

D. S. 32-75

MARK TWAIN'S

PERFORATED INTERLEAVED

SCRAP BOOK.

Vol. 45-

PATENT NUMBER 477,040

November 15, 1919 to March 24, 1920,
DIRECTIONS.

Use but little moisture, and only on gummed lines. Press the scrap on without wetting it.
After filling the gummed pages, remove the interleaving leaf at the perforated line, allowing the short stub to remain, which will keep the book of uniform thickness.

DANIEL SLOTE & COMPANY.

321 BROADWAY,

NEW YORK.

election of Lady Asquith is thought be a sure thing. If she is elected she will be the first woman to in the British Parliament.

Jan 16. 1922

LAD
Accept
Tale
Eve
Lond
accept Cato
the
the Lond
Ass
telegr
Pym
of the ability for P Lad
candid
lect th
the Eng
less her
be a m Ming
unpopu
erment
The her best pre sided the suction
story in py was sest in combined
Theorem
should
and was anterior
likewise
the an She a
when in
in the
cal. m
in P not dis
canon
A m took d
form a eastern defeat
let us see a policy
Sei
Lad
Lad
code
the m pass House
of his Langton
have
the m
the throu
of you doubt women someth
her th
joy an
of her Parliam
had a oration
is a election
be a
she w
in the

LADY ASTOR TO RUN

Accepts Invitation of Plymouth Unionists to Be Candidate for House of Commons

London, Oct. 26.—Lady Astor has accepted the invitation of the Plymouth unionists to become a candidate for the House of Commons for the seat in Plymouth, vacated by the elevation of her husband, Viscount Astor, to the House of Lords. In a telegram to the unionist committee at Plymouth she says: "Fully conscious of the great honor and grave responsibility, I accept your offer to stand for Plymouth."

Lady Astor's acceptance of the candidacy makes the prospect excellent that the first woman to sit in the English Parliament will be American born, as Plymouth is known to be a safe unionist seat.

Making allowance for the present unpopularity of the coalition government, which has accounted for the heavy transfer of votes in all recent bye-elections, it is hardly considered likely that there will be a sufficient turnover of votes to destroy the majority of more than 8000 by which Waldorf Astor gained the seat at the last election against the combined liberal and labor vote. Therefore, unless the question of sex should enter largely into the contest and cause a wholesale transfer, or abstention of voters, there is every likelihood that Lady Astor will win the seat.

She is very popular in Plymouth, where she has always busied herself in her husband's political life and local municipal affairs. It is rumored in Plymouth that Lord Astor does not altogether approve of his wife's candidacy.

A number of women candidates took advantage of the electoral reform to stand for Parliament in the elections last December, but all were defeated except the Countess Markievicz, who refused to assume her seat in conformity with the Sinn Fein policy on this subject.

Not a Walkover for Lady Astor

Plymouth, Oct. 26.—Lady Astor, who has agreed to become a candidate for Parliament for the seat in Plymouth vacated by the passage of her husband into the House of Lords through the death of his father, is one of the famous Langhorne sisters of Virginia, who have been noted for their beauty. As the modern woman, with the aid of the chemist, is able to retain through middle life the appearance of youthful beauty, Lady Astor is no doubt still considered a beautiful woman, and her looks may have had something to do with obtaining for her the popularity she is said to enjoy among the former constituents of her husband. When the present Parliament was elected her husband had a majority of 8,000 over a combination of laborites and liberals. It is a strong unionist district and the election of Lady Astor is thought to be a sure thing. If she is elected she will be the first woman to sit in the British Parliament.

LADY ASTOR TREATS ENGLISH AS AMERICANS

LADY ASTOR MAY BE M. P.

son Says Sister

It.—Lady Nancy election to the ons, will show s to remain though living of her sister, on, wife of the

is Miss Irene Langhorne sis- said her sister 1 "because she were Virginia, or being an toward the id toward the

PAGE

Lady Astor's First Speech In Race for Parliament Shows Her Earnestness

Declares She Has "Mirth of British Tommy Who Could Laugh While Going Over the Top" — Introduced at Plymouth by Her Husband.

Plymouth, November 4.—(By the Associated Press.)—Lady Astor, in her speech last night on her adoption as unionist candidate for parliament, told those who had gathered to hear her that it was because she had "the mirth of the British Tommy who could laugh while going over the top," she was able to face the tremendous responsibility of attempting to become the first woman member of the house of commons.

"I realize that it depends on how I behave myself there," she added, "whether other women will get in."

A moment later, she said "it took the spirit of Drake and the faith of the Pilgrim fathers to get me here to-night."

"If you want a lawyer, Bolshevik or pacifist, don't elect me."

The independent unionist candidate, Lionel Jacobs, who had the support of a number of unionists opposing Lady Astor on the ground of sex, withdrew his candidacy last night.

Lady Astor, or rather, Nancy Astor—for that is the name by which she is most widely known—lost no time in firing the opening guns of her campaign, and early in the afternoon drove into the wharf-side fish market in an open carriage drawn by a team of beautiful horses with bridles decorated with red, white and blue rosettes.

A battery of press photographers, a swarm of children from the adjacent slum district and a miscellany of dock laborers and market workers immediately massed about the carriage. Smiling

Her Birthday

See her 1st mar. Vol 9-44
2nd mar to Waldorf Astor
Vol 18-128

LADY ASTOR WINS SEA Lady Astor's HO Activities Are Very Rec Strenuous

Ag She Brings Before the British Parliament Many Questions as to Need of Social Reforms

By Mary Henke

Special Correspondence of the Transcript
Copyright, 1921, by Public Ledger Co.

London, Feb. 3.

THE "woman's point of view" is slowly working its way into the British House of Parliament. Its chief agency, of course, has been Lady Astor, the first woman M. P., and her activities in the coming session of the house promise to be even more strenuous than ever. She is in Algiers with Lord Astor, resting in preparation for the resumption of her legislative duties.

Since English women have been taking part in politics there has been a deal of discussion about whether there really is such a thing as a woman's point of view. Many prominent English women have taken the position there is no such thing in politics, that women have the same problems as men and do not require special legislative attention. Lady Astor, fortunately for the women of England, says there must be a woman's point of view under present conditions. She has evidence in the fact she receives hundreds of letters from women who write to her because she is a woman and with it can understand their viewpoint.

"No woman can help feeling at the present time," said Lady Astor recently, "that there is a woman's point of view to be considered. Things are too lopsided at present. Until things are on an even keel we must keep prodding about the matters that vitally affect women."

Affect Women and Children

Legislation on social reform matters, especially affecting women and children, receives attention first from the woman M. P. She feels there are a sufficient number of legislative minds bent on the problem of Mesopotamia and similar matters, but very few who are willing to put time on the question of better health and education for the coming generation in England.

Here are some of the legislative questions with which Lady Astor has been concerned since her election to Parliament:

Increased public educational advantages; amendment of criminal laws as in your they affect women; state control of liquor trade; milk inspection; widows' pensions; votes for women over twenty-one; revision of guardianship bill; juvenile courts; plumage trade restriction; care of blind; welfare of navy men; protection of employed women; better physical health measures; women deserve a perfect government for well

Count Shows She Polled 14,495
Votes on Unionist Ticket
Against 9,292 for Laborite.

ISAAC FOOT, LIBERAL,
GETS MATTER OF 4,139

Successful Candidate To Be Installed on Monday and Scores of Prominent M.
P.'s Want Privileges of Sponsorship.

Plymouth, November 28.—Lady Astor, American born wife of Viscount Astor, was elected to parliament from the Sutton division of Plymouth in the balloting of November 15. The result was announced after a count of the ballots here this afternoon.

The vote stood:

Lady Astor, unionist, 14,495.
W. T. Gay, labor, 9,292.
Isaac Foot, liberal, 4,139.

Lady Astor will take her seat on Monday next. Scores of prominent members of parliament, anticipating the result, had requested that she allow them to be her sponsors. A new member is always escorted into the house of commons by two sponsors.

Lady Astor became a candidate for the Plymouth seat in the British House of Commons after the death of Viscount Astor of Hever Hall had left her husband heir to the title and necessitated his retirement from the lower house of parliament. Premier Lloyd George, A. J. Balfour, former secretary of state for foreign affairs and Baron Fisher, former first sea lord, among various notables, gave hearty approval of her candidacy. Labor legislation was the chief issue during the campaign, which at times assumed quite bitter aspects.

Lady Astor, who was formerly Miss Nannie Langhorne of Virginia, is the mother of six children.

Lady Astor will be the first woman to take a seat in the house of commons. Countess Markievicz was elected a member from St. Patrick's division of Dublin in the general election last year, but with the other Sinn Fein members elected in Ireland, has never taken her seat.

The vote, showing Lady Astor to have a majority over all of 1,064 and a plurality of 5,203, compares with the majority of 8,269 and the plurality of 11,757 secured by her husband, then Major Waldorf Astor, at the last general election. Gay, then also the labor candidate, received 5,334 votes in that election to 14,491 for Major Astor, while Captain S. Asom, the liberal candidate received 4,488 votes.

PAGE

See Vol 18 p 128

12

INDEX

PAGE

R

PAGE

S

PAGE

S

T

mit
hoc

is lisired ne.
vt

an-

Nanny Langhorne of Virginia

"I simply want to make the people's homes happier and brighter."

—Nancy Astor

"There is a place in politics for women.
They have the spiritual qualities
needed in politics.
Men may have
them, but they haven't the courage
to show
them."

—Nancy Astor

GLASS APPOINTED TO SUCCEED MARTIN IN

His Acc
Senat
R

SECRETARY OF U. S. TREASURY SUCCEEDS MARTIN IN SENATE

Richmond
ment of S Carter Gla
ate to succ
tin, and t
were ann Hodges.
Senator M
elected an until 1925.
by popular
governor
until the e
Mr. Glas
the wester
from Mr. M ville. He before tak
and as ch
ing commi
framing a
serve law.
newspaper

Six

Washing
been at t
since the McAdoo.
sixth in since its
of the fir
The other spectively
nolds, Sec
department.

CARTER GLASS.
Secretary Bryan of the General
Secretary of Treasury Will Become

Senator From Virginia—President Wilson Urged Acceptance

Washington, Nov. 17—At the request of President Wilson, Secretary Glass will accept the appointment as senator from Virginia to succeed the late Senator Thomas S. Martin, it was announced to-day at the White House.

After receiving the appointment from Gov Davis of Virginia, Mr Glass asked the president what his wishes were and Mr Wilson replied that he would like Mr Glass to accept.

Secretary Glass has consulted with members of the Senate, who told him that there was no particular need for him to take the oath as senator for a week or more. Meantime he will continue to serve as head of the treasury department.

At the White House it was said no successor to Mr Glass had been decided upon and that the president's mind was open. The name of Daniel C. Roper, commissioner of internal revenue, was added to-day to the list of those being discussed as probable successors to Mr Glass.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 17—Gov Davis to-day sent the following telegram to Secretary Glass:—

"I have announced your appointment to the Senate, to succeed Senator Martin. I am sure that your career there will be in accord with Virginia's best traditions and of great value to our country at this critical period of her history."

Carter Glass has made more of a name for himself as secretary of the treasury than seemed possible when he reluctantly took the position a year ago. It appeared then that, on Mr McAdoo's retirement, Mr Glass was taking a difficult task from which the glory had departed in the sense that the spectacular war work had been accomplished. But in the intervening months Mr Glass has discharged his duties with such efficiency and ability as to earn credit irrespective of party. Yet he is more needed in the Senate than in the treasury, where the president can appoint another man of ability to succeed him. The Senate as a whole is weak, and the democratic side of it notoriously weak. It will be an advantage not merely to the democratic party but to the country, to have added to the Senate's ranks in the near future a man of Mr Glass's capacity.

Aside from Charles S. Hamlin of the federal reserve board, the chief suggestion of a new secretary of the treasury to succeed Mr Glass, appears to be Russell C. Leffingwell, now one of the assistant secretaries. Mr Leffingwell has had charge of the war loans and similar matters and is credited in Washington with having done admirable work. He is a graduate of Yale, class of 1899, and was given an honorary degree at New Haven last June. He was formerly in the office of Paul D. Cravath in New York and his legal ability is unquestioned. Mr Hamlin is a man of more mature experience. The appointment of either would have little or no political significance or importance, but would promise an efficient director of the treasury department.

Massachusetts would be well represented in the cabinet if the choice should fall upon Charles S. Hamlin as successor to Secretary of the Treasury Carter Glass. Mr Hamlin was assistant secretary during the second administration of President Cleveland and for part of the time during President Wilson's first administration. He has been a member of the federal reserve board since its organization, in 1914.

PAGE

stg

13 Saybrook, November 13.

Lieutenant Charles Edward Calderari, M. C., son of Count and Countess Calderari of Milan, Italy, and Miss Isabel Townsend Drake, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Drake of Tulsa, Okla., will be married in the Congregational Church of Westbrook Saturday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. Lieutenant Calderari, heir to the title now held by his father, served four years as a liaison officer in the Italian army and was attached to five British divisions. For numerous acts of daring and bravery he received the British military cross from the English government. Before the war he was a student at Marlborough College in England. His father, Count I. Calderari, has been appointed to one of the highest engineering offices for the British government in India for the last twenty-five years.

Miss Drake is the niece of John Fisk of Quotonsset Beach, Westbrook, retired president of the Fisk Oil Company, and while traveling with her uncle abroad, met Lieutenant Calderari in London. She was educated at Westover School, Middlebury, and after her graduation traveled extensively in this country, Europe and Asia. Miss Priscilla Drake of Tulsa, Okla., a sister, will be maid of honor. The bridesmaids will be Miss Dorothy Bill of Hartford, Miss Hope Johnson of Spayten Duvvil, N. Y., Miss Catherine Wellington of Corning, N. Y., and Miss Elinor Houghton of Brooklyn, N. Y. The best man will be Frederick P. Fisk of Montclair, N. J., cousin of the bride. The ushers will be Glen W. Coe of Corning, N. Y., John A. Sanford of Warwick, N. Y., Maxwell Van Derhoef of Brooklyn, N. Y., and James A. Gammon of Tulsa, Okla. After the wedding ceremony a reception will be held at the Fisk summer mansion at Quotonsset Beach, at which 150 invited guests will attend. Wittstein's orchestra of New Haven will play and Marese of New York will be the caterer. Mr. and Mrs. Calderari will leave some time Saturday evening for an extended motor trip, and will sail within the next month to Italy to spend the winter at Count Calderari's estates in Milan.

Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Potter of Chestnut Hill, Philad. Special to The Times. will give a buffet dinner party couple at Quotonsset Beach, which there will be dancing. The guests invited to the wedding will attend this party, and friends and schoolmates of the groom, from England.

Seth Talcott of Woodland street one of the ushers at the wedding. Miss Mathilde Jaburg, daughter of John Jaburg, and Martin Miller, took place Friday evening in the Morris Baptist church, New York. Louis W. Schaff was matron of and the bridesmaids were Miss Miller and Miss Emma Schenkbar, Jaburg, brother of the bride, was best man and the other ushers Ernest Farley of Medford Hills, who was with Mr. Jaburg as ambassador with the Alpine Chasseurs the Sixty-first French division, W. Schaff and Herman L. Hoops ceremony was followed by a reception at the Waldorf Astoria. Mr. and Miller left for a wedding trip to the south. The bridegroom recently turned from France, after nine months of service as ambulance driver being associated with Mr. Talcott, received the Croix de Guerre for services.

Mrs. Charles Talcott and Miss Alice Talcott been spending a few days in New and attended the wedding.

WEDDING GIFTS TO BE OMITTED.

Feature Marks Invitations to Marriage of Daughter of Pennsylvania Railroad President.

Philadelphia, November 4.—An unusual feature marks the invitations to the wedding of Miss Ruth Rea, daughter of Samuel Rea, president of the Pennsylvania Railroad company.

The invitations bear the request, "Please send no gifts."

Miss Rea will be married to Lieutenant-Commander George B. Junkin at her father's country home, Waverly Heights, Bryn Mawr, on November 15.

According to some friends of Mr. Rea, his desire to furnish his daughter with everything that she may wish is the cause of the no gifts request.

He also feared that Pennsylvania railroad employees might feel called upon to send gifts.

Commander Junkin led a company of bluejackets from the Utah when they captured the customs house at Vera Cruz in 1914.

*Married Nov 16-1919, See Vol 44
Page 162*

Learn for man

Rockville, November 17.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Waite of No. 138 Union street are celebrating their fiftieth wedding anniversary to-day. They were married November 17, 1869, in Rockville by the Rev. Asa Fiske, who was at that time pastor of the old Second Congregational church.

They will hold a reception at their home this evening from 7 to 10 o'clock for which 150 invitations have been issued and at which guests are expected from Providence, Springfield, Bridgeport, New York, Hartford, Long Island and this city.

Their home has been decorated with palms, yellow roses, chrysanthemums and other cut flowers, all carrying out a golden color scheme. Music will be furnished by Hatch's orchestra of Hartford. Mrs. A. L. Edgerton of Vernon will cater. Mr. and Mrs. Waite have been the recipients of many valuable gifts.

Mrs. Waite was the daughter of Charles and Mary Howell of Bradford-on-Avon, Wiltshire, England. She came to America in 1868, and has resided in this city since that time. She is a prominent member of the Rockville Methodist church and for a great many years president of the Ladies' Aid society. She is still active in her social and household work.

Mr. Waite was born at Trowbridge, Wiltshire, England, being the son of Joseph and Matilda Waite, and one of nine brothers. He came to this country in 1867, coming directly to this city where he has made his home ever since. His first employment here was with the Rock Manufacturing company where he remained as a machinist for fifteen years. Resigning his position with this company he accepted a responsible and more lucrative one as master mechanic at the New England mill. He has worked there continuously for the past thirty-eight years, and was a close friend to the late A. Park Hammond. He is still able to devote full working time to his position and is held in high esteem by the officers of the Hockanum association who now control the New England mill.

Although never a seeker of political office he has taken an interest in politics and cast his first ballot for President Grant in 1872. He has remained a republican in politics to this time. Fraternally he is a member of Court Hearts of Oak, Hockanum Benevolent society, and the Ancient Order of Workmen. He has been a member of the Rockville Methodist church since 1872, being leader of the choir for fifteen years and a member of the official board since 1883.

Mr. and Mrs. Waite have four children, two sons and two daughters: Councilman Albert Edward Waite of this city, Chester Pitney Waite of Springfield, Mrs. John McKinstry of Ellington and Mrs. Edith Colwell of Bridgeport. Mr. and Mrs. Waite are well known in this vicinity and have the good will of the entire community, who extended to them their best wishes on this their fiftieth wedding anniversary.

FOOT GUARD REVIEW FOR WAR VETERANS

Tribute Paid to Members Who Served in Great

Nov 17 War. 1919

"Present arms!" The order was executed with the precision of West Point. Slowly the colors were dipped, and the Governor's Foot Guard paid formal homage to its members who served in the great war. Under the auspices of the Non-Commissioned Officers' Association, and with the approval of Major Charles E. Stedman, the members of the Governor's Foot Guard who saw service in the recent conflict were tendered a review by the organization—the highest military tribute—at the armory last night. With the oldest military organization in the state in battalion formation, ranks open for inspection, twenty out of the eighty-two members who left those ranks at the call to arms, were escorted around the battalion by Major Stedman's staff. Returning to its post of honor in front of Major Stedman and Adjutant Louis C. Stanley, the battalion came to attention and marched in review, the color being once dipped in salute for the returned heroes. The companies were then dismissed, and in a few minutes reassembled for parade.

Previous to the reading of the official orders, Major Stedman spoke briefly to the ex-service men, who represented practically every branch of the service. In his words of welcome he said that he was proud of them, and of their records, and expressed the hope that they all return to the organization.

The following is a part of the official order of welcome as read by Adjutant Stanley:—

Attention to Orders:—
The following men were active members in the First Company, Governor's Foot Guard, when they entered the government or Y. M. C. A. service.

Every effort has been made to make this a correct list. Only the rank of men who received commissions in the army is here used as it has been absolutely impossible to get the correct rank of non-commissioned officers. Therefore, only the name will be read:—

Major D. Gordon Hunter, Captain Harold G. Baldwin, Captain Lucius B. Barbour, Captain Charles H. Barton, Captain James B. Moody, jr., Captain Harry L. Perkins, Captain Harold D. Tennant, Lieutenant Frank E. Bel, Lieutenant Julian L. Birdsong, Lieutenant Clarence E. Bissell, Lieutenant Herbert G. Bissell, Lieutenant Howard L. Butler, Lieutenant Edward J. Daly, Lieutenant John J. Feery, Lieutenant Shelton P. Hubbard, Lieutenant T. Robert Kane, Lieutenant John W. Knox, Lieutenant I. Raymond Peterson, Lieutenant William F. Reardon, Lieutenant John A. Tracy, Ensign George A. Kroneburg, Ensign Arthur G. Smith.

John F. Alexander (deceased), Charles Banghart, William A. Black, C. Edwin Blake, Howard P. Boynton, Adrian S. Buckman, Thomas C. Cavanaugh, Wilbert E. Clark, Matthew K. Cusick, Louis R. Daniels, James C. Dillon, Ernest W. Dimock, Walter C. Eastman, Robert D. Ewens, Carl O. Freytag, Robert N. Gaghan, Gustave C. Gebhardt, jr., Henry L. Giebelhausen, Charles T. Hale, Allen H. Hayward.

Clarence R. Hillman, Clarence E. Holloway, William F. Hopkins, Philip S. Hubbard, Paul C. Johnson, M. Joseph Kane, Walter C. Lamkins (deceased), J. Henry Mars, Thomas C. McKone, Arthur Miller, Howard W. Morse, Robert E. Murray, William J. O'Donnell, Ernest C. Perry, William T. Preston, Alonzo R. Pinney, William F. Raftery, Andrew B. Riddell, Kenneth E. Roberts, Raymond M. Russ, Fred A. Schadt, Edwin C. Scott, Minot E. Smith, William P. Smith, Girard H. Story, Charles T. Taylor, Clarence G. Wahlberg, Harold S. Wilson.

In "Y" service:—

nes Everett Frederick J. Lake, William W. Stewart, James E. Thwing, Ralph A. Harry H. Young.

In band:—

Charles F. Beecher, John H. Hart, Herbert E. Holtz, Henry W. Perlitz, jr., Ferdinando Vincent.

The twenty who were present of the list of eighty-two as given above, were in the command of Captain Harold G. Baldwin. The review and parade was followed by an informal dance and the entire program was carried out with smoothness and precision.

gart, Ger.

Nov 17
The wedding of Miss Muriel Isabel Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Davis of Biltmore street, and Sumner Raymond Chapin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond E. Chapin of Grand street, took place Monday afternoon at the home of the bride. Rev. E. H. Thayer of Emmanuel church performed the ceremony and used the single-ring service. Miss Edith Neldle played the wedding march of Mendelssohn's as the bridal party entered the living room. Miss Thelma G. Davis, a sister of the bride, was maid of honor and Norman Perry served his cousin as best man. The ushers were Ray E. Sergeant and Edwin Lange.

A son, Arthur Dewing Chapin, was born this morning at the Hartford hospital to Mr. and Mrs. George Raymond Chapin of No. 40 Bushnell street.

Sept. 10, 1920

ROBBINS-GREEN—In this city November 19, 1919, by Reverend Rockwell Harmon Potter, Georgia S. Green and Charles S. Robbins.

Charles Sedgwick Robbins of Sigourney street, assistant cashier of the Travelers Insurance company, and Miss Georgia S. Green, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Samuel Green of Southbury, were married Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at Center Church house by the pastor, the Rev. Dr. Rockwell Harmon Potter, in the presence of the immediate relatives only. After the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Robbins left for a wedding trip to Boston and vicinity and will return in about ten days. The bride was until recently employed by the Rossia Insurance company. Mr. Robbins,

English Girl Crosses Ocean to Marry Frank Secor.

(Special to The Courant)

Wethersfield, Nov. 19.

Frank Secor, son of Mr. and Mrs. De Lancy Secor of Wethersfield, and Miss Anna Willis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Miller of Gateshead-on-Tyne, England, were married in Trinity Church this afternoon at 2 o'clock by Rev. S. F. B. Burt. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Philip A. Mehl. Mrs. Secor met her husband when he was with the army on the other side. After the armistice was signed he returned home, Miss Willis coming over the past week to be married. Mr. and Mrs. Secor will live on Broad street.

PAGE FROM THE HISTORY OF 4 A PITTSFIELD WOMAN'S CLUB

Nov 19 1919
Miss Anna L. Dawes Has Been the President of Wednesday Morning Club Since its Organization — Speakers Have Included Many Noted Men and Women of Letters

PITTSFIELD'S noted organization of women, the Wednesday Morning club, held its 40th annual meeting last Wednesday. Miss Anna L. Dawes, daughter of the late United States Senator Henry L. Dawes of Pittsfield, has held the office of president from the beginning. The club is an offspring of the Saturday Morning club of Boston, founded by the late Mrs Julia Ward Howe, who spoke to the Pittsfield organization in 1882 on "Women's women and men's women." This club now has 297 active and four honorary members.

Some of the Members

Mrs Winthrop Murray Crane of Dalton is a member of the executive committee. Mrs Herbert S. Johnson of Boston and Miss Fanny Dwight of Sea View are non-resident active members, while Mrs Morris Schaff of Boston was one of the charter members. There is now a waiting list of 32. At the time the club was formed in the fall of 1879 it had 126 members, 57 active and 69 honorary. The first meeting was held at the home of the late Mr Dawes.

During its 40 years of existence the club has had some of the most prominent men and women of the country as speakers and lecturers. There have been included noted scientists, travelers, philosophers, philanthropists, educators, statesmen and diplomatists. The club holds on an average of 15 meetings during the season, which begins in June and ends in November. The speakers this past season have included Dr Francis E Peabody of Harvard, Dr John H. Finley, Red Cross commissioner to Palestine; William C. Redfield, secretary of commerce; George Walter Smith, commissioner to the Near East; Dr Victor Helser of the Rockefeller foundation, Professor Philip Marshall Brown of Princeton, Dr Spencer Miller of New York, Mr Geoffrey O'Hara of New York, composer and Miss Eliza R. Scidmore of Washington.

The great success of the club has been due to the unremitting efforts of Miss Dawes, who, partly because of the wide acquaintance gained while in Washington with her father, has been able to secure men and women of distinction to speak to the club. On December 17, 1885, the club adopted a resolution expressing its appreciation of Miss Dawes's work in part as follows: "Without her aid it (the club) would have been dependent upon and confined to narrow limits of local influences; with her aid it has attracted the voluntary teachings of many whose reputation is world wide in discovery in art, in science and in numbers, interest and prosperity. To her in the largest measure, is the club indebted for that long list of distinguished men and women who have addressed it, secured through her own wide acquaintance and her father's high official position in Washington—a unique service that no one else could have rendered."

Miss Dawes contributed a history of the club at the 25th anniversary in which she said:—

"In the autumn of 1879, 20 or 30 women met to consider whether they could form a club. They had little idea of what they wanted, to do, much less how to accomplish it. Between the first informal gathering in early August and the formal organization on August 23 there was much personal and some public consultation. On September 17, 1879 was held the first open club meeting, a lecture on the "Panama Canal" by Mr Nathan Appleton of Boston. (You will notice that the government thought it fitting to celebrate our quarter-centennial by beginning the canal.) At that meeting there were present 82 out of the 126 members. Two weeks later, October 1, 40 out of the 47 active members met again and held the first discussion and our life had begun. It was not until the next year, 1880, that we held our business meeting and elected officers and printed a schedule of topics for the coming year in the month of November.

Aim of the Club

"If at first our plans were somewhat vague, our purposes were not so. We had a definite idea to avail ourselves of the wisdom and charm of the many delightful speakers who visited Berkshire in the summer; to listen as well to the number of interesting men and women dwelling among us and definitely to draw thither for the same end our learned and brilliant friends. We had the bold purpose to become the object of intellectual charity, the pupil of the wide world of letters. We proposed to ask these men to come without pay, because they are our friends. It is

I fear we have brought the flowing spring a cup of beaten brass, but always it has been filled to running over with the most sparkling water.

"This was our chief and primary purpose. With it and secondary to it, was the discussion among ourselves—hardly the study—of topics of general interest. We did not intend this to mean current topics only, nor did we intend always to delve in the mines of the encyclopedia. We intended to plow and harrow our minds and then sow the seed of cultivation—a very mixed seed, mixed of the lore of history, the charms of literature, the exactness of science, the vague appreciation of philosophy, the knowledge of the cool judgment of philanthropic enthusiasm, the inspiration of the soul. Thus by the development of all, in all ways, we hoped to lift the level."

The "Golden Roll"

Speaking of those who had led the club "in the way of larger living" Miss Dawes said: "It is a temptation to read the full list, it is such a golden roll, but I forbear and give you instead a chosen few, here and there, for many reasons, beginning with some college presidents—Mark Hopkins and Henry Hopkins of Williams, Merrill E. Gates of Amherst, Alice Freeman of Wellesley, J. Franklin Carter of Williams, Francis A. Walker of the Institute of Technology, Henry H. Goodell of the Agricultural college at Amherst, James N. Taylor of Vassar, Francis Wayland of the Yale law school, Penrose of Whitman, Schurman of Cornell and Hadley of Yale—a full round dozen:

The club imposes a fine of 25 cents for failure to attend the annual business meeting, "which as a 'discourager of hesitancy' is the most astonishing engine I know," writes Miss Dawes.

Three members of the club were engaged in war work overseas. They are Dr Alfreda B. Withington, now in France; Miss Mary G. Stevenson who was with the Smith college unit and Miss Eleanor Ogden West. Others in service in American war camps include Miss Mary M. Marcy, Miss Margaret H. Hall, Miss Louise Allen Root and Miss Florence E. Williams.

Officers of the club follow: President, Miss Anna L. Dawes; vice-president, Mrs James W. Hull; secretary, Mrs Carey R. Kinney; assistant secretary, Miss Elizabeth W. Hinsdale; treasurer, Mrs Clifford H. Buckingham; assistant treasurer, Miss Frances D. Robbins; executive committee, the above with Mrs W. Murray Crane, Mrs John F. Noxon, Miss Nira H. Hall, Miss Phila M. Whipple and Mrs Augustus McKinstrey Gifford. The four honorary members are Mrs Henry Allen Root, Mrs James M. Lee, Mrs Charles C. Francis and Mrs Eugene

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Lee New York and The Braes, C. L. L. have announced the birth of their daughter, Miss Pratt, to Allan McLane Judge and Mrs. Allan McLane, Md. Miss Pratt was introduced to society a few days ago by her mother, Facker institute, school and at W. this state. She is most entirely to two years. Her father is the president of the S. Messrs. Fred Harold Irvin, a few days ago, cousin, M. ter of M. to R. an- nounce from the swain of the v. ad 1915. Early in the o France as a driver of e and for heroic service the Guerre was awarded to him. He went into the air force of the United States army.

Archibald G. McIlwaine, 3rd, of this city, was one of the ushers at the wedding of Allan McLane, jr., and Miss Edith Gibb Pratt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Lee Pratt of New York and Glen Cove, Long Island, on Thursday afternoon at 5 o'clock at St. James's church, New York. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Frank W. Crowder, rector of the church, and the Rev. Dr. Samuel Drury of St. Paul's school, Concord, N. H. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attended by her sisters, Miss Harriet Pratt, a debutante, a maid of honor, and Miss Florence Pratt, her cousin, Mrs. Richard Stockton Emmet, who was recently married; Miss Augusta McLane, sister of the bridegroom; Miss Helen James, Miss Elisabeth Frank, Miss Katherine VanLingen, Miss Elizabeth Elliott, Miss Katherine Temple Emmet and Miss Helen Babbott as bridesmaids. The bride wore a chiffon robe, completely draped with old point lace, and the veil, arranged to show her train was also covered with point lace. She wore a string of pearls and carried lilies-of-the-valley and white orchids. Her youngest sister, Florence Pratt, was the flower girl, in a deep pink tulle frock, banded with satin, and carried a basket of flowers tied with turquoise blue ribbons. The maid of honor was dressed in gold tulle and lace over white, topped by a tete de negre velvet hat, with an ostrich tip to match springing out of the point right brim. The bridesmaids wore white lace frocks with sash trains of French blue and salmon ribbons and carried chrysanthemums. Their brown velvet hats were like that worn by the maid of honor. James McLane, brother of the bridegroom, was the best man and the other ushers were Herbert Lee Pratt, jr., brother of the bride, George D. Pratt, jr., Milery James, Sidney Miller, Charles Stewart, Washington Davis, Daniel Grant, Seth Low, and Huntington Lyman, most of whom were classmates of the bridegroom at Yale university. He is well known in Hartford, having frequently visited friends in this city, during his course at college. He was coxswain of the Yale 'varsity crew and for his bravery under fire, while driving an ambulance in France, received the croix de guerre in the spring of 1917. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, after which Mr. and Mrs. McLane left for a wedding trip. They will be at home with the bride's parents for the winter.

Mrs. Grace Parker, daughter of Professor Horatio W. Parker, of the Yale School of Music, and Mrs. Parker and George Theodore Achelis, son of John Achelis of New York, were married this afternoon at Christ church, New Haven, in the presence of a large gathering of friends, many of them prominent musical friends of Yale's eminent composer and musician. The church was decorated with white chrysanthemums, large branches of the flowers being used in the chancel. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attended by her sister, Mrs. Howard Matthai, of Baltimore, Md., as matron of honor and four bridesmaids, Miss Elizabeth Williams, Miss Dorothy Achelis of New York, sister of the bridegroom, Miss Mary Comstock and Miss Elizabeth Kendall. Mr. Clark, the church organist, gave the musical program which included the rendition of a hymn by the vested boy choir of the church, written for the occasion by the bride's father. The bridegroom was graduated from Yale university last June and among the ushers were a number of Yale classmates and friends. His brother, John Fitz Achelis, also a Yale man, was the best man and the ushers included John Carter, Stephen Benet, Ralph Semler, Howard Matthai, Leffingwell Evarts and Gardner Miller. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. William Osborn Baker, rector of the church. The bride wore a dress of white satin, trimmed with orange blossoms, and her tulle veil was fastened with a coronet of the flowers. She carried a shower bouquet of white orchids. The matron of honor wore a blue changeable satin, with a brown tulle hat, and she carried orchids. The bridesmaids' frocks were of changeable taffeta, shading from blue to lavender, with brown tulle hats, and carried arm bouquets of Ward roses. Following the church service, there was a reception at the home of the bride's parents on Temple street for a limited number of relatives and close family friends. The decorations consisted of wild smilax and palms with quantities of chrysanthemums in yellow, pink and white. Receiving with the bridal party were Professor and Mrs. Parker, the latter wearing a dress of dark blue velvet, with a black velvet hat. At the bride's table, where supper was served to the members of the party, the decorations consisted of small pink pompon chrysanthemums. After a wedding trip, for which Mrs. Achelis wore a suit of henna with a hat to correspond, and blue fox furs. The couple will live at Woodmere, L. I. Mr. Achelis is connected with the publishing house of Dutton. On Friday evening, Professor and Mrs. Parker gave a dinner party at their home for the members of the bridal party.

Bride a Granddaughter of Dickens

A copyright despatch to the Transcript and Public Ledger says that several of the great-grandchildren of Charles Dickens, the novelist, attended Miss Elaine Dickens, his granddaughter, when she was married to Major Alex Whaley, at Brompton Oratory, on Tuesday. The eight bridesmaids all wore typical Dickensian dresses of white silk with wreaths of colored flowers on their hair and carried early Victorian flowers. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, Henry Dickens, common sergeant of the City of London, wore cream satin with a white and silver brocade train, a headdress of silver lace and orange blossoms. She carried lilies of the valley. As the bride and bridegroom left the church, three little grandsons of Charles Dickens, Richard Charles Dickens Shuckburgh and Cedric and Peter Dickens, strewed white chrysanthemum petals in their path.

West Hill is New Name Given to Vanderbilt Hill Property on Farmington Avenue—Site is Cut Into 32 Building Lots.

West Hartford, Nov. 18.

Among the warranty deeds recorded by Town Clerk H. C. Whitman this week is one by which Stanley K. Dimock transfers to John B. Knox, secretary of the Phoenix (Fire) Insurance Company a lot, situated on West Hill, fronting on West Hill Drive and Farmington avenue.

West Hill is the name which has been given to the Dimock property, located on what in recent years has been known as Vanderbilt Hill. This property has been laid out in an artistic manner by Cortlandt F. Luce, architect, and provides for thirty-two building sites all of which will front on a circular roadway to be known as West Hill Drive.

By the change of name, Stanley K. Dimock, the present owner of the property, has revived an old name, as it is understood that many years ago when Hartford was still young this slightly spot was known as West Hill. About the time West Hartford was set off from Hartford the property was owned by Alexander Hamilton. In 1879 he sold it to Cornelius Vanderbilt, jr., of New York. At that time the house stood on the hill, but was moved off by Mr. Vanderbilt soon after his acquisition of the place to make room for the mansion in the lower cut which has become a landmark for a vast number of people in this vicinity.

There are many who recall the gay affairs held in this mansion after its completion in the early eighties. Cornelius Vanderbilt, jr., had only lived in the house a comparatively short time when he died in New York.

The house remained vacant for several years following his death, except that the rear portion was occupied by a caretaker. The property was finally sold by Cornelius Vanderbilt's executor to William H. Spooner of Bristol for $15,300 in addition to which Mr. Spooner assumed mortgages amounting to $25,000. Mr. Spooner did not hold the property long, he deeding it to the late Ira Dimock in 1889. Since the death of both Mr. and Mrs. Dimock the title has passed to Stanley K. Dimock.

A rather unusual feature is that during the whole period of thirty years in which Mr. Dimock owned the property, not one transaction concerning it appears on the town clerk's records. The present owner plans to raze the buildings now standing and complete the work of laying the property out as a select building tract which will be thoroughly restricted to assure its continuance as a site for select homes. The roadway, or West Hill Drive, as it will be known, has been laid out in the general shape of a horse-shoe; the entire layout has received the approval of the town plan commission and West Hill Drive has been accepted by the town as a public highway. Sewers have been constructed and made available for every lot, this work having been done the past summer.

In the course of the development of West Hill every effort has been made to preserve the beautiful shade trees and shrubbery—many of them being rare specimens which were procured by the late Ira Dimock during his travels in foreign lands and shipped to this country. Standing as it does at an elevation varying from 160 to 190 feet, this property will be unique in this locality as a site affording an almost unexcelled view of the surrounding country.

It is perhaps to be regretted that a building so splendidly constructed is to be razed. Many of the interior walls are hung in silks designed to match the upholstery, which several of the rooms are as large as the ordinary house costing $7,000 to $9,000 today. Work on the demolishing of the house was started about two months ago.

The deed recording the sale of the lot to Mr. Knox is the first transfer to be made on this property, but it is understood others will follow soon.

"VANDERBILT HILL."

The fine plan for developing the beautiful Dimock place on what is commonly called Vanderbilt Hill was mentioned yesterday and it brings to mind the history of that picturesque locality. The oldest son of the old Commodore Cornelius Vanderbilt was Cornelius, jr., and he was a queer bird. He was a spendthrift and hard to manage. His father thought that he might settle down in this city where he married, and so provided a home for him out on the hills approaching West Hartford. Here the young man lived for some years and then he quit, leaving many to remem-

VANDERBILT HILL PLANS.

Dimock Property To Be Developed as Residential Park With Thirty-two Parcels.

Plans were completed to-day whereby the Dimock property on Vanderbilt hill is to be developed as a residential park, and laid out with private park drives.

The development of the land will be done by the Dimock family. It is their intention to have the drives wind around the property through an avenue of the large elm trees that have always added so much to the beautifying of the hill.

MR. KNOX TO BUILD COLONIAL HOME

John B. Knox, secretary of the Phoenix Fire Insurance company, plans the erection of a handsome Colonial home on Farmington avenue, having purchased a lot from Stanley K. Dimock, his fronting 138 feet on the avenue. He has awarded the contract for the work which will be commenced immediately. Within a few weeks it is planned to have the cellar completed and the house proper started.

This is the first transfer recorded in Mr. Dimock's proposal sale of the historic estate formerly owned by his father, the late Ira Dimock. The entire estate, known as West Hill and formerly as Vanderbilt Hill, is being divided into thirty-two building lots arranged in horse-shoe shape, and sewers have already been built and other work done in preparation for the establishment of a colony of attractive homes. Cortlandt F. Luce, architect, has arranged the layout for the new development.

West Hill was sold by Alexander Hamilton to Cornelius Vanderbilt jr., of New York, in 1879, and Mr. Vanderbilt erected the mansion which is now being torn down. William H. Spooner of Bristol bought it from the administrator of the Vanderbilt estate after Mr. Vanderbilt died in New York, and the late Ira Dimock bought it from Mr. Spooner in 1889, the place remaining intact until the present.

CHAMBERLAIN OUT AS CITY TREASURER IN NEW BRITAIN

New Britain, Nov. 19.

Frederick S. Chamberlain, treasurer of the city of New Britain for the past twelve years, and formerly state treasurer, yesterday tendered his resignation as city treasurer, to take effect immediately. Mr. Chamberlain is a republican and has never had any difficulty securing election in this city. He also served in the Legislature from this city.

Letter of Resignation.

"O. F. Curtis, Acting Mayor,
City.

"Dear Sir:

"As I am about to be elected a director of the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston, and as it is a rule of the Federal Reserve Board that persons holding political or public office in the service of the United States, or of any state, territory, county, district, political division, or municipality the or acting as members of political committees, cannot consist with the spirit and under principals of the Federal Reserve Act serve as directors of Federal Reserve Banks, it becomes necessary to resign my office as treasurer of the City of New Britain. Therefore, in order to comply with above rule, I hereby present

CLARK—WOODWARD
Marriage Is Performed at Home of

NEW BRITAIN MAN TO BE DIRECTOR OF U. S. RESERVE BANK

ss Helen Louise venue, Winsted. Arthur L. Clark Woodward of this night at 8 o'clock Rev John Dallas. t John's church formed the ceremony of Hartford evening. The by her sister-in-law as matron of Helen B. Woodward C. Petsens as bride's gown was white satin, her a gown of tur her bridesmaids Ronald Woodward brother as best were Irving and Orchid color re used in the money took place in chrysanthemums, Beese of ater. After a the couple will venue this city.

Springfield

Democratic Assemblyman From Schenectady Is Woman Who Is Proud of Connecticut Birth.

Carried Republican Stronghold Attended Private School in ve of Granby and Granddaughter
glsator.

DR. ELIZABETH GILLETTE.

a woman member of the second 7, the first be sent to in fifteen n all New the legis a former Hartford, recticut, came from said in a the other and I am some town ctady and re, but I n state, elected to last year, the same good run om I van A. Edgar ice an as- gily repu- sition was a woman, by the yeral or-the Mayflower, and of Jonathan Trumbull, and granddaughter of Chauncey Pettibone, who served fourteen consecutive terms in the Connecticut general assembly—grandfather also of Rutherford B. Hayes—she was born in Granby on October 21, 1874. Her ancestors were early settlers of Lyme, Granby and Rowley, Mass.

She attended school in Granby, the McLean seminary in Simsbury, and the Misses Booth's private school in Hartford. She received in 1898 from New York university the degree of doctor of medicine. After studying at the medical college of the university she spent two years in New York hospitals and became superintendent of the woman's hospital.

She has been a resident of Schenectady for twenty years, and has been for seven years teacher of physiology in the Schenectady high school in connection with her active practice of medicine and surgery. She has been for two years examining surgeon for women for the General Electric company in Schenectady; four years associate physician and surgeon at Mary hospital; seven years secretary of the Schenectady County Humane society, of which she is a charter member, and now on the board of managers and executive committee of that organization, and surgeon for the same body.

She is a life member of the Daughters of the American Revolution and a charter member of Benkendaal chapter; also a member of the Sons of Veterans auxiliary, and of many social clubs. She maintains an office for the practice of medicine and surgery in Schenectady.

Rogers of

K TO BUILD LONIAL HOME

Secretary of the Phoenix company, plans the handsome Colonial home on Avenue, having purchased from Stanley K. Dimock. He has the house for the work commenced immediately. In two weeks it is planned to be completed and the house first transfer recorded in proposal site of the house formerly owned by his late wife Mrs. Dimock. The estate is now being sold by Alexander B. Vanderbilt Jr. in 1879, and Mr. Vanderbilt died in New York. Vanderbilt bought it from his late Dimock in 1889, the place remaining in the present.

was sold by Alexander B. Vanderbilt Jr. in 1879, and Mr. Vanderbilt died in New York. Vanderbilt bought it from his late Dimock in 1889, the place remaining in the present.

: WE Y, NOVE

Historic Vanderbilt Mansion Will Soon Be Demolished

Noted house on Vanderbilt road, West Hartford, which is believed to make way for the construction of new homes on the estate will soon be divided into thirty-two building lots.

REV. DR. DeF. MIEL
SHOWS IMPROVEMENT
AFTER OPERATION

Relatives of Rev. Dr. Ernest DeF. Miel, rector of Trinity Church.

ANXIETY FELT

The co-Ernest d
day as st
was oper nesday, N trouble.
time has times cri
sister, the sician, ha Roosevelt
where Dr
Dr. Miel's constantly
phone.

most exp
can be s
of New
tion, and Hartford
in attend

At the desired by little of hi
and conse
was given ments we
and news
elined to m request of ti

The caus
present con
long standir years. His

RE

RE

MONDAY, JUNE 12, 1922

DEDICATE CHURCH
IN FARMINGTON

Bishop Nilan Officiates at Ceremonies in New St. Patrick's

NEW CHURCH FOR FARMINGTON

CHAPEL DEDICATION TO TAKE PLACE THANKSGIVING DAY.

places rendered a musical program.

Special to The Times.

Farmington, November 20.

The interest displayed by the community at large in the erection of a new Catholic church here, will culminate in the dedication, Thanksgiving Day, of St. Patrick's chapel, which structure will be enlarged in the near future by the construction of the main building, plans for which are now ready. The chapel has just been completed, and the opening services will take place next Thursday with its dedication. The Rev. Father E. Ernest Wilson, pastor of the church, will officiate.

The new chapel is of beautiful Gothic design and will accommodate 400 people. The interior is in keeping with the original Gothic plans and is so arranged that a view of the sanctuary can be obtained from every pew. The furnishings have not all arrived. It was hoped that a set of stations of the cross, which have been ordered, would be here in time for the dedication, but it has been learned that they will not be in time. The chapel is located on South Main street and the building or superstructure, will be erected on the same spot when time comes for its erection. The lot was purchased a year ago and the members of the congregation have worked hard to accomplish the construction of a new church. The men of the parish under the leadership of Father Wilson gave their time, energy and means to succeed in this endeavor and the chapel is the result of their work. Father Wilson has been here a year, and since his coming, many changes bettering

See Page 147
His return to school

JOSEPHINE LAWLOR WINS FILM CONTEST Hartford's Mary Pickford

SLOANS OBSERVE GOLDEN WEDDING

9

President of Cushman Chuck
y Married in East Hartford cars Ago.

COLLEGIAT
—R. S. Whitn
e qualifying ever
field championsh
all the qualife

(C) P. &

"Congratul
Mary Pickford
On the back
age, written in handwriting, w
famous stub pe
to Miss Josephine Mary Pickford, *
$50 in THE TIMES
test held last wee
from Pittsburgh.

Miss Lawler.
lives at No. 32 1
elated over her suc
the news of her ach
12:10 Friday and 1
day offices of McM
Kennedy, No. 49 Pea works, were crowd
girls, employed in ti
to offer their compl ulations, and eager
their suddenly fame
Miss Lawler into Mary Pickford calls
her dramatic aspir
outlet in numerous amateur perform-

Lt. George M. Keller and Bride to Go to St. Thomas.

Nov 21 - 1919

Lieutenant of the United Miss Marion N. Y., on Fr sailing for th he is to be c Oman, Govern newest posses States. Lieute son of Mr. an this city, has for two month ness. He is Lieutenant I ness during th ing of the arri tached to the ed to be assign ery. But in c cent illness, t ed him staff c He was orderd once to the C and will sail Saturday.

Miss Hicks and Mrs. Clare Rochelle, N. Y.

On account curing passag St. Thomas, L was extended opportunity to ding earlier than intended. Miss Hicks was graduated from Chicago University and is 23 year

Miss Marlon Hicks, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jo New Rochelle, N. Y., and George Montieth Keller, of Mr. and Mrs. Georg Park terrace, were mar afternoon at the home o parents. The ceremony formed in the presence c diate families only by Re pastor of the New Rochel tional Church. Lieutenant Mrs. Keller left yester Thomas, Virgin Islands, w be stationed as aide to t of the islands. Lieuten a graduate of the United Academy at Annapolis. Mo several trips to France on Seattle. He was on sli several weeks in this ci those attending the cere Mr. and Mrs. George Kell Hilda Keller.

April 19... 1919
A son, George Keller, was day in New York to Lieuten Keller, U. S. N., and Mrs. K child is a grandson of Mr. George Keller of Park terrac

Mr. and Mrs. Mark J. Furl 54 Capen street, will celeb fiftieth anniversary of their m Friday, November 21. There solemn high mass of thanksg Michael's church at 9 o'clock morning. A reception from o'clock will be held in the afte evening at the home of their Mrs. J. J. O'Brien of 149 Edg

ME and Mrs. Furlong ha children, John J. and William long. Mrs. Stephen Fitzgibb Edward Caffrey, Mrs. J. J. Mrs. John J. Broderick and M V. Welsh, all of Hartford. T twelve grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Furlong were married on November 21, 1869, at St. Patrick's church by the Rev. Father Hughes.

places rendered a musical pr

LIEUTENANT GEORGE M. KELLER.

A DANCE WILL FOLLOW DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Engstrom of Lexington to Entertain in Honor of Their Daughter's Marriage

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Engstrom, of Lexington are to entertain at a dinner party Raymond Austin Bond, formerly a lieutenant in the United States army (and son of Mr. and Mrs. Austin Bond of lower Broad street, Windsor, and Miss Doris Celestine Engstrom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Engstrom of No. 6 Eliot road, Lexington, Mass., were married at the home of the bride's parents on Saturday evening at 6 o'clock by the Rev. John Mills Wilson, pastor of the First Parish (Unitarian) church of Lexington, who used the single ring service. About 200 guests were present. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attended by Mrs. Errol H. Locke of Lexington as matron of honor and by Miss Gertrude E. Casper of St. Paul, Minn. as maid of honor. The best man was George Cleveland Capen of this city, Trinity, 1910, and the ushers were Alfred Pelton Bond, Trinity, 1920, brother of the bridegroom; Ogden Joremus Budd, Jr. of Scarsdale, N. Y., Trinity, 1915; Howard Rice Hill of this city, Trinity, 1915; Ernest Hartrant Geyer of Rochester, N. Y., Trinity, 1915, and Russell H. Porter, Jr. of Buffalo, N. Y., a graduate of Dartmouth college. The bridegroom, best man and ushers are all members of the Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity. Mr. Bond having been graduated from Trinity college in 1916. The ceremony was performed being present. After a motor trip Mr. and Mrs. Bond will return to Lexington to spend the winter at No. 6 Eliot road.

MRS RAYMOND AUSTIN BOND.

daughter, Marlon Elizabeth, was born Tuesday at the Niles street Hospital, to Lieutenant George M. Keller, U. S. N., and Mrs. Keller. The baby is a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Keller of No. 24 Park terrace.

THURSDAY, JULY 20, 1922

M. THOMAS MORGAN MARRIES BRIDE FROM VIRGINIA

After Two Months They Will

SOUTHERN BRIDE OF HARTFORD MAN

MISS H. THOMAS MORGAN, FORMERLY MISS INGS COOPER WALLER.

Rip Van Winkle's merry men.

Those who fashioned her, loved her. They would have her ever sweep majestically at the head of the river parade. So they endowed her with swiftness of movement almost unbelievable. For years the owners of the fastest steam yachts—such racers as the Vamoose, the Now Then and the Yankee Doodle—tested their boats by overloading their boilers and trying in desperate sporting effort to keep pace with the Mary going in snowy grace and dignity about her daily business. The government tried its earliest torpedo fliers against her too. And not until the newest boats of the crack Day Line, with their feathering paddles, their new-fangled condensers and their prodigious horse-power, came on the run could any of the river regulars make gain on her creamy wake.

Good old boat, she made life on the river gayer and livelier and perhaps even more lovely. May her brave old spirit find some happy reincarnation as the harpies pick her bones.

H. THOMAS MORGAN.

THE OLD RESERVOIR.

Recollections of a Boy of the Eighties.

To the Editor of The Courant:

I have read with genuine sorrow of the proposal to eliminate the Garden street reservoir. I cannot say that this sorrow is based upon other sentimental reasons, for pre- the old reservoir has out- s usefulness as a source of supply. But to us who were the '80s, and lived in that rhoad, the old landmark many glad memories. There ed our boats and there we es around the gravel walk encircled the basin for many I never revisit Hartford with- bing the old stone steps and that circuit with its beauti- of the mountains toward the own its steep sides we rolled abled in summer and some- ntured to coast down on our winter. I well remember rry's fast-sailing catamaran, utdistanced all the other an ever-memorable race in erhaps a dozen boats were "Jim" always did things ether it was playing base- is or the game of real busi-

of the old "boys" will recall iting hockey games on the and, strange to say, there v accidents. It was a won- nobody was drowned—at cannot recall a fatality of t during all the years we n the reservoir. he old "dummy" ball grounds n the slope toward the Asy- hat exciting games we had Occasionally the "dummies" hand in the sport and they od sports, too. A little rough all, but good fellows right so far as I can remember. le distance is the old wooden belonging to the Asylum. ve played polo on roller It should be said in this on that the courtesies of the were granted us through the of Principal Williams, whose ary and Arthur, were often mates. Arthur was a rugged th a powerful physique for his years. I recall what a f strength he was in the e in a football game.

across Garden street from the was our tennis court, where we had our games and our tournaments. Ours was a small club as I can re- Harold ed Olmsted. Our lady orth, Mary Harmony y. Beauti- they have t neighbor- few. Most ve in Hart- iation from return per- boys of my have men- Bunce and bert Allyn, ylor, all of eet; Ernest rd. Charlie "Hal" Wil- r and Clive "Rob" Gla- shur Bunce, arlie" Tain- is Sexton. in and the good to go and I trust

any of my and friends his. Thank- space, I am,

J. Abbe.

La V M 46 p 130

MISS ANNA L. MURAN

WEDS C I CTDUAN

ONCE H

South Sc ture Sup in

Miss Anna
162 Capitol a sical culture
trict, and Ca York, former married Wed
Church of St
York City b Paulist Fath
is well know Stanley, sup School Distri
her duties c
as she wished
told Mr. Sta turned to H married. W
New York o
Jeremiah J. J

tor of St. Peter's Church in this city. Mrs. Stephan came to Hartford about ten years ago from Easthampton, Mass., as instructor of physical culture at the Y. W. C. A. She held her classes at the West Middle School gymnasium, as the present Y. W. C. A. building was not erected. A year later she res tor of the similar plac District has instructor t
rector of th
Goodwin Pa
part in pla
many other
Mr. Stephe
of the auto
ment of the Company in played at th
pany before

Mr and M
street, who wedding an keep open h
will receive
Mr and Mr
the respecti
being perfect
affairs going are expectin
family from iversary an
Mr and Mrs
ters, Mrs Ar
and Miss Ma
There are th ing Alger, M Ethel Morris
children, Bar Gray, Kenne
rence R. Morris.

Mrs. Thomas Dudley Riggs of Baltimore, Md., announces the marriage of her daughter, Miss Elizabeth Lanman Riggs, and Henry Croker Burr on Monday, November 24. Mrs. Burr is granddaughter of the late Mr. and rs. David T. Lanman of this city.

CROIX DE GUERRE FOR RED CROSS WORKER

Capt. ROBERT B. KELLOGG.

CROIX DE GUERRE FOR CAPT. R. B. KELLOGG

First Hartford Man in Red Cross Work to be Decorated.

For "devotion, courage and most absolute scorn of danger," Captain Robert B. Kellogg of this city has received from the French government a croix de guerre, with silver star. His citation, which has the approbation of the commander-in-chief of the American army, as well as Marshal Pétain of the French army, was received a few days ago and was dated March, 1919.

Captain Kellogg, who is the first man from Hartford who served with the American Red Cross to receive a decoration, was in France for a year. He was attached to the Thirty-Second Division and was in the front line all the time, doing outpost duty at "first aid" dressing stations. He took part in the (German) offensive.

GEORGE H. LANE WINS COVETED NAVY CROSS

Hartford Theological Student Honored For Part In War.

