the address of the life of his father. The tablets were unveiled by President Bulkeley's grandsons, Morgan Bulkeley, 3d, 3 years old, and William Erastus Collins Bulkeley, 3 years old, sons of Captain M. Bulkeley, jr.

In his address President Bulkeley traced the history of the company to the time his ancestors settled in Concord, Mass., in 1635. Eliphalet Adams, the first president of Aetna Life, was born June 17, 1782. He graduated from Yale in 1804 and later practiced law in Connecticut and in Alabama. Coming to New York he formed a law partnership with Henry Perkins. He was president of the Aetna Life and continued until his death on February 13, 1872.

Those present at the ceremony Wednesday afternoon, were Morgan G. Bulkeley and daughter Mrs. John A. Ingersoll; Morgan G. Bulkeley, jr., and John C. Bulkeley and family; William H. Bulkeley, Mrs. Bratnard, Captain J. H. Kelly and family, Richard B. Bulkeley and family, Colonel W. E. A. Adams and family, David Van Schaick and family, and officers and directors of the Aetna Life and its affiliated organizations.

The two tablets reach nearly floor to ceiling, and each is mounted by carvings. In the left panel is a life size figure of Eliphalet Adams, seated at a desk. The right panel is the following inscription:

Erected by the Aetna Life Insurance company to commemorate the life and service of the first president, Eliphalet Adams, born at Colchester, Connecticut, June 17, 1782, graduated from Yale college, 1804. A lawyer by profession, a founder and first president of the Connecticut Mutual Insurance company, 1840-1844. Active in the organization of the republican party and first speaker of the house of representatives of Connecticut, 1855. Hartford, Connecticut, February 13, 1872.

MRS. HELEN THOMAS BECOMES A PRINCESS

New York, June 20.—The former Mrs. Helen Kelly learned today of her marriage in Paris recently to Prince Viora of Albania. Mrs. Thomas was the wife of Frank Gould, from whom she obtained a divorce in 1909. She married Ralph Hill Thomas in 1910. Mr. Thomas died in New York in 1914, leaving to his wife an estate of $2,000,000.

Mrs. Thomas To Be a Princess.

—[Photograph by Baron de Meyer, from Underwood & Underwood, N.Y.]

One of the most interesting engagement announcements that has been made in New York this year was that of Mrs. Ralph Hill Thomas of New York to Nemzidi Viora, Prince of Vallence, Albania. The prince has his home in one of the traditionally restive Balkan states, but it is nevertheless considered pleasant to bear the title of princess even under unsettled national conditions. Mrs. Thomas went to France in September and met the prince in St. Moritz, Switzerland, in December. They are to be married early in July in Paris, according to word received from Mrs. Thomas by relatives in New York.

Mrs. Thomas is a sister of Mrs. Albert Davis of Jericho, L. I., and is an extremely wealthy woman. She is a daughter of Mrs. Edward Kelly and granddaughter of the late Eugene Kelly, who was a prominent New York financier. Mrs. Thomas was Miss Helen Kelly before her marriage, in 1901, to Frank Jay Gould, a son of the late Jay Gould and younger brother of George J. Gould. In 1909 they were divorced. Their two children, Helen and Dorothy Gould, have been cared for by their aunt, Mrs. Finley J. Shepard, who was Miss Helen Gould.

In July, 1910, Mrs. Gould was married to Ralph Hill Thomas, a young man of wealth, who had inherited an additional fortune from his uncle, the late Washington B. Thomas, a sugar merchant. On New Year's eve, 1914, Mr. Thomas died of pneumonia, leaving the bulk of a fortune estimated at $2,000,000 to his widow, who now is about thirty.

SMALL FORTUNE FOR MR. HICKMOTT.

April 27, 1917

Lincoln S. Hickmott of this city, who lives with P. Hickmott on town avenue, fiduciary under the will of retia Gilbert, according to the office of Middletown. James E. Da 836.83. After 050 in legacy Indian Hill C balance of the more than Hickmott. as follows: Savings bank Farmers & M $1,893.59; de ment, Centr 350; note, $ late Gas & I 000; four sl Bank stock, 500; check, riture, $297; $15,936.83.

Mr. Hickmott leaves a widow, Margaret (Montague) Hickmott; three brothers, William J. Hickmott and Warren D. Hickmott of this city and George F. Hickmott of Warren, Mass., and one sister, Mrs. Emma J. Weldon of Hartford. The funeral will be held at his late home, No. 1156 Farmington avenue, Monday afternoon at 2:30.

Mr. Hickmott was a brother of Edward P. Hickmott, who died recently leaving an estate valued at more than $2,000,000.

The Gilberts at Newfield, Hickmott was There the H berts became intimate friends. Later when the Gilbert family moved to Portland and then to Cromwell, Mr. Hickmott, at different times, made his home with the Gilberts, his parents having died when he was a boy. Mr. Hickmott for many years has looked after the Gilbert property and Mrs. Gilbert regarded him as a son. Her only child died when a small boy.

Mr. Hickmott has been employed as a clerk in the policy department of the Aetna Life Insurance company about three years. His engagement to Miss Margaret R. Montague, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Montague of No. 9 Alden street is announced. They will be married in a few weeks.

Ann Hickmott-Montague. 2.
Miss Margaret Rebecca Montague, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick C. Montague of No. 9 Alden street, and Lincoln Smith Hickmott of Farmington avenue were married yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock by Rev. Dr. Edwin Pond Parker, pastor emeritus of the South Congregational Church, at his home on South Beacon street. There were no attendants. The bride wore a traveling suit of light tan gaberdine, a white hat, trimmed with pink roses. She wore a corsage bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley. No invitations were issued to the wedding, which was attended by relatives and a few intimate friends, only. Mr. and Mrs. Hickmott left for a wedding trip to Atlantic City and, after their return, they will be at home at No. 100 South Quaker lane, West Hartford. Mr. Hickmott is a clerk in the home office of the Aetna Life Insurance Company.

Mrs. William W. Trapp of No. 239 Farmington avenue and Mrs. M. Burr, jr., have returned from Honolulu and California, where they spent the winter. Mrs. Burr will remain in Hartford until after the marriage of her niece, Miss Pauline Bidwell, on June 20, when she will go to her summer home in Holderness, N. H.

A kitchen shower was given by Miss Eleanor Murphy Saturday night at her home, No. 137 Kenyon street, for Miss Pauline Bidwell of East Hartford. Many useful gifts were received. Refreshments were served. Those present were Mrs. Walter R. Deane, Mrs. Welles K. Rice, Mrs. Charles M. Gear, Mrs. Henry Bryant, Mrs. Lawrence McClure, Mrs. Frank W. Hirth, Miss Althea Butler, Miss Catherine Gunn, Miss Madelyn Cook, Miss Pauline Bidwell and Miss Eleanor Murphy.

A luncheon, followed by a stocking shower, was given at the home of Miss Bessie Robinson of East Hartford on Monday in honor of Miss Pauline Bidwell of East Hartford.

Miss Arline R. Harris of Farmington avenue gave a luncheon yesterday at the Hartford Club for Miss Pauline Bidwell, who will be married next Wednesday to William J. Hickmott of this city.

A miscellaneous shower was given last evening in honor of Miss Pauline Bidwell of East Hartford at the home of Mrs. Frank W. Hirth of Brown street. The wedding of Miss Bidwell and William J. Hickmott, jr., of this city will take place next Wednesday evening.

William J. Hickmott, jr., and Miss Pauline Bidwell gave a dinner at the Hartford Club last evening for the ushers and bridesmaids at their wedding, which is to take place in St. John's Church, East Hartford, at 7:30 o'clock this evening.

BRILLIANT WEDDING IN EAST HARTFORD

(Special to The Courant.)

E. HARTFORD, Thursday, June 21.

Surpassing in brilliancy and dignity, any of the weddings in a number of years in this town was the wedding at 7:30 o'clock last evening of Miss Pauline Bidwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Doane Bidwell of No. 318 Burnside avenue, and William Joseph Hickmott, jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Hickmott of No. 29 Sumner street, Hartford.

St. John's Episcopal Church, where the ceremony was performed, was filled, there being over 400 guests present.

As the bridal party entered the church, Mrs. Grace Preston Naylor sang "O Perfect Love," accompanied by Robert B. Prutting, organist, and Ralph Mixer, violinist. Miss Bidwell entered the church with her father and the bridal party was met at the altar by the bridegroom and his best man, his brother, Allerton Cushman Hickmott. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. John J. McCook, rector of St. John's Episcopal Madelyn Cook Married to Allerton Hickmott at Immanuel Church.

June 26 1917
One of the prettiest marriages of the season was that of Miss Madelyn Cook, daughter of Mr. and Mrs.

Church, assisted by Rev. James W. Lord, curate of the church. The maid of honor was Miss Helen B. Smith of New York and the bridesmaids were Miss Caroline Goodyear, Mrs. Frank W. Hirth, Miss Madelyn Cook and Miss Eleanor D. Murphy, and the train bearer was Master Jack R. Hathaway. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, No. 318 Burnside avenue, which was attended by over 200 guests. The house was very prettily decorated with laurel, peonies, palms, ward roses and forget-me-nots. The bride's dress was bridal satin and flet lace trimmed with pearls, with a court train and tulle veil caught with lilies of the valley and maidenhair ferns. She carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley and bride roses. The maid of honor was dressed in turquoise blue tulle over turquoise satin with picture hat to match, and silver slippers and turquoise stockings. She carried an arm bouquet of ward roses. The bridesmaids dresses were peach colored tulle over peach colored satin with picture hats to match and the dresses were trimmed with gold laces and gold sashes. They wore gold slippers and peach-colored stockings. They carried peach-colored tulle baskets, with gold streamers, filled with ward roses and forget-me-nots. The ushers were Howard Risley Eddy of Meriden, Joseph Bates Champlin, Frederick Buckley, Edward and Clarence T. LePard.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis C. Cook of 332 Prospect No. 632 Prospect avenue announced the engagement of their daughter, Madelyn, to Allerton Cushman Hickmott, son of William J. Hickmott. Miss Cook is a graduate of the Ingleside school, New Milford, and of the Hewlett school, Hewlett, N. Y. Mr. Hickmott is an honor man of the class of 1917 at Dartmouth; a member of the Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity, and of the Phi Beta Kappa society. The wedding will take place in June.

Mr. and Mrs. Hickmott left during the evening for a wedding trip by automobile to Lake George and Jeffrey, N. H.

Mrs. Naylor sang "O Promise Me" at the reception, accompanied by Mr. Prutting and Mr. Mixer.

Allerton C. Hickmott and Miss Madelyn Cook of the bridal party will be married during the coming month. He is a member of the class of 1917 at Dartmouth College. Mr. Eddy and Mr. Champlin were graduated in 1912 from Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute.

and white peonies, mingled with asparagus fern.

In this setting the color scheme carried out in the costumes of the bride's attendants was extremely effective. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white tulle and duchess lace, with a draped train, and a long tulle veil, and carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. The maid of honor, Miss Dorothy Schuttenhelm, wore a gown of orchid tulle and silver, and carried a tall white director's staff, on which was a bouquet of orchids and sweet peas. Miss Alice Chester was flower girl, wearing a frock of pink tulle over silver, and carrying a basket of pink rosebuds. The bridesmaids were Mrs. William J. Hickmott, jr., sister-in-law of the bridegroom, and who was Miss Pauline Bidwell before her marriage, last week; Miss Mildred Keep, Miss Una Storrs, and Miss Marguerite Miller, all of this city. They wore gowns of pink tulle over silver and, instead of bouquets, carried quaint muffs made of pink sweet peas and tulle.

William J. Hickmott, jr., was best man, and the ushers were Russell Keep, Frederick Edwards, Ralph Wells and Mr. Wendell, all college friends of the bridegroom, who was graduated from Dartmouth this year. Russell Lovett acted as master of ceremonies.

The ceremony was followed by a reception at the home of the bride's parents, attended by about 200 guests. The house decorations were of white roses, hydrangeas, palms and ferns. Dancing took place in a marquee on the lawn which was decorated with palms, laurel, hydrangeas, pink roses and American flags. Music was provided during the evening by the Tuxedo orchestra. Among those present were guests from Boston and New York.

Before Mr. and Mrs. Hickmott left for their wedding trip, a cotillon was danced, the favors for the girls being red poinsettias and for the men American flags. The guests formed an arch through which the couple marched. Patriotic songs were sung during the evening. Mr. Hickmott and his bride will spend several weeks on an automobile tour of the Berkshires and the White mountains. The bride's traveling suit was of blue jersey combined with white and she wore a white satin hat. They will be at home after October 1 at No. 29 Sumner street.

Mrs. W. H. Hickmott, Jr., in Rockville Collision.

Sept 4 1917

Mrs. W. J. Hickmott, Jr., of No. 318 Burnside avenue, East Hartford, was slightly injured when an automobile in which she and her husband were returning from a trip to the White Mountains was struck by an automobile owned by C. J. Palozie of this city and driven by his son, Frank Palozie, about 7 o'clock tonight. The accident occurred about a quarter of a mile south of the city limits.

Mrs. Hickmott was thrown to the top of the car and was bruised. No one else was injured. Mr. Hickmott notified the police and sheriff. Witnesses absolved Mr. Hickmott from blame. Mr. and Mrs. Hickmott were married in June at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel D. Bidwell of East Hartford, and were returning from a second part of their wedding trip.

Mr. and Mrs. William Hickmott of Burnside avenue have moved to Springfield, Mass. Mrs. Hickmott was formerly Miss Pauline Bidwell.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Townsend Duryea of Bronxville, N. Y., have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Dorothy Duryea, to Warren Bruce Pirnie, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Pirnie of Springfield, Mass., member of the coach of the Springfield, Mass. High School, and member of the Phi Kappa Psi Fraternity at Springfield, Mass.

AT BRONX

PIRNIE - I

Spring
Miss Dorothy Duryea and Warren Bruce Pirnie were married at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. George Pirnie, 100 West 180th St., Bronx, N. Y., on Saturday, June 23, 1917. The ceremony was performed at 1 o'clock by Rev. Dr. Darwin F. Elckard, pastor of the Briarcliff Church. The bride and bridegroom were assisted in receiving by their parents.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Helen Royce Duryea, and Malcolm Pirnie of Scarsdale, N. Y., was his brother's best man. The three ushers included another brother of the bridegroom, Donald Pirnie of Providence, R. I., Russell Ayers of Montclair, N. J., and Hugo Francke of Cambridge.

White chiffon and rose point lace were the materials of the bridal gown, which was made with train of white chiffon bound with satin and lace.

MARRIED AT WATERTOWN

June 23
Roderick Pirnie and Miss Mary Margaret Gregory

Miss Mary Margaret Gregory of Watertown, N. Y., and Roderick Pirnie, son of Mr and Mrs George Pirnie of Magnolia terrace, were married yesterday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, Dr and Mrs Gilbert D. Gregory of 253 Ten Eyck street, Watertown. The ceremony was performed in the summer house in the garden by Rev Dr Darwin F. Elckard, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Watertown.

Mr Pirnie has been in training as an officer at Madison barracks for some time, and while he is there his bride will live at Sacketts Harbor. Mrs Pirnie attended the Watertown high school and is a graduate of the Gouverneur high school. She is a member of the class of 1918 at Vassar college. Mr Pirnie is a member of the graduating class at Harvard university.

Mr and Mrs George Pirnie of this city and their two other sons, Donald Pirnie of Providence, R. I., and J. Malcolm Pirnie of Scarsdale, N. Y., both brothers of the bridegroom, were among the guests.

REV. ROBERT G. ARMSTRONG

Congregationalists Call Rev. Armstrong

The Congregational church has extended a call to the Rev. Robert G. Armstrong of Amherst, Ohio.

Mr. Armstrong is a graduate of Amherst college and Oberlin theological seminary where he held high rank as a student and was regarded as one of Oberlin's most promising recent graduates.

In his pastorate of four years in Amherst he has proved himself an unusually broad man in his ministerial efficiency and an indefatigable worker, original, resourceful and spiritual in his methods. He has had a strong hold on the respect of the men of the community and the loyalty of the young people.

Mrs. Armstrong who is a graduate of Smith college is identified heart and soul with her husband's work and a most capable assistant.

PATRIOTIC FAMILIES.

The Answer of a New Jersey Veteran With Seven Sons.

To the Editor of the New York Times:

The correspondence between William Allen Butler, president of the New York Lawyers' club and Congressman W. H. Cox of Indiana, that appeared in Sunday's issue of the New York Times, recalls the story of the late Joseph A. Yard, publisher and printer of Trenton, N. J., and Captain of Company G, Tenth United States Infantry, during the Mexican war and who enlisted and became captain of Company A, Third New Jersey Militia, in 1861. He was the father of seven sons, and while detailed at the state concentration camp at Trenton in 1862 an old Mexican "slacker" paid him a visit, and asked if he had not got war enough in Mexico without starting out again to "free the niggers." "Why don't you let your sons go instead of sticking type?" he asked.

In a serious mood Captain Yard handed his visitor a sheet of paper and a pencil and suggested a memo of his sons, and this followed:

James S. Yard, editor Monmouth Democrat, Freehold, N. J., is major of the Third New Jersey Militia.

Robert S. Yard, pastor of the Hedden Methodist Episcopal church, Jersey City, is chaplain of the First New Jersey Infantry.

Westley S. Yard, New York lawyer, is a private, Third Company, Seventh New York Volunteers.

Thomas S. Yard, physician, is assistant surgeon, U. S. N.

Benjamin H. Yard, druggist, is hospital steward, U. S. N.

Alexander A. Yard is major of the Third New Jersey Cavalry, and John S. Yard is deceased.

All have passed to "The Bivouac of the Brave" except Alexander, in his 78th year, who is postmaster at Farmingdale, N. J., and three daughters survive, Mrs. A. M. Slye, 87, of Baraboo, Wis.; Mrs. Dr. C. E. Des Auges, 85, Avon, N. J., and Miss Josephine A. Yard, 75, Asbury Park, N. J.

If the effect of Captain Yard's memo caused a shiver to his old friend, the Hooster congressman, Cox, possibly thought his bateau of venom hit a sunken mine when he read President Butler's answer in Sunday's Times.

FRANK McCONNELL,
Newark, N. J., Memorial Day, 1917.

Miss Cella Williams (Goodwin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Goodwin of Pittsfield, Mass., and George Selbie Gordon of Williams-town, Mass., son of George S. Gordon, were married at the home of the

Scoville, was Niles Street
nd Mrs. Mor-157 Sisson

Scoville-Whittelsey. 23 Miss Helen Fitch Whittelsey, daughter of Charles B. Whittelsey of North Beacon street, and Morton W. Scoville, son of Mr. and Mrs. William H.
Scoville, were at the Niles Street

Scoville, 20,
to Mr. and Mrs.
at the Niles Street

JUNE 13, 1922.

Lieutenant Scoville, 1918, today evening utenant Morton W. Scoville, 1918. The
tr. and Mrs. William H. Scoville last wee Vethersfield avenue, was gradufrom the Hartford Public High ool in 1909 and from Yale Uni-ity in 1913. Previous to leaving active service, he was associated his father as an architect and
der. Like Lieutenant Bulkeley

Lieutenant M. W. Scoville.

MRS. MORTON W. SCOVILLE AND CHILDREN
Mrs. Scoville with her children, Morton William, jr., Robert Whittlesey, and William Harris Scoville, 2nd, is spending the summer at Black Point.

Lieutenant Way, he served at Mexican border with Troop B. is 26 years old. About a year ago, he was married to Miss Helen Whittelsey, daughter of Charles B.
Whittelsey, president of the Hartford Rubber Works Company. Mrs.
Scoville, who lives at No. 157 Sisson avenue, is now engaged in war work her father's factory. Lieutenant Scoville is a member of the University Club of Hartford.

Mrs. William Beach Olmsted, Jr., formerly Miss Margaret Crittenden Overton, will leave this week for France, where she will join her husband. Mr. Olmsted for six weeks has been attached to the American Ambulance Corps.

The wedding of Miss Elsie Nicoll, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Nicoll of New York, and John Sloane, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Sloane of New York, took place yesterday at the country home of the bride's parents at Morristown, N. J.
Mr. Sloane was graduated from Yale University in 1905 and is a member of the firm of W. and J. Sloane in New York. The bride is a member of the Junior League and has been chairman of the junior committee of the American Ambulance hospital.

the bride-st man. Miss
ter of the late Kentucky and of the late
hat state. Mr.
raduated from ool in 1915, is muel Nelson, of the United
The plans hastened be-he bridegroom
rance to join

Sept 1917

#

sented Rev Mr Beckwith. Rev Mr Quimby delivered the sermon and charge to the ordinands, and litany was said by the rector of St Mark's, Rev Mr Blodgett. The ordination was performed by Rt Rev Thomas F. Davies, who was celebrant of the holy communion. Rev Mr Quimby and Rev Mr Blodgett joined in laying on of hands and assisted in the communion.

A set of white eucharistic vestments has been presented to Rev Mr Tubbs by the clergy in Springfield and the two churches with which he was connected. The ceremony of ordination was in the home parish of Rev Mr Beckwith. Among those present were a large number from Gardner. Following the service an informal reception was held at the home of Rev and Mrs Blodgett.

Rev. Dr. William D. Love of Laurel street preached the commencement sermon at the Ossining School, Ossining-on-the-Hudson, last Sunday. Miss Annie Love who has been a student at the school for the past year, has returned home for the summer vacation.

Mrs. Edwin Strong of Asylum avenue entertained on Friday evening in honor of Miss Rilda Love of Laurel street.

Miss Sylvia Bolles of Farmington avenue entertained at dinner last evening in honor of Miss Rilda Love, whose wedding to Laurence Lennox of Boston, Mass., will take place on Saturday evening, June 23.

Saturday evening, Miss Eliza Prentice of the Bond Annex, gave a dinner party at the Golf club.

Lennox-Love.

Miss Rilda Love, daughter of Rev. Dr. William DeLoss Love and Mrs. Love of Laurel street, and Laurence Lennox, son of Mr. and Mrs. James T. Lennox of Boston, Mass., were married last evening at 8 o'clock at the Asylum Hill Congregational Church in the presence of several hundred guests. The ceremony was performed by the bride's father, who was formerly pastor of the Farmington Avenue Congregational Church, which later was united with the Park Congregational Church to form the Immanuel Congregational Church. The bride was given in marriage by her brother, William De Loss Love, jr., who was graduated from Princeton University in 1916, and is now a member of the Seventh Company of the Reserve Officers' Coast Artillery Corps, stationed at Fort Monroe, Va. Miss Anne H. Love, sister of the bride, and a student at the Ossining School, was the maid of honor, and there were no bridesmaids. The flower children were Mary Louise Kenyon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Kenyon of Pelham, N. Y., and Walter T. Plumb, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lucius Plumb of Elizabeth, N. J. The best man was James Lennox, brother of the bridegroom, who is in the Ninth Regiment of Boston, and, in conformity with the military rules, appeared in uniform. The ushers were Lucius H. Plumb of Elizabeth, N. J., George Kenyon of Pelham, N. Y., a graduate of Harvard University; Harry L. Sevin of this city, brother-in-law of the bride; Harland Leighton of Cambridge, Mass.; George Whittwell of Chicago, Ill.; Arthur P. Harney of Lynn, Mass., and William DeLoss Love, jr., of this city. The church was decorated with mountain laurel and ferns, which were banked around the pulpit. The music was furnished by the church organist, Edward F. Laubin, who played a program of music preceding the ceremony and "The Bridal Chorus" from Wagner's "Lohengrin" as the bridal party entered the church. As a recessional, he played "The Wedding March" from "A Midsummer Night's Dream" by Mendelssohn. The bride wore white bridal satin, cut with a court train, and trimmed with duchess and old point lace, which were family heirlooms. She wore a veil of tulle, caught with a wreath of orange blossoms, and carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley and bridal roses. Her attendant wore a dress of orchid tulle over lace, with silver trimmings, and carried a bouquet of orchid sweet peas. The flower girl wore a frock of white lace over pink and the flower boy wore a white silk suit. Both carried baskets of roses. The bride's mother wore a dress of silver charmeuse, with trimmings of orchid sequins and velvet. The bridegroom's mother was dressed in blue and silver brocade, with silver lace trimmings. Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents for the relatives and a few intimate friends. The house was decorated with roses, daisies and ferns. The following out-of-town guests were present: Mr. and Mrs. Lucius H. Plumb, Elizabeth, N. J., Mr. and Mrs. George Kenyon, Pelham, N. Y., Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Kenyon and Miss Kenyon, Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Mr. and Mrs. William S. Hale and Miss Hale, Miss Margaret Faulkner and Robert Dort of Keene, N. H., Mr. and Mrs. James T. Lennox, Mr. and Mrs. Harley Leighton, Mr. and Mrs. James Tobey, Boston, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. Norman Clements, Buffalo, N. Y., Mrs. Walter Johnson, Winchendon, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hanan and the Misses Hanan, Lynn, Mass., Miss May Lennox, Lynn, Mass., Miss Amy Louise Sullivan, New York city, Mrs. Winthrop Sargeant, Essex, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. Lennox will be at home at Beach Bluff, Mass., after September 1.

Mass. The bride was graduated from the Ossining school, Ossining, N. Y., in the class of 1910 and the groom was graduated from Princeton.

March 23, 1918

A son, James Laurence Lennox, was born Saturday in Boston to Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Lennox. Mrs. Lennox before her marriage was Miss Rilda Love, daughter of Rev. Dr. William De Loss Love and Mrs. Love of No. 354 Laurel street.

*Kenneth Hale Lennox born
July 2, 1919,*

Sept. 18, 1922

A daughter, Mary Louise Lennox, was born Tuesday at the Lynn hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Lennox of Beach Bluff, Mass. Mrs. Lennox was formerly Miss Rilda Love and is daughter of the late Rev. Dr. William DeLoss Love and of Mrs. Love of this city.

Aug 29, 1917

Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Sevin of Prospect avenue have moved to Chicago, where Mr. Sevin is connected with the Theodore Dod Company, in the Railway Exchange Building. The company are manufacturers' agents for bronze, copper, steel and iron. Mrs. Sevin was, before her marriage, Miss Ethel Love, and is the daughter of Rev. Dr. William DeLoss Love and Mrs. Love of Laurel street.

See Vol 38-46

March 19, 1921

Announcements have been received in Hartford of the birth of a son to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Louis Sevin of Chicago. Mrs. Sevin was Miss Ethel Love, daughter of the late Rev. Dr. William DeLoss Love and Mrs. Love of this city.

NOVEMBER 9, 1921.

Dr. Phineas H. Ingalls and Dr. Henry H. Smith of New Haven attended the fortieth reunion of the class of '77 at Bowdoin College, Brunswick, Me. Rear Admiral Robert E. Peary is the most widely known member of this class.

June Single-Gray. 23

Miss Gertrude Lillian Gray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Gray of

No. 1 and 1918.

was organized in 1881. Curtis Art Studio

Miss Maude Rice, all of Springfield, Mass., Clarence Hudson and Mrs. William Boyle of Southwick, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. Z. J. Hinman and Howard Hinman of Collinsville, Mrs. George Jackson of New Milford and Mr. and Mrs. John Buntin of Greenwich. The bride, who was graduated from the Hartford Public High School in 1912, attended the Hartford Conservatory of Music and has taught music for three years. The bridegroom, who was also graduated from the high school in 1912, is manager of the Hartford Metal Cabinet Company.

Oct 23-1919
A daughter, Marjorie (Gray) Single, was born Saturday to Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Roy Single of No. 100 Quaker lane, West Hartford.

REHEARSE THEIR WEDDING

Preliminary Ceremony Last Night — Hills-Lewis Marriage of To-

MARRIES FRED JUSTIN LEWIS

Springfield
Wedding at Home of Miss Maude Ethel Hills 23

The home of Mr and Mrs Frank Dickinson street was the scene of a wedding yesterday when their daughter, Miss Maude Ethel Hills, became Mrs. Justin Lewis, son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Lewis of Northampton. The ceremony was performed by Rev Benjamin F. Love at the Park Memorial church. The single ring was presented by friends and relatives.

JAMES LAURENCE AND KENNETH HALE LENNOX, children of Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Lennox of Beach Bluff, Mass. Mrs. Lennox, who was Miss Rilda Love, is the daughter of Mrs. Wm. DeLoss Love and the late Rev. Dr. Wm. DeLoss Love of this city.

place in the dining room under an arch of laurel, from "Lohengrin" by the Rev. Dr. Wm. DeLoss Love of this city.

Miss Frances M. Hills, sister of the bride, and the best man was Richard Lyons of East Weymouth, a fraternity brother of the bridegroom. Carl Holton and Ralph Ward of Worcester acted as ushers.

The bride was gowned in white crepe de chine with pearl trimmings, and her veil of white silk net was caught with lilies of the valley. She wore a crescent pin of pearls and sapphires, the gift of the bridegroom, and her bouquet was of lilies of the valley. The maid of honor wore pink voile and carried pink and white sweet peas. Her gift from the bride was a lavalliere, set with rubies and pearls. The best man received a scarfpin, and the ushers cuff links.

An informal reception followed the ceremony. Mrs. Stuart K. Farrar of Chicago, Ill., Mrs. Lydia Roche, Miss Avis Harding, Miss Hazel Cooley and Miss Irene Cady assisting in serving. Mr and Mrs Lewis left yesterday for a short wedding trip, the latter wearing a traveling suit of rooky brown and a black and white hat. On their return they will live at the Commonwealth on Parkwood street, receiving after September 1. The bride is a graduate of the high school of commerce, and the bridegroom of the technical high school in the class of

COMMISSIONED IN OFFICERS' CORPS

Harold N. Pember First Lieutenant in Signal Corps.

According to a report from Washington Ferris S. Cothran of Hartford has been commissioned as a captain in the infantry of the Officers' Reserve Corps, Harold Neviers Pember of No. 2 Cone street, Hartford, as a first lieutenant in the signal corps of the Officers' Reserve Corps, and Charles Elias Hide of Southport, Conn., at first lieutenant of the Medical Reserve Corps.

There is no Ferris S. Cothran in the city directory. Mr. Pember is a son of Elisha H. Pember, who is in the policy department of the Aetna Life Insurance Company. He is a graduate of the Noah Webster School and the Hartford High School, and became of age a month ago. He is at present at the Pratt Institute in Brooklyn, N. Y.

ment on "The Origin and Development of the Novel in English Literature," Professor Tinker on "The Age of the Novel," Professor George Eaton on "Shakespeare's Clowns Their Predecessors," Professor Hall on "Browning's 'Agamemnon,'" Professor C. M. Andrews on "The Aeneid," Professor G. M. Andrews on "The Aeneid," Professor Hardy on "Some Southern Characteristics," and "Excursions in Peru." Trinity college has been represented by Professor ... whose subjects were ... as a Man" and "A History of the Literature of the Middle Ages," President Luther on "Labor-Saving Machinery," Professor Martin on "What We Are," "The Greeks" and "Sanskrit Literature," Professor Gettell on "The Middle Ages," Professor H. A. ... on "The Progress of Science," Professor Galpin on "The Middle Ages and His Writings," Professor ... on "Imperialism," Professor Deckwith on "Greek Myths," Professor Mixter on "Progress in Finance During the Nineteenth Century."

The faculty of the Theological Seminary has also been represented to our great advantage. President McKenzie spoke of "The Relation of Evolutionary Science to Faith," Professor McDonald of "Palestine in Present Aspect," Professor Mitchell of "The Mongol Invasion of Asia," Professor W. S. Pratt of "Some Artistic Ideas in Egyptian Architecture." Professor Richard E. Burton has read us of "Sidney Lanier" and "Some Sonnets of Shakespeare," Mr. ... of Boston of "American Art," ... Robert Brandegee of "Dutch Art," Mr. L. Roger Lytton of "The Mutual Obligations of Society and the Stage," Mr. Robert Keating of "The Red Branch Cycle," ... Francis Hackett of "Bernard Shaw," Mr. Trachtenberg of "The Student Movement in Russia." Among our own citizens who have lectured to us are Mr. Charles H. ... on "The Constitution of Connecticut adopted in 1818," Mr. J. J. ... on "Napoleon," Mr. E. D. ... on "The Tory View of the Declaration of Independence," Mr. ... F. Gordy on "Our Foreign Policy," Mr. Charles E. Gross on "Trusts," Mr. E. B. Bennett on "Our Federal Government and Its Departments," Mrs. Charles F. John-

... in the way of transportation opportunities.

Happily Situated.
 ... observationwise, the Atwood tract is most happily situated. On the east it is skirted by Newington mountain, verdant with foliage in spring and summer, and golden in autumnal in the fall. This high ridge extends the full length of and well beyond the tract and is in plain view of one of the sixty-six homes. To the west, the view is quite as interesting for there one scans the beautification of lower West Hartford and ... One's vision embraces many miles of green country here, interspersed with modern homes. The lay-out of the homes on the tract has been done with an eye to beauty and convenience to the ... Each house, single or double, is a lot providing ample room in mental purposes only, since it accompanies an evening frock. The orchid tinted flowers that trim it are made of ribbon in three shades.

son on "The Old Red House," Miss Emily Morgan on "Umbrian Art," Dr. E. P. Parker on "Einsaedlen of the Dark Woods," Miss C. N. Hewins on "Child Literature," and "Our Grandmothers' Novels."

Space forbids recording the names of the enrolled members, but the following have served as president: Miss Louie Karr, Miss Mary Olmsted, Miss Genevieve Karr, Miss Edith Howard, Miss Annie Fisher, Miss Mary Smith, Miss Mary Howard, Miss Mary Bulkley, Miss Grace Turnbull, Miss J. Alfreda Dickerson, Miss Elizabeth Burnell, Miss Ida Butler, Miss Bertha Dewitt, Miss Frances Barbour, Miss Mary Fenn, Miss Clara Cone, Miss Grace Dwight, Miss Edna Mason, Miss Lillian Cone, Miss Helen Brown, Miss Ellen Flagg, Miss Helen Howard, Miss Mary Turnbull, Mrs. L. P. W. Marvin, Mrs. Albert Pope, Mrs. Harrison B. Freeman, jr., Miss Helen Gross, Mrs. Joseph Hall, Mrs. Howard Goodwin, Mrs. Patty Lee Clark, Mrs. James L. Goodwin, Mrs. Stanley Galpin.

Twice in the club's history it has been obliged to mourn its president. Mrs. Helen Howard Hyde and Mrs. Harrison B. Freeman jr., died in office. Twice again, have active members been taken from the club by death, namely: Miss Annie Johnson and Miss Helen Catlin. The memorials inscribed in the club records betray the great loss and grief sustained.

One attractive feature of the club's life has been interchanged lecture courtesies, among the various other clubs, thus dividing the opportunities and increasing the enrichment. To sew or knit, while listening to the papers, has been the custom of the members, and an education especially appreciated since the war began.

The devotion of members to the Friday club is evidenced constantly by their returning to active work after years of absence.

Perhaps its value has been most aptly expressed by one member, who, after her first trip abroad, said: "I saw the Friday club painted all over Europe." E. R. B.

G. F. LANDRIGAN OWNS NO. ... ON NEPAUG STREET,

... being in command of Fort Iobolna, Montana, from August 1909 until January, 1910, and ... at Fort Thomas, Kentucky, early in 1911, the captain was ordered to the Philippines. He served in Hawaii where he held charge of the National ... islands. Two years ... return to the United States assigned to duty, ... as inspector-instructor at Hartford. On ... of that year he was ... or. During the summer he was on temporary ... National Guard of Virginia, and the Dis- ... bled. ... umn of 1914, Major ... acted as an umpire at ... of the regular army ... g, N. Y. The fol- ... was again an um- ... off Narragansett bay. ... ccessfully passed the ... or the war college at ... ut was not assigned, ... of duty on detailed ... ed with the "Manchu ted.

ational Guard was or- ... Mexican border a year ... huttleworth was as- ... in June, as senior ... for Connecticut. In ... s assigned to similar Huttleworth Nominated to Lieutenent-Colonel.

1917
 ... A. Shuttleworth, U. S. officer at the State ... en nominated to be ... it-colonel, with rank ... and the nomination is ... ore the Senate tomor- ... nation.

... in Boston, in 1865, ... ned second lieuten- ... eventh United States ... st 1, 1891, and was ... rt Leavenworth, Kan., ... at Fort Huachuca, ... Carlos, Ariz., where ... and of Indian Scouts ... in the expedition ... gade "Apache Kid," ... commissary for all ... iago combatting the ... ter was in Whipple

... worth was promoted ... it April 26, 1898, and ... g chief ordnance offi- ... ourth Army Corps. ... Porto Rico and aided ... American civil gov- ... arny 2, 1901, he was ... tain. He assisted in ... Twenty-seventh In- ... ved with it in the ... mission as ... 1903-4 and fought ... the moros. In July, 1904, ... was in charge of work at Fort ... ge Wright near Spokane, Wash., ... again he was sent to the Philip- ... and was stationed on the Island ... amar for several months. Still ... he was in Hawaii in charge of ... Hawaiian National Guard. He ... to Hartford in 1915 as in- ... spector-instructor for the Connecti- ... National Guard.

He married Miss Minnie Moore Walling December 16, 1891, at Northfield, Vt.

... direct antagonism, and it is ... atable ... of the surveyor and engineer

... HUTTLEWORTH.

Long and Honora Friday Morning

June

Nowadays, to call together a group of women to study any topic or undertake almost any task, would cause no comment. Telephones could summon them, and automobiles convey them. The great question for them would be, how to fit in one more demand upon their time.

It was not so in Nov. 1884, when the Misses L. and G. Karr; M. Olmstead, Talcott, E. Goodman, B. Abbe, C. Bissell and Mrs. Woods met and "Resolved: That we form ourselves into a club to meet Friday mornings at 10:30 o'clock.

"2.—That the officers consist of president and secretary.

"3.—That the object—" But here we are left to the mercy of our logic evolved from the scant records of that first year.

We conclude that the club decided to tread a path or paths, as this was in the "blazing a trail" period of women's clubs. The topics recorded are literary or historical.

We have no hint that during the first two years of its existence, the president was not the dictator as to subjects and their assignments.

English and American writers, and two interspersed musicals and a spelling match seem to have made up the first year's program.

The roll for 1885-6 held fifteen active and four honorary members. The secretary speaks of "several new rules." Tardiness was held to be twice as culpable as absence, as the fine for the former was two cents, and one for the latter. Meetings began promptly at 10:30 and closed at 12, with a roll-call for both opening and closing. The title of the second year's study is obscure, though the weekly papers were doubtless as well-written and interesting as if there had been more cohesion of topic. We find that one Friday morning held the following subjects:

"Cathedrals," "Roman Stations" "Legends," "Longfellow's "Golden Legend," "Congress of Aix la Chawas for star I dec shif tim fro; I day join Lley ord; rais ladi clas ed did evic req her me tha ma rule C the ed: fini san '88 ing me sin our ele of me the in eri po cu: cri as:

was parried with a confused result. Because of this the judge deferred the final decision to the next meeting." It was decided in the affirmative, "though the negatives used all their powers of eloquence to make us think otherwise."

Another debate was upon the following subject: "Resolved, that the electric light is to be the exclusive light of the future." It was decided in the negative. We wonder if the decision hung upon

RACINE Country Road TIRES

THE cost per mile of motoring is materially lessened when Racine Country Road Tires encircle your wheels. Exclusive Racine Country Road Tread is so designed that it meets every demand of country road driving—far in excess of the 5,000 mile guarantee.

| | | | | | |
|-------------|---|---|---|---|---|
| Mahoney, ss | 4 | 0 | 0 | 2 | 1 |
| Hayden, c | 3 | 0 | 1 | 6 | 2 |
| Heltman, p | 4 | 0 | 0 | 1 | 1 |

33 2 6 27 12
xBatted for Barron in seventh.
Springfield2 0 0 0 0 0 0 2-Portland1 0 0 0 0 1 0 0-Stolen bases, Lord, Tamm; sac hits, Bradshaw, Riccon Stephens; left on bases, Springfi 5, Portland 7; first on errors, Sprin field 3, Portland 2; bases on ball off Brown 1, off Mangan 1, off He man 1; hits and earned runs, Barron 5 and 1 in 6 innings, Mangan 1 and 0 in 3, off Heltman and 0 in 9; hit by pitcher, by He man (Riccon); struck out, by Ma gan 3, by Heltman 5; umpire, Irw time, 1:36.

DIAMOND SIDELIGHTS.

Lawrence, which won its ninth straight game yesterday, plays here Monday and Tuesday.

Tencate, the local pitcher, who was canned early in the week, was given another trial yesterday, but didn't act as if he wanted a steady job.

Eddie Cicotte, pitcher for the White Sox, has everybody worried with that "shine ball" of his. Eddie is not letting any of the boys know how he handles it or what he does to the pill, but wherever he appears the eyes of the players as well as the fans are glued to his delivery.

Connie Mack hasn't gained the name as a great maker of ball players for nothing. If any further proof were needed of his ability, it might point to Ping Bodie and Russ Schauer. These two players are developing winning qualities under the careful supervision of the Athletics' famous manager.

George Stallings is working the Boston Braves under high pressure and is getting a first-class topic which has varied with the year's subject. A salon of the time of Napoleon, with the various famous people of the day personified, and a discussion on the death of the Duke d'Enginien; a Russian tea party and play, written by a club member; an Irish fete and dances; and so on, made each year's topic evident and entertaining.

The roster of men and women who have lectured before the club is impressive, and alas! a broken one.

| | | | | | | | | | | | | | | | | | | | | | | | |
|----|--------------|------------------------------------|----|----|----|----|----|----|----|----|----|----|----|----|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| 71 | Professional | Pierce, H. M., Fall River, Mass. | 71 | 20 | 19 | 18 | 17 | 16 | 15 | 14 | 13 | 12 | 11 | 10 | 9 | 8 | 7 | 6 | 5 | 4 | 3 | 2 | 1 |
| 72 | Professional | Sunderland, P., Danbury | 72 | 20 | 19 | 18 | 17 | 16 | 15 | 14 | 13 | 12 | 11 | 10 | 9 | 8 | 7 | 6 | 5 | 4 | 3 | 2 | 1 |
| 73 | Professional | Mclain, S., Baltimore, Md. | 73 | 20 | 19 | 18 | 17 | 16 | 15 | 14 | 13 | 12 | 11 | 10 | 9 | 8 | 7 | 6 | 5 | 4 | 3 | 2 | 1 |
| 74 | Professional | McCarthy, J. C., New Haven | 74 | 20 | 19 | 18 | 17 | 16 | 15 | 14 | 13 | 12 | 11 | 10 | 9 | 8 | 7 | 6 | 5 | 4 | 3 | 2 | 1 |
| 75 | Professional | Dean, E. B., Schenckhook, N. Y. | 75 | 20 | 19 | 18 | 17 | 16 | 15 | 14 | 13 | 12 | 11 | 10 | 9 | 8 | 7 | 6 | 5 | 4 | 3 | 2 | 1 |
| 76 | Professional | Millman, I. M., Schenckhook, N. Y. | 76 | 20 | 19 | 18 | 17 | 16 | 15 | 14 | 13 | 12 | 11 | 10 | 9 | 8 | 7 | 6 | 5 | 4 | 3 | 2 | 1 |
| 77 | Professional | Arkin, H. D., Johnsonville, N. Y. | 77 | 20 | 19 | 18 | 17 | 16 | 15 | 14 | 13 | 12 | 11 | 10 | 9 | 8 | 7 | 6 | 5 | 4 | 3 | 2 | 1 |
| 78 | Professional | Farker, W. F., Meriden, N. Y. | 78 | 20 | 19 | 18 | 17 | 16 | 15 | 14 | 13 | 12 | 11 | 10 | 9 | 8 | 7 | 6 | 5 | 4 | 3 | 2 | 1 |
| 79 | Professional | Daley, C. H., Danbury | 79 | 20 | 19 | 18 | 17 | 16 | 15 | 14 | 13 | 12 | 11 | 10 | 9 | 8 | 7 | 6 | 5 | 4 | 3 | 2 | 1 |
| 80 | Professional | Doremus, L. E., Wilmington, Del. | 80 | 20 | 19 | 18 | 17 | 16 | 15 | 14 | 13 | 12 | 11 | 10 | 9 | 8 | 7 | 6 | 5 | 4 | 3 | 2 | 1 |
| 81 | Professional | Tomlin, F. S., Pennsboro, N. Y. | 81 | 20 | 19 | 18 | 17 | 16 | 15 | 14 | 13 | 12 | 11 | 10 | 9 | 8 | 7 | 6 | 5 | 4 | 3 | 2 | 1 |
| 82 | Professional | McMahon, S., New York | 82 | 20 | 19 | 18 | 17 | 16 | 15 | 14 | 13 | 12 | 11 | 10 | 9 | 8 | 7 | 6 | 5 | 4 | 3 | 2 | 1 |
| 83 | Professional | Plum, F., Atlantic City, N. J. | 83 | 20 | 19 | 18 | 17 | 16 | 15 | 14 | 13 | 12 | 11 | 10 | 9 | 8 | 7 | 6 | 5 | 4 | 3 | 2 | 1 |
| 84 | Professional | German, L. S., Aberdeen, Md. | 84 | 20 | 19 | 18 | 17 | 16 | 15 | 14 | 13 | 12 | 11 | 10 | 9 | 8 | 7 | 6 | 5 | 4 | 3 | 2 | 1 |
| 85 | Professional | Conley, A. E., Coshoccon, N. Y. | 85 | 20 | 19 | 18 | 17 | 16 | 15 | 14 | 13 | 12 | 11 | 10 | 9 | 8 | 7 | 6 | 5 | 4 | 3 | 2 | 1 |
| 86 | Professional | Stephenson, F. F., New York | 86 | 20 | 19 | 18 | 17 | 16 | 15 | 14 | 13 | 12 | 11 | 10 | 9 | 8 | 7 | 6 | 5 | 4 | 3 | 2 | 1 |
| 87 | Professional | Hill, W. G., Portland, Me. | 87 | 20 | 19 | 18 | 17 | 16 | 15 | 14 | 13 | 12 | 11 | 10 | 9 | 8 | 7 | 6 | 5 | 4 | 3 | 2 | 1 |
| 88 | Professional | Wells, H. S., New York | 88 | 20 | 19 | 18 | 17 | 16 | 15 | 14 | 13 | 12 | 11 | 10 | 9 | 8 | 7 | 6 | 5 | 4 | 3 | 2 | 1 |
| 89 | Professional | Bartlett, E. T., Baltimore, Md. | 89 | 20 | 19 | 18 | 17 | 16 | 15 | 14 | 13 | 12 | 11 | 10 | 9 | 8 | 7 | 6 | 5 | 4 | 3 | 2 | 1 |
| 90 | Professional | Glover, S., Baltimore, Md. | 90 | 20 | 19 | 18 | 17 | 16 | 15 | 14 | 13 | 12 | 11 | 10 | 9 | 8 | 7 | 6 | 5 | 4 | 3 | 2 | 1 |

Major Edward A. Shuttleworth, U. S. A., who has been on duty as inspector-instructor of the Connecticut National Guard Infantry since 1913, has successfully passed his examination for commission in the grade of Lieutenant-Colonel.

After being in command of Fort Assiniboine, Montana, from August, 1909 until January, 1910, and stationed at Fort Thomas, Kentucky, until early in 1911, the captain was again ordered to the Philippines. In 1911 he served in Hawaii where he had full charge of the National islands. Two years return to the United States assigned to duty, as inspector-instructor at Hartford. On of that year he was or. During the summer was on temporary National Guard of Virginia, and the Dis-

Well-Known U. S. Army Officer Who is Soon to Be Promoted.

bla. umn of 1914, Major acted as an umpire at of the regular army of, N. Y. The fol- e was again an un- maneuvers with the off Narragansett bay. ccessfully passed the 'or the war college at ut was not assigned. of duty on detailed ed with the "Manchu ational Guard was or- texican border a year huttleworth was as- r, in June, as senior r for Connecticut. In s assigned to similar Shuttleworth Nomi- come Lieuten- Colonel.

1917
d A. Shuttleworth, U. officer at the State een nominated to be it-colonel, with rank und the nomination is ore the Senate tomor- nation.

t in Boston, in 1865, oned second lieuten- eventh United States st 1, 1891, and was rt Leavenworth, Kan., at Fort Huachuca, Carlos, Ariz., where and of Indian Scouts in the expedition egade "Apache Kid." ; commissary for all icago combatting the ter was in Whipple worth was promoted it April 26, 1898, and g chief ordnance offi- ourth Army Corps. Porto Rico and aided American civil gov- uary 2, 1901, he was tain. He assisted in Twenty-seventh In- ved with it in the 1903-4 and fought Major Edward A. Shuttleworth Passes Examination for Commission as Lieutenant-Colonel of Regulars.

COLONEL SHUTTLEWORTH.

against the moros. In July, 1904, he was in charge of work at Fort George Wright near Spokane, Wash., and again he was sent to the Philip- pines and was stationed on the Island of Samar for several months. Still later he was in Hawaii in charge of the Hawaiian National Guard. He came to Hartford in 1915 as in- spector-instructor for the Connecticut National Guard.

He married Miss Minnie Moore Walling December 16, 1891, at North- field, Vt.

Former Resident of City Commands Regiment Sent to West Virginia

Sept-1921 COL. EDWARD A. SHUTTLEWORTH.

When the Fortieth U. S. Infantry, regulars, left Camp Knox, Kentucky, on Friday for duty in the West Virginia mining district, it was under command of Colonel Edward A. Shuttleworth, U. S. A., who for more than four years was inspector-instructor assigned to the Connecticut National Guard. He came to Hartford in 1913 and served almost continuously with the C. N. G. until 1917 when the guard was federalized for service overseas. Colonel Shuttleworth mustered the National Guardsmen into the federal service for duty on the border in 1916, and he was on duty again in October of that year when the guardsmen were mustered out of the federal service.

Colonel Shuttleworth has a long record of military service in the Philippine islands.

The Sixteenth Infantry which went from Camp Dix to the troubled area in West Virginia, is also commanded by a former Hartford resident, Colonel Francis E. Lacey having been assigned to the Connecticut National Guard as a federal instructor between 1912 and 1915.

NEW HOME OF J. M. NEY COMPANY ON ELM STREET

OLD HOME OF J. M. NEY COMPANY ON ASYLUM STREET

g o
c
c b
t
l
r t
t
s t
C
L
s e
m p r
w e t
h
t o
w
w e
a r
f i
r
p
r s u
a n
s p u
r

A pe ordred d se street
th ward
de street.
It is are no plan
I streets
Le who f
any fe laid c busine this la broug
of the
at No bough

investment, but that the a do with the story. The a house is such that it is an i of the methods governing tion that were pursued n years ago. The buildin the foot of An

He Know

The total membership, 435 of the an league.
party was that independent, republican and non-parti-labor.
compound
labor, single tax.
have ne or more states. These are: Pro-
At least eight other parties have ominated candidates for senator in New York and Washington.
$89,000.

Buckingham Street Girl Becomes Bride of Mr. Purdon—Ceremony at St. Peter's

June 25

Miss Agnes J. McAdam of Buckingham street, and James Purdon of this city, were married at 9 o'clock, Monday morning at St. Peter's church, the Rev. Francis P. Nolan officiating with a nuptial mass. The church was decorated with palms and cut flowers and special music was given by the University quartet. Ernest Pillion sang "O Promise Me," during the ceremony, and, at the offertory, "O Salutaris" was given as a solo by Frank Barrett.

The bride wore a gown of pearl gray taffeta, trimmed with silver, and a picture hat of pink georgette crepe. She carried an arm bouquet of white roses and orchids. Her attendant was Miss Helen Hogan, who wore a gown of old French blue silk with a hat of metallic tissue, and carried an arm bouquet of pink roses. Michael C. Purdon, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. The bride's gift to the maid of honor was a watch bracelet and the bridegroom gave the best man a scarf pin.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast and reception were held at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. William McGann, in Buckingham street. Guests from New York, Boston and Middletown were among those present. Mr. and Mrs. Purdon left afterward for New York and Atlantic City, the bride wearing a traveling suit of navy blue taffeta and a leghorn hat, trimmed with blue. They will be at home, after September 1, in Steele road, West Hartford.

Dr. E. G. Brackett of Boston, formerly of this city, will have charge of the Reconstruction Hospital, an arthopaedic or repair hospital, to be built on Parker Hill, Boston, for the benefit of wounded soldiers and sailors of the United States.

Gifts for W. R. Williamson 26
W. Rulon Williamson, assistant actuary of the Travelers Insurance Company, left yesterday afternoon for New York, where he will spend three weeks. He will marry, on Tuesday, Miss Carolee Churchill of Springville, N. Y.

At the noon hour yesterday, when the luncheon gong rang, Mr. Williamson received a bouquet of roses and a leather covered box, lined with satin, containing five $20 gold pieces, from 120 of his office associates. Mr. Williamson's recent work for the Travelers has been the actuarial supervision of the group division, a department of the company's business which has grown enormously in the last few years.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Bridgeman have given and equipped an ambulance for the use of the American Ambulance Corps in France, where their son, Eldridge Bridgeman, is already in the service.

Among those who were graduated from the Choate School in Wallingford on Wednesday were Godfrey Malbone Day, son of Mrs. George H. Day of Marshall street, and Hubert Waldemer Fischer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Camille L. Fischer of Oak street.

Mr. and Mrs. James Robert Hagerty of No. 16 Overhill road, Roland Park, Md., announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Helen Hagerty, to Henry Lee Bunce, jr., of this city son of Henry L. Bunce, president of the United States Bank. Miss Hagerty is one of five sisters, the others being Mrs. Hayden Dudley of Boston, Mass., Miss Emily Hagerty, Miss Henrietta Hagerty, and Miss Marie Hagerty. Mr. Bunce, who has graduated from Yale University, is engaged in business with the Stone & Webster Engineering Corporation of Boston.

H. L. BUNCE, JR., IS MARRIED IN BALTIMORE

Bride Miss Helen Hagerty of Roland Park.

(Special to The Courant.)

Baltimore, June 25.

Henry Lee Bunce, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lee Bunce of Hartford, Conn., and Miss Helen Hagerty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Hagerty of Roland Park, a suburb of this city, were married this evening at the home of the bride's parents by Rev. Dr. Arthur B. Kinsolving, rector of Old St. Paul's Church. A reception followed. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

The bridesmaids were Miss Florence Rising of New York, Miss Grace

ALBERT T. PATRICK TO WED

June 1917
Lawyer, Who Was Three Times Sentenced to Die, Will Marry Oil Operator's Daughter

Albert T. Patrick, wealthy oil man, who was sentenced three times to die in Sing Sing prison on a murder charge, announced at Tulsa, Okl., yesterday his engagement to Miss Mildred West, daughter of a Tulsa oil operator. They will be married in June.

Patrick was pardoned by Gov Dix November 28, 1912, after 10 years in prison following his conviction of the murder of William Marsh Rice, a Texas millionaire, in New York city. He was chief beneficiary under the will of Rice. The legal fight he made for freedom was one of the most remarkable in the criminal annals of the country.

When Patrick was convicted in March, 1902, Mrs. Addie M. Francis, to whom he was engaged, proved her faith in him by marrying him in the Tombs prison. She worked tirelessly from that time until he was freed to interest prominent men in his behalf, and her brother, John T. Milliken of St. Louis, spent a fortune to gain Patrick's liberty.

For 10 years Mrs. Patrick lived within sight of the walls of Sing Sing that she might be near her husband and comfort him. The day after he was pardoned they began their long-delayed honeymoon, going first to St. Louis and later to Tulsa. A year later the news came from Tulsa that Mrs. Patrick, worn out by years of nervous strain, was dying.

W.C.B.
BUNCE—At Phillips House, Oct. 1, Henry Lee Bunce, 3d., infant son of Henry Lee, Jr., and Helen H. Bunce, 328 St. Paul street, Brookline, Mass.

Did they marry?

June - 20
Miss Margaret Treat Thayer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert A. Thayer, of Boston, and Lewis Richardson Puffer of this city were married Tuesday at Fruit Acres, Thayer summer home in Harvard Rev. L. G. Barrett of Melrose, u

June 27 -
The wedding of Mrs. Ines Black Miller daughter of Mrs. Frank

Wife of Secretary of Navy

DRIVING "THE TIMES."

David Gaines's Wagon Used to Run From Office to Station Four Minutes.

June 25, 1911
David L. Gaines, a former employe of THE HARTFORD TIME now residing at the Soldiers' in Noroton, is spending ten days in the city and celebrated the eight anniversary of his birth today. He has been married fifty years, spending the anniversary with his wife, who lives with her mother at No. 320 Wethersfield avenue. Mrs. Gaines was Emma M. Raney of Haddam.

Mr. Gaines was born at 11 Capitol avenue, Hartford, June 1837. He went to the old school and the Brown school. During the Civil war days he enlisted in Company I, but was almost immediately made brigade wagon master. He was Quartermaster Julius L. (Mr. Gaines's first work of an army) as a boy was leading a horse to the dock, hoisting coal from the barges.

He was a coast sailor on various vessels and in the '50s was Hartford's volunteer fireman. The engine house was at the corner of Ferry street. He is a member of the Hartford Veteran Volunteer Association.

Mr. Gaines was one of the first bus drivers of Hartford's days. He drove the 'bus from the railroad station to State street, Main street 'bus, and the Colt's dyke and Wyllys street.

He worked for P. Jewell after the war and was on the Hartford police force about ten years after 1872. At times he was in express delivery business, and for a period of thirteen years he carried his horse and wagon he carried THE TIMES from the mailing room to the trains at the railroad station.

Traffic policemen of the day would gasp could they have seen Gaines and his horse and wagon going down Pearl street with only four minutes to get from THE TIMES to the depot. But he didn't run the trains, and he kept it up twenty years made him more cautious. He didn't like to take the chances the speed he made in his wagon. When he first started this work a large amount of TIMES carried to the depot could have been put in a barrow he says. When he left a big wagon load. In the fall of 1888 he was the first to get up through Main street. He had four horses and called at the depot to see if there were any TIMES taken to the trains.

He felt sort of decrepit and gave up the exciting business of driving the papers and he went to work for the city water department reading meters. Later he became superintendent of the depots and stables. Six years ago he moved to Noroton. Then he came home and next tried the soldiers' home at Togus, Me. He came back and took up his abode at Noroton. He says he likes it down there, and is going —[Copyright, Underwood & Underwood, New York.

The above is the latest photograph of Mrs. Josephus Daniels, wife of Josephus Daniels, Secretary of the Navy. Mrs. Daniels since the outbreak of the war has been busy every moment doing war work. She is a member of the National War Work committee of the Y. W. C. A. and attended the conference of that body recently held in New York. She has two sons in service Josephus Daniels, jr., who enlisted in the navy as a seaman and has won his first promotion and Worth Bagley Daniels, who is years of age, who has been appointed to Annapolis.

There is to be a reception this evening at Riverview, from 8 to 11 o'clock, and Mr. and Mrs. Russo will be at home at No. 143 Windsor street, after July 8, following a short wedding trip.

SECRETARY OF THE NAVY
Mrs. Josephus Daniels
The above is the latest photograph of Mrs. Josephus Daniels, wife of Josephus Daniels, Secretary of the Navy. Mrs. Daniels since the outbreak of the war has been busy every moment doing war work. She is a member of the National War Work committee of the Y. W. C. A. and attended the conference of that body recently held in New York. She has two sons in service Josephus Daniels, jr., who enlisted in the navy as a seaman and has won his first promotion and Worth Bagley Daniels, who is years of age, who has been appointed to Annapolis.

BURR SCHOOL GIRL HAS FINE RECORD

Goodby to Josephus, Jr.

Copyright G. V. Buck, Wash., D. C. from Underwood & Underwood, N. Y.

THE SECRETARY OF THE NAVY AND HIS SON.

Daniels saying good-bye to his son, who has joined the marine corps. Young Daniels passed a nearly perfect examination. A defect in his eyesight was waived aside by the authorities as he was so ambitious to join. Pretty nearly every member of the cabinet now has one son or more in the ranks.

Miss Warren's father is a member of the Ohio society. She has two sisters, the Misses Emma and Helen Warren.

Miss Amy Warren, daughter of Charles Edward Warren of Brooklyn, and Henry Bradley Plant, Morton F. Plant of Branford Eastern Point, Groton, and York, were married yesterday at the home of the bride's father on the island and a few days advanced according to the reports have taken place. The groom is an energetic and active service man and formerly lived in Groton at their home, which, for several weeks, are going to the Plant, U. S. Army, who were married at the Groton Point, Groton, and returned for duty.

PLANT IN COURT
3, 1920.
Decide Who
For Main-Estate.

owned a Boston London news-steam yacht club and expensive hobby, his residence Groton, across the don, was built at It is some dis-tern Point Hotel, l by Commodore ery bedroom has and where beer le when it was 5 ondon. Branford estate in Bran- much of the pro- House and the in many respects state in this part ornate mansion ng like a castle. for a two laborate as qther orhood. Connec- a pheasant farm, p and hothouses e's gardener grew burg grapes. ch an estate re- and a friendly tarted in the su- vich by the exe- f the Plant estate ice from which f the Yale e is sales rty. The case is 27. Under Com- the income of 3,000,000 estate, sal, went to his st in the Eastern queathed to Mr. Plant. Whether all maintain the ided.

wife formerly d her first hus- inager. She se- a him to marry After the death e married Colo- l of New York, of the old Fir- New York, com- . This was the araded in New n from France: the ab- otatable in many led by Lieuten-) wrote all the nd Mrs. Vernon nes sent Paris or court n of the regi- e of Mr. who killed over ne engagement, since the was a hero

BE ENCH orn Re-ing to ary.

Executive e, accord- h M. Al- the Gill- or court, the ab- oming to e of Mr. report ne the P. Tuttle, of Granby as gradu- ble High ty in 1901 1905. He of Repre- ntly mar- this city daughter, Margaret Perkins, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Howard W. Beardsley of No. 467 Prospect avenue, yesterday morning, at the Charter Oak Hospital.

75
June 28

DECEMBER 25, 1920.

GOVERNOR APPOINTS MALTBIE FOR JUDG

(Correspondence of The Courant.)

New York, Jan. 29.

Frank A. Vanderlip, financier, delivered a speech on "Foreign Affairs" a week ago at the Town Hall. He is a most interesting speaker and he knows his American history with a knowledge so fresh and so full of interesting surprises to himself that he has to tell you about it just as a man has to tell you about his new baby. By this I do not mean that Mr. Vanderlip has not read American history like the rest of us, profoundly, but he has been re-reading it in the light of recent events, and though his speech had rather a long vestibule, the vestibule led into a big and impressive edifice. United States history is like Sinclair Lewis's novel, they call it now "the great American novel," "Main Street," and "Main Street" is in every city and town and situation and repeats itself. Mr. Vanderlip told what the Senate did in Washington's time, in Jefferson's time, in Lincoln's time, in McKinley's and Roosevelt's time and he showed, perhaps I ought to say, tried to show, how necessary it is to have a different sort of education if we want to decide intelligently on foreign affairs.

Wants Super-Senate.

He wants a "super-senate" composed of thirty men who shall always be on the go, a suggestion sure to be received with rapture by the executive, and who shall spend six months in Europe every year listening to what takes place in other countries and six months traveling over the United States telling the public what they have found out and making foreign affairs the possession of the people instead of a matter of secret information for politicians.

Of course the plan is impracticable, because the Senate must vote for it, and the Senate would no more abdicate so much authority than a housekeeper would call in a neighbor to manage her affairs.

The Path of Safety.

Another thing that betrayed a certain guiltness which is particularly attractive in a great man was Mr. Vanderlip's attitude toward the Japanese.

If I wanted, to keep my head about foreigners, I would do exactly what our statesmen have been doing since we were a country. I would stay at home and know nothing, not even the Turk," she complained. "You have to know everything. They tell you that when you come out into society you have to know banking and commerce and statistics and how to run a diet kitchen or a hospital or a shop and they keep you at it like galley slaves. I have tried to get into—" and she named the only great school in the country where the good old term, "atmospheric influence" is still used with the golden one "general culture and refinement." "But it was full up and places engaged till 1940."

An instance of the truth of her remark I noted at a meeting of one of our patriotic societies. I suppose it is no harm to say that on this occasion Mrs. Finley J. Shepard spoke. Mrs. Shepard is known throughout the country for her charities. She has adopted three orphan children as her own, and has made her name beloved. At the patriotic meeting of which I just wrote she stood up and made a talk on the duty of all patriotic societies to combine to combat the Bolshevik propaganda. No notes, no pamphlets but an overwhelming array of facts, of dates and figures and all expressed with the utmost clearness and not a wasted word. She had learned how at a fashionable

FRANK A. VANDERLIP.

MAL

Appoin
Be

Several court a now the court twelve juniors parativ
His fa
Granby

William M. Maltbie early showed indications he would have a profound knowledge of law. He was a successful practicing attorney, was then assistant state's attorney under State's Attorney Hugh M. Alcorn, and later executive secretary to Governor Marcus H. Holcomb, who had been on the bench when young Maltbie was practicing. Governor Holcomb appointed Judge Maltbie to the superior court bench in 1917 to fill out an unexpired term.

All of the judges who were then on the bench received their compensation.

been appointed to the supreme court.

The superior court judges now are listed in point of service: William M. Maltbie of Hartford, Frank D. Haines of Portland, George E. Hinman of Willimantic, John W. Banks of Bridgeport, Isaac Wolfe of New Haven, Christopher L. Avery of Groton, L. P. Waldo Marvin of Hartford, Allyn L. Brown of Norwich, Newell Jennings of Bristol, Leonard J. Nickerson of West Cornwall, Arthur F. Ells of Waterbury, John R. Booth of Danbury, Frederick M. Peasley of Cheshire.

John Buckley is also assistant attorney. Mrs. Maltbie is well known in musical circles in Danbury and has been a promiscious soloist in this city.

CH 8, 1919

born yesterday at the hospital to Judge William M. Maltbie and Mrs. Maltbie.

JUDGE
January
adopt

Chester, June 30.

A pretty home wedding took place Thursday afternoon at 4:30 when Miss Mildred Wilcox, youngest daughter of Mr. Joseph S. Wilcox, became the bride of Charles B. Brooks of Hartford. The house was decorated with laurel, roses and ferns, the color scheme being pink and white. The ceremony was per-

BUCKLEY IS NAMED FOR MALTBIE'S PLACE TO TAKE OFFICE

AT END OF MONTH.

AUGUST 15, 1917.

Prominent in Activities of Republican Party.

John Buckley of Union has been appointed, by Governor Marcus H. Holcomb, executive secretary, to succeed William M. Maltbie, who becomes a judge of the superior court, according to an announcement from the governor's office yesterday. The appointment will take effect August 31. Robinson Cook of West Hartford, will continue as special aid in connection with the draft.

Mr. Buckley has long been prominent in state politics. In 1909, he served his first term in the state House of Representatives. Although he was the youngest member of that House, he was nevertheless made House chairman of the committee on labor. He was an alternate at the republican national convention of 1916. He has twice been assistant clerk of the House, first in 1911 and again in 1913. In the 1915 Legislature he was made clerk of the House. In the last Legislature he was clerk of the Senate.

Mr. Buckley was born in Stratford, May 12, 1885, but he has lived in Union ever since he was 7 years old. He was educated in the public schools of that town, and was graduated from Hitchcock Academy in Brimfield, Mass. From the academy he entered the University of Maine and was graduated from the law school with the degrees of LL. B. and LL. M. In September, 1908, Mr. Buckley was admitted to the Connecticut bar, and has a law office at No. 756 Main street in this city.

As a member of the Legislature he was active in securing legislation. Something of his methods is seen in the way in which he brought about the enactment of the law regulating standing room in theaters and moving picture shows. He went to a moving picture show one night, after a hard day in the Legislature. He bought a ticket, expecting to secure a seat and then found that he would have to stand. Feeling that he had been imposed upon, the injustice rankled in his mind. He helped to introduce a bill and engineered it through both houses, making it compulsory for theater and moving picture house managers to put up a sign as soon as they have sold out all their seats at a performance, and also regulating the number of people that shall be allowed to stand in a theater, or moving picture house.

done for the people. Many students of the old academy were helped by Mrs Foskit and have gone out into the world to do more efficient work and to live better lives, it may be, because of her timely aid.

of laurel by Kirkwood, as the Broadway York city, for Chester Conn who used the service.

as Miss Nellie sister of the man was Cliffordus, brother nes and Anna York, nieces as flower girls rus from Wag was played by x, sister of the gown of white a tulle veil, blossoms and of bridal roses. a gown of blue hat and carried ink roses. The white net over 1917

BIRTHDAY

Foskit Whose ne Much for Foskit, who cel- hday yesterday ham, was born 28, 1825, the d Phebe Hitch-was married to 47. He was a in Wilbraham ns for many nearly 30 years were born to ghter who died skit has spent er native town. n a benefactor no pass through e work she has ament, Grange ks, the electric

t church, in se- was influential. urch was wired Mrs Foskit and ent of the town. ck by lightning

Then it was the great need ly, so she gave sian well. When ulti Mrs Foskit uer presented a new bell. ven over $8000 utify the town id interest in it. appreciated by the village, by the most inwhich she has

BOSWORTH-PARKER WEDDING

Springfield Herald
Miss Olive Clapp Bosworth Is

Bride of Wallace C. Parker

Another in the long list of weddings this week took place yesterday MALLARY-BUGBEE WEDDING

LOCAL TEACHERS MARRIED

Springfield Herald
Ceremony Performed at Bride's

Home Amid Attractive Decorations of Birch Boughs, Pink Flowers and Ferns

Masses of birch boughs against which were contrasted the pink flowers of the season were used in the decorations of the home of Mrs Raymond DeWitt Mallary on upper State street for the marriage last evening of her daughter, Miss Lucy Rockwell Mallary and Lloyd Harrison Bugbee, son of Mr and Mrs Warren L. Bugbee of Hartford, Vt. A touch of sentiment came from the fact that he sweet peas and maidenhair fern which were used in nearly all the rooms of the house came from the old Walker place in Lenox, the home of the bride's maternal greatgrandfather.

The ceremony was performed at 8 o'clock in the large parlor of the Mallary home by Rev Dr Philip S. Moxom, pastor emeritus of South Congregational church, assisted by Rev Dr Newton M. Hall, pastor of North Congregational church, the single ring service being used. Miss Meta Mallary was her sister's maid of honor, and the bridesmaids were Miss Marguerite E. W. W. Mallary, another sister, and Miss Alice Puffer of Boston. Little Lucy Turner, the bride's niece, served as ring bearer. The best man was Dr James Seaman of New York, and the ushers included Fred-

At the reception Mr and Mrs Bugbee were assisted in receiving by Mrs Mallary, who was gowned in black lace over white satin, the bride's sister, Mrs Frederick H. Turner, in pink, charmeuse embroidered in silver, and, by Mrs Warren L. Bugbee, who wore a handsome robe of gray silk. Mr and Mrs Bugbee left last evening for a trip through the Rangeley region in Maine and are later to spend some time in Berkshire. The bride's going-away costume was of gray jersey, with gray hat trimmed with pink roses. They are to make their home in Springfield. Mrs Eugbee, whose father, the late Rev Raymond DeWitt Mallary was president of the American International college of this city, is a graduate of Mount Holyoke college, and has been a member of the faculty of the technical high school. Mr Bugbee, who is also of that faculty, is a graduate of Dartmouth and a member of the Delta Tau Delta fraternity.

Out-of-town guests here for the wedding included Mr and Mrs Warren L. Bugbee of Hartford, Ct., Dr and Mrs Edward Preston Hale of Lenox, Dr William A. Turner of Housatonic, Prof and Mrs Marshall B. Cummings of Burlington, Vt., Miss Mary A. Steer of Albany, N. Y., Mr and Mrs Thomas Ramsdell of Housatonic, Mrs Edith Armstrong Talcot and her daughter, Miss Talcot, of Newton, Mr and Mrs George A. Stevens of Great Farrington, Mrs Alburn Fargo and Mr and Mrs John Lyman of Easthampton, Rev. Roscoe Nelson Preaches 25 Years—Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Wed Quarter Century.

WINDSOR, Saturday, June 30. Friends and members of the parish of the First Congregational Church gathered last evening in the parish house and gave a reception in honor of Rev. Roscoe Nelson and Mrs. Nelson, it being their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary, also the twenty-fifth anniversary of Rev. Mr. Nelson's pastorate at the church. The parish house was decorated and during the early part of the evening Mr. and Mrs. Nelson received congratulations from their friends. Those who received were: Mrs. J. Wilson, Mrs. J. Rev. Wil Campbell, Mrs. J. musical given. Mrs. J. nished in the e Bertha J. Mrs. A. land.

In appreciation of the pastor's faithful service as a token of appreciation, Mrs. Nelson presented to the pastor a beautiful clock. The pastor thanked Mrs. Nelson for the gift and expressed his appreciation of the kind and thoughtful gifts they had given to the church.

WARREN L. HALE

East Hartford Young Man Preparing for War Service in Air.

East Hartford, June 29.—Warren L. Hale, of No. 58 Wells avenue, is registered, to-day, at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, in Boston, for special work in aeronautics. The institute is one of six universities in the country with equipment for the lines of instruction necessary selected by the government for the purpose, and Mr. Hale is one of twenty-five students in his group, other groups being due to arrive every week until the whole number is two hundred.

The course which Mr. Hale will take include first, three weeks of intensive military training followed by five weeks of study in specialties, which include management of engines, study of meteorology, the use of instruments and the work of signalling. At the completion of the technology work he will go to a flying school, and will be detailed to service at the front, where he will get intensive training in the management of high-powered machines.

NOTABLE LENOX WEDDING

HARVARD PROFESSOR WEDS French Army Officers Now at Cambridge, Among Many Prominent Guests in Attendance

June 30, 1917

Frederic Schenk, professor of English literature at Harvard and one of the most prominent of the Lenox colony, Frederick Schenk and his wife, who were married in St Anne's Cathedral in Lenox to Miss Marie daughter of Mrs J. East Hartford's only aviator who saw

LIEUT. W. L. HALE BACK FROM ITALY

A special dispensation was granted him to return to his home country had been absent for twenty-one months, seventeen of which were spent flying over the cities of Italy and France, doing his part in driving back the Germans. He was welcomed by his many friends in Spring lawn, but he called to see him last evening. Lieutenant Hale was called in May, 1917, having enlisted in the Aviation Corps in January. He was sent directly to the Massachusetts Technology ground school and in September was sent abroad on the S. S. Mongolia, which docked in Liverpool, England. Lieutenant Hale said last evening that the Mongolia was the

There was a brilliant reception given by the present military officers while training the Harvard distinguished guest at the Pont, Lieut Morize, personal friends of

The church was tastefully decorated with laurel in the pews and about the altar were garlands of flowers.

HALE IS COMMISSIONED

East Hartford Man, Former Student, Made First Lieutenant and Decorated for Gallantry

Warren L. Hale, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hale of East Hartford, is now a member of the United States army, having received his commission as first lieutenant in the Aviation section, United States army, and decorated by the government for gallantry in Italy, where he attended the Aviation school, with the order of the eagle for excellence in flight. Lieutenant Hale is now with the Expeditionary forces in France.

After a course in flight at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Lieutenant Hale was transferred to an American flying school in Italy, where, upon completing the course, he was appointed instructor until recently, or to France.

Lieutenant Hale, who is now a graduate from Hartford High school in which he spent the next two years of his college. He then attended school at Leland Stanford University, subsequently being associated with the East Hartford, of which his father is a member.

Winnifred G.M. SSO

gown and hat, bouquet of field flowers.

SMITH-HAWKINS WEDDING

June 30
Ceremony Performed at Bride's Home on Pineywoods Avenue Last Evening Springfield
The marriage of Miss Alice M. Smith, daughter of Mrs Seth Wheaton Smith of Pineywoods avenue, and William Stuart Lee Hawkins of Chicopee and Springfield took place last evening at 7 o'clock at the home of the bride's mother, the ceremony being performed by Rev John M. McGann, rector of Christ church, who read the singeing service. Mountain laurel, relieved by baskets and vases of pink peonies, was used in the decorations of the house.

The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs J. W. Rowland, who served as matron of honor, and by Mary Charlotte Rowland, her niece, who was the flower girl. Louis R. Hawkins of Providence, R. I., was the best man and Eugene C. Perkins, Robert F. Warren, George A. Bacon and J. N. Rowland were the ushers.

White crepe meteor was the material of the wedding gown, combined with silver lace and pearls. The court train was of cloth of silver, and the bridal veil of rare old lace was caught up with orange blossoms. Silver slippers completed the costume, and the bride carried a shower bouquet of bride roses. Mrs Rowland appeared in a gown of pink satin combined with blue tulle and pink rosebuds and carried pink sweet peas, while the flower girl was in a frock of white organdie and carried a basket of pink rosebuds.

After the reception Mr and Mrs Hawkins slipped away for a wedding trip, the latter in a suit of navy blue poiret twill, with which she wore a hat of gray felt and navy blue straw. They are to be at home after September 1 at 162 Pineywoods avenue. The bride is a graduate of the local high school and has lived all her life in Springfield. She is a member of the Oxford country club. Mr Hawkins is treasurer and manager of the Fisk manufacturing company, a member of the Colony, Nayasset and Country clubs, and is a well-known golfer.

Among the out-of-town guests at the wedding were Walter Perry and his daughter, Miss Alice Perry, of Chicago, Ill., Miss May Robinette and Mr and Mrs George H. Mann of New York city, Mr and Mrs Benjamin Manchester and Mr and Mrs L. T. Hawkins of Providence, R. I., Mrs Frank Dalton of Burlington, Vt., Mrs Edwin W. Schreve of Bridgeport, Ct., Mrs Winthrop E. Sibley of Alston, Mrs E. P. Ruggles and Miss Helen Ruggles of Dorchester, the Misses Bacon of Cambridge and Miss Alice Bacon of Framingham.

W. S. L. HAWKINS OF SPRINGFIELD KILLED WHEN AUTO SKIDDED Framingham, Mass., Nov. 10, 1917

Miss Ruth Hawkins and her sister, Miss Margaret Hawkins, daughters of today William S. L. Hawkins, who was skidded while killed at Framingham Friday when machine and his automobile skidded and turned turtle, were resting comfortably at the Framingham hospital yesterday. Miss Ruth Hawkins, who is a Wellesley College student, has a broken collarbone, but not seriously.

The bride, who entered the church with her cousin, J. Harry Alexandre of New York, who gave her in marriage, was in a regal gown of white and silver lace. The gown was with court train of tulle, which was attached to the hair by a Russian effect of silver lace. The only ornament the bride wore was a diamond and pearl bar pin, the bridegroom's gift. Her bouquet of Easter lilies was combined with summer smilax, forming a charming new combination.

Rev William F. Grace, pastor of the church, performed the marriage ceremony.

A notable reception followed the marriage. Spring Lawn, the home of Mrs Alexandre, was gorgeously decorated with garden flowers for this function. On side-walls, on tables and in vases in the halls and throughout the house were garden flowers, peonies and roses predominating.

Mr and Mrs Schenck received on the west terrace, which is covered, standing in front of a background of vines and flanked by bay trees. It looked like a natural setting, befitting a summer wedding in the country. There was dancing, Miss Alice E. Byrne and her Southampton (L. I.) orchestra playing for the reception and the dance.

Among valuable gifts was a chest of silver, the gift of Mrs J. Frederick Schenck, the bridegroom's mother, and a loving cup from the Spee club of Harvard. The gifts were shown with cards and represented a glittering array of costly silver and china.

Two years ago Mrs J. Frederick Schenck transferred to her son, Valleyhead, the beautiful estate of the Schencks on Richmond mountain road, Lenox, where Mr and Mrs Schenck will live.

Among the guests at the church were Prof and Mrs Barrett Wendell, Caroline Leroy Webb and Anne Miss Alice Gardiner Mulligan, daughter of Judge Henry C. Mulligan and Mrs. Mulligan of Boston, and Wilford Lawson Spencer, Yale 1915, were married Wednesday at the First Congregational Church in Natick, Mass., by Rev. Frederick W. Perkins of Lynn, assisted by the pastor of the church. Mr. Spencer, who is now a student at the Harvard Law School, will sail for France on July 7 to join the American Ambulance Field Service. The bride's father was a member of Governor S. W. McCall's council last year and the bride's mother was formerly president of the Massachusetts Federation of Women's Clubs.

June 27th

Of interest to society in this city, Brooklyn and Philadelphia, is the announcement by Mr. and Mrs. Horace Moore Biddle, formerly of Philadelphia, of the engagement of their daughter, Miss Evelyn Moore Biddle, to Judge Norman S. Dike of Brooklyn, son of Mrs. Camden C. Dike and brother of Mrs. George C. F. Williams of this city. Mr. and Mrs. Biddle now live in New York. Judge Dike was graduated from Brown university in 1885 and has been one of the most prominent and popular bachelors in Brooklyn society, organizer of important dances and noted as a cotillion leader. He is a county judge and was previously sheriff of King's county. He has served on many citizen committees and taken part in good government movements. Judge Dike is a member of the Hamilton, the University, the Heights Casino, the Crescent Athletic, the Brooklyn and the Republican clubs. In addition to Mrs. Williams he has another sister, Mrs. Murray Boocock of Keswick, Va., who has frequently visited in Hartford, as has Judge Dike.

Miss Evelyn Moore Biddle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Moore Biddle of New York and Philadelphia, and Judge Norman S. Dike of Brooklyn, son of Mrs. Camden Crosby Dike, were married at noon to-day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Richards, jr., Glen Cove, L. I. Mr. and Mrs. Richards have long been friends of the bride and her parents.

At the marriage of Miss Evelyn Moore Biddle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horace M. Biddle of Philadelphia and New York, and County Judge Norman S. Dike of Brooklyn, which took place Saturday, at Glen Cove, L. I., the guests included Dr. and Mrs. G. C. F. Williams of this city, brother-in-law and sister of the bridegroom, and their son, Staunton Williams; Mr. and Mrs. Murray Boocock of Virginia, the latter also a sister of Judge Dike, and their sons, from New York, Philadelphia and Brooklyn were present; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Burnee, jr., Dr. and Mrs. Preston P. Satterwhite, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert L. Satterlee, Mr.

and Mrs. E. Hon. George M. Woodruff of Litchfield, longtime railroad commissioner. Mrs. John of the state, was elected a deacon of Mrs. Alexander the Congregational Church in September, 1867, which is now fifty years ago. He has served in that capacity ever since and the church has recently voted that a committee report "a proper recognition" of his services and that the report be made on the fourth of next January. Mr. Fowler, Mr. Woodruff was judge of probate as Pratt, Wa long as the law allowed. It was noted Pearce, Mr. a while ago that he and Rev. Dr. Miss Mildred Storrs Seymour celebrated at Yale a ogwn of their sixtieth anniversary of graduation and was ur ation and that these two men had well of New lived next door to one another for wedding ceremony. eighty years.

years old, has been on the bench for about twelve years. His clubs include the University, Hamilton, Dycker, Meadow and Riding and Driving.

The Kings county grand jury of Brooklyn, N. Y., presented to Judge Norman S. Dike, of the county court in that city, a square silver bowl, as a wedding present.

Invitations have been received in this city to the wedding of Miss Dorothy Latimer Birchard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ramage Birchard of No. 44 Lafayette street, Springfield, Mass., and Elmer Wendell Mulrone of the staff of the Y. M. C. A. in Springfield, which will take place in the State Street Baptist Church of that city on Saturday afternoon, June 30, at 4 o'clock. It is to be one of the largest of the season in Springfield, over 400 invitations having been issued. The reception, which will be held following the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents, will be limited to the relatives and intimate friends. The flower girls will be Elizabeth Birchard, the sister of the bride, and Thera Mulrone, niece of the bridegroom, and the 11-years-old twin brothers of the bride will be the pages. Miss Constance Birchard, sister of the bride, will be the maid of honor, and another sister, Miss Eleanor Crawford Birchard, and Miss Eleanor Gifford Willard of this city will be the bridesmaids. The best man will be Melvin E. Mulrone, brother of the bridegroom, and the ushers will include Clark E. Richards, Oliver J. Dixon, J. Dixon Birchard and Frederick A. Sharo, formerly of this city. The bride is well known in musical circles in Massachusetts and both she and the bridegroom are well known in Hartford.

Miss Dorothy Latimer Birchard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur R. Birchard of Springfield and Elmer Wendell Mulrone of Springfield were married yesterday afternoon in the State Street Baptist Church.

A marriage of interest to Hartford was that of Miss Ruth Cheney, of Boston, grand-daughter of the late Dr. Lyon, of this city, formerly of New Britain, and Winthrop Streeter of Concord, N. H., which took place, Saturday afternoon, on the grounds of the summer home of the bride's mother, East Hill, Peterboro, N. H.

NEIGHBORS AND CHUMS FOR EIGHTY-ONE YEARS

At the recent Yale Commencement Rev. Dr. Storrs O. Seymour and former Railroad Commissioner George M. Woodruff of Litchfield attended the reunion of their class which graduated in 1857, sixty years ago. These two men have lived next door to each other for eighty-one years. They were chums at Andover and Yale for eleven years.

James B. Cone of Farmington avenue attended the celebration of the sixtieth anniversary of the graduation of his class at Yale University at the University dining hall last week.

June 30.

June - 30

June - 30

Eyre-Scranton Wedding to be Celebrated in Hartford To-night— Church Services.

Windsor, June 30.—The marriage of Miss Sara H. Scranton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Scranton of Pallsado avenue and Arthur Eyre of Bridgeport, will take place this evening at 6 o'clock in St. John's Episcopal church, Hartford. The wedding will be followed by a reception at the bride's home in Windsor at 7 o'clock. The Rev. J. W. Bradin will officiate, the double ring service being used. Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose Evans, and Mr. and Mrs. James Kilgore will be the attendants of the bridal couple. Ruth Evans, a niece of the bride, will be ring-bearer, and Alice Evans, a niece of the bride, will be flower girl.

The home of the bride has been decorated with mountain laurel roses and daisies.

June 30
When the day at the probate court closed at noon the officials and stenographers and clerks gathered about John Allan Tracy, file clerk in the office and extended farewells. He will leave for New York, Sunday to enlist in the marines and expects to see service in France. Mr. Tracy who has been employed in the court for five years, is a member of the First company, Governor's Foot Guard. George Austin has

June 30
Miss Althea Harriet Butler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Henry Butler of No. 335 Connecticut boulevard, East Hartford, and Charles William Ripley of Main street, East Hartford, were married yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock at the First Baptist Church by the pastor, Rev. Dr. Herbert Judson White. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attended by her cousin, Miss Helen Bailey of this city, as maid of honor and Miss Dorothy Alice Steele was the ring bearer. The best man was William M. Saunders, jr., of East Hartford and Newell Lewis Bailey, cousin of the bride, and Louis Ratcliffe Ameluxer, both of this city, were the ushers. The bride wore a dress of white Georgette crepe, with a hat to match, and carried an arm bouquet of marguerites. Her attendant was dressed in yellow Georgette crepe, with a hat of black tulle, and carried a Colonial bouquet of varied spring flowers. The ring bearer wore a frock of white organdy and carried the wedding ring on a single pink rose. The church was decorated with laurel and palms, banked around the pulpit. Henry E. Bonander, the church organist, played "The Bridal Chorus" from Wagner's "Lohengrin" as a processional and as the bridal party left the church, he played "A Midsummer Night's Dream," by Mendelssohn. During the ceremony he played "To a Wild Rose," by MacDowell. Following the ceremony, a wedding dinner for the members of the bridal party, the relatives and intimate friends was served at the Hotel Heublein. Mr. and Mrs. Ripley left for an automobile trip through the Berkshires, and after their return will live at No. 860 Main street, East Hartford, where they will be at home after September 1. Mr. Ripley is an adjuster at the home office of the Travelers Insurance Company.

JACKSON BARNETT, THE INDIAN ROCKEFELLER

How He Became Rich, In Spite of Himself.

Jackson Barnett, 63 years old, a full-blood "Incompetent" Creek Indian, living near Henryetta, Okla., is through his guardian and by the aid of the department of the interior, to invest the greater part of his

Lieutenant John A. Tracy.

Lieutenant John A. Tracy.

Lieutenant John A. Tracy, son of Samuel G. Tracy of South Whitney street, enlisted in the United States Marines about a year ago and has just been graduated from the officers' training camp at Quantico, Va., with the rank of first lieutenant. It was from the same school that the late Lieutenant Caldwell Colt Robinson of this city received his training. Lieutenant Tracy was graduated from the Hartford Public High School in 1913. At the time of his enlistment he was employed as a clerk in the probate court.

JOHN TRACY PROMOTED.

Is Now First Lieutenant in the United States Marines, 1918

John A. Tracy, who received a second lieutenant's commission in the United States Marines in July, was promoted on Saturday, to first lieutenant. He enlisted about a year ago and after graduation from the officers' training camp at Quantico, Va., received his first commission. He is a son of Samuel G. Tracy, of No. 132 South Whitney street.

Lieutenant Tracy, previous to his enlistment was a clerk in the probate court. He was married on August 17, to Miss Lutie Farnsworth, of Washington, D. C. He was graduated from the Hartford Public High school in 1913 and was a member of the first company, Governor's Foot Guard. He is now in the overseas depot and expects to be sent abroad soon.

and private banks in Oklahoma, drawing 4 per cent. interest; $456,400.74 in nine national banks, drawing 3 per cent.; and $184,492.32 in the United States Treasury, on which no interest is paid. These deposits are increasing at the rate of $47,082.74 a month. Last year Barnett paid an income tax of $52,000 to the erty Bonds. ells this in- 's rise from n point of of the In- tes, it is a ifty-six In- ed Tribes of elongs, have) their cred- s Treasury, far exceed- 7 have more dit. Secre- that many of dollars rly invested various res-and his rise prominence re son of a d the life of and.

oil was dis- of Barnett's later a com- ts applied to interior for aett's allot- ered, fairly its length ie the lease terms Bar- ved part of of oil from the money al banks of the men of ved no en- the official and he had upon which abide had valuable and a multimil- rom time to r portion of ired to sup- In signing e his mark. write, he estigate the He seldom month for other sup- he distrib- he less for- be.

ane on May had $755.- edit in var- s. Of that sit in state and private banks in Oklahoma, drawing 4 per cent. interest; $456,400.74 in nine national banks, drawing 3 per cent.; and $184,492.32 in the United States Treasury, on which no interest is paid. These deposits are increasing at the rate of $47,082.74 a month. Last year Barnett paid an income tax of $52,000 to the

SILVER JUBILEE OF H. P. H. S. 1892

Every high school class is remarkable for something and a high school class which is remarkable for nothing is a remarkable class and so the class of 1892 which is remarkable for some things, and then some, is some class. This was admitted by members of the class who were talked with yesterday, as they were narrating preparations in progress for the quarter-century reunion, which is to be held in instalments Thursday and Friday evenings, and were telling how they would celebrate the centennial reunion in 1992.

O Fortunati!

The class will line up in the senior room at the high school about 7:30 o'clock Thursday evening and marvel at the class history to be read by Laurence F. Price and will sing the class song and swap reminiscences. Those who are not too adipose are to occupy the same seats in which they reposed when seniors and to see a complete set of graduation photographs and recent pictures of themselves and their wives (or husbands) and the children and the grandchildren. There will be a display of mementoes of the triumphal progress of this marvelous class through the school.

After this foregathering of the tribe of '92, the tribe will march two by two to the "gym," where the graduates not lucky enough to be of this class will have the general alumni reception, paying deserved tribute to this splendid clan.

Et Terque Beati!

At 5 o'clock Friday evening the class will assemble in the Hartford Golf Club and until 6:30 will "reminisce" and tell how much brighter their children and grandchildren are than any on this or any other earth. After a bugler blows mass call the tribesmen will envelop a dinner which will make Lucullus a piker. The Roman matrons and the leekolenai koral will tell how they have treated the years and the men will narrate how little they have left for any other products of talent to achieve.

Varium et Mutabile Semper Femina Est.

The girls will disclose how attractive they are, even still more charming than in 1892, and informality will be the special order of the evening and the dignified are to prepare for the worst. Wives and husbands are post hac, erga propter hac honorary members of the class. Every clansman is to wear a tag giving his (or her) name in full face lower case.

Gaudeamus Igitur.

It is to be the jolliest grape juice dinner ever coursed in the Hartford Golf Club. All of the women, the matron and the maid, will pare twenty-five years from their ages, as it were a tale that is told. All of the men will pare enough to become eligible to the selective draft. An irreducible minimum of ten years will be clipped from each clansman's age.

"Quod enim Munus Majus?"

The member coming the longest distance to reunite will receive a silver cup. It's a long way to go for a number, as one is in China, one in Manila, one in Baltimore and one in Pittsburgh. It is not chronicled as yet what is to be on the inside of the cup. The silver typifies the silver wedding of the class.

Vivent les Dames!

Here are the names of some of the women of the class who makes '92 the despair in achievement of any other class:—

Addie S. Belden, Mrs. James H. Morgan, Hartford.

Matilda S. Calder, B. S., Mt. Holyoke, Mrs. J. Lawrence Thurston, China.

Elizabeth S. Carter, Mrs. Frank W. Whiton, Hartford.

Edith T. Ellsw Parker, West Hartford.

Julia E. Gilmar

Walter H. Clark,

Mary C. O. Pi

B. Cheney, South

Julia G. Selder

Kelley, Hartford.

Mabelle R. Sex

Bartlett, Hartford

Julia G. Simon

Steele, Hartford,

Clara E. von

Wellesley, Mrs. J.

Wilmington, P. I.

Harriet G. White

O. Enders, West

Walter I

Here are a few

first magnitude in

William R. Ada

D. C. L., New Yor

Samuel M. Alvo

structor in the sc

the Alumni Assoc

Warren T. Bart

Ernest H. Ca

Hartford.

Walter H. Clar

Yale, Hartford.

George H. Coe,

Rockville Center,

Samuel Ferguso

E. E., A. M., Colum

ity, Hartford.

Richard J. Goo

B. Yale, Hartford,

Harold G. Holco

Hartford.

Robert C. Knox, Hartford.

James F. O'Leary, A. B., Villanova

Coll., M. D., University of Buffalo,

Hartford.

Henry A. Perkins, A. B., Yale, E.

E., A. M., Columbia, professor of physics in Trinity College, Hartford.

Frank L. Finney, U. S. N. Academy, United States navy.

Laurence F. Price, Warehouse

Point

TO FARTHEST CORNER.

Mrs. Munsill of New York Gets for Attending H. P. H. S., 1892 Reunion—One for Judge Clark

Twenty-five years out, the class 1892, Hartford public high sch gathered at the Hartford Golf Friday evening to celebrate toast and song and jest the com tion of its quarter-century. J

Walter H. Clark was toastma and Lawrence Price of Wareh Point acted as class adjutant.

Judge Clark was given a to cup by Mrs. Horace B. Cheney behalf of the class. A long dist cup was presented, according to Greek ceremonial, to the mes who had journeyed farthest to
the Alumni Assoc
tend the dinner, Mrs. Eva G Munsill of New York. Class g ings were ordered sent to Mr Lawrence Thurston, in China, to Commander Frank L. Pinne the United States navy.

The class heard speeches Winchell Smith of Farmington merly a member; from Mrs. H
G. Holcombe and Mrs. John D
Miss Elizabeth Stone, Ells Meech of Middletown, Samuel vord, Professor Henry A. P and Mr. Price.

SALE CLEARANCE
Mid-Summer
Great

D.,

Cal-
he
NY
-at
-T.
e

OF STUDENT BODIES

JUDGE WALTER H. CLARK

SAMUEL FERGUSON

MRS. WALTER H. CLARK
Miss Julia E. Gilman

MRS. JOHN D. PARKER
Miss Edith T. Ellsworth

G. F. Warfield & Co.
BOOKSELLERS, STATIONERS

...ions, offered by the German-American Alliance, Arthur F. Nelson,
Civic prize, Daniel M. Florida.

Joel L. English Since Age of Insurance C

Joel L. English
the Aetna Life of this city, t his fiftieth ar ployment of t
mony of their
the company
the life depart presented him bouquet of A Entering the
at the age of phers Mr. Eng
pany grow f
small organiz

AGENTS
VICE-PRES

Gifts of L
Honor o
A

Mr 2
J. L. Engl

Aetna Life Ins
surprised yes
arrived at h
beautiful pr
agents of th
to him in hos
fifty years' sea

When it hil
that Mr. Eng
he half cent
eral agents
formed a cove
suitable recog

SILVER GIFTS

Colonial he Joel L. Engl
Aetna Life

Gene
Of the Li

in reco; Fiftieth
with the C token of

Mr. English or versary. This of T. H. Christi
for manager of man; A. N. Des Mass., treasurer
Newark, N. J.

Tells Observer Half Century in Interview of "Grant."

SINCE DAYS

VAL BANK

Up-to-date Vaults.

Assets
Over
Undivided Profits
Capital
Corner Main and Grove Sts.
Travelers Building.

$2,200,000
$2,000,000
$380,000
$150,000

F. E. Fisher, Asst. Cashier.
H. J. Maercklein, Asst. Cashier.
H. W. Irving, Cashier.
Martin Welles, Vice-Pres.
Charles L. Spencer, Pres.

The Connecticut River Banking Company
INCORPORATED 1825

Cor. Main St. and Central Row.

CLEVELAND ELECTRIC ILLUMINATION COMPANY

Joel L. English.

about the western boundary of Hartford civilization, although some scattering houses had been erected farther west. Farmington avenue beyond this line, which has now one of the finest pavements in the city, was a veritable 'Slough of Despond' in the spring of the year.

"Park River beyond Woodland street was crossed by an old wooden bridge a little to the north of the present stone bridge, and the entire region beyond that bridge was practically in the country. I remember taking a friend from out of town to ride in that direction and tried to find our way over to Asylum avenue somewhere this side of Prospect avenue, but gave it up in despair and returned by the way we went out.

An Unexplored Region.

"Prospect Hill and all that region, now occupied by beautiful resi-

Boody, McLellan & Co.

New York
Boston
Direct Wires
Telephone Charter 7100
Bank Bldg., Room 903 Hartford-Aetna National

INVESTMENT SECURITIES

Spencer & Zwegart

| | |
|---------------------|--------------|
| Capital and Surplus | $2,000,000. |
|---------------------|--------------|

REV. J. W. BRADIN

RECTOR

With St.

ch Since

ACT

ION OF BRADIN

Dean of t Clergy-
ford.

ar
y
is of
y in in nas xt re
x-

Rev. James W. Bradin.

lain of the House of Representatives during the session of 1899 and was chaplain of the First Company, Governor's Foot Guard, from 1883 to 1908, and is now honorary chaplain of the company and active chaplain of the veteran corps. He has been chaplain of the Hartford Retreat for twenty-eight years and was chaplain of the Canoe Club for four years.

been presi-stees of the

ed a call to
of St. Paul's to serve as adin, which ill begin his

Rev. William T. Hooper.

URCH. r to Aid a Parish

Hooper, until Paul's school een engaged
s church to e rector, the
Mr. Hoops on July 1, ove his fam-
radin on the present month will celebrate the completion of thirty-five years as rector of St. John's church. He is at present the dean of all the Protestant clergy in the city.

Mr. Hooper peached at St. John's church a few weeks ago and made a marked impression. He has been in his work

TWO FLAGS FOR CHURCH.

St. John's Also Gets $1,000 Gift—Church Officers Are Appointed at Annual Episcopal Meetings.

Local Episcopal churches held annual meetings Monday evening and elected new officers for the ensuing year. At the meeting of St. John's Episcopal parish announcement was made that George E. Hoadley had donated an endowment fund of $1,000 to the parish. Two flags, an American and a state flag, were presented to the church by Mrs. Edwin P. Taylor and Miss Elizabeth Lincoln. The colors will be hung over the front of the chancel and the pulpit and choir entrance. Officers elected were: Wardens, Edwin P. Taylor and Charles A. Pease; parish clerk and auditor, Robert A. Wadsworth; treasurer, William C. Pease; vestrymen, James Brook, Richard L. Wayne, William M. Urban, Frank B. Gay, N. J. Goodwin, T. Goodwin Smith, Joseph Sachs, Oliver R. Beckwith, William H. Carter, Charles J. Bennett, Robert H. Schultz and A. G. McIlwaine, jr.; delegates to the diocesan convention, Edwin P. Taylor and Charles A. Pease; alternates, John O. Enders and Joel L. English.

JUNE 28, 1918. REV. W. T. HOOPER NEW RECTOR OF ST. JOHN'S is Church

parish toe tonight
of Rev.
of the ctive Pro-
city, and Mr. Bradin
the de-rector of rs.
din was it
, and re-nic educa-
his father,
He was Divinity
received his rinity Col-
st assistant,
lock, afterussets, at heights, and ght months
t. Stephen's a Brooklyn Church, at aining eight

to St. John's
e early part
e on May 21
n is the sev-
The parish
The church
et on the site
al when Mr.
rge. J. Pler-site in 1907.
ured a new avenue, west
Mr. Bradin anniversary
ch on Tues-
s chaplain of 889. Elected company, Gov-1882, he held until 1908.
ard, to the Legislature and in-Hartford Retreat. He has also ved as president of the trustees of Windsor Home for twenty-five, f the Widows'

At a special meeting of the St. John's parish last evening in the parish house the members decided, in many expressions of regret to accept the resignation of Rev. James W. Bradin, and they voted unanimously to elect him rector emeritus. Rev. W. T. Hooper, who has been assistant rector during the past year, was elected rector to the office on July 1. Mr. Bradin has been rector of St. John's Church for thirty-six years, and has served as chaplain of the First Company Governor's Foot Guard, to the Legislature and in the Hartford Retreat. He has also served as president of the trustees of the Windsor Home for twenty-five years.

Home twenty-five years at Trinity College in 1886. He served as chap-

Evangelist church, Dunbarton, N. H., and for the past year has had secuno

More Than 250 Attend Reception to Assistant Pastor of St. John's Episcopal Church.

More than 250 people attended the reception to the Rev. William T. Hooper, assistant minister, and Mrs. Hooper, in the parish house of St. John's Episcopal church Thursday evening. Mr. Hooper came to this city in July from St. Paul's school in Concord, N. H., where he was one of the masters for several years.

Among those present at the reception were the Rt. Rev. Bishop Chauncey B. Brewster, the Rev. Samuel R. Colladay, rector, Christ church; the Rev. Robert E. Marshall, acting rector, Trinity church; the Rev. Reginald R. Parker, acting rector, St. James's church; the Rev. Warren G. Archibald, pastor South Congregational church; the Rev. Arthur A. Adams, Trinity college; the Rev. E. T. Stanley, West Hartford.

During the evening Richard L. Bartlett, tenor soloist of St. John's choir, sang a pleasing selection.

The following poured: Mrs. Jacob Knous, Mrs. Donald A. Dunham, Mrs. Edwin P. Taylor, Mrs. Morris Penrose, Mrs. Leonard H. Dewing, Mrs. William E. Webster, Miss Laura Pease, Miss Lucy Penrose.

Among those in the receiving line were the Rev. James W. Bradin, rector of St. John's church, and Mrs. Bradin.

Mrs. Charles A. Pease, chairman of the hospitality committee of the church, assisted by other members of the committee, was in charge of the reception.

HOOPER—At Niles street hospital, December 15, 1919, a daughter, Elizabeth Davenport, to the Rev. and Mrs. W. T. Hooper.

June 30 - 1917?
Arthur Hart Jackson, son of Mrs. George T. Jackson and the late Dr. Jackson of New York, and Miss Dorothy Chapin Brinsmade, daughter of Mrs. William Gold Brinsmade, were married last week Saturday in the Congregational Church in Washington, this state, by Rev. H. E. Carter and Rev. Herbert C. Turner, chaplain of Hampton Institute. R. M. Jackson was his brother's best man and the ushers were college classmates of the bridegroom who was graduated from Princeton last

July
Munson-Wilson. 2
Announcements were received yesterday in this city of the marriage of Miss Sarah Iola Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Herbert Wilson of Westerly, R. I., and Tampa, Fla., and John Bentley Munson of Catskill, N. Y., which took place Monday at Wilminola, the summer home of the bride's parents at Pleasant View Beach, R. I. The bride spent the past winter with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Emerson N. Coleman of the Almeda of Asylum avenue. The bridegroom is employed at the home office of the Hartford Accident & Indemnity Company. Mr. and Mrs. Munson will live in this city.

BLAKE-ALLEN—In this city, July 1st, 1917, by the Rev. Dr. John N. Lackey, Thomas Edward Blake of Short Beach, Conn. and Eulalia E. Allen of Hartford.

Miss Eulalia Allen, daughter of Mrs. George W. Leonard of Shultas place, and Thomas Edward Blake of Branford were married Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents by Rev. Dr. John Newton Lackey, pastor of the South Baptist Church, in the presence of the immediate relatives and a few friends only. Miss Hazel Blake, sister of the bride, was her only attendant and the best man was William F. Hick of Rocky Hill. The wedding marches were played by Allan Frochok of this city, and preceding the ceremony, Mrs. Chester Ferguson of Lambertville, N. J., formerly of this city, sang "Oh, Promise Me" from "Robin Hood." The ceremony was performed beneath a large American flag. The bride wore a dress of white satin, trimmed with lace, and her veil of tulle was fastened to a pearl fillet. She carried a shower bouquet of bride roses. Her attendant's dress was of turquoise blue satin and she carried an arm bouquet of pink roses. The house decorations consisted of peonies, daisies, ferns, palms and roses. The wedding was military in form, the bridegroom being in uniform. He is a member of Company C, First Connecticut Infantry. Mr. and Mrs. Blake left for a short wedding trip. Four generations of Mr. Blake's family, most of whom live in Branford, were present. In honor of the bride, a miscellaneous shower was given Friday evening at her home on Shultas place by the Philathea Class of the South Baptist Church, of which she is a member.

July
Pye-Ludwig, 2, 1917

Miss Mabelle Ludwig, youngest daughter of Frederick Ludwig of No. 182 Seymour street, and Thomas Robert Pye, son of Mr. and Mrs. Allan R. Pye of No. 108 Webster street, were married yesterday morning at 10:30 o'clock at Center Church House. Rev. Sherrod Soule officiating. Only the members of the immediate families were present. The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. George A. Fechner, and Captain George A. Fechner was the best man. The decorations consisted of palms and crimson rambler roses, which were banked across the front of the platform. The bride wore a dress of white crepe de chine with a large white hat and carried a bouquet of white roses. The maid of honor wore a dress of blue crepe de chine with a large black hat.