Local Naval Hero Gives All Credit to His

Crew. 1920

George Homer Lane of Hartford Theological Seminary, and son of a Hartford seminary professor, is the possessor of the coveted navy cross issued on November 11. Mr. Lane was a lieutenant, junior grade, in the naval reserve force and at the time he distinguished himself he was in command of the United States sub chaser No. 86 "engaged in the important, exacting and hazardous duty of patrolling the waters of the war zone, and operating against enemy submarines."

Like most heroes, Mr. Lane minimizes the part he played in the thrilling adventure that has met with such marked official recognition. While on patrol duty in the English channel sub chasers 84 and 86 detected a submarine through the listening devices. They immediately engaged the submerged submarine and after bombing it with depth bombs no more was heard of it. The British secret service confirmed the report of the officers of the sub chasers some time later.

Mr. Lane is the son of Professor Charles S. Lane of the Hartford School of Religious Pedagogy. Graduating from Amherst College, he entered Hartford Theological Seminary. On the day before war was declared Mr. Lane enlisted in the naval reserve force and spent some time training at the Yale boat house. From there he was sent to New York, where he served as mine sweeper in New York harbor. He was commissioned ensign in 1918 and was placed in command of sub chaser 86 in February of the same year. After a short period of training at New London, his boat, together with twenty-four others, set sail overseas. The sailing of this flotilla set a new mark in the history of naval warfare as it was the first time in the history of the world that so small a warship crossed the Atlantic. They at once took up the important work in the pioneer role of anti-submarine patrol in the western approaches to the English Channel with Plymouth, England, as their base. It was from this point that the patrol made contact with the enemy with such disastrous results for the latter.

After the armistice Mr. Lane resumed his studies at Hartford Theological Seminary, where he is a member of the senior class. He is married, has one child, and makes his home in West Hartford.

G. H. LANE.

Like Father Like Son

May 1-1923

THE HARTFORD DAILY COURANT

BROTHER DELIVERS CHARGE AT PASTOR'S INSTALLATION

REV. G. HOMER LANE AND REV. STODDARD LANE

Rev. Stoddard Lane, former student at the Hartford Theological Seminary, was installed Tuesday as pastor of the First Congregational Church of Manchester, N. H., at a service at which his father, Professor Charles S. Lane of the Hartford School of Religious Pedagogy, preached the sermon, and his brother, George Homer Lane, also a graduate of the seminary, delivered the charge.

Stoddard Lane is a graduate of Amherst College in the class of 1909, and of the Hartford Seminary of 1913. He received the Jacobus Fellowship at the Seminary, and was finishing a course at Berlin when the war broke out. On his return to this country in 1914 he served as active pastor of the Church of the Pilgrims in Brooklyn, N. Y., and was ordained pastor of the Reformed Church of Bogota, N. J., in June, 1915. In June, 1917, he enlisted in the U. S. A. Service and saw much hard fighting in France.

His brother, George, is also a graduate of Amherst and the seminary. He had a brilliant war record, receiving the coveted navy cross for distinguished service as a lieutenant in charge of a submarine chaser engaged in the hazardous duty of patrolling the war zone.

the seminary class of 1919. As it is he will be graduated in 1920, completing the trio. He followed his father and brother by graduating from Amherst in 1916 and entered the Hartford seminary in September of that year. In the spring of 1917 he enlisted in the naval reserve and after assignments at New Haven and New York he was awarded a commission as ensign.

With but very little sea experience he undertook as his first real job the captaincy of a submarine chaser, and on this boat, measuring but 110 feet in length and 13½ feet in width, crossed the Atlantic with a fleet of boats of the same type. Ensign Lane holds a certificate from the British admiralty thanking him for "getting" a German submarine and was promoted to a lieutenant, junior grade being later made a unit commander. With the end of the war he returned to Hartford and is now at the seminary.

good fortune the two had an opportunity to meet seas. Stoddard was given while the war was still on France to England on a boat to Plymouth, where by of good fortune, George at the time. The brothers to spend a week together, ing out with George on one when the chaser was on a bmarines.

ual circumstance by which ers of one family are en- same profession, and have ch other in almost every their training, was consid- ent note to receive mention a recent issue of a Congre- lication.

ES STODDARD LANE.

ry he Be- ceapon ich he by arms, behind made fully stock ollege crack after never t in-

H. LANE WINS
NAVY CROSS

Theological Studied For Part In War.
Hero Gives All
to His Crew. 1920

An unusual adage that "the tendency Charles Stod-
the Hartford
vice-president of Religious of church histo-
steps of their work in which ful, even to
for the comple-
The Rev. Ch-
born in Bosto-Boston Latin Amherst in Theological se-
ordained to th-
this state, serafterward beca-
byterian chur-N. Y. He ca-
and has met
work here.
Twenty-nine
his studies at dard Lane, w-
same college,
year as sec-
Christian asso-
Hartford to f-

WAR STORIES TOLD IN WEST HARTFORD

Lieutenant Lane and Captain Spencer Address Men's Union at Church.

West Hartford, December 17.—A well attended meeting was held last night in the Congregational church parlors, under the auspices of the Men's union of that church.

After a short business session and a selection by the High School orchestra, Lieutenant Homer Lane explained a set of slides made from pictures taken during his service as navigating commander of submarine-chaser No. 86. Lieutenant Lane described his boat as being 110 feet long, equipped with a Y-gun and machine guns for projecting depth bombs by means of a powder charge. The boat had three engines which could develop 260 horsepower and started by compressed air.

The crew was composed of twenty-four men and there were two officers, a navigating and an executive officer. Among the men were bank clerks, a dry goods clerk, an Alaskan fisherman and a Cornell student. The nationalities were also numerous, including Swedish, Greek, Irish and American.

All the destroyers and chasers had letters painted conspicuously on their sides and circles, diamonds or squares on the decks for identification by the rest of the fleet and by airplanes. There were twenty-four in the fleet and they left New London on the 8th of May, going first to Bermuda and then to the Azores, finally docking in Plymouth, England. The chasers took their gas on the way over from a tanker which threw out big cans full of it which the chaser picked up. Gas was 60c. a gallon and they took on about 1,000 gallons at a time.

A submarine is almost never seen, but is heard through a delicate and very accurate listening device, Lieutenant Lane said, with the result that when a depth bomb is projected it almost always strikes.

While in Plymouth, the chasers, usually in units of three, patrolled the coast in the daytime, with engines running, but at night they lay to and drifted as a submarine can hear a chaser fully as far away as a chaser can hear a submarine.

Good Luck From Shell.

Lieutenant Lane said once the Germans unwittingly did their enemy a good turn, when a shell missed the boat at which it was aimed, struck a rock, went off, and stunned large numbers of fish. Persons near the place picked the fish up by boatloads the next day and sold them at a good price.

Several slides were shown depicting depth bombs going off. In shallow water a black cloud appears, where the water was riled.

Tribute was paid by Lieutenant Lane to the boats which the British built to destroy submarines. At first the submarines, being deceived by them approached and showed fight but the British boats soon proved their efficiency. The British chasers usually had three stacks, while the Americans had four.

There was an interesting picture of the German submarine No. 139 which was captured during the war. It had three below decks and eighteen torpedoes, was equipped with a conning tower and wireless. The guns on its upper deck are fired electrically from below and by a special device. The guns are left on deck when the boat is submerged.

After another selection by the orchestra, Captain W. E. Spencer told of the army's exploits. He crossed in the Leviathan and paid high tribute to the work of the navy in conveying such an immense ship safely across the ocean. Captain Spencer showed a picture of a German airplane shot down by Captain Eddie Rickenbacher and Lieutenant Reed Chambers October 2, 1918. He then told about training aviators. The first step is ground work and the mechanism of engines, then slow flying in a double control machine where the beginner follows the motions of the pilot.

Flying a Sopwith comes next, followed by the flying of a Breget, a heavy machine used for bombing and aerial photography.

Captain Spencer told how, when there were fleecy clouds, it was a favorite stunt to go through them and above them. There were strict orders to go up and down, through breaks, but one was never sure the other fellow would do it. One day when up with a friend, Captain Grant, they saw another machine coming up. As captain Grant turned his machine, the other machine turned and the two came together—but it was a shadow.

The French villages as shown by Captain Spencer are very compact and present a splendid target for enemy machines to drop bombs upon.

Captain Spencer accompanied John B. Stetson of the Stetson Hat company, while the latter took some of his celebrated aerial pictures of the famous Chateau region of France. The pictures are the only ones of their kind and are shortly to be brought together in a book.

'COURANT' ACQUIRES
THE 'SUNDAY GLOBE'Papal Message of Congratulation Read at Thanksgiving Day Ceremony.

Nov 27 1919

Miss Hilda Louise Stickney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George R. Stick-'COURANT' ACQUIRES
THE 'SUNDAY GLOBE'

NOVEMBER 21, 1919

Takes Over Weekly Paper Which Was Established in 1876—"Globe" Will Publish Its Final Issue Next Sunday
—History of Publication Interesting

Home of "Hartford Sunday Globe" and former home of "Hartford Telegram"

and for service in the Civil War. He was employed for a time by the Central Vermont Railroad after coming to this city in 1874. For over forty years he was one of the best known horse dealers in the state. Mrs. Pierson was born in Marlborough on May 22, 1844, a daughter of Samuel and Eliza Root Finley. Mr. and Mrs. Pierson have a son, Elmer R. Pierson of this city.

HIS FIFTY YEARS IN MASONIC ORDER

Alfred E. Phelps' Record Commemorated by Glas- tonbury Brethren.

Glastonbury, November 28.

The completion of fifty years in Masonry by Alfred E. Phelps, senior past master of Daskam lodge, F. & A. M., and the second oldest lodge treasurer in Connecticut in years of service, was commemorated by the lodge Wednesday evening.

Although Mr. Phelps had been particularly requested to be present and witness the rendition of the master Mason degree by the regular officers, no intimation was given him of the surprise for him until well along in the degree work.

Just before the completion of the first section of the degree, Worshipful Master Albert L. Taylor called on Past Master Edgar F. Williams to address the candidate.

Past Master Williams reviewed the part of the candidate thus far in the three degrees and prophesied the honors that might come to him as well as any other member found worthy. He spoke indirectly for some time of the honors that had come to another member made master Mason in the lodge just fifty years ago, and then spoke directly to Past Master Phelps. He reviewed the Masonic record of Mr. Phelps who was first chosen treasurer 1878 and continued in that office.

He concluded by presenting to Mr. Phelps a past master's jewel on behalf of the lodge.

Mr. Phelps was much affected by the evidence of the esteem and love of the members of the lodge. He expressed his appreciation of the honor given him on being fifty years a Mason, and his pleasure in receiving the past master's jewel.

A recess followed the presentation and the members and visitors informally congratulated Mr. Phelps. A collation was served.

The completion of the ceremonies of the degree was followed by remarks by Past Masters James B. Killam and Louis W. Howe of Columbia lodge who congratulated Mr. Phelps, and by remarks by Past Master Henry A. Spafford of Wooster lodge of Colchester, Nicholas J. McLean of Warren lodge of Portland, John M. Knox of Hartford lodge of Hartford, Martin L. Roser, Giles H. Wadsworth and Samuel H. Williams of Daskam lodge.

Fifty Years in Masonry.

The record of Mr. Phelps as treasurer for forty-two years is only surpassed by that of former Congressman E. Stevens Henry of Fayette lodge of Rockville since 1863. Mr. Henry was a member of congress eighteen years, and therefore not personally able to fulfill the duties of his office during all of that time, and Daskam lodge feels that the forty-two years of direct conduct of his important office by Mr. Phelps rank him with Mr. Henry.

Mr. Phelps was made a master Mason in Daskam lodge on November 27, 1869. He was junior deacon of the lodge in 1870, junior warden in 1871, senior warden in 1872 and 1873, and worshipful master in 1874, 1875 and 1876.

He was chosen treasurer in 1878, and by continuing annual elections has been retained in that important office. He was elected a member of the board of trustees in 1896, and served to 1911 on the board.

Mr. Phelps succeeded his father, Philip F. Phelps, as treasurer. The lodge was organized in 1859, and Captain Phelps was master of the lodge for 17 years. He was treasurer for 17 years, and then was Phelps, father of the present treasurer. The office has been father and son.

ALFRED E. PHELPS.

as born in this town. His mother was Phelps. After the Connecticut command of a brownstone from Later Captain coal business, in association with since continued. extensively engaged has a wide acquaintance in Hartford county. member of Daskam, and the old. He is a thirty-year having membership in S. P. R. S., of member of the association of Conselectman, tax representative 87.

Miss Charlotte Bishop Waller, daughter of Judge and Mrs. Charles B. Waller of New London and granddaughter of former Governor Thomas M. Waller and Ross Bennett, son of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Bennett of New York were married Friday evening at 6:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents by the Rev. Philip Markham Kerridge in the presence of more than 100 guests. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attended by Miss Janet Hislop, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Hislop of New London, as maid of honor and the best man was Franklin P. O'Brien of Chicago, a classmate of the bridegroom at Cornell university. The house was decorated with yellow chrysanthemums and southern smilax. The bride wore a dress of white satin, draped with duchess lace and cut with a court train. Her veil was caught with

ST. JOHN'S CHURCH ACQUIRES PROPERTY

Farmington Avenue Site Bought with View to Expansion.

The Fenn property at the corner of Farmington avenue and South Highland street in West Hartford, has been sold to St. John's Episcopal Church for a price said to be about $21,500. The property has a frontage of 121 feet on Farmington avenue and 250 feet on South Highland street. The lot was bought to provide a future building and to protect the present buildings from too close encroachment on the west.

The members of the church have realized that in the near future the parish will be required to add to its buildings. The main building, which is considered to be one of the finest in New England, was consecrated by Bishop Brewster in 1909. Rev. William T. Hooper became rector of the church early in the summer of 1918, succeeding Rev. James W. Bradin, who is now rector emeritus after nearly forty years as rector.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER

THANKSGIVING: 1.

A year ago America had s
to give thanks for the victor
she had so gloriously shared ov
of despotism and militarism al
today she again has special celebrating Thanksgiving Day heart. For despite the mens archy within her bounds, and pressure of those who would h
plain her sovereignty for the blind or poorly discriminating p
in a strange and ill-represen doubtfully democratic form of h
rule, she still remains a free eign nation.

But with
also prayer,
yet. Well m ica may be enemies of from well i friends. Ma tion, from t
for the dis
dreaded wh
may she als
honor from
have her ext
ism to the w
nul or perva

And to fur
us all, and a Principle m
at any cost.
mocracy mu
But in min measures, n compromise
the divine sp
erned by the
which bids things Amer reminds us consummatio
but as April
least, is sec

If America
her mighty s ternational d
reach out ge constructive
bear the inv
side by side Stripes, into t reconstruction
she only can herself. Else
be distinctivel
tional, and ins
of nations th Americanism,
ism to the fate
And that she

Governor Holcomb's Thanksgiving proclamation was one of the best of his wonderful series of patriotic and pious anniversary papers. Like Grover Cleveland, he has something of the preacher in him, differing from the Roosevelt type, less hortatory and castigating, but rather grave, formal, eloquent, beautiful.

(New London Day.)

Governor Holcomb's Thanksgiving proclamation, like all his other promulgations of the sort, is a gem of literary merit and thoroughly sin-

How Our Forefathers Feasted in the Good Old Days.

To the Editor of The Republican:

It is just 298 years since the first Thanksgiving feast was held in New England, which time was the autumn following the landing of the Pilgrims at Plymouth Rock. The flesh of the turkey then was, and ever since has been, a favorite dish at all festivals.

Edward Winslow, one of the first of the Pilgrims coming to New England, writing in 1621, stated that the harvest having been gathered, Governor Bra- t out four men for game, who lay killed so many fowls that ved the company in feasting week. Mr. Winslow also stated that time many Indians visited cluding King Massasoit, with ety men, who for three days etained and feasted.

It is interesting to note that turkeys that these early settlers re not the same species as the turkey then common in Europe eastern wild turkey, which was indant in the woods of New

The Mexican turkey, the ne- which the domestic bird origi- llers only slightly from that stern wild turkey that the Pil- id Puritans feasted upon. An gist, by the examination, of one rom the tail of a turkey, can ame to which species the bird the color of the tip of the tail Mexican being white and that stern wild, chestnut. The flesh bout alike. The amount one to pay for one pound of tur- id have purchased several nice, lers in those early days.

S. Morton, the bad man of New England, but an ardent n, who lived near where the Boston is now located, in a t he published in 1637, stated ousand turkeys had been seen 'house in one day. Josselyn, an Englishman, who ew England twice, once in again in 1663, in an account atural history of the country, he had here seen three-score of young turkeys in a morn-

n Wood, whose home was near of the city of Lynn, in a book ublished in 1634, described the ey and said that a man could l half a dozen in a morning. ie, this was simply with the old flintlock gun.

l turkeys were sold in Hartford hilling each. In Northampton, less than two cents a pound price. In 1820 the cost of liv- so increased that 10 cents a as charged. At that time the s had nearly disappeared from gland and only the domestic were in the market. A few eys remained on the Mt. Tom til the last one was killed in f the flesh of the wild turkey that of the crow, this race would not now have been ted in the northeastern states, as has been the case.

ROBERT O. MORRIS.

Springfield, November 21, 1919.

Miss Lottie F. Morgan has resigned from the business staff of The Republican, with which she has been associated for many years, and left yesterday for a two weeks' vacation which she will spend with friends in Stamford, Ct., and New York city. Miss Morgan's marriage to George B. Prescott of Boston will be an event of the latter part of the month and will take place in Boston.

Wilson Proclaims Nov. 27 As Thanksgiving Day

Washington, Nov. 5.—President Wilson today set aside Thursday, November 27, as Thanksgiving Day in a proclamation which said the country looked forward "with confidence to the dawn of an era where the sacrifices of the nations will find recompense in a world at peace."

The proclamation follows:—

"By the President of the United States of America.

"A PROCLAMATION:

"The season of the year has again arrived when the people of the United States are accustomed to unite in giving thanks to Almighty God for the blessings which He has conferred upon our country during the twelve months that have passed. A year ago our people poured out their hearts in praise and thanksgiving that through Divine aid the right was victorious and peace had come to the nations which had so courageously struggled in defense of human liberty and justice. Now that the stern task is ended and the fruits of achievement are ours we look forward with confidence to the dawn of an era where the sacrifices of the nation will find recompense in a world at peace.

"But to attain the consummation of the great work to which the American people devoted their manhood and the vast resources of their country they should, as they give thanks to God, reconsecrate themselves to those principles of right which triumphed through His merciful goodness. Our gratitude can find no more perfect expression than to bulwark with loyalty and patriotism those principles for which the free peoples of the earth fought and died.

"During the past year we have had much to make us grateful. In spite of the confusion in our economic life resulting from the war we have prospered. Our harvests have been plentiful and of our abundance we have been able to render succor to less favored nations. Our democracy remains unshaken in a world torn with political and social unrest. Our traditional ideals are still our guides in the path of progress and civilization.

"These great blessings, vouchsafed to us, for which we devoutly give thanks, should arouse us to a fuller sense of our duty to ourselves and to mankind to see to it that nothing we may do shall mar the completeness of the victory which we helped to win. No selfish purpose animated us in becoming participants in the world war, and with a like spirit of unselfishness we should strive to aid by our example and by our co-operation in realizing the enduring welfare of all peoples and in bringing into being a world ruled by friendship and good will.

"Therefore, I, Woodrow Wilson, President of the United States of America, hereby designate Thursday, the 27th day of November next, for observance as a day of thanksgiving and prayer by my fellow countrymen, inviting them to cease on that day from their ordinary tasks and to unite in their homes and in their several places of worship in ascribing praise and thanksgiving to God, the author of all blessings and the master of our destinies.

"In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

"Done in the District of Columbia this fifth day of November, in the year of Our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and nineteen, and of the independence of the United States the one hundred and forty-

(Signed)

"Woodrow Wilson."

SEAL

the President:

Robert Lansing, Secretary of State."

When Governor Holcomb changes his mind and calls the session, on demand of those who call him an ostrich, we will announce the astonishing fact. He's not the kind to reverse himself.

President Bulkeley and Company John S. Burwell Half Century on Actuarial Force.

Dec 13, 1919

MORGAN G. BULKELEY.

CHARLES E. GILBERT.

M. H. PEILER.

J. S. BURWELL.

John S. Burwell completed to-day his fiftieth year of service in the actuarial department of the Aetna Life Insurance company. He received from President Morgan G. Bulkeley and Vice-President Joel L. English of the company a personal letter expressing their appreciation and the appreciation of the other officers of the company, for his long devotion to the company's welfare, and from his associates a remembrance in the shape of fifty American beauty roses.

"I note with interest that your fifty years of service for the Aetna Life Insurance company expires to-day," said the letter from the head of the company. "I wish to congratulate you on the good health with which you have survived this long period of work, also wish to bear witness to your unfailing industry and loyalty to the company's interests in all this time."

"I am expressing the sentiments of the other officers of the company as well as my own in thanking you for your long devotion to the welfare of this company and for the good example of faithful and persistent service which you have set before the other employees of this office."

Under the signature of Morgan G. Bulkeley at the end of the letter was also the signature of Joel L. English.

Mr. Burwell has spent his life in this city. His home is at No. 49 Sumner street.

granted in March, 1917.
Right—Princess Radziwill, formerly Dorothy Deacon, youngest of three beautiful daughters of Edward Parker Deacon of Boston, has requested that her marriage to Prince Albert Antoine Radziwill be declared invalid. The relatives of the prince opposed the marriage. The ceremony was performed on July 5, 1910.

Insurance Men Take Fright

"Transition"

employ in the fall of 1867 a position which he has since.

became associated with the 1868, beginning work in the department. In 1903 he became assistant actuary, and in 1910 actuary.

He went to the company in 1868, and was successively cashier, assistant secretary, to which office he was promoted in 1905.

Mr. Burwell started with the actuary in 1869 and has always been with that section.

Mr. Burwell started with the company in 1872, after service on the Boston. He was a classmate of the late Flavel S. Luther at Trinity.

He is connected with the maturing endowment department, having charge of titles, bankruptcy cases and checks for medical fees.

Mr. Winter is the junior member of this remarkable group. He started with the Aetna Life in 1873 as an assistant in the actuarial department. He is still connected with that department.

Death of E. P. Hickmott Breaks Ranks of Those Who Have Served Aetna Life for Forty-five Years.

Seven Men Left Who Have Been Associated With Company Since 1873 or Before—Growth of Home
Office Staff to Between 2,500 and 3,000.

Insurance company, the Aetna Life and Indemnity company. The large building which bears the date "1869" over its door on Main street has not been able to take care of the employees of the Aetna companies, which have spread across the street, to Trumbull street, and other places where office space could be secured.

Mr. English entered the employ of daughter, Marion Elizabeth, was born Tuesday at the...

NUSSBAUM—A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. A. Nussbaum on Thursday, April 18th, at St. Francis Hospital.

Ka Nuss
Miss Sadie
ter of Char
B. Schwartz
nue and Abr
the late Ka married at t hem Anspach
After a wed
York state, N
will live in Nussbaum is

VERMONT

WED

UN

Ka Nuss

The Connect
force laws ha
once more to Colonel J. Gra
the Estey Org
boro, Vt., and
some of his ou
First Vermont Margaret (Lan line, Mass., ha license in Stan
of the strict la
ing to marriag
caused them to ense. The law
a person again
granted in that
in that state,
marriage relati
married in son
three years ha
granting of the

Mrs. Mattie E
force two years
tey, while Mrs.
force from her
months ago.

were members of the border patrol which operates between Rockwell Field and Yuma. I knew them both very well indeed, particularly Cecil Connolly, who was a radio officer and was under me in the radio department for about two months. We were pretty much cut up over their loss, particularly as the conditions under which they met death were apparently so awful.

Everything was done to locate them. Planes were sent to Esenada and San Quentin, where bases of operations were established. All the border cavalry, about three troops, were sent into Lower California to look for them. A detachment of coast artillery men from Fort Rosecrans accompanied the cavalry. Canter, governor of Lower California, had some of his outfit detailed on the search. Thousands of rumors were brought in but only a few were worth anything.

The plane was seen five times, as near as can be figured, the last place being 256 miles below the border. Why they turned south, no one will ever know. Why they did not land at several likely places they passed over and where they were seen, no one can tell. They may have fallen in flames or have crashed in the desert mountains, miles from water or habitation. They might even have fallen in the Gulf, as they were flying due east when last seen. My guess is as good as yours.

all the Lower California, which proves that the man who said a kind God watches over republics and democracies was correct, in that this was the only sand-pile within miles that these protect republic—which looks of while our aviators are "in Mexican fishermen"—found.

Lieutenant Smith was from the Hartford Public H in 1910. He enlisted August an instructor in the ground aeronautics at the University of California, from which he was in 1915. After attending the Military School at Los Angeles was sent to Columbia University a course in radio telephony. he went to the artillery Fort Sill, Okla., where he weeks. At Rockwell Field, Diego, Cal., he has been in $750,000 worth of radio apparatus is now radio officer of the Radio Group at a Texan hope of being discharged ago having been shattered by ing need for aerial radio

His story of his flight in the two missing aviators, was sages scratched on their 'platen days ago told a story of and horrible death, strikes man note which leads one to how and why such things, done with apparent impunity diers of Uncle Sam. His d of the search, written before of the men was known, fol

Do you remember reading papers about Lieutenants and Waterhouse, who were desert country coming in fr

as far as San Quentin, is nothing more than a desert! People have the idea that Lower California is a wonderfully fertile country. I thought so before our boys went in there. It is, in a very few restricted districts near the coast and in a few isolated valleys toward the inland. The rest is desert—jagged peaks with not a vestige of vegetation and no water save a few scattered hidden wells in hundreds of square miles. Where vegetation exists, it is all cactus, square miles of it and thirty or forty feet high. The upper end is flat desert with one salt alkaline lake, the Laguna Salada, forty miles long.

The boys were lost on Wednesday, Thursday morning, Lieutenant Paul Williams, a Los Angeles boy, and I were sent out in search by Major Robertson, who, if you remember, was himself lost in the desert for nine days, with Lieutenant Colonel Bishop. We had a Curtiss H 'plane, with a Hispano Suiza 250-horsepower motor, and equipped with radio telegraph. I flew as observer and used field glasses.

We covered all of the country between Rockwell Field and Calexico (about 150 miles away) where we thought they could possibly have landed and went all over the flat desert country down as far as the east end of Laguna Salada. We were in Mexico practically all that morning and at one point were forty-five miles below the line. In the afternoon we covered all of the flat California and some of the mountainous

In the regimental order for "inspection, brigade review and exercises," October 4 and 5 of that year

"Tiger"

MADAME Clemenceau-Jacquemaire, the talented daughter of Georges Clemenceau, the French premier, who will speak here tonight, has a mission of unusual interest. She has arranged to make a tour covering all parts of the United States her purpose being to deliver a lecture entitled "The Soul of France." It is her belief that if Americans could know the French people as they really are, various misconceptions would be removed, and a better understanding between France and America would be promoted. With this object, she will describe the home life, customs and characteristics of her native land from an entirely novel point of view.

A writer of note, and the author of several books, Madame Clemenceau-Jacquemaire has been closely associated with the work at the door of Mexico. She has been in the hands of Americans who are serving Uncle Sam in the border ended with—

INVITATIONS SENT FOR SHIP LAUNCHING

S. S. Hartford to Take Ways at Groton on Saturday. 1919

MISS FRANCES RAU

CHILDREN RAISE
$353 FOR BELLS

ON H. C. C. HARTFORD

Daughter
Will Christen Steamer Hartford

Begin Sale of Cl

Left to Right—Mrs. Edward N. Allen, Mrs. Ward C. Meager, Mrs. Fenn, at Connecticut Mutual Building.

MISS MARIO N KINSELLA.

The Groton Iron Works company announced to-day that the steamer Hartford is about 85 per cent. completed, and will be finished and ready for launching some time in the latter part of November.

According to all indications, the launching ceremony will be a gala one. Miss Marion Kinsella, youngest daughter of Mayor and Mrs. Richard J. Kinsella, will christen the good ship as it makes its first bow to the briny deep at Groton. At the same time, Miss Frances A. Rau, daughter of the late Major George J. Rau and Mrs. Rau, will, with a dainty speech, present the ship's bells, which are to be purchased with money contributed by the school children of Hartford.

The Hartford will be one of the ships of the rapidly increasing American merchant marine. It was named for this city as a result of Hartford's record in Liberty loan campaigns.

Miss Kinsella is a senior in the Hartford high school.

For the poop bridge and fore-type with machinery amidships. Landing cargo there are two masts with four five-ton booms each mast, and two derrick posts ridge deck, each fitted with ton booms. On after side of ast there is one thirty-ton cargo. There are four large cargo es through main and tween and one small cargo hatch on e deck.

C. The ships of the Hartford are the Tollard, Worcester, Nameaug, Merry Mount and Quinipiac. These ships are already in commission. They were also constructed at the yards of the Groton Iron Works.

(By Courant Staff Correspondent.)

New London, Nov. 29.

Although weather conditions were unpropitious, causing a delay of ten minutes, the 8,800 ton S. S. Hartford.

of Commerce, who represented the chamber in the absence of President

In the season's newest shades of Special At... $39.75 $49.75

Formerly $55 to $75.

A Rack of 50 Suits

For Christ

The gift that pleases most greatest thoughtfulness.
Hoosier." For this is the

S. S. HARTFORD LEAVING THE WAYS AT THE GROTON IRON WORKS.

Mayor Kinsella, Leon F. B. ... chairman of the Fourth Liberty Loan campaign committee, Charles B. Cook, ex-president of the Hartford Chamber tin M. Spethacy, assistant ... inspector, Joseph P. Rohan, electrical inspector, and John F. Dutton of the department of public buildings.

Y IS Scott
r. and
t., and ella. (c)

formerly Miss Dorothy C. Mooney of this city.

JANUARY, 28, 1927.

Miss Edith B. Kingman United in Marriage to A. R. Welles, Ex-Soldier.

Nov 28

Wethersfield, December 1.—Ashbel Russell Welles of Wethersfield and Miss Edith B. Kingman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Kingman of Providence, bride's hon-

bride was a Marion Kin
and the bes
of Wethers bridegroom
lege.

The bride
satin and with hand-n bridegroom
gum last 3
wore a go Both the t
were in un
served in ti
the navy.

A receipt and was at
and intimat
wedding trip
reside on W Welles, who Rhode Islan
played as a stock, Ferre
the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Bessie
fred DeMay DeMay from

ARTHUR F. POTTER.

CLARENCE F. OSBORN WEDS MRS. N. A. MAXWELL

New Haven, Dec. 2.—Mrs. Nellie Abbott Maxwell of San Francisco, Cal., a wealthy widow of social prominence, and Clarence Frederick Osborn, of this city, were married Saturday. Mr. Osborn, who formerly lived in Norwalk, represented that town in the general assembly. He is a member of several prominent clubs, including the Royal Automobile club of London and the New York Yacht club. He was also commodore of the Norwalk Yacht club. He was a son of the late Charles F. Osborn, Commodore Osborn was divorced recently by his wife, Marie Miller Osborn, of Stamford.

The marriage of Mrs. Nellie Abbott Maxwell, a widow of social prominence in San Francisco, and Clarence Fred-

Dec BLANDFORD 2,

Blandford, Dec. 3.—Blandford's oldest resident, Lyman R. Nye, celebrated his 92d birthday Tuesday. Mr. Nye received gifts and congratulations, and his niece and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Hammersley of Westfield, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Nye. Mr. Nye's grandnephew, Edmund R. Nye, took him for an automobile ride to Meadowbrook farm, where Mr. Nye's parents moved 80 years ago, when the house was new. Mr. Nye was able to recall many interesting events of his early life. He remembers 86 years ago being called once by his grandfather at 3 in the morning to see a meteoric shower, when the glowing particles seemed "as thick as snowflakes." Mr. Nye endured the drive yesterday well and was keenly interested in improvements which his nephew, A. H. Nye, is having made at his old home. Thanksgiving day was the 64th anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Nye's wedding.

POTTER NAMED TO BE TAX SECRETARY

Commissioner Corbin Pro- motes Office Man to Suc- ceed

SPECIAL SERVICE IN CHRIST CHURCH

Arthur F. Potter, appointed ye the office of William H. Mary Elwood, appointment Mr. Potter has inheritance ta fice since Au will assume ber 1.

Mr. Potter and son of D Mrs. Potter of early this year service overse discharge he Twentythird ing enlisted Christ Church at 11 o'clock. All the turned down clergy of the diocese, the lay officers of unsatisfact graduated fro in 1914, with deans of the Province of New England following year M. A. He was actuary departhe processional Bishop Brewster will Insurance Consecrate the new memorial gifts and of the Phi Bet Miss Elwood bless the altar. These memorials con-

examiner in

To Celebrate Founding of Cathedral and Dedicate Memorial Gifts.

Jan 13-1920

Next Tuesday the diocese will celebrate the founding of Christ Church cathedral with a special service in Christ Church at 11 o'clock. All the clergy of the diocese, the lay officers of the convention and the bishops and deans of the Province of New England have been invited. Immediately after the processional Bishop Brewster will consecrate the new memorial gifts and bless the altar. These memorials consist of the choir parapet, given in memory of Franz Liesche, a liberal benefactor of the parish; the bishop's seat, given in memory of Right Rev. Thomas Church Brownell, the third bishop of Connecticut, and a rector of Christ Church; the communion rail, given in memory of Mary N. and Little A. Davis, devoted workers in this parish; the three sedilia, given in memory of John McClary, Isaac B. Davis and Maria A. Davis, his wife, and John Metcalf Taylor, a devoted vestryman of Christ Church; the rector's vestry, completed in memory of Dr. Gordon W. Russell, for 57 years a vestryman and for nine years senior warden of Christ Church; the altar cross, in memory of William Wallace Gocher, who died in his country's service; and the altar, given in grateful memory of Rev. Dr. James Goodwin, rector of Christ Church for fifteen years, as a tribute of love from his people. After the service these memorials have been dedicated, Dean Colladay will be formally in-

TO RECONS CHURCH

Dr. Colladay cial Praye Morning S

Nov 30

The interior of the cathedral will be reconsecrated Monday morning by the rector, the Dean Colladay. Memorial services will be completed by the rector, the Dean Colladay. The alterations requested by Rev. E. S. Rousmaniere, Dean of St. Paul's Cathedral, Boston, for the parishioners of the cathedral choir will be in the amount of $5,000, with large full mechanical, and will sing Merbecke's setting of the Creed and Gounod's Sanctus. In no casting of the Creed and Gounod's Sanctus more than $100,000. The anthem will be "Holy Spirit, Come, O Come," by Dr. Martin. In the afternoon of the same day, at 2:30 o'clock there will be the celebration of the centennial of the consecration of Bishop Brownell. Bishop Brewster will make a short address and Rev. W. A. Beardsley of New Haven, registrar of the diocese, will deliver a historical discourse. Both of these services will be open to the public generally, except for certain seats which will be specially reserved for the clergy and for those closely interested in the memorials which will be dedicated.

The enlargement of the cathedral will be in the amount of $5,000, with large full mechanical, and will sing Merbecke's setting of the Creed and Gounod's Sanctus. In no casting of the Creed and Gounod's Sanctus more than $100,000. The anthem will be "Holy Spirit, Come, O Come," by Dr. Martin. In the afternoon of the same day, at 2:30 o'clock there will be the celebration of the centennial of the consecration of Bishop Brownell. Bishop Brewster will make a short address and Rev. W. A. Beardsley of New Haven, registrar of the diocese, will deliver a historical discourse. Both of these services will be open to the public generally, except for certain seats which will be specially reserved for the clergy and for those closely interested in the memorials which will be dedicated.

daughter, Marion Elizabeth, was born Tuesday.

CONNECTICUT'S FIRST W

Miss Elwood Blazes a Pioneer Trail Into the Labyrinth of Taxes and Accounts and All That Sort of Thing.

Dec 1, 1919

INTO THE PAGES of Connecticut history, which the generations to come will read, there will be set aside a paragraph or perhaps a page telling the precedent that took place in this conservative old state on December 1, 1919. In the terse wording of the textbook it will tell that the first woman bank examiner to be appointed in Connecticut, and one of the very first in the United States, took up her new duties that day. The textbook, in all probability, will tell of the splendid work of this woman, and will perhaps wonder why one hadn't been appointed before.

And the woman whom all this fuss will be made about is Miss Mary E. Elwood, the slim, chestnut-haired, keen-eyed, young woman in Tax Commissioner William H. Corbin's office at the State Capitol. With part of her desk piled with letters that had to be prepared for dictation, and every available other section of it crowded with file baskets, and memoranda, Miss Elwood sat in her office one day last week, fingered her letters, and was reluctant to talk of the great change she was making.

"I don't know why you want to make such a fuss about it," was her comment.

It's time a fuss was made about Miss Elwood. For the past eleven years, since she left high school in the class of 1908, she has worked in the tax commissioner's office, and has been promoted from a temporary position as the only stenographer in the office to that of executive secretary.

And it hasn't been easy. There was night after night that Miss Elwood might have spent in pleasure, when she was at home studying the science of taxation and economics. There were other nights when the work at the office was particularly heavy, and it had to be done, and she stayed, and many times, the electric light was almost converted into the midnight oil.

Miss Elwood's fame as an authority on taxation is known not only to Connecticut, but men from all over the United States, who attended the conference of the National Tax Association held in Chicago in June, listened with keen interest to the opinions of the Connecticut girl, the only one at the convention, and the first one to have ever attended one of their gatherings.

When you have looked over the biennial report of the tax commissioner, or after you have read through their publications on taxation, compiled by the state, and your head is swimming from looking at the figures, and you grab your hat and rush out into the sunshine, it didn't occur to you that those breath-taking figures were the result of the careful, tedious compilation of Miss Elwood? In the last biennial report of the state on taxation, Mr. Corbin, in his acknowledgements, pays tribute to Miss Elwood for her loyal and efficient service.

From time immemorial there have been men, who, when they have heard of a woman making a place for herself in the world, look impressed for a moment, and then with a shrug said, "Oh, well, perhaps she has made good in that one particular thing, but she can't have any other interests. She is on the inside of the fence with her job, and she can't see over the tops of the pickets."

There may be women of this type; it is very possible that there are, but not so Miss Elwood. Despite her arduous duties in the taxation office, she has had plenty of time to become a hard-working member of various war drive teams. Two years ago when the local Red Cross sent out a plea for thousands and thousands of comfort bags for army and navy men, Miss Elwood filled a record number. And many were the unsuspecting visitors to that office who came out with less change jingling in their pockets than when they went in.

Miss Elwood is not unknown to the representatives and senators of Connecticut. At the 1915 session of the Legislature, when so much opposition was shown to the proposed improved health bills, Miss Elwood was one of the tireless workers in favor of the bill.

She worked early and late, and she laid her wires, and pulled her strings with the cleverness of a campaign general. The bill was passed, and many a seasoned lobbyist in the state house might have been heard to say something to the effect that he'd take his hat off to the little lady.

And when it comes to writing articles on taxation, Miss Elwood is on the top rung of the ladder, suggesting reforms, giving her ideas of the defects in prevailing systems, and contributing constructive ideas and suggestions. Many publications on taxation are indebted to her for splendid articles. The October Bulletin of the National Tax Association has a review of tax legislation in Connecticut, written by Miss Elwood.

"Must be a wonderful feeling to think of going around the state to various banks, and kind of look over the heads of the clerks there, and was fall to examining the books, etc., high principle of correct design sees exquisite wraps have chosen today. black and white particularly combined. The color contrast is red application of black, embroidery on the velvet that forms what the sleeve or the Topped by a general ermine, with tiny bl at pleasing spacing, monious effect in makes it a joy to pleased and satisfied be the proud possessor wonderful wrap.

What is true of dress also true of millinery more difficult to make with good lines than hat of questionable up the bad lines by expensive trimmings.

No matter how conservative the shape with which the hat likewise make the thing, unusual.

This is demonstrated isr

wa
ab
in cou

ste
poi thi
go sit

it lif
roc
par
fice
and had for girl occ

the
was ligh

Artistic development
One feels this

DAVID SEIDE S Farmington Avenue and Hopkins Street BARBER BU Property Long In Waterous Family Retires After Lon Sold to L. M. Schatz.

ness L

Dec 1

David Seide
nent as a l
nounces his r
another colu
He has sold
shop to C. J.
associated v
years. Mr. s and persisten
as the cause
man who is rights," he s
told how to r

Unusua

Mr. Seide
ter the medic
early in life facilities, how
this ambition.
this city of t
went to work
resume his st
would permit success, and remain in bus
leader and pi
new and impr

Knowledge
study under th
ford Eaton, diseases, prov
years Mr. Sei
in the Times
ings.

He is past lodge, Knight
of Charter Oa of Hartford l
been a director
a first lieuten
lanx, and a Pres
minor or Judge
several flatte
will make no return from a make with M
will be condu employed by years.

Mr. Seide
during the pa
three trips t
cities, Switz land. During wrote interes Times; also tries," exclu
He also wrote
when he visite
and Pacific coa
resented The T
can fair at Bu World's fair at Times daily let positions during or more at ea
Blanche Sawyer
Mr. Seide has city who will
new venture he

PPOF. MACD
Professor D
the Hartford
bought the hou
street, and w
first of the yea
which is in the west side of Marion C. Gra
Platt.

JANUARY 18, 1923.

DAVID SEIDE

The directors of the Hartford Securities Corporation and personal friends of Captain David Seide gave him a farewell dinner in the Heulodge, Knightblein Hotel last evening before his of Charter Oa departure for a trip abroad. He has of Hartford l been a director and treasurer since a first lieuten the institution of the corporation.

lanx, and a Pres and President George Ulrich presided,
minor or Judge Solomon Elsner, vice-president,
several flatte paid him high tribute and presented will make no to Mr. Seide a traveling bag, gift of return from a the board of directors.

Major Clifford D. Perkins spoke of Captain Seide as an officer.
employed by Captain and Mrs. Seide will leave Hartford in a few days and will sail

January 30 on the Cunard ship Scythia for the Mediterranean cruise. They will go to England, where they will stay for some time, visiting the birthplace of Captain Seide.

Directors George Ulrich, Solomon
Elsner, A. S. Andretta, Russell P. Taber, Charles E. Arnold and Lyman A.
Smith were present last evening.

Joss-Elmendorf.

Thomas Joss and Edna May Elmendorf, both of this city, were married at St. Peter's rectory last evening by Rev. Paul F. McAlenney. Burton R.
carpenter was the best man and Mrs.
Blanche Sawyer of Windsor was the bride, when she was a patient there, following an injury to her arm. They gave the young people a hearty send-off as they left the rectory. Following a luncheon, with friends in this city,
Mr. and Mrs. Joss left on an evening train for the Hartford Retreat. Both young people are well known in this city.

Mr. Joss is foreman of the broom department of the Connecticut Institute for the Blind at Wethersfield, while Mrs. Joss has been employed at the Hartford Retreat. Both young people are well known in this city.

A $95,000 real estate deal will be completed today in the transfer of properties of the Richard G. Waterous estate, embracing the land and buildings at Nos. 43 to 49 Farmington avenue and Nos. 42 to 48 Hopkins street, to Louis M. Schatz of the law firm of Schatz & Schatz. Gross, Hyde & Shipman acted for the Waterous estate. A four-family brick dwelling, with separate entrances, is located on the Farmington avenue piece which has a frontage of ninety feet and a depth of 170 feet. It is bounded on the east by the Russia Insurance Company property and on the south and west by land belonging to the Hartford Theological Seminary. The families now occupying the building have leases until May 1, but will be requested to seek other apartments, as it is the plan of Mr. Schatz to build stores in the entire length of the building.

The Hopkins street piece has a frontage of 114 feet and a depth of 170 feet, with two six family brick blocks facing directly on the High school. The office building of the Fleischmann Company bounds this property on the south and there is a brick dwelling to the north. Work of remodeling and improving the tenements on Hopkins street will be begun at once. New heating plants will be installed and the property improved generally.

Louis Mitnick of No 80 Pearl street was the agent in the transfer of the realty which has been in the Watrous family more than forty years. The elder Richard G. Waterous was a well known hatter in Hartford many years ago.

PHOENIX MUTUAL HONORS LOOMIS

Life Insurance Company and Employees Present Gifts in Recognition of His Fiftieth Anniversary With Organization. Dec 2, 1919

Thomas Rossiter Loomis of No. 329
Farmington avenue celebrated his fiftieth anniversary with the Phoenix Mutual Life Insurance company on Monday. Mr. Loomis received a letter of appreciation of his long service from John M. Holcombe, president of the company. The company's gift to him was two Victory loan bonds. Mr.
Loomis received a standing electric lamp and a thermos bottle from employees of the company.

Mr. Loomis, speaking of the changes
he had witnessed in his fifty years'
that when he first entered the company there were about a dozen people

MARRIAGE OF BLIND COUPLE

Dec 6
Thomas Jose, foreman of the broom
department of the Connecticut Institute for the Blind in Wethersfield,
and Miss Edna May Elmendorf, employed in the laundry department of the Hartford Retreat, both blind, will be married Saturday evening at 6:45 o'clock at St. Peter's Church rectory.
Both young people are well known in this city, and several of their blind friends will attend the ceremony, and also the luncheon following. After a wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Jose will live in Hartford.

New Home of Touro Club

PROPERTY AT SOUTH WHITNEY STREET AND FARMINGTON AVE.
OF CLUB MEMBERS.

The Hartford Times

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 3, 1919.

NEW SECRETARY OF COMMERCE.

Joshua Willis Alexander, who is to become a member of President Wilson's cabinet succeeding William C. Redfield as secretary of commerce, lives in Gallatin, Missouri. He was born in Cincinnati, Ohio, January 22, 1852. His father, who was of old American stock, died when the son was 7 years old. The boy attended the public schools of Cincinnati for three years, when he and his mother, who was a native of England, moved to Canton, Lewis county, Missouri. He entered Christian university in 1868, graduating therefrom in 1872. In June, 1907, the same institution conferred upon him the honorary degree of A. M. In June, 1873, he moved to Gallatin, Mo., and had resided there ever since. He studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1875.

The next year he was elected public administrator, and was re-elected in 1880. He served twenty-one years on the board of education for Gallatin school district, and two terms as mayor of Gallatin. In 1882 he was elected to the general assembly of Missouri, and in 1884 was re-elected. In 1886 he was again elected, and served as speaker of the house. He was judge of the seventh judicial circuit of Missouri from January, 1901, until February, 1907; in 1904 he had been re-elected for a six-year term, and resigned to take his seat in the sixtieth congress. He was subsequently re-elected and had served in congress ever since.

REDFIELD'S
SUCCESSOR.

Representative Joshua W. Alexander of Missouri, just been appointed secretary of commerce by President Wilson to succeed William C. Redfield, who resigned to enter private business.

Washington, December 4.—President Wilson to-day sent to the senate the nomination of Joshua W. Alexander of Missouri, to be secretary of commerce, succeeding William C. Redfield, resigned. The selection was announced several days ago.

len Harn of Nebraska
s Suffrage Banner High
Air—She Knew West
It Was Young

ord of Mrs Zelle Longley, pendant of Marquis de La- who recently made a 20- t over Washington, D. C. e of 87, has been beaten. chariot-of-fire stunt in the he age of 91 takes some t Ellen Harn of Kenesaw. her nerve right with her votes-for-women banner e found that Aviator Bur- h would let her carry her o into the sky and set it er the roofs of the town as willing to ascend the prophet Elijah. She sented to fly in as bad a he weather man could stage casion; but what is a storm ess to a pioneer suffragist? mounting in an airplane. i is mounting in age toward centennial celebration. Sho in 1828 when the West was a i, and before the East began west in schooners and hand- She is probably the oldest ate in Adams probably the ate, if not in up in a flying re as frequent a plains, and enesaw but a ganize women arched in the movement as of South Car- Elizabeth Cady Anthony of both Fry and great women stuff was the every state in ially in Ne-

i was to flash against the und let it float upon the city ymbolism and at suffragists practical way 3.

daughter of Mr. rs of Highland t of Mrs. Lewis ven, who intro- Henrietta Eng- her home on Mrs. J. Dwight cheon this noon en at the New vening for Miss who, in addi- Miss Katherine Y., cousin of Simpson of ss Mary Wash. Louise Tinsley Helen Bull and New York and elburne, Vt.

CHICAGO MAN MARRIES HARTFORD BRIDE

HERBERT DRAPER WHITE

MRS. HERBERT DRAPER WHITE

Formerly Miss Laura Durr Bristol.

G. Bristol, former rector in church of Good Shepherd, and Mrs. Bristol of this city.

QUITS NATIONAL SCULPTURE SOCIETY

Albert C.
Fuller Brush
ernoon pur-
residence just Wilcox at 2
and plans to deal was made estate broker
the most in deals taking eral months
indicative of remove shore
that he sold
dence at No.
Wednesday
Dr. T. F. Dowling.

Mr. Fuller
handsome construction
eral enclosed
of its apper
the east side
the city, ma-
house has design and present-day
property is site of a
William H. J.
pany, and
Jones's property.

PAUL WEYLAND BARTLETT.

Fuller Buys Colonial Residence.

The handsome stucco and white
Colonial design residence at No. 1,020 Prospect avenue which has just been sold to A. C. Fuller of No. 281 North Oxford street at a price said to be in the neighborhood of $50,000. Mr. Fuller sold his home on Oxford street to
Dr. T. F. Dowling.

BARTLETT QUILTS SCULPTURE SOCIETY

aces with Members,
Were Ignored, Supposed Reason.

Wayland Bartlett, sculptor,
hed from the National Sculpety, and no reasons were his letter of resignation, aco F. G. H. Roth, president of
y. Mr. Bartlett has consid-
do with the sculptural work Connecticut Capitol, and is nown through Connecticut.
own much interest in beau-
the public buildings of his te.

of the National Sculpture
re inclined to think that the
on was the direct outcome of sonism aroused between Mr.
and the members of the so-
the fact that no invitations
t to members of the society mbers of any of the art so-cluded in the Federation of s, to the hearing of the com-
art held last Monday morning in the board of estimate room in
the City hall, New York.

Invitations to the hearing were in
circulation, but none reached the artists, sculptors and architects of New York, which was considered partially strange, as Mr. Bartlett, the chairman of the committee, was not only
a member but also an ex-president of
the National Sculpture Society. The committee of art has charge of the arrangements to arrange a permanent monument to the veterans of the late war, and the sculptors were displeased
because they didn't get an invitation to the hearing.

Mr. Bartlett designed the decoration of the north front of the Capitol, besides two of the six statues which form part of the decorations—Governor Winthrop and Governor Theophilus Eaton of the New Haven colony. Besides, Mr. Bartlett reproduced
"An Attack on an Indian Fort," which is considered one of the best pieces
of sculptural work at the Capitol.

In 1907, Mr. Bartlett went to Paris, where he attended to the erection of his bronze equestrian statue of General Lafayette, the gift of America to France. A replica of this statue is now in the Connecticut capitol.

At the commencement exercises at Yale University last summer Mr.
Bartlett received the degree of master of arts. The citation, with the awarding of the degree, follows:

"Paul Weyland Bartlett—Born in New Haven, a sculptor from boyhood
in the Salon at 14 and at 15 a student in the Beaux Arts. Mr. Bartlett's training is a debt which America owes to France, a debt which his Lafayette repays. His work adorns the library and Capitol at Washington, the public library of New York, our own State Capitol, with figures elsewhere not a few. Not mere architectural embellishment is it, but the free and noble expression of a sculptor's soul."

J. S. GOLDBERG WEDS
MISS ANNA C. MILLER

J. L. FLEISCHMANN
SUED FOR DIVORCE

27

K. of C. Gift to France

Ohio Millionaire urges Abandonment.

1919

C., Dec. 5.—Julius L. n, former mayor of Cin- 1 widely known for his vast nterprises and interest in ic work and sports, was idant here today in a suit and alimony. schmann, who was married leges wilful abandonment, abandonment was and is for e of making possible a seage. Mrs. Fleischmann al- not only did her husband er, but that he announced to ublicly, that such abandon- permanent. The Fleisch- ive three children, one a hose custody the mother eischmann is now making in New York City. Mrs. nn was Miss Lily Ackersland ati.

FLEISCHMANN GIVEN DIVORCE

1920

atl, O., January 21.—Mrs. Lilly unn was to-day granted a divorce from Julius Fleisch- New York, former mayor of i, by Judge C. W. Hoffman urt of domestic relations. Mr. unn did not contest the suit. leischmann was granted $25,- ar alimony, and was awarded

Average Daily Circulation
FOR WEEK ENDING 37,166
NOV. 29, 1919. ....
Certified Audit to Detail Engraving
on Application.

WES.

1919

32 PAGES.

THREE CENTS.

ERN STATES; ATE'S MINES; R HITS CITY

RE HELD

MINERS LEARN

GOFFIELD ADDS

President Wilson, Marshal Foch, Pershing and Christopher Co- will be placed on the pedestal, was given

Miss Laura Burr Bristol, daughter of Mrs. Carrie E. Bristol of No. 80

CHICAGO MAN MARRIES HARTFORD BRIDE

HERBERT DRAPER WHITE.

MRS. HERBERT DRAPER WHITE.

G. Bristol, former rector in church of Good Shepherd, and Mrs. Bristol of this city.

Albert C.
Fuller Brush
ernoon purc

QUITS NATIONAL SCULPTURE SOCIETY

BARTLETT QUILTS SCULPTURE SOCIETY

ances with Members
Were Ignored, Supposed Reason.

Wayland Bartlett, sculptor,
resigned from the National Sculpture society, and no reasons were given in his letter of resignation, according to F. G. H. Roth, president of the society. Mr. Bartlett has considered his resignation with the sculptural work done for the Connecticut Capitol, and is known through Connecticut, and has shown much interest in beautiful public buildings of his state.

Members of the National Sculpture society are inclined to think that the resignation was the direct outcome of the antagonism aroused between Mr.
Bartlett and the members of the society, the fact that no invitations were sent to members of the society to members of any of the art societies included in the Federation of Art, to the hearing of the committee, held last Monday morning in the board of estimate room in
the City hall, New York.

Invitations to the hearing were in
circulation, but none reached the artists, sculptors and architects of New York, which was considered partially
strange, as Mr. Bartlett, the chair-
man of the committee, was not only
a member but also an ex-president of
the National Sculpture Society. The

Prospect Avenue House Now Property of A. C. Fuller

RESIDENCE PURCHASED FROM WILLIAM A. WILCOX FOR ABOUT $50,000.

daughter, Marion Elizabeth, was born Tuesday.

K. of C. Gift to France

LAFAYETTE STATUE TO BE ERECTED IN METZ.

Paul Bartlett, one of the most prominent sculptors of to-day and creator of numerous public statues throughout America, has commenced work on the statue of Lafayette which the Knights of Columbus will present to the city of Metz, France. The statue, which has been accepted with acclaim by the citizens of Metz, will be a replica of the famous Bartlett Lafayette presented to France by the school children of the United States some years ago. But the pedestal of the statue will be four bas-reliefs, one of General Pershing at the tomb of Lafayette, one of President Wilson reading his war message to congress, one of Marshal Foch delivering his prophetic message of the capture of Metz to the supreme officers of the Knights of Columbus, and one of Columbus on the Santa Maria. Besides the bas-reliefs there will be symbolic cartouches concerning each subject.

The Knights of Columbus are making arrangements for a mammoth pilgrimage to Metz for the occasion of the unveiling, which ceremony will be performed by Marshal Foch on Lafayette day, September 6. It is expected that two thousand Americans will go to France on a liner to be chartered by the Knights and the French government has promised all the assistance in its power to make the pilgrimage a success. Visitors will be conducted over the fields of France and will also take a pilgrimage to Lourdes.

The Knights appropriated the money for the statue at their peace convention last August in Buffalo.

But in Union square, his message was flashed West.

According to Col William A. McIntyre, Crowe has "gone straight" for the last 10 years and now is a zealous advocate of prison reform. The ransom he received for young Cudahy was spent long ago.

Ohio Millionaire urges Abandonment.

1919

Cincinnati, O., Dec. 5.—Julius L. Fleischmann, former mayor of Cincinnati widely known for his vast enterprises and interest in civic work and sports, was abundant here today in a suit and alimony. Fleischmann, who was married to a woman who alleges wilful abandonment, is now making a case for divorce and is for the purpose of making possible a settlement. Mrs. Fleischmann alleges not only did her husband abandon her, but that he announced to the public, that such abandonment was permanent. The Fleischmanns have three children, one a boy and two girls, the mother of the children is now making a case for custody in New York City. Mrs. Fleischmann was Miss Lily Ackerman.