The gift of the bridegroom to the bride was a crescent of sapphires and pearls, set in platinum, and the gift of the bride to the bridegroom was a solid gold watch chain with pendant. The gift of the bride to the maid of honor was a set of gold lingerie clasps and the gift of the bridegroom to the best man was a walking stick. A reception at the Hotel Bond followed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Pye left for a brief wedding trip. They will be at home after September 1 at No. 68 Buckingham street.

PYE—At No. 565 Franklin avenue, April 3, 1920, twin boys, Allen Roseoe and Frederick Ferdinand, to Mr. and Mrs. T. Robert Pye of No. 565 Franklin ave.

Will be Elected by Directors Today—Goodby to Pratt & Whitney.

July 2
B. M. W. Hanson, who retired Saturday, as vice-president and works manager of the Pratt & Whitney Company, took yesterday a spin in his car with his family to the Berkshires as brief interlude before taking up his new work with the Colt's Patent Firearms Manufacturing Company.

The directors of the Colt Company will act officially on Mr. Hanson's engagement at a meeting to be held this afternoon. It is understood that Mr. Hanson will be elected vice-president and general works manager. The company has not had, in late years, a general manager. F. C. Chadwick, who left about May 1 was the factory manager.

Mr. Hanson has resigned from the machine gun board appointed by the federal government but he will continue to give the government the benefit of his services, as far as this can be extended consistently with his work at the Colt plant and as far as he is called upon by the government. He had been appointed by President Wilson a member of the engineering branch of the National Council of Defense and is chairman of the subcommittee on rapid fire and machine guns.

When Mr. Hanson went to the Pratt & Whitney plant about nineteen years ago about 1,500 hands were employed there. He leaves the factory with about 3,500 employees. Colt's now has over 4,600 workmen.

Began As Toolmaker.

Mr. Hanson began his career at the

B. M. W. HANSON TO BE CONNECTED WITH COLT'S

Definite Announcement Is Withheld For the Present.

It is probable that B. M. W. Hanson, vice-president and works manager of the Pratt & Whitney Company, will soon become connected with the Colt Patent Fire Arms Manufacturing Company. Persistent rumors to this effect prompted Mr. Hanson yesterday to issue the following statement:—

"Regarding the report being circulated in Hartford that I will soon become connected with the Colt's Patent Fire Arms Company, I desire to state that I am not at present prepared to give the press any details regarding this matter. When final arrangements have been completed, I shall be very glad to make public announcement.

"B. M. W. Hanson."

What is considered likely to have had something to do with the probable change of places by Mr. Hanson is the fact that he has lately been made chairman of the federal machine gun board. He spent several weeks recently at the United States Armory at Springfield attending machine gun tests where two guns manufactured by the Colt Company figured prominently, making records. It is thought that his prominence in machine gun affairs may have prompted the change. It is known that the two Browning guns recently perfected by the Colt Company have made a good impression on the federal experts and Mr. Hanson's connection with the company may presage a period of extensive manufacture of these guns.

WATCH FOR MR. HANSON.

87

Department Heads and Foremen of Pratt & Whitney Surprise New Colt Works Manager.

A committee of foremen and de-

B. M. W. HANSON.

he Pratt & at the home neral works Fire Arms Friday even n with a o testify to on's former & Whitney e was con- years. The was com- William H. Assumes Man-

Work at es Pri- y.

917
ks superin- Company of eded B. M. man in the itney Company, assuming the title of general manager, having entered upon the discharge of his duties Monday following the departure of Mr. Hanson Saturday, Mr. Hanson having been elected vice-president and general works manager of the Colt Patent Fire Arms Manufacturing Company Monday afternoon. Mr. Hanson began yesterday his work in his new position.

Mr. Blood said yesterday that, aside from the changes inevitable because of the following of Mr. Hanson to Colt's by a number of Pratt & Whitney men, there were no changes under contemplation. He said that he had been appointed by President James K. Cullen and the directors of the Niles-Bement-Pond Company, of which the Pratt & Whitney Company is a subsidiary.

Mr. Blood was born in Bloomfield, O., and was graduated in 1889 from Sibley College of Cornell University, taking the course in mechanical and electrical studies. He has occupied an important and responsible position in the arsenal at Watervliet, N. Y. He comes to Hartford from the New-ark position.

Mr. Blood is married. He is a temporary guest of the Hotel Bond, pending a permanent location. He has a son, who is in the employ of the Niles-Bement-Pond Company in Springfield, Mass. He is interested in college men and matters and his coming here is welcomed by the Cornell contingent and by collegians generally.

F. O. Hoagland is manager and assistant at the Pratt & Whitney plant.

Mr. Hanson started work at 8 o'clock yesterday morning at the Colt plant. He is accompanied to his new office by Harry E. Bailey of Cromwell, his private secretary at the Pratt & Whitney plant.

MRS. CRANE RESIGNS.

HEADS NEWINGTON HOME.

Has Been Supervisor of Newington Home of Children's Aid Society Fifteen Years.

Miss Constance Leigh Starts as Su-

April
The resignation Crane, of Hartford the Newington home Connecticut Children's accepted at a meeting of directors of the afternoon.

Mrs. Crane had some ago, but at the board had continued with the home. Supervisor of the home had taken a large development. She was supervisor until July.

Mrs. Crane was The Newing To the Editor of The Will you allow your valuable paper to give the closing exercises of the Newington Home Children on Friday the first time in this institution, a class graduated from the grade the school. The exercises in the school chapel the direction of the Robert Curtis. Pianos and violin: well done, added to pleasure to the my privilege as the to present the diplomas, Antonio S. McKenna, Ardevas standing in conduct was almost perfect.

I should like to word in regard to me with this Connecticut society and the Home Children.

I have served a society twenty-five of the board for ten as supervisor of fifteen years. Most all the older members were always most gaily with the society. I did what is now with four little children. During all these years the supervisor, I had the support of the help, especially assistants, Mrs. C. Emma Griswold Hill, whose children have the peace of the always prevailed at home.

I can truly especially the respectful and evidence of the house presented away a box gold coin. The hospital gave sixteen volumes Great War a

To me such and spontaneous very deeply from children and my appreciation behalf to bet have been in home.

U. S. CONSULS SAFE.
April 2.
the Y. M. C. A. Monday evening.
Second class tests will be given at being prepared at the scout office.
and plans for the various hikes, are details, including names of runners eight weeks of Camp

IN THE ANCESTRAL CRADLE, Roswell, Phoebe and Allen Crane, children of Mrs. S. L. G. Crane of 751 Asylum street, enjoying the cradle in their father, Dr. Francis B. Crane of South Manchester, their grandmother.

WR
A

WOODS-SHERWOOD MARRIAGE

Springfield
AT HOME OF BRIDE'S SISTER

July 2
Marks Ceremony Set of War

BENEDICT D. FLYNN, JR., son of Mr. and Mrs. Benedict D. Flynn of 160 Kenyon street.

(C) Bachrach
Episcopal church
William Greenough Thayer of Southboro performed the ceremony, assisted by Rev. George Grenville Merrill, rector of St Paul's church. In view of the recent death of Joseph Hodges Choate, the ceremony was designed to be as simple, considering the large number of relatives and immediate friends, as it could be made.

Miss Alma De Gersdorff, sister of the bride, was her only attendant. The ushers were Henry A. Murray, Jr., of New York, Paul Courtney of Wellesley Farms, Francis Brooks, John Kenneth Howard and Walter H. Trumbull, Jr., all of whom were classmates of Mr Bradlee at Harvard, and Casper De Gersdorff, the bride's youngest brother, and Malcolm Bradlee and Sargent Bradlee, younger brothers of the groom.

The church was simply but very attractively decorated, flowers used being mountain laurel and peonies. George De Gersdorff of New York assisted in the decorations. A reception at the country residence of Mr and Mrs C. A. De Gersdorff on Prospect hill followed the ceremony.

Woods Clark Samuel, which home of -in-law, Wallace, marked date of nced on listment e of the a called at-home e young mediate y which was per- Gilkey. egational was her brother. n. Dur- party el in the ced with peonies. used in room a et peas e satin, th, and n long of tulle

MARRIED

Bradlee of 1917

Jr., son of Mr Bradlee of Bea- and Miss Jose- daughter of Mr Gersdorff of New e, were married at the St Paul's church at 4 o'clock. Dr

A son was born yesterday morning at the Niles Street Hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Benedict D. Flynn of No. 169 Kenyon street.

JANUARY 21, 1923.

A son was born Friday to Mr. and Mrs. Benedict D. Flynn of No. 160 Kenyon street.

MAY, MARCH 12, 1921.

July Flynn-Brady. 31 1917

Miss Genevieve M. Brady, daughter of Mrs. Thomas H. Brady of New Britain, and Benedict D. Flynn of this city, assistant secretary of the Travelers Insurance Company, were married yesterday morning at St. John's Church, Old Saybrook, by Rev. J. T. Winters, pastor of St. Mary's Church, New Britain. Miss Frances G. Brady, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Rene T. Byrne and Miss May Flannery of New Britain and Miss May E. McKone of Hartford. Professor Joseph D. Flynn, the bridegroom's brother, was the best man and the ushers were George W. Brady, brother of the bride; G. Fred Olmsted, John E. Ahern, George W. Flynn and Harry Walkley. The wedding march was played by Harry J. Barreuther, cousin of the bride. The church was decorated with ferns and flowers. Following the ceremony there was a reception for the members of the bridal party and the immediate families of the bride and bridegroom at St. Charles Inn, Westbrook.

Mr. Flynn is assistant secretary of the Travelers Insurance company, and is among the best known actuarial and statistical experts in the country. He is a member of many of the actuarial and statistical societies and has been a member of the council of the two leading ones. He attended Trinity college, specializing in mathematics. His brother, Joseph D. Flynn, is a professor at Trinity.

FLYNN—At Niles street hospital, January 31, 1919, a son, Benedict Devine, Jr., to Mr. and Mrs. Benedict D. Flynn of No. 293 Farmington ave.

TRAVELERS OFFICIAL BUYS NEW HOME

April 1920

Benedict D. Flynn, assistant-secretary of the Travelers Insurance Company has bought the residence No. 160 Kenyon street from Samuel E. Doane. The house is constructed of tapestry bricks and stucco with tile roof and there is a garage of similar construction. The lot is 70x185 feet. Mr. Flynn will occupy his new home about May 1. The sale was negotiated

July 8

~~Miss~~ Edith Bradford Haines of Memphis, Tenn., and Elmer Haines, eldest son of Judge and Mrs. Frank D. Haines of this town, were married at Trinity Church today. The double ring service was used. Rev. O. H. Raftery, rector of Trinity Church, performed the ceremony. The wedding march was played by Judson B. Brainard of this town. Relatives and a few intimate friends were present, numbering about fifty people. A reception was held in the afternoon at the home of Judge Haines. The bridegroom is employed at the Hartford Steam Boiler & Inspection Company, in Hartford, in the engineering department, and has recently joined the Ambulance Corps in the Northeastern Division of the U. S. Army. The bride is a granddaughter of Colonel Halsey Bradford of Tennessee, prominent during the Civil War. The couple left this afternoon for an automobile trip.

Edward Bradford of Memphis, Tenn., is visiting Judge and Mrs. F. D. Haines at their home on Main street.

A daughter was born Tuesday at the Niles' street hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Benedict D. Flynn of Kenyon street.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 28, 1924.

Dartmouth Banner

LIANG TUN YEN

WELL KNOWN HERE
Governor Elected to Cin

ANCESTOR WITH

General Ab
President
Histor

Governor Cha
man of New Yo to membership
Cincinnati in the
at its annual me
ate chamber at
day. He is a de ant Charles Bull
der John Paul years of the An reading the pla
leck of the shi premier naval I

LIANG
H. P.

Liang T
and states from the B 1878, died
He also at did not g his native
career as which cul
as preside
his country

tion commanded after the
and the Bon Homme Richa the fact of this descent and the er fact that he was born in C ticut, Governor Whitman is eli membership in the Conr branch of the society. He wa in Norwich, August 28, 1868.
serving his second term as governor of the Empire State.

Two other New Yorkers were taken in. They are Cortlandt Schuyler van Rensselaer and James H. Colyer, jr.
The meeting voted to give to the United States government its moral support in the present crisis, passing a resolution to this effect.

Officers Re-elected

The officers were re-elected as follows:—

- President—General Henry L. Abbot, United States army, retired, of Cambridge, Mass.
- Vice-President—Morris W. Seymour, Bridgeport.
- Secretary—Bryce Metcalf, New York city.

Flags Carried in American Revolution Exhibited at Cincinnati Meeting

"Pink" Flag Carried By Tallmadge Dragoons, Owned By Morgan G. Bulkley.

"Blue" Flag Carried by Tallmadge Dragoons, Property of Morgan B. Brainard.

The blue standard is much like the other. The disk has golden wings and thunderbolts; the motto below is on a golden scroll and there is above it another scroll with the inscription "2d. REGT. LT. DRAGOONS." There is a canton edged with a gold line and seven gold stripes painted on the blue silk.

Tallmadge and His Command.

Colonel Tallmadge, it may be remembered, received his appointment in 1776 and went thereafter to Philadelphia where he might have seen and carried the flag of the Philadelphia City Troop, organized a year earlier, as that strongly resembled the design of these flags. The pink flag is supposed to have belonged especially to Tallmadge's original troop of dragoons. Of these he wrote years afterward. "My own troop was composed entirely of dapple grey horses, which with black straps and black bearskin holster covers, looked superb. I have no hesitation in acknowledging that I was very proud of the command."

Proud of Commander.

The men were probably proud of their commander; at least they had good reason to be for Colonel Benjamin Tallmadge was no ordinary man. Born on Long Island, a minister's son, he was graduated from Yale College in 1773 and upon his graduation, went to Wethersfield as a school-teacher, doubtless thinking himself lucky to get the place. He liked the place and the people liked him and there he taught until he heard the news from Bunker Hill. He then went there as soon as a horse could carry him. He was interested, and admitted it in his autobiography years afterward, and shortly after coming back to Wethersfield he got a commission as adjutant in Captain Chester's regiment in time to take an active part in the Battle of Long Island.

Impressed Washington.

Although he received no rank higher than that of Colonel, he attracted the favorable attention of Washington and was an eye witness of many of the great events of the war. He was sent to confer with Rochambeau and Major Andre was in his charge. He was deeply impressed by the Englishman and writes: "When I saw him swinging under the gibbet, it seemed for a time as if I could not support it." He adds: "All the spectators seemed to be overwhelmed by the affecting spectacle, and many were suffused in tears. There did not appear to be one hardened or indifferent spectator in all the multitude."

Came of Connecticut Stock.

He was at Fraunces' Tavern when Washington took leave of his officers at the close of the war and then visited his parents at the home in Brookhaven, where an ox was roasted by the way of celebration. In 1784 he married the daughter of William Floyd of Mastic, Long Island, and with her went to Litchfield, which was his home thereafter. He was in Congress from 1800 to 1816, when he declined a re-election and died in 1835. A sketch of him made by Trumbull shows him to be a singularly fine looking man and his autobiography, written in his old age, shows him to have been singularly modest. Connecticut may well lay claim to him, for, though born on Long Island, he came of Connecticut stock, and, as has been indicated, spent most of his life in this state.

Following the meeting those attending had luncheon at the Hartford Club.

70TH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Aged Savoy Couple Who Were

Married on the Fourth of July 70 Years Ago

JULY 4, 1917

To-day, the 4th of July, is the 70th anniversary of the marriage of another beloved and aged couple of Savoy, Mr and Mrs Henry Sears Barton. Henry Sears Barton was born in New York state October 8, 1824, the son of Sumner and Temperance

MR AND MRS H. S. BARTON

Aged Savoy Couple Who are To-day Celebrating the 70th Anniversary of Their Wedding parents went Plainfield the born and re- the fall. Mr 1 in the three and Hawley. children, and g. dner) Barton S26, in Plain- Appolas and dner, Appolas field with his s old and al- place until his ver 80 years.) Barton was but one living as two sisters nd Leah Bened at Lebanon , 1847. They vedding anni- h and golden r 70th. They reception this alth of their atcher, with home.

on Thatcher, was born in (S52, and was ie Thatcher at s at Plainfield 32. Her only ng, Hulbert rn September son of Am- ett) Thatcher. ren, all living n on the old id has always ception of oue d. They had

Grandpa and Grandma Barton are their many friends, BRAINERD-DURAN. 5

The marriage of Miss Helen M. Duran, daughter of Mrs. Helen Duran of Windsor Locks, and George Palmer Brainerd, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey B. Brainerd, of No. 30 Townley street, this city, took place at 7 o'clock, Thursday evening, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Brainerd, the Rev. Dr. Charles F. Carter, pastor of Immanuel Congregational church, officiating. Only immediate relatives were present and there were no attendants. The house was decorated with crimson rambler roses. The bride wore a gown of white satin messaline and a coronet of white lace and flowers, and carried a bouquet of white sweet peas. A dinner was served, following the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Brainerd will live in Sargeant street.

Twin daughters, Esther Louise and Helen Christine, were born Sunday at the Hartford Hospital to Mr. and Mrs. George Palmer Brainerd of No. 126 Huntington street.

DECEMBER 30, 1919

July

Romance of Son of George J. Gould of New York and a Young Italian Woman, Miss Lucci, Unexpectedly Revealed

That Kingdon Gould, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. George J. Gould, is engaged to be married to the Italian, Miss Annunziata, an art student

KINGDON GOULD SUED FOR $500,000

Breach of Promise Alleged in Case Brought by Richard Blum.

New York, February 1, 1921

a $500,000 suit in which the youngest son of George J. Gould is charged with breach of promise to marry Mrs. Richard N. Y., was disclosed in a report of supplemental proceedings in the state supreme court.

Mr. Gould appeared in court and denied statements made by the plaintiff who asserted he had taken steps to gather evidence to obtain a divorce in New York previously had agreed to marry when she was on friendly terms with Miss Annunziata Lucci. She further charged that $10,000 to settle the suit was filed several months ago and she refused.

The court directed the plaintiff to submit all papers in the case by the 15th day.

GOULD SETTLES

New York, Feb. 1.—The $500,000 breach of promise suit instituted against the eldest son of George J. Gould by Mrs. Else E. L. Blum today when the two parties entered into an agreement, the details of which were not made public.

Bride

Ma

Ne

Gould

Gould

Mari

were recto

Ge

groom

man,

the few

the

have but,

had pen

hour

Gould

ci

Mr

there

rumo

prove misu

admi

have long

Acc

Gould

was

Mrs. Kingdon Gould

[Underwood & Underwood.]

MR. AND MRS. GEORGE J. GOULD, JR.

New York, March 15.—Mr. and Mrs. George J. Gould, jr., have been divorced at Nice, France, friends were advised to-day, and the two children awarded to the mother.

Mrs. Kingdon Gould, whose husband is a sergeant in the army in France, has been awarded the Waldecker cottage for the summer. Mrs. Gould was Miss Laura M. Carter, of Ardena, N. J., a dancer. They were married at Philadelphia in 1917. When both were 21 years old, and soon after Gould had been graduated from Columbia university. The marriage caused a temporary estrangement between Gould and his parents. Instead of entering the Gould companies, as was expected, he went into the business with his brother-in-law, Anthony J. Drexel, jr.

For a time he worked for an oil company at Oil City, Pa., where the first child, a son, was born. The second son was born here. Mr. Gould is now said to be in Europe. His wife and children went to France some months ago.

Gould was particularly surprised by the news of her son's proposed marriage. It is reported that Miss Lucci was formerly a governess in the Gould family.

Mrs. Gould was Miss Laura M. Carter, of Ardena, N. J., a dancer. They were married at Philadelphia in 1917. When both were 21 years old, and soon after Gould had been graduated from Columbia university. The marriage caused a temporary estrangement between Gould and his parents. Instead of entering the Gould companies, as was expected, he went into the business with his brother-in-law, Anthony J. Drexel, jr.

For a time he worked for an oil company at Oil City, Pa., where the first child, a son, was born. The second son was born here. Mr. Gould is now said to be in Europe. His wife and children went to France some months ago.

Gould was particularly surprised by the news of her son's proposed marriage. It is reported that Miss Lucci was formerly a governess in the Gould family.

Mrs. Gould was Miss Laura M. Carter, of Ardena, N. J., a dancer. They were married at Philadelphia in 1917. When both were 21 years old, and soon after Gould had been graduated from Columbia university. The marriage caused a temporary estrangement between Gould and his parents. Instead of entering the Gould companies, as was expected, he went into the business with his brother-in-law, Anthony J. Drexel, jr.

For a time he worked for an oil company at Oil City, Pa., where the first child, a son, was born. The second son was born here. Mr. Gould is now said to be in Europe. His wife and children went to France some months ago.

Gould was particularly surprised by the news of her son's proposed marriage. It is reported that Miss Lucci was formerly a governess in the Gould family.

Marriage of Eldest of George Gould's Sons to Miss Lucci Simple Affair.

New York, July 3.—Hand in hand, young Mr. and Mrs. Kingdon Gould stood for a moment about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon on the steps of St. Patrick's cathedral. It was their first appearance in public since he had married Miss Annunziata. It was definitely settled yesterday, by the way, that Mrs. Kingdon Gould first met her husband when she was employed in the Gould family as a teacher of Italian.

"I will be at the office as usual to-morrow," Kingdon Gould said after the ceremony, "but we will make a honeymoon trip, probably by auto on the Hudson valley."

YOUNG GOULDS DIVORCED IN FRANCE; WIFE, EX-DANCER, GIVEN CHILDREN

39-93

Mrs. Kingdon Gould, whose husband is a sergeant in the army in France, has been awarded the Waldecker cottage for the summer. Mrs. Gould was Miss Laura M. Carter, of Ardena, N. J., a dancer. They were married at Philadelphia in 1917. When both were 21 years old, and soon after Gould had been graduated from Columbia university. The marriage caused a temporary estrangement between Gould and his parents. Instead of entering the Gould companies, as was expected, he went into the business with his brother-in-law, Anthony J. Drexel, jr.

For a time he worked for an oil company at Oil City, Pa., where the first child, a son, was born. The second son was born here. Mr. Gould is now said to be in Europe. His wife and children went to France some months ago.

Gould was particularly surprised by the news of her son's proposed marriage. It is reported that Miss Lucci was formerly a governess in the Gould family.

Mrs. Gould was Miss Laura M. Carter, of Ardena, N. J., a dancer. They were married at Philadelphia in 1917. When both were 21 years old, and soon after Gould had been graduated from Columbia university. The marriage caused a temporary estrangement between Gould and his parents. Instead of entering the Gould companies, as was expected, he went into the business with his brother-in-law, Anthony J. Drexel, jr.

For a time he worked for an oil company at Oil City, Pa., where the first child, a son, was born. The second son was born here. Mr. Gould is now said to be in Europe. His wife and children went to France some months ago.

Gould was particularly surprised by the news of her son's proposed marriage. It is reported that Miss Lucci was formerly a governess in the Gould family.

Mrs. Gould was Miss Laura M. Carter, of Ardena, N. J., a dancer. They were married at Philadelphia in 1917. When both were 21 years old, and soon after Gould had been graduated from Columbia university. The marriage caused a temporary estrangement between Gould and his parents. Instead of entering the Gould companies, as was expected, he went into the business with his brother-in-law, Anthony J. Drexel, jr.

For a time he worked for an oil company at Oil City, Pa., where the first child, a son, was born. The second son was born here. Mr. Gould is now said to be in Europe. His wife and children went to France some months ago.

Gould was particularly surprised by the news of her son's proposed marriage. It is reported that Miss Lucci was formerly a governess in the Gould family.

Mrs. Gould was Miss Laura M. Carter, of Ardena, N. J., a dancer. They were married at Philadelphia in 1917. When both were 21 years old, and soon after Gould had been graduated from Columbia university. The marriage caused a temporary estrangement between Gould and his parents. Instead of entering the Gould companies, as was expected, he went into the business with his brother-in-law, Anthony J. Drexel, jr.

For a time he worked for an oil company at Oil City, Pa., where the first child, a son, was born. The second son was born here. Mr. Gould is now said to be in Europe. His wife and children went to France some months ago.

Gould was particularly surprised by the news of her son's proposed marriage. It is reported that Miss Lucci was formerly a governess in the Gould family.

Mrs. Gould was Miss Laura M. Carter, of Ardena, N. J., a dancer. They were married at Philadelphia in 1917. When both were 21 years old, and soon after Gould had been graduated from Columbia university. The marriage caused a temporary estrangement between Gould and his parents. Instead of entering the Gould companies, as was expected, he went into the business with his brother-in-law, Anthony J. Drexel, jr.

For a time he worked for an oil company at Oil City, Pa., where the first child, a son, was born. The second son was born here. Mr. Gould is now said to be in Europe. His wife and children went to France some months ago.

KINGDON GOULD IN ARMY

Member of New Jersey Draft Quota Called for To-day

Kingdon Gould, son of George J. Gould, will be among the 169 recruits for the new national army, who mobilized at Toms River, N. J., last night, preparatory to entraining for Weightstown to-day.

SON AND HEIR FOR GEO. J. GOULD, JR.

New York, Jan. 26. A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. George J. Gould, jr., at their home in this city on January 25, it was announced today.

The announcement was made by Mrs. George J. Gould, sr. George J. Gould, jr., was married on July 5, 1917, to Miss Laura M. Carter of Ardena, N. J., who had won considerable local fame as a dancer. The ceremony was performed in Philadelphia by Dr. Chalfont, known

Three Generations of Goulds N SCHAACK Y IN FRANCE.

Van Gone to Member of the La-iscadrille.

an Schaack of this and Mrs. No. 20 Sycartford man cadrille, the an aviators and has al- e. He en- with the n of the underwent service at Mr. Van become an with gaso-automobile uality suc- corps and nise of be-member of liams col- red at the N. Y., and William H. e has won shed serv- g the war. SCHAACK - Mrs. Wil- the secre- asury and daughter Vilson, presented an Sunday, as the gift g American women, Jusserand, French and Daniel Vincent, ry of aviation in enant William Thaw, ated custodian of the well-known American corps. Others in- aufrbery formerly of is state, who has ommandaton for the machines he has was Miss Laura M. Carter, of Freehold, and Walter Lovell of N. J., was married to George Jay Gould, E. Chapman, Har- Jr., in Philadelphia on July 5, 1917. The first American av- marriage caused somewhat of a flurry in the French corps, at and Norman Prince, sing, Mass., later lost service, of which his rick Henry Prince, jr.,

(Copyright Underwood and Underwood)

THE photograph introduces George Jay Gould, 3d, comfortably seated on the lap of his grandfather, George Jay Gould, Sr., with his father, George Jay Gould, Jr., at the left. George Jay Gould, first looked on the world four months ago and since that time he has evinced considerable interest in affairs at Lakewood well as in Fifth avenue.

The mother of George Jay Gould, 3d, who was Miss Laura M. Carter, of Freehold, N. J., was married to George Jay Gould, Jr., in Philadelphia on July 5, 1917. The marriage caused somewhat of a flurry in society because it followed three days after the marriage of Kingdon Gould to Miss Annunziata Camilla Maria Luccl.

Toms River, N. J., August 22.—George J. Gould, jr., of Lakewood, N. J., appeared before the draft exemption board here yesterday and was rejected as being physically unfit.

Mr. Van schaack will complete the formalities necessary to make him a member of the French forces when he arrives in France, where he will receive his uniform and begin training.

July Murray-Hagarty. Miss Ruth Hagarty, daughter of Mrs. Annie Hagarty of No. 36 Shultas place and the late Joseph Hagarty and a niece of Mayor Hagarty, and Francis D. Murray of Washington, D. C., son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Murray of Rockville, were married Friday morning at St. Peter's Church, the Rev. Jeremiah J. Broderick, assistant pastor of the church, officiating. The bride wore blue taffeta and she carried a large bouquet of roses. She was attended by Miss Marguerite Higgins, who also wore blue taffeta and carried roses. Thomas Egan of Manchester was best man. After a wedding breakfast at the home of the bride's mother, the couple left for a short wedding trip. Mr. and Mrs. Murray will live in Washington, D. C., where Mr. Murray has a place in the war department.

CROSSES CONTINENT TO WED IN HER HOME TOWN

Stamford, July 8.—A trip half way across the continent to wed in the church her father was instrumental in erecting, was followed yesterday by the marriage of Prudence Grace Hoyt, daughter of the late Samuel B. Hoyt of this city, to William J. Eldridge, a broker of Chicago, at the Methodist Episcopal Church in Roxbury. The ceremony was performed by the pastor of the church, the Rev. C. W. Barrett. The wedding was a quiet one, the couple being attended by Judge and Mrs. H. Stanley Finch.

The bride, who has been residing in Chicago for a number of years, came to this city last week to prepare for the wedding, Mr. Eldridge traveling to Stamford from the Pacific coast, where he was on a business trip.

Mrs. Eldridge's first husband was George N. Terry of Waterville, N. Y. She married him fifteen years ago.

Many army and navy officers were present when Miss Alma Louise Hodges, daughter of Brigadier-General Harry Foote Hodges, U. S. A., and Mrs. Hodges, and Lieutenant George Lewis Dickson, U. S. N., stationed at New London, were married Monday evening, by Chaplain Smith, of Fort Jay, Governor's Island, N. Y., in the chapel at Fort Totten. The bride's attendant was her sister, Mrs. Albert H. Acker. Captain Caswell Darlington, U. S. N., of Governor's Island, was best man. The ushers were Cadet Duncan Hodes, of the Military academy at West Point, a brother of the bride; Lieutenant K. I. Dixon, U. S. N., and Lieutenant J. R. Webb, U. S. M. A reception was held at the headquarters of General Hodges. Lieutenant Dickson and his bride will pass their honeymoon at his old home, Mount Vernon, Ill. Later he will resume his duties at New London, where he will take command of one of the submarines now being built. The couple first met in the Panama Canal zone, where Lieutenant Dickson was assigned in the service of the navy. Miss Hodges was there with her father, who was a member of the chief designing engineering corps at the canal, and also was a member of the Panama commission.

Hartford Member of Ambulance Corps Takes Simsbury Young Woman for Bride—Church Wedding.

Special to The Times. July 8
Simsbury, July 9.

The Methodist Episcopal church was the scene of a very pretty wedding Sunday evening at eight o'clock when Miss Bertha Louise Graves, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Graves, was united in marriage to Earl Stevens Batterson, of Hartford.

The bride wore a dark blue silk traveling costume and was attended by her sister, Mrs. Bax Ziedler, as matron of honor. The best man was Jesse G. Farren, brother-in-law of the groom. The ushers were Max Zeidler, brother-in-law of the bride, and James H. Shea, jr., brother-in-law of the groom.

W. Woods Chandler presided at the organ and played Lohengrin's wedding march. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. E. Scofield, pastor of the church.

Mr. and Mrs. Batterson left for a ten day's trip to the shore. The young couple will not go to a house-keeping on their return, as Mr. Batterson has recently joined the Ambulance corps, and is liable to call to service at any time.

HETTY GREEN'S SON WEDS; GIVES BRIDE $625,000

Chicago, July 10.—Edward H. R. Green, son of the late Hetty Green, and Miss Mabel E. Harlow, of Highland Park, a suburb, were married here today. The ceremony was performed at Trinity Episcopal Church. The couple have known each other for fifteen years. Colonel Green gave his bride a wedding gift of $625,000.

SATURDAY, JULY 7, 1917

DAUNTLESS TO BE LAUNCHED TODAY

Christening of Scout Boat Given by R. T. H. Barnes to Government.

The town of Essex will be busy today over the launching of the scout boat, the Dauntless, built by vote of the Dauntless Club and given by Roy T. H. Barnes to the government. The exercises will begin at 9:30 with a parade starting at F. M. Rose's store, going to the flag pole on Baptist Hill, where the flag will be hoisted.

Mrs. Forrest Avery underwent an operation for appendicitis in Johns Memorial Hospital, Stamford Springs, Monday evening.

SOMERS

Howard Lagier of West street is suffering from the results of a safe playing baseball with them when a foul tip hit him in the face and he has been confined to the house since with a badly swollen face.

Mrs. H. E. Emsworth and children are spending the month at Weckapaug. R. I. Mrs. J. R. Emsen and daughter are also at their cottage at Weckapaug.

Miss Bertha Washburn of Hartford is spending Chautauqua week with her cousin, Lois Eddy of South Main street.

It was a historic day in the little Connecticut-River town of Essex today, when the Dauntless, the first war vessel built on the river in a century, was launched with elaborate and impressive ceremonies in which some of the state's most prominent citizens took part, including Governor Marcus H. Holcomb, Rear Admiral William Sheffield Cowles, U. S. N., retired, Charles Hopkins Clark, Judge Walter H. Clark, Professor William Leroy Burdick of Essex, and former Governor Frank B. Weeks of Middletown. Former United States Senator Morgan G. Bulkeley was to deliver an address, but was not present. Among other well-known men at the launching were Commodore Francis R. Cooley of the River Patrol Division of the Connecticut Home Guard, Commodore Frank Eldridge, U. S. N., retired, ensigns in the River Patrol, Charles A. Goodwin, Albertus E. Jones, F. Spencer Goodwin, all of Hartford, and others. Former Mayor Louis R. Cheney attended. Numerous prominent business men of the state, members of the Dauntless Club of Essex, which voted to build the boat were there with their families. Roy T. H. Barnes of Hartford, who paid for the construction of the boat after the club had voted to build it, was present. The boat will be presented to the federal government for use as a scout or dispatch boat.

It was certainly a gala day in the little, old river town. From the first peep of dawn until the lengthening shadows shut out the scene the stores and houses of the village were decked with flags, both Americans and of the allied nations. The streets were crowded with pedestrians in holiday attire, also automobiles and teams from all over the state. There was a detachment of Home Guardsmen there in uniform with its band. "Middies" from the River Patrol added to the picturesque quality of the scene by their natty uniforms of blue in contrast to khaki of the Guardsmen. A parade lent its festive air to the occasion starting at 9:30 o'clock in the morning from F. M. Rose's store in town and wended its way from there to the flagpole on Baptist Hill, where the flag was raised amid cheers and popular music from the band. An address was here given by Professor Burdick. The parade was featured by a number of attractive floats, decorated private automobiles, the motor trucks of the fire department, and soldiers. It was the biggest display Essex has seen in some time.

At 10:30 the members of the Dauntless Club and their guests and the speakers on the program assembled at the club. At 11 o'clock the crowd gathered at the shipyard, and it was considerable of a crowd, considering the size of the town and the distance most of the spectators came to attend the ceremony. They squeezed into the little shipyard in holiday attire that must have surprised the yard which has been hitherto accustomed to overalls mostly. Besides the guardsmen and "tars" there was a number of Red Cross girls, one of whom rendered substantial service when a son of the seas, which were arranged in a circle around the speakers' platform near the bow of the boat, where the bottle was broken by Mr. Barnes' daughter, Miss Barbara.

Addresses.

"Jim" Pratt of Essex, as he is known to the many members of the Dauntless Club, otherwise James Lord Pratt, was manager of ceremonies and introduced the speakers. First, however, Mr. Pratt took a little turn at speech making himself. He said that a lot of hard work had been put into the building of the boat, and pointed out that it was the first war vessel to be built and launched on the Connecticut River in a century, although the old river towns once counted ship building as one of the most substantial industries. Mr. Pratt praised the arrangement committee for limiting his speech to one minute in advance.

Charles Hopkins Clark of Hartford spoke next in behalf of the builders of the boat, turning it over to the club for the builders. He recalled the Revolutionary War, which marked the practical end of ship-building on the river for war purposes, and pointed out that the friction between America and the mother country at that time was in striking contrast to the situation now, when America is allied with England for the sake of democracy. He said this country is now fighting arm in arm with England in a struggle that it hopes will prevent future wars. He then briefly related the history of the building of the "Dauntless," which was voted to be built by the club of that name some months ago, the name being taken from the club and from the famous yacht of the late Commodore Caldwell Colt, which he raced abroad. The club expected to pay for the new boat itself from among its members. Mr. Clark said, but through the generosity of two of them, Charles A. Goodwin and Roy T. H. Barnes, the former plan was abandoned. Later Mr. Barnes requested that he be allowed to pay the entire amount and such was the final arrangement. Mr. Clark said that although he was no prophet, he thought this generous action would result in the club giving another boat itself, thus making two boats that the federal government would receive instead of one. He said the construction and giving of the boat added another chapter to Connecticut's patriotic history. He referred to Governor Holcomb's deeds with praise, and then described the way in which the Dauntless was built. Ernest N. Way of this city was the engineer, and Mr. Way has designed the boats that have held the speed records of the river for the past fifteen years. Able builders were selected, and no boat was ever better built said Mr. Clark. Among those that took part were:— W. Frank Harrison, master boat builder; Llewellyn Mack, foreman, of Essex, formerly of the shipyard of Comstock & Mack; George Phelps, Saybrook, who did the painting, varnishing and finishing; Charles Clark, in charge of the interior work; Charles Zila, who did the cabinet making; Gus Ek, who supervised the exterior work and Floyd La Pierre and Charles Harrison, machinists, both of whom had charge of the installation of the engine. Charles E. Goss of Essex personally looked after the electric wiring.

Charles A. Goodwin of Hartford deserves as much credit as anyone, as he supervised many details of the building of the boat and personally did much work on her himself, through a patriotic desire to help, and through a love of speed boats. Mr. Clark concluded his address by referring to "Jim" Pratt's anchors, forged for the boat by "Jim" the descendant of eight generations of blacksmithing.

After Mr. Clark finished, Judge Walter H. Clark of Hartford received the boat from the builders for the Dauntless Club. He expressed the satisfaction of the members of the club at the conclusion of the task, and said that, although the financial burden had been generously taken by Mr. Barnes, the club was glad to be even remotely connected with an enterprise of such merit. He spoke of the building of the boat, the first war vessel to be constructed on the river for a century, as a reminder of the old days, the glad days when the hammers of the shipbuilders rang through the Connecticut Valley. The boat, he said, was a thing of beauty on the little inland, summer sea at Essex, flying like an eagle on wings of foam, but in times of danger its exhaust would roar like the thunder of 1,000 guns, summoning to war a mighty nation. He said that by virtue of such gifts as that of the boat this country was to strike the final blow to free mankind in the world war.

Former Governor Frank B. Weeks was called on in this absence of former Senator Bulkeley, and, though being totally unprepared, made a graceful speech, starting with a funny story about a dog being called governor because he was only good to fight and bark. This he explained related to himself and not to Governor Holcomb. He then went on in a serious vein to speak of the patriotic occasion and to urge everyone to stand back of the governor, the state and the country.

Governor Flays Slackers.

Governor Holcomb was enthusiastically cheered when he said that he hoped that there was no mother in the crowd of women present who had raised her boy to be other than a soldier at this time. He hoped that they had not raised their boys to be slackers and cowards. The governor began his address with an allusion to the historic occasion, and said that it was the latest in a number of events which had proved the Nutmeg State one of the most patriotic in the Union. Among the events he named the military census, the first and only complete one in all the states, and the organization of the Connecticut Home Guard, which has now created 600,000 armed troops in the state, a sample of the troops being present at the ceremonies yesterday. At this juncture the governor made the statement, which he said he thought significant, that the Home Guard has to date saved the state what it cost. It was inferred that he meant by preventing trouble that would have otherwise occurred. Other events of the same caliber, the governor continued, include the over-subscription of the "Liberty Loan" by the state. He said the United States might be in the great war for one, two, three or probably even more years, but that it was there to stay until the world had been made safe for democracy. He said he was glad to meet the people of Essex and then spoke to the women about raising their boys to be soldiers. He praised former Senator Bulkeley, a veteran of the Civil War, whose boys he said are in the service. He said that Mr. Bulkeley was a man for whom he had great personal admiration. It was considered a pity that the recipient of all these tributes

Two Trial Trips.

The new boat is not large, being only forty-five feet in length, but she is a fast boat and just the sort that the government needs for scout work. The boat, though small, is considered significant because it is the first built for war here and the elaborate ceremonies showed that Connecticut considers the building but the first of many.

Two trial trips were made by the boat. When she was going at her highest speed, six feet of the keel was out of the water and she was making thirty miles an hour. She is capable of making thirty-five miles an hour, but being a new craft this speed was not attempted. The engine made 1,100 revolutions a minute and is capable of making 1,400 revolutions a minute. On the second trip the governor and other members of the party were aboard and took a ten-mile sail.

The specifications of the boat are as follows:

The Dauntless is forty-five feet in length, eight feet, ten inches in beam, and has a draft of three feet. Her cabin is forward under a high crown deck. The entrance to the cabin is through the pilot house. The scheme of the pilot house is the idea of Charles A. Goodwin. Its design gives a maximum convenience for steering, together with great strength and minimum wind resistance, the last being an important factor in the plan. The cabin has sleeping accommodations for five persons. There is also a cook's galley.

Abaft the pilot house is the engine room, fifteen feet long with a complete starting and lighting outfit. This compartment is the most spacious in the boat, designed to give the engineer the maximum of convenience. The engine is a 400 horsepower, eight-cylinder Deussenberg patrol engine. The engine room is covered by a removable mahogany house, with two entrances and is well lighted and ventilated. The finish of the superstructures is in mahogany, made bright for the purposes of launching, but which will be painted over in battleship gray when the ship is accepted by the government.

Abaft the engine room is an open watertight cockpit extending to the stern, draining into the sea. The exhaust pipe is a copper tube, twenty feet long and six inches in diameter. The screw shaft is of bronze, two inches in diameter, and requires three men to lift it. The engine is ten feet, six inches long and the cylinders are six and three-quarters by seven and three-quarters inches. The fittings are entirely of bronze.

The vessel is capable of making thirty miles an hour and has a gasoline capacity of 210 gallons. Its stem band is of bronze casting and the rudder is a solid bronze casting. The propeller is a Columbian Alls-Craig, twenty-four by thirty-six inches, and was especially made by the Columbian foundry of Freeport, L. I.

Mahogany finish is used because it is the best wood and does not shrink or swell. Other woods used in the construction are: Frame, native white oak; planking, white cedar; engine bed, long leaf yellow pine, white spruce, Douglas fir and Port Oxford cedar. The fastenings are brass screws.

First War Vessel to Be Built on Connecticut River in Century Launched at Essex for Service

Dauntless, Fitted for Scout Work, Takes its Initial Plunge Amid Ceremonies Attended by Some of State's Most Prominent Citizens—Governor Holcomb Stirs Gathering by Expressing Hope That There Are No Mothers Present Who Raised Their Boys Not to Be Soldiers—Well Known Nav Officials in Command of ^{ove-}ment to Make A Patrolling Connecticut River

Left to right—Rear Admiral W. S. Cowles, Commander Francis Professor William Leroy Bui Cooley, Lieutenant Commander Robert D. Chapin. The young woman at the left is Miss Barbara Barnes, sponsor of the

July 12

It was a historic day in the little particularly interesting because the bridegroom, although son of an earl, is an American citizen, was the marriage of Miss Louise Van Wagenen, who has been leading woman for Cyril Maude and in other theatrical productions, daughter of Mrs. Frederick De Veau Van Wagenen, of New York, and William Anson, of New York and San Angelo, Texas, which took place, Tuesday, in the chantry of the Church of the Incarnation, N. Y. The Rev. Thomas R. Bridges, assistant rector, officiated. The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. James T. Terry, and Frederick Potts Moore was best man. A reception followed the ceremony. Mr. Anson is a son of the second Earl of Litchfield, and a brother of the Hon. Alfred Anson, who married Mrs. John J. Emery, of New York. He has been an American citizen for years, and his ranch, where the couple will live, is one of the largest in Texas.

CAROL A. HARRIMAN A BRIDE
July 11 - 1917
 Youngest Daughter of Late E. H. Harriman Married at Arden, N. Y., to Richard Penn Smith, Jr.

This is the wedding day of Miss Carol A. Harriman, youngest daughter of the late E. H. Harriman, who was married at noon to Richard Penn Smith, Jr., in St. John's Church, at Arden, N. Y., near the Harriman country estate. The wedding ceremony was witnessed by a small gathering of relatives and friends, and was followed by a reception at "Arden House," the home of the bride's mother. The engagement was announced a few weeks ago. Miss Harriman was introduced a few years ago and since that time has been much interested in the welfare of the Junior League and other philanthropies. She will inherit a large part of the fortune left by her father, who was noted in the world of finance

Deep River, July 11. n
 Miss Augusta Drude was married f to I. B. Davis of Hartford at the n e home of the bride's parents, Mr. and e l Mrs. Carl Drude, on South Main s street at 3 o'clock this afternoon. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Howard A. Morton, and they we e attended by John Drude of Har ford and Miss Agnita Drude, brother and sister of the bride. A reception was held at the Drude home, and Mr. and Mrs. Davis left late in the afternoon for a short trip, after which they will go to housekeeping in Hartford, where Mr. Davis is employed by the Pratt & Whitney Company. Mrs. Davis has for several years been employed as teacher in the Northeast School in Hartford.

Paine-Baker July 11
 Walter Sayer Paine of this city and Miss Amy Belle Baker of New Britain, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton O. Baker, were married at their future home on Oakland terrace yesterday by Rev. Henry Stone of Wall-lingford. Mr. and Mrs. Paine will take a wedding trip to Syracuse, N.
 Y., and Philadelphia. Mr. Paine, who is a graduate of Syracuse University, is now employed in the bureau of accident prevention of the Aetna Life Insurance Company. The bride attended the Conservatory of Music at Oberlin College and has been teaching music in New Britain.
 Mr. Paine was formerly a secretary at the local Y. M. C. A. serving as membership secretary the first year and educational secretary the other years.

Richmond-Keeney July 11 Word has been received here of the marriage of Guy S. Richmond of Hartford, son of former Chief of Police and Mrs. Edgar H. Richmond of this city, and Miss Mary Josephine Keeney of Windham. The marriage took place at the home of Rev. Charles P. Croft of Weatogue in the town of Simsbury and the ceremony was performed by Rev.
 William S. Beard of New York city, formerly pastor of the local Congregational Church. The bridegroom is a graduate of Windham High School, class of 1910, and for a time he was employed by the Capitol City Lumber Company of Hartford. He is now employed by the Bauer Brothers' electrical works in that city. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. George Keeney. Her father was the late Captain George Keeney of Coventry.
 She is a graduate of Windham High School, class of 1914, and Willimantic State Normal Training School of Household Arts, class of 1916. During the past year she taught in the Addison school in the town of Glas-tonbury. Mr. and Mrs. Richmond will be at home at No. 5 Ensign place, East Hartford, after August 1.

Because the bridegroom will be called to the colors, Sunday, the marriage of Miss Harriet May Woodward of Middletown, Ohio, and Ewing Reginald Philbin, son of Justice and Mrs. Eugene A. Philbin of New York occurred Thursday, in the rectory of St. Pat-ric's cathedral, the Rev. Bernard F.
 McQuade officiating, before a small gathering of immediate relatives.
 The marriage has been arranged for the autumn and was advanced because Mr. Philbin is a lieutenant in the Sixty-ninth regiment, N. G., N. Y., which will be mobilized Sunday. His bride, who is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Campbell Woodward of Middletown, studied nursing in a New York hospital last winter and will probably become a Red Cross nurse when Mr.
 Philbin goes to the front. His brother, Jesse Holladay Philbin,

MARRIAGE OF VIOLET BROWN Memorandum
 Groom is Albert W. Wood of Hartford—Ceremony at Parsonage July 14

The marriage of Miss Violet H.
 Brown, daughter of Mrs Anna Brown of Armory street, and Albert W. Wood of Hartford, Ct., took place yesterday afternoon in the home on St James avenue of Rev Dr Neil McPherson, pastor of the First Congregational church, the single ring service being used. The bridegroom's sister, Miss Bertha E. Wood of Somerville, Ct., served as maid of honor, and Charles G. Neidel was best man.

The bride's gown was of white crepe, and she wore a small white hat and carried white roses. Her attendant was in blue taffeta with hat of corresponding shade, and she wore the gift of the bride, a gold crescent pin.
 The gift of Mr Wood to his best man was a horseshoe stickpin. Mr and Mrs Wood are now upon a short motor trip, and are to make their home in Hartford. The bride has been employed as bookkeeper at the Westinghouse company and is a prominent member of the First church. Mr Wood is with the Pratt & Whitney company of Hartford.

July 12

July Deming-Gibson. 14
 Miss Ruth W. Gibson, daughter of Mrs. A. M. Randall of Barnard street, and Charles Ray Deming, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Deming of Franklin avenue, were married yesterday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock at the Church of the Redeemer by the pastor, Rev. Dr. John Coleman Adams. The wedding marches and program of music preceding the ceremony were played by the church organist, Miss Elsie J. Dresser. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Ruth A. Gibson as maid of honor and the bridesmaid was her half-sister, Miss Marion L. Randall. The best man was Harold R. White of Ridley Park, Pa., and Kenneth R. Bailey of this city and Walter G. Snow of Chicopee, Mass., cousin of the bridegroom, were the ushers. The bride wore a dress of white crepe meteor, trimmed with pearls, and her veil of point lace was caught with a wreath of orange blossoms. Her shower bouquet was of white sweet peas. The maid of honor was

July Jeremias-Mather. 14
 Miss Ruth Mather, daughter of Mrs. Ida M. Mather of Seyms street, and Charles N. Jeremias of Hartford, were married yesterday morning at the home of the bride by Rev. Henry M. Thompson, pastor of the Memorial Baptist Church. Miss Minnie Forte of this city was the maid of honor and Charles Dollis of Boston was the best man. Mr. and Mrs. Jeremias left for a wedding trip to Boston and vicinity and will be at home after August 1 at No. 10 Seyms street.

Gilbert-Blakeslee.

New Haven, July 14.—Miss Dorothy Blakeslee, daughter of former Lieutenant Governor Dennis A. Blakeslee, and William Thurston Gilbert, son of Mr. and Mrs. James T. Gilbert of Atlanta, Ga., were married at the Dwight Place Congregational Church tonight by Rev. Harry R. Miles, pastor of the church. The bride was given in marriage by her father. The ushers were G. Lawrence Redman of Riverside, Conn., Yale '12S; Albert D. Blakeslee; Harold L. Blakeslee, '07S, and Grant Blakeslee, Yale '12S, brothers of the bride.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Albert K. Huckins of Winchester, Mass., and the maid of honor, Miss Sally M. Corbin of this city. The bridesmaids were Miss Florence Brakeley of Bordentown, N. J., and Mrs. Charles Seaver Smith of Shelton, a cousin of the bride. The flower girl was Miss Mildred Ross Blakeslee, niece of the bride. Robert Churchill of Roanoke, Va., Yale '12S., was best man.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert will leave for a wedding trip of several weeks, and will spend the remainder of the season at the Blakeslee summer home at Woodmont. The marriage, which was to have taken place in the autumn, was hastened because the bridegroom expects to go into the military service. He was graduated from the Sheffield Scientific School at Yale in 1912, and his father was a prominent member of the class of Yale, '69.

Friday evening the bride gave a dinner for the members of the wedding party and her house guests at the Racebrook Country Club. The bride was educated at the Capen School in Northampton.

July Allen-Beckwith. 14
 Miss Carol Belle Beckwith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Beckwith of North Main street, Monson, Mass., and Henry Haskell Allen of this city, were married Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock on the grounds of the home of the bride's parents. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Abram Conklin, pastor of the Universalist Church of Monson, in an arbor of hemlocks, laurel and wild flowers. The single ring Episcopal service was used. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attended by her sisters, Miss Helen Beckwith, as maid of honor, and the flower girl was Miss Esther Oehlhof of this city, niece of the bride. Edward P. Allen of Pomfret was the best man and the bride's nephew, Donald Buffington, was the ring-bearer. Leslie B. Heath of this city played the wedding marches. The bride wore a dress of white crepe de chine and her tulle veil was caught with sweet peas. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses and sweet peas. Her attendant wore canary-colored satin and carried an

A son has been born to Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Jeremias of Washington, Ga., Mrs. Jeremias having been married to marriage Miss Ruth M. Mather of this city. The boy is a grandson of Frank J. Mather of No. 6 Atlantic street. Mr. Mather received yesterday from the father a photograph of the boy with the message, supposed to have been written by the baby: "Hello, old top, how do you like me?"

MAY 20, 1921. FROM

DUMMERSTON, VT. CHURCH

July 15-1917
 Rev. Lyndon S. Beardslee of this city, son of the late Professor C. S. Beardslee of the Hartford Theological Seminary, has accepted a call to the Congregational Church in Dummerston, Vt., and will immediately begin his duties there. He has Lyndon S. Beardslee, B. D., a graduate of the Hartford Theological Seminary in the class of 1915, and son of the late Dr. Clark S. Beardslee, who, for twenty-six years was professor of homiletics, Biblical dogmatics and ethics at the Hartford Theological Seminary, married last Friday Miss Emily Flanders of Springfield, Vt., at the home of James Hartness in Springfield, Vt. The wedding was held outdoors and decorations of autumn leaves were used. The bride carried a bouquet of white roses and lilies-of-the-valley. Raymond A. Beardslee, pastor of the First Congregational Church of Springfield, Vt., performed the ceremony. The double ring service was used. Arthur Kimberley, a classmate of the bridegroom at Williams College, was the best man, and Miss Claire Bosworth was the maid of honor. A reception was held at the home of the bride. After a short wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Beardslee will return to Dummerston and will be at home in the parsonage.

Oct 12-1917

July 5, 1914
 William Proctor Gould Harding of Washington, D. C., has announced the engagement of his daughter, Miss Elizabeth Harding, to Frederick Henry Prince, jr., of Boston and Pride's Crossing Mass. Miss Harding is a telegraph operator as well as prominent socially and mistress of her father's household. She acted as telegraph operator in the women's training camp at Chevy Chase, last year. Mr. Prince is a brother of the late Norman Prince and like him has been serving with the French aviation corps. He will enter the military service of the United States, probably as an aviator.

July 14, 1914
 Miss Elizabeth Harding, daughter of William Proctor Gould Harding, of Washington, D. C., governor of the federal reserve board, and Frederick Henry Prince, jr., a former member of the Lafayette Escadrille and son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Henry Prince, of Pride's Crossing, Mass., were married, to-day, at St. John's church, Washington, the Rev. Roland Cotton Smith, rector of the church, officiating. Miss Elise Hasbrouck was the bride's only attendant, and Sydney Fish was best man. A small reception at the home of the bride's father followed the ceremony. Mr. Prince expects to become an aviator with the United States forces. He recently returned from France, where his brother, Lieutenant Norman Prince, lost his life in the French air service.

WILSON GOES TO WEDDING.

Leaves Official Duties to Attend Marriage of Daughter of Governor of Federal Reserve Board.

Washington, July 14.—President Wilson dropped official duties to-day long enough to attend, with Mrs. Wilson, the wedding of Miss Elizabeth Harding, daughter of Governor W. P. G. Harding, of the federal reserve board, and Frederick Henry Prince, jr., of Boston, at St. John's Episcopal church.

F. H. PRINCE, JR., AGAIN IN FRANCE

Oct 27, 1914
His Bride of Last July Will Be, During His Absence, with Her Father and with Her Husband's Parents

In the absence in France of Frederick H. Prince, Jr., who has arrived there to take up again his army service his wife will divide her time between visits with her father, William P. G. Harding, in Washington, and her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick H. Prince, at their country estate, "Princemere," at Wenham Neck. Miss Harding's marriage to Mr. Prince took place, it will be recalled, the middle of last July, in Washington, while he was on a furlough from the French aviation service. His arrival again in France has been learned, as has that of his cousin, Gordon Prince of Boston, who joins the aviation service.

H. C. GREEN MAY LEAVE SMYRNA FOR THREE YEARS IN THE NEAR EAST.

Dispatches from Washington to the effect that the Standard Oil Company is calling its agents back from Turkey have particular interest in Hartford because a Hartford man in the company's employ, Harold C. Green, is believed to be either in Constantinople or Smyrna. Mr. Green is a son of Major Alfred W. Green, is a graduate of the South School, the Hartford Public High School and Trinity College.

The Washington news was confirmed by Vice-President Herbert L. Pratt of the company in New York yesterday, Mr. Pratt asserting that the company had been unable to do much business in Turkey since the war got well under way. Mr. Pratt said that several employees had returned lately and others would have returned had the company been able to get cablegrams through to them.

Major Green said last night that he heard recently from his son and showed the postal card which the son sent. This had the date of December 18 and told about writing two letters from Constantinople, where the card was posted. It told also about an arrangement to remain in the Turkish capital until after Christmas and then to journey to "my beloved Smyrna" Mr. Green had arrived in Constantinople from Smyrna three days before the posting of the card. He was assistant manager in Smyrna for the company.

Mr. Green gave on the card his address as in care of the Standard Oil Company of New York, Constantinople, Turkey. Major Green posted a letter last night to Vice-President Pratt, desiring the latest information concerning his son.

Mr. Green is 27 years old. After attending the South School he was graduated from the high school in the class of 1906 and from Trinity College in the class of 1910. Then he accepted a place with the Rice & Green Electric Company and became assistant secretary and a director. Later he was for two years with the Western Electric Company of New York.

In March, 1914, Mr. Green sailed from New York on the Baltic of the White Star Line for Southampton, thence to travel to Constantinople and receive instructions as to his work for the Standard Oil Company, into the employ of which he had just entered. After a few days in England he went to Paris and thence to Berlin, Vienna and Belgrade. He was in Belgrade for three days in April, 1914, just a few months before the European war began.

When he arrived in Constantinople, Mr. Green reported to the company's manager there. In time he was sent to Smyrna, on the eastern coast of the Mediterranean. Mr. Green later became assistant manager of the company's office there. He lived in a 1916

Sharply in Wall
 Railroads Not Opportunity in Co-
 Steel Stocks
 Other Industrials
 Prices Easy; Postponement
 Bank State-
 Per Cent
 July 10-3 P. M. traders had a stock market. It short interest covering at over-Sunday de-were conflict-encouragement from buying orders ac-
 ended, save for a
 entered among a Pressure on the provided with quick industrial list was rally, rallying power
 United States Steel afternoon, against Saturday and morning. Meantime, to 12 3/4, with in Crucible, while to 1 1/4 and then fell recession in Bald-
 in Utah Copper. foreground—
 in Studebaker
 Ohio City
 extent of 2 1/2
 lifting of ac-
 week to week—
 all money in Wall
 percent this morning—at 1 P. M., rein last hour—
 pipe through this form of re-
 the 14th, its
 in the world-
 ing values of business.
 improvements in rail-beyond Canadian American, or under American market
 on holding ability in the reaction pressure. The market speculative position in Liberty Loan and returned at late after-bond and price

Issues Drop Sharply in Wall Street

Strength in Railroads Not Held

Have Good Opportunity in Concessions and Rumors—Steel Stocks Heavy and Other Industrials Slightly — Boston Prices Easy; $5 on Dividend Postponement of New Forms of Bank Statement Money Up to 10 Per Cent

Monday, July 16—3 P. M. Wall Street room traders had a day with the stock market. It was "locally" weak—the short interest was a little difficulty in covering at moderate rise; over-Sunday demand from Kaiserland were conflicting—little encouragement from London—no new buying orders arrived over the week-end, save for a few shares scattered among a few railroads. Pressure on the railroads was rewarded with quick gains on the whole industrial list was very much all day, rallying powerfully. We had United States Steel 113% at mid-afternoon, against the close Saturday and by this morning. Meantime, B. fell 5½, to 122¼, with net, to 78, in Crucible, while Alcohol got up 1¼ and then fell—there was $3 recession in Baltimore and 3½ in Utah Copper, on Monday.

Issues were in the foreground—General, 2 in Studebaker Maxwell, while Ohio Cities way to the extent of 2¼. Payment changes—shifting of methods from week to week—helped any; call money in Wall Street at 6 per cent this morning—down at that at 1 P. M., rising to 7 per cent in last hour—were the banks going through this week, anyway? One form of reduction, the 14th; its more burden on the would-be in figuring values of American business.

An hour of improvements in railroads this morning, but beyond Canadian which isn't American, or under the nation of American market in the list showed no holding ability in the reaction of industrials in the reaction of professional pressure. The market was weak, the speculative position was weak, and it got it. Liberty Loan not get under 99 and recovered to 99 40-50 quoted at late afternoon—$99.80 per $100 bond, and price bankers, as follows: Sterling—Cables, $4.70 (-10); demand, $4.75%. Francs, 5.75; guilders, 41 5-16; lire, 7.21; roubles, 23¼.

THE BAROMETER

Average of Closing Sales of Twenty Leading New York Stocks

| | |
|---------------------------|---------|
| Monday, July 16..... | $85.75 |
| Saturday, July 14..... | $6.12 |
| Net loss for the day..... | .37 |
| Year ago today..... | $8.40 |
| Two years ago today..... | 78.50 |

Recent Course—
Last high point, Oct. 3, 1912.....100.20
Stock Exchange closed July

30, 1914, with average at... 71.55
Reopened Dec. 12; average fell Dec.

24, 1914, to..... 71.19
Closed and highest, 1915, Dec. 31.. 93.84

1916—

Fell, Jan. 31, to..... 87.54
Rose, Feb. 11, to..... 90.31

Fell, April 22, to..... 84.74
Rose, May 22, to..... 92.21

Fell, June 26 and July 27, to. 87.64
Rose, Oct. 4, to..... 96.92

Fell, Dec. 21, to..... 88.71
Closed, 1916, Dec. 29..... 90.77

1917—

Fell, Feb. 2, to..... 83.72
Rose, March 24, to..... 90.25

Fell, May 9, to..... 81.54
Rose, June 13, to..... 88.41

Fell, July 5, to..... 84.16

Former Years—

| | Highest. | Lowest. |
|-----------|----------------|---------------|
| 1915..... | 93.84 Dec. 31 | 71.53 Feb. 24 |
| 1914..... | 88.16 Jan. 23 | 71.19 Dec. 24 |
| 1913..... | 88.28 Sept. 13 | 78.74 June 11 |

The 20 stocks are: Anaconda Copper, American Car & Foundry, American Smelting, American Sugar, American Telephone, Atchison, Baltimore & Ohio, Brooklyn Rapid Transit, Chesapeake & Ohio, Erie, Great Northern preferred, New York Central, Northern Pacific, Pennsylvania, Reading, Southern Pacific, Southern Railway, St. Paul, Union Pacific, and United States Steel.

BANK STATEMENT'S NEW FORM

New York Reserve Lowest Since Establishment of Federal Reserve System

The weekly bank statement issued by the New York Clearing House Saturday showed excess reserves of $36,000,000 and total reserves of $538,000,000, the lowest since the establishment of the Federal Reserve system. The decrease in "excess" or "surplus" reserves for the week was $242,000,000, the unusually heavy falling off being due in part to the fact that the Clearing House adopted a new form of accounting in compiling the statement, the change consisting of the elimination of reserve money held by members of the Federal Reserve Bank in their own vaults. This difference amounted to about $110,000,000, and if the statement had been compiled in form used the previous week, the decrease in surplus reserves would have been only $132,000,000. The other reason for the decline in surplus reserves was the withdrawal of about $103,000,000 in Government deposits, against which, however, the banks are not required to maintain a reserve. The decrease in aggregate reserves for the week was $239,000,000, and Saturday's total of $538,000,000 is smaller by $274,500,000 than the figures for the week ending April 7, the day after war was declared against Germany. The expansion in loans since that date amounts to $224,000,000.

The Clearing House made the change

Harvey D. Gibson of New York is were in storage. The production to first half of this year shows that mines are doing a little better equaling the consumption of last year. This extra production will be demanded every indication is that the demand be much bigger. That is, Pocahontas will have to supply not only the big ern demand, but will have to take care practically all of the offshore business. This will mean that as Pocahontas retires from certain inland markets, anthracite will be in demand to take its place. This must mean a much bigger demand for thracite and raises a question whether even the larger output is going to be sufficient.

A great deal of interest has been aroused this week in the carrying on of the Washington conference plan for fixing maximum prices. It will be remembered there was a dispute in the cabinet at Washington over the plan and it seems this week that the President has lined up against one phase of the price agreement. That is he came against a lower price on commodities than the Government than was named by the people. This was one of the distinctive features of the Washington coal conference schedule. It is not expected that it will prove a serious menace to the agreement as it stands. Nevertheless, coal men do not relish the situation and it threatens further political intervention and maybe a revision of the schedule.

AFFAIRS AT THE MINES

Rand District Mines May Be Forced to Close — Bunker Hill's Million Dollar Smelter Now Operating

Advices from Johannesburg say that there are grave fears that the increasing costs of mining supplies will lead to the closing of many of the mines in the Rand district, that produce low-grade ore. Whole towns along the Rand depend upon these mines for their existence. Warning with regard to the disposition of the properties has been issued to the workers, who are demanding higher wages.

The million dollar smelter of the Bunker Hill & Sullivan Mining & Concentration Company at Kellogg, Idaho, was blown in a few days ago. The smelter is to be the most complete and modern in the world, has been so constructed that it may be enlarged from time to time as the demands make necessary. The improvement to be constructed will be a zinc electrolytic plant, this having been decided upon recently. This will be applied to the mines on Pine Creek where it runs largely to zinc.

A new compressor plant, with a capacity of 1500 cubic feet of air and a 300-horsepower electric motor, is being installed at the Granite-Poorman mine, Nelson, Idaho. They will give the company power to treble its output of ore. Improvements have been made to the concentration of the mill. Four new tables have been put in, which give the mill a capacity of 100 tons a day as far as concentration is concerned. The amalgamation and end of the mill will be improved. The existing power plant is of about 1000-horsepower. Electricity is secured from the Nelson City plant. Final work on the installation of the new power equipment has been deferred owing to delay in the arrival of transformers.

Many mining men of British Columbia are organizing throughout the country to have the industry perfected and made efficient.

hotel kept by a Greek in a street near the water front. The proprietor was, so he found, a member of the college fraternity D. K. E., of the Trinity College chapter of which Mr. Green is a member.

In June, 1915, Manager Smith of

Harvey D. Gibson of New York is Appointed General Manager of Organization

101

HAROLD GREEN IS BACK FROM BALKANS

MARCH 13, 1922.

Has Spent Eight Years as Standard Oil Co.
Manager.

WAS IN SMYRNA UNDER BRITISH BOMBARDMENT

"The Courant" and Scotch Whiskey Available During Blockade.

After eight years of absence Harold C. Green, H. P. H. S. 1906 and Trinity 1910, came back to the old city Saturday night, having spent nearly seven of the eight in Smyrna and over a year in Belgrade and its hinterland and in Italian ports. Of late he had been ranging through the mountains of the Balkan states and into unfamiliar nooks which few even of the most traveled tourists from Hartford have glimpsed. And in the eight years Mr. Green has also risen high in business, for he has represented the Standard Oil Company in two of the most important cities of the Near East and has weathered the war in its interest. He has been the company's manager, first in Turkish Smyrna and next in Serb Belgrade. To few in Hartford is it given to wed travel and business so successfully. And more, Mr. Green has wed a Swiss girl, who had lived in Missouri and translated in the caprice of fate to a home in Smyrna. Mrs. Green and their fifteen months' old son, Alfred William Green, 2d, are in Belgrade and a fortnight are to start across mid-Europe and traverse the Atlantic to meet Major A. W. at No. 174 Ashley street.

It was harder than drawing molars bi-cuspid to draw news from Green yesterday, for first he had to ask about Hartford and did not over three words would he about the Standard Oil and the subject with modest discretion when asked about himself.

Turks Against the War.
A file of "The Courant" related he sailed on the Baltic March for Liverpool and by way and Constantinople, arriving Smyrna April 6, going out in Standard Oil service. In November flung into the war, on the Central powers. About Green tells--what is perhaps the most interesting of "The Courant" is a corrupt cabinet minister, German sway who pushed the empire into the conflict and that most of the Turks in

GOES TO BELGRADE FROM SMYRNA, A. M.

This laconic cablegram, received by Alfred W. Green yesterday morning from his son, Harold C. Green, at Smyrna, Asia Minor, tells of the latter's removal to Belgrade, the capital of Serbia, the beautiful city on the Danube which was so frightfully punished by the Austrians at the beginning of the great war:—

Smirne, Nov. 6, 1919.
Alfred, Green, Hartford, Conn.:— Address mail Belgrade. Love.
Harold.

Mr. Green, who is a graduate of Trinity, 1910, recently advised his parents of his expected transfer by the Standard Oil Company of New York to Belgrade from Smyrna, Asia Minor, where he has been since April 1, 1914, having left here the latter part of the previous month. Soon after his arrival in Smyrna he became acting manager of the Standard Oil's extensive plant there where he has remained until now, for the past three or four years as manager. He now goes to Belgrade, where he will have a much larger territory to look after and the change is recognized as a promotion in appreciation of good service rendered.

In writing here recently and telling of his contemplated removal to the land of the doughty Serbs, Mr. Green spoke of the regret he felt at leaving the beautiful climate and scenery of Smyrna, and told of the delightful times he had recently in being privileged to entertain Admiral Bristol of the American fleet stationed at Smyrna. He has also enjoyed the hospitality of the officers of the fleet and of the admiral and officers of the British fleet stationed in the Bay of Smyrna. Both fleets having been there for several months as a precautionary measure of the allies.

This is not Mr. Green's first visit to Belgrade, for he was stalled there several days in 1914 on his way to Constantinople, through a washout on the railroad. As to his returning home, where he has been expected since 1916 but the great war prevented, he now writes that it may be 1921 before he returns to the "good old United States" and Hartford. At Belgrade he'll be but two days' travel from Paris and could reach Hartford in nine days under favorable traveling conditions.

man of the ican Red Wash-

like to sand against a wall at sunrise?"

News of the Signing.

Occasionally in some mysterious way a copy of the "London Times" would filter into the foreign colony and reach a few of the most discreet. It was read behind locked doors until little but frayed edges and folio line were left. Mr. Green kept his business mind engrossed on the future of petroleum products and coming days when an entente victor would allow free commerce. And then on November 11, 1918, by wireless came the news of Rethondes and everybody hoped that business would start in again. It did, but the blockade kept up for several months, for John Bull wasn't taking chances.

After a time Mr. Green was sent to Belgrade to take charge of the Standard Oil business in Serbia. The Serb capital is at the junction of the Danube and the Sava and is a typical Balkan capital.

Both Smyrna and Belgrade have tinges of cosmopolitanism, compared with Hartford. There were Turk, Greek, Armenian and Jewish quarters in Smyrna and scores of Americans and Europeans were scattered in these and other sections. All through the lean days of the war it was possible to get Scotch whiskey. How this was possible has never been explained.

Belgrade is in its way a bit cosmopolitan. There are residents of visitors from Bulgaria, Rumania and Turkey to the northeast, east and southeast and from Albania, Montenegro, Herzegovina and the regions to the west. Slav tongues, German and French are spoken. French is especially used by many not familiar with the Slav.

"Courant" in 11 Days.

Mr. Green was enlightened by "The Courant" while in Belgrade and often as the paper would reach him in eleven or twelve days, but often they required twenty or twenty-one days.

The Hartford man sailed from Cherbourg March 1 on the Olympic, and it soon after ascending the gangplank on a cross-George J. and Louis E. was stoner, the first Hartford men he had seen in eight years. Chronicling this, interested him more yesterday than relating facts about his life in the Balkans.

Mr. Green was elated about the new high buildings. "They are a good deal higher," he insisted, "but I don't think that salaries are a good deal higher."

Mr. Green asked that a good stiff word of praise be given to the American relief organizations in Europe. "I hear them warmly praised," he declared. "The Hoover people, the American Red Cross, the Y. M. C. A., here and all of them are doing a magnificent work."

It is approaching three months since the armistice was signed and yet the postal authorities at Washington have not yet re-established mail and telegraph service between these countries.

FEBRUARY 6, 1919.

great network of Red Cross organizations throughout the country may be perfected and made efficient.

in 1905 and was admitted to the New York bar in 1907.

FORMER HARTFORD BOY MADE HEAD OF NEW YORK BANK

H. K. Twitchell Succeeds

Late J. I.
Preside

July
Herbert K.

president of t cal National Monday. Mr.
Weybridge, V a young man
ers Insurance entering its e he left the bookkeeper f tional Bank :

signed to tak
er at the H
He remained ed, in 1889, t ing telier at t in New York
ied other cle
and was ma 1900. He resi
to be assi an cal National Bank. He was promoted to vice-president of the bank in 1911 and was elected a director in 1913. As president he succeeds the late Joseph B.
Martindale.

Mr. Twitchell is a trustee of Adelphi College, a member of the board of control of the Brooklyn Y. M. C. A. and a director of the Bankers' Trust company.

He is a member of the fusion committee and chairman of the Brooklyn executive committee of that party. Last year he was one of ten republican signers to the demand on the state comptroller for an accounting of the expenses of Governor Whitman's party to the Panama-Pacific exposition in San Francisco.

The Chemical Bank was established in 1824. It has a capital of $3,000,000, a surplus of about $9,000,000, its stock is quoted around 400, and it has paid 15 per cent. dividends for several years.

Mr. Twitchell is a brother of the late Willis I. Twitchell, at one time principal of the Arsenal School and later and up to the time of his death a few years ago at the head of the

What is said will be one of the most costly chimes of bells in America and one of rare musical sweetness is being made at the foundry of the Meneely Bell Company in Troy, N. Y., for the tower of Cadet Chapel at the United States Military Academy at West Point. The bells are the gift of Mrs. James M. Lawton in memory of her father, the late General Robert Anderson, who was graduated from West Point in 1825 and was in command of Fort Sumter when the first shots of the Civil War were fired.

Herbert K. Twitchell.

FINANCE MASTER IS HARTFORD ALUMNUS

March 22, 1920

Lord of $200,000,000 Once Clerk in Hartford Na- tional Bank.

Chairman of Direction Board of Two Merged Giant Banks.

A former Hartford man was placed Thursday in charge of $180,000,000 of funds, when he was made chairman of the board of directors of the merged banks uniting in New York to form the amplified Chemical National Bank created by the marriage of the well-known ancient institution of that name and the Former Springfield Boy's Success

Many people in this vicinity will be interested to learn of the success at the university of Texas of Parker Davies Trask, son of Mrs Frederic P. Trask of Corpus Christi, Tex., and grandson of the late Rev Dr J. L. R. Trask, former pastor of Memorial church in this city and the Second Congregational church in Holyoke. Young Mr Trask is the subject of an illustrated "write-up" in the department of "Who's Who in Texas and Why," in the Austin (Tex.) American, in part as follows:—

The university of Texas has just bestowed a sheepskin on its youngest graduate, Parker Davies Trask of Corpus Christi. Young Trask has just turned 18 and will be the youngest graduate in the history of the institution. A study of the statistics from the university's registrar's office, showing the average of freshmen to be 19 years, makes his case all the more unusual. This young senior was born at Springfield, Mass., May 7, 1890, the son of Frederic Parker and Kate Davies Trask. He graduated from the Corpus Christi high school in 1913, just after his 14 year, after leading the boys of his class for four consecutive years and after winning a scholarship to the university of Texas. At the university he stands among the best upon the dean's honor roll. He is especially gifted in mathematics and is student assistant in that subject. He is a member of the Peuegram, a mathematical club composed of advanced students and teachers. He has been interested in geology, taking extra courses in this subject not required for his degree, last year being elected a member of the Faculty geological club and last summer working as assistant geologist under F. L. Whitney, who was making a geological survey on Hayes county for the state of Texas. He is a member of the Spanish club (La Tertulia), is on the Texan staff and is a senior member of the Sigma Delta Psi, a fraternity for students showing all-around excellence in athletics. Mr Trask has the distinction of being the first man in the university to make the senior requirements without the aid of substituting a letter. He won the university handball championship for 1917. He is a member of the Chi Phi fraternity.

Mr Trask will go to the university of California next fall to work for his master's degree and take subjects preliminary to the study of medicine. He is now six feet one inch tall and weighs 170 pounds. For the record he has made it is indicated he showed marked ability at an early age. At seven he was in the 5th grade, making a high average, without assistance. He has a remarkable memory and wonderful power of concentration. He has never burned the midnight oil. He does his work easily and rapidly and retains it permanently.

Marquis of Carisbrooke, Formerly Prince Alexander of Battenburg, Weds Lady Irene Denison.

London, July 19.—The Marquis of Carisbrooke, who was Prince Alexander of Battenburg until King George abolished German titles in the royal family, was married to-day in the chapel of St. James's palace to Lady Irene Denison, daughter of the Earl of Londesborough. The king, queen and other members of the royal family, attended the wedding. The marquis is a son of Princess Beatrice.

Hartford Men Who Are Saving Lives of French Wounded.

July 1917
Monday "The Courant" printed a list of twenty-seven men from the Greater Hartford who were in war work in the north of France. It was duly intimated that the list was E & O E. There were no E's, but there were O's and two have come to light.

There are two more young ambulanciers from Hartford, each in the field service of the American Ambulance, the hospital which has spread from Neuilly into field work near several trainsheds, and their names have been furnished to "The Courant." They are Gardiner P. Johnson, a Trinity sophomore, living at No. 171 Sigourney street, and Crompton T. Johnson of No. 637 Prospect street.

Gardiner P. Johnson is a grandson of the late Rev. Edwin E. Johnson, rector of Trinity Church, and a son of Edwin B. Johnson, head of the loan department of the Aetna Life

THE KID HAS GONE TO THE COLORS.
1917

(W. M. Herschell, in the Indianapolis News.)

The Kid has gone to the Colors,
And we don't know what to say;
The Kid we have loved and cuddled
Stepped out for the Flag to-day.
We thought him a child, a baby
With never a care at all,
But his country called him man-size
And the Kid has heard the call.

He paused to watch the recruiting,
Where, fired by the fife and drum,
He bowed his head to Old Glory
And thought that it whispered:
"Come!"

The Kid, not being a slacker,
Stood forth with patriot-joy
To add his name to the roster—
And God, we're proud of the boy!

The Kid has gone to the Colors;
It seems but a little while Since he drilled a schoolboy army
In a truly martial style.
But now he's a man, a soldier,
And we lend him listening ear,
For his heart is a heart all loyal,
Unscourged by the curse of fear.

His dad, when he told him, shuddered,
His mother—God bless her!—cried;
Yet, blessed with a mother-nature,
She wept with a mother-pride,
But he whose old shoulders straightened Went Granddad—for memory ran

To years when he, too, a youngster,
Was changed by the Flag to a man!

Late Judge Ebenezer Rockwood Hoar Councelled Soldier Son.

Paternal affection and solid counsel is contained in a letter, recently unearthed, from a brave father of Civil War days to a brave soldier son. Although written at Concord Dec. 15, 1862, the letter reads as if it were written but yesterday and referred to the present war rather than to the great rebellion, more than half a century ago. The author of the communication was the late Judge Ebenezer Rockwood Hoar, who passed away in 1895. It was sent to his son, Corp. Samuel Hoar, who served in the 48th Regt. Mass. Volunteers. It reads as follows:

"My Dear Boy: I did not have the opportunity I had hoped to talk with you last evening—and therefore take this opportunity, when we are sending you your mittens, and the envelopes which you forgot, to give you a few lant words of affectionate counsel from home.

"One of your first duties as a soldier will be to take all the care you can of your health. The firmer that is, the better you will be able to do any service, or undergo any fatigue, required of you. To preserve your health, you must try to lead as regular and temperate life as possible. I hope you will not try to avoid your full share of labor, danger, or exposure where either is necessary.

"Try to preserve a cheerful and contented spirit, and encourage it in others. Bear hardships without grumbling, and always try to do more, rather than less, than your duty. You will have occasion to be patient, much oftener than to be brave.

"The duty of a soldier is unquestioning obedience—but beyond this, I hope you will cultivate a kind respectful and considerate temper toward your officers.

"I hope you are going with a love for your country, and your cause, and with a determination to be faithful to every duty you have undertaken. My boy, you bear the name of one, who to the end of his honored life never shrunk from duty, however painful, nor from a danger to which duty called him. Be sure that you do no discredit to it! Neither by cowardice, by falsehood, by impurity, by levity, nor by selfishness. Remember always your home and your friends—those who will welcome your return with pride and joy if you shall come back in virtue and honor; who will cherish your memory if, faithful and true, you have given up your life; but to whom your disgrace would cause a pang sharper than death. Remember your obligations to duty and to God. And may these thoughts keep you from temptation, and encourage and strengthen you in danger or sickness.

"And now, my dear boy, I commend you to God—and to the power of His grace. May God bless and keep you. Think of your Heavenly Father in health and in sickness, in joy and in sorrow. Go to Him for strength and guidance. You are very dear to our hearts—and your absence leaves a great place vacant in our home. If it be according to His will, may you come back to us in safety and honor—but whatever is before us, may His mercy love be ever with you, and

MAIN STREET LOSES HISTORIC LANDMARK

July 23, 1911
Wise, Smith & Co.
Possession of Old Opera House

The Hartford Theatre way to another addition department store of W Co., as has already been Courant," and the work down the theater building yesterday. Sunday night the last performance Roberts's Opera House been known to old residents.

Wise, Smith & Co., have been the owners. Their business, by leaps and bounds, to obtain immediately a room, they bought the theater which had two Roberts's Opera House in 1865 and was at that the finest theaters in and for many years the of the state. Its passion to mind to many of the tion the fact of having the famous stars of Booth, Barrett, Irving, Jefferson, Robson, Crar Salvini; Adelina Patti, hardt, Rhea, Fanny De fact Hartford for its s sidered one of the best of the Union. Roberts's in its prime was in th

It may not be gen that there are two buil The front building was Roberts building and one the entrance to Theater building was o rear building is seventy and has a depth of 13 together with the front make is possible for v Co. to add more than feet to their present will make the firm's frontage 214 feet.

Mr. Wise, when ask plans yesterday, said t addition will be built u onal supervision of A. A. Allen, jr., of Hartf oral contract for the ne sony and carpentry, h to P. Arthur King & C city. Several upstairs will be moved to the n the additional space wi a number of main floor besides giving opportuni ber of other improvem will be done on the f day and night, in order may be able to occupy early in the fall. The rear building will be u once.

The rapidly growing Wise, Smith & Co. has, for some time, suffered for lack of adequate space and the new addition will greatly help.

Many of the residents of Hartford will remember the time when the rear building was occupied by the urban restaurant and cafe under the management of Fritz Barby, now dead. It was a general rendezvous for people coming to Hartford and was famous for its cuisine, and politicians of big and little degree were fond of meeting there.

It was in Hartford that Rhea made her American debut and Sarah Bern-Christine Nilsson Sets Record in 1870 by Drawing a $4,200 House—Othello, Played by Prominent Actors, Brings Receipts of Only $251.

(By BILLY S. GARVIE.)

The closing of Roberts's Opera house has brought many reminiscences of old-time plays and players that made the playhouse famous before it became, successively, the Hartford opera house and the Hartford theater. To many readers of THE TIMES the following statement of the receipts of the early dramatic, operatic and minstrel shows that came to the old theater may be of interest to-day, when compared to present day show receipts.

During the opening season (1869) the gross receipts were $56,512.25 Edwin Booth in "Hamlet," drew $1,637 house, the largest dramatic receipt. He drew $2,290 for two performances in 1868 at Allyn hall Grand opera drew well. Ir aMrch Grau's French opera company drew $1,725, with "Genevieve de Brabant" and with a large company.

Maggie Mitchell, a favorite, drew $1,428 for two performances of "Fanchon" and "Little Barefoot." Although minstrel shows drew well Morris Brothers' minstrels got top money with $812 on March 17.

Mlle. Nilsson's Record.

The season of 1870 was a brilliant

INSURANCE

176 MAIN STREET
INC.
W.C. Mason & Co.
THE IDEAL KITCHEN COAL COAL UMBRO PEA
MASON'S

Traveler," got $843 for two performances of "Sam." J. K. Emmett, in his first "Fritz" play here got $800, and Mr. and Mrs. Barney Williams, $785. The James A Oates Opera company, with William Crane in the cast, drew $368.

"Girl Shows" Popular.

What a sensation Lydia Thompson's English Blondes created on June 1, when this early burlesque show, "The Forty Thieves," drew $685. We had no burlesque wheel then.

Lisa Webber's Blondes, another

ENSE COUNCIL

Employment.

Items in Regard to Special War Creates Serious Prob-

REFORMS URGED

CIVIL SERVICE

HARTFORD DAILY TIME

Against Damage From

NGS

HELP WANTED—Female

GIRL wanted; experienced girl for factory clerical work; must be accurate. State age, qualifications and salary expected. Address Clerk, Box 35, Courant.

MAID—Wanted, a competent maid to do general housework. Apply to Mrs. R. S. Goodwin, Box 228, Boston, Conn.

WOMEN wanted for railroad employ diamond ring, under please return to Room 808, 803 Main St. of Hartford Courant and receive liberal reward.

MISS BAKER FINDS "DAUGHTER OF GODS" IN HER HOME TOWN

"Her throne-room is flooded with sunlight. Her council chamber is inky black. Because he is either in this chamber or is vibrating via elevator between it and the throne-room, Hettie Gray Baker has earned her remarkable title, the Lady Who Lives in the Dark, in addition to enough greenbacks to pave a street. "Hettie Gray Baker sees every inch of every photoplay, comedies included issued on the William Fox program. That means almost four

m yearly, in its un-ormous footage she ut many times—as ness of a particular at will permit?" d that Mrs. Moody NSIDE.

ssell and George

Formerly Miss Hettie Gray Baker.

seventy-five guests. ette left late Wed- for Boston, Fall Island. They will their friends after burgh, Pa.

6, 1917
A. Sheffel, formerly us, daughter of the rs. Isadore Straus, ives on the Titanic, Dixon, jr., both of were married at the de, Thursday. The performed by the don, assistant rec- holomew's church. as hastened as Mr. cts to be called into The wedding came the friends of the xon's first husband ear her parents did. ed from Yale in the ed in 1915 Mrs. Dixon to the endowment le university press in Mr. Dixon was grad- le in 1913. He is a Southampton colony, ber of the Union, the ry and the National Golf clubs

MISS HETTY GRAY BAKER, well known Hartford woman, who has made a name and fame in the moving picture world. Miss Baker is now production editor of the Fox Film Company, New York City.

scarred Eu that they others so them; in the South Sea "From you'll find realm of the Lady Who Lives in the Dark.

Only the immediate families and a few friends were present. Mr. Dixon, who was graduated from Yale University in 1913, is a broker, and is a member of the Union Club and the Nassau Country Club.

per cent, and the direc-

July 27, 1917
C. Beach Married.
Mrs. H. H. Murray of Guilford announces the marriage of her daughter, Miss Ethel Esther Murray, to Thomas Coffing Beach of West

Hartford and Saybrook.
The ceremony was Magistrate Scully
New York. Mr. Beach
est son of Charles Vine Hill, West Hartford, brother of Charles
of the aviation Reserve.

A wedding of which came as a surprise
of the couple, was day when Mrs. William Murray of Guilford
the marriage of her daughter, Miss Ethel Esther Murray, to Thomas Coffing Beach
of West Hartford,
younger son of Charles Coffing Beach
of Vine Hill, West Hartford, who took place at the New York, July 27,
Magistrate Scully
New York. Mr. Beach is the youngest son of Charles Coffing Beach of Vine Hill, West Hartford, and brother of Charles Coffing Beach of
the aviation Reserve.

The bride is Miss Ethel Esther
Murray, daughter of William H. H.
Murray, a clergyman,
the Adirondack region of "Adirondack Tales," a family live at stead in that town
and was graduated Greenwich, Men
delivered lectures and his book
"Camp Life in
"Music Hall Ser
"Adirondack Tales,"
action. The pre sister of Miss
field county org
With necient Woman ever, sin
of Mrs.
islative campaign ing for suffrage Beach has not
suffrage work.
Beach is fragist parade
Mr. Beach
1913, as Joan of tacular figure
for the
ing a white hor
children.
New York Sch
Mrs. Beach
and has appear ing a member Hartford,
the Winter Ga
to Guilford
the production
Mrs. Beach
of 1917." In Rev. "Ad
she used an proceedings
Mr. Beach
present.

Mr. Beach school at West Miss Mur
traveled exte
rents was Charles Frede
chorus was ber of the cl ried her wh
university, ha
Their courts
list in the
ain the late
United States
of life toget
young men hook up th Hartford soc
They for a annually for Vermont, bu
the Misses Frabout a year and
Mrs. Wappe ared so have been at two or three ant events
as her att
days for marriage

ALIENATION SUIT FOR $350,000 BY MRS. THOMAS BEACH NOVEMBER 16, 1923.

Attac
of Fal
Ma

Et Beac
Et
and He
trust

Y,
MR.
H

Gets From

The suit br

Beach
in-law, Hartfor
Mary B
the supe

estate
and nea
There w
by the d

Withd
ever, sin
of Mrs.
band, Th separatio

by Mr.
a Beach is fragist pa
Mr. Bea 1913, as Joan of tacular fi
for the ing a wh
children.
New York
Sch Mrs.
Beach and has appear ing a me Hartford,
the Winte
Ga to Gu
to Guilfo
the produ
Mrs. Bea
of 1917."
In Rev.
"Ad she used an proceedi
Mr. Bea
present.

Mr. Beach
school at West Miss
Mur

traveled extere nts was Charles Frede chorus
was ber of the cl ried her wh univer sity, ha

Their courts
list in the ain
the late United States
of life togeth er

young men hook up th Hartfo
rd soc
They
for a annua lly for Verm ont, bu
the Mi sses Frabo ut a year
and Mrs.
Wapp
eared so have been at tw o or three ant even ts as her attor
days
for mar

After their marriage, and before going south, Mr. and Mrs. Beach lived in New York, Mrs. Beach returning to Guilford to visit her mother, during the summer, when they made a trip to Canada together. Mr. Beach is a member of a prominent Hartford family, related to Dr. Charles C. Beach, Mrs. George H. y, Mrs. P. H. Ingalls and Mrs. M. scan Bennett of this city and George Watson Beach of Saybrook.

A son was born Saturday in New York to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Coffing Beach of Vine Hill. Mrs. Beach is daughter of the late Rev. W. H.

A son, Thomas Coffing Beach, Jr., was born Saturday at the Sillies Street Hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Beach of Vine Hill, West Hartford. Sept 9, 1917

Mrs. Beach leading Hartford suffrage parade in 1913. When she was Miss Ethel Murray, daughter of William H. H. Murray and Thomas C. Beach of West Hartford.

And Mr. Beach of West Hartford Occurs in July; Just Announced.

Guilford Girl, Daughter of Mrs. William H. H. Murray, and Thomas C. Beach Married in New York — She Was in Winter Garden Company.

DR. BROWN Physician (Colo
ad to a ch
Dr. Edward B
Farrington, ave
Washington, ave
ment, Thurlin conference, Pa
state in the
AMONG THIS MO Miles Married in New West Columbia
Will Take Place
ver Spring, Md.
A union wedding interested in week from four Miss daughter of ery Beach, and William F. Chap
and and station
Lieuaman Comm
T. & N. of Wash
varieties will of "Folks" the
and Mrs. Blair at ceremony will ternoon, and will
small company,
will attend the invited at six
New York will and Miss Beach
will attend.

LAST PRE-REVOLUTION HOME

Springfield
This Old Dwelling in Its Jarring Environment Is an Excellent

Their Golden Wedding Anniversary

The celebration of a golden wedding anniversary of unusual interest will occur this evening when Mr. and Mrs. James Brown of Gilbert avenue, will welcome 187 relatives to help them bring back memories of fifty years ago. On July 31, 1867, Miss Nancy Ann Larkins and Mr. Brown, both of Richford, Vt., were married in that town. The wedding was especially noteworthy because Mrs. Brown was one of the heroes of Petersburg.

The romance started when the two went to school together. When the call came for volunteers in the year of 1864 Mr. Brown was one of the first to enlist with the nineteenth Vermont regiment and left in March of that year. He returned in May of the next year after having been in the battle of the Wilderness, Spotsylvania, and Cold Harbor. At Petersburg he lost a leg.

Mrs. Brown is sixty-eight years old and Mr. Brown is seventy-two. Both of them have had twelve children and are now living with the exception of one. They have thirty-four grandchildren ranging in ages from three months to twenty-six years. The great-grandchildren are Gustus and Gustine (twins), of Canada, Thomas and Mrs. Margaret Rashaw, of Mahoning, Arthur C. Brown, of Hartford, Mrs. Etta Lahey, of Mary Plumber of Canada, Annie Gilmore of Southbury. Mrs. Brown has prepared a feast for all and the festivities will continue until a late hour. The house has been decorated with wild and cut flowers and 187 guests are expected. Three of Mr. and Mrs. Brown have been drafted.

DR. HOOKER IN WASHINGTON

Physician Called to National Conference to Attend Medical Conference

Dr. Edward B. Hooker of Farmington avenue was called to Washington by the federal government, Thursday, to attend a national conference. Physicians from all over the state in the Union will be present.

AMONG THIS MONTH'S WEDDINGS

July 19
Marriage of Miss Edith Blair, Lieutenant Commander Staton, Will Take Place at "Folkland" near Silver Spring, Md.

A coming wedding near Washington interest to Boston society will be the marriage of Miss Edith Blair, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Draper, Massachusetts, and granddaughter of the late Senator and statesman, becomes Lieutenant Commander Adolph Blair, U. S. N., of Washington. The ceremony will be the beautiful "Folkland," the country estate of Mr. and Mrs. Blair at Silver Spring. The ceremony will take place late in the afternoon, and will be witnessed by a small company, while many others will attend the reception to which invited at five o'clock. Harry Blair of New York will be best man for the groom and Miss Blair will have her three attendants.

JOSIAH DWIGHT HOME ON HOWARD STREET

Has a Doorway as Good as One Recently Sent to the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York.

Samuel P. Avery, Whose Generosity is Responsible for the Handsome House at Griswoldville, One of the Best Known Art Collectors of America.

EIGHT MILES from Hartford, in the town of Griswoldville, is situated Wangum Lodge, the new Hartford Y. W. C. A. vacation house. It was officially opened to the public yesterday, and the consecration services will be held ability with artistic appreciation made his store one of the best known in the city. His son took gradually increasing part in the activities of the business, traveling in Europe half of each year among other things and took over the entire business when gave to the university in memory of his brother, an architectural student. About three years ago he was given a medal by his many friends in the art world around New York in appreciation of what he had done for that city. It was presented at the graduation exercises of the university, and Mr. Avery's retiring nature was shown at that time through his refusal to attend the exercises and receive the medal. His niece did it for him.

Mr. Avery has collected no old masters. All his paintings, bought when he was in business, were of the modern schools. He has given a few pieces of cloisonne to the Wadsworth Atheneum of which he is second vice-president. He recently gave an old Chinese bell to the Atheneum. It was 3,000 years old and a masterpiece of the art of those days.

Mr. Avery holds several prominent offices in this city. He is vice-president of the Wadsworth Atheneum, a director of the Colonial National Bank and of the Society for Savings.

In addition to this, he is a trustee of the Lincoln Memorial University in Tennessee, a trustee of the Brooklyn Institute of Arts and Sciences, and of the Brooklyn Museum.

Mr. Avery has a deep interest in Y. M. C. A. work, in New York state, conducting a large camp on Lake Champlain. He has recently given the camp a splendid house.

The Vacation House.

The house, accommodating between seventy or eighty persons, together with sixteen acres of land, surrounding it, was the gift of Samuel P. Avery of No. 61 Woodland Street, a man well-known locally as an art authority. Mr. Avery was originally interested in the project by his niece, Miss Amy Ogden Welch, who has been very active or some time in Y. W. C. A. matters.

Miss Emily Bronson, house secretary, is in charge of all activities within the house. Miss Carolyn Washburn has charge of all the recreation, both inside the house and outside. Guests are welcomed at the edge for short visits, week end trips, and for periods not exceeding more than two weeks. The rates are so low for board and room that many girls, whose circumstances would not otherwise permit them to go out of the city for their vacations are enabled to have two weeks of rest and comfort and recreation.

SAMUEL P. AVERY.

In describing Samuel P. Avery's splendid gift of a vacation house at Griswoldville to the Hartford Y. W. C. A., "The Courant" last Sunday printed a picture, or rather, tried to, of Mr. Avery. But something went wrong and a blur resulted. Unless another accident intervenes, the above picture is an excellent likeness of this generous gentleman.

go back to their work with renewed energy.

While the first choice is given to Y. W. C. A. girls, non-members of the association are admitted, where there are vacancies, after all members wishing accommodations, have been looked after. The house is equipped with baths and showers, easy chairs, large fire-places, sunny windows and shady corners, commodious dormitory accommodations and cheerful dining rooms, with everything in fact, which has a tendency to make the place seem like a home and not like an institution.

The land connected with the building is a farm. It produces nearly

Note *1978. Mr. Samuel Putnam Avery of Hartford, Connecticut, has recently published a book entitled: "The Avery, Fairchild & Park Families of Massachusetts, Connecticut & Rhode Island. With a Short Narration of Facts Concerning Mr. Richard Warren, Mayflower Passenger, and his Family Connections with Thomas Little." The book is very

HOTTEST FOR FIVE YEARS

Mercury Rises to 98 Degrees Officially

Reading of 103° at Boston Common

AGAINST POLISH HOME RULE German Governor Leaving Warsaw to Special Cable from the London Times, Copyright, 1917
Amsterdam, July 30—A Cracow telegram to the Warsaw Zeitung says General

MR. AVERY'S BEAUTIFUL HOME of the Chou dynasty, dating back about 1000 B. C., presented to the Wadsworth Atheneum by Samuel P. Avery, of this city, is perhaps one of the most valuable acquisitions to the collection. The bell is about nineteen inches in height and nine and a half inches in width, of elliptical shape. It is beautifully decorated with Archaic dragons and other designs. One of the peculiar features of its ornamental type is thirty-six spiral prongs in groups of three, which groupings are assembled in series of nine, suggestive of the mystical Orient.

The coloring is very beautiful, showing a rich patina. The bell is provided with a teakwood stand, carved in design appropriate to those on the bell. The bell never possessed a gong or clapper, but was rung by being struck a glancing blow with a felted or covered hammer. The bell was formerly of the celebrated Marsh collection in London and had, before its arrival in this country, been exhibited in many museums throughout the world.

papers and also abroad.
the publication of these reports in Cracow Austria that the Austrian censor permitted amount of friction between Germany and It is significant and indicates a certain question at the next sitting of the Reich The Polish party intends to bring up the believed serious consequences will ensue Pilsudski is released immediately. It is majority of all the forces. Unless General parts of other regiments aggregating a try, one of cavalry, one of artillery and whole regiments, including four of infantry sures refused to take the military oaths but that not only merely single units of legion says that telegrams from Cracow report A Zurich despatch to Reuters, Limited, Left.
and include a large part of the political the German reports give any impression of Pilsudski's following is far greater than Vienna despatches indicate that General against Germany.
skil was organizing an armed movement authorities had proof that General Pilsudof the Poles and declaring that the German ernor-General replied, refusing the release General von Beseler, the German gov-quiet public opinion.
genuine Polish Government and army will

RELIEF AT BOSTON

Four Dead, 55 Prostrated, on Four Days of 98 Degrees
The heat wave killed four persons

W. H. Ware

HARTFORD, CONN., SATURDAY MORNING, AUGUST 4, 1917.—16 PAGES.

...

“THEY SHALL NOT PASS”

...

The motto of the French at Verdun carried into effect by the hurricane—This big elm blown across trolley tracks on Springfield east side route. (Story on Page 4.)

Boston and Baltimore reported 98; and New York, Philadelphia and Washington, 96.

PHOENIX MUTUAL DIRECTORS MEET.

R. L. Jones and H. Goodwin, Asst. Secretaries—H. N. Kaufman, Asst. Secretary

the directors at their meeting to-day elected two assistant secretaries.

R. L. Jones in New Office.

For the accounting and auditing department Russell Lee Jones was elected assistant secretary. He will assist Secretary Silas H. Cornwell and Assistant Secretary Harry E. Johnson in this department. Mr.

Members of Phoenix Mutual Sta

H. N. KAUFMAN

Assistant Secretary.

RUSSELL L. JONES

Assistant Secretary

Members Same received.

ST FU

HARTFORD BE AMBU

Daniel Andrew William Andrew of the Salvation has joined an organized under t sail Saturday for France. Mr. An-by reason of his experience, education and personality" as President John M. Holcombe stated in the announcement of his appointment.

Elected Assistant Secretary.

In April, 1913, he was elected by the directors as assistant secretary to take charge of the new business department of the company. In that position Mr. Thurman has had a successful career. He has built over the department, introduced many new methods of handling the applications for new insurance with a resulting service to the members of the field force that has won well merited approbation.

The call of active field work has never left Mr. Thurman and even as assistant secretary he did considerable traveling among the agencies of the company. It is this desire for field work that has prompted his resignation and the company has recognized his ability by placing him in charge of one of its most important agencies.

Mr. Thurman is a native of Tennessee, born in 1877, and received his early education there. He was graduated from the North Texas Normal college at Denton, Texas, and soon afterward became connected with the work of that college. He organized the John B. Denton college at Denton, Texas, and was made first president. He remained in that position until 1904, when he entered the life insurance business at Baltimore.

During the past few years the company's business has been experiencing a remarkable growth. Already in seven months of 1917 more new business has been issued than in the entire year of 1915. To meet the growing needs of the company, draws is one of five ambulance drivers in a party of twenty who are bound for "somewhere in France." The command will be in charge of Major Starbard of New York. Mr. Andrews was graduated from the Hartford Public High School last year. He was a popular musician in the school, having been president of the Boys' Glee Club and a member of the school orchestra.

Daniel Andrews.

the
S el fl
pre
M
the is a
of m able man exper cently
plant,
govern
probab
few da
plants, govern
future
Major
of the which manufac
The m field and the emp
where he chemist. P tions with company ordnance
and of Dr
the German manufactur residence in
DR. TAFT
WILL BRADLE
Place in P
Amo to Har
Special to The Deeds have clerk's office
the Johnson B
the occur of arrests, to Dr.
Hartford. The
the most detest
sisting of a han
ous drilling
beautiful ground near on a night
ing a wonderful founding some Cromwell, Mar
British and Har
Mr. Brainerd
some years ago
of Wesleyan
to bank and com
to his summer
land in the early will take up his case, going to his office in Har
Mr. and Mrs.
will read the land.

DAVID BRODERICK IS MADE A MAJOR.

AUGUST 2, 1917.

Receives Commission as Supervisor of Ordnance Manufacture.

David F. Broderick of this city received his commission to-day as major of ordnance in the United States army. The commission is signed by William M. Ingraham, assistant secretary of war, and approved by Adjutant-General H. P. McCain, and later will be signed by the president. Major Broderick, who is an efficiency expert in the conduct of machine plants, has had considerable experience in supervising the manufacture of munitions and is an expert on big gun work. He was recently in charge of a large munitions plant, doing work for the Canadian government, near Detroit. He will probably receive an assignment in a few days to one of the large ordnance plants, where he will represent the government in supervising the manufacture of ordnance.

Major Broderick is the inventor of the Broderick plating machine which is used by many progressive manufacturing plants.

The major is a native of Bloomfield, and on leaving school entered the employ of Pratt & Whitney, where he learned his trade as a machinist. He has held important positions with the Winchester Arms company and with many of the large ordnance companies of this country and of Europe. He is familiar with the German systems of ordnance manufacture as a result of two years' residence in that country. Branching

DR. TAFT BUYS RURAL HOME.

Will Reside at Judson Brainerd Place in Portland and Travel by Auto to Hartford Office.

Special to The Times.

Portland, August 2.

Deeds have been filed at the town clerk's office showing transfer of the Judson Brainerd property, at the corner of Spring and High streets, to Dr. Charles E. Taft, of Hartford. The property is one of the most desirable hereabouts, consisting of a handsome and commodious dwelling house, barns, etc., beautiful grounds and woods to the rear on a slightly location, commanding a wonderful view of the surrounding country, Middletown, Cromwell, Meriden mountains, New Britain and Hartford.

Mr. Brainerd sold the property some years ago to Professor Merrill, of Wesleyan university, later buying it back and occupying it until going to his summer home in East Orland in the early summer. Dr. Taft will take up his residence here at once, going by automobile daily to his office in Hartford.

Mr. and Mrs. Brainerd, it is said, will reside permanently in East Orland.

NAMES INGERSOLL ENVOY TO SIAM.

115

His Uncle Three Times
Governor of Connecticut

MAJOR DAVID F. BRODERICK.

INGERSOLL'S PASSPORTS.

New Minister to Siam to Get Them in Bridgeport—Seton of Prominent Family.

Bridgeport, September 7.—George Pratt Ingersoll of Ridgefield, a member of the law firm of Cummings & Lockwood of Stamford, who was recently appointed United States minister to Siam, has made application to Assistant Superior Court Clerk Michael J. Flannagan for a passport to Siam, his new post of duty. Although Mr. Ingersoll was born in New Haven in 1861, he is well known all over the state. His name was prominently mentioned as a candidate on the democratic ticket last fall, and it is said could have secured the nomination if he would consent to run. He was also spoken of as a candidate for congress.

Mr. Ingersoll is a nephew of Charles R. Ingersoll, who was governor of the state from 1873 to 1877. His grandfather, Ralph Ingersoll, was National minister to Russia in 1846, at which time his fa-

Whitney Bowles, son of Mrs Porter Bowles of Forest Hills, L. I., and grandson of Samuel Bowles, the second editor of The Republican, was married on the 4th to Miss Elizabeth Brown, daughter of Mrs Theodore Brown of 37 West Tenth street, New York, in the church of the Ascension in that city. Rev Dr Percy Stickney Grant performed the ceremony, which was hastened by the fact of Mr Bowles being a member of the 7th regiment of the New York national guard, now in federal service and called to training camp. There were no bridal attendants. Aymer Cater was the best man.

3.—George Haven born in Ingersoll then appointed envoy extra-ordinary to Siam.