FLEISCHMANN GIVEN DIVORCE

1920

Cincinnati, O., January 21.—Mrs. Lily Fleischmann was to-day granted a divorce from Julius Fleischmann, New York, former mayor of Cincinnati, by Judge C. W. Hoffman. The divorce was granted on the ground of domestic relations. Mr. Fleischmann did not contest the suit. Mrs. Fleischmann was granted $25,000 alimony, and was awarded her home in New London, Conn. The reported settlement of $2,000 on his former wife by Mr. Fleischmann was not announced in

3 FLEISCHMANN FORCED AND MARRIED

Manufacturer Who Has Summer Home at Eastern Point.

Fleischmann, millionaire manufacturer, for two terms mayor of Cincinnati, former owner of Cincinnati baseball club of the National League and owner of a summer home at Eastern Point, was divorced by his wife twenty-four hours later. The marriage license in New York was signed by Mrs. Laura Hyman Hemmick.

A replica of Paul W. Bartlett's equestrian statue of General Lafayette, which stands in the court of the Louvre in Paris, is to be erected at Metz by the Knights of Columbus, to celebrate, first, the recovery of her lost provinces by France; second, the part taken by Americans in arms and relief work in the great war; and third, out of gratitude to the soldier for his timely aid in the American Revolution. Mr. Bartlett's sculpture which was paid for by the school children of this country, is one of the most effective equestrian statues in existence. His work is of interest to Hartford people because he has many acquaintances here, and because a number of the bas-reliefs on Connecticut's state capitol are his work. In only one detail will the Metz statue differ from that in Paris. According to the present plans, medallions of President Wilson, Marshal Foch, General Pershing and Christopher Columbus will be placed on the pedestal.

DECEMBER 5, 1919.

WAS HONDURAN SOLDIER

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Daniel Redfield of No. 229 Kenyon street, gave a dance this evening at the Hartford Golf Club at water, Miss Elizabeth A. Redfield, formally presented Redfield, who is a younger set, is a daughter of Dana Hall, Wellesley, Mass.

F. A. SEXTON*Miss

The wedding of Miss Ruth Arms Sturtevant, daughter of Fayette L. Sturtevant, terrace and Frank this city, son of took place at 7 o'clock at the home of the money was performed by J. Goddard, pastor of the congregational church. chrysanthemums combined with green in the house.

The attendants were Harrison Conant of Ly Miss Ruth Arms as maid of honor, served as best man Gasper, a niece of Frances Crowley, a groom, were flower ushers were Georg Emil U. Dillenback Harold W. Redfield.

As the bridal party entered the living room, Robert the "Bridal chorus" and played "O Promise of the Future." The given in marriage by a gown of white georgette and richly embroidered. Her tulle veil was in shape with a band of blossoms and she carried a bouquet of bride roses. She wore a gown of tulle combined with cloth.

brothered in silver tulle Ophelia roses. The wore frocks of white baskets of Fairy Queen mums.

At the reception following the ceremony, Mr and Mrs. assisted in receiving the parents of the bridegroom, and J. After their return from the trip Mr and Mrs. 425 Summer avenue.

Miss Christine L. Jaxheimer, brother of the bridegroom. The bride was until recently a teacher in the public schools of Brooklyn, N. Y., and was also choir leader and soloist at St. Luke's Lutheran church in Woodhaven. The bridegroom is pastor of St. Paul's English Evangelical Lutheran church at the corner of Park street and Park terrace, having been installed on September 26. He was graduated from Neulenberg college in 1916 and from the Lutheran Theological seminary in Philadelphia last spring. He was ordained to the ministry on June 18. Mr. and Mrs. Jaxheimer will be at home at No. 32 Summer street after December 22.

Miss Christine L. Jaxheimer, brother of the bridegroom. The bride was until recently a teacher in the public schools of Brooklyn, N. Y., and was also choir leader and soloist at St. Luke's Lutheran church in Woodhaven. The bridegroom is pastor of St. Paul's English Evangelical Lutheran church at the corner of Park street and Park terrace, having been installed on September 26. He was graduated from Neulenberg college in 1916 and from the Lutheran Theological seminary in Philadelphia last spring. He was ordained to the ministry on June 18. Mr. and Mrs. Jaxheimer will be at home at No. 32 Summer street after December 22.

(Photo by Louis F. Bachrach)

Miss Elizabeth A. Redfield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward D. Redfield of Kenyon street, was introduced to society at a large dance given by her parents, December 5 at the Hartford Golf Club. She is the season's first debutante and is a graduate of Dana Hall, Wellesley, Mass.

attended the Yale-Yenching University game in New Haven yesterday afternoon.

bride roses and swanson. Mrs. Kimball was dressed in black with a black hat and corsage bouquet of violets and gardenias. The ushers included Ridgley Larkin, Charles W. Murdock, Frank T. Clark and Dr. William F. Verdi, all of New Haven; Clifford S. Jennings and Lyndsay Van Rensselaer of Bridgeport. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the bride's home, after which Mr. and Mrs. Punderford left on a wedding trip. On their return they will live in the Winthrop Terrace apartments on Chapel street. Mr. Punderford, who is vice-president and manager of the Connecticut Company, was graduated from the Sheffield Scientific School in 1892.

Springfield

F. L. KNOX RESIGNS AS STENOGRAPHER OF SUPERIOR COURT Will Move to California

Seeing Yourself as Others See You Not What It's Cracked Up To Be, Says Richard Barthelmess.

Raymond Smith, reporter in the court of common pleas, was appointed yesterday to succeed Franklin L. Knox as stenographer of the superior court. The appointment was made by Judge Lucien F. Burpee, acting for himself and the other judges of the court. Mr. Knox's resignation was caused by the illness of his daughter, which makes necessary a change in climate for her. For this reason Mr. Knox expects to move to California in the near future. Mr. Knox was official stenographer of the court of common pleas for thirteen years, from 1900 until 1913. Having been admitted to the bar in 1901, he decided in 1913, to take up the active practice of law and general court reporting. In 1915 he was appointed clerk of the legislative judiciary committee and November 15, 1916, he was appointed stenographer of the superior court, which place he has held since. Mr. Knox disposed of his home at No. 220 Fairfield avenue some time ago preparatory to moving to California.

The text of Mr. Knox's resignation is as follows:

To Honorable Lucien F. Burpee, Presiding Judge, December Criminal Term, 1919:

Because of the ill health of one of my children, necessitating her removal to a place where conditions more favorable to her health prevail, I have the conviction that I should give up my position and move to California.

Therefore, and, while regretting most keenly having to sever my relations with you judges and with the bar generally, I feel obliged to and do hereby tender my resignation as official stenographer of the superior court for Hartford County to take effect on the twenty-ninth of this month.

Respectfully,

Franklin L. Knox.

Hartford, December 10, 1919.

June Varrantee Deeds, 1919
Atwood Collins to Edwin H. Bingham, land and buildings on Atwood street. The stamps indicate a value of $8,500.

Edwin H. Bingham to Atwood Collins, Atwood street, $4,000.

Edwin H. Bingham to Atwood Collins, land and buildings on Atwood street.

Dec 1919
Atwood Collins to Anna Morris Perry, land and buildings on Atwood street.

Not many years ago, when Richard Barthelmess was attending Trinity college and spending his vacations working at the Travelers, in order to swell the funds which his generosity was always sadly diminishing, the farthest thing in his mind was that some day, not so far distant, he would be hailed as one of the screen's greatest assets. To be sure, he had successfully played leads with the Jesters, Trinity's dramatic society, and one summer acted as stage manager for a stock company of which his mother, Catherine Harris, was a member, but success such as Dick is enjoying doesn't come to many, and seldom to anyone save a genius. And Dick was never conceited enough to think for one minute that he was anything like a genius.

His portrayal of Sheng Huan, the Caucasian, in "Broken Blossoms," David Wark Griffith's wonderful adaptation of the story, "The Chink and the Child," is hailed as one of the marvels of 1919. The editor of Photoplay Journal considers him important enough to grace the cover of the September issue. His program of operation is the first showing of his film was given of the little nest he is going to furnish for her in New Rochelle, where he will spend the winter making more pictures with Griffith, with Clarine Seymour, the little cabaret girl, in "The Girl Who Stayed at Home" as his leading lady.

FRANKLIN L. KNOX.

In Dick's college days he was somewhat of a dreamer with an always unsatisfied appetite for books. He is a reader of Shelley, Keats, Omar Khayyam, Lafcadio Hearn, Rupert Brooke and Oscar Wilde. He has studied the works of the leading dramatists. His one ambition was to be a writer. However, his literary instincts do not prevent him from being a regular fellow. He plays as hard as he works and still lives up to his college day reputation as a wonderful dancer. His smile is rare, but all the more appreciated because of its rareness, and his eyes, the bane of his existence, have been the cause of rhapsodies from many admirers.

"I'm sick of all these soft coddly parts," said Dick, between mouthfuls of caramel cake, as he strutted up and down the kitchen floor at the home of some friends in Hartford, "dead sick of them. I hope I never have to play a juvenile again. I am tremendously grateful for my role in 'Broken Blossoms,' for at last I have been given an opportunity to prove that I can play something besides wealthy manufacturer's sons. In Scarlet Days, a Griffith production, recently completed, I have the role of a Spaniard with side

Dick, like many others, is warm in his praises of David Wark Griffith. "He is the most wonderful man I have met in the business," he said. "I've ver to discover just what there is about him that makes one feel toward him differently than toward any other director. It is his sheer mental force, I imagine. It is a pleasure to work with him. He will resort to any sort of strategy to obtain his results. I've that magazine, and he telling of his

r become short felt it necessary if he hadn't caught to attract the attention, he might at it was to be movie mad na-things did hap-an opportunity, and his per-g enough to at-ritics, even when rson was on the 'aramount signed an for dainty then came his h.

rsatile is putting comedian of un-n "Broken Bloss- real tragedy, to il technique and se things hadn't emained just one g American busi-be any more un-mine and likable n idol.

one love is his ys put forth his to provide her e denied herself a good education. iration, and it is es that he tells known him to shoot on a gun right back of an actor to make him register realistically. The most marvelous thing about him is his handling of little children. He can make them do anything he wants. He will rehearse a scene for weeks sometimes before he will 'shoot' it. He is very thorough in detail. Some of his stories are very ordinary, some of them are not even good, but it is his treatment of them which makes them wonderful. He is always surrounded by a corps of newspaper people and a staff of good writers, and he considers everyone's suggestions about titles, etc. Like all

TRINITY NIGHT FOR DICK BARTHELMLESS

College Mates to See Monday Evening Performance of "Broken Blossoms" at Palace.

As the result of a friendship extending over a period of years Richard Bar-

thelmless had appeared in college theatricals I suggested that he play the part. The following day I took him to a wood turner, had him measured for his wooden leg, bought him a pair of knee breeches and I played the role. He did so well that we immediately engaged him to create the same character at our theaters in Montreal and Hamilton, where our stock companies were offering "Mrs. Wiggs" the two following weeks. This I think marked the beginning of the professional career of Richard Barthelmless. He showed such an aptitude for things theatrical that we engaged him the following summer for the position of stage manager which in spite of his lack of experience, he handled with rare skill and efficiency.

"The following summer I met him in New York. During the course of our conversation he told me that he had made up his mind to follow a theatrical career, but this time he figured that he would give the managerial end a try. I was in need of an assistant

'BROKEN BLOSSOMS' PROVES ATTRACTIVE

Capacity Audiences Witness Production—Barthelmless In Person.

11/1920
"Broken Blossoms" at the Palace last evening with Richard Barthelmless, former Trinity College Club favorite and star of the appearing in person, drew large attendance that several police were stationed at the throughout the early part of the night. The picture is deserving of the highest favor, it is superlatively impressive the audience. The acts were up to standard, proved an excellent preliminary to the main attraction.

The story of "Broken Blossoms" is set in "Limehouse Nights," Lucy is a girl of Limehouse, London's great Chinatown district. Her father, Battling Burrows, is a brute. A Chinese philosopher, disliking the strange London, with only a few friends in life, Lucy, the golden girl, they become friends. Battling is reprimanded for his behavior by his stern manager. He has his ill humor in beating the Chinese Chinaman gives her his devotion and his devout worship. The manager's girl has taken up with him. "Chink" He beats her to the ground. The youthful Chinaman finds the first of flame from his revolver, an end to the battler, who, in his last moments, attempts his last wish. The police arrive; the girl is a small one to them, the police are telling of thousands of people. They go after the girl, he kills himself; the three are all dead; the fair haired girl who never had a chance; the girl who never gave her one, and the girl who found happiness in

RICHARD BARTHELMLESS.

Trinity, we were preparing, when he arrived, for the presentation of "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," and we were shy a boy to play Chris Hazy who, if you will recall, lobbied through the play by the aid of a "peg leg."

musical accompaniment, played by an eighteen piece orchestra, is very impressive. Richard Barthelmless, Lillian Gish and Donald Crisp are splendid in the leading roles. McWatters & Tyson please in a dancing and singing revue; the Monarchs of Syncopated jazz in peppery style on their saxophones; Irving & White are comedians and Mildred Arlington and her dancers please.

New York, Dec. 10. — (Dance in the city.)
THE local college community and the wider, more extensive college clientele are rejoicing over the election of Dr. Gray as the third president of the college. It is sincerely believed by those who have met Dr. Gray that he is the right man for the place, and that he will

Third President of Bates College

Rev. Clifton D. Gray

Former Boston Man Who Has Been Chosen to Succeed
 President George C. Chase

000,000 and the annual expenses are nearly $100,000. Bates is in a peculiar sense the contribution of the old Free Baptist denomination to the education of New England.

With the above briefly outlined conditions Dr. Gray, a joint product of the East and West, now allies himself. He brings youth, strength, enthusiasm and vision. He brings abounding health and vigor, a commanding yet winsome personality, a rare intellectual equipment, and extensive acquaintance East and West, and a catholicity of judgment which may well cause rejoicing in the hearts of all the friends of Bates College.

Dr. Gray's Boston Affiliations

Dr. Gray was born in Somerville, Mass., July 27, 1874, was graduated from the local high school in 1893, and in 1897 received from Harvard the degree of A. B., magna cum laude. In 1899 Dr. Gray received from Newton Theological Institution the degree of B. D., the first one to receive this degree. In 1900 the degree of S. T. B. was bestowed upon him by the University of Chicago and a year later he received the degree of Ph. D.; the last degree was in recognition of work in Semitics, at the conclusion of six months' investigation in the British Museum. For four years

s pastor of the First Baptist Huron, Mich. In 1905 he became of the Stoughton Street Baptist, Boston, remaining till October, 1906, the longest pastorate in the history of the church. For the past seven years work has been that of associating editor of the Standard, leading Baptist weekly. During this time he has also been treasurer of the Goodman Company, publishers of the Standard, and has served as member of the Y and social service commission. He has been active in the work of the Baptist Convention. He is of "The Shamesh Religious Institute of Newton Theological Institute in Europe in 1907 and Hartford will be a part of a party of papers who for the guests of the in the new England and tion to the was bestowed on 16. He is Board of Promotion of '88. The Baptist Convention in Chicago, 'n is donated he was elected director of a new official department weekly. This weekly will be open and will absorb as many as many al Baptist weeklies as will n forces with the larger publication. Gray has accepted this position. He will close his business

WEDDING

IN ROCKY HILL

Inette Hills Bride of Stephen Grigely of Broad Brook. (Special to The Courant.)

Rocky Hill, Friday, Dec. 12. — Miss Inette Hills, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mark H. Hills of Rocky Hill, was married to Stephen Grigely of Broad Brook, Wednesday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, by Rev. Frank P. E. the bride was given in marriage by her father, Miss Eulah of Rocky Hill was maid-of-honor. Horace H. Hills, brother of the bride, was best man. Marcus H. Hills, another brother of the bride, was usher. The ceremony took place under an arch of evergreen, and the dining room was decorated with pink and white and the rest of the house with red and evergreens.

The bride wore a dress of brown French serge, with georgette, and hat and furs to match. She wore a corsage bouquet of pink California rosebuds. Miss Blodgett wore blue messaline and georgette, a black picture hat, and carried an arm bouquet of pink carnations. The bridegroom's gift to the bride was a fox fur neckpiece, and to the best man a Knight Templar watch chain, and to the usher a scarf pin with ruby. The bride's gift to the bridegroom was a stickpin with sapphires and pearls, while she gave her maid-of-honor a brooch of sapphire and pearls.

Mr. and Mrs. Grigely received many gifts. There were seventy-five guests present, from New York, Saratoga, New Haven, Hartford, Broad Brook, Middletown, East Hartford and Springfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Grigely left in the evening for a trip to New York, Atlantic City, Washington and Old Point Comfort. On their return they will spend the winter with Mrs. Grigely's parents.

RICHARD BARTHELMESS,
In "Tol'ble David," Opening Feature at New Crown Theater.

Clarine Seymour plays the role of Mary, the girl who spends most of her time dancing, swimming and climbing tall trees for coconuts; nimble as a boy, strong, and growing more beautiful every day. And the fact that this is a Griffith picture is sufficient assurance of the accuracy and splendor of locale details, a hula hula dance by Miss Seymour, accompanied by a native orchestra being one of the most pleasing features.

An original vaudeville novelty "The Magic Fan," presented by Golden. Interpolated musical number by Walter Rosmond add superbly the mystic setting of the act in which the mere waving of a fan produces some interesting and at times amazing effects. Frances Bell is assisted by her company of boys in a comical musical act that just hums with and fun. Lawton is the chap with some new ideals in juggling and a distinctive ability to carry those ideas into effect. Lawton is among the leaders when it comes to the devising of new juggling stunts. Helen Moretti, the little girl with the big voice, as pleasing to look upon as she is to hear, uses her beautiful voice to good advantage in the program of operatic and popular songs.

lucky mountains. Barthelmess plays the role of a boy of sixteen who is forced to avenge the family honor and support his mother. This he does in his own two-fisted manner to the entire satisfaction of the audience. A sidesplitting Larry Semon comedy, a news weekly and last but not least, the opening episode of William Desmond's smashing chapter-play of adventure and thrills in Alaska, "Perils of the Yukon," will also be seen.

A splendid program of concert music by the Crown Seven-piece Orchestra completes an unbeatable evening's entertainment.

No advance has been made over the former price of admissions. The box office will open Monday night at 6:15 p. m. and the opening picture will be thrown on the screen at 6:45.

DICK BARTHELMESS IN "THE BOND BOY"

Powerful Photodrama of Masterpiece—Princess.

One of the most human and gripping film stories of a decade is "The Bond Boy," the latest vehicle for Richard Barthelmess, which will be at the Princess theater all next week. A powerful photodrama revolving around the old practice of binding out children to masters until they become of age, it is another great screen triumph for the youthful star and his able director, Henry King.

The story deals with the experiences of Joe Newbolt, who on the death of his father is bound out to serve an unscrupulous farmer, Isom Chase. Chase is hated by his young wife, Ollie. She tries to win the love of Joe, but, remembering his bonds and Alice Price, the girl of his dreams, he remains cold. She turns her attentions to a young drummer and is about to elope with him when Joe interferes and spoils their plans. Old Isom Chase returns to find Joe in the room with his wife who is dressed for traveling. Threatening to kill Joe, he seizes a gun and accidentally discharges it so that he (Chase) is killed. Ollie flees and Joe is held for murder.

Condemned to the gallows for a crime he did not commit, Joe makes a sensational escape from jail and is tracked by bloodhounds. The story passes into a thrilling denouement and comes to a most happy and romantic finish.

The star is ably supported by Mary Thurman, in the role of the unfaithful wife, with Virginia McGee, who enacts the part of Joe's boyhood sweetheart. Others who contribute to the high quality of this splendid production by their dramatic work are Charles Hill Mailes, Ned Sparks, Lawrence O'Orsay, Lucia Backus Seger, Mary Alden, the inimitable screen mother, who "mothers" Barthelmess, Thomas Maguire, Leslie King and Robert Williamson.

"The Bond Boy" is, in short, a magnificent picturization of George Washington Ogden's famous story of the same name—a living, moving masterpiece.

Our Gang in "One Terrible Day," is the comedy feature and is one that produces genuine laughter. The Pathe Weekly News film completes the Princess program.

DICK BARTHELMESS AND LILLIAN GISH

This photograph was taken at Farmington when scenes were being taken of the picture "Way Down East."

RICHARD BARTHELMESS AND MARY THURMAN,
in Scene from "The Bond Boy," at the Princess.

filming on this picture this particular part was in the hands of Elwyn Eaton. There are plenty of laughs in Snub Pollard's two reel comedy feature, "365 Days," which is also shown, as well as the Pathe Weekly News feature.

OFF
DD.
has
with Fol-
n.
ork

RICHARD BARTHELMESS WITH MISS DOROTHY GISH in Hergesheimer's flaming romance of Latin love and Spanish hate, "The Bright Shawl," which will be shown at the Princess Theater all of this week. Miss Gish, above, is wearing a $25,000 shawl and Mr. Barthelmess is carrying a $500 Malacca cane, presented to them by Felipe Taboada, Consul General for Cuba in New York, when the first showing of this film was given in New York.

DICK BARTHELMESS TALKS OF TRINITY

Likes to Return to Campus
That Knew Him Before Fame Came.

STUDENT DRAMATICS STICK IN HIS MIND

Recalls Running For Chapel, When Late, With Shoes
Unlaced

Richard Barthelmess, movie star, hasn't forgotten the days when he was member of the class of 1917 at Trinity College, and he likes to go back to the campus occasionally, because, he says himself, "they shall think of me in a dirty gray shirt, with my shoes unlaced, hurrying for chapel."

Interviewed by "Young Boswell". Dick, as he was always known on the campus, made this remark during an interview, appearing in the "New York Tribune" yesterday, the interviewer being "Young Boswell". The interview follows:

Because he is one of the youngest "movie" stars. he contributed fine moments to "Broken Blossoms" and "Way Down East." he is serious about his work and unspoiled by success, Trinity College is proud of him, he is going to Cuba to appear in Hergesheimer's "The Bright Shawl."

There was a strong wind up the avenue, and Young Boswell was blown headlong into a large raccoon coat, topped by a brown felt hat, pulled down to keep out the cold. Young Boswell apologized and looked up. It was Richard Barthelmess.

Young Boswell—I didn't recognize you.

Barthelmess—Nobody does lately with these. (He pointed to the impressive sideburns which he was growing for his new role.) I hate them, but the hair is the most important part of a makeup, and it ought to be real. Let's go up to the office, where we can sit down.

Upstairs he removed the coat and tossed the hat on a desk. He squared his shoulders, lighted a cigarette and settled into a comfortable chair. He didn't seem the married man with responsibilities: he looked more like a college senior. His very black volatile eyes wandered about as he recalled his school days and how his guardian had not wanted him to go on the stage, and the first chance in a

The acting of Richard Barthelmess is one of the reasons for the success of "Way Down East." And the rest of the cast meets the hearty approval of the critics.

Washington, December 10.

United States Attorney John F. Crosby, who is in Washington, called to-day at the department of justice and handed in his resignation at United States attorney for the district of Connecticut. Mr. Crosby was in Washington in connection with the

of his office which has been vacant since the wholesale roundup of radicals began and while here opportunity to file in person in connection. The reason given for his resignation was the urgency of his business.

That his resignation has been contemplated for some time is the fact that Congressman Lonergan to day, upon the nomination of Mr. Crosby, President Wilson his record of a United States attorney for the district as Mr. Crosby's recommendation is that of Edward L. Smith of the court of appeals for Hartford county. The procedure in such cases is to be determined by the president who will go to the senate for confirmation.

Succeeded Spellacy

District Attorney Crosby of Connecticut in the spring took up a general practice and was appointed assistant district attorney in May as an aide to United States Attorney Thomas J. Spellacy.

Mr. Spellacy resigned, December 30, 1918, Judge Edwin S. Thomas of the federal court appointed Mr. Crosby to fill the vacancy and in July of this year the United States senate confirmed the nomination of Mr. Crosby as United States district attorney for Connecticut.

Mr. Crosby was born in Fond du Lac, Wis., in 1889, was educated in the public schools and at Georgetown college, Washington, where he was graduated with the degree of bachelor of laws in Boston.

Special to The Times: Washington, D. C., April 23. John F. Crosby of Hartford, former United States district attorney for Connecticut, has become connected with the department of justice as a special assistant in charge of alien property claims.

Mr. Crosby was born in Fond du Lac, Wis., in 1889 and after finishing his course at the high school in that city entered Georgetown university in Washington, from which he was graduated in 1912. He later obtained a degree of master of arts from Boston college then entered the Harvard Law school from which he was graduated in 1915. After practising for a time in Massachusetts he came to Hartford in 1917 engaging in general law practice. In the same year he was appointed assistant United States district attorney as an aid to Thomas J. Spellacy, then United States attorney. When the latter resigned in December, 1918, he was appointed district attorney by Judge Edwin S. Thomas of the federal court and he held that office until he resigned last December.

Mr. Crosby entered Georgetown university in Washington, from which he was graduated in 1912. He later obtained a degree of master of arts from Boston college then entered the Harvard Law school from which he was graduated in 1915. After practising for a time in Massachusetts he came to Hartford in 1917 engaging in general law practice. In the same year he was appointed assistant United States district attorney as an aid to Thomas J. Spellacy, then United States attorney. When the latter resigned in December, 1918, he was appointed district attorney by Judge Edwin S. Thomas of the federal court and he held that office until he resigned last December.

Special to The Times: Washington, D. C., April 23. John F. Crosby of Hartford, former United States district attorney for Connecticut, has become connected with the department of justice as a special assistant in charge of alien property claims.

Mr. Crosby was born in Fond du Lac, Wis., in 1889 and after finishing his course at the high school in that city entered Georgetown university in Washington, from which he was graduated in 1912. He later obtained a degree of master of arts from Boston college then entered the Harvard Law school from which he was graduated in 1915. After practising for a time in Massachusetts he came to Hartford in 1917 engaging in general law practice. In the same year he was appointed assistant United States district attorney as an aid to Thomas J. Spellacy, then United States attorney. When the latter resigned in December, 1918, he was appointed district attorney by Judge Edwin S. Thomas of the federal court and he held that office until he resigned last December.

Mr. Crosby entered Georgetown university in Washington, from which he was graduated in 1912. He later obtained a degree of master of arts from Boston college then entered the Harvard Law school from which he was graduated in 1915. After practising for a time in Massachusetts he came to Hartford in 1917 engaging in general law practice. In the same year he was appointed assistant United States district attorney as an aid to Thomas J. Spellacy, then United States attorney. When the latter resigned in December, 1918, he was appointed district attorney by Judge Edwin S. Thomas of the federal court and he held that office until he resigned last December.

Mr. Crosby entered Georgetown university in Washington, from which he was graduated in 1912. He later obtained a degree of master of arts from Boston college then entered the Harvard Law school from which he was graduated in 1915. After practising for a time in Massachusetts he came to Hartford in 1917 engaging in general law practice. In the same year he was appointed assistant United States district attorney as an aid to Thomas J. Spellacy, then United States attorney. When the latter resigned in December, 1918, he was appointed district attorney by Judge Edwin S. Thomas of the federal court and he held that office until he resigned last December.

Mr. Crosby entered Georgetown university in Washington, from which he was graduated in 1912. He later obtained a degree of master of arts from Boston college then entered the Harvard Law school from which he was graduated in 1915. After practising for a time in Massachusetts he came to Hartford in 1917 engaging in general law practice. In the same year he was appointed assistant United States district attorney as an aid to Thomas J. Spellacy, then United States attorney. When the latter resigned in December, 1918, he was appointed district attorney by Judge Edwin S. Thomas of the federal court and he held that office until he resigned last December.

JUDGE E. L. SMITH TO SUCCEED CROSBY

Judge Edward L. Smith of the

Retiring District Attorney and Probable Successor

UNITED STATES DISTRICT ATTORNEY JOHN F. CROSBY.

JUDGE EDWARD L. SMITH.

have had precedence.

Crosby Felt Slighted.

It has been said that Mr. Crosby's office has been a veritable "hive of industry" since the roundup of the alleged radicals began in Connecticut on November 7, but the fact is that not a bit of this business passed through the office of the United States attorney, it being cared for entirely through the office of the bureau of investigation of the department of justice, and by the immigration inspectors, who were sent here from Boston. It was said last night that Mr. Crosby had not taken kindly to the thought that he had not been called on in the thirty-one days the investigations of the alleged undesirable aliens were being made.

The only "private business" that Mr. Crosby seemingly could have at this time is legal work that might require his attention in Boston, where his father-in-law is in business. Thomas J. Spellacy, before his appointment as assistant United States attorney general, had been caring for much of this work in Boston, and it is assumed that this is what is now the urgency of private business for Mr. Crosby.

Another Spellacy Move?

It is said that there is little likelihood of Mr. Crosby making his permanent home in Massachusetts, and that his retirement as district attorney was by reason of an arrangement whereby he could be used to better advantage elsewhere, and the assumption is made that the suddenness with which the announcement of his retirement was made, was after a conference with Mr. Spellacy in Washington. It is further assumed that Spellacy will continue to look after Crosby and very likely secure for him another federal appointment, probably in Washington in the office to which he, himself was recently appointed. In this way Crosby could be retained in Connecticut, where his legal residence now is, and he could to good advantage in the

Smith Satisfies Fitzgerald.
Mayor David E. Fitzgerald of New Haven, chairman of the democratic committee expressed

Happy Days

John Francis Crosby, Jr., 23 months old son of former United States Dis-Attorney John F. Crosby of this city.

Did United States Attorney John F. Crosby offer his resignation to Attorney General A. Mitchell Palmer in order that he might with propriety assume the arduous duties attendant to the life of "Millionaire" John F. Crosby? He gave as his reasons for resigning the "urgency of private business," and it was reported yesterday that the death of a relative in Wisconsin recently, who is said to have been well blessed with this world's goods, left Mr. Crosby as principal heir. It is known that an aunt of Mr. Crosby's died at Fon du Lac, Wis., about three months ago, but whether she left the fortune which Mr. Crosby is now said to be slated to share, has not been definitely learned.

Warranty Deeds.

Elizabeth B. Lincoln and Ward W. Jacobs, executors will of Olivia M. Lincoln, to John F. Crosby, land and buildings at No. 149 Wethersfield avenue.

Lieut. Cord Meyer Injured.
Paris, Aug. 29.—It was Lieut. Cord Meyer who was injured in the airplane accident, August 18, which resulted in the death of Lieut. Blair Thaw, 2nd, of gh. Lieut. Meyer suffered to both his legs.

1918

from Paris, August 22, the death of Lieut. e had been killed in his machine developed at an altitude of 2, fell. The dispatch law's companion avime was not given, was

Aug. 29.—Lieutenant ho was injured in the ent in which Lieuten- Blair Thaw, II, was le graduate and a son d Meyer, former chair- ew York state demo- eyer, who is 23 years in the senior year to tion service shortly entered the war. He ile and received his me, 1917, and sailed y 18.

ne Blair Thaw, daugh- l Mrs. Alexander Blair York, and Cord Meyer, Saturday in the Church v Rest, New York. A re her engagement was ie bride returned from for more than a year ted herself to hospital most of that time she the Blake hospital, in er served as a lieuten- orce of the army. Last i flying in France with ander Blair Thaw, 2d, a ide, when their airplane ecause of engine trouble, w was killed and Lien- was injured severely. was performed by the ert Shipman, rector of on Francesco Theodoli- trice Theodoli, brother- er of the bride, came he wedding. Their small na Flaminia Theodoli, aunt's two attendants. r attendant was her sis- B. Macfarlane; Seth net Phye, daughter of obert Easton Phye of and William Earle Tee, Tee, manager of the d Mrs. Tee, were mar- uthernoon at 3:30 o'clock the bride's parents by H. Butler, pastor of ylum Hill Congregational church, presence of relatives and a very iends only. The wedding march was played by Mrs. William C. Blake and the bride, who was given in mar- riage by her father, was attended by Miss Jean Spencer as maid of honor. George F. Boardman was the best man. The decorations were of southern smilax and pink roses. The bride's dress was of white brocaded crepe me- teor and she carried a shower bouquet of bride roses. The bridesmaid was dressed in French blue chiffon and carried Evelyn roses. A small recep- tion followed. The bride is a graduate of the Hartford Public High school, class of 1917, and afterwards took a post graduate course. Her father is one of the vice-principals at the high school. The bridegroom was also gradu- ated in 1917 from the Hartford Public High school, afterwards serving in the United States Naval Reserve force. He is now attending the Travelers school and for the present Mr. and Mrs. Tee will live at No. 283 Sergeant street.

33

Dec 13

Former Connecticut Official And Opponent in N. Y. Campaign

JOHN F. CROSBY

F. TRUBEE DAVISON.

CROSBY SEEKING ELECTION TO ASSEMBLY OF NEW YORK

Former United States Attorney For Connecticut Out For Political Office After CROSBY DEFEATED

BY WIDE MARGIN

NOVEMBER 10, 1923

Former District Attorney Loses Every Town For Assembly.

John F. Crosby, United States district attorney when a resident of Hartford and now a resident of Long Island, who was recently defeated at the polls as a candidate for the New York Assembly from the Second District of Nassau County, was badly beaten by his republican opponent, F. Trubee Davison, who had nearly twice as many votes as Mr. Crosby. The republican candidate carried all three towns of the district, the banner republican town being Oyster Bay, the former home of Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, which gave nearly three times as many votes for Mr. Davison as for Mr. Crosby, the republican nominee having a plurality of 2,377 in Oyster Bay. The vote of the district, by towns, follows:

No. Hempstead .....	5544	3014
Oyster Bay .....	4507	1630
Glen Cove .....	1391	1138

1 Totals .....

s Davison's plurality, 5,660. 11,442 5782

part in democratic politics and was recently on the losing side in a local

SILVER SERVICE FOR CAPT. W. H. TALCOTT

Dec 13
Company D, First Infantry,
C. S. G., Make Former Cap

Company D, First
necticut State Guard, r
ver service to its forme liam H. Talcott, at an given in the squad dr
State Armory Saturday

The presentation wa Captain Talcott, who what was apparently r series of entertainmen
by the company this v supper, R. E. Patters
the company with dial
banjo numbers, and W
who grows," gave a d
the art of magic, usin
as his medium.

Captain Talcott was to leave the room for a tables were cleared, a
and about thirty of the
bers of the company w in another room filed i cott was then brought company danced until
Colonel C. W. Burpet
Green and former Maj
spoke on the past and

MRS. M. T. B
INVOKES ST
ALEX. H

Protest Against Blockade—N Demonstr

Dec 1
Mrs. M. Toscan Ben
was in the forefront
who assembled in the financial district of terday afternoon as a fering Russia." Each wore a strip of white
her left shoulder, on w ed the words, "Lift t Russia." Several plac poles, bore varying in ing with famine cond
and all urged America
ing Russian babies. "E Evening Sun" said the viewed in silence.

An Associated Press dispatch says
the gathering was called picketing
instead of a parade as the police threatened to arrest the women if they held a parade. No objection was made to their marching in single file
and bearing placards. The "parade" was headed by Miss Lucy Branham of Baltimore, who carried an American flag. One of the placards said, "We Are American Women," another said,
"Save Russian Babies" and still another was, "America Must Not Starve Children."

The demonstration was to enlist moral support in a campaign to lift
the Russian blockade. The procession was through Wall and Broad streets.

Mrs. Bennett laid a wreath with purple streamers on the grave of Alexander Hamilton at his tomb in Trinity churchyard. She invoked the shades of Hamilton and recalled the difficulties which the United States,

Dec 1919 —[Photo by Louis Fabian Bachrach.]
MISS CATHERINE BENNETT.

Miss Catherine Bennett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Toscan Bennett of Forest street, is the new tennis champion among the girls at the Hartford Public High school. Her championship was decided at the finals of the tennis tournament played on Monday afternoon on the Pope park tennis courts. Miss Bennett defeated Miss Helen Strong in straight sets 7-5, 6-4. Miss Strong led in the beginning of the first set, with a score of 4-2, but her opponent soon tied the score at five, then taking two games. The second set was hotly contested. Miss Bennett is a member of the senior class at the school and Miss Strong is a member of the Junior class.

Congregational Church at Charlestown began April 30, 1788, the same day and hour that Washington
was inaugurated president.

The pastor's salary was $11 a week,
but because of the hard times he accepted only $10. In addition to this,
he was furnished plenty of cord wood to burn. Mr. Plimpton said that while teaching in a girl's school Dr. Morse realized the lamentable deficiency in textbooks in geography, especially relating to the United States. On March 12, 1783, he wrote his "American Geography," dedicated to William Livingston, governor of New Jersey,
and had it printed at Elizabethtown.
Mr. Plimpton read many interesting extracts from this book, and spoke of Dr. Morse's long membership and service (1796-1820) in the Massachusetts Historical Society.

(Photo from Vayana Studios.)

Robina K. Parker and Caroline W. Parker are the charming daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis D. Parker of Prospect avenue. They are granddaughters of Rev. Dr. Edwin Pond Parker.

The decorations were roses, palms and smilax. Soon after midnight a supper was served in the main dining room. The guests included many of the debutantes of this year and last, undergraduates from Princeton, Yale and Harvard and a number of officers from the U. S. S. Pennsylvania, flagship of the Atlantic fleet.

... relief work in southern France. She was educated at Miss Porter's school in Farmington, Ct. Mr Gamwell was at Yale when he entered the ambulance service and served 21 months. He now is with the Kerr steamship company, New York.

PROVOST OF Died 1929 YALE UNIVERSITY

(Over) Former Hartford Man to Take Place Created Under Reorganization Plan—
Education and Faculty Relations His Chief Concerns.

DR. R. P. ANGIER FOR DEAN OF FRESHMEN

(Special to The Courant.)
New Haven, Dec. 15.

At a meeting of the Yale Corporation Saturday, the two new offices provided for in the reorganization program adopted last spring were filled. Williston Walker, Ph. D., D. D., L. H. D., Titus Street professor of ecclesiastical history in the Yale School of Religion, was elected provost of the university and Roswell Parker Angier, Ph. D., professor of Psychology and director of the physiological laboratory, was elected dean of freshmen. The two new officers were elected by the corporation on nomination of the committee on educational policy. The provost was selected after conference with the university council and the dean of freshmen after conference with the undergraduate deans and representative members of the two undergraduate faculties. In both cases the nominations had the endorsement of the conference committee of the alumni advisory board, which has been showing interest in carrying through the reorganization program.

To Take Office July 1.

Rev. William Adams Brown, chairman of the corporation's committee on educational policy, who has been serving as acting provost during the fall, and assisting in carrying through the reorganization program, will continue his work during the remainder of the present university year, as Dr. Walker will not formally assume his duties as provost until July 1. He has, however, been invited to sit with the corporation during the meantime and will assist the president and Dr. Brown in various ways.

Provost's Duties

The provost's duties are thus defined in the reorganization votes:

"The provost shall be concerned primarily with education and with faculty relations. He shall assist the president in matters affecting faculties, departments, divisions and deans, and in co-ordinating the educational work of the various schools, departments and divisions in the university. He shall be an ex-officio member of all faculties and governing boards and chairman of the university council."

Professor Angier's work.

Professor Angier, the new dean of freshmen, will begin his work on January 1, when he will take the lead in making plans for the common

CHOSEN PROVOST OF YALE UNIVERSITY

PROFESSOR WILLISTON WALKER.

to go into common freshman students have been in freshmen School. Under a permanent will have abilities and er faculties. e common members of will have the fresh- been deter- lum will be agier, and tation with of the col- Scientific of the cor- be as large undamental hmen as is rements for bachelor of the college ence degree dination and college, the l and the ach of their ilege of at- other under- meetings of

WILLISTON WALKER, YALE PROVOST.

Rev. Dr. William Walker of New Haven has been unanimously chosen by the corporation of Yale to the new and highly important office of provost. This office was created in the reorganization, undertaken some months ago, and marks a long step in university development. Apparently the provost, while under the president, is practically in charge of the educational part of the institution. The outline of the plan describes the position as follows:—

The provost shall be concerned primarily with education and with faculty relations. He shall assist the president in matters affecting faculties, departments, divisions and deans and in co-ordinating the educational work of the various schools, departments and divisions of the University. He shall be an ex-officio member of all faculties and governing boards and chairman of the University Council.

Dr. Walker is a man of the finest intellectual gifts, personally tactful and agreeable, possessing notable

Williston Walker's New Office.

To the Editor of The Courant:—

To one who knows Professor Williston Walker, and especially to one who, knowing him, has the peace and the prosperity of Yale University at heart, the news of his appointment to the newly created office of provost of the university is a tidings of great joy. Dr. Walker is in all respects eminently, if not pre-eminently, fitted for the position, which is one requiring utmost wisdom, tact, and discretion. There were possibilities of friction and discordances in that office not pleasant to contemplate; but the choice of Dr. Walker removes all possible occasion for forebodings, and is the very best thing that the corporation could have done in the case. Hartford, Dec. 17. E. P. P.

The Hartford Courant

Established 1764.

TUESDAY MORNING, DEC. 16, 1919.

The Fightin

Retirement of Premier Clemenceau
After Sixty Years of Service, Re

moves from French Politics
Its Most Dominating Figure

By Oliver McKee, Jr.

THE retirement of Premier Clemenceau this month will remove from French politics its most dominating figure. His sixty years of tireless activity in the service of his beloved country found a brilliant culmination in the political leadership of the French nation in the years' struggle years he argued with them, never missing a point, and never giving a point away. When they used threats and appeals to the honor of the army, he replied with ridicule which proved a more effective weapon. Before the end of the two years, Mercier and Boisdeffre, and Pêre Didon and the ineffable Quesnay de Beaurepaire were the laughing stock of Europe; and there emerged from the dust of the conflict a healthier and more intellectual France, which abandoned the worship of false gods, denounced the concordat, and sent the 'buzzing monks' about their business. The result was not, of course, solely due to Clemenceau's campaign in 'L'Aurore' but it was due more to that than to anything else. One may justly say that the annals of journalism contain no finer example of the power of the press for good."

Masterpieces of Polemics

And of the editorials written in the two years' campaign of Clemenceau for justice to Dreyfus, Sidney Brooks says: "They remain, I suppose, the most brilliant masterpieces of polemics since French literature has produced Pascal's famous 'Provincial Letters.' At the time of their appearance they were so prodigious. No publicist few did as much, to guide through the mazes of that

CLEMENCEAU BREAKS RIB

Falls on Board Destroyer Bound for England—Calls Personal Physician on Return to Paris

Paris, Dec. 14—Premier Clemenceau, while crossing the English channel Wednesday on his way to London, suffered a fractured rib, but with his usual stoicism the "Tiger" did not permit the news of his injury to become public and carried out his entire program without faltering. It was only on his arrival home to-day that the fact became known.

The accident to the premier occurred while the torpedo boat destroyer Temeraire was plowing her way through the mountainous seas of the prevailing storm was kicking up in the channel, making its way to Dover. It had been intended for the premier to debark at Folkstone, but the weather was too tempestuous for the destroyer to make that port.

M. Clemenceau was standing on the bridge at the time of the accident, watching the progress of the vessel and scanning the sea. One wave, larger than the others that had been encountered, rose, and as the prow of the Temeraire cut into it the vessel careened and the premier was thrown against the iron rail, suffering a bruised chest and a fractured rib.

Alighting from the train on his arrival here to-day M. Clemenceau proceeded immediately to the ministry of war and summoned Dr Truffier, who attended him last summer when he was shot by Emile Cottin. It had been noted that the premier apparently was suffering considerable pain as he walked to his automobile from the station. He was holding his side then, and also afterward as he ascended the steps to the war ministry.

Dr Truffier made a thorough examination of M. Clemenceau and later reported that he had discovered that the premier was suffering from a fractured rib, but said that his injury was not serious. When the premier emerged from the station to-day he was accorded an ovation by a great crowd which had gathered to await the journal "L'Homme Libre." In its columns he again pictured the threat of war made by Germany, and summoned all loyal Frenchmen to meet that defiance with a united front. On the outbreak of the war, he continued his daily article, addressed to the whole people of France. He recalled the sorrows of France, described the glories of its brilliant past, its sacrifices throughout the ages in defense of human rights and liberties, and magnificently pleaded that all Frenchmen rally with one accord to the flag. And day by day he became, both as editor and later as member of the Cabinet, the hope and the bulwark of the French nation at the time of its greatest peril.

His Tribute to Roosevelt

As a result of the disapproval of the censor Clemenceau was forced in the early part of the war to cease publication of "L'Homme Libre." As a sign of the disfavor with which he regarded the action of the censor, he continued publication under the name of "L'Homme Enchaîné." The proposal of Theodore Roosevelt, whom he had always admired, to raise a volunteer army of Americans for service in France, was hailed with enthusiasm by Clemenceau. He printed in "L'Homme Enchaîné" an appeal to President Wilson to allow the sending of Roosevelt to France. "Allow me to say in candor," he wrote in his paper, "that at the present moment there is in France one name which sums up the beauty of American intervention. It is the name of Roosevelt, your predecessor, even your rival, but with whom there can be now no other rivalry than heartening success."

It was the glory of Clemenceau to have served France as mightily as journalist and editor as he has as Prime Minister. His journalistic work is characterized throughout by a high-minded and fiery patriotism. In all the history of journalism, no man has brought to it greater honor than Georges Clemenceau, the veteran Premier of France.

CRAFTS

are distinctive
ices. Artistic
Visitors wel-

are distinctive
ices. Artistic
Visitors wel-

are distinctive
ices. Artistic
Visitors wel-

are distinctive
ices. Artistic
Visitors wel-

are distinctive
ices. Artistic
Visitors wel-

are distinctive
ices. Artistic
Visitors wel-

are distinctive
ices. Artistic
Visitors wel-

are distinctive
ices. Artistic
Visitors wel-

are distinctive
ices. Artistic
Visitors wel-

are distinctive
ices. Artistic
Visitors wel-

are distinctive
ices. Artistic
Visitors wel-

are distinctive
ices. Artistic
Visitors wel-

are distinctive
ices. Artistic
Visitors wel-

are distinctive
ices. Artistic
Visitors wel-

are distinctive
ices. Artistic
Visitors wel-

are distinctive
ices. Artistic
Visitors wel-

are distinctive
ices. Artistic
Visitors wel-

are distinctive
ices. Artistic
Visitors wel-

are distinctive
ices. Artistic
Visitors wel-

Harold W. Baker's Case
Held Over That First Wife May Testify.

TRA SI

MAN CONFESSES
BUYING WHISKY.

Says It Was "Poison"— Sixty-Day Jail Sentence

The Hartford

The purchase by the Travelers insurance company will give that company an additional frontage on Main street of seventy-one feet and a depth on Grove street of approximately 336 feet, of which 236 feet is the Times property, and approximately 100 feet the Connecticut Humane society property; and approximately 140 feet on Prospect street, of which there is a Times frontage of forty feet and Humane society frontage of 100 feet. The purchase gives the Travelers important rights in mutual gangways extending to Central row, Prospect street, Grove and Main streets. The Travelers insurance company paid present employs 3,500 people in its home office. The tower, which is part present office, would take care of it was thought would take care of the expansion for ten years, at the time of its completion. The total number of persons employed in Hartford in 1907 it employed 700 people. The total ground area in square feet occupied by the Travelers company is 69,246. Of this 36,620 is occupied by the Connecticut Fire Insurance building and 12,126 by the printing plant of the Travelers company. The area occupied by the Travelers building and the Humane society building is approximately 36,000 square feet.

Big Block Acquired.
The purchase by the Travelers insurance company building, by the old Connecticut fire insurance company building, at the southwest corner of Grove and Prospect streets occupied by the Travelers insurance company, will precede any work on its present buildings; and that this development of its home office series of the property purchased in development had been completed the company said to-day that although no plans of the Travelers insurance company, L. Edmund Zacher, treasurer of Building To Be Done Here.

than either the purchase of the property acquired by the New Hotel incorporated, on Trumbull and Lewis streets, for the purposes. chases made by Harry Bond for prospective hotel purposes. This is a much larger financial transaction in real estate than either the purchase of the property acquired by the New Hotel incorporated, on Trumbull and Lewis streets, for the purposes. chases made by Harry Bond for prospective hotel purposes.

Callers Allowed to See Only With Fifteen-Minute Limit
Bridgeport Disappointed

Apparently fearing that the men now held in the Hartford county jail, who have been examined as undesirable aliens liable to deportation, are certainly going to be deported, relatives and friends of the prisoners are taking full advantage of the arrangements made for allowing visits to the jail. Under the plan approved by the department of justice officials, two visitors at a time are allowed to visit the wing of the jail in which the men are held, and only one visitor is allowed to see any one prisoner at a time, for a fifteen minute period, Monday, Tuesday this town, and made his home here all his life. He leaves his wife, a daughter, Mable Colton Butler, a sister, Mrs. C. W. Hall, and one brother, Edward C. Butler, all of West Hartford. The funeral will be held Thursday morning at 9 o'clock from St. Joseph's cathedral with a solemn high mass of requiem. Burial will be in Mount St. Benedict cemetery.

Funeral of Mrs. McCormack.

The funeral of Mrs. Mary (Gleason) McCormack, wife of Michael E. McCormack, was held from her late home, Southwest street, West Hartford, this morning at 8:45, and at Our Lady of Sorrows church at 9:30. The Rev. John P. Cotter was celebrant of the solemn requiem mass, the Rev. Henry Galvin, the pastor, was deacon, and the Rev. John J. Callaghan, sub-deacon. As the casket was borne into the church, Peter F. Radican sang "Some Sweet Day," and at the conclusion of the mass, "Face to Face." The bearers were William E. Frank J. Fred J. Michael A. and John J. McCormack, sons of the deceased, and William J. McCormack, a nephew. Interment was in the family lot in Mt. St. Benedict cemetery. The Rev. Henry Galvin conducted the services at the grave.

Real Estate Transfers.

From Jessie C. Payntier of Springfield to John and Julia Zucko, land on Newington road; from Mary J. Shepherd to Susie B. Andrews, land on north side Farmington avenue; from E. C. Stowe et al., to Clayton C. Carey, land and buildings on Farmington avenue; from Elmwood Realty company to W. I. Harbison, lot No. 9 on Elmwood. From Herbert B. Kingsbury to Raymond F. Lincoln, land on west side Quaker lane; from R. Raymond Brown to Earle R. and Hannah H. Cotton of Ohio, land and buildings on east side of Westland avenue; Richard F. Jones to Louis W. Slocum, lot No. 10 on Westland avenue.

TRAVELERS BUYS TIMES PROPERTY Built as a Site for Hartford Post Office.

The present TIMES building on Main street was built in 1856 and 1857. The building was con-

The present mechanical building was built in 1897, the year before the Spanish-American war, and was at that time supposed to be the last word in mechanical construction. Its construction is of limestone and terra cotta

IN THE OLD DAYS.

Burr Property Was Just South of Meeting House Square.

Hartford Times Mechanical Plant.

GROVE STREET SECTION OF PROPERTY ACQUIRED BY THE TRAVELERS.

THE HARTFORD TIMES, which has been occupying the second floor of the old yellow gambrel-roof building at the corner of Main street and Central row, later razed to make place for the Hartford Trust company building, moved into the new building and occupied the two rooms directly over the post office, the front room being used for a business office. The paper at that time was printed in the building now occupied by Case, Lockwood & Brainard on Pearl street.

A. E. Burr and later the Burr estate continued occupancy of the property bought from Thomas Belden on a lease until 1910, when the land was bought from the Belden heirs.

and Thomas Hopkins to the city of Hartford in 1787, and was seventeen feet wide.

Joseph Church conveyed the property to Philura Alden. Also, Thomas S. Williams, who owned land on Prospect street and on the north side of Grove street, conveyed to Philura Alden land in the rear of Grove street.

Horatio Alden and other heirs of Philura Alden in 1854 conveyed the property to Alonzo W. Birge, Alfred E. Burr and William J. Hamersley. The devisees of Alonzo Birge conveyed their interests in the property to Alfred E. Burr in 1889, and in the same year Mr. Hamersley likewise conveyed his interest to Mr. Burr.

TRAVELERS BUYS "TIMES" PROPERTY

TRAVELERS' PLANS FOR OFFICE ROOM

Dec
Insurance

pletes

Grove will House One Complete

Land

MORE OFFICE ROOM

TO THE TRAVELERS

THURSDAY, I

Conn. Hum Result of Property Acquisition at Main and Grove Streets.

NOVEMBER 16, 1920.

The building at Main and Grove streets from which THE HARTFORD TIMES lately removed to occupy its new home on Prospect street, has become

TO SIGN AGREEMENT FOR GROVE ST. TUNNEL

The board of street commissioners, at its meeting last night, authorized President Edward J. McDonough to

Travelers Tunneling to Times Building

Work was started this week and is progressing rapidly on the tunnel from the Travelers Insurance Company building.

Travelers Occupies Old Building.

Clerks of the Travelers Insurance Company moved yesterday morning into the ground floor of the old building formerly occupied by the "Times" at Main and Grove streets. The upper two floors were occupied last week. The policy loan and life premium departments are on the first floor of the old building.

NOVEMBER 30, 1920.

the work of the home provides employment while a total of 1414 employees, and the ticket department will probably be ready for business. It is practically all a clerical force which moves from the Travelers building and will admit of greater expanding and will admit of greater expansion of departments in the main insurance building. The leveling of old buildings on the property to the rear is the forerunner of extensive building operations by the Travelers in the future.

The present Main and Grove building of 1414 square feet will probably be ready for business. It extends 342.5 feet and 130.8 feet printing department which occupies southeast corner of Grove streets, Prospect street a street.

In square feet build a new eleven-story building on Prospect street, on the site of the former Connecticut Humane Society building and that until recently occupied by the old brown house adjoining. work will not be started for some time. The company plans to wait in the expectation that building costs will decrease.

Once Housed Post Office.

HUMANE SOCIETY HAS NO PLANS YET FOR NEW QUARTERS

Society Has Always Had Headquarters on Prospect Street.

Dec 18 1919

No plans have been made by the Connecticut Humane Society for immediate removal from its headquarters at No. 55 Prospect street, which was purchased by the Travelers Insurance Company.

Since the organization of the Connecticut Humane Society in November, 1880, it has had but two homes, the first being in the basement of the Connecticut Fire Insurance Company's building, on the southwest corner of Prospect and Grove streets, so that during its existence the society has always been on Prospect street. It was chartered in April, 1881, and acquired its present home in 1900 of the Connecticut Fire Insurance Company, which in turn had purchased it from the "Hartford Times." The society paid $21,500 for the property.

The society was provided for mainly through the efforts of Richard G. Waters, who died in 1897. He was a great lover of dogs and horses, and in his will provided that his estate would revert to his two sons, then living in California, for their life use, and at their death would go to the Connecticut Humane Society for the purchase of a necessary home, and the remainder to be used as a trust fund for educational purposes, in the care principally of horses and dogs. The will was contested by the sons, and in a settlement of the case, the society received $25,000, and after paying $21,500 for the Prospect street building, had something more than $3,000 as a trust fund. The recent sale of the home is expected to add materially to this fund.

The first president was Rodney Dennis, at that time secretary of the Travelers Insurance Company, who served until his death in June, 1899. He was succeeded in September of that year by Rev. Dr. William DeLoss Love, who died in April, 1918. Dr. George C. F. Williams, present head of the society, has served since January of this year. Francis R. Cooley is treasurer and the executive committee is Atwood Collins, William F. Gordy, Dr. George C. F. Williams, Arthur L. Shipman, Charles A. Goodwin, Charles Hopkins Clark and Mrs. William B. Williams, Jr.

There are two district agents, one at New Haven, and the other at the home office in this city, and there are three field workers and about 300 volunteer agents through the state, in addition to the necessary clerks to carry on the work. The scope of the work of the society is to prevent cruelty to man or beast, which includes children and in some instances, adults. The last General Assembly gave the governor power to appoint agents of the society as special police officers who can make arrests for violations of the law as may come within their jurisdiction, and prosecuting officers are provided to bring to justice offenders. George H. Day of Hartford is one of these, and there are other such prosecutors in the state.

Society's Headquarters. Travelers Insurance Company.

Historic Home of Thomas Green, Founder of "Courant," Bought By Travelers Co.

*Hartford Trust Co.
1919*

PHOTO SHOWS BLOCK FROM CENTRAL ROW TO GROVE STREET.
Junction and the point.

Carl Schreiner Will Take Steps to Become Citizen of Uncle Sam

Dec 18

Noted Insurance Man Will Go to England and Germany and Then Return to America---Wartime Troubles
of Native of Fatherland.

Carl Schreiner, former president of the First Reinsurance Company of Hartford, and at one time president of the United States Life Reinsurance Company, will become an American citizen.

Mr. Schreiner, who has been in retirement in New York since the start of the war, will return to England for a period, settle his affairs, and then return to New York.

Just how long Mr. Schreiner will stay abroad is not known, but he has obtained passports and intends to sail from New York.

The restricted freedom of travel for aliens under President Wilson's red zone proclamation has caused considerable trouble for Mr. Schreiner when it became known that he had left Hartford for the Adirondacks, where he has a large estate. He conducted his business from New York City, and his offices of the Munich Reinsurance Company in Hartford were closed.

His experiences during the war were not pleasant, due to the alien restrictions. He was the insurance manager for the First Reinsurance Company in his home in Hartford.

Two weeks after the outbreak of the European War, in August, 1914, Mr. Schreiner and Gilbert Hartford, who were partners in the company, were forced to leave the United States as stevedores.

on the Laconia. The government's passage to this country made it impossible for them to obtain first class passage.

As far as could be ascertained, the time none of Mr. Schreiner's associates ever heard him speak in a manner that indicated he was not in sympathy with America's position in the war. He seemed to favor the United States. His activities in Hartford, in spite of the restriction laws, were not taken cognizance of by the United States authorities.

Mr. Schreiner is an authority on insurance problems. He was asked to form a reinsurance company, and, under a charter granted by the Connecticut Legislature, he organized the First Reinsurance Company of Hartford, and was its president. This company was ordered liquidated by the government, and its property was turned over to the insurance company, of which Mr. Schreiner was American manager. The company is now being liquidated, and its assets are being sold.

The original directors of the First Reinsurance Company were M. Bissell, president of the Fire Insurance Company; J. C. Dunham, then president of the Travelers Insurance Company; and Wilhelm von Finck, of Merck, Finck & Co.

E. Gross, of New York; Walter F. Schreiner, of Hartford; and H. H. Schreiner, of New York, signed and his name was on the board of directors of the Connecticut Reinsurance Company, which was organized in 1874 and in 1880, was the first insurance company to be organized in the United States.

Carl Schreiner, who was vice-president of the company, was the first to leave the company to do business in Germany. He received his education in the office of his father, who was a graduate of the University of Berlin. He entered the company in 1874 and in 1880, was the first insurance company to be organized in the United States.

Soldier and College President

(Copyright Photo by International)

Col. David P. Barrows

Successor to Benjamin Ide Wheeler as President of the University of California

Colonel Barrows, who is head of the American Legion in California, saw service as a cavalry officer in Siberia. He has been on the university faculty for ten years. His ancestors were New Englanders.

He received a scholarship of $150, besides receiving honorable mention for his studies.

John B. Williams, Now at Harvard, Wins Chemistry Honors.

Adolph Brook, Former Student Finishes Harvard Course in 3 Years.

As a result of examinations in which pupils of nearly every high school in the United States participated, two students of the Hartford Public High School, and one graduate, have received notification from the Board of Examiners that they

Dec 18
Frohock-Olson.
Miss Georgiana Frances Olson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Olson of Wethersfield, and Allen Ray Frohock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen H. Frohock of No. 135 Shultas place, were married Wednesday evening in the Wethersfield Congregational Church by Rev. John Newton Lackey, pastor of the South Baptist Church, who used the double ring service. Miss Dorothy Young was the maid of honor and the ring bearer was Wallace Frohock, nephew of the bridegroom. Wallace E. Frohock, brother of the bridegroom, was best man and the ushers were Clarence T. Murdock, George E. Mercer, William H.

43

College Examination Honors Won By H. P. H. S. Students

JOHN B. WILLIAMS.

MORGAN H. ALVORD.

MYRON M. ZIZZAMIA.

is a son of Samuel M. Alvord, who is a high school faculty, has received for the past three years highest honors in his class.

He is president of the Athletic Association, vice-president of the Hartford High School Debating Club, vice-president of the Students' Council. He is a graduate of the Northwest School.

Zizzamia has received two prizes for high standing while at the school. He is a graduate of St. Joseph's School. He is editor-in-chief of the "Chronicle," secretary of the High School Club, secretary of the Greek Club and chairman of the executive committee of the Hartford High School Debating Club.

He received the highest mark that was ever given at the High School in Roman History, 99, and the highest mark in Advanced Algebra, 100.

Williams, now a student at Harvard, showed proficiency in chemistry at the high school. He was a member of the High School Dramatic Club and prominent in other activities at the school. He has previously won a number of prizes in chemistry.

Along with the announcement of the honor which was bestowed on the local high school came the announcement that Adolph Brook, valedictorian of the class of 1916, has completed a four-year course at Harvard in three years. Mr. Hyde received a letter from C. C. Greenough, Dean of Harvard, high school pupil. In

Realty Sale Made by Henry E. Church to Winslow Russell.

Dec 18
The most important residential real estate transfer in several weeks took place to-day when Henry E. Church, president and treasurer of the Freeman-Church company, sold his home at No. 23 Arnoldale road, to Winslow Russell, vice-president of the Phoenix Mutual Life Insurance company. The residence is of colonial type, and through an arrangement of verandas and porticos, and the layout of the grounds is one of the handsomest places in a beautiful section of the city. The deal was put through by the T. D. Faulkner agency, and the new owner will not take possession until the spring.

Another deal involving "well-known property was executed when the Faulkner agency acquired possession of the C. N. Pelton farm at Haddam, involving ninety-three acres, and 2,000 feet shore front. Thirty acres are included in the river frontage section, and sixty-three are on the opposite side of the highway. Mr. Faulkner plans to develop the farmland, using the shore front section for bungalow sites and the remainder for larger residences.

fall. Muskkrats, the

as much theology as the average theologian.

The Gardes and Their Hotels.

Walter S. Garde, who has sold his interest in the Hartford hotel and who recently sold his interest in the Hotel Volk New Haven, both of

Garde Hotel Property Sold To T. C. Hardie; $600,000 Transaction

Realty Long Sought at Last Changes Hands--Formerly Batterson Build- ing--Improvements To Be Made.

Hotel property sold for $600,000 to Thomas C. Hardie.

confined to t
of the organ
party and w
of the state central committee.

WALTER S. GARDE.

Mr. Batterson designed and built many of Hartford's most prominent buildings, including the Capitol and Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company's home office. He lived in a unique home on Vine street, now the parish house of the Fourth Congregational Church. Specimens of his architectural designs and construction are seen in many other cities. Mr. Batterson was not only architect, builder and politician (used in its highest sense) but he was also a scholar of note, being versed in languages and sciences, while he knew

Hotel Garde, Mr. Garde and his mother retired from active hotel management. They now return to the new Hotel Garde in New Haven, which stands opposite the new location chosen for the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad station in that city. They are widely known to hotel patrons throughout the East.

The Hotel Garde in New Haven has been under the management of W. F. Ingold of New York for three and one-half years, he having leased the property under the name of the Ingold Hotel Company for a period of twenty years.

DRAMATIC CLUB
PLAY AT H. P. H. S.
AUDITORIUM TONIGHT
Dec 19, 1919

This evening at 8 o'clock the Hartford Public High School Dramatic Club will present in the Broad Street

Purchases Property of Prof. Henry A. Perkins
—Assessed for $12,500.

45

Dec 1919
 Shiras Morris, president and treasurer of the Hart & Hegeman Manufacturing Co., has bought the single family

Henry A. Perkins, college, at will move apers trans- it been filed $12,500. The and is 173 built about teen rooms.

Dec 20
 to-day by municipal hat former enyon and laughter of el Scott of Saturday o'clock, at St. Louis. January 1 Hollywood, er of the ty for the He was he United formerly city, gave ght at the her niece, er of Dr. of New in society was used served in ong those nce were Harding, drew Flét- Guests at s. George s. Stewart H. Sabin, wtry, Mr. Mr. and and Mrs. s. Eugene i L. Red- is Munds, ham, Mr. and Mrs. Mrs. John nd Mrs. ing debu- s Cornelia rson, Miss iss Renee bilt, Miss e, Baldwin fla Byrne, Beatrice Miss Olive Rhinelan- Miss Alice Miss Con- Grant, ss Mary dinner at lady were

Dec 19

Heads High School Girls' Club

(Photo by Vayana.)
MISS RUTH C. COWLES.

Miss Ruth C. Cowles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bliss S. Cowles, of No. 11 Salisbury street, is president of the H. P. H. S. Girls' Club, and is a member of the senior class.

guests, William C. Parke of Decatur, Ill., and George M. Wheeler of Bridgeport, both students at Yale University.

university, California, this year, will Capt. David B. Rattrick returned country in April, receiving his discharge from the Army on the twenty-first of the month.

Mrs. Georgia M. Reyburn, formerly of the wife of William Stuart Reyburn of Philadelphia and New London, and Edwin Albert Morse, the son of Charles W. Morse of New York, were married last Monday. Mr. Morse and his bride will reside for some time in Washington, D. C., as he is connected with the American Shipbuilding corporation at Alexandria, Va. Recently Mr. Morse bought the historic Fairfax home, near Mount Vernon.

BILL THOMAS and spend

ford street. She is now visiting in Wellesley, Mass.

as follows: Misses Katherine Kent, Melissa Yullie, Burks Yullie, Marie Lamarche, Marie J. Leary, Mary Hurd, Mary Kenna, Sheila Byrne, Edna Semple, Edna Grant, Suzanne Pierson and Mary Strange, Mr. and Mrs. Allan McLane, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. J. Murray Mitchell, Jr., Dr. and Mrs. Jackson, R. Kenna, Charles Coulter, Richard Farrelly, Charles Halsey, Thomas Denny, John B. Cummings, Walton Scully, Edward Livingston Burrill, Jr., Julien Shackno, John French, Lewis Adams, Godfrey Hyde, Herbert Bertholl and Winslow Little.

Dec. 19, 1919
 Lieutenant Colonel and Mrs. Emerson G. Taylor of Garden street gave a large dance Friday evening at the Cosmopolitan club, New York, to introduce Mrs. Taylor's niece, Miss Edith Smedberg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adolphus Smedberg. The dance, which was attended by about 300, was preceded by a dinner given by C. Taylor at the club. The included Miss Martha Helen Bull, Miss Helen Gould, Miss Isa Miss Beatrix Thorne, Miss Seder, William Bingham, John Borden, Hermon McMichael, Jol of Colonel and Mrs. T cently returned from the for the Christmas holi tended the dance.

In honor of Miss E the debutante daughter Mrs. Adolphus Smedberg, a dance will be g evening, December 19, politan club by her cous Adams. Miss Smedberg Major Emerson G. Ta Taylor of Garden street

Mr. and Mrs. George of No. 820 Prospect ave invitations to a dance evening, December 22 ford Golf Club, in h daughter, Miss Aim Ellis is a student at t ters' School at Dobbs and will return this the Christmas holidays ents. Members of th will attend the dance, practically the first of festivities.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin of New York have iss to a dance in honor of Miss Betty Strong, fo day evening, December

HAPPILY WEDDED

New Britain
 Rev. and Mrs. Lyman South High street are sixtieth anniversary c riage today. No special the happy event is pla the fact that Mrs. Joh enjoy robust health. T cipients of congratulat friends.

Rev. Mr. Johnson was Mrs. Adolphus Smedberg of New York, and Miss Odette Seder, also of New York will be the guests of honor at a small dinner party which Miss Smedberg's aunt, Mrs. Emerson G. Taylor of Garden street, is giving this evening.

came to New Britain Johnson was 4 years old Mrs. Taylor will take her guests to the dance at the Hartford Golf club later in the evening. Miss Smedberg, who was introduced to society in New York at a large dance in December 1919, at the Cosmopolitan club by her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Taylor, and Miss Seder, a debutante of this season, attended the Lake debut dance, held at the Hartford club Friday evening. They were present at the large dinner party, preceding the dance, given by Miss Barbara Barnes, daughter of Roy T. H. Barnes of Farmington avenue.

Miss Smedberg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adolphus Smedberg of New York, and Miss Odette Seder, also of New York will be the guests of honor at a small dinner party which Miss Smedberg's aunt, Mrs. Emerson G. Taylor of Garden street, is giving this evening.

York at a large dance in December 1919, at the Cosmopolitan club by her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Taylor, and Miss Seder, a debutante of this season, attended the Lake debut dance, held at the Hartford club Friday evening. They were present at the large dinner party, preceding the dance, given by Miss Barbara Barnes, daughter of Roy T. H. Barnes of Farmington avenue.

factory
$1275
 Reduced Price

Jerome Mayer and Mrs. Mary T. Mo-lumphy who was recently appointed.

gin a pris-
 s for vio-
 permitted Although
 then they
 s of Miss
 n for thir-
 them gooddentine of a fur coat
 f clothing
 en acquir-
 A dentist

Red col-notified by ommissioner
 to leave
 s notice,
 or the de-

MISS EDITH SMEDBERG.

CAREERS OF GOLDMAN AND BERKMAN

The deportation of Emma Goldman and her devoted companion, Alexander Berkman, ends a joint career of 30 years in the United States during which they preached the overthrow of government by violence. He spent 16 years and she three years in jail, both having been punished for the

EMMA GOLDMAN IN RUSSIA

The Disillusionment of a Deported Socialist

My Disillusionment in Russia. By Emma Goldman. Garden City, N. Y.: Doubleday, Page & Co.

N Dec. 21, 1919,

thousands of people in New York for States must have been deported of—

to Russia. For that this it that deportation be for uni- od and was a silly ce, in 1892-ous problem. Ife (in Pitts- ma Goldman's re- him down they will see that le shot him m the deportation, dog." If they like it so America" n back and they'll bed his at- k, "Prison

this most ubiqul- freedom in capitalistic order. this month from Berlin. She Henry Clay oviet misrule. Of Pittsburgh nefactor, excessive and gall- rs old, and the simplest func- in Kovno, robbery and stud-ldhood re- beyond the worst to East spy system. She she came nfusion of soul at arted work- in Roches- m.

She saw suffering, r relatives down to the best ed: "I have States." American deportee d she was rs were everywhere Jacob A. ers starved as she Russia. In by the suffering, ip was re- le to do anything t 21 when a train ride down t been five private car to col- The mar- useum of the Revo- rmed by a als for ko- ater Palace in Pet- the Kers- t with hundreds of bbi accord- achievement; with nser seems Miss Gold- ouncement, tkin, the anarchist; ht against But she did noth- d this year lin so soon as she was on a made her orts to re- based.

ovietism. She de- based. I much from Marx-," she said a sort of "I told alk of de- lieve they present abandon- o try. My made during that en. I mar- r of hers shortly when she praised ited States having brought the r arrival, and th. She glibly ad- r when his , yet she writes on rkman be- e ideal anarchistic New York, e years old, getting people into, seems to Can there be or- tory pretty s not the thing and from the ison after

is not an anomaly otting Mr upon her finer senses. hat he had ew Jersey r recorded tucting the ere single pue sarenb quonw xap the aid of and rest of anc One Chin eue

If you are a radical this book will strip you of a few of your illusions about the Soviets. And if you are one of those old-fashioned persons who think the United States is about the best place to live in that the world knows, and who wants a chance to play the game here without any major alterations in the organization of our civilization, it will make you angry, and that's a good day's work for any book.

D. R.

"RED" LEADERS WHO WILL SAIL AWAY TO-DAY

Emma Goldman and Alexander Berkman, Prominent Anarchists, Who Will be Deported on the Buford which were frustrated by countrywide raids in November. These raids made a total of 657 anarchists seized by the United States on deportation proceedings in the last two years. When their co-workers, the nihilists in Russia, whence they came in youth, evolved into the Bolsheviks and formed the soviet government after the downfall of the monarchy. Berkman and Miss Goldman championed a similar government and social order for this country. Berkman when surrendered for deportation predicted that he would return to the United States as soviet ambassador and Miss Goldman, prophesied a revolution here within five years.

"American capitalists are the most greedy in the world," she said, "and when the time comes they are going to pay a terrible price for it. A thunderous storm is brewing in the United States."

But her sense of consistency was not touched. For she has none. We may soon expect from her new propaganda favoring the anarchistic revolution in the United States. That is if the capitalistic royalties from this latest book prove sufficiently stimulating.

Store of Berkman was defiant to the last and threatened secret service men as he stepped from the soil of the United States.

"We're coming back and we'll get you," he muttered, embellishing his statement with curses.

ARCH ANARCHISTS

A SHIPLOAD OF UNDESIRABLES

Never, perhaps, has New York bid farewell to a craft laden with a stranger cargo than the United States Army transport Buford, which steamed from its pier before dawn Sunday morning carrying back to their European homes 249 convicted anarchists. Denouncing to the last the Government and the people of the United States, the passengers of the "Soviet Ark" are carrying across the Atlantic the same bitterness of heart, and the same spirit of lawlessness that made them, in their stay in America, engage in plots and schemes for the overthrow of the United States Government. The most conspicuous names on the passenger list of the Buford are Alexander Berkman and Emma Goldman, who have gained for themselves in their anarchical activities in the United States a country-wide notoriety. But with them sail 247 others, less the public.

The sailing of the Buford is to be hailed as inaugurating a new policy in the treatment of convicted radicals. In the past, deportation had been the only method of dealing with them.

cution c an abu brous p
twin de ued to lence o
The me
passeng
every s
are the campaign
"Reds"
chosen Still ur widely agents
approxi
the abar
former makes c
set sail loads of

Beneat
convicte feelings
selves.
ism tha
ticipatio
in the A all who political and agita
of Emma G
the Unit
Alexander
Berkman,
together
"Reds" are tonight on t absorbed often th
him a m
however,
predomin
ant to At torney General
place ha destiny c
ideals; a

Anarchy: The Hartford Times

Choice Pai

Le

Government's Records

Alexander Berkman

Goldman—Preacher

ually Violence at regard of A

Law

By Carl W. Ack

Copyright, 1919, by Public
Special to the Tran

THE United States Justice today raised a veil of secrecy, behind which he concealed the work of agitation, to show the people every fact and incident of the political and agitation of Emma Goldman, the United States anarchist, who together with Alexander Berkman, the "Reds" are tonight on their way to Soviet Russia. By direct reports from Attorney General Garfield, prepared by J. L. Hoover, and sent to Attorney General Palmer, the public. Although the great place has been given to these two Russians, the Department of Justice after the

MONDAY, DECEMBER 22, 1919.

THE SOVIET ARK—AND NO ARARAT.

The spectacle of 249 wild anarchists, haters of order, haters of all civilization has come to believe decent, haters of their fellow men and apparently haters even of themselves, sailing out into a wintry ocean on a ship with sealed orders—that is a spectacle to snap the imagination into action!

Where are they bound for? Where will they arrive? One can picture them in a frenzy of ferocity rising in mutiny with knives in their teeth and taking the ship after an hour of carnage. One can see them rioting about the decks, confident in their roaring ignorance of their ability to navigate the craft into a harbor of eternal happiness. And one can see them finally bringing to in hopeless-ness caught and held in the Sargasso sea, wedged alongside barnacled Spanish galleons, dismasted pirate schooners and reeking slavers, there to scream and starve and cannibalize and die and rot while their ship sinks under them.

Which won't take place in actuality, but which is metaphorically, at least, their fate and the fate of any ship of state. Americans have been convicted that these two Russians gain the mastery of the Department of Justice after the

THE BUFORD'S CARGO.

Emma Goldman, who has made a handsome living out of the profession of anarchy and who, with all her rich furs and fine raiment, has been started on her way to soviet Russia, doesn't see how America can get along without her. She is fully aware of her importance to the universe. As the transport Buford was about to depart with its load of exiles she said her deportation marked the beginning of the end of the United States government. By that act, she said, the government had signed its own death warrant. We await with calmness the deluge that Emma expects to follow her departure. If it comes it may have a wholesome cleansing effect, and if it carries off some worthy people it may also leave a world with fewer Goldmans and Berkman.

It appears that the well fed and well clothed Berkman and Goldman were not the only alien enemies in the cargo who have found prosperity here. Congressman Siegel of the U. S. House immigration committee says that in 1880 Emma Goldman and her husband were divorced, according to the chief Rabbi in New York. "divorce" the Government states "Emma Goldman lived together again until she fell in love with a man, with whom she lived except for the time she has been incarcerated and jails. Between 1880 and 1885, she was deported for thirty-four years in which period she has been in prison for two years. She has been a country agitator, anarchist and agitator."

Months

It is said that after her deportation from Hamburg on December 31, 1885, she went to live with her half sister, in Rochester, N. Y. She worked as a tailor and as a dressmaker. Nevertheless as a States she carried off a large sum of money in American ing anarchy pays," the government officials who are satisfied with the rest of us work these anarchists by de-fortunes by de-stry which makes and well fitting ing up money in

FINISHED IN

GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARIES FOR 4 IN NEW BRITAIN

Five of Those Who Figured In Triple Wedding Will Celebrate

(Special to The Courant.)

New Britain, Dec. 20.

It will be fifty years Monday since Louis L. Andrews and Miss Agnes Kempshall, and Charles Morey and Miss Ellen Tyrell, and also Charles Kempshall and Miss Adella Boynton were married at Farmington by Rev. William C. Walker, pastor of the First Baptist Church of New Britain. Mr. and Mrs. Andrews and Mr. and Mrs. Morey will observe their golden wedding anniversary tomorrow. Mrs. Kempshall, and Mr. Walker, the officiating clergyman are dead.

Mr and Mrs. Andrews will observe their anniversary quietly. Their children will be with them. There are now three generations living. Mr. and Mrs. Andrews will be entertained with a dinner party at the Heublein in Hartford and will afterward attend the theater. Friends will shower them with card and telegraphic greetings. There will be a presentation of a substantial purse of gold. Now at the age of three score and ten Mr. and Mrs. Andrews enjoy the quiet of their home. Both are active and mentally alert. Mr. Andrews, who is a foreman painter at the New Britain Machine Company, where he has been for ten years, following about thirty or more years' service at the Stanley Rule & Level Company, takes a keen interest in all that concerns New Britain. He has been a life-long resident of the city, and descended from the Andrews family, which settled early in this locality. The Andrews family has played an important part in the upbuilding of the community. Mrs. Andrews was born in England, coming to New Britain with her parents when she was five years old, so that New Britain has been home to her for practically all her life. Both attended the schools of New Britain and worshipped together in the same church. As a young man Mr. Andrews served in the fire department, belonging in the old volunteer days when fire apparatus was hauled by man power. Three children were born of the union and they are Mrs. Everett M. Staples of No. 97 Basset street, and Mrs. W. C. Hart of Plainville and Clarence H. Andrews of New Britain. There are four grand children, the Misses Katha A. and Irma J. Staples, Mrs. W. L. Hart and Eugene Forest. There are also six great-grandchildren. Mr. Andrews has been a member of Phoenix Lodge, Odd Fellows and the New England Order of Protection for many years. Mrs. Andrews has been much interested in church work and has been prominent in the activities of the

Two New Britain Couples Married 50 Years Monday

CHARLES MOREY.

MRS. CHARLES MOREY.

LOUIS L. ANDREWS.

MRS. LOUIS L. ANDREWS.

council from the Third Ward at the time the new site for the post office was being discussed. It was on Mr. Morey's resolution in the council that steps were taken to secure the present site for the federal building. For forty-seven years Mr. Morey worked at the Stanley Rule & Level Company and is now on the factory pension list. He is now employed at the Corbin Cabinet Lock Company and the ten hours' work do not show on him any more than if he were twenty years younger.

Mrs. Morey was, before her marriage, Miss Ellen Tyrell, and is 74 years old. She was born in Monterey, Mass., in Berkshire county. She and Mr. Morey are members of the First Baptist Church. Mrs. Morey jokingly styles herself "boss of the household" but Mr. Morey says that the dead. Those still living are Rupert S. of Southington; Burton C. Edwin and Garfield, Jr., all of this city, and Mrs. Nelson Babb of Congamond. Burton Morey served in the Spanish War and Garfield was in the recent world war. Burton was formerly investigator of the New Britain Charity Department.

Charles Kempshall.

Charles Kempshall, one of the bridegrooms in the triple wedding, is still active. He served in the Civil War with the Thirty-Fourth Illinois and has the distinction of being the only New Britain man who had a brother fighting with the Confederacy. John Kempshall, now of Maricao, Ill., was in Capt. Kane's brigade. They were not far apart at Cumberland Gap

SVNX TV

STREET AND YEARS
DAY FOR YEAR

R. M. BISSELL SELLS PLACE NOW USED BY KINGSWOODSCHOOL

The home of Samuel L. Clemens was built in the years 1870-1873 by John Garvie, a joiner and builder of the Civil war period, who was associated with John Mead in building the home of the Connecticut Fire Insurance company, the residence of Frank W. Cheney in South Manchester and many other residences hereabouts. It was designed by a Mr. Tiffany of New York, who is said to have spent over a year and a half on the plans. The late John R.

HARTFORD HOME OF MARK TWAIN IS SOLD BY RICHARD M. BISSELL

WEDNESDAY, APRIL

DEAL IS COMPLETED FOR DOUGLAS ESTATE

*Fine Property in Farmington Bought by Richard M.
Bissell.*

The deal for the purchase of the Harold W. Douglas property in Farmington by President Richard M. Bissell of the Hartford Fire Insurance Company, reported Monday in "The Courant," has been completed and Mr. Bissell will probably soon take possession. Because of its location and surroundings it is an ideal property for a country home.

"Tom Sawyer" and "Huckleberry

No. 11 Chapel street. The house has been occupied for the years by the Kingswood school. The sale is subject to a lease of the property which runs until June, 1920, being made in the contract to lease until June, 1921.

The Mark Twain house, which has been occupied for a year and a half. Plans of the purchase and the future disposition of the Twain house have not been made but the purchasers will promote the development of other property in the estate which totals eight acres. There is a large tract to the west of the Mark Twain house, including a grove extending to the property of Charles Dudley Warner, also property along the banks of the river with a 300 foot frontage on Farmington avenue, part of which is used as a playground for the Kingswood school. It is understood that the purchasers will build a new block on this property in the future. The price paid is said to be between $50,000 and $60,000.

Coinciding with the sale of the Twain house Mr. Bissell has purchased a property to the east of the Twain house property of W. O. Burr, with a frontage of 100 feet on Farmington avenue, extending the line of Mr. Burr's property to the western end of the Kingswood school property.

BISSELL WILL BUY FARMINGTON ESTATE

Hartford Fire President to Purchase Douglas Home---
Price at $40,000.

Richard M. Bissell, president of the Hartford Fire Insurance Company, is negotiating for the purchase of the Farmington estate of Harold Douglas, the well known artist and scenic decorator. Mr. Bissell said last night that he had been considering the purchase for some time and that he hoped soon to take possession of the estate, which he may use for a home. The purchase price, it is understood, is $40,000.

The Douglas property is finely located upon high ground and the dwelling is a party surrounded with hills. Adjacent to the house is a pine grove, which makes an ideal playground for children. Mr. Douglas has built his house from his own plans and on the ground floor there is a large room which he uses for a studio and library. Below the house, there is what looks like a bowling alley but which in reality is a poultry house. The property runs through to two streets of the village and at the entrance of one street there is a small cottage that is rented.

by Hartford Contractors and Chamberlain, what are you doing?" Mr. Clemens replied that he was down. Mr. Clemens replied that he would and my property, and replied that he would

said Mr. Chamberlain, 1900. the author's statement, changed hands, Mr. 100 feet on Farmington street.

71 that the Clemenses had lived in Farmington to live; and always had been contented, both by temperance and the force of circumstance continued to be so until in Hartford that they spent years, and it was they always called that they lived in the Forest street. Then of sojourn in England, his new home on Farmington was built, to which they

is just this roving habit engendered in them so attachment to a home being at all of solidity to it. And so for seven years lived in this Hartford house for seventeen well nigh perfect years, according to Mark Twain—entertaining, gathering about them celebrities from all over the country, plunging enthusiastically into Hartford society, Hartford amateur theatricals, Hartford charities and Hartford politics. "Fortunately," wrote Samuel Clemens to a friend in 1876, "a good deal of experience of men enabled me to choose my residence wisely. I live in the freest corner of the country."

repressible, dominating with his wit and cheer his whole assemblage of distinguished guests.

Yet it was neither the fiction-people nor the eminent visitors who lived in this building from time to time that made of the house the home it was. It was the quiet evenings spent about

The Hartford Times

DECEMBER 30, 1919.

REGRET IT.

Hartford home of
ns seems to dissi-
it might have been
me there would be
monial in Hartford,
er of the house,
of the Hartford
ompany, contempla-
and discussed it with Hartford men who n to give substantial
plan as considered
an endowment fund
hich with the pur-
ouse would mean at
The tract of land
omprised a park of es, which might have er to the park board
pkeep. But it was con-ul if $150,000 could be his reason, Mr Bissell, luctance, consented to ic spot for commercial

happened to many of nington avenue houses
be the fate of the home
humorist, which leads ation that before many artment building will knoll overlooking the north branch. This ood there since the early
d into it was built, at
of the author himself, unique personality. That iard room aloft was not athering spot of many red to the philosopher was his workshop. In were written those words
is the heart of youth,
"were $79.00

At $37.

Were $62.50.

At $29.50

Were $49.00.

At $22.50

times. All desirable models.

Hostess at Children's Party.

MRS. RICHARD D. M. BISSELL

What constitutes an annual event or the "youngest set," that is the smallest daughters and sons of Hartford society, is the Christmas tree party which Mr. and Mrs. Richard M. Bissell of Farmington give the afternoon before Christmas each year for their children. Miss Ann Carolyn Bissell, and son, William T. Bissell. For several years these parties have been given. The usual festivities about the elaborately decorated Christmas tree were held and following it the ice cream and other "goodies" were enjoyed.

In fact his home was headquarters of literary people. William Dean Howells and Thomas Bailey Aldrich made it their half-way stop between Boston and New York. Bret Harte came here to collaborate with Mark Twain on plays. Booth, Barrett, Irving, Sheridan and Sherman were other frequent visitors. The Englishmen Henry Drummond and Rudyard Kipling pilgrimaged here especially to visit Clemens. One may imagine those crowded, memorable nights in the smoke-filled billiard room way at the top of the house, with Mark Twain, the vivacious, the dramatic, the ir-

N. G. WHITE PROPERTY SECURED AS SITE FOR THE KINGSWOOD SCHOOL.

Hart Kingswood School Vol 87. 118

$300,000 To Be Spent in Erecting Suitable Buildings

on 15-Acre Tract South of Farmington Avenue

This Side

cessitates

Dec 2

The Kingswood school occupied the Mark Twain Farmington avenue 1917, will move to West option has been secured of land, now owned by lying south of Farmington between Quaker lane and Ice company's property comprises approximately and the plans contemplated there within a year of building and gymnasium for occupancy by June expected that the building $300,000. The Kingswood secured an extension of Twain property from June, 1921.

The trustees and Kingswood school are sell, president of the Insurance company, Louis ident of the Travelers company, Francis R. Cooley, P. Cooley, vice president of the Smyth Manufacturing Melanethon W. Jacob Hartford Theological L. Goodwin, Mrs. James L. Shipman and 1 At a meeting to-night the guarantors will a chase of the White land

The Kingswood school in 1916, with George E. head-master, and has grown steadily in popularity parents of the children There were but six or seven beginning of the school the house at No. 278 nue, between Laurel streets. When Mr. Bis the Mark Twain house the Kingswood school and has grown rapid sixty-eight pupils, with tions from others desired

When the Mark Twain occupied considerable a made in adapting the school. The old bar a gymnasium, and the manual training school. ing room continued as the room, and the library was made the assembly room. Other rooms are used as class rooms. The six masters of the school also have their quarters there. The surrounding grounds are used as playgrounds, but are far too restricted in area.

The school, it is felt, has reached a measure of success where building is imperative in a location with room for healthful outdoor sports and recreation. The general plan is to make of it a country day school. The large building to be erected first has not as yet been planned in detail, but will probably be a simple construction with plenty of mas recess Mrs. E. Campion Acheson of Middletown, will give an old-fashioned Christmas party this evening at Stueck's ballroom in Middletown, in honor of her daughter, Miss Margaret Acheson and her son, Edward Acheson. Music will be furnished by Wittstein's Orchestra from New Haven. Among those from Hartford attending will be Mr. and Mrs. C. Morgan Aldrich of No. 97 Fern street.

(Photos from Vayana Studios)

MISS MARGARET ACHESON Dec 23, 1919

South Windsor, December 23.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter G. Newberry are celebrating the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage this afternoon, at their home on Main street. The rooms are prettily decorated with ferns, potted plants and flowers. Assisting Mr. and Mrs. Newberry in receiving their

CELEBRATE FIFTIETH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

33

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel H. Wells. Recipients of Congratulations.

South Windsor Couple Celebrate Golden Wedding.

MRS. WALTER G. NEWBERRY

WALTER G. NEWBERRY

Daniel H. Wells celebrated his golden wedding anniversary at his home, No. 60 Allen street. Every one of their grandchildren were present last night and helped in the celebration of the event. Mr. and Mrs. Wells were married in Meriden 50 years ago yesterday. Mr. Wells is the third of four brothers to celebrate their golden wedding anniversary.

Mr. Wells was born in New Britain, Conn., on August 19, 1845. He graduated from the Suffield School in 1867 received a mathematical department at the college until 1874, during which time he came to this city to work for the Connecticut Insurance Company as an agent. In 1876, he was made, in charge of the company. In 1881 he became president of the company and retired from active service in 1905.

FLETCHER'S CALL TO GREENFIELD CHURCH

(Special to The Courant)

Suffield, Dec. 22.

Rev. Orville T. Fletcher, who recently resigned as professor of mathematics at the Suffield School, has accepted the call to become pastor of the Park Congregational Church in Springfield, Mass., and preached his first sermon at that church yesterday.

He is a lineal descendant of Robert Fletcher, who settled in Concord, Mass., in 1630. His early life was spent in Binghamton, N. Y., and after graduation from the old academy at Dupont, N. Y., he entered Hamilton College, where he was graduated with the degree of A. B., in 1892, later receiving the degree of A. M. In 1895 he was graduated from Union Theological Seminary in New York City, being elected permanent secretary of his class. After holding pastorates in Albany county, the city of Binghamton and ten years pastorate at Sidney, N. Y., Rev. Mr. Fletcher came to Suffield and became professor of mathematics for one year. It was while he was connected with this school that he became interested in the campaign for the Pilgrim Memorial fund, and was a member of the successful team in the campaign which brought the campaign to such a successful issue. Although $35,000 was assigned as a quota to the churches he visited, he has raised over $40,000. His work has led to his being asked to take charge of the final closing of the Connecticut campaign, which will require most of his time except Sundays until February 1, 1920, for which the Park Congregational Church in Springfield, Mass., has granted him a leave of absence.

Rev. Fletcher is just the type of man the Springfield, Mass., church has been looking for for some time and not only the church but the city of Springfield, Mass., is very fortunate in securing such an able man to take charge of this prosperous church.

Rev. Mr. Fletcher is married and has one daughter.

in Emma, a daughter of Horace and Laura Allen Phelps, and the last survivor of their twelve children. For

FRANCIS G. ECHOLS GOES TO GREENFIELD

Was for Many Years Connected

Francis G. Echols, formerly of the small town of Whitney, Conn., that company in New York, board of directors of the Tap & Die Co., Mass., to fill the resignation of the president of the company. Mr. Echols, Tap & Die Co., as vice-president. His election follows the retiring of H. Payne of H. Payne & Co., elected president and Mr. Echols president and Mr. Echols & Whitney Co. Some years ago Echols was in Russia in the time of his son's death. Several years ago he was at one time employed on "The Courant" as a reporter.

FRANCIS G. ECHOLS.

Captain
Will Editor
gram,
in Mas
by A.
and $1,00

CAPT. R. F. ANDREWS

GUEST OF HONOR

Dec 28 - 1919
Hartford Press Club Entertains Retiring Editor of "Hartford Times."

"TIMES" SIL DINNER, SPEECHES AND VAUDEVILLE

Captain F. of the "Ha the best ki New Engla with the H he has bee years, to b the seven-c which was Captain Roland F. Andrews, editor dore T. Eloh of the "Hartford Times," who has re-Christy, for signed to become managing editor of Captain Arthe "Worcester Telegram" was the about his request of honor last evening at a din-officers of ther given by the Hartford Press Club which pub in the Rose Room of Bond's restaur-not discuss stood that ant, where about seventy newspaper fore the clmen and women gathered to give him Captain a sendoff, the attendance being a in March, record-breaker, according to the re-where he collection of the oldest inhabitant, all ing an editof the local newspapers having re-In 1914 he representative delegations present.

aging edito The paper which Captain Andrews appointed e from Cornels leaving was represented at the din-his first nener by Charles E. Perkins, news edi-"Syracuse tor; Albert I. Prince, city editor; John wards with E. Hill, telegraph editor; Walter M. later was Fernald, state editor; John H. McDera-aging editomott, sporting editor; Everett G. Hill, lean." He editorial writer; Joseph Mullin, John Connecticut A. Beckley, Harold A. Small, Alexan-called into der A. Gardiner, Edward A. Berenson.

"HAR EDI Edwin L. Bowker, James Roche, Julian Seaman, Frank Hayes, Dave Daniels, James O'Neil, Ernest Mills, William Johnson, Stuart R. Allen, Edward C. St. John, foreman of the composing room; Miss Dorothy Schutten-

CAPTAIN ROLAND F. ANDREWS.

helm and Miss Marion Allen. James Welch, advertising man of the "Springfield Republican," formerly of the "Times," was also present. Senator Charles C. Hemenway, president of the club, presided at the dinner and lasted through the after-dinner exercises as toastmaster. Those who were called upon to sum up the career of the guest of honor were Joseph Mullin, Edward C. St. John, John H. McDermott, John G. Beckley and Miss Dorothy Schuttenhelm of the "Times" and William A. Graham, E. H. Gauvreau, Miss Elizabeth A. Flanagan, and H. I. Horton of "The Courant," while there were extemporaneous remarks by a number who were not called upon by anybody but themselves. The speaking might have gone on indefinitely, had not the Rose Room been required for its normal use.

Captain Andrews was greeted by his "fellow craftsmen," as Dr. Talcott Williams would say, rising and cheering when he arose to speak. Only two men had ever arrived safely in the harbor after setting sail on a sea of oratory at a press club dinner, he said. One was Talcott Williams, who got away with it because of his 78 years (although T. W. would make the captain prove the allegation) and the other was William Brady, the theatrical man, who used to manage prizefighters.

Born in Hartford, Captain Andrews said he also got his early schooling in this city and then came back here as soon as he "escaped from college" and struggled through the hard winter of 1900 on the Hartford "Telegram" on $9 a week, which was $4 more than Thomas J. Spellacy got in his palmist days on the same paper. And eight years ago, the captain said, he came back. Now he is being "chased out again," he said, but—

He paid a heart throb tribute to the men and women on the "Times" with whom he had been associated the past eight years, knowing many of their troubles and they knowing many of his trials and tribulations. In fact, Captain Andrews gave credence to a suspicion that he was in the habit occasionally of letting his bright young men and young women know that they had troubles and that he was wont to air them right out loud before everybody else, too. But the captain said that he was mighty glad to have been with them and that he had enjoyed his work with them greatly.

Captain Andrews spoke feelingly of the past eight years, which he had put in as a newspaper man in Hartford, saying that right here in this city are published the best newspapers in the country. The papers here, he said, are well edited and the integrity, intelligence and honesty of the men and women who help get out the newspapers are of the highest kind.

Extremely touched that the newspaper workers on "The Courant" and "Post" should take the time to come to the dinner and come to say goodbye to him, Captain Andrews thanked everybody for their well wishes. He reminded the newspaper workers that he was leaving Hartford for his new job just nineteen years to the day that he first came here from Cornell University to work on the old "Telegram." The new managing editor of the "Worcester Telegram" sat down amidst loud applause and much cheering.

A tribute in verse to Captain Andrews was read by John G. Beckley of the "Times," the author of the lines being William A. Ayres, a member of the editorial staff of that paper. Mr. Ayres was unable to attend the dinner, owing to ill health, but he sent his regrets at not being able to express his feelings in person.

The dinner was enlivened by the appearance of the vaudeville combination which is entertaining the restaurant patrons this week and some of the soloists "sang at" Captain Andrews, to the intense jealousy of other members of the club not singled out for such honors.

H. A. ALLEN HEADS BANK ENTERPRISE

Chosen President of Manchester Home Bank and Trust Company.

Manchester, December 23.

The directors of the Home Bank and Trust company met in the parlors of the Waranoke Inn, Monday evening, when Harry A. Allen of Hartford, was elected president, and James A. Aitken of South Manchester, was elected temporary treasurer.

The directors feel fortunate in being able to launch the bank with the leadership of a man with the banking experience of Mr. Allen. He is vice-president of the City Bank and Trust company, of Hartford, which has built up assets of more than $9,000,000; he is one of the directors of the East Hartford bank, holds a similar position with the Parkville bank, Hartford, and was the consulting official in connection with the launching of a bank in Holyoke, Mass. In addition to being president of the local institution, Mr. Allen is chairman of the committee on location and bank fixtures and the committee which is to engage the permanent treasurer.

James A. Aitken, who will serve as treasurer of the bank, until the organization is perfected and a permanent treasurer is engaged, needs no introduction to Manchester people. He is one of the auditors of the Aetna Fire Insurance company, of Hartford, and he is a member of the board of selectmen and recognized as one of the active town officials.

Following the meeting of the board of directors, Monday evening, the committee on location held a meeting at which it was decided to recommend for a location the south half of the Waranoke Inn building which Edmund A. Rogers, who launched the bank project, bought some time ago with a view to having for the bank. This is due to the adaptability because it is lock which is ple than any Vorkmen will ons on the g and the fix- the earliest

ANTED

J. COWLES
1919

erson of Nor- o the office of e-president of ce Company. l before Mr. t of six heavy that it was a sociated compa- les was chair- The associated ing the stress pensation and ines, munition tra-hazardous en strong cas- by shouldering ied them with r. Cowles was l continued in t a month ago, companies de-

h pleased with as a steady ngratulate him

WALTER G. COWLES.
during the day.

NO OBSERVE 58TH ANNIVERSARY OF WEDDING DAY

Dec 25 - 1919
Mr. and Mrs. Martin T. Rogers of No. 511 Blue Hills avenue will cele-diversary of their home. Flats, Che- December 25, n name was 1909, when his city, Mr. e milk bus- oklyn, N. Y.

KER ON MORNING

features in will be the ed and writ- Pond Parker never been e before, but g service at air will pre- on of Ralph urses are as hem.

IN CHURCH

"Service of Lights" and Christmas Carols by Boy Choir.

Several hundred were present at the "service of lights," held yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock at St. John's Church. The service, which is an annual occurrence at the church, is the most beautiful of the year as the entire church was illuminated only by candle light. Hundreds of candles twinkled in standards at the ends of each pew, while each window-sill was outlined in lights. The chancel and altar were made brilliant by rows of candles and by candelabras and holders each containing heavy church candles.

The audience sat in the pews in the back part of the church and the members of the Church School, led by the boy choir all carrying lighted candles, marched around the church and down the side aisles singing "O, Little Town of Bethlehem," and "Come Hither Ye Faithful." In the eastern transept of the church a miniature stable was erected, which contained a tiny manger, around which were grouped the figures of Mary, Joseph and the shepherds. All were in profile but that of Mary and were draped and painted by Mrs. Joel L. English. The ensemble was especially beautiful and at the base of the platform on which the scene was set, were laid the gifts, which the children brought to be distributed to the inmates of several institutions, including the Newington Home for Crippled Children and the Hartford Hospital.

The service consisted of the singing of several other familiar carols, "Hark, the Herald Angels Sing," "Silent Night, Holy Night," "Once in Royal David's City" and "The First Noel," and a short Christmas talk by the rector, Rev. William T. Hooper. The processional and carols were in charge of the choir-master, Ralph M. Cowley.

The Six PRIESTS OBSERVE SILVER ANNIVERSARY OF THEIR ORDINATION

Yesterday n anniversary o
nell's entrance
olle priesthood
man Catholic which he is t

ORD DA

FATHER SILVER

Hartford Na Newtown Filled A

Rev. George
past nine years
Church of New born in Hartfo celebrated at t

In the evenir
reception in t
was filled to c
Egan of Phillip
Newtown boy,
ers. William was on the pr
but was unab
parishioners g
pursed of $1,000.

Among the p
were Rev. Fat
Elizabeth Brad
Walter, Edward
Miss Minnie Sin
liam Sinnott, M Julia Sinnott.
Miss Theresa Eg
Moore.

Father Sinn
rick's parochial went to Holy C
the college in t
entered St. Mar Baltimore. He
ber 22, 1894, by

Father Sinn
to Danbury, wh months; New Bridgeport, one Torrington, two six years. Fat
Newtown in July
until the presen failing in his du citizen.

At the solem
Father Sinnott
Father Behn of
Rev. Father Mc
sub-deacon; Rev
St. Thomas's S
master of cerem
Egan of Phillip
Father Fox of 1
Rev. Father Moo
were in the sanct
delivered by Rev.
Hartford. At t Genevieve Brown
the "Ave Maria."

Twenty-Five Year Mark in Priesthood Passed by Number of Prominent Hartford Diocese Clergymen

Six priests of the Roman Catholic diocese of Hartford are this week ob serving the silver anniversary of their ordination to the priesthood, the ordinations having taken place De cember 22 and 23, 1894. The six are
Rev. Oliver T. Magnell of St. Joseph's Church, Bristol; Rev. Edward J. Bren nan of St. Margaret's Church, Water bury; Rev. William C. Fitzsimons of St. Joseph's Church, New London;
Rev. Joseph J. McGuire of St. John's Church, Noroton; Rev. William Kier
nan of St. John's Church, Highwood, and Rev. George T. Sinnott of St.
Rose's Church, Newtown.

Rev. Oliver T. Magnell, pastor of St. Joseph's Catholic Church, will ce lebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of his ordination today. He will ob serve the anniversary by the celebra tion of a mass of thanksgiving. Fath er Magnell was given a baske

of roses Sunday afternoon in the rooms of the Knights of Columbus,
where he was called and found 200
members of the Young Ladies' Sodal ity, the Scapular Society and the Rosary Society gathered. The young ladies had prepared an interesting program, which included an address by Rev. William Kearney and a re sponse by Father Magnell.

Rev. Edward J. Brennan was born in New Haven in 1866 and was edu cated in the public schools of that city and attended St. Charles's Col lege in Maryland and St. Mary's Sem inary at Baltimore, Md. He was or dained to the priesthood at the Balti more Cathedral by Cardinal Gibbons, December 22, 1894, and his first ap pointment was to Torrington, where he served as curate.

In 1901 he was appointed chaplain
in the United States Navy by Presi

REV. OLIVER T. MAGNELL

add much to winter land
the fabric of dreams. Hear ices, iced woofs and chiton
and new slip-over styles.
vance spring modes in new Much too lovely for that that never were imagined a me—or superfluous. There magine any woman finding

CHRISTMAS MASS

TO BE CELEBRATED

More than 1,200 Needy Children Travelers Beacon Shines To-Night Christmas Presents

DECEMBER 24, 1919.

3, WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER

O HARTFORD.

BER 28, 1919.

LDING ISTMAS EXERCISES

possess $4 and $5 shoes but for which
e received more than $3.50.
0 of Hartford's neediest children will good shoes at that! Isn't this fact alone son who gave to The Times Santa Claus

her money has gone where it was most Times views it, was where it was in-us? A really, truly Santa Claus? The is a compelling answer in the affirma-

art that prompts giving, and the splen-
d people to this opportunity to aid the Christmas spirit—the spirit of loving lls deep in the hearts of all of us.

WHERE
THE BEACON
WILL SHINE

he Travelers beacon will shine from top of the tower to-night from 8 11 for the first time except for the
-minute trial test of a few weeks
The lights will not be turned on ularly o nights for a while yet, bese of the demands on conservation power and fuel.
here are eight 440-watt projectors
each side of the tower, the light from ch is directed straight out through rows of beacon windows; and eight watt projectors, the light from each pair of which is directed through the windows set across the corners. The lights are not to be switched on all at once, but in succession, owing to the great amount of electrical energy required, so that from the outside spectators will see the light shoot out to form gradually a brilliant band encircling the tower's top.

The beacon was given a five-minute
trial a few weeks ago, and the light was seen from one point twenty-two miles away.

Dec 24 Bourn-Amidon. 1919

Miss Edna May Amidon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Amidon of No. 69 Rowe avenue, and William Stannis Bourn, jr., of No. 430 Prospect avenue, were married Wednesday afternoon at Grace Episcopal Church by Rev. Robert E. Marshall, curate of Trinity Church, assisted by Rev. E. J. K. Alexander, rector of Grace Episcopal Church. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Edith R. Amidon, as maid of honor, and Weltha Scoville was flower girl. Howard W. Amidon, brother of the bride, was best man, and Benjamin A. Bourn and Donald Bourn, brothers of the bridegroom, were ushers. The bride wore a dress of white satin and her veil was caught with orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white bride roses. The maid of honor wore a dress of coral colored georgette crepe and carried a bouquet of salmon colored roses. The flower girl wore a dress of white lace and carried a basket of pink and white roses. Following the ceremony a reception

LIEUT. DISHER WEDS MISS ELSIE CHENEY

Ceremony Takes Place at Home of the Bride on Oak Hill—To Start for Philippines Soon.

Special to The Times.

Manchester, December 29.

Miss Elsie D. Cheney, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Cheney, sr., and Lieutenant Hilley P. Disher were married at the home of the bride on Oak hill this afternoon. The Rev. Dr. Charles E. Hesselgrave, pastor of the Center Congregational church, performed the ceremony which was witnessed by only immediate relatives. Mrs. Ira Smith Avery, of Groton, was matron of honor and her two little daughters were flower girls. R. O. Cheney, jr., brother of the bride, was best man.

The ceremony took place in the drawing room which was decorated with white roses and gold ribbon. The color scheme in the dining room was pink. The bride wore a gown of turquoise blue Georgette with a hat of turquoise blue and carried a shower bouquet of Mrs. Aaron Ward roses. The matron of honor wore orchid color Georgette and the flower girls were dressed in corn color Georgette. Following the service there was a reception. Lieutenant and Mrs. Disher will leave at once for the Philippines where Lieutenant Disher has been ordered. The bride is one of the best known young women in Manchester and has a wide acquaintance socially in Hartford.

Miss Laura Cheney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howell Cheney of South Manchester, Miss Eleanor Perkins of Greenwich, Miss Helen Cumming of New York, Elliot Cabot, Vinton Chapin, John Codman and James Lee, all of Boston, were the house guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Richardson of Providence, R. I., for the dance given on Friday evening for their daughter, Miss Elizabeth I. Richardson, at the Agawam Hunt. Preceding the dance, a dinner for sixty guests were given at the club by Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Taft. Miss Cheney was the week-end guest of Miss Katherine J. Dodge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Dodge of Boston, her roommate at Vassar college. At a tea given Monday afternoon, at which time, Miss Dodge made her debut, Miss Cheney was among those assisting.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Langdon Chandler yesterday celebrated on Monday their golden wedding anniversary at their home in Claremont, N. H., where they have lived for the past sixteen years. Mrs. Chandler before her marriage was Anne August McKinstry. They were married at Springfield on December 29, 1869, by the Rt. Rev. Henry W. Warren, uncle of the bridegroom. Mr. Chandler for many years was a successful merchant at Charlestown and later at Bridgton, Me., was prominent in the business, educational and political life of the town and county democratic committee in several campaigns. M. H. Chandler is a graduate of Mt. Holyoke college and of the New England Conservatory of Music, Boston. They have one son, the Rev. B. C. Chandler, who was born in 1878 at Fryeburg, Me., in the boyhood home of his father, and who now is rector of St. Andrew's church, and also principal of the High school at Kent, this state.

Dec 29
Myron Katten, son of Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Katten of Beverly road, West Hartford, and Miss Florence G. Kahn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Kahn of New Haven, were married Monday evening at 6 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, the ceremony being performed by the Rev. Louis L. Mann, who used the single ring service. The bride was attended by Mrs. Leopold Schoenberger as matron of honor and the best man was Berthold Katten, brother of the bridegroom, who was graduated from Yale university in June. The bride wore her mother's wedding dress, ivory satin, trimmed with duchess and point lace. Her veil was fashioned in coronet style, fastened with orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley and white sweet peas. Her attendant was dressed in orchid and gold brocade satin and carried orchid-colored sweet peas. Directly after the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Katten left for an extended wedding trip through the south, the bride wearing a suit of dark brown, with a hat and furs to match. After February 15, Mr. and Mrs. Katten will be at home in the Jewell Court apartments, No. 206 Farmington avenue. The bridegroom is a member of the firm of A. Katten & Son of this city.

Dec Taber-MacDermid. 31

Miss Mary Wallace MacDermid, daughter of Thomas MacDermid of No. 258 Washington street, and Earle Malcolm Taber, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Taber of No. 128 Baltimore street, were married yesterday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock at the South Congregational Church. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Warren S. Archibald, pastor of the church. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was unattended and wore a suit of duvetyne trimmed with beaver and a hat to match. She carried an arm bouquet of sweetpeas and gardenias. Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Taber left on a wedding trip to Florida and Cuba and on their return will live at No. 404 Farmington avenue. Mr. Taber is connected with Russell P. Taber, Inc., of this city.

Dec Cowles-Gates. 31

Miss Georgette Gates, daughter of Mrs. Georgette Gates of No. 185 South street, and Truman D. Cowles of No. 375 Wethersfield avenue were married yesterday morning at St. Augustine's Church, by Rev. Michael W. Barry. Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's mother. Mr. and Mrs. Cowles left for a wedding trip and will live in West Hartford on their return.

A daughter, Barbara Cowles, was born Monday to Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Cowles of White street. Mrs. Cowles was formerly Miss Georgette Gates.

A daughter, Joan Katten, was born Saturday morning at the Niles Street Hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Myron Katten of No. 35 Beverly road, West Hartford. Mrs. Katten was formerly Miss Florence Kahn of New Haven.

MONDAY, JULY 24, 1922

A son, Earle Malcolm Taber, jr., was born Sunday to Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Taber of 258 North Oxford street. Previous to her marriage Mrs. Taber was Miss Mary W. MacDermid of Washington street.

JANUARY 19, 1921.

6042
1921

Washington, Dec. 30.—Completing three months of service in Washington as British ambassador to the United States, Viscount Edward Grey left tonight for New York whence he will sail Saturday on the Aquitania for Liverpool. On reaching London

Miss Jeanne Faire Spencer of Boston and John Merwin Wright, formerly of New Haven, were married Tuesday, December 30, at the home of the bride's parents. The bride was attended by five former classmates at Smith College and the

Miss Margaretta Symons' Marriage to Professor Van Winkle of Yale Proves a Gay and Fashionable Event.

BY MARGARET WADE.

Special to The Times. Dec 30 1919

Washington, January 5.

Rare old lace, the richest of modern satin, traditions of one hundred years and the last word from Dame Fashion in the matter of line, combined to make an absolutely perfect gown for Miss Margaretta Pemberton Symons when she became Mrs. Cortland Van Winkle on Tuesday.

The scene of the ceremony was St. Matthews church, the time 11:30, the fashionable noon hour being advanced to admit of the full ritual of the Roman Catholic church. A purple robed monsignor performed the ceremony and a priest in vestments of gold cloth read the nuptial mass which followed. The marble altar, with many burning tapers, fragrant in brides roses with a background of Christmas greens, holding the spirit of the season, all contributed to a ceremony of unusual beauty and solemnity.

Not only the stately young bride, famous from her debut as one of the best gowned girls of capital society, but her five attendants and the majority of guests, representing society of many cities, were splendid examples of mid-winter modes and the changing silhouette.

The wedding gown started out on severe straight lines, with regulation court train, cut with deep V back, and square front bodice, the latter showing a curved waist line. The gown was evidently built with underbodice of tulle, as the back appeared light and airy, but not transparent, and in some clever way produced a collar of chiffon to fall across the shoulders in the back. Chiffon also formed the flowing elbow sleeves. The skirt, which came to the ankles, fitted smoothly, but received a suggestion of drapery from a superb piece of point lace, evidently scarf shape, which crossed the front girdle fashion to fall in ripples down each side and be held at the bottom of the skirt by tiny clusters of orange blossoms.

The square neck was also finished in a band of old point. The veil was of tulle and to the end of the train. Neither the bride nor her attendants wore gloves.

The maid of honor wore changeable taffeta in blue and pale gold; the additional maids, apricot taffeta, also showing metallic variation. These gowns were identical as to model with rather full but closely draped skirts of ankle length, showing a modified pannier at one side, while in the back the drapery became a panel train, held at the waist line by a large full bow, without ends, all of the taffeta. The tops were made with semi-fitting straight back and square neck over lace underbodies, with elbow sleeves of lace, interlined in cream chiffon. All wore large round velvet hats, the maid of honor, Miss Louise Robinson of Pittsburgh, having hers of black, the others wearing taupe, each trimmed only in a well poised cluster of ostrich.