Macrae Ingersoll represented the State as acting secretary and the temporary United States minister to Siam. Ingersoll, son of George Ingersoll, was educated at the University of Connecticut, where he received a degree of M. A. He was admitted to the New York bar in 1883, with honor. He has been in possession of the State's records and the Farmington building, the United States district Governor's office on the board of large. In 1912 he was nominated for Congress under the name of Weeks. In 1912 he was Governor of the State.

ice With-hn Withation of is also

house at the best man

Aug Steven-Segur. 4
A simple and pretty wedding took place at the home of Mrs. Gagnon, No. 1015 North Main street, her daughter Segur and C. Mrs. Agnes (Boulevard, Waterbury) late William married yesterday at 1 o'clock. The bride and her sister, Miss Mabel, maid of honor. Steven, brother of the bride, was the best man. The ceremony was performed by Rev. L. Snow Thayer, pastor of the Congregational Sem. of the immediate friends. The bride wore a dress of white and her tulle train carried a shower of sweet peas. Her hair was dressed in white silk net over pink and wore a hat of pink chiffon. Her bouquet was of pink sweet peas. Miss Mabel E. Russell, pianist, played "The March" from "The Dream" by Mrs. Steven Segur. The wedding took place on October 1, at 1 o'clock.

Major Earl D. Church.

The above cup presented by the committee of Mrs. Eliza daughter of this city, on campaign for its share of fund for the year ending December 31, 1917. The inscription: 'Presented by the committee of her service in the Delaware Cross War'. The amount was $25. The work was done from June 18, the Greatly encouraged and reported enthusiasm a million!" With a plan all fall day they received a committee a sum of $1,000, with $6 since been in Wilmington cities of 100 per capita leading all the state of $5.00 for the purpose and the Davison, chairman of the Council, was number of the committee "good work with which thing." The cup is 12 inches high workmanship

SILVER RED CROSS CUP FOR HARTFORD CLERGYMAN'S DAUGHTER

MAJOR CHURCH GOES TO WATERVLIET, N. Y.

Will be Commanding Officer of Federal Arsenal.

Major Earl D. Church of the ordnance department of the National Guard is on his way to Watervliet, N. Y., where he will be commanding officer of the Federal Arsenal. He is also in command of the National Guard of the State of New York. He is a member of the National Rifle Association and is a marksman. He is also a member of the American Expeditionary Force and is a member of the First Infantry, C. N. G. He is also a member of the National Rifle Association and is a marksman. He is also a member of the American Expeditionary Force and is a member of the First Infantry, C. N. G.

LIEUT. COL. CHURCH WILL SOON RETURN

Hartford Officer Completing Important Work in Paris.

Oct 27, 1918

Major Earl D. Church of this city, recently appointed chief of ordnance department of the National Guard, commanding the Ninth Army Corps, A. E. F., will leave France for the United States in the early part of November. He is at present engaged in important committee work in Paris, the nature of which is not divulged. Major Church's duties of which are scheduled to be completed by the end of October. In a recent letter to his wife, Lieutenant Colonel Church intimated that he would leave for this country as soon as his work on the committee has been accomplished. Mrs. Church said yesterday that she expected a cablegram at any moment notifying her that her husband had departed. Lieutenant Colonel Church has had varied experience while with the American expeditionary forces in the ordnance department taking him to Italy and more recently in Spain, where he was sent in connection with floating mines that made navigation along the coast of the country dangerous. He returned to Paris about a month ago and, since then, has been busy with the committee work that will wind up his duties in France. Lieutenant Colonel Church sailed on the transport Aurania for France in October, 1917. He joined the First Infantry, C. N. G., about twenty years ago and has been active in military circles ever since. In 1913, when this country entered the war, he was ordnance officer of the Watervliet, N. Y., arsenal, on August 1, 1917, by direction of the President, he has the distinction of being the first national guard officer to be mustered into federal service, and has been highly complimented on his efficient work as a quartermaster, and on the judgment and ability with which he handled ordnance affairs. In addition to his executive ability, Lieutenant Colonel Church is a marksman, having taken part in five national rifle matches and in 1915 was team captain of the state rifle team which won the third place in the match. He is a director and member of the National Rifle Association of America. Previous to August 5, 1917, he was superintendent of the policy loan department of the Travelers Insurance Company, having started with it in 1896 as private secretary to James G. Batterson, then its president.

CO...
Hart...
servi...
Colon...
Wash...
her...
was...
great...
with...
the m...
way...
except...
In F...
of the...
for five...
out of...
S. O. S... four, S... combat...
officer...
fire mo...
paddy...
German...
when h...
tioned...
celved...
star, an...
K...
Wedding...
Which...
tigit...
Aug...
Amos...
roses, cal...
of Miss... daughter...
Lindsay...
Stanley... street, took...
day evening...
the Rev. E... tor of the...
the First...
clating...
guests pres...
mony the...
Lindsay...
Love." The...
the "Bridal...
gri" and...
march was...
The bride...
embroidered...
tulle veil, the...
soms. She...
quet of wh...
Her only...
Lobmeyer... honor wear...
de chine...
ing pink...
and Wad... others were...
Wheeler... ceremony...
tion at the...
sals, where...
with Japan...
and for wh... guests. A...
Mr. and M... for a trip...
the bride...
French M... had to m...
many hand...
at home...
Holton... clock in...
survance...

LIEUT. COL. CHURCH WILL SOON RETURN

Hartford Officer Completing Important Work in Paris.

Indications are that Lieutenant Colonel Earl D. Church of this city, recently appointed chief of ordnance on the staff of Major General Joseph E. Kuhn, commanding the Ninth Army Corps, A. E. F., will leave France soon and will probably arrive in the United States the early part of November. He is at present engaged in important committee work in Paris, the nature of which is not divulged, but the duties of which are scheduled to be completed by the end of October. In a recent letter to his wife, Lieutenant Colonel Church intimated that he would leave for this country as soon as his work on the committee has been accomplished and Mrs. Church said yesterday that she expected a cablegram at any moment, notifying her that her husband had sailed.

Lieutenant Colonel Church has had a varied experience while with the American expeditionary forces his work in the ordnance department taking him to Italy and more recently to Spain, where he was sent in connection with floating mines that made navigation along the coast of that country dangerous. He returned to Paris about a month ago and, since then, has been busy with the committee work that will wind up his duties in France.

Lieutenant Colonel Church sailed on the transport Aurania for France in October, 1917. He joined Company K, First Infantry, C. N. G., about twenty years ago and has been active in military circles ever since. At the time this country entered the war, he was ordnance officer of the regiment, and was called to the Watervliet, N. Y., arsenal, on August 5, 1917, by direction of the President. He has the distinction of being the first national guard officer to be mustered into federal service, and has been highly complimented on his efficiency as a quartermaster, and on the rare judgment and ability with which he handled ordnance affairs. In addition to his executive ability, Lieutenant Colonel Church is a marksman of considerable repute, having taken part in five national rifle matches, and in 1915 was team captain of the state rifle team which won the Evans match. He is a director and life member of the National Rifle Association of America.

Previous to August 5, 1917, he was superintendent of the policy loan department of the Travelers Insurance Company, having started with that company in 1896 as private secretary to James G. Batterson, then its president.

SECRETARY OF WAR DECORATED

Photograph taken at the war weeks, decorating Lieutenant Colonel Church for exceptionally meritorious service during the world war.

COL. CHURCH BY SECRETARY OF WAR FOR BRILLIANT

AUGUST 20, 1922.

Hartford Man's Grave Re

Hartford Man Praised by A. E. F. Commander for "Meritorious and Distinguished" Work as Ordnance Officer of Eightieth Division and Ninth Corps.

PROVIDED SUPPLIES FOR OTHER TROOPS

Special to The Times.

Washington, D. C., August 19.

Lieutenant-Colonel Earl D. Church, of No. 683 Asylum avenue, Hartford, has received notice of an official citation from General John J. Pershing, chief of staff of the United States army. The citation was published Friday by the war department and reads as follows:

"To Earl D. Church, Lieut.-Col. U. S. A.

"For exceptional, meritorious and distinguished service as ordnance officer of the 80th division, not only were ordnance and ammunition supplied at all times to the members of that division, but also to thousands of men of other divisions at various times when their own ammunition supplies failed. His organization of the ordnance supply system shows the results of exhaustive study and determined effort to overcome adverse conditions.

"Later, as chief ordnance officer of the 9th corps, he displayed high quality of zeal, loyalty and efficiency."

Former National Guardsman.

Lieutenant Colonel Church has been interested in military affairs for a number of years. He joined Company K in the old First infantry, C. N. G., about twenty years ago and rose to be ordnance officer for the Connecticut National Guard. During the war he was stationed at the Watervliet arsenal, N. Y., until October, 1917, when he went to France with the Ninth corps. While in France he rose from the rank of major to that of lieutenant-colonel, and was appointed chief of ordnance on the staff of Major-General Joseph E. Kuhn. He was cited for gallantry in the general orders of the Eightieth division in the Meuse-Argonne offensive, and also received personal citation from General Pershing. In 1921 he was the Connecticut delegate on the American Legion pilgrimage to France. He is a member of the Rau-Locke post, and of Paris Post No. 1.

In business he is superintendent of the policy loan department of the Travelers Insurance company. He began his connection with that company in 1896 when he became secretary to the late James G. Batterson, at that time president of the company. He has been active in republican politics, and was at one time president of the board of aldermen.

COL. EARL D. CHURCH BACK FROM FRANCE

Jan 14 1920
Lieutenant-Colonel Earl D. Church, whose home is in the Alameda apartments on Asylum avenue, returned to Hartford, Tuesday after, two years' service abroad in the Ordnance corps. Colonel Church returned on the George Washington, the last army transport to bring troops back from France. He was active in the National Guard for many years and, including his war service, has spent twenty-five years in the military organization, working his way from private through all grades, except one, to lieutenant colonel.

In France, Colonel Church was chief of the equipment division at Chaumont for five months; served three months as chief ordnance officer, advance section, S. O. S.; next as division ordnance officer, Sixtieth division, during its entire combat period; then as chief ordnance officer of the Ninth Army corps for five months, and later in the same capacity with the Fourth Army corps in Germany, until it was ordered home when he was detached and was stationed in Paris for some time. He received the Croix de Guerre with bronze star, and was cited by the French for KARPEN-LINDSAY.

Wedding at St. James Church at Which Chaplain of First Connecticut Infantry Officiates.

Aug 6
Among decorations of goldenrod, roses, palms and ferns, the marriage of Miss Elizabeth Ann Lindsay, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lindsay of No. 96 Hudson street, and Stanley H. Karpen of No. 315 Pearl street, took place at 7 o'clock, Monday evening, at St. James's church, the Rev. Edmund C. Thomas, rector of the church and chaplain of the First Connecticut Infantry, officiating. There were about 100 guests present, and during the ceremony the bride's brother, George Lindsay, sang as solo "O Perfect Love." The bridal party entered to the "Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin" and the Mendelssohn wedding march was used as recessional.

The bride wore a gown of white embroidered net and a long white tulle veil, fastened with orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses and sweetpeas. Her only attendant was Miss Mary Lobmeyer, who acted as maid of honor, wearing a gown of pink crepe de chine and a white hat, and carrying pink roses and sweetpeas. Howard Wind was best man and the ushers were George Lindsay, Arthur Wheeler and William Stark. The ceremony was followed by a reception at the home of the bride's parents, where goldenrod, ferns and palms were also used as decoration, with Japanese lanterns in the garden and for which there were additional guests. A buffet supper was served. Mr. and Mrs. Karpen left afterward for a trip through the Berkshires, the bride wearing a costume of French blue crepe de chine with a hat to match. The couple received many handsome gifts. They will be at home after October 1 at No. 96 Hudson street. Mr. Karpen is a clerk in the office of the Rossia Insurance company.

A daughter, Susan Bolles Strong, was born to Mr. and Mrs. James M. Strong of No. 16 Concord street, Friday morning. Mrs. Strong was formerly Miss Sylvia Bolles.

Aug 9 Strong-Bolles.
Miss Helen Sylvia Bolles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore B. Dickerson of No. 727 Farmington avenue, and James M. Strong, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry B. Strong of Wethersfield, were married at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents in the presence of only immediate relatives and a few intimate friends. Rev. Dr. William DeLoss Love officiated. The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her sister-in-law, Mrs. Burton W. Bolles, was matron of honor. Mr. Bolles was best man. The house was decorated in green and white, roses and ferns being used in abundance. The music was provided by a string orchestra. Following a wedding trip of several weeks, by motor, Mr. and Mrs. Strong will live in this city.

Aug 6 Bidwell-Higgins.
Miss Anna Higgins, niece of Mrs. Edgar Gray Fairfield, and Dwight Southwick Bidwell of New York were married at 7 o'clock last evening at the home of the bride's aunt, No. 285 Fairfield avenue, by Rev. Robert Elliot Marshall, curate of Trinity Church. The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Thomas E. Damery of Wethersfield, and she was attended by her sister, Miss Laura M. Higgins. The bridegroom was attended by Henry J. Hettinger. Following a short wedding trip to Niagara Falls and the Thousand Islands, Mr. and Mrs. Bidwell will live in New York, where Mr. Bidwell is employed by one of the railroads. Mrs. Bidwell is a graduate of the Hartford Public High School.

Aug 8 Hoskins-Allen.
Miss Viola Allen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James B. Allen of Grand street and Daniel M. Hoskins of Simsbury were married yesterday, the Rev. Dr. M. A. Sullivan, pastor of the Immaculate Conception Church, performing the ceremony. Miss Florence Allen attended her sister, the bride, and Frederick Hoskins, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Mrs. Hoskins wore white lace and carried a bouquet of white roses. Her attendant wore pink taffeta and carried pink roses. Follow-

Two Sons of Dr. J. A. Kilbourn Are Honored.

Two sons of Dr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Kilbourn of No. 111 Collins street are included in the list of young men receiving commissions in officers' training camps. Austin Kilbourn, 27 years old, receiving his commission of second lieutenant, field artillery, Officers' Reserve corps. He is a graduate of the Hartford Public High School and Yale '17. He trained at the Plattsburg training camp.

Orrin Paul Kilbourn, 24 years old, is another son of Doctor Kilbourn to receive a commission. He is also a Yale graduate, '14. He has received a second lieutenantcy in the field artillery of the regular army. Doctor Kilbourn has four sons under the age of 31. Dr. Joseph B. Kilbourn, another son, returned from Europe in June, 1916, after serving two years in the Austrian Red Cross. He is now practicing in New York city. Four of the sons are Yale graduates and the fifth is a Trinity man.

A daughter was born June 30 at the Charter Oak Hospital to Mr. and Mrs. James M. Strong of No. 16 Concord street, West Hartford, 1920

CITY BANK ADDS NEW OFFICIALS.

H. B. Skinner and C. G.

Chase
Cashier
ficer GEORGE
ONE O

Three new the staff of company at election of o
ing house to old B. Skinn who were e
and George elected a tr.

The office
President-
Vice-Presi
rich, Harry Cashier—
Assistant
Chase, Harc
Trust C
Hawley.

Mr. Skinn
Vine street,
ville, this s
graduated i school in 18
ness college
the bank th
made a tel.

Mr. Chas
was gradu
high schoo
The next y
ham Coun 1912 took Bank and gust of las discount c lives at No

Mr.
George
uated from and from t five years stitute of one years
Bell Teley appointed and Trust
partment grandson

LEONARD
IN Y

Leonard
and Mrs. B 35 Burton ven Wedne for member pital Unit,
He is room
tory near t
graduated i High Schoo
junior and believed to
of the me training fo
the New roommate i
of Madison
an orderly.
Flint is in c
is a gradua

HAROLD B. SKINNER.

LEONARD BEADLE.

MOBILIZE YALE UNIT.

About Sixty Men, From All Parts of State, Answer Order to Assembly To-day in New York.

New Haven, July 18.—About sixty men from all parts of the state, constituting the Yale Mobile hospital unit, are mobilizing to-day in New York, under orders received. Local members had their plans completed last night, and early this morning they were on their way to New York. The unit will not have to go through the usual three or four months' training previous to departure, because all its members are trained in the tasks they will be expected to perform when they reach France.

Fifteen Riker Locomobile trucks have been purchased by the unit in Bridgeport, despite the plan to obtain all the equipment that is to be used by the unit from the French government. The local unit, one of the first organized and accepted by the government and others will be sent out of the country before the troops are mobilized. It is said that these chassis will be kept in reserve for shipment to France should it be found that for some unforeseen reason the French government is unable to furnish the equipment desired.

The officers of the unit follow: Dr. Arthur B. Dayton, Naugatuck, a member of the medical reserve corps; Dr. Robert Lee of the New Haven hospital; Dr. Joseph M. Flint of the Yale medical school; Dr. Francis B. Jennings, Brooklyn; Dr. William H. Morriss of the New Haven hospital; Dr. Alexander L. Prince of No. 56 Hobart street; Dr. Alfred M. Rowley, visiting physician and surgeon of the Hartford hospital; Dr. George M. Smith of Waterbury; Dr. J. W. Squires of Charlotte, North Carolina; Dr. Edward C. Streeter of Boston; Dr. Philemon Edwards of Fall River, and Dr. Donald B. Wells of Hartford.

The list of names which have been accepted contains the following New Haveners: Miss Lillian Johnson, chief nurse of the unit; Miss Dorothy A. Finley of the New Haven hospital; Miss Ella L. Conway, 311 Green street; Miss Edith De Freset, 755 Howard avenue; Miss Mary E. Shepherd, Westville; Miss Anna V. Cullom, 755 Howard avenue; Miss Rena Kane 23 Park street; Miss Catherine V. McGovern, 307 Fountain street, and Miss Ella M. Squires, 23 Park street. Hartford supplies the following nurses: Miss Grace Greenwood, Miss Edythe M. Perkins and Miss Jane B. Screen. The other nurses are Miss Alice J. Cumming, Thomaston, and Miss Lily E. Watts of Willimantic.

The New Haveners among the enlisted men follow: Charles R. Bartlett, 113 Olive street; Thomas J. Russell, 836 Howard avenue; J. M. Snowden, 71 College street; S. S. Boyle, 106 William street; Stanley Daggett, 284 Orange street; Walter B. Day, 406 Prospect street; Eugene L. Douglass,

& C STOCK EXCHANGE
HARTFORD,
NEW BRITAIN, C
WATERBURY, C
SPRINGFIELD, M

LIGHT COMPANY

of the Hartford Electric and power as follows holders of record at 5
ratio of one (1) share of
of old stock.

100 shares payable Au

100 shares payable Feb

of 500 shares pay

to be made at the Central Bow, Hart

transferred and deliv payment of each of instructional shares.

issued between the
and Co.

stockholders (if any) of the Directors.

at the office of Hartford, Conn.
until 12 o'clock

Light Co.

Lyons Secretary.

Cor. Ma

ES
ES
CORP. CO. CO.

R & CO.

STOCK EXCHANGE.

- ... HARTFORD, CONN.
- ... NEW BRITAIN, CONN.
- ... WATERBURY, CONN.
- ... SPRINGFIELD, MASS.

LIGHT COMPANY.

the Hartford Electric
nd paid for as follows, holders of record at 5
io of one (1) share of
of old Stock.

) shares payable Au-

0 shares payable Feb-

t of 5,000 shares pay-

ock to be made at the 6 Central Row, Hart-

to be issued and delivhe payment of each of

for fractional shares.
adjusted between the hter and Co.

stockholders (if any)
tion of the Directors,

n at the office of
w, Hartford, Conn., n until 12 o'clock

ric Light Co., E. Lynch, Secretary.

PROF. FLINT OF YALE GETS WAR MEDAL

McIntyre Sisters Cited for Bravery.

39-574
1919
Boston, May 17.—Three veterans of the American expeditionary forces were decorated on the Common today. Lieutenant Colonel Joseph M. Flint of the medical corps, a professor at Yale, was given a distinguished service medal and Captain Conrad Wesselhoeft of the medical corps, of this city, and Corporal Edward D. Murphy of Fitchburg, received distinguished service crosses.

Major General Clarence R. Edwards, commander of the Northeastern Department, who made the presentations, pinned a distinguished service cross on Mrs. Edward T. Martell of Somerville, mother of Lieutenant Judson G. Martell who was awarded the cross after his death. General Edwards also read citations of Misses Gladys and Irene McIntyre, Salvation Army workers, who were commended for bravery of under fire.

offer from any one person.

The Connecticut Trust

Corner of Main and Pearl S

Can You Draw a Will?

You know how we all shrink from it. You can come here and have our Trust Officer, a capable lawyer, do it for you, without charge, too, if you appoint this company Executor, Trustee or Guardian. Your heirs will benefit.

Talk It Over With Us

Cor. Main St. and Central Row.

VACA

Why suffe
ing currenc
safer mean

WHEELS

DR. DONALD B. WELLS

DANFORD N. BARNEY, JR.

the battle front, as close to the trenches as possible, and to care for the "cavity" cases, which include deep wounds in the head, abdomen or chest. Only the automobile trucks and equipment are taken to France, the hospital awaiting the unit there. It is believed that the staff will live on the trucks which will hold small portable houses, immediately behind the front line trenches, keeping where the fighting is most active, and endeavoring to save the lives of soldiers who would usually die before reaching other hospitals.

n & Co

Brothers in Country's Service

HARRY T. MIDDLEBROOK.

LOUIS S. MIDDLEBROOK.

A. J. Middlebrook of No. 167 Steele road has two sons in service, Louis Shelton Middlebrook, who recently received the commission of Second lieutenant, Field artillery, American Expeditionary forces, and Harry T. Middlebrook, a member of the aeronautical mechanical engineers, a branch of the Signal corps, stationed at Dayton, O.

Louis Middlebrook joined the Yale Mobile hospital unit, and left with it when it sailed for France the latter part of August. Not long after the unit arrived in Paris, the young man wrote home that he had applied for a commission. He received it in December and is now training at a French artillery school where he will be for three months. He said the instructors were all Frenchmen of the highest type and men who could speak English.

Both the young men were graduated from Yale in the class of 1917. Harry, from Sheffield Scientific school and Louis who was captain of the Yale baseball team, 1915, from the academic department.

CITY BANK ADDS NEW OFFICER

H. B. Skinner and

Chase
Cashier
ficer GEORGE
ONE O

Three new
the staff of company at election of o
ing house to old B. Skinn
who were e
and George elected a tr

The office
President—
Vice-Pres
rich, Harry Cashier—
Assistant
Chase, Harc
Trust C
Hawley.

Mr. Skinn
Vine street,
ville, this s
graduated i
school in 18
ness colleg
the bank th
made a tel

Mr. Chas
was gradu
high schoo
The next y
ham Coun 1912 took Bank and gust of las discount cl lives at No

Mr George
uated fron
and from t
five years
stitute of one years
Bell Tele appointed and Trust
partment
grandson

LEONARD IN Y

Leonard
and Mrs. B 39 Burton
ven Wednes
for member pital Unit,
He is room
tory near th
graduated f High Schoo
junior and believed to
of the mo
training fo
the New roommate i
of Madison Flint is in c
is a gradua

TO ED ANGE Yale's Mobile

Rear row, left to right; William Haskell, S. R. M. Hoye, W. P. (Dutch) right, John O. Alsop; L. E. Clark; Reginald Roome; E. D. Hubbard; Louis in the third ten of the N. L. T. A.; C. Morgan Aldrich and Cortland Babco

SOME OF THE TRUCKS MADE BY YALE MEN.

Special to The Times.

New Haven, August 11.

Yale university has formed the first mobile hospital unit that will represent the United States in the great war. It is modeled after the French mobile base hospitals, of which there are said to be about 140, that have proved satisfactory behind the firing lines.

The hospital is a series of movable buildings that can be loaded upon trucks and carried quickly to a spot near the front. It is set up usually about three miles from the firing line. In this way the wounded are brought in about forty minutes after they are shot, whereas if they are sent to a base hospital they do not receive attention for at least 24 hours after they are wounded.

The mobile hospital will be so completely equipped that it can give to the wounded just the same treatment as would a base hospital far to the rear of the firing line.

To transport the hospital building the apparatus, supplies and staff as the battle line moves forward, the Yale organization has bought 150

LEONARD BEADLE.

THE
hospital
Yale's Mobile
the year's basketbal
Walter H. Cobey

Hospital Unit

WHEELS

old, last year's basketball captain, Walter B. Day; bottom row, left to diebrook; Walter H. Cobey; Lyon Carter; Alric H. Man., Jr., who ranks

DR. DONALD B. WELLS

BUILT BY YALE MEN.

Three-ton Riker trucks, built in Bridgeport by the Locomobile company of America, and a Locomobile touring car. These trucks will be used for and driven by young Yale graduates who are members of the unit. Fifteen of these men spent two weeks in the Bridgeport plant, learning how the trucks that they will drive are built and assembled, and driving them over the roads of Fairfield county.

Orders for More Trucks.

Bridgeport, August 11.—Orders for 1,250 additional trucks have been received by the Locomobile company.

The amount of money that this order will involve will be approximately $5,000,000. These figures are not official, but are based on the usual price of $4,000 per truck.

This last order, which was given by the government a few days ago, follows a previous order for 400 trucks. This makes a total of 1,650 trucks that the Locomobile is now building for the United States. They will be used by the United States government and not by the allies. The new truck, is designed to move along the battle front, as close to the trenches as possible, and to care for the "cavity" cases, which include deep wounds in the head, abdomen or chest. Only the automobile trucks and equipment are to be taken to France, the hospital awaiting the unit there. It is believed that the staff will live on the trucks which will hold small portable houses, immediately behind the front line trenches, keeping where the fighting is most active, and endeavoring to save the lives of soldiers who would usually die before reaching other hospitals.

DANFORD N. BARNEY, JR.

of this city is an officer of the unit. of greatest danger.

CITY BANK ADDS NEW OFFICER

H. B. Skinner and

Chase
Cashier
ficer GEORGE
ONE O

Three new the staff of company at election of o ing house to old B. Skinn who were e and George elected a tr.

The office President— Vice-Presi rich, Harry Cashier— Assistant Chase, Harc Trust C Hawley.

Mr. Skinn Vine street, ville, this s graduated i school in 18 nness colleg the bank th made a tel.

Mr. Chas was gradu high schoo The next y ham Coun 1912 took Bank and gust of las discount cl lives at No

Mr. George uated from and from t five years stitute of one year Bell Telep appointed and Trust partment grandson

LEONARD IN Y

Leonard and Mrs. B 39 Burton ven Wednes for member pital Unit, He is room tory near tl graduated t High Schoo junior and believed to of the m training fo the New roommate i of Madison an orderly. Flint is in c is a gradua

AGAIN ACTIVE.

Roosevelt Adds Kuno Meyer to Celebrated Body's Membership.

AMSTERDAM TALK REASON FOR ACT

erman Said to Have Visited Oyster Bay Statesman in 1916.

New York, August 11.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt declared, in a statement, yesterday, that he had been misquoted by Dr. Kuno Meyer, Berlin professor, in dispatches from Amsterdam. He said Professor Meyer was guilty of "gross impropriety" in quoting him concerning compensation and indemnities Germany might collect.

"Mr. Meyer's statement is substantially correct, with this exception," said Roosevelt. "I did not say the Austro-German victory would entitle them to compensation or indemnities, or to form a mid-European federation under Germany's agency.

"What I said was that if Germany was victorious, she would undoubtedly exact the utmost limits of compensation and indemnity she could wring from all her adversaries, including the United States, and I added she would take them from the United States, whether we went to war or not. Mr. Meyer and his wife called on me in May, 1916. What I said to him was what I said in speeches, so far as Germany and the duty of this government are concerned.

"We are fighting for our nearest and dearest interests, to make the world safe for America. Until America shows her ability to do that she should not talk about making the world safe for democracy. Now let every man, woman and child in this country strain every nerve, so that at the earliest possible moment our giant strength may be used to win the victory.

"Let us remember that pacifists and pro-Germans stand where the copperheads stood in the Civil War. This applies to some senators and congressmen and newspaper editors. I hope congress will immediately pass a law refusing to allow any paper to be published in German or the language of any other of our opponents while the war lasts."

DR. LIEBNECHT RELEASED.

near the front. IT IS SET UP

LEONARD BEADLE.

MOBILIZE VALE UNIT.

TO ED ANGE

and one month in prison. A court-martial at Thor also is said to have sentenced Dr. Liebknecht to four and a half years at hard labor, charging that he had attempted to incite the soldiers of the Thorn garrison to disobedience and rebellion.

FAILURE TO REGISTER.

Alleged Offense of Derby Man Results in Arrest—Leo Dermody Held by Order of Spellacy.

Derby, August 11.—Leo Dermody was arrested here to-day, charged with having failed to register for the selective draft June 5. He was held for further proceedings by order of United States District Attorney Spellacy of Hartford.

Dermody formerly lived here, but three or four years ago went to Anderson, Indiana. He returned a few days ago to attend the funeral of his foster father. He claims to be 34 years old, but the authorities say the records show he is 29. He has ad-

B9

Any tin

Every refresh this cooling hot, tired or

Also, order your ice-box by full name

See that it is sides—name bl comes in this b

W. M. PERKIN

W. M. PERKIN

W. M. PERKIN

W. M. PERKIN

W. M. PERKIN

W. M. PERKIN

W. M. PERKIN

W. M. PERKIN

THREE MORE NURSES

DR. A. M. ROWLEY NOW
MAJOR IN VALE UNIT

119

H HOSPITAL ON WHEELS

MISS EDITH M. PERKINS.

MISS JANE B. SCREEN

DR. DONALD B. WELLS

LOUIS S. MIDDLEBROOK

LYON CARTER

DANFORD N. BARNEY, JR.

member of the 'varsity baseball team while in college, and Lyon Carter, a son of the Rev. Charles F. Carter, pastor of the Immanuel Congregational church, and Mrs. Carter, who was a well-known athlete and baseball player while at Yale, from which he has also graduated in '915.

C. Morgan Aldrich of Colorado Springs, Yale, '16, who has recently moved in Hartford, and is the fiance of Miss Priscilla Chapman of this city; Danford Newton Barney, jr., Yale, '16, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. Newton Barney of Farmington; Archibald G. McLeish, Yale, '15, of Chicago, who married Miss Ada Hitchcock of Farmington last June; John deK. Alsop, Yale, '02, and E. Dyer Hubbard of Middletown are also to go with the unit as drivers as is Thomas Cornell of Pittsburgh, a Yale track star, who is well known in this city.

Most of these young men have been undergoing a course of training at the Locomobile works in Bridgeport. The hospital, which was planned by the French government, is designed to move along the battle front, as close to the trenches as possible, and to care for the "cavity" cases, which include deep wounds in the head, abdomen or chest. Only the automobiles, trucks and equipment are to be taken to France, the hospital awaiting the unit there. It is believed that the staff will live on the trucks which will hold small portable houses, immediately behind the front line trenches, keeping where the fighting is most active, and endeavoring to save the lives of soldiers who would usually die before reaching other hospitals.

of this city is an officer of the unit.

of greatest danger.

...the Snow Dressed All in Alexander A. B.

STOCK EXCHANGE.

Shares of New York Stock Exchange
 (New York, Hartford, Conn.)

| Yesterday | Highest | Lowest | Closing |
|-----------|---------|---------|---------|
| 29 3/4 | 29 3/4 | 29 1/2 | 29 3/4 |
| 90 | 90 | 90 | 90 |
| 75 3/8 | 75 3/8 | 75 3/8 | 75 3/8 |
| 48 1/2 | 48 1/2 | 48 1/2 | 48 1/2 |
| 106 1/2 | 106 1/2 | 106 1/2 | 106 1/2 |
| 71 1/4 | 71 | 71 | 71 1/4 |
| 104 7/8 | 103 1/8 | 103 1/8 | 104 7/8 |
| 122 1/2 | 120 | 120 | 122 1/2 |
| 120 1/4 | 120 1/4 | 120 1/4 | 120 1/4 |
| 52 1/2 | 52 1/4 | 52 1/4 | 52 1/2 |
| 79 | 78 | 78 | 78 3/8 |
| 101 | 100 1/8 | 100 7/8 | 100 7/8 |
| 109 | 107 3/4 | 108 3/4 | 108 3/4 |
| 70 1/2 | 69 5/8 | 70 | 70 |
| 72 3/4 | 72 | 72 1/2 | 72 3/4 |
| 60 1/4 | 60 | 60 1/4 | 60 1/4 |
| 128 | 126 1/8 | 127 | 127 |
| 37 1/2 | 37 1/2 | 37 1/2 | 37 1/2 |
| 165 3/8 | 161 | 164 3/8 | 164 3/8 |
| 87 1/2 | 86 3/4 | 87 | 87 |
| 61 1/8 | 59 1/4 | 60 7/8 | 60 7/8 |
| 20 3/4 | 20 1/2 | 20 1/2 | 20 3/4 |
| 53 1/4 | 53 1/4 | 53 1/4 | 53 1/4 |
| 73 3/8 | 72 3/8 | 72 3/8 | 72 3/8 |
| 37 3/4 | 36 1/2 | 37 1/2 | 37 1/2 |
| 109 1/4 | 109 | 109 1/4 | 109 1/4 |
| 108 3/4 | 108 | 108 | 108 |
| 34 1/4 | 33 1/2 | 34 3/4 | 34 3/4 |
| 83 3/4 | 82 | 82 1/2 | 82 1/2 |
| 112 1/8 | 112 1/8 | 112 1/8 | 112 1/8 |
| 22 1/2 | 22 1/2 | 22 1/2 | 22 1/2 |
| 25 5/8 | 25 | 25 5/8 | 25 5/8 |
| 39 | 38 | 38 3/8 | 38 3/8 |
| 50 1/2 | 50 1/2 | 50 1/2 | 50 1/2 |
| 105 1/2 | 104 3/4 | 105 1/2 | 105 1/2 |
| 33 | 32 1/2 | 33 | 33 |
| 162 1/4 | 160 3/4 | 161 1/2 | 161 1/2 |
| 34 1/2 | 34 1/4 | 34 1/2 | 34 1/2 |
| 57 | 56 5/8 | 56 3/4 | 56 3/4 |
| 56 | 56 | 56 | 56 |
| 30 1/2 | 29 1/2 | 29 1/2 | 29 1/2 |
| 89 1/2 | 88 1/4 | 88 3/2 | 88 3/2 |
| 43 3/4 | 42 7/8 | 43 3/4 | 43 3/4 |
| 91 1/4 | 90 1/8 | 90 1/2 | 90 1/2 |
| 63 1/2 | 63 1/2 | 63 1/2 | 63 1/2 |
| 45 1/2 | 44 1/4 | 44 1/2 | 44 1/2 |
| 97 1/4 | 96 1/2 | 97 | 97 |
| 33 1/4 | 31 | 32 1/2 | 32 1/2 |
| 90 5/8 | 89 | 90 1/2 | 90 1/2 |
| 22 1/4 | 22 | 22 1/4 | 22 1/4 |
| 37 3/4 | 36 3/4 | 37 3/4 | 37 3/4 |
| 101 5/8 | 101 | 101 1/2 | 101 1/2 |
| 123 1/4 | 123 1/4 | 123 1/4 | 123 1/4 |
| 73 | 73 | 73 | 73 |
| 27 1/2 | 27 1/4 | 27 1/4 | 27 1/4 |
| 97 3/8 | 95 | 96 7/8 | 96 7/8 |
| 52 1/8 | 52 1/8 | 52 1/8 | 52 1/8 |
| 90 1/8 | 89 1/8 | 89 1/4 | 89 1/4 |
| 25 1/2 | 25 1/4 | 25 3/8 | 25 3/8 |
| 94 1/2 | 93 1/2 | 94 1/8 | 94 1/8 |
| 28 | 27 5/8 | 27 7/8 | 27 7/8 |
| 57 | 56 7/8 | 57 | 57 |
| 58 3/4 | 58 1/4 | 58 1/2 | 58 1/2 |
| 17 1/8 | 17 | 17 3/8 | 17 3/8 |
| 192 3/4 | 191 1/4 | 192 3/4 | 192 3/4 |
| 136 1/2 | 134 1/8 | 136 1/8 | 136 1/8 |
| 107 | 105 5/8 | 106 | 106 |
| 62 3/4 | 62 1/2 | 62 3/4 | 62 3/4 |
| 123 3/4 | 122 | 122 7/8 | 122 7/8 |
| 118 | 118 | 118 | 118 |
| 42 | 40 3/8 | 42 | 42 |
| 50 | 49 3/4 | 49 3/4 | 49 3/4 |
| 21 1/8 | 20 1/2 | 21 | 21 |
| 94 | 93 1/2 | 93 1/2 | 93 1/2 |
| 31 1/2 | 31 1/2 | 31 1/2 | 31 1/2 |
| 120 | 119 | 119 3/8 | 119 3/8 |
| 59 | 58 7/8 | 58 7/8 | 58 7/8 |
| 43 3/4 | 42 1/2 | 43 1/2 | 43 1/2 |
| | | 90.42 | |

Hartford Electric Light Co.

"Rights"

Bought and Sold

ROY T. H. BARNES & CO.
 77 PEARL STREET

MARCONI'S VIEWS ON U-BOAT PERIL.

Says No Invention Will Prove Effective Against Submarine.

FIGHTING TACTICS BEST, HE THINKS

Great Need of Soldiers Is Plenty of Fat Food, Hoover Declares.

BY HOLLAND.
 Special to The Times.

New York, July 14. When Marconi speaks he does so as one having authority. Fully as much reliance is placed upon anything that he may say regarding invention and applied science as when Edison speaks. Therefore, when Marconi said a day or two ago to a company of friends in New York that no invention or apparatus has been offered to the allied govern-

RICHTER

MEMBERS NEW YORK
 6 CENTRAL ROW
 81 WEST MAIN STREET
 LILLEY BUILDING
 THIRD NATIONAL BLDG.

HARTFORD ELECTRIC VOTED:

That 15,000 new shares Light Company, to be issued be offered at par, to the stockholders, on July 10, 1917, in the afternoon, July 10, 1917, in the afternoon, new stock for three (3) shares.

First installment of 5,000 shares, August 7, 1917.

Second installment of 5,000 shares, February 7, 1918.

Third and last installment of 5,000 shares, August 7, 1918.

All payments for above stock to be made at the office of Richter and Company, Hartford, Conn.

Certificates for said stock to be issued to the stockholders upon payment of said installments.

No certificate will be issued for less than one share.

All fractional rights to be sold at the office of Richter and Company.

Stock not subscribed for to be sold at market value or at not less than par.

Books for subscription to be sold at market value or at not less than par. Richter and Co., 6 Central Row, Hartford, Conn. July 11th, 1917, and remain open until noon, July 25, 1917.

Hartford

Thomson

an orderly. Flint is in c is a gradua

LEONARD BEADLE.

THREE MORE NURSES FOR HEROIC FRANCE

In Yale Mobile Unit to Allen-

YALE UNIT EARNED ITS STAFF PRAISE

MAJ. ROWLEY TELLS MADE ONE MAJOR OPERATION AN HOUR

Dr. Rowley Describes Remarkable Surgical Work on Battle Front.

WII Tales of Opera Canvas—She Near

Dr. si

Dr. of the yest pani a tra aesth Euro Th also and to Yale Miss Scre The ford Nurs It leav but part T usua prev men they whe Locc for of boug in France. This unit is one of the first to be accepted by the government, it is said. Dr. Donald B. Wells of this city is an officer of the unit.

Major Alfred M. Rowley, recently returned from France, where he served with the Yale Mobile Unit, addressed the members of the Hartford Hospital Training School Alumnae Association yesterday afternoon at the Nurses' Home on Jefferson street. He spoke on the subject of "War Surgery in France," and gave a most entertaining talk, illustrating from his own observations, and from several pictures taken of actual cases.

Major Rowley told of the primitive methods of surgery used during the first part of the war and which were revolutionized. He described the operations in which he participated at the front lines. The operations were mostly done at night, he said. Wounds of the head and abdomen, he said, were the most serious and were cared for first, while those with minor injuries were cleansed, foreign bodies taken out, dry dressings applied and the men sent back to the field hospitals, where cultures were taken. If the wounds were found to be sterile, they were then sewed up. He said that of all the operations those of the lungs were the most wonderful, though performed on the head and abdomen. In speaking of the rapidity with which the surgeons and doctors were forced to work during a big drive, Major Rowley said that the average number of major operations for a doctor to perform was one an hour. The surgeons formed operating teams and did one operation after another in such quick time that the nurses gave anesthetics to the patients as fast as they could in order to keep up with them.

The meeting yesterday, which was well attended, was presided over by Miss Ida F. Butler, who gave a brief address in which she told of the report of the Red Cross nursing service at Wednesday's conference. She explained the plan of public health nursing, which the Red Cross plans to conduct this summer and told of the co-operation desired between the nurses and the Red Cross.

Dr. Rowley Describes Remarkable Surgical Work on Battle Front.

Major Alfred M. Rowley, recently returned from France, where he served with the Yale Mobile Unit, addressed the members of the Hartford Hospital Training School Alumnae Association yesterday afternoon at the Nurses' Home on Jefferson street. He spoke on the subject of "War Surgery in France," and gave a most entertaining talk, illustrating from his own observations, and from several pictures taken of actual cases.

Major Rowley told of the primitive methods of surgery used during the first part of the war and which were revolutionized. He described the operations in which he participated at the front lines. The operations were mostly done at night, he said. Wounds of the head and abdomen, he said, were the most serious and were cared for first, while those with minor injuries were cleansed, foreign bodies taken out, dry dressings applied and the men sent back to the field hospitals, where cultures were taken. If the wounds were found to be sterile, they were then sewed up. He said that of all the operations those of the lungs were the most wonderful, though performed on the head and abdomen. In speaking of the rapidity with which the surgeons and doctors were forced to work during a big drive, Major Rowley said that the average number of major operations for a doctor to perform was one an hour. The surgeons formed operating teams and did one operation after another in such quick time that the nurses gave anesthetics to the patients as fast as they could in order to keep up with them.

The meeting yesterday, which was well attended, was presided over by Miss Ida F. Butler, who gave a brief address in which she told of the report of the Red Cross nursing service at Wednesday's conference. She explained the plan of public health nursing, which the Red Cross plans to conduct this summer and told of the co-operation desired between the nurses and the Red Cross.

DR. A. M. ROWLEY NOW
MAJOR IN YALE UNIT

Dr. D. B. Wells Promoted to Captain in Hospital Work.

Dec 18, 1918

appoint a board to control prices, an example which was followed later on by other cities in France. The chief surgeon, General Bradley, and Colonel Wadhams of the American expeditionary force, were especially interested in the auto-shire and desired, according to Major Flint to act as liaison officer with the French medical service and to contract for the delivery of twenty auto-shires. The first of these was delivered to the Yale unit and was installed in condition for demonstration at the Palace in Paris, where the unit occupied much of the space.

The Yale unit was accepted by the government in its first place in the Toul sector and behind Seicheprey a location near the American action at Apre-104th Infantry.

with French. nit had experience hospital in Com e in Evacuation Sebastopol, near g this they func- lanced evacuation gave training to were to take out

ME
bles
est sailed on the record- Yale Colonel of age of le are which 7, and atched ple of entire head ly had s from owley, is, now owley, Edythe Screen, n Car- k and ties in Jarney, Farm- d John Alsup or Clark present nd was le Base so con- ing many of the move- aluable about the hospital to move forward on and conducting within twenty-four the order. said, "three hours ucuation" ahead of tion hospital. And, which played a so con- ing many of the move- aluable medical and surgical aid directly behind the firing line and often in zones of greatest danger.

The largest wedding held at Newport in years will be that of Miss Pauline Disston, daughter of Mrs. William Disston, of New York, and John Wanamaker, 2d, son of Roman Wanamaker, which will take place at 4 o'clock on the afternoon of August 11 at Emmanuel church, Newport. Miss Disston has selected as her chief attendant Mrs. Walter B. Brooks, jr., of Baltimore. The other attendants will be Mrs. Frederick Frelinghuysen, Mrs. Reginald C. Vanderbilt, Mrs. Anne B. Duke, Mrs. Arturo de Heer, sister of the bridegroom, Misses Lisa Norris, of Philadelphia, Elizabeth S. Sands, of Newport, Mary Brown Warburton, of Philadelphia, and Frances Moore, of Washington. Mr. Wanamaker's man will be Gurnee Munn. Ushers have not been selected.

A marriage of interest to Hartford was that of Miss Dorothy Stuart Mahoney, daughter of Mrs.

July 25 or Aug 6

The wedding of Miss Francis, daughter of Nelson Curtis, Jamaica Plain, Mass., and William Henderson Woolverton of New York, took place last week Saturday afternoon. The bridegroom, who is a graduate of Yale University, class of 1913, is a son of William Woolverton and the late William Woolverton of New York. Since his graduation, Mr. Woolverton has been abroad and in war service with the American Expeditionary Force. For his services he has won the distinction of having been honored with the Croix de Guerre, because of his meritorious and gallant service in France. He is a member of Squadron A, in New York. The attendants were Gladys Osgood, matron of honor, Mrs. John Heyburn, Mrs. Walter Badger, jr., Miss Doris Taylor, Brookline, Mass., Miss Sabra Fielder of Brookline, Mass., Miss Marion Sprague, Miss Eleanor Sprague, and Miss Elizabeth DeFord, Brookline, Mass., Hugh Harbison, this city, now of the Ninth Corps of Plattsburg, was best man. The ushers were Carl W. Hallowell and Charles Parsons, Yale men of New York; Victor White, Herbert T. Townsend, both of New York, Russell Frost, jr., another Yale man, from Norwalk, Conn.; Irving P. Thompson of Pittsfield, N. Y.; Frederick H. Cone of the Reserve Officers' Training Corps at Plattsburg, and Walter I. Badger, a Yale man, who lives in Boston.

ROBINSON, 2ND LIEUTENANT.

Hartford Man Appointed in the Marine Corps.

Caldwell Colt Robinson of this city, son of Mrs. C. L. F. Robinson, is one of the recently appointed second lieutenants in the Marine corps, reserved, ordered by Major-General George Barnett, commandant-general, to marine barracks and training school camp at Quantico, Va., for instruction. Others from Connecticut are William R. Hunt of Essex, Thomas A. Langford of Litchfield,

MRS. JOHN WANAMAKER,
Formerly Miss Pauline Disston of Philadelphia. From a Recent Portrait by Nikol Schattenstein. 1924

Mrs. Devereaux, as Miss Louise Drew, was well known to audiences throughout the country. She is perhaps best remembered professionally as the linguistic French countess during the long run of "It Pays To Advertise," a character which Miss Drew was peculiarly fitted to play because of her own exceptional knowledge of French, German and Italian.

Like almost all the members of the noted Drew-Barrymore family, Mrs. Devereaux early went on the stage after leaving school. She was born and educated in this city and also studied for some time in France.

Her first appearance on the stage was as a maid in her father's company in "The Tyranny of Tears" at the Empire Theater a few years ago. Later she went on tour with Mr. Drew in "The Second in Command" and has since appeared in plays headed by Virginia Harned, Fay Davis, Robert Edeson, William Collier, Billie Burke and in a number of plays with her cousin, Miss Ethel Barrymore.

Mr. Devereaux's most recent appearance in the "spoken drama" was in "Bunker Bean." He was educated at Georgetown University and is a member of the Lambs Club.

MISS F...
of Mr. and Mrs.
Wanamaker, G...

Aug Birmingham-King. 14
 Miss Mary King, daughter of Mrs. Mary King of No. 461 New Britain avenue, and John J. Birmingham, son of Mrs. T. F. Birmingham of No. 63 School street, were married Tuesday morning at the Church of St. Lawrence O'Toole by Rev. John F. Ryan, the pastor. Mrs. William Birmingham, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, was maid of honor, and Mr. Birmingham was best man. Following a wedding breakfast at the Both sons of Colonel William C. Skinner, president of the Colt Patent Firearms Manufacturing company and chairman of its board of directors, are members of Troop B, Connecticut cavalry, which is now encamped at Niantic. Roberts Keney Skinner of No. 134 North Beacon street, the elder of the two, enlisted in the troop before it left Hartford. The other, William Converse Skinner, jr., of Farmington,

All Three in War Service

ROBERTS K. SKINNER
 Troop B, Connecticut Cavalry.

COL. WILLIAM C. SKINNER President Colt Company.

WILLIAM C. SKINNER, JR.
 Troop B, Connecticut Cavalry.

ried with it the military title he now bears. When Mr. Bulkeley, who had served Hartford eight years as mayor—from 1880 to 1888—was chosen governor in the latter year, he made Mr. Skinner an aide-de-camp on his staff and the latter had the honor of being a member of the governor's staff longer than the average appointee, as it was the time of the deadlock between the republicans and democrats. Governor Bulkeley held the fort two terms, and his staff stuck, too. The friendship formed in the earlier days of these two men who have had much to do with Hartford enterprises and are now associated in the management of the Colt's Patent Firearms Manufacturing Company, of which one is president and the other a director, has continued and it is not surprising that Roberts K. Skinner and William C. Skinner, jr., sons of Colonel Skinner, have joined Troop B, Connecticut Cavalry, which is commanded by Captain Morgan G. Bulkeley, jr., son of the former governor.

Roberts K. Skinner, the elder of Colonel Skinner's sons, enlisted in the troop before it left Hartford, while William Converse Skinner, jr., of Farmington, became a member a few days ago. Both are with the company at Niantic. The younger Skinners are, like their father, graduates of Trinity College, and both are married.

and the New York commandery of the Military Order, Loyal Legion.

Special to The Times. Aug 15
 Chicago, August 14.

Miss Sarah Rozet Smith, daughter of Mrs. Charles H. Hamill, will be married Wednesday morning at 11

WINSTED.

Miss Norton Weds Washington Lawyer—Notes. 15

Miss Maud Lewis Norton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elam V. Norton of No. 18 Union street and Adam Edward Lloyd Leckie, a prominent lawyer of Washington, D. C., were married at the home of the bride's parents at high noon yesterday by Rev. Dr. D. C. McLeod, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Springfield, Ill., and formerly of the First Presbyterian Church at Washington, assisted by Rev. Dr. Henry Allen Tupper of New York, formerly of Calvary Baptist Church, Brooklyn, both of whom are life-long friends of the bridegroom. They were unattended. Only the immediate friends and relatives were present. Among those present from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Newmeyer of Washington, Dr. George Barrie of New York, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Cox of Washington, Mrs. Fred B. Meek of Oklahoma City, Okla., and Mr. and Mrs. Mills E. Norton and daughter of Hartford.

Built 7
 Syc
 H held several England since
 led for two years
 ay, seven years
 was minister of in Springfield
 been in Canton
 Mr. Gilman is notably "Back work dealing periment in agri munity life. Stud in Texas in succe down in this be sible success
 written a novel
 ublished by Macmillan
 for young people.
 Since his mar
 vicinity, Mr. Gil summers the Ch
 ine Unitarian was also many articles on the condition
 the negro problem Washington's int trips through the S Washington, Ariz
 New York and Bos
 Mr. Gilman is a Ministers' Associat
 tory Club the B Travelers' Club an Club. He receiv
 parish takes sh
 the two hundre
 founding of the
 for the West
 ter. Miss Dow company bla

Landmarks of the older time give way when modern needs press their demands; and now the house of the Seymours, part and parcel of Hartford history for more than score years, must be moved or down. Plans of the street ment for an extension of street from Buckingham to include the extension of Linde

Miss Hildegard Brandege Marries
Charles S. Livingstone of Boston; Bride Well Known Violinist, Farmington, Aug. 18.
Charles Snow Livingstone of Boston

123

Built 167 Years Ago, Seymour House Must Go.

Aug 1917

HERE MORE THAN ONE OF HARTFORD'S FOREMOST CITIZENS HAVE DWELT.

Divinity School held several Unitarian parishes in England since his ordination. He resided for two years in Belmont and seven years in Concord, N. H. He was minister of the Church of the Unity in Springfield for twelve years. He has been in Canton for the last eleven years.

Mr. Gilman has written several books, notably "Back to the Soil," a sociological work dealing with "Circle City" as an experiment in agricultural suburban community life. Such a city actually was tried in Texas, in accordance with the plans laid down in this book, and met with considerable success. Mr. Gilman has also written a novel, "Ronald Carnaquay," published by Macmillan, and five or six books for young people.

Since his residence in Boston and its vicinity, Mr. Gilman has edited for two summers the Christian Register, the leading Unitarian weekly. He has contributed also many articles to magazines and papers on the conditions in the South, regarding the negro problem, and during Booker Washington's lifetime he made many trips through the Southern States with Dr. Washington, acting as correspondent for New York and Boston papers.

Mr. Gilman is a member of the Boston Ministers' Association, the Twentieth Century Club, the Harvard Club, the Harvard Travellers' Club and the Boston Authors' Club. His resignation from his Canton parish takes effect on Nov. 1, directly after the two hundredth anniversary of the founding of that church, and he will leave for the West Nov. 5. His wife and daughter, Miss Dorothy Foster Gilman, will accompany him.

Miss Hildegard Brandege, Noted Violinist, Who Has Married Charles Snow Livingstone.

Mrs. Livingstone was Miss Hildegard Brandege, daughter of Mr. and Mrs.

WEBBER-JENKINS.

Aug - 17
In a setting of yellow flowers, out of doors, the marriage of Miss Marjorie Bailey Jenkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur B. Jenkins of No. 35 Oxford street, and Lorenzo Doro Webber, son of Mrs. H. Wooster Webber of Ivoryton, formerly of this city, took place at 5:30, Friday evening, at the home of the bride's parents. The ceremony was performed beneath an arbor covered with grape vines and decorated with golden rod and golden glow, the Rev. Eliot Marshall, assistant rector of Trinity church, performing the ceremony before a gathering of relatives and immediate friends.