Miss Letty Robinson and Miss Margaret Burgwin, also of Pittsburgh, Miss Amy Logan of New York city, and Miss

Margaret Hubbard of Yonkers, completed this attractive group of maids. Two black velvet evening dresses, included in this trousseau, are particularly smart and on individual lines. One with a train has a slightly draped skirt, with the bodice sleeveless as regards the velvet, but with kimono sleeves to the elbow of exquisite lace, showing several varieties, put together in odd quaint motifs now the vogue. The second black velvet gown, which by a less dignified owner might be considered an afternoon gown, has a round skirt, a square necked bodice draped in Honiton lace, which forms a long collar to the waistline, with short sleeves banded in ermine.

A dinner gown that won the admiration or excited the envy of her friends, worn just prior to the wedding day, is of putty colored satin, with pointed drapery and pointed train, with long lines of crystal beads crossing the shoulders, to be finished back and front in odd ornaments and tassels of coral and crystal.

Mrs. Symons, the bride's mother, wore for the wedding a gown of blue satin quite as smart as any of the trousseau frocks, illustrating the same high key in fashion. The color, for instance, was the newest tone of French blue, easily mistaken for the familiar Allice blue until placed near that once popular tone. The material was a soft drapable satin, with a bodice opening over a cream lace waistcoat, with elbow sleeves of the satin, finished in a real old time frill of lace. Mrs. Symons topped this with a round black hat entirely of ostrich. Mr. Van Winkle who is a professor at Yale will take his bride to New Haven after a short honeymoon.

JACOBS 25 YEARS

WITH CITY BANK

Present Cashier Entered Its Service in 1895—Growth of Institution.

Alfred W. Jacobs, cashier of the City Bank & Trust Company, will celebrate his twenty-fifth anniversary with that institution, formerly the City Bank, on January 1. At the last meeting, the directors of the bank voted to present $500 to Mr. Jacobs as a tribute to his services for the past quarter of a century. Mr. Jacobs during his term of service has seen the deposits of the bank grow from $1,000,000 to more than $8,500,000.

After five years as a clerk and messenger for the Connecticut River Banking Company, Mr. Jacobs entered the employ of the City Bank as discount clerk in 1895. In 1907 he was elected assistant cashier and was chosen cashier August 1, 1916. Since that time he has been cashier of the bank and his services cover the period of greatest prosperity for the bank.

At the start of his employment the bank was located on the second floor of the old Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company's building. From there the bank moved to the south corner of Asylum and Main streets, where it remained until 1915. In that year it moved to its recent quarters, at the corner of Asylum and Trumbull streets. When Mr. Jacobs started with the bank there were eleven employees, while now there are forty-four.

Phillips, reception and Mrs. trip. They ass. Mrs. a canteen s also over-department graduate of practicing

19
BANK

Governor's New Year's Greeting

To the People of the State of Connecticut:—

In the closing moments of 1919 I can only say to you that I wish for you all of earth's blessings for the coming year and that you may be as faithful to the traditions of Connecticut in 1920 as you have been in all the years that have gone before, doing your duty as you see it and meeting all emergencies with fortitude—the fortitude which is yours by inheritance. May God be with you and our beloved state in the year to come.

M. H. HOLCOMB.

TRAVELERS TOWER BLAZES GREETING AT MIDNIGHT

1920

New Year's Welcome from on High—Noise Less Than Usual.

Hundreds turned out to welcome the New Year last evening. At the stroke of midnight the beacon on top of Travelers Insurance Company flashed a greeting to 1920, was followed by the blowing of whistles and the pealing of chimes in several churches. A church which was small compared to those of past New Year's eves, in the center of the city, added to the general din by sounding other noise-making instruments in the evening, while the municipal Christmas tree

KINSELLA OPTIMISTIC IN NEW YEAR GREETING.

Sees Prosperous Times Ahead With Factories and Wholesale and Retail Merchants Business—Believes Prices Will Level.

Jan 1, 1920

In a statement issued to-day, Mayor Kinsella declared that he is very optimistic about the business outlook for the city in the coming year, and extends a Happy New Year to the people of this city.

The statement follows:

"I am very optimistic about the business outlook for the city of Hartford for the coming year. I understand our factories are crowded with work, and that our wholesale and retail merchants are rushed with business.

"We are still going through a period of readjustment. Private construction continues at top speed; factory expansion planned for the coming year is very encouraging; wages have advanced, and it is reasonable cost of cost of level in the

"Our sively th dition; c ing a la any time

"If th merce an lem will business h

"I exte Hartford very hap peace, pr

AS 1919 GOES OUT

As the Old Year goes out it leaves the mark and the memory of the epochal in the life of the Nation

(1) The death of Roosevelt and the demonstration of the deathliness and inspiration of his immortality

(2) The birth of the American Legion. Its members saved America in their leadership in peace will produce multiply the fruits of victory.

(3) The blocking by the Senate of the attempt to overthrow the government, the Constitution of the United States to supplant it by the supergovernment of a League of Nations

In the spirit of Roosevelt and the leadership of the Legion and the Constitution and that "America first" which Washington envisioned Roosevelt incarnated, America enters the New Year full of hope and promise.

Skilled Shoppers Execute
All
Mail and Telephone Orders

Most Remarkable

Gingham

This
for little tots,
all well-made

No
The

WICKHAM CONTRACT IS NOW COMPLETED

AUGUST 19, 1921.
Memorial Clock Meets Requirements, After Two Years' Tests.

The clock in the tower of the old City Hall, given to the city of Hartford two years ago by Captain Clarence Horace Wickham of Manchester, as a memorial to his father, Horace John Wickham, has now qualified under the contract with the makers, the Seth Thomas Clock Co., and yesterday Captain Wickham completed his part of the contract by sending a check in payment for the clock to the New York headquarters of the company. It is his intention, he said yesterday, to provide, by endowment for the perpetual care of the memorial clock.

The offer of the clock for the old Bulfinch building, which has served as Statehouse since 1878, was made by Captain Wickham, U. S. Senator from Connecticut, at the head of the restoration of the building.

By agreement with the city, the clock was to be in actual use in thirty days after it was tested. After a test of two years, the clock is found to be in perfect condition. The clock is a fine example of the art of clock making and is a valuable addition to the city's history.

USE CLOCK
DONOR
PAYMENT

McAll Tribute to Mrs. Wickham

MRS. C. H. WICKHAM HONORED IN HER FORMER HOME CITY

Greeted By Thousands At "McGraft Park Day" In Muskegon.

Aug. 25, 1920

Business was suspended last Thursday in Muskegon, Mich., when 20,000 men, women and children, representing every walk of life, united in observing "McGraft Park Day" and honoring Mrs. Clarence H. Wickham of Manchester, who is now in the Michigan city, of which her father, the late Newcomb McGraft, was formerly mayor and in whose memory McGraft Park was given to the city of Muskegon. Mrs. Wickham suggested having a "McGraft Park Day," to arouse public interest in the development and beautifying of the park.

On this occasion of the temporary suspension of every activity but social practically every organization of the city, including the city commission of Muskegon, the city council of Muskegon Heights, the city council of North Muskegon, the Lakeside Board of Trade, the Muskegon Chamber of Commerce, the Rotary Club, the Kiwanis Club, the Exchange Club and the Woman's Club, united in making it one of the greatest civic events in the history of Muskegon.

The exercises opened with a reception for Mrs. Wickham, given by the city commission of Muskegon, city councils of Muskegon Heights and North Muskegon, boards of trade, civic societies and the courtesy committee appointed for the celebration. Mrs. Wickham acknowledged the ovation which she received, speaking briefly in appreciation, thanking those who had come to the park for their presence, and urging them to "keep on coming" and to get the greatest possible use out of it and help develop it.

"It was long the dream and wish of my father," Mrs. Wickham continued, "to have this place developed into a beautiful park and playground for the people of Muskegon and in this wonderful demonstrations of interest today I really believe I can see a dream coming true."

Mayor Paul R. Beardsley of Muskegon expressed his belief that the city would be able to provide some money for the park's development during 1921, while William E. Hunter, president of the Lakeside Board of Trade, said that is the plan of that organization to continue active development of McGraft Park and that the people of the city will be called on often for assistance in carrying out this big civic undertaking. Other officers of industrial and civic organizations assured Mrs. Wickham and the assembly that the park would be well cared for.

Mrs. Wickham threw the first ball in a baseball game and watched the athletic contests with keen interest. To the winners and the contestants of the events she awarded prizes totaling 600. A band concert and the staging of tableaux illustrating Muskegon's history were other features of the day's program.

H. Wickham of Hartford said by Mrs. Wickham held follows: this time as to Mrs. Wickham, and to appreciate this day by. would say: the McAll of glad-story. To dress—sad—not feel melody is e. we bring attitude that serve under ception has time have realized our titude, our oring Mrs. Clarence H. Wickham ofe past and Manchester, who is now in the Michi know. We ure by our he new of ur prayers, ave roped for may be you serve d well. To d in these l, our grat- ayers, dear after five head of the attended, the nches, but were served 1923.

TELL
M'S GIFT

y the public bronze tab- the tower e house by in memory laced in posi- wall of the ric building. as follows: memory of 1836-1914, by e Wickham, nd replace- ndowment."

PLAYS AND PLAYERS WHO

FAMOUS ACTORS AND MUSICIANS
AT OPERA HOUSE.

Henry Roberts Brought Many Celebrities to His Theater During Its First Year—Theater Used 144 Nights and Receipts Totaled $56,512.25 Clara Louise Kellogg Brought Largest Returns.

BY BILLIE S. GARVIE.

With the popularity of the present day picture, vaudeville and dramatic theaters, where the amusement-loving public can see a "show" any afternoon or evening, it may be of interest to recall the players and plays that entertained Hartford fifty years ago.

On January 20, 1869, Henry Roberts opened Roberts's Opera house, which was considered one of the most beautiful theaters in the country. It put Hartford on the theatrical map and gave it the name of a good show town. Simmons and Lowell were the managers, and George Pearson the orchestra leader. All the great dramatic, operatic and minstrel stars came there in 1869, and a review of them is interesting to-day—half a century since.

John E. Owens, probably the greatest comedian of his time, opened the house in a double bill, "Victims" and "Solon Shingle." His great character of Solon Shingle, a country lawyer, was a wonderful part. Charles Dickens said of him, that "he had never witnessed a more complete expression of humor and character."

Edwin Booth.

Among the stage celebrities that came here in 1869, was Edwin Booth in "Hamlet," on November 17, when a capacity house greeted him. A local paper said: "Booth's 'Hamlet' is the perfection of acting, his conception of character challenging comparison. He never appeared to better advantage." Admission prices were $1.50, $1 and 50 cents.

Kate Fisher and her trained horse, Wonder, also starred in "Mazeppa, or the Wild Horse of Tartary."

On February 3, Edwin Forrest played his famous character part of Metamora, in the Indian tragedy of "Metamora or the Last of the Wampanoags." Miss Lillie played Nameokee in the play and Miss Flora Meyers was Oceana. Forrest was the only actor that could play Metamora, and was at his best in the part. He also played in "Jack Cade" in February 4.

"Uncle Tom's Cabin" was popular then, as later, with Mrs. G. C. Howard in her original character of Topsy, and Charley Foster played Uncle Tom. The old play is still on the road, after sixty years, making an unusual record.

Mr. and Mrs. Barney Williams were big favorites in the Irish drama, "The Emerald Ring," written for them by John Brougham. Barney had started out as a negro minstrel under his own name of Bernard O'Flaherty, but met big." His famous "Captain Jinks of the Horse Marines" will be recalled as a popular song.

Days of Humpty Dumpty.

Hartford first saw George L. Fox in his original character of Humpty Dumpty, in the pantomime of the same name, in December. He gained fame as a leading pantomimist, which he retained for years. The famous Kiralfy troupe of dancers was also with this production.

F. S. Chanfrau, famous in later years in "Kit, the Arkansas Traveler," was seen in the comedy "Sam." John Brougham appeared as Terry the Swell, in "The Lottery of Life," which gave this great actor a chance to show his talent. He had a long record on the stage and was a big favorite here.

Others playing here that year were Lester Wallack and a strong company, which played a double bill with "Captain of the Watch" and "Woodcock's Little Game"; Laura Keane, who starred in "Hunted Down"; Boucicault's famous drama, "Formosa or the Road to Ruin," which was a big hit.

Mrs. Siddons.

Mrs. Scott Siddons, the famous English dramatic star, was seen at Roberts's Opera house in Augustus Daly's version of the Parisian sensation, "Frou-Frou," Walter Gusdale being her leading man. Mrs. Siddons also played Rosalind in "As You Like It," Shakespeare's parts being his specialty.

"The Black Crook" in all its glory, special scenery, ballet dancing, pantomime and tableau, was a big production in those days. It was the talk of the country and drew big crowds. Sig. Constantine, Mlle. Marie Ravel, Kitty Blanchard, Eveline Leham, Ravel family were in the cast.

"Rosedale" with J. B. Polk, Kate Ranoe, C. Fisher and a big cast, was another hit. E. L. Davenport, a dramatic star for many years, was at his best in "Enoch Arden." Mr. and Mrs. Davenport were also favorites in the early 60's at Allyn hall and played at Roberts's in 1869.

Lotta Crabtree.

Lotta (Charlotta Crabtree), just then starting as a star, played a protean part of six characters in "The Female Detective, or Woman's Curiosity," "Handsome" Dan Maginnus, H. S. Murdock and Miss Goldthwaite were in the same cast.

"Camille, or the Life of a Coquette," was played on March 25 with Agnes Ethel in the star role. J. H. Selwyn's company, also played the four-act com-

ROSE HERSELL
English Grand Opera

ENTERTAINED HARTFORD FI

CHARLOTTA CRABTREE (LOTTA)
In "The Little Detective."

MARY F. SCOTT-SIDDONS
"Queen of Tragedy"

around the twenty-four hours of the day?

With Robert Simpson winning the next Olympic games at Antwerp, owing to his adoption of coaching as a profession, there is a possibility of some other nation springing a surprise in the hurdle races by defeating the United States entrants. Simpson is the A. A. U. champion and also won international fame by taking the premier honors from Fred Kelly at the inter-allied games at Paris. Kelly, winner of the 1912 Olympic hurdle, is a veteran with nearly ten years of active senior competition behind him, and there are grave doubts if he will be fast enough to win the title at Antwerp next July. The inter-allied games found Kelly beaten only by inches by Simpson in 15 1-5 seconds, but it was the third man in that race who now looks like a logical surprise package for next year. His name is L. Wilson of New Zealand, and he third in 15 3-5, beating Ames of the United States, was one of the surprises of the inter-allied contests. It was at these games that Wilson, who has natural speed, studied American methods and spent hours every day in the gymnasium, Charles Mayo can't say.

JIMMY KELLY.

many clubs are in the
The opinion is that too much is ded from the center-forward in the teams in which the conclusion
seem to have come to the score
that the only man who ought to score goals is the leader of the attack. Those teams, however, are really asking for failure, for if one man is relied upon
for the great proportion of the goals,
you can rest assured that the center-forward is so well watched that he will not have the chance to perform the task allotted upon him by his colleagues.

I think managers generally—and spectators too—will have to learn to expect a little less of the center-forward, and if they learn to be then they will be more likely to be satisfied with the display of a player who has a very different position to fill.

1919
Jitneys and trolleys ply their trade side by side down Main street. What does the jitney offer in the way of systematic, sustained service throughout the twenty-four hours of the day?

YEARS AGO.

EDWIN THOMAS BOOTH
Dramatic Star

CARLOTTA PATTI
Opera Star
Oldest Sister of Adelina Patti

heater was used 144 nights that d the total receipts were $56,-
The French opera company 720; Edwin Booth, $3,911 for nts, and Maggie Mitchell $1,428 nights. The largest concert were from the appearance of onise Kellogg, $1,251.50. Morris instrels, netted $812.
Following program is interesting
s's Opera House, Oct. 6, 1869.
Miss Maggie Mitchell,
d by a Complete First-Class Company!
appearance of Mr. E. F. Thorne.
The Beautiful Play of
"The Pearl of Savoy!"
.....Miss Maggie Mitchell

Arthur .....	E. F. Thorne
Lonstalot .....	W. H. Collins
Commander .....	N. D. Jones
Pierrot .....	James Duff
Father Lesurges .....	George Laclies
Jacquet .....	Harry Melmer
Larouque .....	T. H. Plummer
Charlot .....	E. Webster
Francois .....	E. J. Mass
Antoine .....	D. Hammond
La Fleur .....	Frank Doud
Duke d'Elbie .....	C. H. Smith
Conchon .....	Miss Mollie Newton
Margart .....	Mrs. H. P. Gratton
Marchioness .....	Mrs. M. A. Monell
Panchette .....	Miss Clara Seabrook
Susette .....	Miss Fannie Melmer
Annette .....	Miss Emma Bell
M'lee d'Elbie .....	Miss Lillie Bennett
The Supreme Favorite; and Pearl of the	American Stage.

Assistant to President Storrs Returns to Newspaper Work.

SUCCESSOR NAMED TO R. F. ANDREWS.

Will Be Editorial Writer— 17 Years on "Springfield Union."

John W. Colton of New Haven, executive assistant to President Lucius S. Storrs of the Connecticut Company and a former newspaper man, will retire soon from his place with the public service corporation to become an editorial writer on the "Hartford Times," having been selected to fill a vacancy on the staff of that paper, caused by the recent resignation of Captain Roland F. Andrews, its editor, to become managing editor of the "Worcester Telegram."

Mr. Colton is far from a stranger to Connecticut newspaper offices, which had quite extensive dealings with him as a representative of the headquarters of the trolley company two months ago, when the zone fare system was about to go into operation and Mr. Colton was called upon to explain its mysteries, in order that the newspapers, in turn, might tell the public what they could do for 6 cents, 8 cents and other sums of money.

The new editorial writer of the "Times" has had long experience in newspaper work, chiefly on the "Springfield Union," where he is remembered as having held about all the jobs except that of sporting editor. He left the "Union" about a year and a half ago to become assistant to President Storrs.

Mr. Colton was born in Springfield about forty-five years ago and, with the exception of a few years on the "Boston American," and a short time on the "Providence Journal," all his newspaper work was with the "Springfield Union." He joined the "Union" staff in 1901 and, during the seventeen years with that paper, was a reporter, rewrite man, suburban editor, city editor, telegraph editor, Sunday editor, night editor, news editor and editorial writer and for a time was assistant managing editor. While with the "Boston American" he was a rewrite man and special writer.

Jan 1 1920
Mr. and Mrs. Richard M. Bissell of Farmington gave a large fancy dress dance Thursday evening at the Country Club in Farmington in honor of their daughter, Miss Ann-Carolyn Bissell, and their son, William T. Bissell. About 140 guests were present and the decorations were of a Christmas nature. Music was furnished by Pitblado's Orchestra of this city. Mr. and Mrs. Bissell entertained a house-party of guests for the dance, including Miss Sarah Sage, Miss Lee Dodge, Miss Alnie B. Auchumcoff, Stuart Stone, James Lusk, all of New York; Standish Bradford and Richard Norris of Boston; Woodbridge Bingham of New Haven, and their nephew, Arthur Bissell of Chicago, Ill.

DR. REEKS RESIGNS AS HEALTH OFFICER

Will Devote Time to De- velopment of New Britain General Hospital.

Jan 3, 1920
Dr. T. Eben Reeks, deputy state commissioner of health, and director of the bureau of preventable diseases in Connecticut, presented his resignation yesterday. The resignation which is to take effect February 1, will be acted upon by the public health council at its next meeting. Dr. Reeks gave as his reason for the resignation a desire to devote more time to interests in New Britain, the chief of which is the New Britain General Hospital.

Dr. Reeks has been with the state health department since it was reorganized by legislative act, following the death of State Health Officer Joseph H. Townsend.

Dr. Reeks has been chairman of the executive committee of the New Britain General Hospital, and it is this place that will take the greater part of his time from now on. He said yesterday that there is much work to be done for the institution at the present time; new buildings are needed, and many needed improvements must come.

"This is merely a new field of development of public health work," Dr. Reeks said by way of explanation. "I am simply trying out in another branch of the same work in which I have been engaged."

Several days ago the health board of New Britain offered Dr. Reeks the place of health officer of that city. He declined the offer, and made it clear yesterday that he was not quitting the state service to accept the New Britain appointment. He was formerly superintendent of the New Britain health department, and was later appointed a member of the board, being reappointed by Mayor George A. Quigley on April 19, 1918, to serve again for a three-year term. An effort was made, shortly after his reappointment, to have him act as chairman of the New Britain body, but he declined.

It was due to Dr. Reeks that the weekly bulletins which are issued to the public health officials throughout the state were issued. In appreciation of his services while in the state employ his salary has been raised several times until at the present it is $4,000 a year.

WINS CASE AGAINST GRAPHIC

Miss Gladys Deacon Gets Verdict for Crown Prince Libel

London, March 18—Miss Gladys Deacon of Boston, sister of Princess Dadziwill, was awarded a verdict of £500 and costs against the Daily Graphic in court here to-day as damages for the publication of a libelous article by the newspaper on January 1. It appeared during the trial of the case in the lord chief justice's court that the article complained of had asserted Miss Deacon was "banished from Germany where her name was frequently coupled with that of the crown prince."

The owners of the Daily Graphic have apologized to Miss Deacon and made a formal statement that there was absolutely no foundation for the article. Miss Deacon's counsel declares the only time she ever met the German crown prince was while she was staying at Blenheim with the duchess of Marlborough.

CELEBRATE DOUBLE GOLDEN WEDDING

Mr and Mrs Henry I. Carver and Mr and Mrs James M. White of Ludlow Are Remembered

SILVER LOVING CUPS GIVEN BY FRIENDS

Venerable Couples Surrounded by Children and Grandchildren on Happy Occasion—All Four Are Still Active and Enjoy Good Health

Ludlow, Jan. 3.—An unusual event was celebrated at the home of Mr and Mrs Howard M. White on West street
this afternoon, when the parents of Mrs White, Mr and Mrs Henry I.
Carver, and the parents of Mr White,
Mr and Mrs James M. White, both celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary. The anniversary plans were made very quietly and both couples were much surprised when they were invited to spend the afternoon with Mr and Mrs White to find

H. I. CARVER

Who Observed Golden Wedding Yesterday

January 3, 1870, by Rev L. C. Cush-
man. The children of this union are

MR AND MRS J. M. WHITE

Who Yesterday Observed Their 50th Anniversary

of Jonas Pike and Eunice Prince.
He is a member of the First Congregational church, but was not identified with any of the social work of the community on account of the numerous home duties. Mr and Mrs
White were married January 3, 1870.
Rev C. L. Cushman, who was past
of the church from 1866 to 1870.

The children of this union were Howard Montgomery White, R. Samuel White and Josephine Eunice Miller, wife of Raymond E. Miller.

Henry Ingalls Carver was born in Ludlow December 27, 1841, son of Derrick Obadiah Carver and Clarissa Ingalls. Mr Carver traces his ancestry back to John Carver, who came over in the Mayflower. All who Carver would be nearly 80.

fact that he
and when his day at his factory he
to devote of serv-
has been things and
and at a po-
big potatoes
back from field. Per-has brought his butter
as patented
in through-its manu-
the name
r Carver is
vings bank,
prepare the active mem-
to improve
of the Good

was born in daughter of Artha Loom-
er of the church. She Carver January 3, 1870, by Rev L. C. Cush-
man. The children of this union are

member of the n. wife of Adams, wife
Worcester,
ne.
this after-
received
house was nd golden-
ed to har-
n. Robert linist, and played the wedding
White and the recep-
were preps suitably ere served
the grandnily, 15 in Carver fam-
g. "Put on The fol-
ed by Mrs
and spoken
te, one of

exclusive styles that bears a combin

L. J. POWERS ENTERTAINS
Springfield Jan 3
Dancing Party for College Friends
Given at Pearl-Street Home

Lewis J. Powers entertained a number of friends at an informal dancing party given at his home on Pearl street last evening. Gatchell's orchestra furnished music for the dancing, which was enjoyed by 15 couples. Mr Powers has just returned from New York city, where he attended the dinner dance given by Mr and Mrs Matland Griggs of East 70th street in honor of their daughter, Miss Dorothy Matland Lee Griggs, whose engagement was announced to Francis King Murray, son of Prof and Mrs Augustus Murray of Palo Alto, Cal. Mr Murray has recently returned from France, and is a brother of Lindley Murray, the national tennis champion of 1918. Mr Powers has been spending the Christmas recess with his parents and will return to Massachusetts institute of technology Monday to resume his studies.

LONGMEADOW 3

Longmeadow, Jan. 2--Mr and Mrs Oliver A. Bliss of 1087 Longmeadow street will observe their golden wedding to-morrow (Saturday). On account of the poor health of Mrs Bliss the celebration will be much more simple than at first anticipated. They will keep open house for friends and neighbors who would like to call, from 2 until 4 o'clock, and relatives from Hartford and Monson will remain for supper. Mr and Mrs Bliss were married in Staffordville, Ct., January 3, 1869, and went at once to live in Monson. The marriage had a touch of romance for a terrific storm and floods prevented the bridegroom from

MR. AND MRS. MATTHEW J. DUFFY. Jan 3
Will Celebrate Their Golden Wedding Anniversary on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Matthew J. Duffy, of No. 1 Hawthorne street, will observe their wedding anniversary on Saturday. Mrs. Duffy's nephew, the Rev. and L. Morrison of Taugatuck, will celebrate an anniversary high mass at Joseph's cathedral at 8:30 o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. Duffy will receive at home from 2 to 5 and 7 to 10 p. Mrs. Duffy, who was formerly Miss Jane Morrison, was born in Amenia, N. Y., and Mr. Duffy was born in Donegal, Ireland. They were married on January 3, 1870, by the Rev. Joseph Tandy. They have one daughter, Miss Mary J. T. Duffy. For more than twenty-five years, Mr. Duffy was employed by the Pratt & Cady company, but retired six years ago because of ill health. Mr. Duffy was ever, a distinct religious theory, entire movement being spiritual. He is one of the elements of ministry that has been experienced at

NOTED HEALER TO VISIT HARTFORD

James Moore Hickson Will Hold Mission Four Days
At Christ Church.
PLAN IS APPROVED
BY BISHOP BREWSTER
Famous Churchman Credited
With Powers to Heal By Method of Prayer.

Through the efforts of Rt. Rev. E. C. Acheson, suffragan bishop of the Connecticut diocese of the Protestant Episcopal Church a four-day visit by James Moore Hickson, whose healing mission has attracted nation-wide attention, and whose work has in a number of cases seemingly approached the miraculous, has been secured for Hartford. Mr. Hickson is credited with the power to heal by prayers and by application of his hands to the heads of the persons afflicted. Unprepossessing in appearance, the magnetism of his personality is unquestioned by those who have met him.

He will be in Hartford for four days beginning January 7, and will conduct his missions at Christ Church. He will hold a mission each day that he is here, the hours being from 10 o'clock in the morning until 12:30

Without discrimination as to or denomination, all persons afflicted with illness or diseases are to attend his meetings and attend. Dispensing with sermons and music, excepting that of the host, Mr. Hickson treats his patients individually, after being informed of their ailment, through filled out by ushers. If there is time for the separate treatment of each individual, Mr. Hickson rapidly from aisle to aisle, and bench to bench, placing his hands briefly on the heads of those afflicted and praying continually. Hickson is not an orator. He has but little. An effort will be made, however, to have him talk in some evening during his stay in the city. There is no money guaranteed to him by the Hartford mission, there being merely a box at the door bearing the inscription, "Thank offering for Mr. Hickson's Mission." His coming to Hartford is heartily sanctioned and loved by the Rt. Rev. Bishop Percy B. Brewster, and both he and Bishop Acheson are expected to be present at some of the meetings. Typically all Episcopal clergymen of the city are co-operating.

Mr. Hickson has held meetings in Boston and a number of other cities. Meetings in Boston were held in Paul's Cathedral and he was widely heralded, the meetings finally being so largely attended that it was found necessary to admit by card. It was reported in the Boston Herald that many went on crutches that he is able to help spiritually. Hickson does not claim to heal mentally and often physically. He has no scientific theory, maintaining, however, a distinct religious theory, entire movement being spiritual. He is one of the elements of ministry that has been experienced at part of his mission is to revive the theory. Mr. Hickson is presumably not a Christian Scientist, in that he does not ignore physical conditions, nor does he belittle scientific methods. Neither does he ask people to believe that sickness and death, resulting from disease, can be banished. He does urge, however, that there is much premature suffering of disease, and death, resulting from mental, physical and spiritual ailments. Suffering of this nature, according to Mr. Hickson's theory, can be most successfully prevented by his treatment.

Mr. Hickson came to the United States about six months ago, being a native of England, where he practiced his healing powers with the same success that is apparently attributed to him here. His credentials are manifestly unquestionable, and he was introduced at the Episcopal convention in Detroit by Rev. Dr. William T. Manning, rector of Trinity Church in New York. He has also been well spoken of by Rev. Dr. David Ferris, rector of the largest Episcopal church in Rochester, and an author of note.

Rev. Dr. Samuel R. Colladay, rector of Christ Church, said last night that every opportunity would be given to Mr. Hickson during his visit here, to help those who wish to avail themselves of his treatments. Mr. Colladay has not learned, as yet, where Mr. Hickson will stay during his Hartford visit, but it is his request that all mail for him be addressed to No. 45 Church street.

HEALER HICKSON

ENDS HIS MISSION

Cathedral Crowded on 1 Day—Says He Hopes to Return Here.

Jan 10/92

Christ Church Cathedral was yesterday for the last day of J. Moore Hickson's Christian healing mission and it was not until 10 o'clock in the afternoon that the crowds still remaining were dismissed with a final prayer. Mr. Hickson for New York later in the afternoon.

"The stay in Hartford has been very pleasant one," Mr. Hickson to a "Courant" reporter as he waiting for his train at the Union Station. "There is one point I wish emphasized," he added, "from many letters from people who write that they have been greatly benefited physically, I feel that the mission also was instrumental in giving relief to many others, suffering from mental and spiritual affliction."

"I hope to return to Hartford, but it may not be for quite some time as I am going to tour this country, conducting healing missions and am then leaving for a week trip through countries on the other side of the earth. After that is completed, I will probably visit America again. My experience here has been a very pleasant one personally. I believe that the value of prayer has become more fully appreciated." Hickson's exit from the city was unostentatiously: dressed in a business suit and overcoat with a derby to match, he passed through the crowded Union Station without apparently being recognized.

Attendance at the mission yesterday was by far the largest during Hickson's stay and at least several hundred more people than on previous days, afflicted with various illnesses of body and mind, knelt before the altar and received the healer's ministrations. As at other meetings, there were no remarkable manifestations, although a majority of those present appeared well satisfied that they benefited by the prayers for their recovery. Both Rt. Rev. Chauncey Brewster, bishop of Connecticut, and Rt. Rev. E. Campion Acheson, suffragan bishop, were present and prayed.

During his address to the gathering Mr. Hickson emphasized that illnesses and death are very real and do not exist as mere conjures up by the mind and are "delusions" for if there is no sin and illness there is no need for repentance, salvation or belief in Christ.

It was noticeable that so many messages for relief had been received that Mr. Hickson, after praying individually for the recovery of a number, asked that the gathering join in prayer for those who had been unable to appear, but had written asking his prayers.

Bishop Acheson announced next Friday at 11 o'clock the series of a series of meetings intended to continue the custom of prayer for the relief of the afflicted will be held in the cathedral. Mr. Hickson's custom of the laying on of hands will not be continued, but there will be prayers for those ill from any number. All will be welcome.

Many of the people for whom Hickson prayed appeared during the day of his mission.

HEALER HICKSON THANKS HARTFORD

JULY 8, 1920.

Writes to Dr. Samuel R. Colladay — Grateful for Reception Here.

The Rev. rector of Christ Church, Hartford, Conn., who received a letter from Mr. Hickson, layman, who of spiritual which he expressed the kind reception of the clergy, laity and follows:

It has now since, in obedience to the call of the church, I have been the recipient of a report of an angelic healing. My stay here, which was taken up with the report of an angelic healing, has been a most interesting one. Since my return, the mission has been my interest. Hickson's exit from the city was unostentatiously: dressed in a business suit and overcoat with a derby to match, he passed through the crowded Union Station without apparently being recognized.

The interest is an unmistakable yearning for the healing ministry, which has been the mission of the ministry, and its aim is not their bodies, but to heal their souls.

I shall soon land, and in which has been and laity and of the country without expression.

The sympathy has been inspiration and carry away with me the series of my vision that the world throughout the have already places, and instantly coming regard to these through the vision of J. Wilson Sullivan, New York City. Perhaps I am not coming in this way.

been, not to build up an organization but to revive the healing ministry throughout the whole church, as a part of the church's normal life and work. It is a great joy to feel that this revival has actually taken place, that now, as of old, people are looking to the healing Saviour. May the Holy Spirit carry on what He has so wonderfully begun. God guide and bless the whole American church.

At Christ Church cathedral, Sunday, there will be a celebration of the holy communion at 10:45 a. m. At this service the dean will preach on some aspects of Mr. Hickson's healing mission. At 4:30 the Senior Communicants' league will hold a devotional service. Confirmation instruction will be begun Sunday; at 4:15 a class for girls in the parish house; at 5 a class for adults in the choir room, and at 5:15 a class for boys in the parish house. There will be a special class on Wednesdays, at 8 p. m., in the parish house, for all, whether boys, girls or adults, who cannot get to the classes on Sundays. Tuesday, the feast of the epiphany, there will be celebrations of the holy communion at 7 and at 11 a. m. On Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday James Moore Hickson will hold a Christian healing mission at Christ Church cathedral; the hours,

HEALER COMING TO HARTFORD

JAMES MOORE HICKSON.

James Moore Hickson, a layman, who effects cures of the sick by the laying on of hands and prayer, will come to Hartford next month and will conduct meetings at Christ Church Cathedral four days, beginning January 7.

be surprised if Mr. Hickson's appearance in this city does not awaken interest among many Christian folk who will desire to see whether or not this ancient power is still potent. In order that they may not mistake the attitude of Mr. Hickson it may be said that he told his New Haven audience that doctors are agents of God whether they admit it or not.

HUNDREDS SEEK HELP FROM HEALER

Praying simply and quietly, while a reverential stillness pervaded Christ Church Cathedral yesterday morning, James Moore Hickson, the English layman, who has drawn much attention in other cities, filled the cathedral for the first gathering of his four-day mission. At 10 o'clock all seats were taken, fifteen minutes later the bal-

GARME
—and—
PIECES, I

Sale this year in a ist today in the fur
s obvious that your I

Addresses Clergy.

Yesterday afternoon Mr. Hickson addressed a gathering of seventy-five clergymen in Christ Church Parish House. He said that there was every reason to know that Christ's healing touch was as much available now as it had been during the early Christian era. Physicians and medicines, he said, are immensely valuable, while all agencies for accomplishing curative work should act together. At Lake Saranac, N. Y., he said, he had received an unusual reception, while some of the doctors at the sanitarium there had asked for his prayers, as they were in poor health, while he prayed for many of the patients.

Much In Mental Power.

Mr. Hickson said that there was a great deal in mental power, that many doctors really improve the health of patients by their "bedside personality" and personal magnetism. However, healing by prayer, he said, is wider in scope, it is far greater. He urged that the clergy take up healing by prayer and assured them that the result would be great.

Clergy of practically every denomination were present at the gathering. After his brief talk, Mr. Hickson left to visit a number of people who have asked for treatment and who are unable to attend the public meetings. Aside from the gathering this morning there will be a public meeting in the cathedral at 8 o'clock tonight.

The Hickson Creed.

Mr. Hickson yesterday gave the following explanation of his belief in healing by prayer to a "Courant" reporter:—

"Spiritual healing does not take the place of other means which God has ordained for healing, such as medical science. They should work hand in hand, supplementing and aiding one another, according to the need of the sufferer; although in nearly every case, people only seek healing through spiritual means when medical science has failed to effect a cure.

"All healing virtue is from God, no matter what the channel may be through which it is given. Christ came to point us to God, the source of healing and life, in Whom there is no limitation. That vision has almost been lost sight of, and we have fallen into the error of limiting God's healing power to that which mineral, vegetable or animal matter can receive of His precious gift, and to man's wisdom and skill in the use of them. And so science has been digging and delving, and trying to force a solution for the cure of every ill from the material world alone, instead of looking up in faith to Christ and recognizing the source from which all healing virtue flows.

"The world will never be free from sin and disease until Christ is acknowledged as the Healing Savior, for He alone can free the soul from the power of evil, and kill every germ of disease which has gained an entrance into man's physical nature, through man's wrong-doing in breaking the laws of God which govern our physical, mental and spiritual being.

"If God can give healing virtue through physical means, such as mineral, vegetable and animal matter, how can we think it impossible for Him to give His healing life, and to give it more abundantly, through man, into whom He has breathed the breath of life, and made a living soul, and who lives and moves and has his being in God!

"Spiritual healing, rightly under-

M. K. SMITH ELOPES WITH DAUGHTER OF PENN. MILLIONAIRE

Hartford Youth Weds Miss Miriam V. Hostetter of Pittsburgh.

(Special to The Courant.)

Pittsburgh, Pa., Jan 5.

"We were married yesterday and are returning to Pittsburgh today," was the Western Union message which told the story of the elopement and marriage of Malcolm K. Smith, 19-years-old son of Harry A. Smith, president of the National Fire Insurance Company of Hartford, Conn., and Miss Miriam Virginia Hostetter, daughter of a local millionaire, last Saturday. And rounding off the romance briefly, the youthful newly-married couple returned to the home

Separated Spring 1922

042 - 1920
A daughter was born Saturday at the Niles Street Hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm K. Smith of No. 4 Walbridge Road, West Hartford. Mrs. Smith was before her marriage Miss Miriam Hostetter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. Herbert Hostetter of Pittsburgh, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Herbert Hostetter of Pittsburgh, Penn., issued announcements this week of the marriage of their daughter, Miss Miriam Virginia Hostetter, to Malcolm Keith Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Smith of Prospect avenue, on Saturday, Janu-

PLAYWRIGHT WAS STENOGRAPHER IN HARTFORD FACTORY

Pauline Phelps Identifies by Recitation of Favorite Poem.

He unknowingly harbored for months a famous playwright, an Miss Pauline Phelps, who Marion Short, has dramatics, which played at Theater last week. In an with a "Courant" reporter stay in this city she told x months' war work as a her at the Terry Steam Turpany. Now I always wanted to be paper and was never fortu-ugh and I felt as though I doing something useful dur- year instead of just writing I wrote to one of the Hart- papers applying for a posi- also wrote the Terry Steam company answering an ad- at for a stenographer. Well ne Company answered my so I went there and signed Phelps, a nickname I have d," she continued.

n't imagine the terrible mis- side, and the men were often tience though always re-om telling me so, but I had stenography since I was ld and it did not come very er a while to punish myself out 10 cents in a box for take and very soon I would enough to buy a box of the girls in the office were eed to overlook my mistakes count. It was a long time y found me out and then cident. We were all at omson's restaurant and I little verse, which one of was trying to remember and med. Haven't I heard you ewhere; why, aren't you helps? Of course I had to hen.

I just hated to leave, but war was over I knew I impose on the company's ces any longer when they are someone far more com- d when I offered my resig- ey were kind enough to of- fered in salary if I would I enjoyed it all so much and everyone I met. You cannot real- ize the change in the modern working girl during the past years. They are wonderful and I love them all. I really haven't any use for a girl who is not doing something. I don't care what, but something worth while."

MRS. MALCOLM K. SMITH

recovered from his excitement and a complete family reconciliation round- ed off the romance. Smith's father said that he knew of the marriage the day it was performed but had not learned who officiated or any de- tails.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick S. Belden of No. 492 Farmington avenue are en- a houseparty in honor of hter, Miss Kathleen Belden, make her debut this even- house guests include Miss vell of New York, Miss Nixon of Philadelphia, Pa., ude Hitch of South Orange Dorothy Colling of Glen- f. The other guests, who at the Hartford Club, are

Mary Ann

Millionaire's Daughter Secures Divorce From Young Malcolm K. Smith

'Itian Beauty' Named As Corespondent As Runaway Romance Terminates Before Supreme Court Justice Faber in New York—Wife Asks No Alimony.

BY C. A. VOIGHT

which took daughter of aire eloped her student decree was (Glen

Bachrach

923

Feb. 6. laughter of Pittsburgh divorce to from Mal- of Harry A. ational Fire rtford, thus runaway romance ce in 1920. The Pittsburgh million- young Smith, then theart. The divorce ed by Supreme Court

Artistic Dwelling Recently Erected On Plans Made By Hartford Architect

1. 1921 in the Fred- rty at l with ws, in ne red n the tached t and, ge. In s were opes of of the g with elphia, ling of

M. K. SMITH ELOPES WITH DAUGHTER OF PENN. MILLIONAIRE

Hartford Youth Weds Miss Miriam V. Hostetter of Pittsburgh.

(Special to The Courant.)

Pittsburgh, Pa., Jan 5.

"We were married yesterday and are returning to Pittsburgh today," was the Western Union message which told the story of the elopement and marriage of Malcolm K. Smith, 19-years-old son of Harry A. Smith, president of the National Fire Insurance Company of Hartford, Conn., and Miss Miriam Virginia Hostetter, daughter of a local millionaire, on Saturday. And rounding off the mance briefly, the youthful new married couple returned to the ho-

Wedded Spring 1922

Oct 2 - 1920
A daughter was born Saturday at the Niles Street Hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm K. Smith of No. 4 Walbridge Road, West Hartford. Mrs. Smith was before her marriage Miss Miriam Hostetter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. Herbert Hostetter of Pittsburgh, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Herbert Hostetter of Pittsburgh, Penn., issued announcements this week of the marriage of their daughter, Miss Miriam Virginia Hostetter, to Malcolm Keith Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Smith of Prospect avenue, on Saturday, Janu-

PLAYWRIGHT WAS STEREOTYPED IN

A Connecticut Playwright

MRS. MALCOLM K. SMITH

recovered from his excitement and a complete family reconciliation rounded off the romance. Smith's father said that he knew of the marriage the day it was performed but had not learned who officiated or any details.

Photo by Vayana Studios

MISS PAULINE PHELPS.

and everyone I met. You cannot realize the change in the modern working girl during the past years. They are wonderful and I love them all. I really haven't any use for a girl who is not doing something. I don't care what, but something worth while."

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick S. Belden of No. 492 Farmington avenue are en- a houseparty in honor of ghter, Miss Kathleen Belden, make her debut this even- house guests include Miss vell of New York, Miss Nixon of Philadelphia, Pa., ude Hitch of South Orange Dorothy Colling of Glen- J. The other guests, who at the Hartford Club, are

Marianne

Millionaire's Daughter Secures Divorce From Young Malcolm K. Smith

Titian Beauty' Named As Corespondent As Runaway Romance Terminates Before Supreme Court Justice Faber in New York—Wife Asks No Alimony.

MRS. MIRIAM H. SMITH

—Photo by Bachrach

Artistic Dwelling Recently Erected
On Plans Made By Hartford Architect

1923
(Special to The Courant)
New York, Feb. 6.

Mrs. Miriam H. Smith, daughter of Herbert D. Hostetter, Pittsburgh manufacturer, secured a divorce to- day on statutory grounds, from Mal- colm K. Smith, the son of Harry A. Smith, president of the National Fire Insurance Company of Hartford, thus terminating a runaway romance which took place in 1920. The daughter of the Pittsburgh million- aire eloped with young Smith, then her student sweetheart. The divorce decree was granted by Supreme Court (Glen Ridge, N. J.)

The architect is William T. Ma...

1. 1921
in the Fred-
ry at l with ws, in
he red
n the tached
t and,
ge. In s were pes of
of the g with elphia.
ling of

QUARTER CENTURY WITH TRAVELERS

William BroSmith Finishes
25th Year as Insurance

Jan
William E. BroSmith, president of the Travelers Insurance Company, yesterday celebrated the anniversary of the company of the legal company as attorney at law in New York City that he was at the age of 25. His admission to the bar was after several years of study. He was admitted to the New York Bar in 1876 and practiced until 1901 when he entered the law firm of BroSmith & Co. In 1901 he was general manager of the company when Mr. D. BroSmith died. Since then he has been in charge of the company. He was president of the Casualty Company for several years. His connection with the company has been the leading law in the city. He receives and other financial associates as many years of service.

WILLIAM E. BROSMITH

BIG HOTEL WILL REPLACE FAMOUS VANDERBILT

HILLIARD BUILDING ON JOHN STREET, NEW YORK.

The $4,000,000 home of the late Cornelius Vanderbilt, erected on property extending from 58th to 59th streets on Fifth avenue, New York, has been sold and probably a big hotel will be built on the site. The neighboring property with the exception of the Huntington home on the southwest corner of 57th street has been converted to business purposes and investors have long sought the Vanderbilt piece. It is reported that it was bought by a big investor who paid $5,000,000 cash for it and sold it the following day for $5,000,000.

Big Insurance Company Soon to Move New York Headquarters
From William Street to New John Street Location.
Expansion of Company's Business in Metropolitan

Sixteen-Story Building Leased For New York Branch Office of Travelers Insurance Company.

Guarantee & Accident, the Zuercher Accident & Liability, the key branch of the Commercial Union Assurance Co. and its affiliated companies, the Hilliard agency, John A. Eckert, the Starkweather & Shepley, the Ogden & Fay agency, the Fuller agency, the C. E. Wickham agency and the Fire Brokers as-

APHASIA VICTIM IS DR. JOHN L. BRAND

Former New Haven Man Had Been Organist in Worcester.
Philadelphia, Jan. 10.—The man

"PROFESSOR X" IS DR. JOHN L. BRAND

His Son, Lieut-Comdr Brand, Identifies Amnesia Victim, a Former Worcester Resident

Philadelphia, Jan. 10.—The mysterious amnesia victim, cared for by a minister in Lambertville, N. J., and known as "Prof X," was identified today as Dr. John L. Brand, 64, of Worcester, Mass., who disappeared in March, 1917.

His son, Lieut-Comdr Charles L. Brand, in charge of construction at the Philadelphia navy-yard, was led into the front parlor as "Prof X" was posing for his photographs, and said: "Father, don't you recognize me? I am your son, Charles." The man, hunching back in his chair, stared with wide-open eyes. He was making a supreme mental effort. He became very pale, and panted from the attempt.

Fails to Recognize Son

After a tense moment, he whispered, "no." Dr. Brand was born and educated in England, the son said, and was a physician and a musician. He had devoted himself entirely to research work for some time prior to his disappearance, and was an inveterate reader. He specialized in chemical and biological research.

Just before his disappearance, Dr. Brand said, his father had suffered from a minor attack of amnesia, but apparently had recovered. Mrs. Brand, who is still living in Worcester, was prostrated by his disappearance.

Dr. Brand will be kept in Lambertville for the present. As soon as he is able to travel, he will be taken to Worcester. The physician attending him says it is possible for him to recover, with proper treatment. "His trouble is functional and not organic," the physician said.

His Worcester Life

Worcester, Jan. 10.—Dr. John L. Brand, who was a native of England, located in New Haven when he came to the United States, and he came to Worcester early in the 1900's as a music teacher, specializing in the cello. He secured a position as organist in St. John's Episcopal church, and later went to All Saints Episcopal church as organist. He and Mrs. Brand had two children, Lieut-Comdr Brand, and Rose, who was married to Capt. Archibald H. Sunderland, of the United States army in 1910. Soon after the wedding, Mr. and Mrs. Brand went to Boston to live, and in 1917, while Mrs. Brand was visiting their daughter at Fort Monroe, Mr. Brand disappeared.

He was last seen in East Gloucester, Mass., on his way to a meeting of the Versailles League of Nations. It was not until he was launched off the launching of the allies would have preceded the launching of the allies.

DR. BRAND'S MEMORY NOT YET RESTORED

73

Condition of Amnesia Victim Shows No Change.

Philadelphia, Jan. 11.—No change was noted today in the condition of Dr. John L. Brand of Worcester, Mass., the amnesia victim at Lambertville, N. J. His son, Lieut. Commander Charles L. Brand, spent last night and all of today with his father reciting incidents in his past life in the hope that they would restore his lost memory, but to no avail. Although apparently making a supreme mental effort to conquer the mysterious disease from which he has suffered since his disappearance in March, 1917, Dr. Brand said his mind still was in such a haze that he could not recall anything Commander Brand told him. He does not recognize his son and said he could not recall any of his antecedents.

Dr. Brand, who is an accomplished musician, went to St. Andrews Epis-

BRAND AT SON'S HOME

"Professor X," Amnesia Victim,
Now in Philadelphia

Philadelphia, Jan. 13.—Dr. John L. BRAND'S CASE.

Newspapers in New York and elsewhere have been generous, in the amount of space which they have devoted to the case of Dr. John L. Brand, who, suffering from amnesia, disappeared from his home in Massachusetts in 1917, and who has recently been found in a small town in New Jersey.

His identity has been established, though not greatly through his contributions to the task, but he is as yet unable to recognize members of his own family despite their efforts to bring up facts or incidents which would appeal to his treacherous memory. He "remembers" scenes which he never saw and recalls facts which have no existence outside his own brain, which condition must leave him in a state of perplexity which others can hardly imagine, and all because "a clot of blood has swerved a hairbreadth from its proper path."

What psychologist can tell us exactly what has happened to Dr. Brand? We know the results in a general way, but these do not inform us as to the whereabouts of the mind which once directed his fairly durable body. From what we know we may assume that the mind may take possession of the body again before the latter ceases to function, but where has it been since 1917? One would be glad to know why Dr. Brand, whose memory struck in 1917, has no recollection of events which happened later than 1912, but on this point, like so many others, we have no knowledge, nor can we say with any degree of positiveness that we shall ever possess it.

Three Million More From "Mysterious Mr Smith" Assured

New York, Dec. 31—Subscriptions

JANUARY 11, 1920—H

GEORGE EASTMAN OF KODAK FAME IS M. I. T. ANGEL

Identity of "Mysterious Mr Smith" Made Known at Alumni Jubilee Dinner

TECH HAS RE OVER

Benefactions Have Seven Years —
Has Profited by —Few Guessed

Boston, Jan. 10—
of Rochester, N. Y. erious Mr Smith" v pledged $11,000,000
institute of technolo
of more than seven
was revealed to-nig
Richard C. MacLaurin
in a statement made dinner of the alumni

Mr Eastman, who
the Eastman kodak
was not present at th
dent MacLaurin, wh at his home by a sl
an address to be rea
The dinner celebrated $4,000,000 for the e
of the institute to m
$4,000,000 from Mr E

Rochester Has Be

A list of Mr Eas tions, made public a
the institute, shows t
equally generous to
In addition to a gift match an equal am
kodak company," for l
pany employees, he h
ly to Rochester insti
his larger gifts have to the university of various purposes; $1
building, equipment
of the Rochester der $400,000 to the Roches
pital, and $500,000 to chamber of commerce contributed $500,000 t
war chest in 1918 and Red Cross in 1917.

President MacLauri
of "Mr Smith's" bene Massachusetts institut said that in 1912, aft
had secured options to acre site, he visited principal plant and l
evening with "Mr Si
York, where he expla

"Before I left him," said Dr MacLaurin, "he stated that to enable us to make a good beginning he would contribute $2,500,000 to the building project. He asked that his gift be anonymous, his one object being to see a good thing done, and not to hear people talk about it."

Equipped Several Laboratories

During the progress of the building construction, "Mr Smith" gave another million dollars. In 1916, after the dedication of the new buildings, he furnished the equipment of several laboratories, and in the same year he offered to give five dollars for every three that others would give for endowment up to a limit of $2,500,000 on his part. The conditions necessary to obtain this maximum were met by the end of 1916. In addition, he gave in that

As We Said Last Fall --- "Mr. Smith

(Photo by Morrall-Hoole Studios, Rochester, N. Y.)

(Reprinted from the Transcript of Oct. 17, 1919)

George Eastman, of Rochester, N. Y.

Now Officially Identified as the Donor of $11,000,000 to the Institute of Technology During the Last Eight Years. He Was the Transcript's First, Last and Only Choice for the Honor friendly relations with it doubtless would ins

J. E. RHODES WEDS MISS RUBY RODGERS, FORMER ARMY NURSE

Jan 1
Ceremon
of Br Trave

James E.
Antoinette
Hoboken Se
colm A. S
Church. Ho
a daughter Rodgers of Hoboken.
the French
and was su
the French

Passy-par-
June, 1915.
Mr. Rhod
legal staff
Company.
ago to a Shortly a
he was a
in connec
health ins
and Red C

Mr. and
No. 206 Farmington aven

A son, Richard Ayer R was born Monday to Mr.
James E. Rhodes 2d., of N
toria road, West Hartford

FEBRUARY 15,

Jan 14 .. 19
Miss Charlotte Platt, d
Henry B. Platt of New Huntington Lyman, son o man, were married Saturda
in the Madison Avenue
church, New York, by th
Henry Sloane Coffin, assis
Rev. Dr. Endicott Peabody
ter of the Groton school Miller was the best man
ers, most of whom were c
the bridegroom at Yale
were Seth Low, Allan
Rowland Stebbins, J. Nels
Archibald M. Richards,
Grant, Alfred H. Chap
Platt, Henry H. Anderso
F. McVaugh.

MR. AND MRS. WOO MARRIED.

Jan
Former Hart
Annive
Mr. and M
formerly of Philadelphia.
anniversary
their daugh Larkum and of Hartford
January 11,
was a residen
years. He i past commar Post, No. 2,
the navy unc
was statione
Georgia, one enter the ha
after the ev 1863. Mr. years a men
Department,
time of his r

E. C. WOODWORTH.

LEAVES HOSPITAL AFTER 14 YEARS

Jan 13 .. 1920

MRS. JAMES E. RHODES GETS MEDAL
FROM FRANCE FOR HER WAR WOR

April, 1922

MRS. JAMES E. RHODES.

Mrs. James E. Rhodes of No. 147
Victoria road on Thursday received from the French government a gold "medal of epidemics" for her war
service for the French government,
the medal having been awarded in 1919 but has just been delivered.
This is the second medal received by Mrs. Rhodes from the French government in recognition of her services during the war.

Mrs. Rhodes, who before her marriage to James E. Rhodes, assistant attorney for the Travelers insurance company, on January 4, 1920, was Miss Ruby A. Rodgers of New York, was engaged in war work for four years. In 1915 she became identified with an American hospital for the care of French wounded, known as the "Hospital of New York," and situated at Passy of Yonne. For one year she was in charge of the operating department and then was made superintendent of nurses, which position she held until three months after the signing of the armistice.

In 1917 the French government presented her with a medal and in 1919 when the "Hospital of New York" was closed she was awarded a second one which the French government was at that time unable to present to her and which has just now been delivered.

NOAH D. WEBSTER'S 50TH ANNIVERSARY

state prison at Wethersfield. When Warden Willard resigned in 1857, Daniel Webster was appointed to the position by the board of directors. The Webster family moved to Wethersfield. Warden Webster died in March, 1862, after being stabbed by a prisoner named O'Toole.

At that time Noah D. Webster was but 15 years old. After the death of his father and two brothers, he remained on the farm until his majority. He then went to Somers, where he remained for some time.

77

A son was born yesterday morning at the Niles Street Hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Josiah Dwight Whitney of No. 48 Forest street.

ORD DAILY TIMES, FRIDAY, JANUARY 16, 192

ANUARY 8, 1919.

OME FIRESIDE GROUP

Sin

—(Photo by C. A. Johnstone.

by Joe, 1 year old, Katherine, 15, and Polly, 13, children of Mr. and Mrs. Josiah D. Whitney of Forest street.

MISS KATHERINE D. WHITNEY, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Dwight Whitney of Forest street, in old-fashioned costume worn at recent fancy dress ball of the Hartford Art Society by trade and proficient in other mechanical lines. His son is also gifted along mechanical lines in addition to his banking proficiency.

Daniel Webster, jr., was a prominent resident of Somers and quite well known throughout the state. He was at one time a member of the board of directors of the Connecticut

Church. Mr. and Mrs. Newberry left for a wedding trip to New York and will live in South Windsor on their return.

Jan. 14, 1920

Lieutenant Colonel Church Returns.

Mrs. Earl D. Church of No. 683 Asylum avenue is expecting a cablegram saying that her husband, Lieutenant Colonel Earl D. Church, is on his way home. It was expected that he would leave France December 31, by way of Antwerp. He went to France in October, 1917. Lieutenant Colonel Church is superintendent of the policy loan department of the Travelers Insurance Company.

Returns to Hartford After Two Years of Hard Work Overseas—With Eightieth Division in Combat Period —Chief Ordnance Officer of Fourth Army Corps in Germany. BOTH AMERICAN AND FRENCH CITATIONS

Jan 12, 1922

Lieutenant-Colonel Earl D. Church, ordnance department, United States army, landed in New York Monday from the George Washington (the President's ship), the last army transport to leave France, all United States ports there being now closed, and was on a brief visit with his family at the Alameda apartments on Asylum avenue, yesterday, after an absence in active service overseas of more than two years and a quarter. He arrived in Hartford Monday. Colonel Church has had during this time an unusually wide and varied experience. Starting first at Chaumont, France, at the American general headquarters, in the office of Brigadier-General Williams (now chief of ordnance, United States army), who was chief ordnance officer on the staff of General Pershing, he was for five months chief of the equipment division there, then for three months chief ordnance officer, advance section, S. O. S., then division ordnance officer, Sixtieth Division, during all its combat period then chief ordnance officer of the Ninth Army Corps for five months, then in the same capacity with the Fourth Army Corps in Germany until it was ordered home.

He was then detached and ordered to Paris to organize and operate the statistical message center at the inter-allied military Olympic games at Pershing Stadium. Subsequent service included a month's special courtmartial duty at Bordeaux, and for the past four months assistant officer in charge of investigation of French government and private contracts, made under specific direction of the special representative of the secretary of war, and the United States liquidation commission, war department.

Citations.

Colonel Church was cited by the French for bravery at St. Mihiel, and decorated with the croix de guerre with bronze star; was cited in Eightieth Division general orders by Major-General Cronkhite for gallantry in the Meuse Argonne offensive, earning a silver citation star on his Victory Medal ribbon, in addition to the three bronze battle stars; received a citation from general headquarters, personally signed by General Pershing for "exceptionally meritorious and conspicuous service," and in addition has several letters of commendation from various chiefs under whom he has served, including two corps commanders, Major-Generals Summerall and Kuhn. During the Meuse Argonne offensive he was recommended for promotion by his division commander from major to lieutenant-colonel, ordnance department, United States army, which commission he subsequently received. At the Ninth Corps headquarters he was recommended for a permanent commission in the regular army, appeared before a board, and passed his preliminary examinations. He wears four gold service chevrons, denoting two years' active service with the A. E. F. These services have taken him into six countries of Europe.

When seen at his home last evening, Colonel Church paid a high tribute to the training the Connecticut National Guard had given him. "If I have made any little headway in my work overseas, it is due to the long years of steady grind that are past. I have gone to every maneuver with one exception (when I was on military duty elsewhere) from Manassas in 1904, down; I have attended five national rifle matches, four at Camp Perry, Ohio, and one in 1915 at Jacksonville, Fla.; I have been a member of many boards without the state and have kept in touch with progress in things military. For over twenty years I have put practically all my vacations and spare time into the service, at considerable personal and financial inconvenience; I have acquired a military library that I believe will compare favorably with that of many regular army officers; I have seen a variety of service from sentry on strike duty to aid to a General; for over ten years I carried a rifle.

CRESCENT BEACH HAS LARGE CROWDS

Open-Air Movies Attract Many—Influx of Parties For August.

(Correspondence of The Courant.)

CRESCENT BEACH, Sunday, Aug. 1. During the past week there has been an influx of people to Crescent Beach and with the approach of August, the last month of the summer

File 1720
Lieutenant Colonel Earl D. Church of No. 683 Asylum avenue went to the Majestic Theater one evening last week, expecting to be entertained merely by the usual grist of movie heart throbs and thrillers. Instead, he found that when a picture showing views in Paris soon after the war was thrown on the screen, one of the American officers shown was himself. The picture featured the inter-allied athletic meet at the Pershing stadium in Paris, and it was while the colonel was an absorbed spectator thereof that the movie man caught him. He recalled the other day, after seeing himself on the screen, the time when he was told to look pleasant.

Lieutenant Colonel Church was overseas two years and three months. Starting at American general headquarters at Chaumont in the office of Brigadier General Williams, chief ordnance officer on Pershing's staff, as chief of the equipment division, he was subsequently chief ordnance officer, advance section, S. O. S.; division ordnance officer of the Sixtieth Division during all its combat service; chief ordnance officer of the Ninth Corps and chief ordnance officer of the Fourth Corps in Germany. At the Olympic games Lieutenant Colonel Church organized and operated the statistical message center. The colonel was also on court-martial and investigation duty in France. He was cited three times, and received the croix de guerre. Before the war Colonel Church was connected with the Connecticut National Guard for years.

15 YEARS MARRIED,
COL. CHURCH REPEATS
WEDDING JOURNEY

HARTFORD MAN HONORED IN FRANCE

Jan 1920

General Bertoulat, Governor-General of Paris, decorating Lieutenant Colonel Earl D. Church with the Croix de Guerre in the Court of Honor of the Hotel des Invalides.

J. N. H. CAMPBELL VICE-PRESIDENT

Unionville, Jan. 15.

A pretty wedding took place at St. Mary's Church this morning at 9 o'clock, when Miss Anna Frances Higgins, youngest daughter of Mrs. Winifred Higgins, was united in marriage to Representative Andrew J. Welch of Simsbury. Rev. Thomas H. Tiernan performed the ceremony. Rev. John W. Welch of Norwalk, son of the bridegroom, who had planned to perform the ceremony, was unable to attend.

The bride wore a hand-embroidered gown of taupe paulette, with hat to match and was attended by her sister, Mrs. Robert Fitzgerald, of Hatfield, Mass., as matron of honor. She wore a gown of taupe paulette and blue hat.

The bridegroom had as his best man, James F. Crowe of this village, brother-in-law of the bride. The bridal party left immediately after the ceremony for Hartford, where a wedding breakfast was served, after which Mr. and Mrs. Welch left on a wedding trip and on their return will make their home in Simsbury, where Mr. Welch has been selectman for ten years, and represented that town in the General Assembly the past year. He has charge of the Wood estate.

Mrs. Welch's home has been in this village, where she graduated from the high school and she has been a teacher in the schools of Simsbury for several years.

J. N. H. CAMPBELL.

go to Waltham to occupy Mr. Paine's country estate there, known as "Stonehurst." Although their plans are not fully determined, it is probable that Mr. and Mrs. Paine will spend the summer months in England.

CONANT-PAINE WEDDING

Jan 14, 1920
Mrs. A. Forbes Conant Quietly Married at Residence in Arlington Street to Treat Paine of This City

79

simplicity marked the marriage of Mrs. A. Forbes Conant of 17 n street, to Robert Treat Paine, of nonwealth avenue and Waltham. Engagement was announced last . Mrs. Conant, who long has widow, was formerly Miss Elizabeth Nichol, daughter of the late Hon. d MacNichol and Delia Helen MacNichol. Mrs. Conant has mourning because of the death of her, last September, as well as for bereavements, therefore the wedding was attended only by the of the two families and relatives. Ten intimate friends were invited. Emony took place at noon at Mrs. home and was performed by Rev. Mann, D. D., rector of Trinity. There were no bridal attendants. umber present was so small that holly informal reception at the of the ceremony, no ushers ired.

de wore a handsome gown of etyn, trimmed with baby lamb of black, and her hat was of et trimmed with the same fur. her notably fine rope of pearls diamond ornaments. The bridal as a large bunch of lilies of combined with gardenias. e and his bride left town on the k train for New York and e will go to California for ing journey and for the next ths they will be in Santa On their return, they will live e's former old home in Arling- long her residence and to which ntly attached. Mr. Paine, who a widower for four years, has

"Stonehurst," his sed to others his e, since themar- Dorothy, to her e Storer. They I., where they were here for s son, Robert ALIFORNIA 1920 est Paine, the s. A. Forbes Boston After to the Pacific

reat Paine have their journey to they went the ately after their e quietly at the Arlington street. Forbes Conant widow of a noted

Mrs. Paine made Barbara, from to various points automobile and their homeward ed with excep- travelling in e. It was Mrs. ast.

Arlington-street s home, until when they will

OFFICERS FINISH 25 YEARS' SERVICE

Jan 14 - 1920
Security Trust Stockholders Compliment President:

Secr
Stockhol Company,
yesterday,
plimentary
dent, and president
just comp
faithful se
it was al
year was dicated b
deposits.

Officers elected a uel G. D
Newton
Prior, Sid
sons, Cra
B. Braina
George C. son, Jose Woodward
F. T. Sea
the Hartf
was addre
S. Stought
land Hast son, Fenn
tees will
of officers
ruary.

Followi
gripped ii
Mr. Prior:

Whereas, Atwood Collins, president,
and Charles Edward Prior, vice-president and treasurer, have each just completed twenty-five years of active affiliation with Security Trust Company (formerly Security Company) in Hartford, Conn.; and,

Charles E. Prior, Jr., Elected by Security Officials at Annual Meeting.

Feb - 3, 1920

Charles Edward Prior, Jr., secretary

of the Secu
eight years
and in ad
the annual
day. As father, Cha

president,
urership to Alec G. S elected an officers elec

Charles E.
treasurer, w
1875. He ca
1895, and e
Security Tru
was made t
treasurer, F
secretary, F.

He is a m nue Baptist Hartford cou
A.; the Visit
the Connecti Alec G. St.
Security Tru
began as book
cessively disc
and lately v
He was form
Insurance co.
Hartford cha Banking and stitute

CHARLES EDWARD PRIOR.

CHARLES E. PRIOR.

WINDSOR WOMAN APPOINTED TO U. OF C. FACULTY

H. P. H. S. TEACHER WITH UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA NOW

Miss F. E. Mac
can Pupil Bernh

(Special to Th

Miss F. Elizabeth
of Mr. and Mrs. D Broad street, has
member of the facul
sity of California i of dramatic art. M
a remarkable succe
sion, having had a s
eight years, which during the early day

Former H. P. H.

By many she wil
as teacher of elocut
ford Public High Sch dramatic training w
French artists, incl
the young tragedian
Francis." She als

MISS F. ELIZABETH MACK.

RESIGN AS OFFICERS OF SECURITY TRU

The resignations of Charles Edward Prior, vice-president, and Charles Edward Prior, jr., secretary and treasurer of the Security Trust company were presented at a meeting of the trustees this week to take effect before the merger of this company with the United States bank and the Fidelity Trust company. The trustees accepted their resignations with regret.

JANUARY 19, 1923.

Mack spared no words in denouncing
Germany and warned of the impending danger in which the United States stood. During the war, Miss Mack busied herself in speaking in the interests of this nation which,
with her knowledge of conditions in France, made her services valuable.
For the last year or so she has spent much time in New York and for a while lectured at Columbia University. Some time ago she left New York on a personal tour to the Pacific Coast, where her ability was soon recognized and she was secured for her new post.

On February 10, she is to give a recital in San Francisco under the auspices of the Speech Art Association of California. The Berkeley "Gazette" of December 20, has the following notice of the coming event:—
"On February 10, in the Italian room of the Hotel St. Francis, Paul Elder will present Miss Elizabeth Mack of New York City and Paris.
In a dramatic reading, 'Scenes from French Comedy,' Miss Mack resided in Paris for eight years and her dramatic training, was conducted by French artists."

Miss Mack's mother is spending the winter at Kingston, N. Y., and she came East to spend the holidays with her. Her father has just returned from Kingston, where he spent the holidays with his wife and daughter.

Both resigned when banks joined together Feb-1922

Chairman Ulrich Will Sing Swan Song Solo at Committee Dinner

Jan 15 1920

Vacancy in Town Chairmanship Will Be Only Momentary, with Robert P. Butler Ready to Step In, Unless West Hartford Man Can Be "Induced" to Stick.

George Ulrich of West Hartford, chairman of the democratic town committee of Hartford will entertain the members of the committee at dinner at 6:30 o'clock at the Heublein Hotel and along about 8 o'clock, it is understood, when the grape juice is reached on the menu, he will break the news that he can no longer guide their destinies. This will lead up to a resignation of the chairmanship of the place, which Mr. Ulrich doesn't care to hold any longer, in view of the fact that no movement has been made to make West Hartford the Eleventh Ward of Hartford and the Tenth Ward line is too far to the east to take him in. There will be expressions of regret at the removal of Mr. Ulrich from town some time ago, and it is believed that the non-residence argument to be advanced by the chairman will be sufficient to persuade his guests that the only thing to do is to elect a new chairman.

In case Mr. Ulrich should resign, it is believed that Robert P. Butler would be elected to succeed him. The Court Street School site, which was to be used for the new school, is a matter of some importance to the town.

BUTLER TO GUIDE MAYOR

Surprise for Butler.

At this point Mr. Butler excused himself and stepped out of the room. Little did he know what honor was about to befall him, as democratic politics are never pre-arranged, of course. He was gone sufficiently long enough for Mr. Ulrich to rise and nominate him. "Mr. Butler is a lawyer of distinction," Mr. Ulrich said, addressing the ward chairmen. "He is of fine character, of standing in the community, a stalwart democrat, able and conscientious. We are very near the spring election, we must plan a campaign and organization and the registering of voters. We must not lose votes this spring."

After Mr. Butler was nominated and elected, Mr. Ulrich informed the gathering that he could be recalled into the service as a private in the ranks at any time. Mr. Butler, who was chairman of the democratic town committee in 1910, returned to the room, and upon being notified of his election, thanked the ward chairmen for their confidence in him. There was a rising vote of thanks for Mr. Ulrich, who thanked them one and all. Charles E. Dougherty of the Ninth Ward was the only member of the town committee absent.

vacancy of that office antedating his change of residence to West Hartford. He has long been prominent in politics—democratic brand—and has been a candidate for a number of elective offices, as well as serving on the fire commission.

Robert P. Butler, who seems to have been picked for the vacancy before it is created, is one of the best known of the younger school of democrats in Hartford and came into prominence several years ago on account of his opposition to the tactics of Thomas J. Spellacy, old line leader and now assistant attorney general of the United States, whose candidacy for the democratic nomination for mayor Mr. Butler unsuccessfully opposed in 1912, being the candidate of the new line element of the party, but having no supporters in the city convention, except from the First Ward. Mr. Butler had previously been chairman of the democratic town committee, acting in that capacity in the campaign which resulted in the election as mayor of Edward L. Smith, now judge and soon to be United States district attorney. This was in 1910 and Mr. Butler now try to repeat, after a decade. Mr. Butler, with the gift of oratory at one time a newspaper understood that he will be Ulrich's guests tonight, in void having to send a committee to notify him of his selection in, in case nobody can "induce" Ulrich to continue to direct activities by telephone from Hartford.

Politician, Antique Furniture Collector, School Expert, ESTED SCHOOLS

Who? James H. Naylor was at the top in local not considered that the department when he held the board did to the work of, as is the superintendent Naylor was Dr. Gideon

NAYLOR. Committee General Henry C. Dwight, its chairman many years; J. Kinsella and James H. On the death of General Mayor Kinsella, the second

Fore Naylor Tactics.

r. Naylor managed to keep a real estate transaction the third member of the committee to the front as a "petition" which "Peter and others" had before the street commissioners less than a week ago. The petition was in the building line at and Babcock and Martin have Edgar L. Rop it was bought uses. etition and the and Martin set et commission, ighborhood was ss section that y should give king the build- the street line, told the street anted to build which adjoins chool site. The denied the peti-

he method em- in having the outh School Dis- s his partner in is name first to characteristic tin and others' a few to whom South District comment on it. tile attempt to ne changed at reets where he change would ted the value of street commis- sion denied this petition, also.

ROBERT P. BUTLER.

12,000 Da ous Coll 000 Men

New York, Feb. 12.—The $4,000,000 Smith college at rally the whole cause of giving the name of the men in the world suggests the fact since Noah got and sailed for 1

Throughout the daughters of S over telephone social registers membership list 1,000,000 members to ask them the question:

"Do you really name?"

It is regarded of the Smiths with the negative, but who are disappointed under the pamphlet which clan is calculated esteem. Smith college women the world to know

Smith women there are four four more, in the negatives; that three officers, and that Hartford's 275 in a moderate 000,000 fund in America." Which a nation as saying: nine districts

"Smith being carried on in a case ways, chief of poetical that it is a heroic matter of shop." This is it. The name east end of the one trade without Mutual

Where the building, with the million men guessed by the chairman. Miss here yesterday, campaign chairman Smiths abound. Mrs. F. Scoville statistics show. Not only in New York, but many bear the Smith name. In Mass., the figure will be 9.8; in Cincinnati, 6.8, while in the next annual Smith convention well be staged, there are 17 every thousand. The average, whole country, the college is 9.1, making approximately million Smiths for the whole

No Easy Task.

Is it an easy task?

It is not, and many a might quail at the prospect all in the day's work for the men who have pledged themselves to raise the salaries of Smith's staff to provide funds for new equipment.

Telephone books may be worn all persons by the name of "Smith," asking for $1 contribution as a member of the "Smith family." Word has been received by the local committee that they will see the job through man, who, wishing to give in the name of Smith, had no relative by the will reach the whole Smith name, but gave a large contribution "in the name of a Mr. Smith, whom the effort to make the name another filled."

Northampton, May 29.—President Nelson of Smith college announced to-day that the general education board of New York would give $500,000 toward the $4,000,000 fund the college is raising.

MISS SARAH CLEMENT.

Miss Sarah Clement of Rutland, Vt., a graduate of Smith college in 1919, is the manager of the new home of the Smith College Muffin Shop which will open March 8, at No. 17 Lewis street. Miss Clement will make delicious waffles which are a new item on the list of good things, which the Smith alumnae have been selling. The local committee in charge of the shop is composed of Mrs. Harry A. Smith, Mrs. Halsey R. Philbrick, chairman of the ways and means committee, Mrs. Herbert F. Fisher, chairman of the food shop committee, Mrs. James A. Smith, vice-chairman of the same committee, Mrs. George S. Squires, Miss Barbara Lincoln, Mrs. Robert Swift, Mrs. William Davis.

The local committee in charge of the fund received a telegram this morning from Mrs. Hannah Dunlop Andrews, chairman of the national committee, announcing that the $2,300,000 mark had been reached and that the campaign would be continued at least until June 1.

Letters will be sent out this week to all persons by the name of "Smith," asking for $1 contribution as a member of the "Smith family." Word has been received by the local committee that they will see the job through man, who, wishing to give in the name of Smith, had no relative by the will reach the whole Smith name, but gave a large contribution "in the name of a Mr. Smith, whom the effort to make the name another filled."

Hartford's "Smith Family"

S VICE-PRESIDENT OF THE SMITH COLLEGE CLUB

DEGEE GIVES A TING FOR BENEFIT SMITH COLLEGE FUND

83

on Artist Donates Picture of Bend in Old River.

Robert B. Brandegee of Farm-ok to the art store of C. H.
Pratt street Saturday a that she said Mr. Brandegee to have sold and the proceeds
the Smith College fund. Mr.
id he would be very glad to ecture. He knows how diffi-

at was beey to the
an spoke on. Sau-
d its hist-of-town
rice of Blenen-
Charles Rabbi
e latter

R. B. BRANDEGEE.

a Brandegee picture as
is not care to dispose of
he picture shows a bend
ngton River, a view that to the famous artist for It is a picture of early n the meadows are still e foliage is just begin-
o red, a splotch here and
g where the first leaves
r and some had been ground. While the can-all one the picture is one of Mr. Brandegee's

les Noel Flagg began his ford, the fruits of which en in the exhibition at last two weeks. Mr.
is one of the early in-le studied in Paris with Flagg, Montague Flagg,
r (who is still painting
), the two Weirs and D. e of the best known of sts, who is the instruc-ith College. The Hill-at Smith College has a ion of pictures.

MARCH 8, 1920.

—[Photo by C. A. Johnstone.

MRS. HORATIO ARNOLD HAMILTON.

Mrs. Hamilton, who was formerly president of the Smith College club of Hartford, is one of those in charge of the "outside" canvassing for the $4,000,000 endowment fund campaign. This involves obtaining subscriptions from contributors outside the alumnae membership of the college. Mrs. Hamilton is one of the two alumnae councillors from the Hartford club, and, with Miss Lucy O. Mather, who was a substitute for Mrs. James Lippincott Goodwin, the other councillor, attended the meetings of the council in Northampton two weeks ago. The principal business transacted at the sessions dealt with the progress of the campaign.

come down to us from prehistoric or the Smith Brothers with their cough-that once upon a time all the drops and whisks.

Three New Dormitories At Smith College Furnished Artistically

From Our Special Correspondent

Northampton, October 14—The three new dormitories at Smith college are located on a part of the old Allen field, lying along Paradise road just off Elm street. The dormitories form three sides of an open

The architecture of the houses is of a simple colonial type, dignified and beautiful, without a sense of luxury and entirely in keeping with the architecture of the region.

The furnishing and decoration of the houses was entirely in the hands will be entertained, a suite of room on the ground floor, expressly reserved for that purpose. The decorator for this house was Mrs. Louis Day Putnam Lee, '00, of New York city. Miss Julia MacAlister, '98, of Philadelphia, had charge of the deco-

VIEW OF DORMITORIES FROM THE COURT

Ellen Emerson House Stands in Center—Jordan House at Left—Cushing House at Right

court which is reached from Paradise Road by a drive way through the center building, the Ellen Emerson House. This court is flanked on the north and south, respectively, by the Jordan and Cushing Houses.

of Smith alumnae. Excellent taste and artistic feeling is shown in all the appointments. The Ellen Emerson house is perhaps the most elaborate of the three, since it is here that the official guests of the college ration of the Jordan house and Miss Elanche Morse, '92, of the Cushing house.

Hudson River Wall Paper

It is this latter house that contains the room with the now famous

Old-Fashioned Pictorial Wallpaper in Cushing House Shows Scenes of Colonial Days

Hudson river wallpaper. This is old-fashioned pictorial paper and shows scenes of early colonial times which took place on the banks of the river. The money for this room was donated by the members of one of the older classes.

The students' rooms are all singles of a good size, well lighted and equipped with many conveniences that the older dormitories lack. The walls and woodwork are of neutral tones so that any color scheme in the matter of hangings may be used. Each room is provided with a desk, desk chair, rocking chair, chiffonier and bed. Dr. Joel Earnest Goldthwaite of Boston, who is a member of the department of hygiene and physical education, designed the desk and chairs especially for student use, the desk being made with a sloping top to prevent stooping and the chairs built in a way to help one to sit erect. Another innovation is the electric buzzer in each room in place of the usual gong or bell which calls the students to meals or to the telephone.

There are kitchenettes on every floor and the bathrooms are equipped with every modern convenience such as shower baths and special stands for hair washing. Each student has a separate shelf and hooks in the bathroom for her possessions. Another novel thing at the new dormitories are the sleeping porches, of which there are two, accessible from all the buildings and ventilated by dormer windows front and back.

The new dormitories are named for three alumnae, Ellen Emerson Davenport, '01, who was at one time president of the alumnae association, a member of the war service board and associate director of the Smith college relief unit in France. At the time of her death she was an alumnae trustee; Eleanor Philbrook Cushing, '79, who retired last June from the faculty of the college after 41 years of service, and Mary Augusta Jordan, the beloved professor, who was dean of the department of English for many years before her resignation a year ago last June.

A. D. JOHNSON IS CHOSEN CASHIER OF PHOENIX BANK

JANUARY 17, 1920.

Promotion
quished

FRANK
AS

Arthur
cashier of Bank, was
of the bank
capacity. With the last of dual office

cashier. The
the annual
of the bank
meeting of
day. Frank
been in the
the bank,
place of a cant by the
The other
re-elected,
president,
assistant

Arthur J.
was born 1880, son
Alice H. J.
from the
in 1899, a
his life. An American
successive
the place
Phoenix took over the American and
he became discount clerk for the

ARTHUR D. JOHNSON.

Cashier.

Phoenix took over the American and
he became discount clerk for the

"Big Day in History" Says Hyde Of Prohibition Advent in Talk Before Classes of High School.

Result of War Conditions, He Thinks—Hopes for Effective Results—Walsh Issues Instructions to 6,500 Concerning Returns.

"Fifty years hence people will look back to January 16, 1920, as one of the big days in American history. Before, we had been a backward people, and we had made very few strides in economic conditions. But now," said Principal C. C. Hyde, addressing the juniors and seniors of the high school in the Hopkins street hall this morning, "conditions brought about by the war caused this prohibition measure to be taken."

He stated that this policy would remove many obstacles for boys and girls. He said he hoped to see very effective results. The meeting was held in connection with thrift week, which starts Saturday, and Professor J. W. Wetzel spoke on "Thrift."

The Broad street auditorium

Wilbur F. Gordy spoke on "Thrift," and referred to to-day as the big prohibition day. This meeting was for the students in the Broad street building.

Instructions to 6,500.

Collector of Internal Revenue James J. Walsh has issued instructions to 6,500 persons, private and public institutions, requesting that they file notice of "intoxicating" they have had or have on hand. They have received the regulatory forms from the collector's office.

The inventories should be made within ten days after the prohibition act goes into effect, which is at midnight to-night.

(CONTINUED ON PAGE 85)

necessary forms have been held up for various reasons and should be received in this city for distribution all over the state within a day or two.

Returns must be filed by hospital and educational institutions, which have obtained alcohol or alcoholic beverages under special acts of congress, wholesale and retail liquor dealers.

JANUARY 16, 1920.
DAILY TIMES.

ENTER PROHIBITION.

At one minute after midnight to-night, the eighteenth amendment becomes effective. By mandate of the people given through their legislatures John Barleycorn and all his relatives are forever forbidden within the confines of the United States and its possessions. Property that formerly was valued at millions of dollars becomes of no value. The heretofore fundamental right of the individual to choose for himself what he prefers to drink becomes nonexistent.

As we have pointed out before, the penalties for ignoring or violating the Volstead act and the regulations prescribed under the act by the internal revenue bureau will be heavy and probably will be swift. The amendment becomes part of our fundamental law; it will be the most arbitrary law in the land, but nevertheless a law which must be respected and implicitly obeyed. Before midnight every person who has liquor away from his actual place of residence, be that residence a palace or a room in a boarding house, must move the liquor to his actual home if he wishes to use it for beverage purposes.

Otherwise the best the owner will be to obtain a permit to use for non-beverage purposes. Much actual suffering will be caused by the amendment must all in doubt, but that it will be terrible is obvious. Druggists and physicians have refused to handle there is too much red tape and about them for their liking. A man were actually dying of a drink the chances of getting to the great beyond would be legally obtained about three thousand home-made wines, beer or spirits that contain one-half of 1 percent of more of alcohol are "intoxicating" are forbidden. These are to be scrutinized, and the east. E. M. of home garden. Investigating trip Springfield, Boston. The data secured by used in making an supervision of the committee, part up of members commission, will improve the market. taken by the public in regard to the prohibition.

as much from low as from the coast, being compared very to the schedule

FILED
ESTATE

claim of $1,200 on Max Ackerman, Max Ackerman and J. Weiss-

$1,200 on property of Max Blum of this city and Max Blum, Clara Blum, in favor of the action of the court to recover the property at 475 was property at 475 was the action of the court to recover the property at 475 was the action of the court to recover the property at 475 was

Paul Eugene Louis Deschanel, statesman and author, is known as one of the most brilliant public speakers of France. He was born in Brussels, in 1857, during the exile in Belgium of his father, Emile Deschanel, senator and professor of the college of Paris.

Paul Deschanel entered political life in 1878 as secretary to M. De Marcere, then minister of the interior and in the following year was secretary to Jules Simon, president of the council. In 1885

Mrs. Forrest Evans Billings of No. 48 Lilley road, West Hartford gave a "travelling shower," Thursday afternoon in honor of Miss Lucy H. Penrose, who was married Friday to Halsted E. Redfield.

Redfield-Penrose. 16
Miss Lucy Harris Penrose, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Penrose of No. 142 Steele road, West Hartford, and Halsted E. Redfield, soon of Mr.

rs. William F. Redfield of Wood- were married yesterday afternoon at the home of the bride's father. The ceremony was performed by the bride's grandfather, Dr. Edwin Pond Parker, pastor of the South Congregational church, assisted by Rev. William T. Conger, rector of St. John's Church. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attended by Mrs. Evans Billings and Miss Margaret E. Conger of this city and the best man was Burton Parker, Jr., son of the bride. The bride wore a wedding dress of blue tulle with a white sash and a white bouquet of violets and lilies. Following the ceremony a reception was held for the families and intimate friends, after which Mr. Redfield left on a short trip. Redfield-Penrose was active in Red Cross work during the war and has been more than a year in the employ of "The Hartford Public High School in Hartford. Mr. Redfield served in France as second lieutenant and was registered at Base Hospital No. 1 at Vichy. He attended the training school connected with the Travelers Insurance company in this city and for two years was assistant cashier in the company, office of that company.

ss Marguerite Eliot Conger of 14 Whitney street gave an informal supper party last evening at her home in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Halsted E. Redfield, who were in Hartford yesterday, following a short trip in Boston, before going to New York for a few days. Mrs. Redfield formerly Miss Lucy H. Penrose, whose marriage took place on Friday, among the out-of-town guests attending the Redfield-Penrose wedding party were Mr. and Mrs. William F. Redfield of New York, Mrs. Penrose being cousin of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. William F. Redfield of New Haven, parents of the bridegroom, and Mr. and Mrs. William G. Redfield of West Haven, brother and sister-in-law of the bridegroom. Mr. and Mrs. Halsted E. Redfield will leave today for Billings, Mont., Mrs. Redfield was formerly Miss Lucy Harris Penrose, and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Penrose of No. 142 Steele road, West Hartford.

Feb - 17, 1921
daughter, Shirley Penrose, was married Thursday to Mr. and Mrs. Halsted E. Redfield of Syracuse, N. Y. Mrs. Redfield was formerly Miss Lucy Penrose and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Penrose of Steele road, West Hartford. Mr. and Mrs. Redfield will return to this city to live the first of April.

inspection tour of various parts of the city in the east. E. M. tendent of home gardens, acted an investigating trip to Springfield, Boston. The data secured by the inspection will be used in making arrangements for the supervision of the city gardens.

that a committee, part of which will be made up of members of the city commission, will be taken by the public in regard to the supervision of the city gardens.

used as much from low engine as from the snow, being comparatively safe damage to the schedule

MENT FILED REAL ESTATE

ank's Claim of $1,200 on Samuel Ackerman, Max Ackerman and J. Weis-

ent for $1,200 on property of Ackerman, Max Blum Ackerman of this city and of New Haven, and in Merchants National bank was filed for record to the effect that on April 1st Ackerman, by his note, day to the order of Max Ackerman, $1,000, on the 1st of Max Blum, Clara J. Weisman, it was the bank, which alleges has been, presented, but affecting property at Church and High streets day against Belcher Wil- chard Williams, in favor of Brothers, the action former being to recover the latter to recover

ment to recover $75 was atbush avenue property len Anderson and others.

evening schools is requested, making the amount for the next fiscal year $23,000. A request is made for $2,000 for the extension of Americanization work under the supervision of this board. The board of education co-operates in this respect with the mayor's Americanization committee. For school gardens, $1,800 is asked. The largest item, which totals $45,138.75, is for the salaries of manual training teachers. An allowance of $4,200 is made for school attendance officers, the plan being to provide two truant officers during the next year.

Summarized Budget.

Following is the summarized budget:

Manual training, salaries	$45,138.75
Materials	7,500.00
Repairs	5,000.00
Permanent improvements	2,000.00
Textbooks (districts)	21,000.00
Textbook, (high school)	3,000.00
Evening school	23,000.00
School gardens	1,800.00
Outdoor school	8,700.00
Ungraded school	4,600.00
Superintendent's salary	3,000.00
Attendance officers' salaries	4,200.00
Officers' expenses	1,500.00
Printing	1,000.00
General expenses	1,500.00
Extension of Americanization work	2,000.00
Street sales (badges for boys)	75.00

Total .....$135,513.75
Park Board Wants $233,400.
With $39,300 for "special appropriations," the budget of the park depart-

Chamber or Deputies. But the president in France is not the ruler but the official head of the state, and Napoleon, great or little, need apply. The French ideal is a distinguished man of literary gifts, moderate temper, and colorless political opinions. M Deschanel answers admirably; by all the standards of the past M Clemenceau, highly as he may be honored, would not answer at all. And in France the claims of the republic come before the claims of the individual.

and da field, h Y. Mr. from t home of MA

Island 1

A. D. JOHNSON IS CHOSEN CASHIER OF PHOENIX BANK

JANUARY 17, 1920.

Promoti
quished

FRANK
AS

Arthur
cashier of Bank, was
of the bay capacity Wi
the last of dual offic

cashier. T
the annual
of the ban
meeting of
day. Fra

been in th
the bank,
place of a cant by th
The other
re-elected,
president;
president,
assistant

Arthur J
was born 1880, son
Alice H. J
from the
in 1899, a

his life. I American
successive
the place
Phoenix took over the Americ
he became discount clerk

ARTHUR D.

Cashi

necessary forms have been held up for various reasons and should be received in this city for distribution all over the state within a day or two.

Returns must be filed by hospital and educational institutions, which have obtained alcohol or alcoholic beverages under special acts of congress, wholesale and retail liquor

JANUARY 16, 1920.
DAILY TIMES.

ENTER PROHIBITION.

JANUARY 17, 1920.

PAUL DESCHANEL

ig Day in History" S Of Prohibition Adve Before Classes of 1

Result of War Conditions, He Thin fective Results—Walsh Issue:
6,500 Concerning Returns.

"Fifty years hence people will look back to January 16, 1920, as one of the big days in American history. Before, we had been a backward people, and we had made very few strides in economic conditions. But now," said Principal C. C. Hyde, addressing the juniors and seniors of the high school in the Hopkins street hall this morning, "conditions brought about by the war caused this prohibition measure to be taken."

He stated that this policy would remove many obstacles for boys and girls. He said he hoped to see very effective results. The meeting was held in connection with thrift week, which starts Saturday, and Professor J. W. Wetzel spoke on "Thrift."

Wilbur F. and refer prohibition day for the students in the Broad street building.

Instructions to 6,500.

Collector of Internal James J. Walsh has issued tions to 6,500 persons, privcerns and public institutions necticut requesting that they file notice of intoxicating they have had or have on ha they have received the reg ventory forms from the c office.

The inventories should within ten days after the prohibition act goes into which is at midnight to-ni

(CONTINUED ON PAGE

pent. of more of alcohol are Cider and fruit juices simi-toxicating" are forbidden. are to be scrutinized, an-

Newly Elected President of the French Republic

Paul Eugene Louis Deschanel, statesman and author, is known as one of the most brilliant public speakers of France. He was born in Brussels, in 1857, during the exile in Belgium of his father, Emile Deschanel, senator and professor of the college of Paris.

Paul Deschanel entered political life in 1876 as secretary to M. De Marcere, then minister of the interior and in the following year was secretary to Jules Simon, president of the council. In 1885

Photo from Vayana Studios.

Mrs. Halsted E. Redfield, who was married Friday, was formerly Miss Lucy H. Penrose, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Penrose of Steele road, West Hartford. She will leave shortly for Billings, Mont., where Mr. Redfield will be cashier in the branch office of the Travelers Insurance Company.

Chamber of Deputies. But the president in France is not the ruler but the official head of the state, and no Napoleons, great or little, need apply. The French ideal is a distinguished man of literary gifts, moderate temper, and colorless political opinions. M Deschanel answers admirably; by all the standards of the past M Clemenceau, highly as he may be honored, would not answer at all. And in France the claims of the republic come before the claims of the individual.

Mr. and Mrs. Redfield, who were married yesterday afternoon at the home of the bride's father, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Penrose, of Steele road, West Hartford, will leave for Billings, Mont., Friday morning.

Mrs. Forrest Evans Billings of No. 48 Lilley road, West Hartford gave a "traveling shower," Thursday afternoon in honor of Miss Lucy H. Penrose, who was married Friday to Halsted E. Redfield.

Redfield-Penrose. 16
Miss Lucy Harris Penrose, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Penrose of No. 142 Steele road, West Hartford, and Halsted E. Redfield, soon of Mr.

rs. William F. Redfield of Woodville, were married yesterday afternoon at the home of the bride's father. The ceremony was performed by the bride's grandfather, Dr. Edwin Pond Parker, pastor of the South Congregational church, assisted by Rev. William T. Conger, rector of St. John's Church. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attended by Mrs. Forrest Evans Billings and Miss Margaret E. Conger of this city and the best man was Burton Parker, Jr., brother of the bride. The bride wore a wedding dress of blue tricotine lined with gray worsted and carried a bouquet of violets and carnations. Following the ceremony a reception was held for the families and intimate friends, after which Mr. and Mrs. Redfield left on a short trip.

Mr. Redfield was active in Red Cross work during the war and has been more than a year in the employ of "The Hartford." She was graduated from Hartford Public High School in 1914. Mr. Redfield served in France as second lieutenant and was registered at Base Hospital No. 1 at Vichy. He attended the training school connected with the Travelers Insurance Company in this city and for two years was assistant cashier in the Hartford, Pa., office of that company.

Miss Marguerite Eliot Conger of 14 Whitney street gave an informal supper party last evening at her home in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Halsted E. Redfield, who were in Hartford yesterday, following a short trip in Boston, before going to New York for a few days. Mrs. Redfield was formerly Miss Lucy H. Penrose, whose marriage took place on Friday. Among the out-of-town guests attending the Redfield-Penrose wedding yesterday were Mr. and Mrs. William H. Penrose of New York, Mrs. Penrose being cousin of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. William F. Redfield of New Haven, parents of the bridegroom, and Mr. and Mrs. William G. Redfield of New Haven, brother and sister-in-law of the bridegroom.

Mr. and Mrs. Halsted E. Redfield will leave today for Billings, Mont. Mrs. Redfield was formerly Miss Lucy Harris Penrose, and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Penrose of No. 142 Steele road, West Hartford.

Feb - 17, 1921
daughter, Shirley Penrose, was married Thursday to Mr. and Mrs. Halsted E. Redfield of Syracuse, N. Y. Mrs. Redfield was formerly Miss Lucy Penrose and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Penrose of Steele road, West Hartford. Mr. and Mrs. Redfield will return to this city to live the first of April.

Loamli

Trinity Prof. H

Action Which S
EAST HARTFORD
OBSERVE GOLD

JOSIAH H. SMITH.

HICKMOTT JOINS NEW YORK

Prof. Perkins' Statement
Professor Henry A. Perkins, president of the college, was when interviewed by a "Connecticut" reporter last night. "Did you professor Humphrey to resign?" asked.

"I would not say that," he continued, "that you advised he ought to resign?" This Perkins admitted. Professor Humphrey declined to make any statement either to affirm or deny the suggestion to resign.

During the war Professor Humphrey was prominent in co-pro-German propaganda. He in various parts of the state war loans, and a signed article on "The Connecticut Way Loan" was printed in "The Connecticut" on April 6, last year, in the issue of the Victory Loan.

Professor Humphrey received degree of Bachelor of arts from University of Minnesota, and degree of master of arts and philosophy from Columbia University. He studied for a year at the University of Paris. Before coming to Trinity College he taught at the college of the City of New York and at Columbia University. He is well known to the education as the author of a work on ethics and religion in the days of time.

U. S. Peace Delegates Of Italian

Professor Humphrey of Trinity Was tribute Historical Data on Perplexing Southern Europe—It is Said That Our atives Needed the Light, Too.

AFTER the signing of the armistice, the statesmen of the world began preparations for the peace conference which they knew would follow within a short time. Various historical documents had to be prepared for the use of the allied and entente diplomats; documents which gave comprehensive outlines of the most important events of the history of modern Europe, Asia and Africa. And although it is not generally known, Edward P. Humphrey, professor of history and political science at Trinity College, played an important role in preparing this data for the use of the statesmen at Versailles and Paris.

Many people look only at one side of a conference such as that held recently at Versailles. Although the Congress of Vienna was in session almost a century ago, the impressions given to the average man by that congress regarding all diplomatic conferences has not passed. Then the host of visiting monarchs and statesmen under the leadership of Metternich, staged splendid parties, entertained lavishly, and devoted the greater part of their time to the banquet board, the wine table, and the ballroom.

Cable dispatches from the conference of the powers after the closing of the World War did much to give the public the impression that the Congress of Vienna system was still in vogue. There were stories which told at length of the receptions given by Woodrow Wilson; there were articles telling of entertainments which made those of Francis I and Metternich fade into insignificance. Thus, perhaps, came the impression that conferences of this nature are for the diplomats vacation trips which cost even less than the inexpensive Cook's tour. In this way, perhaps, the average man secured the opinion that the assembled statesmen did little or no real studying of the problems at hand, and discussed them only for a short period each day between receptions.

While it is true there were entertainments at Paris and Versailles, they were very, very insignificant compared with the work that was done. The settlement of boundary disputes according to the principle of nationality, the League of Nations and the Covenant and the many other points upon which decisions were reached were things which could not be discussed by anyone not having full knowledge of the conditions which made readjustment necessary. Not only did the various peace conference delegates require a complete knowledge of historical events of the modern world for ready information; they saw the need of having this information in such form that they could find instantly whatever information was desired.

Americans Needed Enlightenment.

This need was felt by all the representatives at the conference, no matter what their nationality. It was most keenly felt, though, by the statesmen from America. The World War marked the first incursion of the United States into active European politics. While it is possible that there were individuals who had a clear idea of the problems which have bothered the European diplomats for centuries, it is practically certain that there were few who had a thorough knowledge of all the essential parts of these problems. So here especially, was the need of some comprehensive outline of historical facts urgently felt.

Accordingly, Frank Maloy Anderson, professor of history at Dartmouth College, and Amos Sharle Hershey, professor of history and international law at the University of Indiana, were requested to prepare such an outline. Time was limited. The peace conference was to sit in a short time, and the book had to be ready for this meeting. The two editors immediately enlisted the services of several other well known American historical authorities to assist them in the work. Among these authorities was Professor Humphrey.

Professor Humphrey, although a keen student of all history, has made an especially thorough study of the history of Italy. He has written magazine articles and has delivered lectures on many phases of Italian history, and is considered as one of the foremost students in this branch in the United States. It is not strange, then, that the two editors should turn unquestionably to the Trinity professor for the articles which were to give the desired information on Italian questions which might be discussed at the Peace Conference.

At the time the call of the state department was sent to him, Professor

Got Their Knowledge Problems From Local Professor

7

Asked to Con- ing Tangles of Our Represent-

Humphrey was extremely busy. He had his work at Trinity—where it is said he has larger and more classes than any other professor who is giving advance work—he was lecturing before various organizations throughout the state, and he was working strenuously for the State Council of Defense and for the success of the various Liberty Loans. As has been stated previously, the diplomatic book was to be prepared immediately, which would mean that what little leisure the Trinity professor had for himself would be sacrificed. He did not hesitate for a second, though, and announced his willingness to do everything within his power to assist the representatives from the United States toward carrying on their work at one of the most momentous conferences the world has ever seen.

What is considered to be two of the most important articles written by Professor Humphrey were "The German Question, 1870-1871" and "The Treaty of Lausanne, 1912." Both of these topics furnished the material for debate at the Peace Conference, and it is said that the work of Professor Humphrey was invaluable to the American statesmen at the time these debates.

The first article by the Trinity professor so extremely interesting just because of the recent announcement that France was to send again a diplomatic representative to the Vatican. In his article, the break between Italy and the Pope is gone into in detail and the various agreements reached are clearly stated. Starting his paper with the withdrawal of the French troops from the Italian domains from July 29 to August 1870 because of the Franco-Prussian War, the fall of the French Empire, and the subsequent ineffectiveness of the September Convention as an effective guarantee for the safety of the Pope, and of the Patrimony of St. Peter against the aspirations of the Kingdom of Italy for the possession of the city of Rome, he traces the various developments there during the troublous years. Of interest to students of the relations between the Vatican and the Kingdom of Italy is the settlement of the papal question reached at by the Law of Guarantees, 1871, which passed the chamber of deputies by a vote of 185 to

PROFESSOR EDWARD F. HUMPHREY

In his article on the Treaty of Lausanne, Professor Humphrey relates the causes leading up to the war between Italy and Turkey in 1912, and the final settlement which ended the disagreement between the two powers.

Edward F. Humphrey was graduated from the University of Minnesota where he received his B. A. degree. He received the degrees of M. A. and Ph. D. from Columbia University, after which he spent a year in graduate work at the Sorbonne, University of Paris. In September 1915, he became Northman Professor of History and Political Science at Trinity, succeeding Professor P. Orman Ray. And it was with his coming that the work in political science at Trinity was developed to its present efficient stage. Previous to his arrival at the Hartford college, Professor Humphrey had taught history at the College of the City of New York and at Columbia University. He is the author of many books and articles on historical topics, the best known of which is "Politics and Religion in the Days of Augustine."

The high rank held by Professor Humphrey in his profession and the regard his contemporaries have for his qualities as a student of history were shown last week at the meeting of the New England History Teachers' Association, which has as members the heads of the history departments in all of the New England Colleges and high schools. There he was selected to lead the principal topic under discussion at the meeting. He is also a member of the text-books committee of the association.

"That is well deserved. 'Hit 'er hard' this week, Hartford. I want the department to give you special credit, which you deserve. It will be all the greater glory to be first in the district which stands first for the entire month of February. We are far ahead of our nearest competitor. It would be heart-breaking to be nosed out at the finish, but we will not be denied—we will win."

As to results, which, as Commander Beall might say, talk—they talk

Follow the Baseball and It'll Take You All Around the World
U. S. Navy Sport at Guantanamo Shows.

loud. Commander Beall took charge in November of last year and Lieutenant Spillane came to the Hartford office the same month. In the month of November, when the old methods were being used, New Haven stood forty-fifth among the fifty-one stations of the country, sixth from the bottom. In December, the first full month of the salesman system, New Haven went up to twentieth. January saw New Haven fifth for the country and February saw it out there in front, far ahead of all the others.

Three months with that human volcano in New Haven, three months of his aggressive business-like methods, three months of education of his working force, transforming them from sailor-men to sales-men, and

Even Roost

d the Father Time of Goose-Highly Indignant When We

and figuring about twenty eggs a year—which she continued to produce in vain hope of bringing a family of little yellow fellows into the world—makes 600 eggs.

Talk about the goose and the golden eggs—600 goose eggs at present prices are worth $150. If placed end to end they would reach about half way up the Travelers Tower. Their combined weight would be many times that of the old goose. Some goose! we say!

By RING W. LARDNER.

To the Editor:—

A GREAT MANY OF MY creditors and other pals has probably been wondering how come that whereas a year ago I was all most shaking hands with the referee in bankruptcy whereas I am now on my ft. again and pretty near got enough money to pay my grocery bill for last Nov.

Well friends when I find out a good thing I am not the kind of a bird that will keep it to myself but I will pass it along and tell my pals about it so as they can take advantages and pull themselves out of the hole the same like I did. But in order to give my pals the benefit of my experience I will half to begin at the beginning as they say and if you boys and girls can profit by my experience why so much the better as the saying goes.

Well about a year ago I was talking with my wife and myself one night and she says how is it that I and you are making about 200 berries per wk. or LESS and we owe everybody in Illinois except the gov. and on the other hand here is the Quayles liveing next doors to us and him only getting 40 thousand per annum and yet they seem to enjoy themselves a whole lot more than we and don't owe nothing.

So I said what of it.

"Well" she says "I been reading the magazines a whole lot lately and I seen a ad in one signed by the Rainy Day Corporation and its suppose to tell a husband and their wife how to get themselves on their ft. and the course only costs $3.00 so why not let us subscribe for it and you don't half to pay in advances but first you get the course and read it and then you can pretend like you don't care nothing about it and send it back to them and they refund you the 3 spot."

Idea Was Simple.

So I said all right like I usually do when she speaks to me at all and she sent for the course and it come in the form of 5 books witch I didn't have time to read but she read them and sent it back to them with the words that it wasn't no good, but at that it was good enough to get us out of our troubles and look at us now.

Well the idear was this in a few words. In the first place most of our debts was owed in driblets like ten dollars and the books says:

"If you owe ten dollars apiece to a whole lot of people in the same town why the idear is to quietly move out of that town as far as you can and move to some other town and the merchants and etc. back in the old town won't sew you because it would cost more than the debts is worth." So one night we quietly moved out of the old town and moved to Conn. and we haven't heard nothing since from people we owe money to in old Chi except a couple of threatening letters that scares a person about as much like as if Bryan said he wouldn't run.

Well the next lesson in the course was to get yourself a job that payed more money so one day I went down to N. Y. city and went in a man's office that I had heard about him and I said I wasn't getting enough money in old Chi so he said what did I want and I said I wanted a raise and he give it to me.

So as I say here we are living in Connecticut and get more salary than out in old Chi and all our debts repudiated and they can't sew us on acct. of how much it costs on acct. of the distants and here we are living in the lapse of luxury in Greenwich and all as we half to do is keep out of old Chi or else go there incognito and all on acct. of the wife seeing the Rainy Day Corporation ad in this here magazine witch the pure reading matter was so bad that she felt like she had to read the ads.

Now gents I don't want to take my testimony without no supports so I will tell you about a couple friends of mine along the same lines that was in pretty near a pickle like we and seen the same ad, and got the same results or better as follows: beginning with a letter I got from a friend of mine name Chas. Clarke as follows:

Testimonials For Course.

"Dear old Pal: You know how I and Mildred use to struggle along while I was earning $10.00 per wk. as clerk in the Bon Ton market with my uncle owned it and I was the only heir. Well one day Mildred read me the Rainy Day Corporation's ad in one of the magazines about how to pull yourself out of the rug so she wrote them and they wrote back adviseing me to quit being a clerk and become the prop. so

COOLEY HEADS NEW BANKING VENTURE

New Home of Mutual Bank & Trust Co.

Sept 1919

BUILDING UNDER CONSTRUCTION ON PEARL STREET.

At No. 20 Pearl street is being built a new building for the Mutual Bank & Trust Company. The main banking room will be of plain Greek order. The marble stylobate, up to the base of the pilasters, will form a wainscoting; the wall will be of imitation Caen stone, its surface broken by Roman Ionic engaged columns. The Hathaway & Stone, wholesale dealers; Seymour S. Kashman, real estate dealer; John G. Hawley, real estate and insurance broker; George F. Heublein, secretary of G. F. Heublein & Co., and Edward E. Claussen, mechanical engineer.

New Directors.

The meeting last night, held in temporary offices of the bank in the Hartford-Aetna Bank Building, those listed above—Messrs. Adams, Hathaway, Prentice and an—were added to the director-

Mutual Bank & Trust Company (Spring of the Industrial Real-estate & Guaranty Company, the of which permitted the private engaging in the banking business. At the time the directors voted to a bank, last May, application was made to the superior court to change the name of the corporation to one that was more significant of the nature of the business. When the bank opens for business on January 15, the change in name of the corporation will be effected.

entrance to the bank is obtained without stepping up or down, the main floor being on a line with the street level. Inside, near the door, are the desks of the officers, separated from the lobby by a bronze rail only. Along the wall are settees and checking desks especially made for convenience. Opposite these are the various windows for transaction of business. In the rear, and not visible from the lobby, is the women's department, connecting conveniently with men's rest room. The safe depositories and book vaults are also on the main floor, making it possible to transact every kind of business.

CO.

J. 15;

LECTED

It is especially noted that the building is designed to give intelligent service. Its architecture is especially designed to give the appearance of a man's office without causing an alarm to be given. A. D. T. headquarters. The building contains the latest of time clocks and other devices. There will also be a watchman service. In the event of the bank are the safe vaults for bulky valuables, telephone switchboard is located on the mezzanine floor, which is reached by means of a bronze stairway at the rear of the bank.

Rate toilet facilities for customers and clerks have been installed. Baths for the clerks are also provided.

Attention will be taken care of use of part of the mezzanine floor for the bookkeeping department and eventually all typewriters and adding machines, with the exception of one adding machine on the mezzanine floor, will be located on this floor, the result being a pleasing quiet atmosphere for the bank's customers.

Officers and Directors.

In addition to President Cooley, who is now with the Security Trust Company, the officers of the bank are: P. Tuttle, vice-president, and James Neal, secretary and treasurer. Mr. Tuttle is a prominent Hartford lawyer, and a former judge of the superior court. Mr. Neal, who has been in the staff of the state bank commissioner as an examiner, has been able to get a thorough insight into the methods of many representative institutions and his many suggestions in the line of efficiency and systems have been incorporated into the general plan of the bank. The directors of the bank are as follows:—

Mr. Aishberg, shoe merchant; S. Silver, of the firm of Silver & Sons, candy manufacturers; Ed-ward Grier, vice-president and manager of the Arrow Electric Company; George E. Prentice, president of the Prentice Manufacturing Company of New Britain; Kenneth Adams, of Adams, Merrill & Co., brokers; Ernest A. Hathaway, of Hathaway & Stone, wholesale dealers; Seymour S. Kashman, real estate dealer; John G. Hawley, real estate and insurance broker; George F. Heublein, secretary of G. F. Heublein & Co., and Edward E. Claussen, mechanical engineer.

At No. 20 Pearl street is being built a new building for the Mutual Bank & Trust Company. The main banking room will be of plain Greek order. The marble stylobate, up to the base of the pilasters, will form a wainscoting; the wall will be of imitation Caen stone, its surface broken by Roman Ionic engaged columns. The Hathaway & Stone, wholesale dealers; Seymour S. Kashman, real estate dealer; John G. Hawley, real estate and insurance broker; George F. Heublein, secretary of G. F. Heublein & Co., and Edward E. Claussen, mechanical engineer.

With our BIG BUSINESS—enables us to sell in a factory to you—means eliminating the middle and this saving in production costs—another in and this saving in selling cost is deducted from the finest merchandise obtainable.

From the lobby and cages. From the statements of President Cooley, who has worked tirelessly for an ideal business institution, it might be said that the bank has practically been built around the word "service."

COMMITTEE HEAD

Succeeds Dr. Rhein as Chairman of High School Board.

June 1923

The new high school committee at its organization meeting Tuesday afternoon elected Professor Edward F. Humphrey chairman, on the motion of Seymour S. Kashmann, to succeed Dr. Samuel Rhein. Upon the motion of Mrs. Lewis Rose, Mr. Kashmann was elected treasurer and upon motion of Mr. Kashmann, Mrs. Rose was elected secretary. The three leading official positions thus distributed among the three republican members who form the majority of the committee, an auditing committee was appointed consisting of Mrs. Rose and Dr. Rhein after Dr. Frank H. Vail had declined to serve. The committee adopted a new policy in regard to the appointment of teach-

TRINITY JUNIORS HONOR HUMPHREY

Another indication of Professor Edward F. Humphrey's popularity with the Trinity undergraduate body has come in the announcement that the Trinity Ivy, the year book of the junior class, has been dedicated to him. Announcement that this honor has been accorded the professor of history and political science, and the man whom Acting President Henry A. Perkins tried to oust from the faculty on the grounds of "incompatibility," was made to-day by John R. Reitemeyer, of Rahway, N. J., editor-in-chief of the book.

Few members of the faculty have been so honored. The Ivy last year had a triplicate dedication, the Rev. Flavel S. Luther, the retiring president, Theodore Roosevelt, an honorary alumnus of the college, and the twenty-one men who died in service all being honored.

1920

Communication of an applicants for teaching positions. There was no difference of opinion on this matter.

Principal William C. Holden, made request whether it would be satisfactory, to print on the letter heads of the new school "Weaver High School" instead of the longer title, chosen by the high school plan and building commission "Thomas Snell Weaver High School." Members of the committee were of the opinion that the high school committee and not the building commission should name the new high schools. No final action was taken. Bills amounting to $43,985.90 were approved, including salaries.

OSE
LD

Many Greet Mutual Bank & Trust Co. on Its First Day

ANT: WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 31, 1919.

er-Less Day" Or "Res

E TIME

the bicycle has surprised
m "old-fashioned" not so rybody rides again.
sales are jumping, too, all
inds spin along the roads,
om their work, as well as a pleasure jaunt.
of both kinds are advertis-
n the classified advertising
t."

BUSINESS SERVICE

Painting—Papering 24

PAINTING & DECORATING—Now is the time to clean your home. The cold weather comes nearer every day, and you want your home to have a good appearance for the holidays. Call up for the advice of experts. Rheiner Decorating Co. Tel. Charter 5482.

Sign Printing 24 1/2

SCHAEFER, the sign man, 15 Kinsley st. signs office lettering show cards, illustrating, designing. Tel. Ch. 2309

Printing—Stationery 26

GOOD PRINTING—Your printed matter is your representative; if that is poorly executed, you are poorly represented. Why not try us on your next printing order and be properly represented? Poriss & Joseph, printers, 72 Market st. Tel. Ch. 6582. "The House of Service."

Professional Services 27

FATAL INFLUENZA—

Pneumonia chronic catarrh, asthma and bronchitis easily overcome by E. B. R. Pneumonia Eradicator. One bottle sufficient for two or more critical cases. Botanical, $3.00. Prepaid on receipt of price.

EVERETT B. RICHMOND, M. CH.
P. O. BOX 175.
HARTFORD, CONN.

TRUSSES—Abdominal supports, spinal jackets and all appliances for physical deformities made and fitted. Consult H. L. Battlin, specialist, 70 Windsor ave. Ch. 436-14.

Repairing 28

CHAIRS RECANED—By expert chair maker, rattan and reed work of all kinds. Hills and Co., 8 Trumbull st. Flower baskets made to order.