The bride had as maid of honor Miss Emma Guy, and the bridegroom, who has been a member of the class of 1919 at Wesleyan university, had as best man Lyle Forman, a classmate. The bride wore a gown of white embroidered georgette crepe, with a white hat, and carried a bouquet of white roses. Her attendant wore a costume of white and black, with a black hat, and carried yellow gladioli.

After a short wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Webber will live in Ivoryton.

39 - 123

HILDEGARD BRANDEGEE.

MISS ELISE AMES ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Ames's Elder Daughter Betrothed to William Amory Parker, Harvard '15

Announcement was made today by Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Ames of 15 Commonwealth avenue of the engagement of their elder daughter,

Recent Bridegroom Starts for France

Lieutenant Oliver Ames, Jr., who has been on duty at Mineola, L. I., has started for France. Mrs. Ames is to be during his absence with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sewell H. Fessenden, at Chestnut Hill.

Mrs. Ames was Miss Caroline Fessenden and her marriage to the son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Ames took place in the Unitarian Church at Chestnut Hill early in October. 1917 at North Easton, for intermediate seasons. Mrs. Louis A. Fessenden of Boston and "Wayside," in North Easton, and Mrs. William C. Simons of Boston street have with them this week their daughter-in-law, Mrs. Joan Ames and John W. Simons of Madison avenue, who are uncles.

Mr. Parker is a business man and since where she has been staying at the summer home of her parents, Mr and Stanley Parker, Mrs Edward S. Bradford of State street, to attend the Fulton-Simons wedding to-morrow evening. Her husband, who is to be best man, has obtained leave of absence from the Watervliet arsenal in Troy, N. Y. Parker was one of the ushers. Mr. and Mrs. George M. Allerton and her son, Milton Allerton of Allerton farms, Naugatuck, Ct., who are expected to arrive to-day. Mr Allerton is to be one of the ushers.

seasons at Nahant, where they have had a cottage.

Aug 17 - 1917 The weddings of two Boston men, who have been attending the Reserve Officers' Training Camp and have been appointed second lieutenants took place last week. That of Miss Elsie Ames, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Ames of Boston, and William Amory Parker, took place on Friday in St. John's Episcopal Church at Beverly Farms, Mass. That of Miss Dorothea Lewis Williston, daughter of Professor Samuel Williston and Mrs. Williston of Boston, and Murray Frothingham Hall, took place on Thursday afternoon at the Harvard College chapel.

ROBSON-HAYNES WEDDING

Springfield Lieutenant Takes a Bride in New York City

A wedding of much interest to Springfield people was that of Lieut Laurence S. Haynes, son of Stanford L. Haynes of Longmeadow, and Miss Grace Helen Robson, daughter of Mrs E. P. Stoughton of Riverside drive, which took place in New York yesterday at high noon. The ceremony was performed by Rev Dr Carstenson in St Ambrosia chapel of the cathedral of St John the Divine on Morningside heights, and Lieut Haynes and his bride left immediately after the ceremony for a wedding trip by motor.

Lieut Haynes recently received his commission at Plattsburg and has been ordered to report for duty at the camp at Ayer on the 29th, and for this reason the date of the wedding.

FULTON - SIMONS CEREMONY

SPRINGFIELD SOCIETY EVENT

Large Company Sees Springfield Young Woman Become the Bride of an Officer of the New Army

Aug. 18 One of the largest and most brilliant church weddings of the season took place last evening in the South Congregational church, when Miss Dorothy S. Fulton, daughter of Mr and Mrs Albert Watson Fulton of Ridgewood terrace, became the bride of Lieut Philip W. Simons, son of Mr and Mrs William C. Simons of Maple street. The ceremony was performed at 7.30 o'clock by Dr Philip S. Moxom, pastor emeritus of the church. A very simple and informal reception followed at the Fulton home, to which only relatives and more intimate friends were invited. The groom and his best man, both newly commissioned in the army, wore their uniforms, but that was the only military getting here. We are abt the three things you are the three things you demand

Lieut and Mrs Simons were assisted in receiving at the Fulton home by their parents, Mr and Mrs Albert Watson Fulton and Mr and Mrs William C. Simons. The appointments were carried out as simply as possible, the reception being of a most informal nature. Lieut Simons and his bride left at the close of the evening for a motor trip, but as the former is to be stationed at the training camp at Ayer and will have to report for duty the 29th, their honeymoon will not be long. Mrs Simons wore a traveling costume of dark blue taffeta and georgette crepe and a large black tulle hat.

Lieut Simons attended the Groton school and later went to Harvard, from which university he was graduated with the class of 1916. He has since been connected with the Chemical paper manufacturing company of Holyoke. He has been in training at the officers' reserve camp at Plattsburg, N. Y., for the past three months, and has just received his commission as 2d lieutenant in the quartermasters' corps. Mrs Simons went to school at the Elms, and finished her education in Lausanne, Switz. Besides being one of the most popular members of the younger set, she is an accomplished singer and has been studying for the past two years with Philip Buscemi and Herbert Witherspoon in New York. She came out in 1913, and has been prominent in social affairs ever since her debut.

Among the out-of-town guests present at the wedding were Mrs George M. Allerton and her son, Milton Allerton of Allerton farms, Naugatuck, Ct., Mrs Anna Jenness-Miller and her daughter, Miss Vivian Jenness-Miller of Washington, D. C., Miss Marion Wells of New London, Ct., and Miss Carolyn Simons and John K. Simons of Greenfield, and Mrs H. H. Templeton of Summerville, S. C. Many Springfield people who are at their summer homes for the season were also in town for the wedding.

SENATE WILL... LEFT WITH... PEE CR... DEPEND... Hald... If the... the Social... through the... Finland... Cabinet... be left w... bordering... inevitable... Finland's... Senator... told the... members... Socialists... the even... bill, ma... prime ge... imigat... lation of... stitution... the laws... tioned by... succeeds... pendence... the Senat... Socialists... own revol... rest the... Russia... SALE... Rand Rea... Boylston... Avenue... William... Rand Rea... trustee, th... next to the... nue, and co... land and a... assessed... being alter... a large stor... above. Cod... I. W. V... Tired of I... Law In... DEAL... Globe, An... Industrial... take the... attempt is... organization... was contai... monds... Mrs. Hen... dinner at... avenue in... of the we... The bri... first lieut... serve tra... and will... Camp De... graduate... tific sch...

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Ames's Elder Daughter Betrothed to William Amory Parker, Harvard '15

Lieut Haynes recently received his commission at Plattsburg and has been ordered to report for duty at the camp at Ayer on the 29th, and for this reason the date of the wedding

Miss Elise Ames

(Copyright Photo by Boston Photo News Co)

Who Is to Marry William Amory Parker. She Is the Elder Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Ames of Boston, Pride's Crossing and North Easton

Laurence S. Haynes, son of Stamford L. Haynes of Longmeadow, and Miss Grace Helen Robson, daughter of Mrs. E. P. Stoughton of Riverside drive, which took place in New York yesterday at high noon. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Carstenson of St. Ambrose chapel of the cathedral of St. John the Divine on Morningside heights, and Lieut. Haynes and his bride left immediately after the ceremony for a wedding trip by motor.

present at the wedding were Mrs. George M. Allerton and her son, Milton Allerton of Allerton farms, Nausaugatuck, Ct., Mrs. Anna Jenness-Miller and her daughter, Miss Vivian Jenness-Miller of Washington, D. C., Miss Marion Wells of New London, Ct., and Miss Carolyn Simons and John K. Simons of Greenfield, and Mrs. H. H. Templeton of Summerville, S. C. Many Springfield people who are at their summer homes for the season were also in town for the wedding.

ENGLISH-WOODRUFF—On Saturday, Aug. 18, at Mount Carmel, Conn., by the Rev. Harris E. Starr, assisted by the Rev. William D. Lathrop, Pose Catherine Woodruff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Woodruff, to Lieutenant Harold Kimball English, U. S. R., of New Haven.

Mount Carmel, August 18.

One of the most important weddings of the season took place here this afternoon, when Miss Rose Catherine Woodruff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Edson Woodruff, was married to Lieutenant Harold Kimball English, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Farnam English of this city, and grandson of the late Governor James E. English, at the home of the bride's parents in Mount Carmel, with several hundred guests present, the ceremony being performed in the rose garden.

A miniature forest of small cedar trees made a background for the wedding party. From the house to the rose garden were hedges of roses, forming an aisle to the improvised altar.

The ushers were Henry W. Farnam, jr., Shepard De Forest, Kingsley Leighton, Malcolm Wallace, Walter A. Woodruff and Harold R. Woodruff, brothers of the bride. The six bridesmaids were Miss Rosalind Thomas and Miss Beatrice Thomas of St. Louis; Miss Anna English of New Haven, cousin of the bridegroom; Miss Martha McChestney of St. Louis; Miss Amelia Walker and Miss Eleanor De Forest of New Haven. The maid of honor was Miss Alice English, sister of the bridegroom, and the flower bearers were Miss Constance W. Fowler and Charles W. Fowler of Glen Ridge, N. J., niece and nephew of the bride, who was given away by her father.

The bridegroom had as best man, his brother, Lieutenant Phillip English, and the ceremony was performed by the Rev. Harris E. Starr, former pastor of the Mount Carmel Congregational church and the Rev. William Lathrop, present pastor. The wedding music was furnished by an orchestra.

The bride wore a gown of white

A large reception followed the ceremony, the bridal party being assisted in receiving by Mr. and Mrs. English, parents of the bridegroom, and Mr. and Mrs. Woodruff, parents of the bride. Mrs. English wore a gown of white chiffon and lace, while Mrs. Woodruff's gown was of corn colored chiffon with deep flounces of lace in taupe and white.

A marquee was arranged on the lawn and pink roses and pale pink gladioli were used as decorations both within doors and out. Lieutenant and Mrs. English left for a wedding trip, Mrs. English wearing a gown of midnight blue serge hand-embroidered in shades of sand and corn color and a hat to match.

At a luncheon given Friday by Mrs. Woodruff, the bride presented her attendants with gold pins set with coral roses. Her gift to Mr. English was a set of diamond cuff studs, while his gift to the bride was a wrist watch studded with diamonds. Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. Henry F. English gave a large dinner at their home on Hillhouse avenue in this city for the members of the wedding party.

The bridegroom was commissioned first lieutenant at the officers' reserve training camp at Plattsburg, and will probably be stationed at Camp Bevens, Ayer, Mass. He was graduated from the Sheffield Scientific school of Yale in 1913.

Aug 18 - 1917
Miss Lillian Bell Woodruff, daughter of Judge James P. Woodruff and Mrs. Woodruff, of Litchfield, and Lieutenant William Bernard Clark of the Infantry, Officers' Reserve Corps, grandson of Bernard S. Clark of New York and Litchfield, were married yesterday noon at the First Congre-

Clark, Married August 18
William Bernard Clark, 17, 2nd cousin of lieutenant, U. S. A., was married on August 18 to Miss Lillian B. Woodruff, daughter of Judge and Mrs. George P. Woodruff of Litchfield, Connecticut, at the Congregational Church, Litchfield. Clark was awarded his commission in the regular army at the end of the first officers' training camp at Plattsburg. G. S. Young acted as best man at the wedding, and DuBois '15, White '17 and Hoyt '19 were ushers. The bride and groom now reside at Ayer, where Clark is stationed in the New England cantonment.

August 18
Announcements were received by Hartford people last Monday telling of the wedding of Miss Claire Currier and Philip A. Glazier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank D. Glazier of South Glastonbury which took place at the summer home of the bride on Nantucket Island on Saturday, August 18. Mr. and Mrs. Glazier are spending their honeymoon on Nantucket.

Mrs. Bernard T. Williams and the Misses Frances and Elizabeth Williams of Woodland street were among the guests at the wedding of Miss Claire Currier and Philip A. Glazier, which took place last week Saturday

Aug 18
Warden-Goodrich.
In a setting of asters, ferns and roses, Miss Mabel Florence Goodrich, daughter of Mrs. Julia M. Goodrich of No. 78 Jefferson street, and William James Warden, son of the Rev.

HALLETT-WOLSTON
WEDDING IN NEW YORK

Miss Mary Shannon Wolston, sister of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wolston of No. 102 Lincoln street, this city, was married to Clements John Southcote Hallett of No. 49 West Fifty-third street, New York, and Devonshire, England, at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon at St. Thomas's Church. The marriage ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. W. L. Caswell. The bride's only attendants were Edith and Nan Derbyshire, the little daughters of Captain George Derbyshire and Mrs. Derbyshire of Lexington, Va. Captain Derbyshire was the best man. A reception followed at the Gotham. The bridegroom is awaiting orders for service in the British navy.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wolston of this city attended the ceremony, and did not return to this city until late last evening.

YOUNGEST CAPTAIN

Alfred Ganahl of This City Has Attained the Rank Though He's Only 23

Gets First Lieutenantcy in Reserve and Goes to Washington for Temporary Duty

Springfield Aug 1917
Lewis E. Tift of 4 Ridgewood terrace, a member of the brokerage firm of Tift Bros of this city, has been commissioned as first lieutenant in the ordnance officers' reserve corps. He is now in Washington, where he has been called for temporary duty. Mr Tift is a son of City Treasurer E. T. Tift, and is well known locally. He is a son-in-law of Col Stanhope E. Blunt, formerly commandant at the local United States armory, who is now on duty in the headquarters of the chief of ordnance of the United States.

LEWIS E. TIFFT

Now Reserve Officer in Ordnance Corps

Aug 1917
Mrs Stanhope E. Blunt of Ridgewood terrace is visiting in Annisquam at the summer home of her daughter, Mrs Lewis E. Tift of the same street. Her other daughter, Mrs A. D. Ficke, and her little son of Davenport, Ia., are also in Annisquam, and will probably stop in Springfield for a visit before returning home. Mrs Tift has been in town for a few days as her husband, who has received a commission as 1st lieutenant in the ordnance department, has been ordered to report at Washington, D. C., this week.

The ordnance department shows preference to graduates of a recognized college or university, who have had sufficient experience in the manufacture of ordnance material to qualify them to take up at once such duties in the ordnance department.

FRED L. GANAHL
Captain of United States Engineers

corps and later Mr Ganahl was and he came to visit his that he was officers' school where he re- He was then officers' train- gan H. Root, mission as cap- corps May 15. up to a consid- he was or- is entire com-

REGANCY TO FRANCE

FRANK C. WELLS

per, stood down is finger nails looking hard at a totally uninter- esting supply wagon and not seeing it at all. Staff officers were to be left behind.

"He wrote a note and sent it into the council of three behind the closed door, pleading to be taken even if he had to give up his sergeant's chev- ron. Maj Edgar laid the note aside and went on examining men. But be- fore Sergeant Wells left the armory and went home to supper he had seen the battalion clerk typewrite an or- der, dictated by Maj Edgar, which read in effect: 'Sergeant Franklin C. Wells is hereby reduced to the rank of private and assigned to the 3d company.'"

Mr Wells was born in this city, and received his education in the high schools of this city, after which he attended Yale for two years. Soon after leaving there he went to Balti- more. He joined the coast artillery about the first of 1916, and was ap- pointed to the position of assistant quartermaster. Later he received an appointment as sergeant-major at headquarters.

JUDGE MORRISON MARRIED.

Thompsonville Attorney Surprises Friends by Bringing Home Wife— Wedding in Portland, Me.

Special to The Times. Aug 20
Thompsonville, August 23.

When Lincoln W. Morrison, for years prominent in this section as an attorney and for two terms judge of the Enfield town court, left Thomp- sonville a week ago Saturday his friends supposed that the judge was off for his usual vacation. Upon his return yesterday, however, Judge Morrison had a surprise in store for his wide circle of acquaintances, as he was accompanied by Mrs. Mor- rison, to whom he had been mar- ried in Portland, Me., on Monday of last week.

The bride before her marriage was Miss Jessie Strickland of Brooklyn, N. Y. She has recently been visiting friends in Portland, and it was there that she was joined by Judge Morrison and the cere- mony performed. They spent last week on a wedding trip to the vari- ous shore resorts in Maine, including Old Orchard, Rockport and Bar Harbor.

Judge Morrison has for years been a prominent figure in political cir- cles of Enfield, besides being widely known in legal circles throughout the state, having law offices both in this village and Hartford. He was for several terms chairman of the

Aug 20
Miss Anna Talcott Rathbone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Rathbone of New York, and Lieu- tenant Robert Livingston Johnson, son of the late Frank R. Johnson of Norwich, were married Monday af- ternoon at the home of the bride's parents by Rev. Harris Ely Adriance. The plans for the wedding were hast- ened as the bridegroom, who has been a member of the Officers' Re- serve Corps at Plattsburg, N. Y., is under orders for foreign service. There were no bridal attendants and the best man was Lieutenant Charles F. Neave, U. S. A.

CARROLL AND ROGERS IN FEDERAL SERVICE

Aug 27 1917
Former Bus to Work
Und

Charles A. Carroll, former president of the Charles A. Carroll Company, government equipment division of the Ordnance Department, reported for duty in Washington Wednesday. He will report for duty in the division as a first lieutenant. His assignment into the service was announced when the announcement came through that the company's business life and other leather goods and other leather goods with Smith, Boutwell & Co., successors, the company, for when he resigned last year, he was secretary and manager of the company in Hartford, and he has spent several months in travel and in the equipment division.

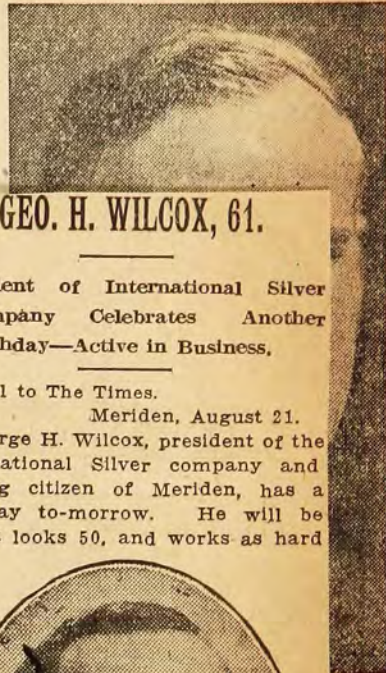

In connection with this equipment work, which is being, of course, conducted on a large scale, the department has need of competent inspectors, both as inspectors of work in factories where contracts are being carried out, as supervising inspectors, with sections of the country under their care. Knowing this, Mr. Rogers's thoughts naturally turned to Mr. Carroll, who, while still a young man, has had many years of experience in the leather goods business. He was formerly manager of the Smith, Loun & Co., local retail store, and he later took over this business and organized the Charles A. Carroll Company. His knowledge of leathers and of the way in which articles made of leather should be manufactured is thorough. Mr. Rogers knew he was just the sort of men that the war department wanted and early this week he sent word for Mr. Carroll to go to Washington to consult with him.

Mr. Carroll was in Washington Wednesday, and the officials in the equipment division of the Ordnance Department, after a few minutes' conversation with him, wanted to swear him in and put him to work at once. Mr. Carroll pleaded for time to arrange his business affairs, so that he could leave Hartford, asking, at first, until the first of next month. Finally the officer in charge of the division granted him a week, and Mr. Carroll is to report in Washington next Monday. Mr. Carroll is energetic, able and honest and he will make a valuable man for the government in the line of work in which he is to engage. For a number of years he was a member of Company K, First Regiment, C. N. G. He is a brother of Deputy Clerk Richard F. Carroll of the United States court.

Hartford Associates in Uncle Sam's Service

Rogers.

GEO. H. WILCOX, 61.

President of International Silver Company Celebrates Another Birthday—Active in Business,

Special to The Times.

Meriden, August 21.

George H. Wilcox, president of the International Silver company and leading citizen of Meriden, has a birthday to-morrow. He will be 61 but looks 50, and works as hard and steadily as any employee of the company's biggest silverware corporation. Until recently Mr. Wilcox had for many years given his services to the city in various honorary capacities and he regrets that he cannot still spare the time from business.

GEORGE H. WILCOX.

Mr. Wilcox is a native of Meriden. His father, Horace Wilcox, started a silverware industry in East Meriden, which grew in the Meriden Britannia company, and has finally become the International Silver company, controlling many factories.

Mr. Wilcox has three sons, two of whom are serving their country.

RECEPTION GIVEN FOUR WHO WILL GO TO INDIA IN FALL

Nearly 100 Attend Affair At Asylum Hill Church.

May 9 1917
Four Hartford people, three of them young women, were guests of more than 100 members of the Asylum Hill Congregational Church and others last evening at the Asylum Hill Church chapel. The four are to leave Hartford in a few months for work in India, and the affair last evening was a farewell reception for them.

Rev. Howard A. Walter, who four years ago was assistant pastor of the Asylum Hill Church, and Mrs. Walter, Miss Janet Stone and Miss Carolyn Welles will all go to India.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter, who have been in India for some time doing Y. M. C. A. work, are on a furlough, and will leave Hartford June 4 for China and Japan, and will return to their work in Lahore, India, about October 1. Miss Stone, who is to marry Frank Coan, a Swiss and a

COMMISSION SERVICE

HELD FOR MISS WELLES

May 2 1917
Appointed for Work in India by Missionary Board.

A commission service on behalf of Miss Carolyn Welles was held at the Asylum Hill Congregational Church yesterday morning by the American Board of Foreign Missions, appointing her to work in India. Rev. Dr. Cornelius H. Patton, secretary of the board, preached the sermon in which he told of the need of missionary work in India. The certificate was presented to Miss Welles by Rev. Dr. A. G. Gillett, a member of the prudential committee of the board. The prayer of consecration was made by Rev. Dr. John Brownlee Voorhees, pastor of the Asylum Hill Congregational Church. Words of welcome were extended by Rev. Howard A. Walter, former pastor of the church who is now a missionary in India, and Mrs. Edward Warren Capen, president of the Hartford branch of the Woman's Board of Missions. Following the services there was a short reception for both Miss Welles and Mr. Walter, who is to leave for India soon. Miss Welles will probably leave the city some time in August.

Mr. Walter intends to take his family to China, where he will spend the summer engaged in special literary work, returning to his headquarters in La Hore, in the northern part of India, in the fall. He will not start on his journey until Thursday, as he is planning to spend a few days in New Britain at his former home. He will leave Thursday for Montreal, Canada, and on June 7 will sail from Vancouver for China. His family will spend the summer in China, but Mr. Walter is planning to take up special work in Japan for a month and in the fall will again meet his family in Peking. They will then leave for India.

$10,000 RAISED FOR HOSPITAL IN INDIA

Hartford Branch, Women's Board of Missions, Com- pletes Fund

Location Convenient

The Bank of P

WE WOULD WELCOME

303 MAIN

The Phoenix

Resources $16,000,000

ESTABLISHED 1898.

CAROLYN WELLES REACHES CHINA

Oct 27 1917
Reports Pleasant Voyage
From Here to Shanghai

—Goes on to India.

Word has been received that Miss Carolyn Welles of this city, who was a student in the Kennedy School of Missions last year, has arrived safely in Shanghai, China, and reports a splendid voyage. She has been received there by her many missionary friends, and has visited there for a short time. She left here in August, and sailed from Vancouver early in September. Miss Welles sends back the interesting fact that the passengers on board the boat on which she sailed were, three-fourths of them, missionaries. She is now en route to India, in the party with the Rev. Howard Walter and family. She will be in kindergarten work in Sholapur, India. She is a graduate of Smith college in the class of '14, and is the daughter of Martin Welles, vice-president of the Connecticut River Banking company. He is paying the salary of his daughter while she is in the mission field.

TS

The evident it bo picture a we are th encour
have

"HER PEOPLE"

aid "Fun on the
the dainty misses be-entertainers. The Dancseen in a series of numbers. Mary Pick-her latest photoplay, of the Redwoods," at week. The concluding
"The Great Secret" with Bayne will be shown mystery will be clear-
all-star vaudeville and features will be in-program.

D THEATER.

gement of the Grand arranged an "amateur tomorrow evening and all sors and actresses should names at the Grand's tomorrow afternoon. This place in addition to the performance of "The Midnight Maids." Manager Ike Rose has other novelties in mind tends to offer during the is the last of the season in Hartford. Such cas as Billy Barry, Harry Cardon, Frank Ham-
bert, Paul, the Jap mid-drew and Meehan ap-
The Midnight Maids."

N. Y. Lat
AUG

Four Soon to Depart for Work in India Honored at Reception at Asylum Hill Church

MISS JANET STONE

MISS CAROLYN A. WELLES.

Rev. Howard A. Walter.

Mr. Walter is planning to take up special work in Japan for a month and in the fall will again meet his family in Pekin. They will then leave for India.

She did not go until later, when married.

Mrs. H. A. Walter and Children, Marion and Ruth.

of Martin Welles, vice-president of the Connecticut River Banking company. He is paying the salary of his daughter while she is in the mission field.

and offer
ROHN W
Veteran
John W.
veteran dr
the busines
a familiar having sold stret to Jam Morley, who own about about three sold his inte
drug store at George Fisher
ed the store closed with M erthy
St. Servin drug business South End an section. Yan
for Edwin Ch
the corner of streets. Mr
In other among the
in Hartford.
the to the Charles S
has extend eldest to
He will pay E
Mrs. E
the great son, celebrat niversary of N. Y. the
AUGUST

Mrs. Marlane Jergensen of East Hartford Is. Four Score and Ten —Her Children.

Special to The Times.

gust 20. score and her little ing laces ie Jergen- ninetieth at the Jergensen surround- y grand- grandchill- vanced in ys good early in ily starts her knit- much ad- ie age of left Den- , for this time has son here. tree chil- , and five children Dr. John and Mrs. treet, this

MRS. MARIANE JERGENSEN, neighbors offer respects and offer congratulations to the non-

JOHN W. SERVICE OUT OF DRUG BUSINESS

Aug 29 - 1917
Veteran South End Druggist Sells His Park Street Stores.

John W. Service, one of Hartford's veteran druggists, is to retire from the business in which he has been a familiar figure about forty years, having sold his store at No. 299 Park street to James DeLeo and James P. Murray, who have been his clerks, one about nine years and the other about three. Mr. Service has also sold his interest in the Robertson drug store at No. 343 Park street to George Robertson, who has conducted the store and who has been associated with Mr. Service in its ownership.

Mr. Service's connection with the drug business has always been at the South End and in the Park street section. Years ago he was a clerk for Edwin Crary, whose store was at the corner of Park and Squire streets. Mr. Service is well known in other ways and is numbered among the earliest baseball "fans" in Hartford. At one time he was active in the local club with which Charles Soby was identified and he has attended games in Hartford and elsewhere for a long term of years. He will go to Boston for a vacation.

Mrs. Emily Judson, third wife of the great missionary, Adoniram Judson, celebrated the hundredth anniversary of her birth at Eaton N. Y., last Wednesday.

AUGUST 26, 1917.

HARTFORD TEACHER TO GO TO FRANCE

Aug - 1917
Miss Lucy O. Mather Joins Smith College Unit.

LUCY O. MATHER GETS WAR HONOR

Smith Relief Unit, of Which She Is Member, Is Cited by France.

March 28, 1920

Miss Lucy O. Mather of this city, who was secretary and treasurer of the Smith college relief unit in France, is among the members of the unit cited for their bravery and relief work during the war. In bestowing the silver medal of the "reconnaissance Francaise" on the unit the French government made the following citation:

"The unit brought great spiritual and material help to the inhabitants on the Somme. In the course of the retreat of the British army in March, 1918, it was an inestimable help to the French mission and British army in the evacuation of the civilian population. The American workers of this organization, driving their own automobile trucks untiringly day and night, went everywhere for the purpose of evacuation, without regard for danger or fatigue, in the bombarded districts, and proving themselves calm and brave in trying circumstances."

The only other Connecticut member of the unit cited was Mrs. Richard Newhall of New Haven, formerly Miss Elizabeth Bliss of Worcester, Mass. At the time of the evacuation mentioned in the citation, Miss Mather had a narrow escape from the Germans, who advanced into the town, before she left, since she remained to assist the refugees.

Special mention was given to Miss Marie Wolfe, who was in France for nearly three years and had actual charge of the reconstruction and relief of thirty villages. She was also affiliated with the Red Cross.

Lucy O. Mather of No. 747 avenue, a retired high school has joined the Smith College which will go to France the part of this month to visit the d sections of that country. a graduate of Smith College, as a teacher at the Hartford school for many years, and as been an ardent Red Cross

Smith College unit was organized commencement exercises, been started by a sister-in-Professor Charles S. Thayer Hartford Theological Semi- It was found that $25,000 e needed to make the proj- ecess, and this money was outhout much difficulty. The consist of fourteen workers.

College Unit Safe in France Smith college unit, which recalled for France, has landed according to a cablegram re- by the alumnae office. The m reads, "Delightful un- voyage; all well."

turns apt 1919 - thus &c -

Miss Lucy O. Mather.

Aug 1917
 Rockwell C. Tenney returned Tuesday evening from Plattsburg, where he received a commission as second lieutenant. Mr Tenney leaves next week for Washington, D. C. where his marriage to Miss Milbert place Wednesday. He graduated from June. She is the daughter K. Gilbert, who in the fall to make Washington. Miss left the Tenney summer. N. P. Charles H. T. Bertha C. M. turn from C. in some w. tains

MISS GILBERT OF

Hartford 1

(Sp)

The marriage of Miss Milbert, daughter of Mr. K. Gilbert, and Miss Campbell took place at the apartment of Miss Milbert's apartment. The ceremony was presided over by a bridegroom and his friends. The ceremony was completed at Plattsburg. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Childs Wood, pastor of the Church of the Covenant.

The bride was accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Lynn, and only attended by a younger member of the family. The ceremony was held at the home of Mrs. Lynn, with piano accompaniment by Lincoln O. best man. The bridesmaids were Mrs. E. Longmeadow, Hartford, and Mrs. W. were his bridesmaids and Miss guests from Milken of the city of New York. Lieutenant Tenney left Washington for their wedding at their home in Mass., where he is on duty.

Mrs. Gilbert are from been living for more and here. The Holton Arm lege.

AUGUST 7, 1918.

A son, Charles Henry Tenney, 2d., has been born to Lieutenant Rockwell C. Tenney and Mrs. Tenney of Longmeadow, Mass. Mrs. Tenney was, before her marriage. Miss Mildred Gilbert of Longmeadow and Lieutenant Tenney formerly lived in

NURSES GIVE PARTY TO HONOR ASSOCIATE

Miss A. F. Kincaid of Hartford Hospital to Mary

A daughter of Miss Heublein head n where the su Miss the ne Hutchi tenant corps, Louisvi gradua Trainir 1915. Hutchi with D city. I Universi cal Sc. Xenia, listmen for two

Lieut. J. Elg

The ceremony performed by Rev. Dr. Childs Wood, pastor of the Church of the Covenant.

Dr. Edward H. Truex.

Dr. J. E. Hutchinson Hartford Hospital Train in

Hartford medical bit' to help of them st of them

DR. HUTCHINSON TO GO TO LOUISVILLE

OCTOBER 15, 1917. Transferred From Fort Benjamin Harrison, Ind., to Camp Zachary Taylor.

The transfer of officers relieved from duty at the Medical Officers' Training Camp, Fort Benjamin Harrison, Ind., includes Dr. J. Elder Hutchinson, formerly an interne at the Hartford Hospital and later associated with Dr. Isaac W. Kingsbury in this city. His name appears in the list of first lieutenants who will proceed to Camp Zachary Taylor, Louisville, Ky., and report to the commanding officer for duty in connection with sanitary work.

The transfer follows orders from Washington recently issued. Dr. Hutchinson is a graduate of Ohio State University and later entered the Hartford Hospital service completing his service in this institution March 15, 1916. He is a native of Xenia, Ohio.

LEAVES HOSPITAL TO BECOME BRIDE OF LIEUTENANT

Dec 7-1917

Miss Anne F. Kincaid, an aesthetist at the Hartford Hospital, has resigned and has left Kentucky to become the bride of Dr. J. Elder Hutchinson, who was formerly an interne at the hospital, but who is now a first lieutenant, located at Camp Zachary Taylor, Louisville, Ky. He was detailed to this post in connection with sanitary work. He was previously located at the Medical Officers' Training Camp, Fort Benjamin Harrison, Ind.

DR. TRUEX TO WILL JOIN COR

Dr. Edward H. Truex, who has been a first lieutenant in the Reserve Corps, yesterday telegram ordering him to Washington, D. C., to report at the school for instructions. He left for Washington last evening.

Dr. Truex was born in Brooklyn, N. Y., June 11, 1884, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Paul Truex, and is a graduate of the Louisville University, of Kentucky. He came to his town in 1911 where he has established a large practice and made a large number of friends. He is a member of Elm Lodge, No. 63, Knights of Pythias. He is married and has three children. Mrs. Truex and the children will leave shortly for Washington where they will live until the doctor is detailed to other parts of the country or is sent to France, then they will go to her home until after the war.

A daughter, Harriet Hutchinson, has been born to Dr. J. Elder Hutchinson and Mrs. Hutchinson of No. 415 Park street, formerly Miss Anne Kincaid.
OCTOBER 17, 1919.

CAPTAIN E... they they they after land. action vember Italy rents a has as Arise, cire, remain was se and the would and the time signed.

NOW IT'S CAPT. TRUEX.

East Hartford Physician in War Service Gets Promotion for Work in France—With British Troops.

Special to The Times.

1918
East Hartford, December 18.

CAPTAIN TRUEX BACK FROM EUROPE

CAPTAIN E. H. TRUEX.

Doctor Had Experiences in Italy.

Dr. E. H. Truex, physician in war service with the British, returned to his home in East Hartford after spending several months in the war zones of France and Italy. He arrived at his home in East Hartford on Monday, May 4, 1918. Captain Truex has had extensive experience in the war, citing his work in the large practice hospital at Tarente, where he was stationed for duty when the call came for him to go to the front. He left there in June, 1918, and he embarked on a ship for home on the 17th. This ship was the "Albatross." After the fourteen days' voyage he crossed with the British.

In a short time they were sent to France, and later they were rushed to the battle of Ypres. Dr. Truex saw action there, after which he was sent back to England. Again sent to France, he saw action at the Cambrai front, in November, 1917. He was then sent to Italy with the British army, to Tarente, where he was stationed in a base hospital for a long time. He was again sent into action on the Asiago plateau front, at the Piave river, which was in June, 1918. He remained there until July 12, when he was sent to France. He was connected with an ambulance train, which would one day keep him at the front and the next far to the rear. He continued this until the armistice was signed.

Caught in Trap.

Captain Truex was nearly captured by the Germans while stationed on the Cambrai front. Together with several doctors, he was surrounded by the Germans, and had to fight for his life. When in the midst of the encounter he was captured.

Publishes Diary of War.

Dr. Edward H. Truex has published for his own pleasure, his diary which was written during the world war. The book is entitled "Diary Experiences of a Physician With the British Army, 1917 to 1919." Dr. Truex, who enlisted early in 1917, received a commission as lieutenant in the medical reserve corps and was commissioned captain while in the service. The book is published just as it was written while in the service. It contains a large number of pictures of the devastated regions of France.

Dr. H. E. Haylett.

GOV. MCCALL'S DAUGHTER ENGAGED

1917
Miss Margaret McCall to Become the Wife of Alfred Hobart Chappell, Yale '16, of New London, Conn.

31

Announcement is made of the engagement of Miss Margaret McCall, daughter of Governor and Mrs. Samuel W. McCall of Winchester, to Alfred Hobart Chappell, Yale, 1916, of New London, Conn.

Miss McCall was educated chiefly in Washington, where her father was for many years in Congress; and in Europe. Mr. Chappell is the youngest of six brothers who were graduated from Yale. He is a member of Wolf's Head, Psi Upsilon and other societies, and is now in the officers' reserve corps at Plattsburg.

Wedding Day Chosen by Miss Margaret McCall, Who Is to Become the Bride of Alfred Hebbert Chappell, Jr.

Saturday, Aug. 25, has been chosen for the marriage of Miss Margaret McCall, daughter of Governor and Mrs. McCall, to Alfred Hebbert Chappell, Jr., of New London, Conn. Invitations for the wedding have just been issued. It will take place at Myopia Hill, Winchester, the home of the governor. Mr. Chappell is one of five brothers, all of whom have been graduated from Yale. He was in the class of 1916. At the present time he is in one of the officers' training camps. Unless his orders are changed the young man will have only four days' leave of absence, and he will arrive in Winchester on Aug. 24 and will be obliged to report to his commanding officer on Aug. 27. The honeymoon, therefore, will be very brief. The bride-elect is the youngest of the three daughters of Governor and Mrs. McCall. She was educated chiefly in Washington, where her father was for many years in Congress.

SAMUEL MCCALL CHAPPELL

1918
Governor Becomes Grandfather for Eighth Time—Son is Born to Lieutenant and Mrs. Alfred H. Chappell

Governor McCall became a grandfather for the eighth time when a son was born yesterday at Winchester to Lieutenant and Mrs. Alfred H. Chappell, Jr. Mrs. Chappell was formerly Miss Ruth McCall, youngest daughter of the governor. The baby will be named Samuel McCall Chappell. Lieutenant Chappell, who is a graduate of Yale, is an instructor in the aeronautical school at Illinois University. He prepared at Plattsburg.

William Bayley-Jewett, 27

William Bayley, jr., and Louise Pratt Jewett were married yesterday at 12 o'clock in St. John's Church on Farmington avenue by Rev. H. T. Hooper, assistant rector of the church. The bride wore a traveling costume. The bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. William Bayley of Springfield, Ohio, and the bride is a daughter of Captain and Mrs. James C. Pratt of No. 716 Farmington avenue, West Hartford. A wedding breakfast was served in the home of the bride's parents. The out-of-town guests were Mrs. J. H. Gaylord of Saratoga Springs, N. Y., a sister of the bride, Mrs. Joseph Hyde Pratt of Chapel Hill, N. C., a sister of the bridegroom, and Guy Bayley of Chicago, a brother of the bridegroom.

Mr. and Mrs. Bayley left in the afternoon in the Pratt car for several weeks' trip. They will live in Springfield, Ohio, where Mr. Bayley is interested in manufacturing.

Aug 25

Between four and five thousand invitations have been issued by Mr. and Mrs. Frederic B. Pratt of Brooklyn, N. Y., for the marriage of their daughter, Miss Mary Caroline Pratt, and Christian Herter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Herter of New York, which will take place Saturday afternoon, August 25, on the lawn of the Pratt country home, Glen Cove, L. I. The ceremony will be performed in an arbor of hydrangeas, palms and white columns, the Rev. L. Mason Clarke, pastor of the Presbyterian church of Brookling. Miss Helen L. Pratt attend her sister, with M. Pratt, their sister-in-law Lydia Babbott, a cousin; Parsons and Mrs. Everit New York city; Miss El and Miss Margaret Cutton, Mass. The best man is Everit Herter, brother of the groom, and the ushers are Charles Pratt, Watson M. Roland Redmond, of Robert Storrow, Shern dyke, Henry Parkman Jr and Day Kimball, of Mr. Herter is in the service and was an attendant. The bride is a cousin of Parker Twichell of Ojai who was formerly Miss Eugenia Pratt, and was the son of the Rev. Dr. Twichell of this city in

Marriage Took Place

From England has come the announcement of the marriage of Langtry, adopted daughter of W. Vanderbilt of New York. Corporal Locquell of the Coast Guard is a professor in Opo. The marriage has been announced in the London Daily Mirror as taking place at Seaford. Only a few were present. The bride gave a diamond bracelet to the groom, which she said was authorized to use. It is said to be the same as the one worn by the late King of the Belgians.

REID LEAVES TRIP

Former Superintendent of Department of Insurance

Company Its Organizer in

James A. Reid, superintendent of the printing department of the Travelers Insurance company, resigned his position and will establish himself in business in the near future.

Mr. Reid has managed the Travelers printing department since its inception in 1903. In fact he was one of the officers of the company, in charge of the presses, type, the workers and organization department, and he has been through the company's remarkable growth.

Travelers printing department employs approximately 90 men and twenty presses and is the largest printing plant in New England. Reid is a member of the New York Athletic club, Putnam Phalanx, Automobile club, one of the board of directors of the Charter Oak Athletic club, a 32nd degree mason and a member of the Sphinx Temple.

Mr. Reid was the publisher of a newspaper in his home town, Aurora, Ontario, before he was twenty years of age.

M'MILLAN HOME; TELLS OF MIRAGE THAT FOOLED PEARY

Explorer Confirms Previous Dispatches That There is

Donald B. McMillan

—[Copyright by Underwood & Underwood, New York. ARCTIC EXPLORER, JUST RETURNED, WHO SAYS PEARY'S "CROCKER LAND" WAS A MIRAGE.

...but a taste of real Eskimo food was certainly welcome after eating dog biscuits for two or three months. "Eskimos had brought us word that the war was on, but we knew practically nothing about it until Bartlett arrived with papers and put an end to the arguments. Small and I had been having on whether the Germans had reached Paris."

Aug 1917

Bartlett's Relief Trip.

The relief of MacMillan and Small by Captain Robert Bartlett in the staunch sealing steamer Neptune enhances the reputation Bartlett has earned as one of the foremost Arctic navigators.

He left St. Johns, N. F., four days after Dr. Edmund O. Hovey of the American Museum of Natural History had started in the steamer Danmark from Disco Island, off the southern coast of Greenland, on an unsuccessful attempt to relieve the MacMillan expedition, for which considerable anxiety had been felt. The Danmark stuck fast in the ice, however.

"People said I would meet the fate of the Danmark," Captain Bartlett said tonight, "but I had too much reliance in the Neptune, the queen of the sealing fleet, to believe them. At the same time, in all my trips with Peary I have never seen such heavy ice. I did not spare the ship, however. We smashed through the heavy ice of Melville Bay and passed the Danmark stuck fast in an ice field in North Star Bay. At Disco we made a three-hour stop and effected some repairs. Finally we reached Etah after a hard passage."

When MacMillan left this port four years ago he had with him W. Elmer Ekblaw of the University of Illinois, as geologist and botanist; Prof. Maurice C. Tanquary, of the University of Illinois, zoologist; Ensign Fitzhugh Green, U. S. N., a native of Missouri, engineer and physicist of the expedition; Jerome Lee Allen, wireless operator; Dr. Harrison J. Hunt, of Bangor, Me., surgeon, and Jonathan C. Small, of Provincetown, Mass., mechanic and general aid.

Small was the only man who remained with MacMillan during the whole trip. Tanquary, Green and Allen left in January, 1916, and got home safely, although Tanquary had two toes frozen. In December of the same year, Dr. Hunt and Ekblaw started by dog team across Melville Bay to Uperniak, reaching Disco whence Hunt got home safely. Ekblaw, however, had both feet frozen and had to remain at Disco with Dr. Rorsild, the eminent scientist and was picked up by the Neptune on her homeward passage.

Captain Bartlett's relief expedition was the third one sent out. Dr. Grenfell's Labrador missionary schooner, the George B. Cluett, was fitted out in July, 1915, to go to Etah. The ship was built especially for rough work in the ice but was unable to get through the heavy floes. Then Dr. Hovey fitted out the Danmark which met with no better success. The last news MacMillan had of the Danmark she had been badly nipped by the ice and there was scurvy aboard, causing the explorers some worry as to her fate.

Captain Bartlett, who was selected to make the third try to bring out MacMillan, is well known wherever Arctic exploration is discussed. He was with Peary on several of his polar voyages and was in command of the Roosevelt on Peary's last successful dash for the Pole. Peary honored the doughty captain by keeping him with him until the final dash for the pole, giving Bartlett the distinction of being the only white man besides Peary to get so near the top of the world.

Captain Bartlett will go direct to New York on Tuesday, with Dr. J. G. Knowlton of New York, who was physician of the Neptune.

MACMILLAN'S RETURN

The safe return of Donald B. MacMillan after four years spent in exploration of the

WITH MAC MILLAN IN THE FAR NORTH

Dr. Edmund Otis Hovey, Native of New Haven, Tells Experiences.

RELIEF PARTY HEAD TO CROCKER LAND

Two Years in Frozen Region—Dog Meat Tastes Like Tender Chicken.

Special to The Times. 1917
New Haven, September 1.

Edmund Otis Hovey, curator of geology at the American museum of natural history in New York, who returned the past week from a trip to Greenland, during which he was bound in the frozen north for two years, was the guest of friends and relatives in this city to-day. Mr. Hovey is a native of Connecticut, being the son of the late Dr. Horace Carter Hovey of New Haven, a noted scientist and one of the pioneer explorers of Mammoth Cave in Kentucky.

Dr. Hovey left New York, July 15, 1915, to head a relief expedition sent out to rescue the Crocker Land expedition that had gone north in 1913. This latter expedition under the leadership of Donald B. MacMillan had been sent out by the American museum of natural history in co-operation with the American Geographical society, the University of Illinois and others interested in Arctic research, to make a study of Crocker Land which Admiral Peary thought that he had found in 1916 on his Polar expedition.

Ice Conditions.

When Dr. Hovey left New York he expected to be gone about three months and to bring back with him the members of the Crocker Land party. On account of extreme ice conditions in the far north he was obliged to spend two winters there and finally made his way out this spring and summer over the ice of Melville bay, taking five months to make the trip back to this country. In the meantime two other relief expeditions have been sent north, the last one under the leadership of Captain "Bob" Bartlett finally reaching the party this summer and arriving in North Sydney the past week.

have proved disastrous.

only to friends young scientist the polar region. the first ob- which was to ce of Crocker nd in the far turns out to rfeit present- ock cliffs de- hat here was ing out of the MacMillan's rage, still be- e in the posi- anish, leaving ce where had vas one which fenced, might ar conditions, that it was a tive detail as overer put to at that great the public in ay the proof er Land is a abors of Mac- out the four

R
A N
B
t o
t
e
r
L
a n
d
i s
a c o
u n
t
r
y
w
h
o
s e
e x
p
e d
i t
i
o n
w
a s
a r e
l
i
e
f
e x
p
e d
i t
i
o n
t o
r e s c u
e t
h e
C
r
o
c
k
e
r
L
a n
d e x
p
e d
i t
i
o n
t
h
a t
h
a d
g o n
e n
o
r t
h
i n
1 9
1
3
T
h
i s
l
a t
t
e r e x
p
e d
i t
i
o n
u n
d e r t
h e
l
e
a d e r s
h
i
p o
f D
o n
a l
d
B
M
a
c M
i l
l
a n
h
a d
b e
e n
s e n
t o
u t
b y t
h e
A
m e r
i
c a n
m u s e u
m o f
n
a t
u
r
a l
h
i s t o
r
y
i n
c o
-
o
p
e r
a t
i
o n
w
i t
h
t
h e
A
m e r
i
c a n
G
e
o
g
r
a p h
i
c a l
s o
c
i
e t
y t
h e U n
i v
e r s
i t
y o f
I
l
l
i n
o
i s
a n
d o
t
h e r s
i n
t
e r e s t
e d
i n
A
r
c t
i
c r e s e
a r
c
h
t o
m
a k
e
a s t
u
d
y o
f
C
r
o
c
k
e
r
L
a n
d w
h
i
c
h
A
d
m i
r
a l
P
e
a r
y t
h
o
u
g
h
t
t
h
a t
h e
h
a d
f o
u n
d
i n
1 9
1 6
o n
h
i s
P
o
l
a r e x
p
e d
i t
i
o n
t
h e
f
a c t
t
h
a t
t
h e
e x
p
e d
i t
i
o n
w
a s
c a r
r
i
e d
b y
a n
e x
p
e r
i e n
c
e d
m
a n
T
h e r e
w
a s n
o
s
i
c
k
n
e s
s
a m o n
g
t
h e
e x
p
e r
i e n
c
e d r e
l
i
e
f
e x
p
e d
i t
i
o n
w
o r
k
e d
a d
w e r e
a b
l
e t o
r e s c u
e t
h e
e x
p
e d
i t
i
o n
t
h
a t
h
a d
g o n
e n
o
r t
h
i n
1 9
1
3
T
h
i s
l
a t
t
e r e x
p
e d
i t
i
o n
u n
d e r t
h e
l
e
a d e r s
h
i
p o
f D
o n
a l
d
B
M
a
c M
i l
l
a n
h
a d
b e
e n
s e n
t o
u t
b y t
h e
A
m e r
i
c a n
m u s e u
m o f
n
a t
u
r
a l
h
i s t o
r
y
i n
c o
-
o
p
e r
a t
i
o n
w
i t
h
t
h e
A
m e r
i
c a n
G
e
o
g
r
a p h
i
c a l
s o
c
i
e t
y t
h e U n
i v
e r s
i t
y o f
I
l
l
i n
o
i s
a n
d o
t
h e r s
i n
t
e r e s t
e d
i n
A
r
c t
i
c r e s e
a r
c
h
t o
m
a k
e
a s t
u
d
y o
f
C
r
o
c
k
e
r
L
a n
d w
h
i
c
h
A
d
m i
r
a l
P
e
a r
y t
h
o
u
g
h
t
t
h
a t
h e
h
a d
f o
u n
d
i n
1 9
1 6
o n
h
i s
P
o
l
a r e x
p
e d
i t
i
o n
t
h e
f
a c t
t
h
a t
t
h e
e x
p
e d
i t
i
o n
w
a s
c a r
r
i
e d
b y
a n
e x
p
e r
i e n
c
e d
m
a n
T
h e r e
w
a s n
o
s
i
c
k
n
e s
s
a m o n
g
t
h e
e x
p
e r
i e n
c
e d r e
l
i
e
f
e x
p
e d
i t
i
o n
w
o r
k
e d
a d
w e r e
a b
l
e t o
r e s c u
e t
h e
e x
p
e d
i t
i
o n
t
h
a t
h
a d
g o n
e n
o
r t
h
i n
1 9
1
3
T
h
i s
l
a t
t
e r e x
p
e d
i t
i
o n
u n
d e r t
h e
l
e
a d e r s
h
i
p o
f D
o n
a l
d
B
M
a
c M
i l
l
a n
h
a d
b e
e n
s e n
t o
u t
b y t
h e
A
m e r
i
c a n
m u s e u
m o f
n
a t
u
r
a l
h
i s t o
r
y
i n
c o
-
o
p
e r
a t
i
o n
w
i t
h
t
h e
A
m e r
i
c a n
G
e
o
g
r
a p h
i
c a l
s o
c
i
e t
y t
h e U n
i v
e r s
i t
y o f
I
l
l
i n
o
i s
a n
d o
t
h e r s
i n
t
e r e s t
e d
i n
A
r
c t
i
c r e s e
a r
c
h
t o
m
a k
e
a s t
u
d
y o
f
C
r
o
c
k
e
r
L
a n
d w
h
i
c
h
A
d
m i
r
a l
P
e
a r
y t
h
o
u
g
h
t
t
h
a t
h e
h
a d
f o
u n
d
i n
1 9
1 6
o n
h
i s
P
o
l
a r e x
p
e d
i t
i
o n
t
h e
f
a c t
t
h
a t
t
h e
e x
p
e d
i t
i
o n
w
a s
c a r
r
i
e d
b y
a n
e x
p
e r
i e n
c
e d
m
a n
T
h e r e
w
a s n
o
s
i
c
k
n
e s
s
a m o n
g
t
h e
e x
p
e r
i e n
c
e d r e
l
i
e
f
e x
p
e d
i t
i
o n
w
o r
k
e d
a d
w e r e
a b
l
e t o
r e s c u
e t
h e
e x
p
e d
i t
i
o n
t
h
a t
h
a d
g o n
e n
o
r t
h
i n
1 9
1
3
T
h
i s
l
a t
t
e r e x
p
e d
i t
i
o n
u n
d e r t
h e
l
e
a d e r s
h
i
p o
f D
o n
a l
d
B
M
a
c M
i l
l
a n
h
a d
b e
e n
s e n
t o
u t
b y t
h e
A
m e r
i
c a n
m u s e u
m o f
n
a t
u
r
a l
h
i s t o
r
y
i n
c o
-
o
p
e r
a t
i
o n
w
i t
h
t
h e
A
m e r
i
c a n
G
e
o
g
r
a p h
i
c a l
s o
c
i
e t
y t
h e U n
i v
e r s
i t
y o f
I
l
l
i n
o
i s
a n
d o
t
h e r s
i n
t
e r e s t
e d
i n
A
r
c t
i
c r e s e
a r
c
h
t o
m
a k
e
a s t
u
d
y o
f
C
r
o
c
k
e
r
L
a n
d w
h
i
c
h
A
d
m i
r
a l
P
e
a r
y t
h
o
u
g
h
t
t
h
a t
h e
h
a d
f o
u n
d
i n
1 9
1 6
o n
h
i s
P
o
l
a r e x
p
e d
i t
i
o n
t
h e
f
a c t
t
h
a t
t
h e
e x
p
e d
i t
i
o n
w
a s
c a r
r
i
e d
b y
a n
e x
p
e r
i e n
c
e d
m
a n
T
h e r e
w
a s n
o
s
i
c
k
n
e s
s
a m o n
g
t
h e
e x
p
e r
i e n
c
e d r e
l
i e
f
e x
p
e d
i t
i
o n
w
o r
k
e d
a d
w e r e
a b
l
e t o
r e s c u
e t
h e
e x
p
e d
i t
i
o n
t
h
a t
h
a d
g o n
e n
o
r t
h
i n
1 9
1
3
T
h
i s
l
a t
t
e r e x
p
e d
i t
i
o n
u n
d e r t
h e
l
e
a d e r s
h
i
p o
f D
o n
a l
d
B
M
a
c M
i l
l
a n
h
a d
b e
e n
s e n
t o
u t
b y t
h e
A
m e r
i
c a n
m u s e u
m o f
n
a t
u
r
a l
h
i s t o
r
y
i n
c o
-
o
p
e r
a t
i
o n
w
i t
h
t
h e
A
m e r
i
c a n
G
e
o
g
r
a p h
i
c a l
s o
c
i
e t
y t
h e U n
i v
e r s
i t
y o f
I
l
l
i n
o
i s
a n
d o
t
h e r s
i n
t
e r e s t
e d
i n
A
r
c t
i
c r e s e
a r
c
h
t o
m
a k
e
a s t
u
d
y o
f
C
r
o
c
k
e
r
L
a n
d w
h
i
c
h
A
d
m i
r
a l
P
e
a r
y t
h
o
u
g
h
t
t
h
a t
h e
h
a d
f o
u n
d
i n
1 9
1 6
o n
h
i s
P
o
l
a r e x
p
e d
i t
i
o n
t
h e
f
a c t
t
h
a t
t
h e
e x
p
e d
i t
i
o n
w
a s
c a r
r
i
e d
b y
a n
e x
p
e r
i e n
c
e d
m
a n
T
h e r e
w
a s n
o
s
i
c
k
n
e s
s
a m o n
g
t
h e
e x
p
e r
i e n
c
e d r e
l
i e
f
e x
p
e d
i t
i
o n
w
o r
k
e d
a d
w e r e
a b
l
e t o
r e s c u
e t
h e
e x
p
e d
i t
i
o n
t
h
a t
h
a d
g o n
e n
o
r t
h
i n
1 9
1
3
T
h
i s
l
a t
t
e r e x
p
e d
i t
i
o n
u n
d e r t
h e
l
e
a d e r s
h
i
p o
f D
o n
a l
d
B
M
a
c M
i l
l
a n
h
a d
b e
e n
s e n
t o
u t
b y t
h e
A
m e r
i
c a n
m u s e u
m o f
n
a t
u
r
a l
h
i s t o
r
y
i n
c o
-
o
p
e r
a t
i
o n
w
i t
h
t
h e
A
m e r
i
c a n
G
e
o
g
r
a p h
i
c a l
s o
c
i
e t
y t
h e U n
i v
e r s
i t
y o f
I
l
l
i n
o
i s
a n
d o
t
h e r s
i n
t
e r e s t
e d
i n
A
r
c t
i
c r e s e
a r
c
h
t o
m
a k
e
a s t
u
d
y o
f
C
r
o
c
k
e
r
L
a n
d w
h
i
c
h
A
d
m i
r
a l
P
e
a r
y t
h
o
u
g
h
t
t
h
a t
h e
h
a d
f o
u n
d
i n
1 9
1 6
o n
h
i s
P
o
l
a r e x
p
e d
i t
i
o n
t
h e
f
a c t
t
h
a t
t
h e
e x
p
e d
i t
i
o n
w
a s
c a r
r
i
e d
b y
a n
e x
p
e r
i e n
c
e d
m
a n
T
h e r e
w
a s n
o
s
i
c
k
n
e s
s
a m o n
g
t
h e
e x
p
e r
i e n
c
e d r e
l
i e
f
e x
p
e d
i t
i
o n
w
o r
k
e d
a d
w e r e
a b
l
e t o
r e s c u
e t
h e
e x
p
e d
i t
i
o n
t
h
a t
h
a d
g o n
e n
o
r t
h
i n
1 9
1
3
T
h
i s
l
a t
t
e r e x
p
e d
i t
i
o n
u n
d e r t
h e
l
e
a d e r s
h
i
p o
f D
o n
a l
d
B
M
a
c M
i l
l
a n
h
a d
b e
e n
s e n
t o
u t
b y t
h e
A
m e r
i
c a n
m u s e u
m o f
n
a t
u
r
a l
h
i s t o
r
y
i n
c o
-
o
p
e r
a t
i
o n
w
i t
h
t
h e
A
m e r
i
c a n
G
e
o
g
r
a p h
i
c a l
s o
c
i
e t
y t
h e U n
i v
e r s
i t
y o f
I
l
l
i n
o
i s
a n
d o
t
h e r s
i n
t
e r e s t
e d
i n
A
r
c t
i
c r e s e
a r
c
h
t o
m
a k
e
a s t
u
d
y o
f
C
r
o
c
k
e
r
L
a n
d w
h
i
c
h
A
d
m i
r
a l
P
e
a r
y t
h
o
u
g
h
t
t
h
a t
h e
h
a d
f o
u n
d
i n
1 9
1 6
o n
h
i s
P
o
l
a r e x
p
e d
i t
i
o n
t
h e
f
a c t
t
h
a t
t
h e
e x
p
e d
i t
i
o n
w
a s
c a r
r
i
e d
b y
a n
e x
p
e r
i e n
c
e d
m
a n
T
h e r e
w
a s n
o
s
i
c
k
n
e s
s
a m o n
g
t
h e
e x
p
e r
i e n
c
e d r e
l
i e
f
e x
p
e d
i t
i
o n
w
o r
k
e d
a d
w e r e
a b
l
e t o
r e s c u
e t
h e
e x
p
e d
i t
i
o n
t
h
a t
h
a d
g o n
e n
o
r t
h
i n
1 9
1
3
T
h
i s
l
a t
t
e r e x
p
e d
i t
i
o n
u n
d e r t
h e
l
e
a d e r s
h
i
p o
f D
o n
a l
d
B
M
a
c

HARTFORD MAN WEDS
IN HINGHAM, MASS.