MATRESSES UPHOLSTERED—Sp

EMPLOYMENT

Help Wanted—Female 32

POSITIONS OPEN FOR YOUNG WOMEN—

Applications being considered for the following:—

STENOGRAPHERS

Fast and accurate operators who can spell and punctuate correctly. (Dictating machines also used.)

MULTIGRAPH

Experience not essential.

MESSENGER GIRLS

All errand work inside office; good chance for advancement.

APPLY

FACTORY INSURANCE ASSOCIATION
266 PEARL ST., FIFTH FLOOR

SEWERS—

WANTED

FOR OUR ALTERATION DEPT

APPLY

RYAN'S SPECIALTY SHOP INC.
99 PRATT ST.

SIZERS AND TIERS—

GEORGE GRAVES.
Director.

ERNEST A. HATHEWAY
Director.

EDWARD R. GRIER
Director.

One of the larger of the midwinter weddings took place last evening at 8 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Stewart Wolfe on Adelaide avenue, Providence, R. I., when their daughter, Miss Hazel La Forge Wolfe, and James Joseph Wadsworth Barry of this city were married at the home of the bride's parents by the Rev. Dr. Edward Holyoke, pastor of the Calvary Baptist church in Providence. Banks of palms and ferns were used in the reception room, where the ceremony was performed. The doorways were hung with smilax and asparagus, with ferns of different varieties, grouped with cyclamen plants about the house, giving a general color effect of pink and green. This was also carried out in the decoration of the dining room, with bright pink carnations and freesia. The bride, who was attended by Miss Florence E. Baker as maid of honor and Miss Gwendolyn H. Wolfe as bridesmaid, was given in marriage by her father. The bride's dress was of white duchesse satin, fashioned in pannier model, with trimmings of fringed rosettes. Her tulle veil was arranged in cap effect, fastened at either side with orange blossoms, with a string of pearls across the back. She carried an arm bouquet of bride roses and freesia tied with chiffon. Miss Baker's dress was of Nile green and gold double-faced satin, wired below the waist and finished with rows of scalloping. The bridesmaid wore orchid satin, cut in pannier effect, and caught with ribbon bows, in a deeper shade of violet and blue, and carried a bouquet of Ophelia roses and farleyense fern, while the maid of honor's bouquet was of Premier roses. Jack J. Barry of Chicago was best man, and another brother, William Dudley Barry of this city; Arthur Purvis Loe-

PEGGY JOYCE GETS CLOSE TO MILLION

89

Settlement Out of Court by Husband Includes $80,000 in Cash, $800,000 in Jewels.

Chicago, November 8.—Peggy Hopkins Joyce, former chorus girl, will receive a lump sum of $80,000, two fur coats and jewels valued at $800,000, according to terms of a settlement reached outside of court with her millionaire husband, J. Stanley Joyce, Chicago lumberman, and filed to-day when hearing of his action to annul the marriage was reopened.

Mrs. Joyce relinquishes her right to a $250,000 home in Miami, Florida, which Joyce purchased for her shortly after their marriage, January 20, 1920, gives her husband a deed to his property in Connecticut, and returns $400,000 in jewels purchased from a Paris jeweler, but not paid for. The jeweler recently filed suit against Joyce here to collect on notes given for the gems. Mrs. Joyce also releases title to temporary alimony of $1,350 a month, awarded her last spring, but never paid by Joyce.

Joyce testified his assets aggregate $2,995,186

JOYCE DIVORCED FROM

PEGGY JOYCE IS IN COURT AGAIN

Peggy Joyce Loses Her Old Farm In Salisbury

Has to Give Up Connecticut Homestead as Result of Divorce Decree—"Home Farm" One of Picturesque Show Places.

(Special to The Courant.)

Salisbury, Nov. 13. This little town situated in the northern part of the Litchfield hills is to know no more the shimmering beauty of Peggy Hopkins Joyce. Picturesque as the artist's colony is, the former "Follies" girl, who won additional fame as an international beauty, heightened its color. But it is through no fault of Salisbury that the international beauty is to forsake the Litchfield countryside, but because of the divorce decree that makes her free from J. Stanley Joyce that robs her of the Salisbury home.

In Chicago the other day a court gave her her freedom from her husband and one condition was that Peggy Joyce relinquish "Home Farm," the Joyce homestead in Salisbury. This place the former husband is to retain with all the personal property and furnishings which represent a sum said to be $50,000. The former "Follies" girl gets her freedom for $80,000 in cash and jewelry and other personal property valued at $800,000. "Home Farm" is one of the show places of the many fine homes that nestle in the picturesque Litchfield hills.

PEGGY HOPKINS JOYCE.

al to The Courant).

New York, Dec. 14. Hopkins Joyce, former chorus girl, once had a home in Salisbury is in court again, this time in connection with a charge against her by her son, E. Basanko, of Port Long Island. He is charged with having taken $2,000 deposit in the bank at Salisbury.

Her actress, whose husband has been numerous, and who has been blacklisted by all American picture companies, after her testimony yesterday, with money. She couldn't say whether she had ever given her jewelry, which she valued at $1,000,000, to keep, nor remember whether she had $12,000 in the bank when she went to Europe the last time. The trip that reached its end in the suicide of an attaché, his unrequited love for her said that she was chiefly in getting her money back, rather sorry for the poor end of taking it.

she wore a sealskin coat collar and cuffs, a small to match the coat, a long mague silk stockings and

PEGGY JOYCE WEDS SWEDISH COUNT IN FOURTH MATRIMONIAL TRIAL

—[Copyright, Underwood & Underwood.]

PEGGY HOPKINS JOYCE.

New York, June 4.—After a courtship which lasted four weeks, Peggy Hopkins Joyce married Count Costa Morner of Sweden, in Atlantic City, Monday afternoon. This was Miss Joyce's fourth matrimonial venture.

Finding it impossible to obtain accommodations at the Hotel Ambassador, where Count Morner has maintained bachelor quarters, on their return to this city last night, the couple spent the night at the bride's apartment on East 52nd street. They will spend the next few days together here and then the count will go to Chicago on business. In July or August they expect to sail for Europe, where the count will devote his time to painting.

The Swedish nobleman became acquainted with Miss Joyce through a letter of introduction from a mutual friend in Sweden. At the time of their meeting the actress was playing in The Vanities in Chicago. Count Morner and his bride met again by arrangement in Atlantic City last Friday and immediately applied for a marriage license.

The bridegroom, who is president of the Stomatal Company of America, manufacturers of toothpaste, with offices at Highland Park, Ill., is the son of Count Burger Morner of Stockholm. He is twenty-four years old.

Mr. and Mrs. Horatio H. Armstrong of Quaker Lane, West Hartford, will entertain at dinner this evening in honor of Miss Elizabeth Way, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Way of Prospect avenue, who made her debut last evening. The guests will include Miss Way's house guests, Miss Polly Frost, Miss Polly McKinney, Miss Florence Brayton, Kenneth Wood, David Gilmore, David Brayton, Norman Lee, Mr. Finkenstead and Fredrick L. Way, brother of the debutante.

Over 400 guests attended the given by Mr. and Mrs. John Way of Prospect avenue in their daughter, Miss Elizabeth last evening in the assembly the Hartford club. The room attractively decorated with palms and southern smilax, with banyan green in the corners and at stage. The crystal chandelier dows were festooned with the as were the loggia and anteroom beneath the platform, were many flowers sent to the d he roses largely Columbia r chids, violets, sweet peas, c freezia as well as the more loned blossoms, making a bri ray of color. Receiving with l and Miss Way were Miss Flore ton of Fall River, Mass., M McKinney of Columbia, Tenn., Polly Frost of New York T in the southwest corner of before a bank of palms and fe formal arrangement of cluster ers in the various shades of the anteroom, which was u lounge, were a number of t card-playing. The music was by Wittstein's orchestra of ven. At 11:30 o'clock a seat was served in the main din of the club.

Mr. and Mrs. John L. Way spect avenue entertained at d evening, preceding the dance the Hartford club for their Miss Elizabeth Way. Covers for twenty-four, the out of to being the following, who are t guests for the week-end. Miss Kinney of Columbia, Tenn., Polly Frost of New York, of Miss Way at the Misses school at Dobbs' Ferry, N. Florence Brayton of Fall Riv Kenneth Wood of Buffalo, N. Gilmore of Sewickly, Penn., Da ton of Fall River, Mass., No and Mr. Finkenstead, the yo all of whom are students university, having been clas the debutante's brother, Frede their course having been in by war service.

Among those entertain honor of Miss Evelyn Way ney, whose marriage to H Manning took place yester noon, were Miss Elizabeth No. 796 Prospect avenue, a kitchen shower Monda Dorothy Bill of No. 1 Sycamore lane, who gave a luncheon Wednes day followed by a tea that afternoon.

Jan Breed-Goddard. 24
Miss Marjori Goddard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ellis Goddard, of No. 144 Woodland street, and Franklin Nelson Breed, son of the late George Breed and Julia (Hall) Breed, were married at the home of the bride Saturday night. Rev. Dr. Peter C. Wright, pastor of the Asylum Avenue Baptist Church, performed the ceremony. Only relatives were present. The bride wore a dress of white satin and silver, with a tulle veil, and carried a shower bouquet of white

Miss Evelyn Way McBurney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Reed McBurney of Elizabeth street, and Howard Roberts Manning, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward James Manning of Sigourney street, will be married this evening at 6 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, by the Rev. Dr. Rockwell Harmon Potter, pastor of Center church house, in the presence the two families only. The bride, who will be given in marriage by her father, will be unattended. She will wear a dress of

MRS. HOWARD R. MANNING

Mrs. Howard R. Manning was formerly Miss E. Way McBurney and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel R. McBurney of No. 41 Elizabeth Jan Bourn-Prentiss. 24 place yesterday afternoon.

Miss Ruth Prentiss, daughter of Dr. C. C. Prentiss and Mrs. Prentiss of No. 330 Prospect avenue, and Donald Bourn, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Bourn of No. 430 Prospect avenue county, Mr. Sperry were married Saturday evening at the town in the home of the bride's parents by Rev. Dr. Herbert J. White, pastor of the First Baptist Church. Only immediate relatives were present. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a dress of white lace and satin and a tulle veil, fastened with orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of roses. Miss Prentiss is a state normal school graduate and has been teaching in the Northeast School. She is the secretary of the Junior McAll Mission. Mr. Bourn, who is employed by the Travelers Insurance Company, served as an ensign in the navy during the war.

WIN C. DICKENSON IS NAMED FOR JUDGESHIP OF COURT OF COMMON PLEAS

Bride of Miss Helen
Mr. and Mrs. H.
Montclair, N. J.
mer Redfield, so Edward Daniel
Kenyon street,
8-20 o'clock

MRS. CHARLES HOSMER REDFIELD

Mrs. Charles Hosmer Redfield's marriage took place last evening in Montclair, N. J. She was formerly Miss Helen Spies and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hull Spies. Mr. and Mrs. Redfield will live in this city.

popular one with the bar in Hartford and throughout Hartford county. He was graduated from Trinity College in 1909, and from Yale Law School in 1912. Passing the Connecticut bar examinations, Judge Creedon practiced law in the office of Stewart N. Dunning. He has been chairman of the Sixth ward republican committee and has represented that ward on the republican town committee. He was his party's choice for fourth councilman from his ward in 1913, and made a creditable showing, running ahead of his ticket.

The other Hartford police court judge is Francis A. Pallotti.

Governor Marcus H. Holcomb Appoints Hartford Police Judge to Succeed Judge Edward L. Smith, Who Resigns to Become United States District Attorney.

APPOINTEE YALE LAW SCHOOL GRADUATE, 1902

George Edwin C. Dickenson of the Hartford police court was yesterday appointed judge of the court of common pleas for Hartford county by Governor Marcus H. Holcomb, to succeed Judge Edward L. Smith, appointed United States district attorney in by, resigned. He will take office on January 1st, when Judge Smith becomes judge of the police court. He is a young lawyer, named, and he has been appointed entered the special prosecutor's office at that time. He was born in New York, but he was one of the South High School graduates, the latter with whom he went to college. He was graduating up the city.

member of the Seventh ward of the city.

brother of the late Judge Smith, and has been a well-known member of the bar.

EDWIN C. DICKENSON.

He is a candidate for the position to be vacated by Judge Smith, the aspirants being republicans and democrats, the latter clinging to the hope that, as Judge Smith was a democrat, the governor would go outside his own party for a judge and select one of the party to which the retiring judge belonged. Judge Dickenson, a Yale man, succeeds another Yale man, and it was at a Yale alumni dinner, at which Judge Smith spoke for "Young Yale," that he attracted the attention of Governor Simeon E. Baldwin, another Yale man, who appointed him judge of the common pleas court.

—[Photo by C. A. Johnstone.]

MISS ISABELLA B. MCBURNEY April 9, 1921

Miss Isabella B. McBurney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel R. McBurney of Elizabeth street, and Edward Albert Rockwell, son of Mrs. Elizabeth Rockwell of New York, will be married this evening at 6 o'clock at the Church of the Transfiguration (Little Church Around the Corner) New York. The bride, who will be unattended, will be given in marriage by her father. She will wear a dress of gray canton crepe, with a hat to match, and will wear a corsage bouquet. Following the ceremony, a bridal dinner will be served for the members of the immediate families. Mr. and Mrs. Rockwell will leave immediately afterwards for a wedding trip and upon their return, they will live in New York. The bride was graduated from the Hartford Public High school with the class of 1915 and has been studying for the past two years at the Parsons School of Applied Art in New York. Mr. Rockwell is president of the Rockwell Manufacturing company of New York.

JUDGE E. L. SMITH QUITS COURT BEN

Judge Smith Becomes U. S. Attorney

Resigns to Become U. S. Attorney Starting Janu- ary 24.

Judge Edward L. Smith, who been nominated and confirmed United States district attorney Connecticut, as successor of John Crosby, yesterday forwarded to Governor Marcus H. Holcomb, his resignation as judge of the court of common pleas of this county.

The letter of resignation is as follows:

My dear Governor:

I resign the office of judge of the court of common pleas for Hartford county for the term ending May 9, 1924, the resignation to take effect on January 24, 1924, or on other day suitable to yourself.

I have reached the conclusion to do only with great reluctance, impelled by consideration that applied to me imperative. You have shown me such uniform kindness and generosity in so many ways that I cannot send this resignation to you without adding an expression of my personal thanks and appreciation.

I am proud to have served the United States district of Connecticut under the governorship of yourself and your predecessor.

Yours respectfully,

Edward L. Smith

Hon. Marcus H. Holcomb,
Governor of Connecticut,
Hartford, Conn.

Governor Holcomb, in accepting the resignation of Judge Smith, who is retiring from the court of common pleas, Henry J. C.

My dear Judge Smith: I have received your letter of this date resigning your position as judge, to take effect on the twenty-fourth instant. I regret that you feel compelled to take this step, but I appreciate the reasons which have influenced your action, and from your viewpoint of personal interest I am satisfied that your decision is wise.

You have filled the position you are vacating with a judicial ability and integrity which has commanded the universal respect of the lawyers who have practiced in your court, which to my mind is as high a commendation as a judge can have. Of course, I must accept your resignation, and in doing so I wish you the fullest measure of success in your future legal practice.

Judge Smith said yesterday he would assume the office of district attorney on January 24.

$1,500,000 INCREASE IN TRAVELERS STOCK

Jan 19, 1920
Directors Vote to Raise Capital From $6,000,000 to $7,500,000.

11-Story Building to Be Erected—4 Per Cent. Special Dividend.

MARGARET CURZON HALE ENGAGED

Wellesley 1919 Girl, Granddaughter of Late Rev. Edward Everett Hale, D. D., to Be Married to Lieutenant Gilbert G. Thorne, Jr.

Announcement is made by Captain and Mrs. John Oakman of 3 West Sixteenth street, New York, of the engagement of Mrs. Oakman's daughter, Miss Margaret Curzon Hale, to Lieutenant Gilbert G. Thorne, Jr., whose father, Gilbert G. Thorne, resides at 44 West Fifty-first street, New York. Miss Hale, who is of the Wellesley College class of 1919, is the daughter of the late Herbert D. Hale of Boston, and a granddaughter of the late Rev. Edward Everett Hale, D. D. She is a sister of First Lieutenant Herbert Dudley Hale, formerly of the Boston Transcript staff and now attached to the Aviation Section of war service in France. He previously served for eighteen months with the American Ambulance Service in France. Lieutenant Thorne is a Williams College man, but left college last year to go into military service. He was commissioned at Fort Myer, Va., and it now attached to the 313th Machine Gun Battalion, at Camp Lee, Va. Captain Oakman, U. S. R., Miss Hale's step-father, is now in service in France, where he is with the Engineer Corps. No date has been set for the marriage of Miss Hale to Lieutenant Thorne. In 1892, these first increases being made from surplus.

Jan 31
Miss Margaret Curzon Hale daughter, by a former marriage of Mrs. John Oakman of New York and granddaughter of the late Edward Everett Hale, and Gilbert G. Thorne, Jr., were married Saturday in the chantry of Grace church, New York, by the rector, the Rev. Dr. Charles Lewis Slattery. The bride was graduated in June, from Wellesley college and Mr. Thorne served during the war in the 313th Machine Gun battalion.

BUILDING.

weeks' business trip, going to at once.

States District Attorney Smith, and Special States District Attorney, hold office under the attorney general recommended by the office at the time of Judge Smith said the slightest idea of removal as his objection to the district attorney's good working order, and no changes even stenographers.

it is understood, changes in the personnel of the personnel.

ers Ining yes-
ease the ny from stock to
t par in
of new
ad issue.
the ap-
nittee to ten-story
on land
Connecti-
tal meet-
lled for recom-

cent. was ble Feb-
record at day; the
the new olders of scriptions
or before
rest will
made in ants will h 1. The pany will

elers has business
capital of
so rap-
pital was 5 it was $1,000,000
being

During the last ten years the Travelers has grown even more rapidly. In 1908 the capital was increased to $2,000,000; in 1910 to $2,500,000; in 1913 to $5,000,000 and in 1916 to $6,000,000, these increases being provided for by cash subscribed by stockholders. In 1913 a cash dividend of $100 was declared. The rights of subscription for the new stock have been valuable and in 1913 those given at that time sold for $500. With Travelers stock now in the vicinity of $780 the rights should be worth approximately $136.

The Travelers during the last year has made a great expansion. The purchase of the Connecticut Humane Society property and the adjoining home of Thomas Green, founder of "The Courant," was announced simultaneously with that of "The Times" property. The site for the new eleven-story building, which will be similar in architecture to the present Travelers building, will be cleared of the present buildings. The Woods building, occupied in part by Bond's restaurant and a heating plant, will later be razed. "The Times" property will not be disturbed until the removal to its new home on Prospect street.

William B. Clark, president of the Aetna (Fire) Insurance Company; Judge E. B. Bennett; Charles L. Spencer, president of the Connecticut River Banking Company; John L. Way, vice-president of the Travelers, and Louis F. Butler, president, are the building committee appointed yesterday.

There is very little change in the life insurance company stocks, Travelers Insurance Company being the most active during the week. The market has been rather erratic, with sales ranging from 760 to as high as 780. Late Saturday noon came the announcement that the Travelers Insurance Company would increase its capital from $5,000,000 to $7,500,000. Stockholders will be offered the privilege of subscribing to the new stock at par, $100 per share, in the proportion of one (1) new share for each four (4) shares now held.

Wilbur S. Sherwood.

Wilbur S. Sherwood.

Wilbur S. Sherwood, the new assistant cashier of the Travelers Insurance Company was for fourteen years employed by the Connecticut Trust & Safe Deposit Company, going to the Travelers two years ago. He attended the public schools in this city and was graduated from a business college. He was prominent in Hartford Chapter American Institute of Banking. Since his connection with the Travelers Mr. Sherwood has been in the executive department. In January, 1919, he led all other Travelers employees in a war savings stamp sales contest.

Travelers —

INCREASE FROM ZACHER ELECTED TO DIRECTORATE Jan 27 Travelers Indemnity Treas- urer Added to Board— Officers Chosen.

L. Edmund Zacher, treasurer and director of the Travelers Insurance Company and a member of the board of trustees of the Hartford-Connecticut Trust Company, was elected a director of the Travelers Indemnity Company at the annual meeting yesterday morning. William B. Clark, president of the Aetna (Fire) Insurance Company, and Louis F. Butler, president of the Travelers, were re-elected directors of the indemnity company for a period of three years. Mr. Zacher was elected for the same term, increasing the board of eight to nine.

L. EDMUND ZACHER.

Reports showed that the income for 1919 was $6,061,608 and the total payments to policyholders were $7,144,420, while $1,411,044 was paid for prevention of accidents. Officers of the indemnity company were re-elected yesterday as follows: Louis F. Butler, president; John L. Way, vice-president; James H. Coburn, secretary; L. Edmund Zacher, treasurer.

MR. PALACHE GETS BIG INSURANCE JOB

To Be U. S. Manager of Commercial Union Assurance Company.

Whitney Palache, vice-president of
the Hartford Fire Insurance company,

will succeed
United State
cial Union
affiliated co
information
Wray Thurs
while still in ice of fifty-
and thirty-s
cial Union,
years of w
States mana

In his new
take up whi
big jobs in United State
cial Union,
London, pre
Union of Ne
American Ce
the Californ
of this gro
000,000 in fir

Mr. Palac
Hartford Fir
up his new

"We are,
lose Mr. Pal
ard M. Bisse
"The Comme
a generous o
accept."

Just what

ficers of the Hartford Fire will result from Mr. Palache's resignation. Mr.
Bissell could not say to-day. He was of the opinion that several changes as the result of promotions, would result from Mr. Palache's leaving the company.

Mr. Palache's associates are sure he will bring to his new work a splendid equipment in experience, ability and character. He is not as well known among company officials as are most men holding such important positions,
as he came from the Pacific coast less than seven years ago and his official duties have kept him close to the home office in Hartford. He is now approaching 54 years of age and has had thirty-
two years' experience in fire insurance.
He was born in San Francisco. He attended the University of California, but the condition of his health

No decision has been made regarding Mr. Palache's successor with the local companies. The annual meeting of the Hartford Fire Insurance Company will be held Wednesday, February 11, and a new vice-president is likely to be chosen at that time and it is believed that one of the present officers of the Hartford Fire
will be promoted to that office. The Hartford Fire has another vice-president, James Wyper, who has been particularly prominent in the formation
of the new American-Foreign Insurance Association, of which the Hartford is as a member.

Mr. Palache has been for thirty-two years engaged in the fire insurance
business. Born in San Francisco, he attended the University of California,
but, on account of poor health, he did
not complete his course. From 1888
to 1895 he was a special agent of the Union of San Francisco and later for
the Hartford Fire, he then becoming
assistant manager of the Pacific Coast
Department of the latter. He was
later a member of the firms of Belden
& Palache and Palache & Hewitt. In 1912 he was elected vice-president of
the Hartford Fire Insurance Company
and has since lived in this city.

WHITNEY PALACHE.

WHITNEY PALACHE TO SELL HIS HOME IN FARMINGTON SOON

Whitney Palache, vice president of
the Hartford Fire Insurance Company,
who is to remove to New York and become United States manager of the Commercial Union Insurance Company, will begin his new duties the first of March. He has not yet secured a home for his family in New York or its vicinity and they will continue to live in Farmington until he does secure a place.

Mr. Palache intends to sell his beautiful place in Farmington. When he secured the place he had a pond
dammed and this pond in winter is the skating rink for the students at Miss Porter's school. The work of making this pond cost considerable money. Mr. Palache would like to make the school a gift of the pond so the girls could always have a skating
place and there was a report in Farmington that he had done this. He said yesterday that when he sold his place he would endeavor to make a provision so the girls could use the pond and he said he would make an outright gift of it if he could but he could not foresee the wishes of a probable purchaser of the property in the matter and it would not be good judgment to separate the pond and adjoining land from the rest of the estate.

Mr. Palache came here from San Francisco and has lived in Farmington about six weeks. He said he enjoyed it there very much, as it was a beautiful spot to live in.

PALACHE LEAVING FOR EAST ORANGE, N.

Whitney Palache, former vice-president of the Hartford Fire Insuran-Company, and family are leaving their home at Farmington for the new home at East Orange, N. J., th week. Mr. Palache resigned fro the local company several months a to become head of the Commerci Union and the group of importa companies known in insurance circ
as "the Commercial Union fleet."
headquarters are now in New Yo
City.

Hartford Fire Agents Honor Retiring Vice-Presi- dent.

A resolution of regret at the resignation of Whitney Palache as vice-president of the Hartford Fire Insurance Company was unanimously adopted yesterday morning by the special agents of the company, representing all Eastern states. The agency convention, which opened on Wednesday,
closed yesterday.

Tributes to the work done by Mr.
Palache during the eight years in which he has been vice-president, were
paid by other officers of the company
and the retiring vice-president thanked his former associates. Mr. Palache
will be United States manager for the Commercial Union Insurance Company
and at the head of the prominent companies in this country associated with
that company.

Jan 30

May 1920

Feb 7 1920

Bride of Harry Allen Cooke, Jr., of Boston—Ceremony Performed
in Skinner Chapel

Holyoke, Jan. 31—One of the most notable and elaborate social events

WEDNESDAY MARCH 24, 1920.

FINANCIAL NOTES.

The Superior Steel Co., has declared
2% on its preferred stocks and 1 1/2 on common, the latter being previously 1 1/4 including extras. This is "regular."

The Hanover National Bank of New York has declared $1 a share quarterly dividend of 8%.

The Pacific Development Corporation has declared $1 a share quarterly dividend.

The Nova Scotia Steel Company has declared 2% on preferred, 1 1/4 on common.

Julius Kayser Company declared
2% on preferred, 2% on common.

McAndrews & Forbes has declared
2% on preferred, 2 1/2 on common.

The Providence Washington Insurance Company of Providence declared quarterly dividend of 4%.

The National Bank of Commerce of Providence has declared 3% semi-annual with 2% extra.

Dividends.

	Stock of	Pay- Record, able,
Acanda Copper, q. $1....	Apr 17	May 14
Bank of Manhattan Co., q.
Central Leather, q. 1 1/4 %	Mar 27	Apr 1
Deer Corp., q. 75c....	Apr 1	May 1
Merchell-Spillman Motor	Apr 5	Apr 15
do, q. 2%.....	Mar 25	Apr 1
do ex, 1 1/2 %.....	Mar 26	Apr 1
do do pf, q. 2%.....	Mar 25	Apr 1
Cord Mfg Co., Inc., q. $1....	Mar 22	Apr 1
do do pf, 1 1/4 %.....	Mar 22	Apr 1
Mexican Invest Co., pf. 4%.....	Mar 25	Apr 1
on Salt Mfg Co., q. 2 1/2 %.....	Mar 31	Apr 15
Standard Sanitary Mfg Co.,
do, 100%.....	Mar 29	Apr 10
terior Steel, q. $1.50....	Apr 15	May 1
Winghouse & B. Co., q. $1.75....	Apr 1	Apr 30

Coffee Futures.

New York, March 23.—There was further liquidation of hedge selling in the market for coffee futures here today, and the opening 3 to 8 points lower active trading sold about seven to twelve points below last night's closing figures. May closed at 14.30 and closed at 14.29 with General list showing a net decline of points on March, while May and later

ver cloth and draped skirt, the trimmings being silver embroidery on tulle. She carried a bouquet of orchids.

An orchestra stationed in the ballroom under a canopy of southern smilax and white carnations had been playing gala music during the reception and the wedding supper, for which cuisine had catered, and later

with their snappiest selec-inspiration for the dancing
which the bridal party and ests rounded out the joy-tion. The dance hall was with a large pillar in the inged with a pyramid of southern smilax and bas-
with white carnations and
s. The color scheme of white was carried out en-
the corridor were baskets
lowers, pussywillows and

THE Mer Corporation

a steady and growth for 64 years
products are staple
subject to fluctua-
fashions.

Sales for the nine months
1919, were $1,187,985.
times the Preferred Diviand Common Stocks are rate of 8%.

Net Tangible Asset,
outstanding Preferred, (par $25) on the Common does not carry Goodwill in view of the Company
record, this is of considerable

Merrimac Hat Corpora-
8% Common are closely value, and are an attractive quotations.

Hollister,

NEW YORK
Providence

Springfield

me the bride, who had disappeared in her going-ne of black duvetine, with savy blue embroidery both pick. Her hat was of blue
e wore a raccoon fur coat.
s out-of-town guests one s from Springfield, North-
d Boston, the bridegroom's
sister and husband, Mr
gent Eaton, and their lit-
Bettie, of Portland, Me.; John Denholme, Miss
enholme and Mr and Mrs
holme of Worcester, Mrs
an Allen of Newton and including the Towne
lams college and Prescott
le. The floral decorations, and chapel, and bound the artistic skill of Miss
were very unusual.

ng presents were not on
evening of the wedding.

many and beautiful and
by the friends priv-
aw them at the tea at the
ome Friday afternoon,

Hickey, the Maple street
anged for the centerpiece
in the dining room with freeseas and asparagus
of the last pre-nuptial
a luncheon at Nonotuck
te dining room, given by Dwight this noon, fol-
e rehearsal at Skinner

INCORPORATED
morning. Covers were

50 Cong
BOS
ven, the guests beside the
the young women of the

For this Miss Hickey
ged as a centerpiece a ket filled with bride roses
is and each guest found ce a nosegay of the same

mediate destination of the dded young people is a t after a little they are Lake Placid and possibly n to the city for a few
e going to their new home
ondon, Ct.

ORD RESIDENT IS MAN AT HOLYOKE,
3., SOCIETY WEDDING

pecial to The Courant.)

Holyoke, Mass., Jan. 31.

Day of Hartford, was best
he wedding tonight of Miss
orrow, daughter of Mrs.
Morrow, to Harry Allen

Cooke, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Allen Cooke of Brookline, Mass. The wedding, which is one of the leading social events of the season, took place at the Skinner Memorial Chapel.
Rev. Dr. E. A. Reed officiated. Miss Barbara Weaver of Thompson, Conn., was one of the four bridesmaids.

FREDERICK C. MOORE.

GILBERT A. RUSSELL.

Mrs. Morrow, the bride's mother wore a gown of black satin with overdress of fine white lace. Her ornaments were pearls and her flowers orchids and white roses. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Cooke wore black satin with bodice of heavy sil-

MR. PALACHE GETS BIG INSURANCE JOB

To Be U. S. Manager of Commercial Union Assurance Company

Whitney Palache, vice
the Hartford Fire Insurance

will succeed
United States
cial Union, a
affiliated co
Information
Wray Thurs
while still in
ice of fifty-
and thirty-s
cial Union,
years of w
States mana

In his new
take up whi
big jobs in United States
cial Union, a London, pre
Union of Ne
American Ce
the Californ
of this grou
000,000 in fir

Mr. Palac
Hartford Fir
up his new

"We are,
lose Mr. Pal
ard M. Bisse
"The Comm
a generous o
accept."

Just what WHIT
ficers of the
from Mr. Palache's resi Bissell could not say to-d
of the opinion that severa
the result of promotions.

from Mr. Palache's leav
pany.

Mr. Palache's associates
will bring to his new wor
equipment in experience, character. He is not as among company officials
men holding such importa
as he came from the Pacifi
than seven years ago and duties have kept him close office in Hartford. He is m ing 54 years of age and has two years' experience in fi
He was born in San Franc tended the University of C
the condition of his head

No decision has been ma
ing Mr. Palache's successo local companies. The annu

of the Hartford Fire Insur
pany will be held Wednes
uary 11, and a new vice is likely to be chosen at and it is believed that o
present officers of the Hartford Fire
will be promoted to that office. The Hartford Fire has another vice-presi
dent, James Wyper, who has been par
ticularly prominent in the formation
of the new American-Foreign Insur
ance Association, of which the Hart
ford is as a member.

Mr. Palache has been for thirty-two years engaged in the fire insurance
business. Born in San Francisco, he attended the University of California,
but, on account of poor health, he did
not complete his course. From 1888
to 1895 he was a special agent of the Union of San Francisco and later for
the Hartford Fire, he then becoming
assistant manager of the Pacific Coast
Department of the latter. He was
later a member of the firms of Belden
& Palache and Palache & Hewitt. In 1912 he was elected vice-president of
the Hartford Fire Insurance Company
and has since lived in this city.

WHITNEY PALACHE TO SELL HIS HOME IN FARMINGTON SOON

Whitney Palache, vice president of
the Hartford Fire Insurance Company.

THE HARTFORD DAILY COURANT

New Vice-President Hartford Fire

FREDERIC C. WHITE

vention, which opened on Wednesday,
closed yesterday.

Tributes to the work done by Mr.
Palache during the eight years in
which he has been vice-president, were
paid by other officers of the company
and the retiring vice-president thank
ed his former associates. Mr. Palache
will be United States manager for the Commercial Union Insurance Company
and at the head of the prominent com
panies in this country associated with
that company.

Jan 30, 1913

Bride of Harry Allen Cooke, Jr., of Boston—Ceremony Performed in Skinner Chapel

Holyoke, Jan. 31—One of the most notable and elaborate social events

WEDNESDAY MARCH 24, 1920.

Hartford Fire's Assistant Secretaries

THOMAS H. SCOTLAND.

CHARLES S. KREMER.

FREDERICK C. MOORE.

GILBERT A. RUSSELL.

Mrs. Morrow, the bride's mother wore a gown of black satin with overdress of fine white lace. Her ornaments were pearls and her flowers orchids and white roses. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Cooke wore black satin with bodice of heavy silver cloth and draped skirt, the trimmings being silver embroidery on tulle. She carried a bouquet of orchids.

An orchestra stationed in the ballroom under a canopy of southern smilax and white carnations had been playing gala music during the reception and the wedding supper, for which cuisine had catered, and later ere with their snappiest selection an inspiration for the dancing with which the bridal party and guests rounded out the joy-bration. The dance hall was five, with a large pillar in the arranged with a pyramid of and southern smilax and based with white carnations and lilies. The color scheme of and white was carried out end in the corridor were baskets of flowers, pussywillows and a time the bride, who had disappeared, reappeared in her going-stunne of black duvetine, with f heavy blue embroidery both d back. Her hat was of blue l she wore a raccoon fur coat. the out-of-town guests one ends from Springfield, North- and Boston, the bridegroom's her sister and husband, Mr Sargent Eaton, and their lit- ter, Bettie, of Portland, Me.; Mrs John Denholme, Miss Denholme and Mr and Mrs Denholme of Worcester, Mrs vman Allen of Newton and ers, including the Towne Williams college and Prescott, Yale. The floral decorations, hotel and chapel, and bou- owed the artistic skill of Miss l were very unusual.

ding presents were not on e evening of the wedding.

many and beautiful and nired by the friends priv- view them at the tea at the home Friday afternoon, s Hickey, the Maple street ranged for the centerpiece ple in the dining room with of freesias and asparagus e of the last pre-nuptial is a luncheon at Nonotuck ate dining room, given by ra Dwight this noon, fol- he rehearsal at Skinner the morning. Covers were even, the guests beside the r the young women of the ty For this Miss Hickey nged as a centerpiece a sket filled with bride roses ias and each guest found ace a nosegay of the same mediate distination of the edded young people is a it after a little they are Lake Placid and possibly rn to the city for a few e going to their new home London, Ct.

ORD RESIDENT IS MAN AT HOLYOKE, 3., SOCIETY WEDDING

(Special to The Courant.)

Holyoke, Mass., Jan. 31. Day of Hartford, was best he wedding tonight of Miss Morrow, daughter of Mrs. (Mrs) Morrow, to Harry Allen

Cooke, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Allen Cooke of Brookline, Mass. The wedding, which is one of the leading social events of the season, took place at the Skinner Memorial Chapel. Rev. Dr. E. A. Reed officiated. Miss Barbara Weaver of Thompson, Conn., was one of the four bridesmaids.

of this city, son of Mrs. John of Maplewood, N. J., and Miss Marion Aiken, daughter of Mr. Friend Martin Aiken of New. married Monday afternoon in XVI, suite of the St. Regis, by the Rev. Dr. Walter B. pastor of the Broadway P church. Owing to the illne bride's father, he was unal present and she was given in n her brother, Donald M. Aiken a dress of white satin, emb pearls and cut with a court tulle veil was fastened wi deau of pearls and she carrie bouquet of white orchids ar the valley. Her sister, Mattheys, who was the matro was dressed in orchid chiff hat to match and she carrie bouquet of orchids and s The bridesmaids were Miss M Guine, Miss Jeannette And

COLLEGE DEGR FOR GRANDM

Mrs. Stearns, Gra
Hartf French
Years
bition With
For

From a Hartford w taken fro
telling of seventy-sev
though mo
lated the r
many Har
those who degree was city. Says

"Of all
none recei
she came diploma
Stearns, w
professors Scarborough of
is the prou
boys and
her from w
her life sh
the gentle
rearing he
them throu
had the op
Mrs. Stearn
ident of th
Claremont,
scholastic a
time in Europe and largely in France
the club pr
gold watch.

Mrs. Stearns, w
from the class of 18
she gained gree. Her h Stearns, w
at the Har
and he lat
boys here,
street. The Hartford a
Charles M
London in
Y. M. C. A
at the Asy
good star
Among t Stearns at
and Mrs. Robert Lovett, Boston, Mass., Collins, Cha
Shepard, n
Susan T. C

For her work
wounded and th
tated sections of Scarborough of
the Medaille d
announcement of the honor was made to day in New York by the American Committee for Devastated France. Miss Scarborough is an aunt of Captain Cl ence C. Scarborough of this city.
During the twenty-seven years pr
ceding the outbreak of the war in 1917,
Miss Scarborough spent most of her
time in Europe and largely in France
and Switzerland. In 1914 she returned to this country and became secretary of the national committee of the Ameri can Fund for French Wounded direct ing much of the work at the New York
headquarters. When the American Com mittee for Devastated France was formed she became secretary of that also. A recent report showed that be tween July 1918 and July 1919, this committee raised more than $1,000,000
for relief work in France
Among the other recipients of decora tions are Miss Anne Morgan and Mrs.
Anne Dike, directors, of New York, upon whom have been bestowed the cross of the Legion d'Honneur. It is their fourth decoration. Mrs. Lewis B. Stillwell of Lakewood, N. J., Miss Elizabeth Perkins and Miss Gabrielle Gourd of New York
and Mrs. Robert Lovett, Boston, Mass., other directors have also received the Medaille de Reconnaissance.

In 1917, the French department of

MRS. THOMAS GERALD CLOKEY

and helping the people to become self-supporting. In 1918, they were decorated (with seven others of their unit) with the croix de guerre for services rendered under fire, and in 1919 they were remembered officially again.

Miss Barbara Allen of New York, Miss Rose Dolan of Philadelphia, Mrs. Marie Lehr and Miss Virginia Latrobe of Baltimore, and Mrs. Arthur Taylor of Charlottesville, Va., have also been decorated with the gold medal, while the silver medal has been given to Mrs. Stone and Mrs. Atcherson of Columbus, O., the Misses Gourd, Jessie Carson and Gertrude Folks of New York, Mrs. Lovett of Boston, Mrs. Mary M. Needham, of Michigan, the Misses Margaret and Alice Parsons and Miss Margaret Stevenson of New York, and Mrs. Susan Watson Stockley of West Virginia. The bronze medal has been awarded Esther Braley of Ann Arbor, Mich., Miss Isabelle Deming, Philadelphia, Miss Lucy Hewitt, New York, Miss Elsie Wilcox, Virginia, and Miss Mary Turner, Minneapolis.

Nine members of overseas workers were also given the croix de guerre for bravery in continuing their work under fire.

Altogether forty-four workers of the American committee, including the medical staff of the American women's hospitals, have received citations from the French government.

BRIDGEPORT GIRL WEDS BISHOP'S SON

Miss Waldo Married to Herbert R. Wakefield of Birmingham, England.

Bridgeport, January 27.—Miss Barbara Standish Waldo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gilbert Waldo of Brooklawn park was married to Herbert Russell Wakefield, son of the Right Reverend Lord Bishop of Birmingham, London, England, yesterday afternoon at 4:30 at St. John's Episcopal church, in the presence of more than 300 relatives and guests. Rev. Stephen Fish Sherman, rector of St. John's officiated at the ceremony. The church was decorated with simlax, yellow roses and streamers of white ribbons along the aisle.

The wedding was the culmination of a pretty war romance which began while Miss Waldo served as a canteen worker overseas and Mr. Wakefield was a lieutenant in the Scotch Fusiliers. Miss Waldo arrived home last summer and her engagement was announced a few months later. Mr. Wakefield arrived here Saturday afternoon.

The bride wore a handsome gown of white panne velvet and silver cloth, trimmed with old lace and carried a large shower bouquet of bride roses with streamers of ribbons and rosebuds. Her veil was of tulle and held in place by a single band of silver leaves. Her matron of honor, Mrs. Eugene Barnhart of Evanston, Ill., was attired in lavender charmeuse, trimmed with beads and wore a large brimmed lavender georgette hat to match. Her bouquet was of red and pink rosebuds. Little Mary Louise Colburn of Ashville, N. C., cousin of the bride, was the flower girl, and she wore a pretty frock of blue organdie with hat of the same material. Her small shower bouquet was of sweet peas.

Miss Waldo's brother, Gilbert Waldo of Detroit, Mich., was the best man and the ushers were John Field, Maturin B. Waldo, Ralph Blackburn, of this city, Edward Hubbard of New York and Eugene Barnhart of Evanston.

Mr. and Mrs. Wakefield will spend a few weeks in New York city and other places of interest before leaving for London, England, where they will reside.

Miss Helen Judson Gross, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Gross of Providence, R. I., and Thomas Harris will be married in St. Martin's church, Providence, next Saturday. The bridal attendants will be Mrs. Charles C. Marshall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Adler Elumer; Miss Mary T. Gladding, Miss Marion L. Kerr, Miss Mary L. Morgan, Miss Henrietta English of New Haven, Miss Mabel Coats, and Barbara Barrows, the last as flower girl. Nicholas S. Potter will be best man and the ushers will be Charles Warren Lipitt, jr., J. Hayden Preston, George S. Squibb, Frank D. Harris, Edward Brown and Rufus Post. Mr. Gross is a grandniece of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Gross of Asylum avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Gross of Asylum avenue attended the wedding of Miss Helen Judson Gross, and Thomas Harris, in St. Martin's church, Providence.

Huntington P. Meech Chosen President—Successful Year Promised.

At the annual meeting of the National Fire Club in the clubroom on Lewis Street yesterday afternoon annual reports of the treasurer and sented and off-ear were elected

HUNTINGTON P. MEECH

Arthur W. Sugden, the new vice-president, is one of the many "old timers" with the National, being in the employ of the Company for over a quarter of a century. His election to this office is popular with the club members, especially so to the mem-

IS EIGHTY YEARS OF AGE

Colonel John L. Rice of Springfield Is One of That City's Most Representative Men

Colonel John L. Rice, of Springfield, celebrated on Sunday his eightieth birthday, at his home in that city, where he long has resided. He was born in Wethersfield, Vt., and from that State enlisted for Civil War service, in which he had a remarkable record. In the first battle of Bull Run he was shot through one lung and was left for dead on the battlefield. Announcement of his death reached his home town, his name was reported as dropped from the regimental rolls, and a funeral service was held in his memory, at his former Vermont home. He later was picked up by Confederate soldiers and in Libby Prison, slowly recovered his health, and again joined the Union Army, when an exchange of prisoners was made. He then rose in rank. He was in business for a time, in Springfield, after the war, and then studied law in Boston and after admission to the bar he practised in Springfield. He acted as inspector at the Custom House in Boston for the years 1873 to 1876 and in 1881 he was elected to the Legislature as a representative from Springfield. He was appointed postmaster of that city by President Grover Cleveland and served from 1886 to 1890. In 1899 he was appointed United States commissioner and later clerk of the United States District Court and has continued in both offices. His children and grandchildren were his dinner guests on his birthday. He received many flowers and also an illuminated parchment containing a message of friendship signed by seventy-five people of Springfield. Visitors called during the day to congratulate the colonel.

TEMPERATURE GOES DOWN

Civil Ceremony
Hall in Gene Church Ceren

Geneva, Jan.
topher of Greece
Leeds were marr
ing in the ancien
ceremony was a
lowed by the r
the Russian chu Montreux, to-mo
rites of the G
witness for the Piccard, a Nev
Captain Stocker

This is one of
ning, it retired
the groom. Aof those chilly and the Associa
ent were the of Mrs Leeds w
sult, black fur
party took lun
back—those w
afternoon for Among the wedding will b
the former Gre
senting ex-Kin

IMPORTANT
SEPTEME
Princess Christo

Duke, Rough
Avenue

James B. Duk
of Princess agency of De estate at Newpo
which extends fro
Cliffs and consiso
stone villa and dontana to Ma
etc., fronting on And then th is the most impweather bureat
Newport since this place
Frederick W. Vanderbilt to tl llam B. Leeds, whose widow m Christopher of Greece. Mr. an have rented houses at Newp eral seasons.

AMERICAN PRINCESS SAIL FOR NEW

Southampton, December 1
Christopher of Greece, with Princess Anastasia, (the 1 William B. Leeds) were pas
the liner Olympic which sailed to-day for New York.

40 D

Minimur

Ever

and

Hartford

Sometimes t

WEALTHY AMERICAN WIDOW

MAY WED PRINCE OF GREECE

MRS. WILLIAM B. LEEDS. Sept. 1919

Mrs. William B. Leeds is the wealthy American widow of the (in plate king from whom she inherited about $14,400,000. She is the daughter of the late William C. Stuart of Cleveland, O. She established a permanent residence in England, and it has often been rumored that she was to marry Prince Christopher, youngest brother of Constantine, the deposed King of Greece.

Lowest Barometrical Read- ing in Hartford Re- corded.

With a forty degree drop in temperature and the highest barometer reading 30.98 that ever recorded at the U. S. weather bureau in this city.
Hartford was furnished with two reords yesterday. The lowest official temperature recorded during the day was 6 degrees below and last night
at midnight the thermometer at Exchange Corner had, after a slight rise
during the day, once more reached that point, and the mercury was again
well on its way toward the bulb. From a 12-mile-an-hour breeze at 8 in the morning the wind dropped in velocity to 5 miles an hour at 8 o'clock last night. The weather forecast calls for fair and continued cold in Connecticut today.

Lane-Scotfield. 1920

Meriden, Jan. 31.—Arthur S. Lane, treasurer of the Lane Construction Corporation, vice-president of the Home National Bank and treasurer of John S. Lane & Sons, inc., was married this afternoon at the First Methodist Church to Miss Claire L. Scotfield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Scofield of this city. Mr. Lane was a widower. His young bride was a bookkeeper in the Lane Meriden office. The couple will go to California on their bridal trip.

JAMES WILSON IS 40 YEARS ACTIVE

Veteran Pittsfield Textile Manufacturer Has Anniversary This Month of Business Start

Pittsfield, Feb. 28—Forty years ago this month, James Wilson, dean of textile manufacturers in Berkshire county, began making union cassimeres in the woolen mill of the Taconic manufacturing company which had been built in 1856 on the site of Lemuel Pomeroy's musket shop. He is now the senior member of the firm of James and E. H. Wilson, which is manufacturing textiles on the same site and he is still active, being at his office practically every business day of the year. Three operatives who started in business with Mr. Wilson are now with him, Patrick H. Curley of 1196 North street, boss carder; J. Edward Glennon of 233 First street, boss spinner and John Harcourt of 1232 North street boss fuller in the finishing room.

The name of the original firm was Wilson, Glennon and company, the other members being Michael Glennon of Dalton and Arthur Horton of New York. In 1886 Mr. Glennon retired from the partnership. He is now living in New Brunswick. Then Wilson and Horton continued in business until 1898 when Mr. Horton retired, and in 1900 Mr. Wilson's brother, E. H. Wilson of New York, was admitted to partnership. In 1916 Charles H. Wilson, son of James Wilson, entered the firm. Mr. Wilson was born and brought up in the textile business, his father, Solomon Wilson, having been for 50 years superintendent of the woolen mills of L. Pomeroy's Sons, which was one of the leading industries of Berkshire county in 1880. There were seven other textile plants in Pittsfield at that time, the Pontotoc woolen company, which had been started in 1827; the S. N. and C. Russell Mfg. Co., the Tillotson and Collins mill, J. Barker and Brothers. In West Pittsfield the Bel Air mill run by Edward McAlpine Learned and Frank E. Kernochan and the Kittle and Malcolm factory. The Bel Air mill has been absorbed by the Wilsons, while the Pomeroy, Barker, Stearns and Kittle concerns have passed out of existence. Of all the original owners of 1880 Mr. Wilson alone remains active in the industry.

For three years prior to 1880 Mr. Wilson was town clerk of Pittsfield and for a while before that he was a clerk in the country store of L. Pomeroy's sons, a store from which graduated nearly a dozen Pittsfield men who later became prominent in the life of the town and city. Among others besides Mr. Wilson were Richard Lathers, Charles Atwater, Frank W. Dutton, William J. Hawkins, John T. Power, Elihu Whittlesey and Homer Nash. Half a century ago a preliminary training in country store merchandising under the Pomeroy's was regarded as essential to business success in Pittsfield. When Wilson and Glennon started making textiles they had 125 employees; now 600 are on the payroll and the voluntary increase in wages in the past four years has been 140 per cent. The three bosses who have been working for Mr. Wilson 40 years never have asked for a raise in pay, but the wage standard in the industry throughout New England has been maintained. From October, 1914 to December 1915 the concern manufactured 125,000 military blankets and 750,000 yards of uniform cloth for some of the allies.

The output now is approximately 1,000,000 yards of overcoating, men's and women's wear.

In 1913, Mr. Wilson was the prime mover in the organization of the Employers' association of Berkshire county, which now comprises 72 firms with 24,000 employees. He was the first president and is now honorary president. He is senior director of the Pittsfield national bank, having been on the board 30 years; he also is a director of the Berkshire mutual fire insurance company. These offices show how highly Mr. Wilson is regarded by business men of Pittsfield and the long service of employees reflects the esteem in which he is held by the men and women who have helped to make his long manufacturing career successful.

In 1877 the Pittsfield woolen company liquidated, went out of business and the property now known as the Bel Air mill was sold to Edward Learned for $70,000 cash. It later was taken over by his son, Edward McAlpine Learned and his son-in-law, Frank E. Kernochan. Edward

He was born in Watervliet, N. Y., 100 years ago Thursday, the 26th. Learned was one of the leading men of Pittsfield of his day.

He came to Pittsfield in 1850 and a few years later built Elmwood on Broad street, the most sumptuous home of its time in Pittsfield. The place is now conducted as a fashionable summer resort hotel by his daughter, Miss Florence J. Learned. Mr. Learned was educated at the N. P. Talcott institute for boys at Lanesboro and West Point military academy. He learned engineering as a rodman for the old Hudson and Berkshire railroad company. He later was in business with his father in Erie canal enlargements, Croton waterworks for New York and Cochituate water works for Boston. He had granite contracts for building the capitol at Albany and government buildings in New York, Charleston and New Orleans. He cleared up thousands of dollars from Lake Superior mines and early in the 80's started the greatest project of his career the construction of an inter-oceanic railroad across Mexico from Coatzacoalcas 140 miles to Tehuantepec on the Pacific coast. All previous concessions for such a railroad were annulled by the Mexican government and Mr. Learned was given the right of way and was promised a cash bounty on every mile built. The enterprise failed for lack of capital. Mr. Learned died Feb. 19, 1886 and one of the bearers at his funeral was Gen. Morris Schaff, now of Boston. In 1857 Mr. Learned was a representative in the legislature from Pittsfield and he served as state senator from the Berkshire district in 1873 and 1874. James Wilson of Pittsfield, William P. Dixon of New York and the late John E. Parsons of New York and Lenox were chosen trustees of the estate by the widow and eight children. One of the daughters is now Mrs. George H. Morgan of New York, widow of a cousin of J. Pierpont Morgan.

CONE HARDWARE COMPANY MOVES

New Home at Nos. 108-110
Allyn Street—Established
in 1840.

J. H. & W. E. Cone having sold their building on Allyn street occupied since January first street, pure business. T. ed by Braga was then 1 Main and was moved street. The was large; 1851, Braga ed by R. & ly F. H. T. Lester was becoming 1 Lester retir was admit known as concern in of the good seven-eigh In this cot ware man United Sts ioned goo had been goods mac sirable re complishe tariff. Th ers of Jo of the fi of New Y R. Terry admitted and the gra & W. E. Cone. In 18 I s; chased the building Lav 91 Asylum street w vacated after an occu less eight years William I er been connected with cha May 20, 1861. (a pei years) except when abs army during the civil still the active head of J. H. Cone died in 1892. From 1861 to 1865 th nished a large number of the war—seventeen or among them were Lieut mead, Twelfth Connect teers; Captain Chas. A. S. Marine Corps; Captain U. S. A.; William H. Kin necticut Heavy Artillery Bulkley, First Connectic tillery; Sergeant Charle Sixteenth Connecticut. Fred G. Manderville, Si necticut Volunteers; H. Sixteenth Connecticut Vol tain E. B. Preston, T

STATE LIBRARY GETS CHARLES II'S PORTRAIT

FEBRUARY 3, 1920.

Gives Painting of British King Who Granted Connecticut Charter

PORTRAIT OF CHARLES II. AT STATE LIBRARY.

File Deed For Of Cone P

A warranty deed for the property at Nos. 81 Asylum street was filed clerk's office to-day. The sold by William E. Cone Silver at a price said Charles, had been dethroned, was re-neighborhood of $175,000. ceived to-day from Charles W. Bowen H. Cone Hardware com of Woodstock by State Librarian God the lower floor of the ard. Governor Holcomb was invited by is a four story structu Mr. Godard to see the portrait in the floors are occupied by library building and to accept it in be-Burke Printing company half of the state. The governor com-pany recently removoplied with the request of Mr. Godard location to Nos. 108 and the portrait is now in Memorial street.

The historic portrait of Charles II, the king who gave Connecticut its charhall in the state library building, the property of the state.

Eight years ago Mr. Bowen gave an engraving of Charles II. to the library. While in England in 1813 he saw the portrait of the "Merrie Monarch" in the vicarage of Sharford, Braintree, Essex county. He asked the vicar, the Rev. Arthur J. Law to sell it to him. Mr. Law refused but in 1818 informed Mr. Bowen that the portrait would be put up at auction at Christie's, London. Mr. Bowen secured it from Joseph Ledger March 30, 1819, and the portrait has since been at the Metropolitan Museum of Art.

THEODORE NEWTON BUYS ASYLUM AVE. PROPERTY

Two Brick Cottages and Garage at Corner of Asylum Place.

Theodore Newton has bought the property at Nos. 703-5 Asylum avenue from Dr. Ellen Hammond Gladwin of No. 705 Asylum avenue. The property, located on the southeast corner of Asylum avenue and Asylum place, has a frontage on the avenue of seventy feet and a depth of 108 feet. The buildings are two brick cottages and a brick garage in the rear. The cottages are directly opposite the location of the new Hartford Fire Insurance Company's building. Mr. Newton he would prob corner cottage approximately $

SPECTACULAR FIRE RUINS IRON WORKS IN EAST HARTFORD

Sky For Miles Around Illuminated by Fierce Blaze Which Causes Damages of About $20,000.

(Special to The Courant.)
East Hartford, Feb. 2.
A spectacular fire early tonight leveled the plant of the Hartford Iron Works, Inc., on Pleasant street.

reel was insufficient to reach the fire. The line was six feet short and the firemen were unable to hit the blaze. The fire at this time had not gained headway and the time lost by the firemen in returning to the hose house for more hose resulted in the blaze getting beyond their control.

Two frozen hydrants on Pleasant street handicapped the firemen and the Central District's pumper was

WETHERSFIELD TO BE HOME OF IRON WORKS

East Hartford Company Begins Building on 39-Acre Plot.

Warrantee deeds are being prepared and are likely to be filed by Monday.

Iron Works Now Housed In New Plant On Railroad Tracks In Central Location

Sept. 20, 1920.

Hartford Iron Works at Foot of Wethersfield Avenue.

The Hartford Iron Works, photograph of whose new plant is shown above, started in business on Potter street in May 1911. The company moved to East Hartford in December, 1912, and remained there until burned in February of this year. After the fire it purchased thirty-eight acres of land at the foot of Wethersfield avenue, with a frontage of 455 feet on the railroad and extending almost a mile to the river, and started to build its new plant in May.

The present building was completed in June but was not moved into until September 13 as the grading was not finished and the company had to wait for new machinery, etc.

The main structural shop is 50 feet by 96 feet. It is equipped with an overhead trolley system and the new machinery includes punches, shears, riveting machine, etc. The building is of mill construction with steel roof and trusses. The office building attached to the main building is 22 feet by 32 feet, two stories in height. On the first floor are the general offices of the company and on the second floor the drafting and estimating rooms. A frame store house also adjoining the main structure.