(Special to The Courant
Boston, Mass., Aug. 28.

Miss Katherine Foster, daughter of William L. Foster, chairman of the Hingham board of selectmen and Mrs. Foster, was married on Monday afternoon to Lieutenant James F. Newton of Hartford, son of Mrs. W. H. Weller of Fulton, N. Y. The ceremony took place at the First Unitarian Church of Hingham and Rev. Houghton Shumacher officiated.

The church was decorated with American flags and above the heads of the bridal party a large flag was kept waving throughout the ceremony. The bride was given in marriage by her father. Miss Hester J. Leavitt was maid of honor and Floyd I. Newton of New Haven, a brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

Aug 30 Buckland-Pepper.
Miss Dorothy Louise Pepper, daughter of Mrs. Emma V. Pepper of Concord street, and Charles Edward Buckland, jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Edward Buckland of Washington street, were married last evening at the home of the bride's mother by Rev. Robbins Wolcott Barstow, acting pastor of the South Congregational Church. The bride was attended by Miss Madeline Nichols of this city as maid of honor and by Miss Arline R. Harris of this city, and Miss Marjorie Buckland, sister of the bridegroom, as bridesmaids. Frederick A. Buckland, brother of the bridegroom, was the best man, and two other brothers, Malcolm G. Buckland and Kenneth Buckland, were ushers. The house was decorated with goldenrod, roses, gladioli, palms and ferns. The music, which was furnished by a four-piece orchestra, consisted of "Oh, Promise Me," by DeKoven, Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" from "A Midsummer Night's Dream" and, during the ceremony, "The Spring Song" by Mendelssohn. The bride, who was given in marriage by her mother, wore a dress designed by Rose Windsor, and which was of white satin, draped at the side with a shower of orange blossoms. The veil of white net, which was fastened with a bandeau of pearls, was worn over a long court train, caught at the shoulders with pearls. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses. The maid of honor was dressed in white net and silver and her bouquet was of pink roses.

A daughter, Barbara Virginia were of whit Buckland, was born yesterday to They carried money, which immediate r mate friends is a member of the Machine Gun Buckland let Augusta, Ga., and Mrs. Buckland, will be at th who was formerly Miss Dorothy Pepper, is living at No. 53 Concord ranged for street. ened as the bridegroom expects to be called into service in the near future.

BUCKLAND—In this city, May 23rd, 1918, a daughter Barbara Virginia to Corporal Charles Buckland and Dorothy Pepper Buckland, of 56 Concord street.

BUCKLAND—In West Hartford, February 19, 1920, a daughter, Dorothy Jane, to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Edward Buckland, jr., of No. 54 Lilley road,

WEDDING AT HOME FOR MISS SHELDON.
Becomes Bride of Lieut.
Davidson in Pretty Floral Setting.

Aug 30, 1917
In a setting of asters, hydrangeas, ferns, and American beauty roses, Miss Olive Sheldon, daughter of Mrs. Harriet Manning Sheldon, of No. 24 Whiting Lane, West Hartford, and Lieutenant Charles Parker Davidson, jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Parker Davidson, of Scranton, Penn., were united in marriage by the Rev. Thomas Manning Hodgdon, at 3 o'clock this afternoon at the home of the bride's mother. Miss Margaret Davidson, sister of the bridegroom, was the bride's only attendant and Robert Bruce Davidson, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. The bride, who was given in marriage by her uncle, George William Pease, of Pittsfield, Mass., wore a simple white gown of Georgette crepe and carried a shower bouquet of white roses.

The maid of honor wore a white net gown and carried Ophelia roses. Before and after the ceremony selections were rendered by an orchestra under the direction of Ralph Mixer. The wedding march, played was "Pomp and Circumstance." Mrs. Davidson was graduated from Wellesley college in the class of 1917, and an interesting note of the ceremony to-day was that the bridegroom's mother, his sister, Miss Margaret Davidson, and his bride were all members of the Shakespeare society at that college.

Mr. Davidson was graduated from Cornell in the class of 1913 and was a member of the Zodiac fraternity. He is also a graduate of the Engineers Officers' school at Fort Leavenworth, Kan., where he received the commission of Second Lieutenant, Engineers Officers' Reserve corps. The wedding was hastened because the bridegroom expects to be called into service immediately.

Following the A daughter, Charlotte Davidson, was born March 14, to Mr. and Mrs. Charles families and f Parker Davidson, jr., of Scranton, Penn. which Mr. an Mrs. Davidson was formerly Miss Olive for a trip whe Sheldon of this city and is daughter of in an hour's ce Mrs. Harriet Manning Sheldon of this city, who is now living in Scranton.

Feb 20, 1920
A son, Charles Parker Davidson, 3d, was born Friday to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Parker Davidson of Scranton, Penn. Mrs. Davidson, who is the daughter of Mrs. Harriet Manning Sheldon of Whiting lane, West Hartford, Mass.; Suffre formerly Miss Olive Sheldon. Mrs. Sheldon is spending the winter with her daughter, Mrs. Kenneth Case of New Britain.

DAVIDSON—In this city, July 23, 1918, a daughter to Lieutenant and Mrs. Charles Parker Davidson, Jr. Mrs. Davidson was formerly Miss Olive Sheldon of Whiting Lane.

A son, Charles Edward Buckland, 3d, was born yesterday to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Edward Buckland, jr., of No. 54 Lilley road. Mrs. Buckland was formerly Miss Dorothy Pepper of this city.

SEPTEMBER 11, 1921.

AD
tow dis
Col mar
br
Nor Bro chur
is a aw rin
Ever
ple ste m
was p palms
The
russy train cap eff
of flower bouquet bride's r Adams s
of honor gown of over pale migs and of pink Harrie
groom's be After th
party we the parents
The bride
Adams, w Georgette
trimmings
Mrs. & F. W
silk.
The newly an extended the White m points of inter will reside in home in West
Aug
Mrs. E. F. W
of Mr and Mrs
of Wetherfield,
Clark, son of Mr N. Clark, also married yester
home of the br
Clark, pastor of t gregational Chu ceremony unde and cosmos. T
satin, trimmed w pearls and she
with bride rose
ed by her sister Morris as maid o chiffon, and carrie roses. The ribbo
Emma Morris Ma
Miss Alice Morris
bride; Miss Lettie
Nellie Clark, coo
Miss Dorothy Tom
brother of the br man Frank S. M bride and Walter ushers. The flow
Dorothy McLau
and she carried a
mos. Miss Bern
the Lohengrin we parlor was presen
pink asters and pal
room decorations
white lilies. The guests from Habenstein of
ed. After a sh
Mr. and Mrs. Cla
den street, Wash
will be at home
Octo

Lyman B. Jewell 90 Years Young

Aug 29, 1917

President Lyman B. Jewell, of the Jewell Belting Company, celebrated his 90th birthday yesterday, and was reminded of the importance of the day, when he reached his desk at the office and found a beautiful silver vase, containing ninety red roses, respectively the gifts of the directors of the company and the factory and clerical employees. The following inscription was on the vase: "Presented to Lyman B. Jewell, August 29, 1917, by his fellow directors of the Jewell Belting Company to commemorate his ninetieth birthday and as a mark of their respect and affection for him and appreciation of his long and valued service." The signatures of the directors were also inscribed on the vase.

Mr. Jewell is in excellent health, and is hardly ever absent a day from his desk at the office. He presides at the directors' meetings. He has been connected with the Jewell Belting Company, which his father founded, for forty years.

JEWELL—In this city, Lyman B. Jewell, November 20, 1917, aged 90 years, 2 months.
Funeral service at 26 Scarborough street Friday afternoon at 2:30.

LYMAN B. JEWELL.

LLS AT AGE.

of the well-
forty-four elting com-
; president s, and since
e board of e late Mar-
three times minister to ster-general
morning at Scarborough
He had been but confined
ays. Death
quites of age.
nan of robust
time in the measure he l been enjoy-

le five sons of o founded a he Park river a shop on years later,
employs 400
operatives.

Native of New Hampshire.

Lyman B. Jewell was born in Winchester, N. H., August 29, 1827. His mother was Emily Alexander before her marriage. For several years Mr. Jewell was engaged in the drygoods business in Boston and New York. In 1873 he came to Hartford and entered into partnership with his father and three brothers, Pliny, jr., Marshall and Charles A. Jewell. The firm name became P. Jewell & Sons and so continued until the Jewell Belting company was organized in 1883, when he was elected vice-president.

Other brothers of Lyman B. Jewell were Charles A., president of the

Aug Willard-Adams. 29

John Chester Willard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Willard of this town, and Miss Helen Russell Adams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Colburn Adams of Norwich, were married yesterday afternoon at the bride's home, No. 24 Connell street, Norwich, by Archdeacon J. Eldred Brown, rector of Trinity Episcopal church, Norwich, of which the bride is a member. The bride was given away by her father and the double ring service was used. Edward Everett Adams of Lowell, Mass., uncle of the bride, rendered appropriate music during the ceremony which was performed before a bank of palms and ferns.

The bride wore a gown of white pussy willow taffeta and lace cut en train and her veil was arranged in cap effect and caught with a wreath of flowers. She carried a shower bouquet of white sweet peas and bride's roses. Miss Harriet Glover Adams, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and wore an attractive gown of apple green Georgette crepe over pale pink silk with bead trimmings and carried an arm bouquet of pink Ophelia roses. Burton A. Harris of Wethersfield was the groom's best man.

After the ceremony the bride and party were assisted in receiving by the parents of the bride and groom. The bride's mother, Mrs. H. C. Adams, wore navy blue taffeta and Georgette crepe with embroidered trimmings. The groom's mother, Mrs. S. F. Willard wore dark blue silk.

The newly married couple are on an extended automobile trip through the White mountains and to other points of interest and on their return will reside in a newly furnished home in Wethersfield, where Mr.

Aug Clark-Morris. 30

Miss Jennie Jane Morris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William S. Morris of Wethersfield, and Raymond Edgar Clark, son of Mr. and Mrs. Franklyn N. Clark, also of that town, were married yesterday afternoon at the home of the bride, Rev. George L. Clark, pastor of the Wethersfield Congregational Church, performed the ceremony under an arch of asparagus and cosmos. The bride wore white satin, trimmed with Venice lace and pearls, and she carried a bouquet of with bride roses. She was attended by her sister, Miss Mabel C. Morris, as maid of honor, who wore blue crepe de chine, trimmed with chiffon, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The ribbon girls were Miss Emma Morris, Miss Ethel Morris, Miss Alice Morris, sisters of the bride; Miss Jennie Tooth and Miss Nellie Clark, cousins of the bride, and Miss Dorothy Young. Leon Q. Clark, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Frank S. Morris, brother of the bride, and Winfred DeMay were ushers. The flower girls was Miss Dorothy McLean, cousin of the bride, and she carried a basket of pink cosmos. Miss Bernice McGregor played the Lohengrin wedding march. The parlor was prettily trimmed with pink asters and phlox and the dining room decorations were pink and white lilies. There were many guests from out of town. Habenstein of Hartford catered. After a short wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Clark will live on Garden street, Wethersfield, where they will be at home to their friends after October 1.

WILLARD—At the Hartford hospital, Thursday, January 15, 1920, a daughter, Alice Russell, to Mr. John C. Willard of Wethersfield, Conn.

Lyman B. Jewell continued as vice-president of the company until elected president, December 8, 1911, following the death of Pliny Jewell, jr., a short time previous. He was president until August 2, this year, when he was elected chairman of the board of directors, his successor being Charles E. Newton who died last Thursday evening.

Mr. Jewell took an active part in the business of the company and until very recently presided at the meetings of the board of directors. His ninetieth birthday was the occasion of the gift of ninety red roses from the directors and the clerical and factory employes which were on his desk when he arrived at the office.

Mr. Jewell was a director in the Phoenix Insurance company, the

L. B. JEWELL ESTATE INVENTORY SHOWS VALUE OF $364,000

Sister-in-law is Claimant for $71,000.

Miss Josephine Williams, a sister of the late Mrs. Lyman B. Jewell, is claimant to the amount of $71,046.30 of investments, reinvestments and proceeds of investments standing in the name of Lyman B. Jewell, the inventory of whose estate has been filed in the probate court at a value of $364,784.76. It is said that there will be no contest. The appraisal of the estate was made by Henry M. Sperry and Edward J. Pearson, appraisers. The principal items in the list are:—

| | |
|--|--------------|
| 251 shs. Travelers Ins. Co. | $159,385.00 |
| 180 shs. Landers, Frary & Clark | 8,100.00 |
| 212 shs. South. New England Tel. Co. | 22,896.00 |
| 329 shs. Mountain States Tel. & Tel. Co. | 33,887.00 |
| 5 shs. Jewell Belting Co. | 100.00 |
| 39 shs. Billings & Spencer Co. | 8,910.00 |
| 10 shs. Phoenix Nat. Bank | 2,400.00 |
| 28 shs. Hartford Trust Co. | 12,880.00 |
| 11 shs. Phoenix Ins. Co. | 3,850.00 |
| 33 shs. Johns-Pratt Co. | 10,725.00 |
| Subscription to 44 shares Southern New England Tel. Co., representing 484 rights | 484.00 |
| $2,000 N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. Co. | 1,670.00 |
| Income accrued from Jan. 1, 1917, to Nov. 20, 1917, in estate of Charlotte B. Jewell | 12,571.44 |
| Cash | 13,955.02 |
| Pierce-Arrow Automobile | 1,800.00 |
| Jewelry | 25.00 |
| Household and personal effects | 100.00 |
| 20 shs. Amoskeag Mfg. Co. pfd. | 1,600.00 |
| 30 shs. Amoskeag Mfg. Co. com. | 1,800.00 |
| 5 shs. Hartford Trust Co. | 2,300.00 |
| 38 shs. Phoenix Ins. Co. | 13,300.00 |
| 33 shs. Travelers Ins. Co. | 20,955.00 |
| 12 shs. Pepperill Mfg. Co. | 2,220.00 |
| 77 shs. Mountain States Tel. & Tel. Co. | 7,931.00 |
| $1,500 N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. Co. 6% convertibles | 1,252.50 |
| Cash convertibles | 19,637.80 |

A son. Charles Edward Buckland, Jr. and Mrs.

Former Hartford Man Gets High Place In Western Company.

Archibald C. Loomis, who has been president of the Aetna National Bank of this city, vice-president of the Union Trust Company of Providence, R. I., and vice-president of the National City Bank of New York, will become treasurer of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway, according to a Chicago dispatch. He succeeds F. G. Ranney, who has been put on the retirement list at his own request, to take effect on September 1.

Mr. Loomis began his business career in Hartford, where he was connected with the Aetna National Bank more than thirty years. He is now 68 years old. He attended district and high schools in Hartford and became a clerk for the Aetna Bank in 1865, being promoted to cashier in 1867. Four years later he was chosen president, in which office he continued until 1899, when he resigned to become vice-president of the National City Bank of New York. In 1905 he retired from that office and went to San Francisco, where he was connected with the banking and brokerage house of N. W. Halsey & Co. He was in the California metropolis at the time of the earthquake in 1906, and remained until 1907, when he came East and went to the Union Trust Company of Providence, R. I. He helped reorganize the company after suspension and was made vice-president. He resigned from this post in January, 1915.

A. C. LOOMIS, TREASURER.

Succeeds F. G. Ranney Who Retires at Own Request From Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railroad.

Official announcement issued in Chicago, to-day, that Archibald G. Loomis, formerly president of the Aetna National bank of Hartford, and later vice-president of the Union Trust company, of Providence, R. I., and vice-president of the National City bank of New York, would succeed F. G. Ranney, for thirty years treasurer of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway, who

Mr. and Mrs. Guy P. Miller of Bri end
mo
of Mrs. James McGovern of New ing York, and Miss Doris Talmage Man-Cat gam, daughter of Mrs. Daniel D.
Ca Mangum of New York and Green-Ric wich, and granddaughter of the ing famous preacher, the late Rev. Dr. we T. DeWitt Talmage of Brooklyn, N.
Y., were married Saturday afternoon at Carleton Island by Rev. John F.
Byrne. Mr. McGovern was graduuator from Yale University in 1914.

Sept 4 - 1917

ST. BISSELL FROM SUN...
Served Twenty-two "Courant" Man...
After twenty-two m... in France, Lieutenant... sell arrived in Harlan... is receiving the wa...
Sparks of United...
Part...
AND SOUTH...
MOVED TO FLAG... any Head Ex...
Unqualified Loy...
Station... trust 22.—William J...
Pittsburgh, comman... of the Grand Army of...
speaking to-day at the...
of the annual en...
posed the greatest en... declaring that America... the sword in favor of...
people of Europe who...
for help. The con...
rang with war-time...
was rose to their feet... stern flags and cheered... reference by their lead... fish motive which had...
United States to en...
ple for the freedom of...
and without hope of...
ward...
for the physical training... this nation was never...
ered for a great war...
Patterson said. "The... land are thoroughly... moved to the flag. Our...
examples of the south...
loyalty to the na...
the war confronting us...
the north and the men... will be found marching... shoulder in defense... of the rights of the...
dom." Discussing the...
pled to American par... the European war...
Patterson said that...
can people were reluc...
the force of circum...
intrestible...
man Insouciance...
and increasing in...
the Imperial German go... is no longer to be...
dared. "The violation... to respect a...
a graduate of Miss...
Boston and is prom... progressive social set. Th... was a member of the...
Yale University... of the Beta Theta...
He is also a memb...
Club in Harlan... and Golf Club. His...
one of the board of...
of the Hartford Fire Insuranc... of the Hartford-Aetna...

L. T. BISSELL BACK FROM SUNNY FRANCE

Served Twenty-two Months; Met "Courant" Man in Rheims.
 After twenty-two months of service in France, Lieutenant Herbert G. Bissell arrived in Hartford Friday and he is receiving the glad hand from lang-

M. D. FOX RECEIVES 137 NEW APPOINTMENT

HARTFORD OFFICER BACK FROM FRANCE

ninth grade Burr School

Speaks of United Part.

AND SOUTH OTED TO FLAG

Army Head Ex-Unqualified Loy-Nation.

August 22.—William J. Pittsburgh, commander of the Grand Army of speaking to-day at the ion of the annual en- roused the greatest en- declaring that America the sword in favor of d people of Europe who d for help. The con- rang with war-time erans rose to their feet, -torn flags and cheered reference by their lead- elfish motive which had e United States to en- gle for the freedom of nd without hope or ward.

or the physical training this nation was never red for a great war," Patterson said. "The e land are thoroughly vated to the flag. Our emies of the south ex- lified loyalty to the na- the war confronting us the north and the men will be found marching shoulder in defense of h of the rights of the ion." Discussing the h led to American par- the European war. Patterson said that can people were reluc- so the force of circum- irresistible.

Man Insolence.
 nued and increasing in- e Imperial German gov- ld not longer be tol- ared. "Its violation of e is to report at Niantuc. The is a graduate of Miss Church's and Holbrook in Boston and is prominent in unger social set. The bride- was a member of the class of Yale University and is a er of the Beta Theta Pi fra- He is also a member of the Club in Farmington and the rd Golf Club. His father is an of the board of directors Hartford Fire Insurance Com- and the Hartford-Aetna Nationdiately, he said, as commander-in-chief of the organization, he telegraphed President Wilson that the Grand Army of the Republic heartily supported his stand for the neutral rights of Americans to the free use of the open seas.

"Later in Washington," Mr. Patterson said, "I called at the White House to reiterate in person what had been declared by wire. President Wilson expressed his pleasure at our prompt endorsement of his course, remarking that he and the whole country knew without any assurances, how the Grand Army of the Republic stood on all patriotic questions and that no one had any doubt as to how that organization stood in the present crisis.

What Has Been Pledged.

"And so to-day, our lives, our property, and our sacred honor are pledged in support of liberty in the titanic struggle now waged between autocracy and democracy." Commander Patterson presided over the convention, which was conducted in executive session, wielding a gavel made from the timbers of the Frigate Constitution, familiarly known as "Old Ironsides." This gavel was one of two presented the commander-in-chief, to-day, by Department Commander Daniel E. Denny, of Worcester.

PUBLIC MARKET PLANS.

Superintendent Parker Tells How City May Erect Building in Which Farmers Can Store Goods.

Plans for a large market and curb markets were discussed at the first meeting of the reorganized public market commission at the office of the mayor in the municipal building Tuesday afternoon. The next meeting of the commission will be held next Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock, when reports on suggestions advanced at the first meeting will be submitted by committees for consideration.

A plan whereby the city might acquire a large tract of land on which to erect a one-story concrete building, with an underground cellar, in which farmers who wished to sell their produce in the city could store their goods until sold, was explained by Superintendent of Parks, George

A son, George Saturday to Mr. and Mrs. Chase of No. 12 Arnoldale road, West Hartford. OCTOBER 24, 1922. Educational of mathe- salette Col- In 1913 he became principal of New Hartford High School, where he duplicated his previous success. At the end of two years, he became teacher of the ninth grade in the Alfred E. Burr School, where he has won a high degree of popularity among pupils, teachers and parents. He is also prominently identified with local organizations and civic move- ments.

Deputy Commissioner MacDonald Will Sit in Bridgeport and New Haven Thursday.

Deputy Commissioner John A. MacDonald will hold automobile hearings in New Haven and Bridgeport Thursday.

The docket for New Haven is as follows:

- George Gagne, reckless driving.
 - Norman Bardin, reckless driving.
 - Bennie Ferrie, reckless driving.
 - Jos. A. Vignault, reckless driving.
 - Stanley Brainard, reckless driving, operating without license, and failure to grant right of way.
 - Nicholas Hoffman, intoxication.
 - Maxmillan Pobocynski, reckless driving.
 - Nathan Wadham, reckless driving.
 - Adolph Clark, intoxication.
 - Antonio Crosynoski, reckless driving.
 - Henry C. Pflieggar, intoxication.
 - Ruben Ryaahpan, reckless driving.
 - August J. Karthage, reckless driving.
 - John Beauchemin, No. 21 Squire street, Hartford, passing standing trolley and reckless driving.
- The cases in Bridgeport are:
- Joseph Robinson, reckless driving.
 - Nando Socchi, reckless driving.
 - William Nelson, reckless driving.
 - H. E. Baker, reckless driving.
 - John A. Cunningham, fatal accident.
 - Stewart Johnson, reckless driving.
 - Abraham Sklar, reckless driving.
 - James T. Gallagher, fatal accident.
 - Kenneth E. Anderson, No. 107 Babcock street, Hartford, reckless driving.
 - Frank De Mott, reckless driving and speeding.

Improve Your

Get your blood pure, keep bowels regular, and disfigure blotches will disappear from the complexion and puttin

BEECHAN

are safer, better and sur eliminate poisonous matters en the organs and purify th glow to the cheeks, bright

Porter E. Chase of will resume his studi versity which he disc the service. Mrs. Ch New Haven while he is a student there. FEBRUARY 2, 1919.

Dr. Ansel G. Cook has packed his surgeon's tools and appliances and vacated his office on Allyn street.

SUNDAY, JULY 13, 1919

IRICILLA'S CONS

139

ORTHOPEDIC EXPERT FOUND EXCITEMENT IN ARMY SERVICE

Taking Charge of Relief Train During Cyclone, One of Dr. Cook's Experiences.

Dr. Ansel G. Cook, who has been away from his practice for two years while serving as an orthopedic specialist in the army, has been busy during the past week refurbishing his office at No. 54 Pratt street. He will have everything in readiness to resume his practice on Monday.

Major Cook was discharged at Fort Sam Houston, San Antonio, Tex., on

(Photo by Johnstone) MAJOR ANSEL G. COOK.

March 31, and has spent the time since then visiting hospitals and clinics in the West in company with Dr. Ellis Jones. Major Cook has been in Hartford about three weeks. He was one of the first members of the Hartford Medical Association to enter the service, and was commissioned captain on July 23, 1917. He was sent to detail in orthopedic work and giving lectures. His chief work was as supervising orthopedic surgeon of the Southern Department at the U. S. Army Hospital at Fort Sam Houston, Tex. He will resume his practice there he had charge of all army orthopedic work in New Mexico, Arizona, and Texas. He visited Camp Oglethorpe at Dodge, Ga., Camp Gordon at Atlanta, Camp McClellan at Anniston, Ala., Camp Wheeler at Macon, Ga., and Camp Sherman at Montgomery, Ala. He also gave lectures on the care of the feet and setting and caring for bone injuries.

At one time when there was a cyclone along the coast he was called out at 2 o'clock in the morning and told to take charge of a relief train, taking with him eight doctors, twenty nurses and forty orderlies, with provisions enough for the staff and as many people as he would be able to take care of. This is only one of a number of interesting experiences he had while in the service.

While at Fort Sam Houston he had a staff of from four to twelve doctors, and in addition to the lecture work for the soldiers he taught school for fourteen months and trained many other doctors and nurses. He was also connected with the distribution of shoes for the quartermaster's department and at one time had 200,000 pairs of shoes at his disposal.

Dr. Cook desires to express his appreciation of the people of Texas. He says that he enjoyed his work among them and found them a generous and friendly people.

He lectured on orthopedic work in Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., at Camp McClellan, Wheeler, Macon, Ga.; Camp Sherman, Ga.; Camp Gordon at Atlanta, Ga.; Camp McClellan at Anniston, Ala.; Camp Wheeler at Macon, Ga.; and Camp Sherman at Montgomery, Ala. He also gave lectures on the care of the feet and setting and caring for bone injuries.

Miller, first were guests of Thomas B. avenue. Mrs. J. Kinsella and Texas. He visited Camp Oglethorpe at Dodge, Ga., Camp Gordon at Atlanta, Camp McClellan at Anniston, Ala., Camp Wheeler at Macon, Ga., and Camp Sherman at Montgomery, Ala. He also gave lectures on the care of the feet and setting and caring for bone injuries.

FOR UNCLE SAM.

Kingsley of This City, of Georgetown and er, Passes Test for Corps.

received by his relocation to-day of the appointment of William G. Kingsley, Charles J. Kingsley of WILLIAM G. KINGSLEY.

Kingsley & Smith, for the United States aviation corps. Mr. Kingsley, who has been in training at Plattsburg, N. Y., since last May recently took the examination for flying men and was passed. He will probably be assigned to the government aviation school at Mineola, Long Island.

Mr. Kingsley was graduated from the Hartford high school in 1910 and played three years on the school football team. He was captain of the eleven in 1910 and the accompanying picture shows him in

Mrs. Ansel G. Cook and Miss Elton Cook of the Netherlands Apartment on Farmington avenue will leave Monday to join Dr. Cook at San Antonio, Texas.

FEBRUARY 10, 1918.

He was to receive his degree in June, but it to Plattsburg in May.

DR. ANSEL G. COOK'S WORK IN TEXAS

Hartford Surgeon's Important Service at Fort Sam Houston.

Dr. Ansel G. Cook of this city, the well known orthopedic surgeon, who recently entered government service and became Captain Cook, is now at San Antonio, Tex., where the 'Express' says he is to have charge of a reclamation hospital for men wounded in the limbs, which is soon to be established in connection with the base hospital at Fort Sam Houston. The "Express" of March 12 says:—

Captain Cook arrived at Fort Sam Houston yesterday and assumed his duties at once. As there are no shell-torn bodies to mend yet, and as there will be none until the wounded are brought back from France, Captain Cook will start on an undertaking almost as great in its importance to the army as repairing damaged soldiers. That first work will be correcting the feet of Uncle Sam's fighting men in the Southern Department.

It was announced at Southern Department headquarters yesterday that "flat-foot" would be one of the first things tackled by the noted surgeon. Hereafter flat feet will be no bar to enlistment or induction into the army as they will be corrected or shoes will be built for them that will make them comfortable and enable the soldier suffering with them to be useful in the line.

Until the plan for orthopedic treatment of soldiers has been thoroughly worked out. Captain Cook will spend part of his time at the base hospital and part in connection with the shoe repair shop which recently was transferred from under the direct supervision of the quartermaster general to the supervision of the quartermaster of the Southern Department, Colonel Daniel McCarthy. Hereafter when a man wants a pair of shoes he will be fitted scientifically and when he wants a pair of shoes mended they will be repaired to fit his feet. In that way his feet will be better fitted for service and the shoes will last longer. When it is considered that thousands of men each month have foot trouble or need shoes repaired a great saving will be made.

Under Captain Cook's supervision the feet of twenty-six post officers were measured for shoes yesterday and orders taken for others. The surgeon was sent to San Antonio by Colonel Brockett, director of the Department of Military Orthopedics at Washington. The work of mending shell-torn bodies will be done not so much with the idea of fitting the men for service again, although that will be accomplished, but with a view to returning the men to civil life again after the war is over as good as they were when they enlisted.

AN EARLY SEPTEMBER WEDDING

Sept 1 - 1917
Miss Alice C. Thorndike Has Chosen the First Day of the Month for Her Marriage to J. J.

Dr. and Mrs. have been staying in the summer, with as they have in Harbor and to their house at next winter, but more. The Miss Alice C. Winslow, son Winslow, will of Our Saviour three on Saturday Bishop Lawrence Howe, D. D., officiate. Miss one attendant, sister of the bride, maid of honor, as his best man, Boston, and as Vickery of Boston of Brookline, Boston, Dr. Fr Augustus Thoburn and R. Amory and brothers ability to send on their military duties the ceremony at the Thorndike home at 481 Commonwealth avenue.

MRS. SARAH E. R

ALMOST 102 AND STILL ACTIVE

Sept 11
Mrs. Mary B. Pike, who assisted in Red Cross Entertainment, Has Had Relatives in Various Wars
Mrs. Mary B. Pike, who will be 102 years old in September, was one of the hostesses at a lawn fête given on Saturday by the Granite Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, of which she is an active member, on the grounds of the summer home at Newfields, N. H., of George W. Paul, a resident of Malden. The event was for the benefit of the Red Cross of Newfields and Newmarket. Mrs. Pike is deeply interested in the work of the American Army, and reads the papers every day, besides spending much of her time in war relief work. She has had relatives in every war that the United States has fought. Her grandfather, Captain Luke Brodhead, was an officer in the Revolutionary War; her brother, Thornton Brodhead, was an officer in the Mexican War; her husband, Rev. James Pike, was colonel of the Eighteenth New Hampshire Regiment in the Civil War; her son was in the same regiment, and her grandson was in the Spanish War.

Sept Wilcox-Davison. 2

Raymond W. Wilcox, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred B. Wilcox of Capitol avenue, and Miss Helen Louise Davison were married Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of George R. Close, town clerk of Stamford, and Mrs. Close. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. C. H. Frank in the presence of a few intimate friends and the relatives only. Arthur P. Squires of this city was the best man and Mrs. Squires was the matron of honor. The ceremony was followed by a dinner served at the Hotel Davenport. Mr. and Mrs. Wilcox are now taking a wedding trip through New York state, and after their return, they will live in this city. The bridegroom is head of the service department of the Reid Motor Company and for several years, the bride had charge of the art department at the store of Wise-Smith & Co.

YOUNG AT AGE OF 94.

Mrs. Sarah E. Rice of Meriden Does OwnHousework and Likes to Go

Sept 1 - 1917
St. Monica's Chapel Has New Priest.

Rev. Osmond Henry Brown, who for the past thirteen months has been in charge of St. Thomas's Chapel, Red Bank, and also St. Augustine's Church, Elizabeth, in the diocese of New Jersey, has resigned from these missions, and is now priest in charge of St. Monica's chapel of this city.

St. Monica's is one of the distinguished missions in this diocese. Because of this the venerable Henry Swinton Harte, archdeacon of Hartford, deemed it wise to wait until he could procure a capable and efficient priest. He has

DOES HOUSEWORK

Meriden's Oldest Woman
Birthday—Born on Gay Wallingford.

Meriden, September 4.—E. Rice, of No. 296 Cambridge street, Meriden, believed to be Meriden's oldest and called affectionately "Aunt Rice" throughout her ninety-six years old to-day, fairly good health and still doing housework, but as a severe illness last spring gave up her beautiful face, which attracted visitors in

MRS. SARAH E. RICE.

Mrs. Rice was born on the Gaylord farm in Wallingford, now the location of Gaylord sanatorium, and came to Meriden in 1840. After her marriage to Hinsdale Rice, they were both employed at the State School for Boys. Mrs. Rice has lived in her present home for over sixty years. She has been an active member of the First Congregational church ever since coming to Meriden. Her only surviving close relative is a niece who came to live with her last spring.

FIANCE IS OF NOTED ANCESTRY

Engagement of Lieutenant Donald Sage Mackay and Miss Helen Thorndike Is Announced

Announcement is made by Mr. and Mrs. Alden A. Thorndike of 130 Commonwealth avenue of the engagement of their daughter, Helen, to Lieutenant Donald Sage Mackay of New York, son of the late Rev. Donald Sage Mackay, D. D., who was formerly of the Collegiate Church of St. Nicholas, at Fifth avenue and Forty-eighth street. Miss Thorndike was one of last year's debutantes. Lieutenant Mackay is a graduate of Williams College, class of 1914, and of Union Theological Seminary, class of 1917, with the degree of B.D. He received this commission at the second Plattsburg Training Camp. His grandmother was Helen Smith, the youngest daughter of J. Gregory Smith of St. Albans, who was the Civil War governor of Vermont, and sister of Hon. Edward Curtis Smith, governor of Vermont during the Spanish War. Lieutenant Mackay is a nephew of Mrs. Oliver Crocker Stevens of Beacon street.

Graduated in one year, he Theological post graduate of which degree of Rev. of the leading Anglican commencement Theological bachelor's was made a bachelors, and a by Rt. Rev. of Washington 15 was ordained Harding in and Paul. to be the on.

nts, Novem-rgyman was hood in St. rton, D. C., has been in Chapel, Red 0, 1915, and ine's Chapel e comes to sociological essive work and trusts to ty co-opera- St. Monica's

Widow Francis of Br

Chicago
Swift M
Edward
was mar here to liberal m of comm of Ches
day. Th by the son, Cap
training
Miss Gla

nar So

mer Re Glaston Glady I
and Mrs.
street, a Sorom of
at St. Jan
ing at J
ward G.
Bessie J
bride's m
East Hart
wore whi

An inter
of Miss G
Mr. and Albany, N
Root, son
Root of N N. Y. T place Sa
the bride father is to report
Miss Cos
year, and welfare w movement ated from and after the New
a member and Unio York. A his bride

BULKELEY-WHITMORE — In this city, Houghton Bulkeley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Morgan G. Bulkeley of Washington street, and Margaret, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Whitmore of Highland street, at St. John's Church, Wednesday, September 5, 1917.

Younger Son of Former U. S. Senator, Home on Furlough, Marries Miss Whitmore.

Hastened because of the war conditions, the wedding of Miss Margaret Whitmore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Whitmore of Highland street, and Houghton Bulkeley, younger son of former United States Senator Morgan G. Bulkeley, was celebrated at St. John's Church, Wednesday, September 5, 1917.

Whitmore and niece of Mrs. John Ostrom Enders and Mrs. William R. C. Corson.

Corporal Bulkeley and Mrs. Bulkeley will return to New London today, as it is thought the time is short before the troops leave for service elsewhere. The bride and her mother have been at Eastern Point for several weeks, previous to which she was the guest of Senator Bulkeley and Mrs. Bulkeley at their summer home at Fenwick. For the duration of the war, she will remain with her parents.

BULKELEY—In this city, February 21, 1920, a daughter, Hope, to Houghton and Margaret Whitmore Bulkeley of No. 106 Gillette street.

Lieutenant Bulkeley 1918
Lieutenant Bulkeley, who is son of former United States Senator Morgan G. Bulkeley and Mrs. Bulkeley, enlisted in Troop B in June, 1916, when he was a member of the sophomore

A daughter, Hope Bulkeley, was married to Mr. and Mrs. Bulkeley, of No. 106 Gillette street, in this city, February 21, 1920. The bride is a granddaughter of former United States Senator Morgan G. Bulkeley and Mrs. Bulkeley and Mrs. William F. Whitmore of Highland street.

Wedding of Miss Margaret Whitmore and Houghton Bulkeley, younger son of former United States Senator Morgan G. Bulkeley, was celebrated at St. John's Church, Wednesday, September 5, 1917.

16—1917

ery Sweet Parker of this city, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Sweet Parker, of No. 623 Prospect street, and granddaughter of Rev. Dr. Parker, and Lieutenant U. S. A., of Cannonville, Utah, were married at 4 o'clock this afternoon at the summer home of the bride's parents, Bonny New Lebanon Center, N. H. The ceremony was performed by the pastor emeritus of the Congregational Church, in the presence of fifty guests.

The wedding ceremony was given in marriage by Rev. Dr. Parker. The flower girls were Miss Knous Parker and Miss Lillian Parker, sisters of the bride. The bridesmaids were Miss Allen of this city, Miss Estelle Shipway of New York, and Miss Lillian Buckland of Toowoomba, Australia. The bride, who was commissioned in the army, was a fellow officer, Lieutenant Parker, who is also his colonel. The composition of the wedding party, "Love o' Mike," which was recently composed by the bride's father, Robert Gilmore, Almet H. Jenks and Lieutenant Kilduff, fellow officers of the New York, Lewis Pond of this city, a brother of the bride, and William McMillan Adams of Eng.

The bride wore a gown of white satin court train and a hat of which were worn by her at her wedding. She wore blue frocks and carried a bouquet of goldenrod. Gladioli and lilies were used in the decorations. The music was furnished by the orchestra. The ceremony, Lieutenant Parker, who is also his colonel, was the composition of the wedding party, "Love o' Mike," which was recently composed by the bride's father, Robert Gilmore, Almet H. Jenks and Lieutenant Kilduff, fellow officers of the New York, Lewis Pond of this city, a brother of the bride, and William McMillan Adams of Eng.

A daughter, Nancy, was born yesterday at the Charter Oak Private Hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Houghton Bulkeley of Oxford street.

Aug 2

Oct 5 1917
A daughter was born last Wednesday to Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Reed Smith of Pittsfield, Mass. The bride is formerly Miss Margery Parker of this city. The child is granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis D. Parker of Prospect avenue and of Harry B. Smith of New York.

SEPTEMBER 19, 1921.

SEPTEMBER 6, 1919
HOUGHTON BULKELEY
TO BE SALESMAN FOR BANKING HOUSE HERE

Son of Aetna Life President Enters Richter & Co.

Houghton Bulkeley, commissioned in France a lieutenant of infantry in the United States Reserves while serving with Company B, of the 101st Machine Gun Battalion, will enter the employ of Richter & Co. bankers on Central row, Monday morning as a salesman. Lieutenant Bulkeley is the youngest son of former United States Senator Morgan G. Bulkeley and Mrs. Bulkeley, and is a brother of Major Morgan G. Bulkeley, jr., former commander of the 101st Machine Gun Battalion.

As a sophomore at Yale University, he enlisted in Troop B, Fifth Military Cavalry, C. N. G., in June, 1916, when his brother was first lieutenant of the troop and J. H. K. Davis, captain. He served at the Mexican border during that summer and returned with the Connecticut contingent in the fall. When the troop was federalized in the summer of 1917, he was made corporal and upon the arrival of the battalion in France was rated sergeant. He attended in officers' training camp in France and was commissioned in July, 1918. When the battalion was in temporary training at Niantic, Lieutenant Bulkeley married Miss Peggy Whitmore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Whitmore of Highland street.

—[Photo]

MRS HOUGHTON

Mrs. Bulkeley, with her husband, returned from a tour of the Canadian Rockies and Alaska, months ago, with the 101st Machine Gun Battalion.

The large...
Whenever you...
we will be...
State B...
The Hart...
The officers...
customers the...
are always...
financial problem...
The many...
construction... of the high...
This advan...
This advan...
to receive subscri...
the sum...
in 1918...
ther...
sold

BULKELEY-WHITMORE — In this city, Houghton Bulkeley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Morgan G. Bulkeley of Washington street, and Margaret, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Whitmore of Highland street, at St. John's Church, Wednesday, September 5.

Younger Son of Former U. S. Senator, Home on Furlough, Marries Miss Whitmore.

Hastened because of the war conditions, the wedding of Miss Margaret Whitmore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Whitmore of Highland street, and Houghton Bulkeley, younger son of former United States Senator Morgan G. Bulkeley, was celebrated in this city yesterday.

Lieutenant Bulkeley, who is son of former United States Senator Morgan G. Bulkeley, and Miss Margaret Whitmore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Whitmore, of Highland street, was married yesterday at St. John's Church, New York.

Whitmore and niece of Mrs. John Ostrom Enders and Mrs. William R. C. Corson.

Corporal Bulkeley and Mrs. Bulkeley will return to New London today, as it is thought the time is short before the troops leave for service elsewhere. The bride and her mother have been at Eastern Point for several weeks, previous to which she was the guest of Senator Bulkeley and Mrs. Bulkeley at their summer home at Fenwick. For the duration of the war, she will remain with her parents.

BULKELEY—In this city, February 21, 1920, a daughter, Hope, to Houghton and Margaret Whitmore Bulkeley of No. 106 Gillette street.

A daughter, Hope Bulkeley, was born yesterday to Mr. and Mrs. Bulkeley, of No. 106 Gillette street. The child is a granddaughter of former United States Senator Morgan G. Bulkeley.

A daughter, Nancy, was born yesterday at the Charter Oak Private Hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Houghton Bulkeley of Oxford street.

SEPTEMBER 19, 1921.

Two of Hartford's Interesting

SENATOR HOUGHTON TO BE BARRON

Son of En

Houghton in France the United States serving in the 101st Machine Gun Battalion, Central Postal Directory, as a messenger. He is the youngest son of former United States Senator Morgan G. Bulkeley. As a member of the Cavalry, he served in his brother's troop. He served in the Central Postal Directory in the 101st Machine Gun Battalion in France.

MISS ROBINA PARKER (LEFT) AND MISS CAROLINE PARKER, DAUGHTER OF SENATOR HOUGHTON

—[Photo

MRS HOUGHTON

Mrs. Bulkeley, with her husband, returned from Europe several months ago, with the 101st Machine Gun Battalion, California. Lieutenant and Mrs. Bulkeley have just returned from the Canadian Rockies and Alaska.

at Smith has received orders for active duty August 1st as best man tomorrow morning of Lieutenant Thomas as best man at Lieutenant's wedding yesterday, when he will be married at St. Baruch's Church, New York.

MR. AND MRS. GOLDMAN the son was given in 1880 their sold

WRITER IS BRIDE OF MR. PARKER.

June 30 1917
Pleasant Acquaintanceships in Hartford Enjoyed by Young Couple.

June 30 1917
A marriage of more than usual interest, was that of Miss Dorothy Rothschild of New York, a brilliant young writer, and Edwin Pond Parker, 2d, of New York, formerly of this city, son of Mr. and Mrs.

Sept 3 - Baker-Parker. 1917

Miss Ruth Stanton Parker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harris Parker of Evergreen avenue, and Charles Henry Baker, jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Henry Baker of Zellwood, Fla., were married last evening at 7 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents. The ceremony, which was attended by about seventy-five relatives and intimate friends, was performed by the bride's grandfather, Rev. Dr. Edwin Pond Parker, pastor emeritus of the South Congregational Church, who used the single-ring Episcopal service. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attended by Miss Pleasaunce Baker, sister of the bridegroom, as maid of honor, and there were no other bridal attendants. The best man was Newell Russell Sage of this city. The house was decorated with profusion of goldenrod and other wild flowers, palms and ferns. The bride wore a dress of white George crepe and filet lace, with a veil of tulle. She carried a bouquet of white asters. Her attendant wore blue silk evening dress, trimmed with Shadowlawn green. Her bouquet was also of asters. Following the ceremony, an informal reception was held and supper was served on the lawn, which was lighted by Japanese lanterns. Music was furnished by Miss Sage's Orchestra of five pieces. Mr. and Mrs. Baker left for an automobile trip, after which they will be at home in Utica, N. Y. The bride, who was graduated from the Hartford Public High School in 1914, was introduced to society two seasons ago. Last year she took a special course at the Hartford School of Religious Pedagogy. Mr. Baker was a member of the Eta Beta Chapter of Psi Upsilon. The best man, who is a member of the same fraternity, was graduated from Trinity College in 1915.

Interesting "Little Women" 1919

BAKER—In Utica, N. Y., October 27, 1918, Ruth, wife of Charles Baker, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harris Parker, aged 23 years. Funeral services at No. 48 Evergreen avenue, this city, Wednesday at two p. m. Burial private. Kindly omit flowers. Interment in Cedar Hill cemetery.

Mrs. Charles Baker.
On Sunday evening last, at Utica, N. Y., where was her new-made home, died of pneumonia, after a brief illness, Mrs. Ruth, wife of Charles Baker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harris Parker, and granddaughter of the late Dr. Edwin Pond Parker. In the twenty-third year of her age, and in the second year of her marriage. She was a bright, beautiful, winsome young woman, widely loved, and deservedly beloved; and her unexpected, and, as it would seem, timely translation hence, inflicts upon many relatives and her more numerous friends an almost immeasurable sorrow, softened only by the memory of her pure and lovely character and of her beautiful and happy life. May we apply to her the tender lines of the psalmist:
When maidens such as Hester die,
Their place ye may not well supply,
Though ye among a thousand try,
With vain endeavor.

sprightly neighbor! gone before that unknown and silent shore,
Will we not meet, as heretofore,
Some summer morning?
E. P. P.

The funeral of Mrs. Baker will be held at No. 48 Evergreen avenue, Wednesday afternoon, at 2 o'clock. The burial will be private. The Rev. Warren S. Archibald, pastor of the South Congregational church, will conduct the service.

WIVES OF MR. AND MRS. LEWIS D. PARKER OF NO. 633 PROSPECT AVE.

Goodwin, who also is in Castine for the summer. The bridegroom, who was graduated from Yale University in 1899, is in the insurance business ther

sold

BULKELEY-WHITMORE — In this city, Houghton Bulkeley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Morgan G. Bulkeley of Washington street, and Margaret, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Whitmore of Highland street, at St. John's Church, Wednesday, September 5, 1918.

Younger Son of Former U. S. Senator, Home on Furlough, Marries Miss Whitmore.

Hastened because of the war conditions, the wedding of Miss Margaret Whitmore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Whitmore of Highland street, and Houghton Bulkeley, younger son of former United States Senator Morgan G. Bulkeley and Mrs. Bulkeley, was listed in the city directory. He was a Whitmore and niece of Mrs. John Ostrom Enders and Mrs. William R. C. Corson.

Corporal Bulkeley and Mrs. Bulkeley will return to New London today, as it is thought the time is short before the troops leave for service elsewhere. The bride and her mother have been at Eastern Point for several weeks, previous to which she was the guest of Senator Bulkeley and Mrs. Bulkeley at their summer home at Fenwick. For the duration of the war, she will remain with her parents.

BULKELEY—In this city, February 21, 1920, a daughter, Hope, to Houghton and Margaret Whitmore Bulkeley of No. 106 Gillette street.

A daughter, Hope Bulkeley, was married yesterday to Mr. and Mrs. Bulkeley, of No. 106 Gillette street. The child is a granddaughter of former United States Senator Morgan G. Bulkeley and Mrs. Bulkeley.

A daughter, Nancy, was born yesterday at the Charter Oak Private Hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Houghton Bulkeley of Oxford street.

SEPTEMBER 19, 1921.

SENATOR HOUGHTON TO B BAN

Son of Ent

Houghton Bulkeley, youngest son of former United States Senator Morgan G. Bulkeley and Mrs. Bulkeley, was commissioned in the 101st Machine Gun Battalion, Cavalry, in France. He served in the Central Postal Directory, and was promoted to the rank of sergeant. He attended a training camp in France in July, and was commissioned in the 101st Machine Gun Battalion, Cavalry, in August. He served in the Central Postal Directory, and was promoted to the rank of sergeant. He attended a training camp in France in July, and was commissioned in the 101st Machine Gun Battalion, Cavalry, in August. He served in the Central Postal Directory, and was promoted to the rank of sergeant.

—[Photo of Mrs. Houghton Bulkeley]

MRS. HOUGHTON BULKELEY with her husband, Houghton Bulkeley, returned from a tour of the Canadian Rockies and Alaska, six months ago, with the 101st Machine Gun Battalion, Cavalry.

What's Your Answer?

One hundred million of us Americans banded together in April, 1917, to help rid the world of the evil we called "Prussianism."

The job is well in hand but not finished.

Are YOU going to quit, or, are you going to stick and subscribe for the "VICTORY" LIBERTY LOAN?

At any Bank—Cash or Installments.

Roy T. H. Barnes & Company

Richter & Exchange

Members of New York Exchange.

6 Central Row.

We Offer

American Hardware
Billings & Spence
Eagle Lock
North & Judd
Stanley Works

Thomson, Henn & Co.

10 CENTRAL ROW
Tel. Charter 8000.

If Your Conscience Is Clear This Is Your Last Chance to Make It So

officers' training and was commissioned in July. When the regular training of the 101st Machine Gun Battalion, Cavalry, was completed, he was assigned to the 101st Machine Gun Battalion, Cavalry, in France. He served in the Central Postal Directory, and was promoted to the rank of sergeant. He attended a training camp in France in July, and was commissioned in the 101st Machine Gun Battalion, Cavalry, in August. He served in the Central Postal Directory, and was promoted to the rank of sergeant.

at Smith has been selected for active duty tomorrow. He will act as best man tomorrow at the marriage of Lieutenant Thomson to Dorothy Mahoney of New York. The wedding will be held at St. Barnabas Church, New York.

WRITER IS BRIDE OF MR. PARKER.

June 30 1917
Pleasant Acquaintance-
ships in Hartford Enjoyed by Young Couple.

June 30 1917
A marriage of more than usual interest, was that of Miss Dorothy Rothschild of New York, a brilliant young writer, and Edwin Pond Parker, 2d, of New York, formerly of this city, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harris Parker of No. 48 Evergreen avenue and grandson of the Rev. Dr. Edwin Pond Parker, pastor emeritus of the South Congregational church. The engagement of the couple had been known for some time. The marriage took place Saturday, in New York. At the home of the bridegroom's parents it was understood the bridegroom expected to be called France shortly.

For several years the bride's verses and articles have appeared in well known publications. Recently she has become connected with Vogue and in its recent numbers delightful and humorous articles by her have appeared. She has frequently visited in Hartford as the guest of Mrs. William M. Newsom, of New York, cousin of the bridegroom, who was Miss Frances Billings of this city before her marriage, and who accompanied Miss Rothschild on a long trip to California on the winter of 1914. Miss Rothschild was the maid of honor at Miss Billings' marriage in 1915. Miss Rothschild has also visited Miss Ruth Parker, sister of the bridegroom.

Mr. Parker was captain of the hockey team during his course at the Hartford Public high school. He was formerly employed by a Hartford broker, but two months ago went to New York.

Mrs. Edwin Pond Parker, 2nd, of New York, who was formerly Miss Dorothy Rothschild, is spending week-ends, during the summer, at Indian Neck. Mr. Parker, who is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Harris Parker of Evergreen avenue, is training at Butler, N. J., for ambulance work in France.

COIT-BROWN—On September 6, 1917, at Trinity Chapel, Castine, Me., by the Rev. Thomas A. Conover, Helen, daughter of Mrs. Roswell Brown of Hartford Conn. to Richard M. Coit Miss Helen Brown, daughter of Mrs. Roswell W. Brown of Gillett street, and Richard M. Coit of Brooklyn, N. Y., were married yesterday at Trinity Chapel, Castine, Me., by the rector, Rev. Thomas A. Conover. Only the immediate relatives were present. The bride who has been spending the season at her mother's summer home in Castine, is ~~miss~~ of Mrs. James Goodwin, who also is in Castine for the summer. The bridegroom, who was graduated from Yale University in 1899, is in the insurance business

Sept 5 Baker-Parker. 1917

Miss Ruth Stanton Parker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harris Parker of Evergreen avenue, and Charles Henry Baker, jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Henry Baker of Zellwood, Fla., were married last evening at 7 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents. The ceremony, which was attended by about seventy-five relatives and intimate friends, was performed by the bride's grandfather, Rev. Dr. Edwin Pond Parker, pastor emeritus of the South Congregational Church, who used the single-ring Episcopal service. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attended by Miss Pleasance Baker, sister of the bridegroom, as maid of honor, and there were no other bridal attendants. The best man was Newell Russell Sage of this city. The house was decorated with a profusion of goldenrod and other wild flowers, palms and ferns. The bride wore a dress of white Georgette crepe and filet lace, with a veil of tulle. She carried a bouquet of white asters. Her attendant wore a blue silk evening dress, trimmed with Shadowlawn green. Her bouquet was also of asters. Following the ceremony, an informal reception was held and supper was served on the lawn, which was lighted by Japanese lanterns. Music was furnished by Miss Sage's Orchestra of three pieces. Mr. and Mrs. Baker left for an automobile trip, after which they will be at home in Utica, N. Y. The bride, who was graduated from the Hartford Public High School in 1914, was introduced to society two seasons ago. Last year she took a special course at the Hartford School of Religious Pedagogy. Mr. Baker was a member of the Beta Beta Chapter of Psi Upsilon. The best man, who is a member of the same fraternity, was graduated from Trinity College in 1915.

BAKER—In Utica, N. Y., October 27, 1918, Ruth, wife of Charles Baker, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harris Parker, aged 23 years. Funeral services at No. 48 Evergreen avenue, this city, Wednesday at two p. m. Burial private. Kindly omit flowers. Interment in Cedar Hill cemetery.

Mrs. Charles Baker.

On Sunday evening last, at Utica, N. Y., where was her new-made home, died of pneumonia, after a brief illness, Mrs. Ruth, wife of Charles Baker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harris Parker, and granddaughter of the Rev. Dr. Edwin Pond Parker, in the twenty-third year of her age, and in the second year of her marriage. She was a bright, beautiful, and winsome young woman, widely, warmly, and deservedly beloved; and her unexpected, and, as it would seem, untimely translation hence, inflicts upon her many relatives and her more numerous friends an almost immeasurable sorrow, softened only by the memory of her pure and lovely character and of her beautiful and happy life. May we not apply to her the tender lines of Charles Lamb?

When maidens such as Hester die,
Their place ye may not well supply,
Though ye among a thousand try,
With vain endeavor.

My sprightly neighbor! gone before
To that unknown and silent shore,
Shall we not meet, as heretofore,
Some summer morning?

E. P. P.

The funeral of Mrs. Baker will be held at No. 48 Evergreen avenue, Wednesday afternoon, at 2 o'clock. The burial will be private. The Rev. Warren S. Archibald, pastor of the South Congregational church, will conduct the service.

Sister

Richter Members of 6 Central Row.
We O American Billings
Eagle
North
Stanley
Barnes
any son, them 10 CENTRAL ROW

Tel. Charter 8000.
r Conscient
This Is You
nce to Mak

the sold

Sept 5 Indian Neck, Sept. 8. One of the most interesting events of the entire season at this bonnie bit of the Branford shore was the wedding of Miss Aley Elizabeth Hall, one of the most popular of the young set of the Hill colony, to Lieutenant Samuel Gourdin Gaillard of Philadelphia, Yale 1916.

Miss Hall chose the home church of her grandparents for her nuptials. There were no invitations. Trinity Church, Branford, was filled with friends of the bride and bridegroom for the ceremony, Wednesday at 12 o'clock. The wedding was one of the most significant ever solemnized in this church, because of the uniforms worn, giving a combination of love, patriotism, and loyalty all in one. The bride was simply beautiful in her wedding gown of ivory satin, with a wealth of old family lace. She wore court train, and her veil, in

GOLDEN WEDDING DAY.

Former State Treasurer
Roberts Celebrate
Event in Church and T

Canaan, September 6
Mrs. Edward S. Robert their golden wedding Tuesday, in the old h East Canaan, where fift they began housekeepin
After his return fro
War, where he served
Mr. Roberts married
Briggs. The ceremon

NEW HAVEN PAPERS PRAISE OSBORN SHOW

Editor's Son Scores Hit in
"The Sacrifice" at Hyperion.

The Hartford Times

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 24, 1920.

Innis G. Osborn, son of the editor of the New Haven Journal-Courier and himself a former well-known newspaper man, has written a play which is being presented by New Haven's theatrical stock company. He has had several efforts presented by amateurs, but this is the most pretentious offering of his work. Mr. Osborn is a man of much ability and the wide circle of his own friends, and those of his brilliant father, are pleased by the favorable comments of New Haven papers on his play. They will watch his future efforts with much interest and many good wishes. announcing in bright lines and full of laughter, tragedy and developments that thrill and amuse."

Housatonic lodge, No. 61

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Merriman of Litchfield, Celebrate and Attend State Fair.

Sept 1917

The Litchfield Enquirer says:
"Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Merriman, only 82 years young, celebrated their sixty-first wedding anniversary by visiting Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. Hart in West Avon last week. They attended the state fair at Charter Oak park, taking in the midway and all the exhibits, and 'Uncle Joe' especially the horse racing. They thought they deserved a little vacation as he does all the work on the farm and she makes the butter and does the house work.

"Their son, Elwin Merriman gave a reception in their honor at his home in Farmington and Mrs. Merriman, who was a daughter of the late Isaac Bradley of Plainville, spent a day at her old home there.

Sept 8 - 1917

The double wedding of the two eldest daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Albert

Miss Guilbert Marries Mr. Osborn; Hartford Girl Becomes the Bride Of New Haven Editor's Son.

Innis G. Osborn, son of Colonel Norris G. Osborn, editor of the New Haven Journal Courier, has entered the New York theatrical field. Mr. Osborn, who was formerly engaged in newspaper work in New Haven was recently secretary to Mayor David E. Fitzgerald of New Haven. In 1917, he was married to Miss Regina E. Gilbert of No. 99 Cleveland avenue, this city.

Month and Wedding Ap-Families on Both Sides—

1920 nt.

Sept. 9, 1917.

A marriage which came as a surprise to many people and was unexpected by immediate relatives of the bride and bridegroom, was that of Miss Regina Emily Guilbert, of this city, daughter of Mrs. Lydia M. Guilbert of No. 99 Cleveland avenue, and the late John Guilbert, and Innis G. Osborn of New Haven, son of Colonel Norris G. Osborn, editor of the New Haven Journal-Courier, and Mrs. Osborn, whose home in that city is at No. 239 Bradley street which took place Sunday evening at the home of the Rev. Dr. Arthur H. Goodenough, a Methodist minister, in New Haven. The ceremony was witnessed only by Mr. and Mrs. Tyler H. Bliss of this city who acted as attendants.

Colonel Osborn, widely known as a newspaper man. Young Mr. Osborn attended Yale university, and afterward went into newspaper work being connected with the New York Herald, the New Haven Journal-Courier, and the New Haven Register. He was at one time in the employ of the Southern New England Telephone company, and edited the Telephone Bulletin. His family is one of the most prominent, socially, in New Haven, and he is one of five children of Colonel and Mrs. Osborn, the others being Minott A., Gardner and Katherine Osborn, and Mrs. E. M. Bristol, of New York, who was formerly Miss Dorothy Osborn.

The marriage of his brother, Gardner Osborn, and Miss Margaret Robinson, daughter of Mrs. Leoni W. Robinson of New Haven, which took place last October, was one of the most important society events of the season in that city. Colonel Osborn, the father, is a member of the Sons of the American Revolution and of the Founders and Patriots of America. He is president of the board of directors of the Connecticut state prison and a member of the board of parole. The family has many friends in Hartford.

At the Osborn home in New Haven to-day it was said that Innis Osborn had not been there since Saturday and no directions to reaching him could be given.

At the home of the bride, to-day, it was said the couple had been engaged for a month, having met while Mrs. Osborn was on her vacation, at Sound View, but that the wedding had not been expected to occur so soon. The bride is a Roman Catholic, and has been employed as bookkeeper at the office of the Plimpton Manufacturing company. The bridegroom, who is an Episcopalian, is the eldest son of

LIFE OF SOLDIER IN MICHIGAN CAMP.

Ralph C. Bulkley, Formerly of Hartford, Writes to Friend.

Sept. 10, 1917.
A breezy letter has been received by a friend in this city from a well known former Hartford man, Ralph C. Bulkley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarendon C. Bulkley, of No. 72 Deerfield avenue. Mr. Bulkley, who was formerly in the automobile sundries line in this city and in Detroit; enlisted August 14 in Troop B, First Michigan Cavalry, now in camp at Grayling, Mich.

"Rather than get caught in the draft, I beat them to it," he writes. "The whole command left Detroit the following night. I really didn't know I would pass the physical

TENT AND OLDEST GIN MILL
CLOSE KENTUCKY WAS SLOW Has Been EIGHT MONTHS BEHIND Agawan
Made Liquor
H. PORTER GOT FLYING STAR

Blue Grass Claim to Antiquity
Riddled by Local Manager Who Says 1781 Wasn't Old Enough

Although Springfield and the Connecticut valley knew it not, last week they witnessed the passing of a national celebrity. When the government inspectors for the duration of the war, if not forever, sealed up the

THE OLD AGAWAM DISTILLERY, RETIRED AFTER 137 YEARS OF GIN-MAKING

because I get about 1,000 of them a day. It seems to be their favorite food up here. But I am thriving, so why worry! At last I've got a job from which they can't fire me and am sure of three squares a day and no kick. You may show the enclosed snapshot to anybody in Hartford who doubts my being a regular 'major.' Regards to all my friends in Hartford."

| | | | | | |
|-------------|----|---|----|---|---|
| LONG, J. | 1 | 0 | 0 | 0 | 0 |
| Smyth, I | 1 | 0 | 0 | 0 | 0 |
| Smith, m | 4 | 1 | 0 | 1 | 0 |
| Miller, 2 | 2 | 2 | 1 | 2 | 0 |
| Hornsb, s | 4 | 1 | 1 | 1 | 0 |
| Cruise, r | 4 | 0 | 1 | 0 | 1 |
| Paulette, I | 4 | 1 | 1 | 3 | 0 |
| Baird, B | 4 | 1 | 3 | 2 | 0 |
| Snyder, c | 4 | 0 | 2 | 1 | 0 |
| Packard, p | 3 | 0 | 0 | 2 | 0 |
| Gonzales, * | 1 | 1 | 0 | 0 | 0 |
| Total | 34 | 7 | 24 | 9 | 1 |

This Pepper had advertised that the discovery of good old pioneer-m. n.'s water-colored "sperrits" at his plant was dated sometime in the spring of 1781. Atkinson saw it, and in one fuming monosyllable vowed he would teach one citizen of the crude new west his place.

He knew what he was after, and he past twenty-five years, when the profits on it began to fade.

ter com
at leas career o
United sep open again in the gin
old Har evidenc
the big uebec to e service

w years
aged for pers and ed local pep" for started actions

ay, lived ion near ground ed of a ntiquities
took it
his own rade pa
7 in the

the H
had a has him
L. P. At about an service
uns back

Sept 5 Indian Neck, Sept. 8.
 One of the most interesting events of the entire season at this bonnie bit of the Branford shore was the wedding of Miss Aley Elizabeth Hall, one of the most popular of the young set of the Hill colony, to Lieutenant Samuel Gourdin Gaillard of Philadelphia, Yale 1916.

Miss Hall chose the home church of her grandparents for her nuptials. There were no invitations. Trinity Church, Branford, was filled with friends of the bride and bridegroom for the ceremony, Wednesday at 12 o'clock. The wedding was one of the most significant ever solemnized in this church, because of the uniforms worn, giving a combination of love, patriotism, and loyalty all in one. The bride was simply beautiful in her wedding gown of ivory satin, with a wealth of old family lace. She wore court train, and her veil, in

GOLDEN WEDDING DAY.

Boy and Oregon had have had. It looks as if the horse breeders and the racing interests generally in the Northwest were short-sighted when they allowed the champion of all champion pacing stallions, Hal B., to be taken away from Oregon when a few hundred dollars would have kept him there. One lone breeder with a small amount of capital took Hal B. down South and is reaping a golden harvest, charging $200 for his breeding services.

ALWAYS TRIES NEW PLAYERS

New Pilot for Club Rarely Keeps Team Personnel Unchanged

Getting results with what a retiring manager has left behind is far from an easy task. For this reason the average manager who steps into the boots of a retiring pilot sets about to build up his own machine and there are two instances of this kind in the National league to-day—the Cubs and the Reds.

When Fred Mitchell took hold of the reins at Chicago he said he believed he had the nucleus for a winner. He took a squad of some 40 players to the coast this spring and weeded out the ones who looked best, but for all of that the talent he inherited was practically all lined up before he became manager. That Mitchell will make a better showing with the Cubs than did his predecessor, Joe Tinker, is the general belief, yet within a season or two the club he inherited this year will have passed, and new players will be holding down most of the regular positions. Mitchell had to take the Cubs as they stood, and remodeling the team will take time.

isty Mathewson stepped into the arena shoes at Cincinnati to ride the circle of his attendants. Those of his brilliant w... eased by the favor... of New Haven... They will watch... with much interest... shes. lines and full of... and developments... is a... G... played as bookkeeper at the office of the Plimpton Manufacturing company. The bridegroom, who is an Episcopalian, is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Merriman of Litchfield, Celebrate and Attend State Fair.

Sept 1917
 The Litchfield Enquirer says:

"Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Merriman, only 82 years young, celebrated their sixty-first wedding anniversary by visiting Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. Hart in West Avon last week. They attended the state fair at Charter Oak park, taking in the midway and all the exhibits, and 'Uncle Joe' especially the horse racing. They thought they deserved a little vacation as he does all the work on the farm and she makes the butter and does the house work.

"Their son, Elwin Merriman gave a reception in their honor at his home in Farmington and Mrs. Merriman, who was a daughter of the late Isaac Bradley of Plainville, spent a day at her old home there.

Sept 8 - 1917
 The double wedding of the two eldest daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Albert

| Pittsbur. | | Total | |
|-----------|-----------------------|-------|--------------|
| Total | 34 10 27 11 0 | Total | 33 6 27 18 3 |
| New York | 0 2 0 2 1 0 0 0 0 0 5 | | |
| Boston | 0 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 | | |

Runs, Burns, J. Smith, Holke, Sallee 2, Tyler. Two-base hits, Trageser, Tyler, Stolen base, Maranville. Left on bases, New York 11, Boston 8. First base on errors, New York 5. First base on balls, off Sallee 3, off Ragan 5, off Allen 4. Hits and earned runs, off Sallee, 6 and 1 run in 9 innings; off Ragan, 5 and 2 in 4; off Allen, 5 and 1 in 5. Struck out, by Sallee 3, by Ragan 1, by Allen 3. Umpires, Rigler and Bransfield. Time, 1h 48m. *Batted for Allen in ninth.

REDS TAKE SWATFEST

Jacobs Is Put Out Then Cincinnati Hammers Grimes

Cincinnati won a heavy hitting contest from Pittsburg at Cincinnati yesterday, 7 to 6. The Cards went into an early lead with Jacobs apparently holding Cincinnati well in hand, but after the first man up in the third inning, Jacobs passed the next batter and kicked himself out of the game on the fourth called ball. Grimes, who succeeded him in the box, was hit hard. The score:—

| CINCINNATI | | | | | PITTSBURG | | | | |
|-------------|----|---|----|-----|-------------|----|---|----|-----|
| | ab | h | po | a e | | ab | h | po | a e |
| Groh, 3 | 5 | 2 | 0 | 3 0 | Pitler, 2 | 4 | 0 | 1 | 2 1 |
| McKee's, s | 4 | 1 | 3 | 3 0 | Mollwitz, 1 | 5 | 2 | 9 | 1 0 |
| Roush, m | 2 | 1 | 2 | 0 0 | King, r | 4 | 0 | 1 | 1 0 |
| Griffith, r | 3 | 2 | 9 | 1 0 | Carey, m | 5 | 2 | 4 | 0 0 |
| Griffith, r | 4 | 1 | 2 | 0 0 | Ward, s | 4 | 2 | 4 | 4 0 |
| Neale, l | 2 | 1 | 2 | 0 0 | Bigbee, l | 4 | 2 | 0 | 0 0 |
| Shean, 2 | 4 | 1 | 3 | 2 0 | Boeckel, 3 | 4 | 3 | 3 | 0 0 |
| Wingo, c | 2 | 0 | 5 | 1 0 | Schmidt, c | 4 | 2 | 2 | 3 0 |
| Eller, p | 3 | 1 | 0 | 1 0 | Jacobs, p | 2 | 0 | 0 | 2 0 |
| Mitchell, l | 1 | 1 | 1 | 0 0 | Grimes, p | 2 | 1 | 0 | 0 0 |
| | | | | | Jackson, * | 1 | 0 | 0 | 0 0 |
| | | | | | Fischer, t | 0 | 0 | 0 | 0 0 |

Total. 30 11 27 11 0 Total. 30 14 24 13 1
 Cincinnati 0 0 0 3 1 2 0 -7
 Pittsburg 0 1 0 2 0 1 2 0 -6

Runs, Groh, McKechnie 2, Roush, Magee 3, Carey, Ward, Bigbee 3, Boeckel. Two-base hits, McKechnie, Groh. Three-base hit, Boeckel.

The White Sox had the best of last week off. And they had another little vacation at the American league season, have gained time on the off by playing Sunday games. The Sox will wind up October 1, 10 days before the big series start. The Giants will close their national league campaign October 1 until the grand clash they little to worry them.

THE RED SOX have not thrown themselves out yet. Manager Barry sees a chance in the White Sox starting Friday. If other things happen before the Chicago-Boston games do not so large as they used to. Too great a lead now and too steady a clip. The White Sox finish up at home to-day and then to the road for a run of that will end their season. So confident of staying on top they have announced Eddie Collins their pitching choice for the with New York.

THE DOUBLE A LEAGUE

International and the American Association, may not have been successful this season from a financial standpoint, but they have been attracting unusual interest because of the pennant races. The league season closes to-day in that city. Colonel Osborn, the father, is a member of the Sons of the American Revolution and of the Founders and Patriots of America. He is president of the board of directors of the Connecticut state prison and a member of the board of parole. The family has many friends in Hartford. New Haven to-day it was said that Innis Osborn had not been there since Saturday and no directions for reaching him could be given.

VIEW HAD PRAISE

Editor's Say "The"

The H

FRIDAY,

Innis G. C... of the New... and himself... newspaper... which is be... Haven's the... He has ha... sented by a... most preten... work. Mr. C... ability and... own friends, a... liant father, a... orable commen... papers on his p... his future effor... and many good... announcing in... laughter, traged... that thrill and

LIFE OF SOLDIER IN MICHIGAN CAMP.

Ralph C. Bulkley, Formerly of Hartford, Writes to Friend.

Sept. 10, 1917

A breezy letter has been received by a friend in this city from a well known former Hartford man, Ralph C. Bulkley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarendon C. Bulkley, of No. 72 Deerfield avenue. Mr. Bulkley, who was formerly in the automobile sundries line in this city and in Detroit; enlisted August 14 in Troop B, First Michigan Cavalry, now in camp at Grayling, Mich.

"Rather than get caught in the draft, I beat them to it," he writes. "The whole command left Detroit the following night. I really didn't suppose I would pass the physical examination because of my ankle, which was far from strong, when I was in Hartford last June. However the M. D., after going all over me pronounced me a perfect specimen and I am now learning to catch German bullets in my teeth. They sure have dragged us around out here, but it is great training and I can honestly say I never felt better in my life.

"Since arriving here I have appointed myself troop commander and so am getting along first rate. One thing is certain I never knew what work was before. I think if I ever get out of here I ought to be a valuable man for some one as I can do a week's work in about two days. Grayling is a small place and I have been into the village only once. If we stay here another week I am going into Detroit and hear a few jazz bands. There Three Michigan regiments are going soon to Waco, Texas, but lately there has been a report about that we are going to Battle Creek to do guard duty at the concentration camp. Another rumor is that this troop will be sent to some remount station in the east, when I might have a chance to get to Mayor Hagarty's town.

"The past few days we have had rifle practice and so far the Germans have nothing to fear on my account. Keep this secret, though. In my short time in the army I have learned that there are only three interesting calls—mess call, recall from drill and pay call. So far I haven't heard the last yet but it is due within a day or two. I am getting the large sum of thirty beans a month. I ought not to have used that expression 'beans,' because I get about 1,000 of them a day. It seems to be their favorite food up here. But I am thriving, so why worry! At last I've got a job from which they can't fire me and am sure of three squares a day and no kick. You may show the enclosed snapshot to anybody in Hartford who doubts my being a regular 'major.' Regards to all my friends in Hartford."

OLDEST GIN MILL

CLOSE

Has Been Agawan
Made Liqueur

KENTUCKY WAS SLOW

EIGHT MONTHS BEHIND

H. PORTER GOT FLYING STAR

Blue Grass Claim to Antiquity
Riddled by Local Manager Who Says 1781 Wasn't Old Enough

Schmie, Carey, Schmidt, Sacrifice fly, Wingo, and Magee. Left on Cincinnati 6. First base First base on balls. 1, off Eller 1. Hits Jacobs, 1 and 2 in 3 (fourth); off Grimes, 10 4 and 6 in 9. Hit by Magee. Struck out, by Mulgley. Time, 2h 33a. nth. †Batted for King

PACKARD

finished by Schick Hendrix by Schick and the ing of Hendrix en- defeat St Louis, 4 Chicago. The Cubs tunately, and earned s. Two walks and Cards from a shut- t two runners at was hit on the p and retired from core:—

ST LOUIS

| | | |
|--------------|-------------|--|
| Long, 1 | ab h po a c | |
| Smith, 1 | 3 0 3 0 0 | |
| Smith, m | 1 0 0 0 0 | |
| Miller, 2 | 4 1 0 1 0 | |
| Miller, 2 | 2 2 1 2 0 | |
| Hornsby, s | 4 1 1 1 0 | |
| Cruise, r | 4 0 1 0 1 | |
| Paullette, 1 | 4 1 13 0 0 | |
| Baird, 3 | 4 1 3 2 0 | |
| Snyder, c | 4 0 2 1 0 | |
| Packard, p | 3 0 2 2 0 | |
| Gonzales, * | 1 1 0 0 0 | |
| Total, | 34 7 24 9 1 | |
| 0 0 1 1 0 | — 4 | |
| 0 0 0 0 1 | 0—1 | |

Although Springfield and the Connecticut valley knew it not, last week they witnessed the passing of a national celebrity. When the government inspectors for the duration of the war, if not forever, sealed up the machinery of the Harvey Porter company, distillers, they closed at least the distinctive part of the career of the oldest distillery in the United States. The old plant may keep open for yeast making. But never again in all probability will it make the gin which 137 years ago brought old Harvey Porter fame as far as Providence and which is known now in the big liquor jobbing houses from Quebec to San Francisco.

About this "oldest in active service legend," there was some few years back a bitter controversy. Waged for the most part in the trade papers and conventions, it never attracted local notice, but it did not lack "pep" for this reason. The whole thing started as the result of the upstartish actions of one Pepper of Kentucky.

This Pepper who, by the way, lived in the famous blue grass region near Daniel Boone's old stamping ground of Lexington, and who derived of a family as old, as Kentucky antiques go, as the Boones themselves, took it upon himself to advertise his own thriving whisky mill in the trade papers as "the oldest distillery in the United States."

Unfortunately for Pepper, the H. Porter company of Agawan had a manager at that time—and has him still, for that matter—one E. P. Atkinson, who knew a little bit about antiques himself. His own service with the Porter corporation runs back to 1868, and he ought to.

This Pepper had advertised that the discovery of good old pioneersman's water-colored "sperrits" at his plant was dated sometime in the spring of 1781. Atkinson saw it, and in one fuming monosyllable vowed he would teach one citizen of the crude new west his place.

He knew what he was after, and he past twenty-five years, when the profits on it began to fade.

PLAYWRIGHT'S WIFE REPRESENTS STAGE WOMEN'S WAR RELIEF IN THIS VICINITY

WILLIAM A. BR.
PARAM

EVERY DAY THIS WEEK

MMA

PLAYERS

20 JANUARY

ATTACHE

...the leading lady, and a marriage with a German prince, for names of streets, parks and the-Antonie Baranno, not satisfied with America. the success of his score is at work support the star are Thomas Meighan, Edward J. Radcliffe, Robert Vivian, Bobbie Connelly, the boy actor, Rob-Harms & Co.
usual composing another score for T. B.

DAUGHTERS OF WEATOGUE

Old Estate in Simsbury Being Turned Into Very Interesting Curriculum.—Plan to Combine Golf, Polo and Tennis

(Special to The Courant)
SIMSBURY, Sunday, Sept. 7.

Westminster School will open Wednesday, September 24. There are to be several changes in the policy and management which will be announced later with the changes in faculty.

Miss Walker's School for girls will open October 1, although the new pupils are not expected until October 3. It is hoped to have the Emily Cluett House, formerly "The Grange," the property of Walter Phelps Dodge, and recently presented to the school in memory of Emily Cluett of Troy, N. Y., who was a pupil at the school, ready for the seniors at the opening of school. As there are ninety-two pupils enrolled for the coming year, the school will need all available rooms. Dr. and Mrs. Josiah Bridge of this place are both to be members of the faculty this year. Dr. Bridge has been connected with the Westminster School for many years, but has done much tutoring in the Walker School ever since it was established here. Another addition to the faculty will be Miss Leontine Dickenson of Weatogue, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Dickenson of that place, who was recently graduated from the Boston School of Elocution.

There is a spacious old mansion on the estate, which is being remodeled

STOR, CONNECTICUT, S
UNE BY "999

A Spacious Interior.

There will be lots of room in the remodeled mansion with the new wing, which will be utilized chiefly for school rooms and the sleeping

ing. A shelter will be erected near the skating pond also. house on the Farmington River for canoeing and a bathhouse for bath- ing. A shelter will be erected near the point of view of the estate, which is always an advantage. There will also be a boat- house on the Farmington River for parents. The view from the mansion is wonderful, over a wide expanse of meadow and waving corn, planted down to the river across a skating pond flanked by innumerable trees. The middle of the old building is

ing day. The school is two miles from the railroad station in Simsbury, along the Bushy Hill road, which will be better when it is finished. The school will probably make use of the station at Weatogue, however, as this is only a mile, and can be largely approached over the school grounds. Private and special facilities will be given by the railroad. The Bushy Hill district is southwest from the center of Simsbury, and is on high land opposite the Farmington River from Talcott Mountain. The view from the mansion is wonderful, over a wide expanse of meadow and waving corn, planted down to the river across a skating pond flanked by innumerable trees. The middle of the old building is

ing day. The school is two miles from the railroad station in Simsbury, along the Bushy Hill road, which will be better when it is finished. The school will probably make use of the station at Weatogue, however, as this is only a mile, and can be largely approached over the school grounds. Private and special facilities will be given by the railroad. The Bushy Hill district is southwest from the center of Simsbury, and is on high land opposite the Farmington River from Talcott Mountain. The view from the mansion is wonderful, over a wide expanse of meadow and waving corn, planted down to the river across a skating pond flanked by innumerable trees. The middle of the old building is

ing day. The school is two miles from the railroad station in Simsbury, along the Bushy Hill road, which will be better when it is finished. The school will probably make use of the station at Weatogue, however, as this is only a mile, and can be largely approached over the school grounds. Private and special facilities will be given by the railroad. The Bushy Hill district is southwest from the center of Simsbury, and is on high land opposite the Farmington River from Talcott Mountain. The view from the mansion is wonderful, over a wide expanse of meadow and waving corn, planted down to the river across a skating pond flanked by innumerable trees. The middle of the old building is

ing day. The school is two miles from the railroad station in Simsbury, along the Bushy Hill road, which will be better when it is finished. The school will probably make use of the station at Weatogue, however, as this is only a mile, and can be largely approached over the school grounds. Private and special facilities will be given by the railroad. The Bushy Hill district is southwest from the center of Simsbury, and is on high land opposite the Farmington River from Talcott Mountain. The view from the mansion is wonderful, over a wide expanse of meadow and waving corn, planted down to the river across a skating pond flanked by innumerable trees. The middle of the old building is ing day. The school is two miles from the railroad station in Simsbury, along the Bushy Hill road, which will be better when it is finished. The school will probably make use of the station at Weatogue, however, as this is only a mile, and can be largely approached over the school grounds. Private and special facilities will be given by the railroad. The Bushy Hill district is southwest from the center of Simsbury, and is on high land opposite the Farmington River from Talcott Mountain. The view from the mansion is wonderful, over a wide expanse of meadow and waving corn, planted down to the river across a skating pond flanked by innumerable trees. The middle of the old building is

BUYS SIMSBURY HOME AS MEMORIAL

Cluett Family of Troy, N. Y., Presents It to Ethel Walker School.

(Special to The Courant.)
SIMSBURY, Sunday, Aug. 10.
 The Walter Dodge house in Bushy Hill, known as The Grange, has been bought by the Cluett family of Troy N. Y., and presented to the Ethel Walker School as a memorial to their daughter, Emily Cluett, a student of the school, who died during the influenza epidemic last fall. It will be known as the Emily Cluett House.

1917
 1919

THE SEPTEMBER FROST.

It will be forgotten within a few years but, notwithstanding that, the frost of last week was in its way almost as surprising as the September gale of a little more than a century ago. For that matter it may have caused as much damage. There have been frosts in Connecticut before as early as that of last Tuesday, but it is doubtful if any one now living can recall one of equal severity as early in the month.

It was a shabby trick on the part of nature to send the frost this year in view of the lateness of the spring for it caught most farm crops before they had reached maturity and the damage was therefore much greater than it would have been in a normal season, if there is such a thing as a normal season. It was as mysterious in its work as a hail storm and, in towns adjoining this city, some gardens were ruined while others within 500 feet were untouched. Again, it is generally assumed that farms along the shore are not damaged by frost when those inland are hard hit, but in this case the shore towns from New Haven east suffered more than those between Saybrook and Hartford.

One crop which suffered and of which "The Courant" has seen no mention was buckwheat. The state's agricultural college and other agencies had urged an increased acreage and farmers throughout the state had responded and their labor had gone for naught inasmuch as 80 per cent. of the fields were ruined. Even a moderate frost renders a field of buckwheat worthless and very little buckwheat, we take it, had ripened.

The frost serves to emphasize the fact that farming in New England is to a considerable degree, a game of chance in which the odds are against the farmer. He knows that nature will crop if she chooses.

FROST NIPS CROPS IN MANY STATES

Washington, Sept. 11.—The present cold snap, extending from the Mississippi River eastward to the Atlantic coast and South as far as Virginia, is expected to moderate by Wednesday when the weather bureau predicts a general rise in temperatures will be felt.

There were general frosts this morning from the upper Mississippi Valley eastward to the New England states and as far south as the District of Columbia and northern Virginia.

Killing Frosts in North New England.

Boston, Sept. 11.—A killing frost at Concord, N. H., was reported by the weather bureau here today along with advices which showed that the cold weather last night extended throughout New England. Lowest temperatures were recorded in sections remote from the coast. The mercury dropped to 30 degrees at Concord. The minimum was 26 at Northfield, Vt. where the frost also was heavy, and while points in western Massachusetts, make no official reports to the local bureau, the forecaster said that unusually low figures for the first half of September probably were reached.

Portland, Me., reported a light frost with a minimum temperature of 38, while Eastport, with the same reading, got through the night without frost. Boston's low was 40 degrees. There was a light frost in towns nearby, but none here.

Connecticut Valley Suffers.

Springfield, Mass., Sept. 11.—Uncut tobacco in the Connecticut Valley suffered severely by this morning's frost, though detailed figures are still lacking. Though the bulk of the unprotected leaf has been cut, considerable remains in the fields. The Cuba-Connecticut Tobacco Company, said to be the largest growers in this state, with 300 acres under cultivation, lost nothing, as all but thirteen acres which had been cut are shade grown and therefore protected.

Heavy losses are reported from the Westfield-Southwick district and as far north as Sunderland. Temperatures as low as 32 degrees were reported here.

Ice in Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Sept. 11.—Ice formed on small bodies of water in this vicinity last night for the first time this season and the earliest in many years, causing heavy damage to unharvested garden crops. The mercury dropped to 28 degrees above zero.

Damage in Orange Co., N. Y.

Middletown, N. Y., Sept. 11.—There was a heavy frost throughout this section last night. Many vegetable gardens were destroyed and reports from adjoining counties say the damage is heavy.

Ice in North Virginia.

30 Deg. Winchester, Va., Sept. 11.—Heavy frost was reported from many points in northern Virginia this morning in Pennsylvania. Ice formed in some places done to tobacco and other plants. The temperature fell to 30 in the

JAMES W. PAIGE LANDS IN POORHOUSE

Father of Invention in Which Mark Twain Lost
Large Amount.

1917

$200,000 in Good Hartford Gold Expended for One Typesetting Machine, a Commercial Failure.

Mark Twain Put $100,000 Into Venture—Samuel E.
Elmore Only Living Director of Company Which Spent a Quarter Million 40 Years Ago.

About $250,000 in Hartford money was sunk in a typesetting machine back in the early seventies and probably the heaviest loser in this venture was "Mark Twain," the late Samuel L. Clemens, who saw great possibilities in the Paige machine which was promoted in this city by the Farnham Typesetting company. Samuel E. Elmore of No. 98 Farmington avenue, formerly president of the Connecticut River Banking company, says he believes he is the only director of the defunct company now living.

According to Mr. Elmore, interest in Hartford in the manufacture of a typesetting machine was stimulated by an invention of J. H. Most, a piano manufacturer who had a shop on Main street, "below the little bridge." Most contrived a machine which brought the types down to their proper place in channels, somewhat similar to the way in which the Mergenthaler of today releases its matrices. The invention of Most worked well, very well, it is said, and the Farnham Typesetter company was organized with a capital of about $100,000. Mr. Elmore was one of the original stockholders, and has his stock certificates yet.

The principal managers of the company, 1872 to 1874, were Dr. George B. Hawley, one of the founders of the Hartford hospital, and Stiles E. Sperry, then treasurer of the State Savings bank. After testing out the possibilities of the Most machine these gentlemen got in touch with Inventor Paige who already had a machine, which at the present day is on exhibition at Columbia institute, New York. They wanted Paige to combine the elements of the two machines, and he came to Hartford and worked up a combination machine. It was a wonderful invention, Mr. Elmore says, and worked nicely. Mark Twain became interested to a great extent and ultimately put about $100,000 into it as an addition to the capital of the Farnham company, which had been increased to about $150,000. In fact Clemens was so sanguine of the success of the machine that he invested all the money he could spare.

Two or three times it seemed as though the inventor had the machine on a commercial basis, but each time some new device would appear necessary and improvements were continually added. Finally, one machine was completed at the

on exhib-ilding on re hotel
rful piece
ed perfect hen came was too ould have 5,000 and manufacture ide a big afford to Clemens
one for a
vere built,
hich cost removed ng, and is ornell uni-
Among the Farn-William a well-Wolcott,
mes Nich-

of Boston
ols, late president of the National Fire Insurance company.

An early attempt to make a machine for setting up ordinary foundry type was patented in England by Dr. William Church, in 1822. Then came one machine after another up to 1871, including the Fraser, the Hattersley and the Empire, the latter also known as the Burr machine. The Thorne did not come in until 1878. One of the Empire machines, which gathered its types by a system of niches and distributed to the ordinary type case, was in use in a job printing shop in Raleigh, N. C., as late as 1901. Speaking of the Paige machines the Encyclopedia Britannica says:

"The Paige composing, justifying and distributing machine—an American invention—is one of the most remarkable pieces of mechanism ever put together. It contains 18,000 parts, and the patent specifications form an imposing volume. It is operated by keys in the ordinary way, but automatic mechanism advances the ejected letters in words, spaces them and inserts the lines in the galley with leads if desired; at the same time other mechanism automatically distributes the dead matter and refills the tubes which contain the supplies of type.

"Two machines were made and are said to have done good work, but the cost of construction and the complicated nature of the mechanism made the apparatus impracticable commercially, and the two that were made are now on view as mechanical curiosities, the one in the Columbia institute and other in Cornell university. The Paige machine dispensed with the guide plate of the Delcambre group, the letters being ejected on a plane along which a driver passed at intervals, and swept the type into a receiving race on the left of the machine. The Dow machine, a later American invention, adopts this characteristic of the Paige."

MIDNIGHT AMBUSH IN SUCHA VALLEY BY BOLSHEVISTS

NOVEMBER 2, 1919.

Dr. Kibby Tells of Bloody Massacre by Treacherous Enemy.

MACHINE GUN PLAYED ON PLATOON ASLEEP

West Hartford Physician Saw Life on Morningside of World.

How men in a platoon of Company A, 126th Infantry, United States Army, were wiped out in an ugly night fight in April in Sucha Valley in Siberia, not far from the Manchurian boundary, having been ambushed by Bolshevik guerillas, is the gruesome story Dr. Sydney Vernon Kibby of West Hartford told "The Courant" yesterday. The American fighters were asleep in "pup" tents, with but one sentinel on guard, when the assailants sneaked around the base of the hill at midnight and stabbed the man on watch, preventing an outcry. Then the raiders planted a machine gun and opened fire on the soldiers, still sleeping, killing or wounding all but twenty-four. The survivors made their escape to a farmhouse, where they held at bay many times their own number. Had the Bolsheviks rushed this gallant little band, beyond doubt they would have wiped it out completely, but, in the attack, they would have suffered severely and the knowledge of that certainly prevented the attack.

The survivors were finally rescued by brother soldiers from America. When their assailants withdrew, the dead left behind exceeded the full platoon which had been ambushed. The soldiers recognized among the dead a number of natives whom they had fed and aided with Red Cross supplies.

Two nights later a Bolshevik force was arranging an attack on American soldiers again in the same valley, but the commander of the soldiers had a surprise ready in the shape of a trench. The bugler blew "taps" as usual at the tents a short distance away and then the men took to their tents, but after dark they silently crept to the trench, and took post, rifles in hand and on the alert for the enemy. Soon they saw the sneaking Bolsheviks advancing toward the tents and turn a machine gun on the shelter half tents. It was now the turn of the Americans and they cast loose with their rifles and, in a trice, the treacherous Bolsheviks were running for any cover around.

DR. SIDNEY V. KIBBY.

the insular group. He was psychiatrist and neurologist in the department hospital, corner of the Calle Arroceros and the Calle Concepcion. He was senior in the medical service and so chief of that service.

Met Miss Hoffman.

While in Manila Lieutenant Kibby met Miss Gertrude Hoffman, a Red Cross nurse from Hartford, a Red Cross nurse from Hartford, and of Russian birth. During his work there the city had the most serious epidemic of cholera it had experienced in ten years. It also had the most extraordinary rainfall in a number of seasons. In five days more rain fell than Hartford sees in a year. In the year 220 inches of rain fell and at times the Passig River flowed up into the Escolta.

Saw Girl Bride.

Lieutenant Kibby attended the reception given for Governor-General Burton Harrison and his 19-years-old bride, who was Miss Elizabeth Wrentmore, daughter of Professor Wrentmore of the University of the Philippines. He met Manuel Queson, speaker of the House of Representatives, and President Palma of the Senate. Lieutenant Kibby says that the question of independence is a live matter among Filipinos of a certain type, but he argues that the people are not yet ready for it.

September 8 Lieutenant Kibby sailed from Manila on the army transport Thomas and on the way to San Francisco the ship touched at Guam and Honolulu. The officer saw in Guam a place little visited even by world belters in search of out of the way nooks. He tells that the island

Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Blumenthal of Wethersfield Given Reception at Their Home on Jordan Lane.

Special to The Times.

Wethersfield, September 12.

A pleasant event in Wethersfield yesterday was the reception given last evening by Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Blumenthal at their home on Jordan lane in honor of the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage. The receiving hours were from 6 to 10 o'clock and a large number called during that time to extend the congratulations. Mr. and Mrs. Dona very prettily have given up the lawn and cut flower valling. The dining room being a large yellow chrysanthe...

Mr. and Mrs. Blumenthal were assisted by Miss Fannie Blumenthal. An orchestra played throughout the evening. The large grounds surrounding the house have been wired and lights with the lawn for the but the weather low any out-of-door...

The couple received some gifts in the form of flowers and...

Mr. and Mrs. Blumenthal were married fifty years ago by the Rev. Mr. South Baptist church...

DOCTOR LEA

John Carter Ro

for Indiana a Medical Reser

Dr. John Carter Ro... Forest street, W... missed first li... ical Reserve c... this afternoon... cers' training c... min Harrison, I... been practising... eight years. ... from Harvard c... the Harvard M... and has been j... teriologist at t... one of the a... sicians. Mrs. F... Sarah Dunham... and their child who keep their old Hartford this w... has been comm... cal Reserve cor... lan Miller of N... who has been r... left Thursday fo... Dr. Miller had... summer at Ind... Miller will retur...

Youth and Age in Surgery

The award of the Boston Surgical Society's Henry Jacob Bigelow gold medal to Dr William J. Mayo of Rochester, Minn., links together in the minds of Massachusetts people a great surgeon of the past and a great surgeon of the present. This was the first medal struck by the society in commemoration of Dr Bigelow, and Dr Mayo's services to medical science and the public made it fitting that he should be the first man to be honored.

Dr Mayo, in his address on Dr Bigelow, recounted interesting facts about the Boston surgeon's personality and career and made philosophic observations on youth and age. Dr Bigelow was not only an eminent surgeon, but his dashing and somewhat European dress and the vehicle in which he was carried through the streets all made an impression on Boston at the middle of the last century.

When he came back from France with a medical degree at the age of 25, he was conspicuous for his coats of light blue, with brass buttons, and his embroidered waistcoats.

Dr Mayo noted that while Dr Bigelow welcomed the adoption of ether as an anesthetic, a good deal of surgical development passed him by in his later years. The new era of abdominal surgery had no message for him, and most of his own surgery was on the outside of the body. "He had reached the time of life when new principles were not readily received." "Youth without experience attacks the unsolved problems which mature age avoids," Dr Mayo said.

Probably every professional man, noting how undue conservatism has overtaken his colleagues in their later years, has resolved at some time that, whatever else he may do or fail to do, he will retain his susceptibility to new principles and new methods to the end of his career. Yet how many carry out this resolution? How many are able to carry it out?

William A. Smith of No. 758 Asylum street and Miss Margaret L. Elliott, daughter of Dr. Arthur Elliott and Mrs. Elliott of No. 284 Washington street, Flushing, L. I., were married Wednesday at the bride's residence by the Rev. Thomas H. McKenzie, pastor of the Dutch Reformed Church of Wethersfield.

Beatrice Elliott, a daughter of Dr. Arthur Elliott, was her only attending physician. Her relatives and a witness of the ceremony followed by a reception at the bride's father is a prominent physician at Columbia. Mr. and Mrs. Smith...

of the Sheffield Scientific School, has been appointed professor of engineering at Lafayette College. He will take charge of the department of heat engineering.

PHYSICIANS TURNED

PHYSICIANS TURNED INTO SOLDIERS. A number of physicians from the State of Minnesota have been called into the army.

DR. W. J. MAYO CALLED INTO ARMY

1918. Major William J. Mayo, noted surgeon of Wethersfield, Minn., has been ordered to active service in the Medical Corps. His brother, Dr. Charles Mayo, began active service as a major in the Medical Corps several weeks ago.

General Benjamin C. Mayo has been removed from the National Army and returned to his former rank of colonel in the regular army.

to the regents the "it," said Dr. William J. Mayo, member of the board but who did not assent. "The money people and we feel to the people—a that shall serve this foundation will come."

foundation will come. The Mayo family has accumulated a fortune that will come from the Mayo family, regents ex-has been affiliated for two years, upon as a trial final agreement, of the foundation from Rochester to the state after 28

the yearly in- tended outside the ten per cent. used emics inside and that one of the Dr. S. L. J. S. of this his own the med Corps. I ordered expects ty's ord and H.

39-150

MRS. ARMOUR A SUFFIELD VISITOR

Father, Seriously Ill, to Occupy Sheldon Residence — Daughter Lolita With Mother. He died soon

(Special to The Courant.)
Suffield, Sept. 14.

Mrs. J. Ogden Armour and daughter, Miss Lolita Armour, of Chicago, and Mrs. Armour's father, Martin J. Sheldon of New York city, arrived yesterday at the home of Mrs. Charles C. Bissell, South Main street. Mr. Sheldon, who is over 80 years old, is seriously ill. The Ar-

DR. S. V. KIBBY GETS HIS COMMISSION

Dr.

DR. S. V. KIBBY LEA
S. V. Kibby
Dr. Sidne

of this sta
his commis
the medica
Corps, Uni
ordered to expects to by's orders
eral H. T. McCann of Washington

FOR SALE

22 ARNOLDALE ROAD—9-room house, large lot. This property can be bought at a bargain price. The neighborhood is one of the best and property is fast increasing in value. High ground and beautiful view.

C. M. STARKWEATHER
36 PEARL ST.
Connecticut Mutual Bldg.
Real Estate.
Telephone Charter 5749.

Miss Annie C., and Miss M. Louise Stebbins of Crescent hill announce the engagement of their niece, Frances A. Chapin, to Charles Wallour of New York. Mr Wallour is a graduate of Lehigh and the Massachusetts institute of technology. He is at present is stationed at Yaphank, L. I., as captain in the quartermaster's reserve corps, will not be able to be present, as he cannot obtain leave of absence.

Mrs. J. Ogden Armour.

Mrs Edward S. Brewer of Longmeadow street and her sister, Miss Ambia C. Harris of Pearl street left yesterday by motor for Lake George, N. Y. They will be among the Springfield people at the wedding of Miss Frances Chapin of this city and Charles William Wallour of New York which is to take place to-morrow at Lake George, N. Y., where Miss Chapin's aunts, Miss Annie C. and Miss M. Louise Stebbins of Crescent hill have their summer home.

Frances Chapin to Be Married To-

Sept 15-day 1917
Although taking place out of town, the wedding to-day of Miss Frances Chapin, daughter of Mr and Mrs William Horace Chapin of the Hotel Kimball, and Charles William Wallour of New York city, will be one of the most interesting social events of the season. A number of Springfield people have gone to Lake George, N. Y., to attend the wedding, which is to be in St James church at 12.30 o'clock. The ceremony will be followed by a reception at Cannon Point, the summer home of the bride's aunts, the Misses Stebbins of Crescent hill. Miss Chapin has chosen as her maid of honor Miss Catherine Howard Chapin of Maple street, while Miss Marianne Stebbins of Brooklyn, her cousin, will be the bridesmaid, and another cousin, Grace Stebbins of Williamstown, will be the flower girl. Harold Small of Maple street will act as best man. The ushers are to be Sherman H. Bowles of Crescent hill and Russell Chapin of Maple street. Two cousins of the

SEPTEMBER 1, 1917.

Thomas E. Canfield has sold to Edward T. Garvin the Sturges house situated at No. 22 Arnoldale road. The house was built by Miss Sturges about five years ago, and is considered very valuable property, having 100 feet of land on Arnoldale road, valued at about $75 a foot.

Horace Chang the summer Cape Cod for a few tel Kimball, for Lake or the wedding Frances am Wallour is to take mer home of s Annie C. ins of Cres-

Pearl street Stebbins of een staying e by motor e, N. Y., to heir cousin, nd Charles dyn, N. Y., f Saturday. bins's home w night and ake George ebbins's lit- o be flower ebbins, who

*151 July 12
1917 Springfield*

*Sold to Mr Hart
1919*

MISS FLANAGAN STILL
"ENJOYING VACATION"

According to Mrs. W. D. Ascough, nothing new developed in Connecti-took up private theatricals, and it was apparent that she was the possessor of a voice of unusual charm.

In the north her success was no less pronounced than at Richmond, and

HARTFORD, CONN., WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 15, 1920.

Making Connecticut the Thirty-Seventh State To Ratify Federal Suffrage Amendment

Miss Flanagan Made
Notary Public

Miss Catherine Flanagan of this city, prominent suffragist, who carried the papers showing Connecticut's ratification of the federal suffrage amendment to Washington, was recently made a notary public, the papers making her

MISS CATHERINE FLANAGAN.

Miss and J Unive
marri at the Lake Torsn
there
who MacS

of Col
spring
of the Amer
tion o
the know as in nectio Party picket the f arrest

at official being signed by President Wilson. One of her first acts was that sent certifying the vote of Miss Alice McPaul, who mailed her first vote for of president to her home town in Moorestown, N. J.

Miss Flanagan was one of the leaders of the suffrage movement in Connecticut and of the national woman's party, serving time in prison in Washington, because of her picketing. She has done campaigning in the far west as well in most of the eastern states and is now located in Washington.

when Lieutenant-Governor Clifford B. Wilson, as president of the by which the Susan B. Anthony amendment was ratified by the Nat tists who witnessed the signing is Miss Katharine Ludington, president presented the pen with which Speaker James F. Walsh of the house ary also affixed their signatures.

Assembly to "Stand Pat" If Colby Will Accept

Danger of Bad Precedent Seen If Legislature Refuses Because of Holcomb Demand.

ndmat

as president ratified by Lodington, Wales of

Pat" l Acc ature Re mand.