The Hartford Iron Works employ forty-five men and does all kinds of structural steel and ornamental iron work. The company also does a large jobbing business in iron and steel and keeps a stock on hand of about 800 tons of angles, channels and beams, and also rounds and squares. The concern was incorporated in February, 1913, and the present officers are W. A. Clinton, president and treasurer; G. W. King, vice-president, and H. W. Storrs, secretary.

Most of the stone used in the bridge was shaped in the plant. The blaze could be seen for miles around and attracted many to the scene. Street car service was demoralized for about two hours, and it was necessary to transfer passengers.

The property is assessed in the grand list at $12,345.

Old-Fashioned Mains.

When the Meadow District firemen arrived at the blaze it was found that the amount of hose carried on the Bank & Trust Co. of this city, and is liquidating it for the latter institution. The plant of the Hartford Iron Works, Inc., is at No. 1014 Wethersfield avenue. William A. Clinton of No. 48 Victoria road, West Hartford, is president and treasurer of the concern.

FEBRUARY 2, 1923.

CONNE HARDWARE COMPANY MOVES

New Home at Nos. 108-110
Allyn Street—Established
in 1840. 1920

J. H. & W. E. Cond having sold

their buildi Asylum stre
cupied since
ruary first street, pure business. T ed by Braga
was then l
Main an. T

FEBRUARY 2 1920

BARON HARDINGE.

Baron Hardinge of Penshurst will succeed the Earl of Derby as English ambassador to France in November. Baron Hardinge has served officially at Constantinople, Berlin, Washington, Paris, St. Petersburg and many other capitals. He was governor general and viceroy of India and under secretary of foreign affairs for Great Britain.

LETTERS FROM 'THE PEOPLE'

(Anonymous Communications Not Printed.)

HOW IT HAPPENED.

A Card From Candidate Welch.
To the Editor of TheCourant:—

May I correct a statement made in your paper of September 17, in which you quote me as saying that "Just before the convention was called to order, Mrs. Far Dixon Asylum street was clerk's office to-day. sold by William E. Silver at a price neighborhood of $175. H. Cone Hardware the lower floor of the is a four story structure. floors are occupied by Burke Printing company recently removed to Nos. 108 street.

THEODORE NEWTON BUYS ASYLUM AVE. PROPERTY

Two Brick Cottages and Garage at
Corner of Asylum Place.

Theodore Newton has bought the property at Nos. 703-5 Asylum avenue from Dr. Ellen Hammond Gladwin of No. 705 Asylum avenue. The property, located on the southeast corner of Asylum avenue and Asylum place, has a frontage on the avenue of seventy feet and a depth of 108 feet. The buildings are two brick cottages and a brick garage in the rear. The cottages are directly opposite the location of the new Hartford Fire Insurance Company's building. Mr. Newton would probably corner cottage approximately $

STATE LIBRARY GETS CHARLES II'S PORTRAIT

Here the Story Starts.

SILAS GYDE, millionaire miser, is killed in a bomb explosion. JACK NORMAN, a New York clerk, inherits the vast fortune of the man whom he had never known, but who had loved Jack's mother. The young man hurries to tell the girl he loves of his inheritance, then inspects the home of his benefactor, finding a kindly letter from the dead millionaire and a warning of the dangers of wealth, bomb and blackmail. The young man then receives a third letter. While worried over his danger he meets Guy Harnish, "Bobo" who is down on his luck. On an impulse, Jack decides to change places with his new friend, and "Bobo" is introduced to society as the new-made millionaire, while Jack accompanies him in disguise as secretary. There are many adventures before them.

Read Installments Appearing Daily.

(Continued From Yesterday's "Courant.")

CHAPTER IX.

Next morning there was some necessary business to be transacted. Jack wanted to secure Mr. Delamare's approval for his new plans. For obvious reasons he did not care to take Bobo to the bank, so he called up the financier, and asked him respectfully if he would mind coming to the hotel.

While they waited for him they breakfasted in the Dutch room. During the meal the card of a visitor was brought them.

H. J. WHIGHAM
The Eureka Protective Association.

"Ha!" cried Jack. "Exactly accord-

"What's that?" asked Bobo.

"Last night we got the rough stuff,
today the smooth."

* "I don't understand."

"Keep your ears open and you'll see. Just let your little secretary deal with this gent for you."

Jack asked that Mr. Whigham be sent up. An old-young man was shown into them, a starved and ironed little fellow with an air of self-importance like a cock-sparrow's.

"Mr. Norman?" inquired the newcomer with a birdlike quirk of the head from one to another.

Jack waved his hand in Bobo's direction.

the monarchs who reigned in after James II, the brother of

had been dethroned, was re-to-day from Charles W. Bowen stock by State Librarian God-governor Holcomb was invited by
dard to see the portrait in the building and to accept it in be-the state. The governor comwith the request of Mr. Godard
the portrait is now in Memorial

Jack explained the part lay. They stared—then
"Is it all right?" asked
"You're keeping the privilege in your own sume," said Mr. Delamare.
"Certainly."

"Well, as your banker is concerned with, As your father say I think it's a good idea you will have a close, outside millionaire's life that will estimate service to you have to take up that life."

Jack told him of the Eureka Protective Association, and mentioned Delamare's name, had been a reference.

The banker smote his fist. "By Gad! it's a fact. I had forgotten all about it three years ago. Ames Benton's death has all scared, and I suppose have been going on ever since. At the time I was on the square, never thought about it. They didn't tax me anything as you. I suppose were more modest at the

Having obtained the approval of the banker and his lawyer for the plan, Jack felt encouraged to go ahead. He told Delamare and Brome of his plans, and Jack said:—

"Can either of you put it with a high police official, can apply to in case of need."

"I know the third depositor," said Delamare. "I'll give you a note to him."

of the "Merrie Monarch" in ge of Sharford, Braintree, Es Marked the year, the F

He asked the vicar, J. Law to sell it to him. He refused but in 1918 informed that the portrait would be auctioned at Christie's, London. He secured it from Joseph Led 30, 1919, and the portrait has been at the Metropolitan Museum.

SPECTACULAR FIRE RUINS IRON WORKS IN EAST HARTFORD

Sky For Miles Around Illuminated by Fierce Blaze Which Causes Damages of About $20,000.

(Special to The Courant.)

East Hartford, Feb. 2.

A spectacular fire early tonight leveled the plant of the Hartford Iron Works at No. 21 Pleasant street, Meadow district, causing a loss of about $20,000, partly covered by insurance. Like other recent fires in the city, the firemen were badly hampered because of the low water pressure and two frozen hydrants. When members of Aetna Hose Company arrived, the southeast part of the building was a roaring furnace and some time was lost in connecting with two hydrants found to be frozen.

The alarm for the fire was turned in soon after 7:30 o'clock and within a few minutes members of Aetna House were on the scene. It was quickly seen that the fire would be beyond the control of the lone hose company and the combination pumper from the center was sent for. The pumper connected with the steamer hydrant at the junction of Connecticut Boulevard and Pleasant street, three streams being used.

The fire is supposed to have originated in the southeast corner of the building from an overheated stove. The interior of the building was but a shell. The plant is owned mainly by William A. Clinton of No. 127 Sargeant street, Hartford, for the manufacture of large iron girders, fire escapes, etc. The company was rushed with orders and had been operating overtime. The fire will throw about fifty men out of employment.

There were many spectacular features at the fire. William Beauchamp of the Hartford Electric Light Company took chances in cutting the wires to break the circuit. There were a couple of minor explosions caused by the boilers. An electric motor in the far south of the building sputtered fireworks.

Quick Work by Blaze.

The fire leveled the entire plant within an hour and a half. Fortunately the wind was in the northwest carrying the sparks from the burning embers towards the river. A building owned by the Hartford-New York Transportation Company was saved by hard work by the firemen. This building caught fire several times. It is leased by the L. J. Frisbie Company of Hartford which sub-leases it to a macaroni factory.

The ground or main floor was the only one in the plant. The building was a frame structure, 150 feet by 70 feet, and was erected by the contractors of the East Hartford bridge, who used it as a quarry for cutting stone. Most of the stone used in the bridge was shaped in the plant. The blaze could be seen for miles around and attracted many to the scene. Street car service was demoralized for about two hours, and it was necessary to transfer passengers.

The property is assessed in the grand list at $12,345.

Old-Fashioned Mains.

When the Meadow District firemen arrived at the blaze it was found that the amount of hose carried on the reel was insufficient to reach the fire. The line was six feet short and the firemen were unable to hit the blaze. The fire at this time had not gained headway and the time lost by the firemen in returning to the hose house for more hose resulted in the blaze getting beyond their control.

Two frozen hydrants on Pleasant street handicapped the firemen and the Central District's pumper was

WETHERSFIELD TO BE HOME OF IRON WORKS

East Hartford Company Begins Building on 39-Acre Plot.

Warrantee deeds are being prepared and are likely to be filed by Monday which will convey to the Hartford Iron Works about thirty-nine acres of land near the Folly Crossing. Some of the land is in this city and extends over the city line into Wethersfield meadow. Other land is entirely in Wethersfield and reached eastward to the Connecticut River, a total distance of about 4,500 feet from Wethersfield avenue. Folly Brook runs through the northwest corner of the tract, which has almost unnumbered angles and turns and lines.

Mrs. Mary L. Thresher Shipman of this city is grantor of and mostly in Hartford and Mrs. Etta C. Thresher Morse, a sister-in-law, is grantor of the rest. George M. Smith was busy yesterday on the conveyances with prospect that he might require today for the winding up of the task.

President William A. Clinton of the Iron Works said yesterday that after the burning of the building which it occupied in East Hartford Meadow nearly three months ago, negotiations were opened for the purchase of land as a new site. He examined a tract in East Hartford north of the main line of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad and west of property of the Atlantic Refineries Company and east of Prospect street. Decision was ultimately made against this, mainly because the land was too far he said, from the trolley, an im-

HARTFORD IRON WORKS BANKRUPT

1923

New Haven, Feb. 1.—The Hartford Iron Works, Inc., of Hartford filed a bankruptcy petition in United States court today. Liabilities were given as $71,255 and assets as $65,777, including real estate valued at $24,000. The largest creditor is the City Bank & Trust Co., of Hartford which holds a claim for $28,715.

The City Bank & Trust Co. holds the claim for the American Industrial Bank & Trust Co. of this city, and is liquidating it for the latter institution. The plant of the Hartford Iron Works, Inc., is at No. 1014 Wethersfield avenue. William A. Clinton of No. 48 Victoria road, West Hartford, is president and treasurer of the concern.

FEBRUARY 2, 1923.

BROOKER RETIRES AS PRESIDENT OF *AMERICAN BRASS*

Becomes Chairman of Board of Directors—Fifty-Sixth Year of Service.
Years of Company's Progress Described at 21st Annual Meeting.

(Special)

On the oc-
annual meet-
the America-
day, Charles tired from t
pany and
board of dir
his fifty-six ice in the c sors. At the

"The two have brough
the whole, h
markably fi
in the perso
Your presid
sixth year o
the company
ing served t
from its
years; as p Manufacturi
or more; an
three years-
years as a
seems to hi

now be made for the future of the office you have so long entrusted to him. The logical conclusion from this is the advancement in responsibility of his associates, and consequent recognition of their loyal service to the company, which is certainly fully merited

Minister, treasurer; Major W. Judge, assistant treasurer; S. Burnham Terry, assistant treasurer; Edmund H. Yates, secretary; Elton S. Wayland, assistant secretary.

Appointive Vice-Presidents.

The following appointive vice-presidents
are in charge of different branches:—

A. S. Brown, W. A. Cowles, Ansonia
Branch; F. L. Braman, Coe Brass Branch,
Torrington; H. M. Steele, Waterbury Brass Branch, Waterbury; A. M. Dickinson, Benedict & Burnham Branch, Waterbury;
G. H. Allen, Kenosha Branch, Kenosha,
Wis.; F. M. Willis, Buffalo Branch, Buffalo, N. Y.; F. E. Weaver, in charge of Sales, at Waterbury.

Directors.

Charles F. Brooker, James A. Doughty,
James S. Elton, John P. Elton Edward L.
Frisbie, Gordon W. Burnham, T. Brownell
Burnham, Thomas B. Kent, Cleveland H.
Dodge, Arthur C. James, John E. Wayland, John A. Coe, Royall Victor, Harris
Whitemore, Alton Farrell, George H. Allen,
Frederick L. Braman, William A. Cowles,
Arthur M. Dickinson.

John A. Coe, Jr., the new president of the American Brass, was born in Beacon Falls in 1868, the son of John A. Coe, who was a manufacturer of leather. In young manhood Mr. Coe, Jr., became an employee of the Osborne & Cheesman Co., of Ansonia. From there he went to New York, later going to Shelton, where he was identified with the Birmingham Brass Company, which moved to Waterbury. In 1913 Mr. Coe, after many years with the American Brass company, became one of its vice-presidents.

CHARLES F. BROOKER.

CHARLES F. BROOKER

Comments of the Newspapers.
(New Haven Journal-Courier.)

He may leave the brass company
alone but he won't let alone things that have got to be done in this world
by just such men as he as long as they live. There will be work for his idle hands to do and it won't be the work Satan prepares for idle hands.
It will be work of which the community will be the beneficiary.

(Torrington Register.)

Here in Torrington we have more than admiration for Mr. Brooker. We hold in reverence his distinguished record in business, but, even in greater degree we honor the man for his singularly pure life and his passion for public service as exemplified in the Maria Seymour Brooker Memorial in Torrington. His business achievements have been of the greatest value
to his fellow men but the other influences of his life have borne even greater good to all.

(New Haven Times-Leader.)

His life history is a history of which the state is proud for it is a history which is full of generous deeds,
upright citizenship and unselfish public service. In business, in politics, in all the affairs of life, Mr. Brooker has exercised a commanding and very helpful influence and we are all glad to know that he is to continue his work, with more leisure for public service and more time for personal pleasures than has been at his command during the very busy years of his very busy life.

LINDEN LODGE WIPED OUT BY FIRE

Place Where Mrs. Cranston
Brenton Once Staid.

Special to The Times.

Brattleboro, Vt., February 4.

Linden Lodge, a summer and winter
resort for persons suffering from nervous disorders, but not mentally afflicted, burned to the ground at 1 o'clock this morning. The main building was two and one-half stories, a frame dwelling, with an ell of two stories and 150 feet long. The house was the oldest in Brattleboro and was formerly the Burnside Military academy. It contained fifty rooms and there were thirty-five to forty patients being cared for. A nurse aroused all those in the house and all were taken out safely.

The fire department of Brattleboro assisted, although the place was outside the fire limits and no water was to be had.

Mrs. Benjamin Lawton, 94 years old, mother of Dr. Shailor Lawton, superintendent of the Brattleboro retreat, was taken out in her night clothing. The lodge was the center of a cottage colony
and quite popular and will be rebuilt.
The loss is put at $20,000.

It will be remembered by Hartford
people that Linden Lodge was the temporary abode of Mrs. Cranston Brenton, wife of Professor Brenton of Trinity college, whose divorce case caused much notoriety seven or eight years ago, and at which trial Dr. Lawton, superintendent of the Brattleboro retreat, where Mrs. Brenton was counseled for a time, was a witness.

Harry S. Knapp Detailed to Command Naval Forces in European Waters.

Res. Admiral Harry S. Knapp of

Vice-Admiral Harry S. Knapp.

to vice-
Navy Dan-
the Am-
pean wa-
en in com-vince Vice-
ed to the
His viceuesday.
me a rear
was born
6, the son
Knapp who ughton ave-
graduated ool in 1874
ited States Senator
graduated
and rose
an in 1880
he U. S. S. p he com-
the Pacific
military
o in 1917
fourth year
ersity Club
Navy club
rk and the

led by Sec-
ion recently and investigate the British admir-alty's system of distinguished service awards, following Admiral Sims' denunciation of the distinguished service medal award to Commander David W.
Bagley, brother-in-law of Secretary Daniels. Admiral Knapp reported that awards were not made in England to commanders of vessels that lost en-comprised except where the circumstially he-

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ringwood Hewitt of New York announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Lucy Hewitt, to William Burke Belknap of Louisville, Ky. Miss Hewitt is a granddaughter of the late Abram S. Hewitt and Peter Cooper. Because of the war she did not have a formal debut, but gave entire time to the American committee for devastated France, working both in New York and France under Miss Anne Morgan. While overseas,
she had charge of a division of reconstruction work for six months. The French government gave her the Medaille de Reconnaissance and the inhabitants of Cic-Sur Alsne, her headquarters in France, gave her one of twenty special medals in recognition of her constructive work there. She is a member of the Junior league and the Colony club. Mr. Belknap is a son of the late William Richardson Belknap and grandson of the late

92D BIRTHDAY OF UNIONVILLE WOMAN

MRS. ELIZABETH V. SAGE.

(Special to The Courant.)

Unionville, Feb. 4.

Mrs. Elizabeth V. Sage celebrated her ninety-second birthday at her home on School street today. Owing to ill health it seemed best to omit the usual birthday party she has had for several years, although she was able to see a few friends who called and had her son Dr. H. P. Sage and wife of New Haven and her sister, Miss Mary Pinney of Springfield with her for the day. She received a large number of cards and flowers from her friends. She was born in Farmington February 4, 1828 the oldest daughter of Erastus Almon and Elizabeth Paterson. The family later moved to 1920

Unionville, Sept. 15.

Mrs. Elizabeth V. Sage, of School street who is 93 years old will have distinction of being the oldest man in town, if not the oldest in state, to be made a voter. She is planning to go to the polls and cast this fall. Mrs. Sage, although in Simsbury, has lived most of life in the town of Farmington.
Her eyesight has failed she is interested in politics and each has the political news in the paper read to her.

its first member.

The above picture was taken a year
ago.

SUPT. WEAVER HAS HIS 76TH BIRTHDAY

Was Long In Newspaper Business Before Becoming Local Educator.

Thomas S. Weaver, superintendent of schools, today celebrates the seventy-sixth anniversary of his birth.
He was born February 5, 1845, in New York City
Willimantic, where he received a common school education and where, at the age of 14 years, he entered the office of the Willimantic "Journal" to learn the printer's trade. His father was the editor and he himself was editor for a time. In 1887 he went to Worcester, and after several years in the Worcester "Daily Press" in the printing business became attached 1878 he became telegraph editor and paragraph writer on the New Haven
"Register," and later came to Hartford, where he continued his newspaper work, at one time being a member of "The Courant" staff.

VER
TO-DAY
1922 irthday An-
No School"

1920
he probable
day, based
Thomas S. schools, ob-
thday to-day
ar schools in
ay. "This is ening of the
that it has
e schools on declared Mr.

who is a for-
been superintendence more than
s.
was his birth-
his office in schools, whose res-
tence Church of
He was born February 5, 1845, in New York City
Willimantic, where he received a common school education and where, at the age of 14 years, he entered the office of the Willimantic "Journal" to learn the printer's trade. His father was the editor and he himself was editor for a time. In 1887 he went to Worcester, and after several years in the Worcester "Daily Press" in the printing business became attached 1878 he became telegraph editor and paragraph writer on the New Haven "Register," and later came to Hartford, where he continued his newspaper work, at one time being a member of "The Courant" staff.

Feb 7-1920
Miss Beulah Irene Hills, daughter of Mrs. Alfred L. Hills, of No. 7 Forest street, and Leland George Harwood, son of Clayton Harwood of Bedford.

Pittsfield, Feb. 6.—Winthrop M.
Crane, Jr., of Dalton to-day bought the 450-acre Milton farm in the north part of the city. The property was transferred by Bentley W. Warren of Boston and Mrs Anna R. Millton of New York, trustees of the Wil-linton estate, who named university as the legal lega-
will.

105

Photo by Vayana Studio.

MISS BEULAH IRENE HILLS.

Miss Beulah Irene Hills, will be married Saturday afternoon to Leland G. Harwood of Bedford, Va. She is the daughter of Mrs. Alfred L. Hills of No. 7 Forest street.

most of its old heavy rolling stock secured permission of the public service commission to issue notes a-pay for the new cars on the inst-
ment plan. The trustee's objected divided ownership with the builders. The company hopes to be-more of the cars later. These cars are big power savers, weighing on-eight tons each, as compared with 28 tons of the larger type. They hold 32 persons, compared with zabeth Jane Bandin, daugh-

and Mrs. D. E. Bandin

IMES

POLITICAL NEWS.

ing Around the Circle" and Report
entions for This Paper.

DAVID LAWRENCE

to get the sentiment prevailing in

rites vividly not merely the news
on to the news of to-morrow. He e is probably the best known writer
al and economic affairs in the Na-
Mr. Lawrence's dispatches will ap-beginning next Monday, February
artford Times a political service
in the largest cities and will pro-
daily article on the inside situation s accurate and authoritative.

the circle" in 1916 will be recalled te forecast of the result, in which he
on of Wilson with the aid of Cali-e votes of the eastern states, was country as one of the most remark-eorting in recent years.

political letters, preliminary to the ampaign and during it, he will report both republican and democratic national conventions for The Times, one in Chi-ago and the other in San Francisco. We commend to eaders of The Times Mr. Lawrence's work for its accuracy and impartial fairness.

If you are not a reader of The Times, now is the time
o subscribe in order to get accurate information of politi-
al events throughout this presidential year.

J. R. Hanmer of East Hartford President of Boston

107

A black and white portrait of a middle-aged man with a mustache, wearing a suit and tie. The image is a halftone print, showing a grid of dots. The man is looking directly at the camera with a neutral expression. He has dark hair and a prominent mustache. He is wearing a dark suit jacket over a light-colored shirt and a dark tie. The background is a plain, light color.

JOHN R. HAMMER.

under certain circumstances. The company has fifteen directors.

Miss Winthrop Emmet.
daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Temple Emmet of New York, and Edwin D. Morgan, jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin D. Morgan of Westbury, L. I., and Newport, were married Saturday, February 14, at St. Bartholomew's Church, New York. Among the bride's attendants were her sisters, the Misses Margaret, Hester and Jane Emmet, two of her cousins, Miss Rosamund Sherwood and Miss Gabriel Emmet, and Miss Elizabeth Jay, a niece of the bridegroom. Thomas Archie Morgan, a brother of the bridegroom, was the best man and the ushers were Jasper Morgan, a brother of the bridegroom, Jeremiah Evarts, a brother-in-law of the bridegroom, C. Temple Emmet, a brother of the bride, Daniel Sargent and Monroe Douglas Robinson.

Mr. Morgan, who was graduated from Harvard University in 1913 and served in the war, is of Connecticut ancestry. His grandfather was born in Windsor and was one of the governors of New York state in the 60's. His grandmother was a native of Suffield. He has often been a guest of Walter L. Goodwin and is a relative of Dr. William D. Morgan and Mrs. Morrison C. Hamilton of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Morrison Clark Hamilton of No. 139 Sigourney street are in New York and will attend the Miss Catherine B. Connor and Francis J. Carmody, both formerly of this city, were married Saturday, February 14, at Butte, Montana, by the Rev. William P. Joyce pastor of the Sacred Heart Church of that city. The bride's sister, Miss Helen Connor, was her only attendant and Francis W. Wilcox was the best man. Mr. and Mrs. Carmody are at present at Hot Springs, Va., but they will live in Butte. Miss Helen Connor, who is now visiting Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wilcox of Butte, will make her home with Mr. and Mrs. Carmody.

Corps in the World War.

CHURCH HISTORY GIVES WAR RECORD

Ac Springfield Man With an Enthus

Thornton W. Burgess and His Bedtime Few Local People Know of Laid in Longmeadow
Tales to Begin

THE HALL is crowded with rows and rows of children. As the lights go out and the picture of a white rabbit in deacon waistcoat, looking very like Alice in Wonderland's cottontail friend, is thrown on the screen, the lecturer of the afternoon asks, "Who is that?" A unanimous shout goes up from the youthful audience, "Peter Rabbit!" It is the same with Johnny Chuck, Reddy Fox, Unc' Billy Possum, Prickly Porky, Danny Meadow Mouse or any of the numerous animal characters that Thornton W. Burgess has made famous to the childhood of the whole country through his Burgess Books and his Bedtime Stories; nearly every child knows them.

And though children—Springfield children, too—know Peter Rabbit quite well, how many children in Springfield know Thornton W. Burgess, the creator of the beguiling Peter aforesaid? Not many, we venture to say. Yet Mr Burgess is a Springfield man and dwells among us the year round. But the children can hardly be blamed, since many of their elders, persons, indeed, who hobnob with Mr Burgess, do not dream that the Thornton W. Burgess whose books their children read with such avid pleasure is the Thornton W. Burgess whom they know. Mr Burgess is a bit like a prophet in his own land; the honor that is his due not being forthcoming mainly because hitherto no Springfield paper has been able to obtain the publication rights to his stories. Among the child populations of other cities, however, he is a marked man, the youngsters having become familiar with his appearance through listening to him on the lecture platform. And now he is about to come into his own in Springfield, for The Republican will begin a new series of his Bedtime Stories in Tuesday's issue.

Bedtime Stories a Springfield Product. Mr Burgess often refers to his work as being strictly a Springfield product. He came to this city on December 1, 1895, to enter the employ of the Phelps publishing company as their office boy in the editorial rooms for the sake of getting a start with a publishing house. At that time the all-cle Springfield Homestead was published by the Phelps company, and Mr Burgess was soon putting in part of his time as a reporter on that paper. At that time James E. Tower, now editor of The Delineator, was literary editor of the various agricultural publications of the Phelps company and the Orange Judd company, and Mr Burgess began doing original work under him, contributing stories, verses and special articles to these papers. When the Phelps company took over the Good Housekeeping magazine, Mr Burgess succeeded Mr Tower as literary editor of the agricultural publications, and also became an assistant on Good Housekeeping. The varied demands of these widely different publications gave him an excellent training.

All his spare time was spent in active outdoor pursuits and the study of Nature in the country surrounding Springfield. In 1902 he first won recognition as a writer under the name of W. B. Thornton, at that time conducting an outdoor calendar for Country Life in America and contributing to other magazines of national circulation. Under the same pseudonym he won recognition as a writer on outdoor topics, but over his own name was unknown. His first book, "Old Mother West Wind," was published in the fall of 1910. These stories were not written for publication originally, but were written for his small son. Three or four of them were later printed in Good Housekeeping magazine and it was through these that he was first called to the attention of his present publishers, Little, Brown & Co. At the urgent request of the publishers he sent down the 14 stories which he had written. They immediately accepted these and asked for two more in order to complete the volume. These were written and sent and Mr Burgess now recalls with considerable amusement that at that time he emphatically stated that he had written his last animal story; that, in fact, he was written out. Since that time he has written approximately 2700 stories in the same vein.

Springfield Man W

astastic Following of 5,000,000 Children

ne Stories—Though This Is His Home Town, his Literary Activities—His Scenes Are —A New Series of His Nature uesday in The Republican

TON W. BURGESS

Bedtime Stories Have a Following of More than 5,000,000 Readers

(Copyright, Bachrach)

Genesis of the Bedtime Stories

In 1911, the Good Housekeeping magazine was sold and moved to New York and Mr Burgess was forced to start over again. By this time he had discovered that there were still a few more animal stories to be told, and he began to specialize in this field. The magazine market for children's stories being of necessity rather limited, he hit on the idea of adapting his work to the needs of the newspaper. At first he met with scant encouragement, but finally prevailed upon a syndicate to try them out. The gave him only a six-months' contract to start with, renewal of the contract to be contingent upon the success of the stories of the first six months. When that period was up the feature had become established as a success and there was no trouble in renewing the contract. The first of these newspaper stories was published on February 5, 1912. Since that date there has been a story every day with the exception of Sundays and a few holidays. The popularity of the feature became such that it soon led all the features handled by the syndicate and gave Mr Burgess a nation-wide name as a writer for children. His characters became household words all over the United States, and Canada as well. Meanwhile the number of his books steadily increased and these added to his growing popularity as a writer.

Because a Boston paper controlled the whole New England territory it was impossible for Springfield papers to secure the stories, and for this reason Mr Burgess was for a long time comparatively unknown here in Springfield, when he had attained a considerable reputation elsewhere throughout the country. He has had many amusing experiences with local people, friends of many years standing, who have been thoroughly familiar with his books, yet have not associated them with him, and have expressed the utmost surprise on discovering that he was the author.

"Made in Springfield"

The Republican has tried for several years to secure the Burgess stories but until now has been unsuccessful. Mr Burgess has severed his connections with the syndicate he had been with for so long and has gone over to another, which will put out his stories as one of its star features and it is through this change that The Republican has been enabled to secure the stories for Springfield. Of the 2500 Bedtime Stories which have been published, practically all have been written right here in Springfield. This is why Mr Burgess laughingly says they ought to be stamped "Made in Springfield."

Locale in Longmeadow

Frequently he is asked the location of the Green Meadows, the Smiling Pool and the Laughing Brook. As a matter of fact, so far as they have any geographical location, they are right down in Longmeadow. He has always been extremely fond of the meadows along the Connecticut river and he had certain favorite places in mind when he first wrote of the Green Meadows, the Laughing Brook and the Smiling Pool. Much of his material has been gathered in his tramps field and wood about Springfield.

As previously stated, the first book was published in the fall of 1910. The sale that year was slightly over 1000 copies. Last year the sale of his books amounted to near 500,000 copies for the one year.

Illustrator Also a Massachusetts Man

It is of interest that his illustrator Harrison Cady, who has so happily visualized to the children Peter Rabbit, Happy Jack Squirrel, Johnnie Chuck, Sammy Jay and all the other little people of the Green Forest and the Green Meadows, is also a Massachusetts boy. He was born in Gardner and lived there until he was 12 when he went to New York to seek success in the field of art. From a equally small beginning Mr Cady has attained as high a place in his work as has Mr Burgess in his. They are close friends and the association has been a peculiarly happy one. Mr Cady is one of the most successful illustrators of the day and his work is familiar to everyone. His double page cartoons in Life during the war were among the most effective published and added much to his fame.

Photogravure
Section

Springfield

Thornton W. Burgess

Springfield man who won the love of children the country over with famous "Bedtime Stories." Here is Mr Burgess here, too, are Peter Rabbit, Happy Jack and their comrades, whose doings will be chronicled in the columns of The Republican beginning Tuesday, when Burgess will start a daily series of these "Bedtime Stories."

G. FOX & CO. NOW A CORPORATION

Feb 11 — 1920
Officers Will Be Elected To-day—$5,000,000 Capitalization.

The stockholders of the newly incorporated G. Fox & Co. will hold a meeting in the main office of the company this afternoon. The new corporation also a board of directors. Incorporation for the company was filed in the office of the state yesterday. Capitalization of $5,000,000, 500,000 shares, at a par value of $10.00 per share. At this afternoon's meeting the largest shareholder, the largest individual shareholder, the largest individual shareholder of the city of Hartford.

FOX GIVES FOR

One of Largest Ever Recorded Stamps Total

Feb 18
One of the largest ever drawn up in 1870 for record this afternoon of the town clerk, 1870, belonging to G. Fox & company, real estate on Main, Morgan streets, for a total of $3,779,000. Announcement of the corporation was made. Stamps valued at $1,000 representing $1,000 of the deed attached to the deed. The company assumed a capital of 500,000. This is the first time stamps of $1,000 have been affixed to a deed of the town clerk.

The transfer embracing on Main street, a concrete warehouse. According to the deed includes the land and 956-986 Main street, Talcott street, continuing to 23 Morgan street.

G. Fox and company organized on a capital of 40,000 shares, a certificate filed with the state to-day. The original capital was $4,000,000, share is $100. The stock are Moses Fox, Moses Stern, Morris F. Marks, Jacob L. Fox and George S. Auerbach, 100 shares each.

The officers of the company are: President, Moses Fox; vice-president, Moses Stern, Morris F. Marks and Jacob L. Fox; treasurer, Moses Stern; secretary, George S. Auerbach; directors, Moses Fox, Moses Stern, Morris F. Marks, Jacob L. Fox and George S. Auerbach.

ELIHU ROOT IS 75 YEARS OLD

Guest of Dinner Given By President Butler.

New York, February 15.—Elihu Root, former secretary of state, celebrated his seventy-fifth birthday at his home here today. Mr. Root was the guest this evening at an informal dinner given in his honor by Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University.

Portrait of Hon. Elihu Root, painted by Augustus Vincent Tack, for the Phillips Memorial Gallery in Washington, D. C., and exhibited at the Kraushaar Galleries.

45-110
attended and Sumner Sewall of Bath, Me., Yale 1920, was best man. Mr. and Mrs. Hobson left for a wedding trip and will live in Philadelphia on their return.

The Rev. F. J. K. Alexander, rector of Grace church for more than eleven years, has resigned. He expects to be away from Hartford for several months.

NAGLE 25 YEARS WITH TRAVELERS

JOHN J. NAGLE
25 YEARS WITH TRAVELERS CO.

January 18,
cratic

er of claims compensation
velers Insur-
February 18,
anniversary
pany, whose
ary 18, 1895.
he corner of
ts, where the Inspection &
has its home
gle job was
had the task,
he out-going
st office and
oming mail-
ng of a job
ot a particu-
ig a quarter
he mail was between post-
be somewhat

tain a letter
of time and manual labor
the company
of years he

John J. Nagle, adjuster of claims for the liability and compensation department of the Travelers Insurance Company, celebrated his twenty-fifth anniversary in the service of the company yesterday by putting in his usual full day's work, what spare time he had being taken up in receiving congratulatory messages. Tokens of esteem, in the way of bouquets of roses and carnations, decorated his general office.

Mr. Nagle, twenty-five years ago yesterday, left a place with the Co-operative Savings Society, then located on Pearl street, where the Phoenix Mutual Building now stands, to take a position with the Travelers Company as office boy. He was employed by Rodney Dennis, then secretary. At that time the Travelers employed sixty-five persons, while now the tower holds a busy force of 3,500. James G. Batterson, founder of the company, was president when Mr. Nagle became connected with it. John E. Morris was assistant secretary, George E. Ellis, actuary, Major E. Preston, superintendent of agents, and W. G. Cowles, now vice-president, was in charge of the liability claims department.

Mr. Nagle has held but three positions during his association with the company, office boy, clerk in the claims department and adjuster, of which position he was promoted about twenty years ago. The cashiers and managers of the Hartford branch office presented him with a basket of roses and Frank H. Hammer, special agent and Miss Margaret E. Shea with a basket of carnations. He received a traveling grip from his assistants and a school of politeness, enclosing the following note:—
"The associates of the Hartford branch office, who have had the pleasure of being associated with you, not only in their work but also in your friendship are pleased to know, and see that you are celebrating your twenty-fifth anniversary with the Travelers Insurance Company today, and in recognition of this event we wish to offer you this traveling bag as a remembrance of this anniversary and with it wish you hearty congratulations and trust you will be able to use this gift for long years to come with fond recollections."

DR. SAMUEL C. BUSHNELL

Feb 13 = 1920
Rev. Dr. Samuel C. Bushnell,

known to many friends as "Sam" Bushnell, who has been pastor of the Orthodox Congregational Church in Arlington, Mass., for thirty years, has resigned and will come back to his native state for the rest of his life. He has always had a summer home at Madison and will make his winter home in New Haven, where he was born. He was graduated from Yale in 1874 and is one of the best known members of the great Yale family. For several years until lately he was chairman of the Yale Alumni Advisory Board, of which he is still a member. He has a wide and admiring acquaintance. His sermons, which occasionally find their way into print are characterized by a truly catholic spirit and a noteworthy breadth of Christian charity. During his life in Arlington he has been interested in many of the activities of the community. His resignation was read last Sunday. Rev. Dr. George A. Gordon of the Old South of Boston writes him:—

"If it would do any good I could shed tears at the thought of losing you from our fellowship. A more generous and brotherly man I have never known. I can understand something of the permanent respect and love felt for you in your parish from the way you have affected me. All unknown to you, and naturally as the sunlight lifts and cheers the heart, your friendship, your presence in this community has been a delight and solace to my heart. You have done by your self-expression in your noble, completely individualistic sermons, and by your pastoral work, a whole happy world of good, and this good is in the biological process of the church and community which you have served, and cannot die. God bless you."

An article in the "Boston Transcript" on his resignation tells this story, which will be enjoyed again by those who remember the occasion:—

His connection with Yale recalls to mind this impromptu quatrain he once uttered at a Yale dinner:—

I come from good old Boston,
The home of the man and the cod,
Where the Cabots speak only to the Lowells

And the Lowells speak only to God.
To this utterance, which speedily became famous, Dean Jones of Yale as promptly responded:—

I'm from the town of New Haven,
The home of the truth and the light,
Where God speaks to Jones
In the very same tones

That he speaks to Hadley and Dwight

Dr. J. P. MURPHY BUYS

APARTMENT HOUSE

The apartment house at No. 888 Asylum avenue has been sold by E. M. Stone & company to John P. Murphy for approximately $80,000. The papers will be transferred Monday and Mr. Murphy will take possession at once. The building is of modern brick construction, of eight apartments, with eight rooms each. The place was built about ten years ago.

HAS BEEN 30 YEARS WITH GRACE CHURCH

Rector Harriman to Observe Anniversary Tomorrow.

DR. F. W. HARRIMAN RECTOR 30 YEARS

Windsor Church Members
Greet Him on Anniversary.

LETTER READ FROM BISHOP BREWSTER.

School Population Grows
Each Year.

WIN
A larg
Dr. F. W.
Church
ing, the rectorshi
some bo
wardens
and other
the parisl
Dr. Harr
10:45 o'
Chauncey diocese, e
in a letter
the congre
by Mr. Pa
church. T that he re
ble for him
the anniv
joined with gratulating
Church, W

cent term of service and I
him all good things for m
years of service. Dr. Harr sermon spoke briefly of his
the parish, saying in part, t
years might be considered a torate, in fact there were clergymen in the diocese who ship in one church extend longer period; however, it
him more to look to the fut
than review the past, excep
to the fact that his recto
been marked by peace and in the parish. While man had taken place and many ed him on Quinquagesima
thirty years ago, were no
yesterday, new ones had t
places and he hoped that t generation would have the
for the church as those go
He further said that he lik
pare the church with the St. Paul, "Jesus Christ, th stone." The ministers were fects or masons in the buil
church, he said, and Grace
Windsor was a symbol.

Rev. Dr. F.

June 15, 1920. Rev. Dr. F. W. Harriman and Mrs. Harriman were given a farewell reception at the Windsor Church, Windsor, Conn. (Special to The Courant.)

Prepare to Leave.

Rev. Dr. Harriman Retires.

Rev. Dr. F. W. Harriman, rector of Grace Church, terminated his long service with that church yesterday and today becomes rector emeritus of the parish, the first to be thus honored. While many were at church to be with him on the last Sunday that he was to officiate, Dr. Harriman made no reference to his retiring, except, in the announcement of services for the coming week saying that the wardens and vestrymen had made arrangements for continuing all services the same as usual, and in the closing prayer when he prayed that "a rector should be selected for the Glory of God." However, Dr. Harriman delivered a forceful sermon, taking his text from a portion of the thirteenth verse of Hebrews xi, "Strangers on the Earth." On Wednesday evening a reception will be tendered to Dr. Harriman and Mrs. Harriman, who leave for Portsmouth, R. I., during the latter part of the week where they will make their home with their son, Rev. Charles Jarvis Harriman.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 31, 1920.

The resignation came as a surprise to most of the people of the congregation, although the wardens and vestrymen had been advised concerning it, but had kept it secret until today.

The resignation was read following the announcements of church services for the week by Rev. Joseph A. Ticknor who officiated today in the absence of Rev. Dr. Harriman, who with Mrs. Harriman are attending the services in connection with the installation of their son as rector of the church at Portsmouth, R. I.

Dr. Harriman's Letter.

Rev. Dr. Harriman's letter resigning his rectorship read as follows:

"To the Parish of Grace Church, Windsor, Conn.

"I became your rector on the first day of March, 1886, and have therefore nearly completed thirty-four years in that office. For some time past I have felt it increasingly difficult to do my work, and am conscious that it calls for more activity than I can give it. I therefore tender my resignation to take effect on the first day of May, 1920. I have been very happy in Windsor and my family is much attached to the home and people where our lot has been cast for so many years. We wish to thank you for all the many kindnesses we have received and to assure you that we shall always feel the deepest interest in the welfare of this parish. I pray that Divine Providence may guide you to make wise choice of a new rector who will carry forward the work here in a spirit of consecration of the service of God and man in Christ Jesus.

"Faithfully yours,

"Frederick W. Harriman."

The congregation was deeply moved. Dr. Harriman is the dean of the clergymen of Windsor. With all his labors he has always found opportunity to give of his time and energy to other affairs, especially locally. For some time past not only his family but his parishioners and friends have noticed that his strength was failing, yet he has continued his labors undiminished. The wardens and vestrymen have been called into special session for Tuesday evening to consider the resignation. However, aside from the fact that he has tendered the resignation, the announcement which will be made by the townspeople general-regretted by the townspeople generally is that while his plans for the future are not quite complete he has decided to remove from Windsor soon after his resignation becomes effective.

Rev. Dr. Frederick W. Harriman was born November 22, 1852, at Crawfordsville, Ind., while his father, Rev. John W. Harriman, was rector at that place. He is the late Rev. Jesse Harriman, a Methodist minister, who has been a member of the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church since 1886. With the installation of Jarvis Harriman as rector, the fourth family as ministers of the church is completed, and the Episcopal clergy-

College Graduate.

in the West, most of his life has been spent in education. He was editor of the Windsor Public High School, and the Berkeley Public High School. He taught the Episcopal Academy at Berkeley, Cal., for a year and on May 31, 1886, was elected rector of the Episcopal Church, by the vestry. On June 7, 1886, he was ordained to the priesthood. For a few years he was secretary of the Increase of the Episcopal Church, and in 1877, he was minister in St. James, Meriden, Conn. From February 1, 1880, he was rector of Trinity Church, Windsor, and since that date has been rector of Grace Church at

Dean of Windsor Ministers Resigns; Son Installed as Rector Same Day

113

REV. DR. FREDERICK W. HARRIMAN.

REV. CHARLES J. HARRIMAN.

(Special to The Courant.)

At the same hour that Rev. Charles Jarvis Harriman was being installed as rector of St. Paul's Church at Portsmouth, R. I., making the third generation of the family of Episcopal clergymen and the fourth generation of ministers of the Gospel, the resignation of his father, Rev. Dr. Frederick W. Harriman, for nearly thirty-four years, rector of Grace Episcopal Church of Windsor was read at the morning service this morning.

this place. He was rector of the church. His tenure covers a longer term of years than any other rector of Grace Church.

In addition to his rectorship, at Grace Church he supervised the missionary work in two counties as archdeacon of Hartford from April 13, 1893, to November 14, 1896. He was secretary and treasurer of the Church Scholarship Society from June 13, 1893, to June 12, 1894; was assistant secretary of the diocese of Connecticut from June 10, 1890, to June 11, 1895, and from the latter date for many years was secretary of the diocese. Soon after coming to Windsor his services to Hartford.

Rev. C. J. Harriman's Appointment.

Through inadvertence the account in this morning's issue of the "Courant" concerning the new appointment of Rev. Charles Jarvis Harriman, was disarranged. He is to be institute rector of St. James the Less Church of Philadelphia on February 4, 1924. He is the son of Rev. Dr. F. W. Harriman, rector emeritus of Grace Church and Mrs. Harriman and is third generation of Episcopal clergymen of the family and the fourth generation of clergymen, his great-grandfather having been a Baptist minister. He is a graduate of the Hartford High School, Trinity College and the Berkeley Divinity School. He has held appointments in several churches and for three years has been rector of the Episcopal Church in Portsmouth, R. I.

OCTOBER 29, 1923.

has traveled quite extensively.

GRACE CHURCH

(Special to The Courant.)

The awarding of the Grace Church met in the parish house to consider the resignation of Rev. Dr. F. W. Harriman, was held at the parish house. The meeting was opened by Rev. Dr. F. W. Harriman, who offered prayer. The meeting was then turned over to the rector to read the resignation. The meeting voted to accept it and to elect Rev. Dr. F. W. Harriman, rector emeritus of the parish. The resignation becomes effective on January 1, 1924. Senior Warden and Junior Warden and Senior Vestry Meade were appointed. The meeting also voted to accept the resignation of the rector. The meeting then selected a new rector, consisting of Warden and Horace W. W. B. Pomeroy and C. J. Harriman, who were appointed to investigate and recommend a new rector.

Lewis G. Harriman, who visited his father, Rev. Dr. F. W. Harriman, and yesterday, left for his home.

October 19, 1923. Mrs. Paul place, Windsor, N. Y.

Harriman, the day installed at Portsmouth, R. I., is a Public High Trinity College of Berkeley 1908. He was the church's first rector in 1908. He was the church's first rector in 1908. He was the church's first rector in 1908.

STOR'S BRIDE FROM PROVIDENCE

Ch Jarvis Harriman
Be United in Marriage to Miss Cocroft.

April 24 - 1920

Windsor, April 22.—Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Harriman will leave for Providence tomorrow morning to be present at the marriage of their son, the Rev. Charles J. Harriman, and Miss Kathryn Cocroft of that city on Saturday morning at 10:30 o'clock in St. Stephen's church whose rector, the Rev. Dr. Frederick S. Penfold will perform the ceremony.

Miss Cocroft is the daughter of the late Rev. Thomas H. Cocroft and lives with her mother in Providence and is a member of St. Stephen's church.

Mr. Harriman was graduated from the Hartford high school with the class of 1901, from Trinity college in 1905 and from Berkeley Divinity school, Middletown in 1908. After graduation he served for a time as assistant at All Saints' church, Worcester, Mass. and later at St. Stephen's, Providence. For five years he had a parish in Putnam, and was a chaplain in the army for one year being stationed at Camp Devens. He has served as rector of St. Paul's church at Portsmouth, R. I., since February 15 and Mr. and Mrs. Harriman will occupy the rectory there after the marriage. Dr. and Mrs. Harriman will return to Windsor Saturday and Dr. Harriman will occupy his pulpit on Sunday. Lewis C. Harriman expects to spend Sunday with his parents before returning to Buffalo.

A daughter has been born to Rev. Charles Jarvis Harriman and Mrs. Harriman of Portsmouth, R. I. The child is the granddaughter of Rev. Dr. F. W. Harriman, for many years rector of Grace Church, this place.

FEBRUARY 7, 1921.

A son, Charles Jarvis Harriman, Jr., has been born to Rev. C. J. Harriman of Portsmouth, R. I. The child is the grandson of Rev. Dr. F. W. Harriman and Mrs. Harriman.

SEPTEMBER 9, 1922.

TAX COMMISSIONER CORBIN RESIGNS

ASKS HOLCOMB TO RELIEVE HIM BY FIRST OF MARCH

Author of Important Tax Legislation Which Helped

Quadruple Receipts
TO LEAVE STATE TAX
DEPT. AFTER 13 YEARS

GOVERNOR
REG

Tax Comm bin handed ernor Marcu effective Ma
to the dema
his duties a Bickford-Sw
Following l
ter, dated la

My dear Go
For person
by tender y
commissione
fect March
My please
my entire
associated v
eral and go
I am unab
relations u
term, but I much pleas lonship and
With rea deep appre
nesses. I al
Res

WILLIAM H. CORBIN.

To His Excellency, Governor Marcus
H. Holcomb, State Capitol, Hartford, Conn.

Governor Express Regret.

To a representative of "The Courant" Governor Holcomb expressed his regret at Mr. Corbin's resignation and modestly said that the kind things that people said of his administration were due to men like Corbin, whom he had merely appointed while they had done the creditable work.

In the thirteen years that Mr. Corbin has held the office there has been an increase of approximately $8,000,000
in the actual taxes annually received by the state on assessments made by his office, the total of which is now four times what it was in 1907,
not including automobile and liquor license revenue and miscellaneous taxes.

Mr. Corbin was appointed by Governor Rollin S. Woodruff in 1907 to serve the unexpired portion of a term ending in 1909. He was renominated in 1909 by Governor George L. Lilley, in 1913 by Governor Simeon E. Baldwin and in 1917 by Governor Holcomb, with prompt confirmation by the Senate in each case.

his period of service included
lation put Connecticu
Commission
laneous cor
ties' gross inheritance
electric con

"PA" CORBIN.

Comments On His Regretted Resignation.

The

WEDNESD.

The

WEDNESD.

MR. COR

The reti

Corbin from

missioner d

services of

ful public c

missioner's

when he wa

er in 1907

When he ac

it was with

make the of

sible benefit

state in brir

taxation. H

methods of

made for un

and of syste

purposes wh

the greatest

cut. He ma

the laws gov

state and he

commend cha

even though

tion that was

bined oppositi

did not like

in which he

ment of prop

and the antag

objected to h

tion. He f

tenacity for

Commission

views on taxa

Connecticut

harmony with taxation offi

mitted that

with ability

from rancor.

pointment to

The "Bulletin of the National Tax Association" has this to say of William H. Corbin, who so ably filled the office of tax commissioner:—

"As we go to press, we are advised of the resignation of William H. Corbin as Tax Commissioner of Connecticut. This news will come as a severe shock and as a keen disappointment
to his hosts of friends in the Association who have come to look upon him as a strong reliance in the support of all that is best in taxation. It is putting it mildly to say that the officers of the Association, including the Editor, will regret this action, and it is to be hoped that this retirement
from active participation in administrative duties will surely not mean relaxation of interest in our work in general but that he will continue to be in the future as he has been in the past, a refuge for counsel and advice
in the serious and disturbed times which lie ahead.

To recount the accomplishments in Connecticut during his official life as Tax Commissioner, would invite a reference to almost every important advance in the art that has been secured in recent years, for each of them has first and last been brought to some degree of practical application there. We think casually of Corbin's work on inheritance taxation;
supervision and improvement in local assessments; apportionment of state taxes on the basis of local expenditures, thus eliminating friction
through competition for low assessments; revolutionizing local administration and compiling intelligent and helpful statistics, as a basis for applying corrective methods; standardization of forms and blanks used throughout the state; revising and modernizing the various state taxes, formerly in a chaotic condition, involving the substitution of simple and effective methods of taxation of railroads and other utilities, and finally the introduction of the net income tax in place of the previously erratic property tax for business corporations, by the simple expedient of using the report of the federal government. These are but a few of the accomplishments in Connecticut secured, it may safely be said, solely through the intelligent, vigorous and indefatigable industry and persistence of this exceptional official. He has frequently been called upon to serve on investigating commissions
and the reports of these commissions,
as well as his own official reports,
contain in themselves abundant
sources of information to all concerned with questions of taxation.
In the councils of the Association,
Mr. Corbin has been a constant and consistent friend and helper. We shall refuse to allow ourselves to consider him in any sense separated from active association with us, and we cherish the thought that he will not think it undignified if we here refer to him in the terms which the graduates of Yale so commonly use, reflecting their memories of his triumphs on the football field—"Pa" Corbin, one of the fathers of this Association. Our best wishes will follow him as he leaves the administrative field.

BLODGETT APPOINTED TAX COMMISSIONER

of the Chicago Tribune
SSIONER BLODGETT.

115

Governor Designates Clerk
of Bills in Legislature to Succeed W. H. Corbin on March 1.

HAS DRAFTED MUCH TAX LEGISLATION

William H. Blodgett of Winsted, clerk of bills in the last four sessions of the Legislature, was appointed yesterday by Governor Marcus H. Holcomb to succeed William H. Corbin as state tax commissioner. He will assume direction of the office on March 1, when Commissioner Corbin retires, and serve the unexpired portion of his term ending July 1, 1921. There will be no changes in the personnel of the department.

Long Legislative Experience.

By reason of the fact that he has served in all the clerkships of the Legislature, the new commissioner has a wide acquaintance in the state. Born in Falls Village, in the town of Canaan, October 2, 1874, he spent his early boyhood in that place, going West as a young man to complete his education. He studied science and law and was graduated from the Northern Indiana Law School in June, 1902, after which he returned to Connecticut, and spent a short time in Falls Village. Receiving the republican nomination for representative that year he was elected by a large plurality for the session of 1903.

Subsequently he opened a law office in Winsted. In April, 1904, he was appointed prosecuting attorney of the town court of Winchester, and later became attorney for the borough of Winsted. Since that time, Winsted has been a city.

During the 1907 session of the Legislature, Mr. Blodgett was elected assistant clerk of the House of Representatives, and at the 1909 session he was promoted to the clerkship. He was clerk of the Senate at the 1911 session, and in 1913 was named clerk of bills, continuing in that office during the drafting of bills likely to be subjected to severe tests in the courts. At the age of 46 he is looked upon as the dean of legislative clerks, having passed through all the grades.

Mr. Blodgett was married in 1909 to Miss Beatrice Lucella Moore, of Winsted, daughter of the late Alfred E. Moore, known throughout the country as a balloonist, having been one of the pioneers in that art. He made several trips for the "New York World," taking the first photographs from a ship in the air.

Mr. Blodgett has been an active member of the republican party, and was at one time chairman of the republican town committee in Winsted. In the campaigns of 1916 and 1918 he was campaign manager for James P. Glynn.

Mr. Blodgett indicated yesterday that Judge Charles W. Cramer, deputy tax commissioner; Arthur F. Potter, secretary to the commissioner; Howard Bailey, chief clerk, and A. Lee Lawrence, chief clerk in the corporation department, would be asked to continue in their places when he assumes direction of the important department.

Holcomb yesterday appointed William H. Blodgett of Winsted as the successor to William H. Corbin, who has resigned as tax commissioner to take effect March 1st.

Mr. Blodgett is a capable lawyer of large experience and excellent character. He will bring to the office a trained mind and an ample acquaintance with affairs as well as with men through the state. Mr. Corbin has developed a system and organization that have put the tax office on a high plane and all of Mr. Blodgett's many friends will agree that he is well qualified to keep it there.

The position calls for a man of integrity, ability, plenty of tact, strict

SUCCEEDS CORBIN AS CHIEF OF TAX DEPT.

ant courage, or possessing opportunity good as his

WILLIAM H. BLODGETT.

NG
$400,000

nd Fleish
reet

on Church
erday after-
r merchant.
rris Fleisch
a price an-pleted with-ry Building has ninety-
ores on the

ation Com-
dler and of

FIELD
00,000

LIFE INSURANCE

Chicago, Feb. 19.—Captain Marshall Field III, heir to the $120,000,000 Field estate, applied for a million dollar life insurance policy today. He made the application through two former "buddies" with whom he served in France, and who are now insurance agents.

Marshall Field III
to Become Banker

Chicago, December 30.—Marshall Field, 3d, announced to-day he had decided to take up investment banking as his life business, and had formed a partnership with a Chicago investment banking firm. Mr. Field, who was the principal heir to the estate of his grandfather, Marshall Field, which made $250,000 and him one of the wealthiest young men in the world, will continue his association with the various New York and Chicago interests left by his grandfather. His principal personal business, however, would be investment banking, and he said,

ceived by the company this rt of the $1-
ly taken out
insurance com-
I of Chicago.

only company
ion. The ap-
his life business, and had formed a variety which ny the choice
to underwrite.
his dollar policy $250,000 and reinsurance
e rest of the
to Mr. Field.
by H. Harper
of the ident Life and
een "buddies"

of Mr. Field in the United States army. The premium on the policies is at the rate of $25.55 per $1,000. Mr. Field has been examined by the medical representatives of thirteen companies.

Feb 1921

Commiss Neil Marriayeth Not V. Where

Bride of Well Kn Miss Margaret Donohue of Former
Ne

Police Commissioner
O'Neil—"Billy" O'Neil to and Miss Margaret Donohue ville and formerly of this
she was employed by Chr & Co., were married out cently. It was a "quiet w
the marriage has been kno intimate friends of the bridegroom. To a report Courant" Commissioner
evening laughingly admit cent marriage, adding tha
tails were not necessary.
sioner O'Neil had been a w is 67 years old. His brid younger.

The father of Mrs. O
WM. F. O'NEIL KE

MARRIAGE SE

Feb 17
Police Commissioner Admits Took Place February 17 at
—"I'm No Politician" He S

Police Commissioner Will O'Neil tried to be angry this when he read the story of his
but the commissioner is too disposition, so there was a sm
ing about his lips as he admit the ceremony took place on 17 at Lakeville, where he an Margaret J. Donoghue were married by Miss Donoghue's first cousin, the Rev.
John J. Donoghue, with whom the present Mrs. O'Neil made her home for eight years previous to her marriage.
"I'm no politician—never was," said
Mr. O'Neil as he pulled from his pocket
a paper on which were written the names of the witnesses of the marriage,
W. J. Donoghue of New Britain and Miss Julia Donoghue of Washington,
D. C., brother and sister of the bride.
"I'm a contractor. And my age is 64, not 67." "Yes," he answered in response to a question, "Mrs. O'Neil is about 40 years of age and she was prominent in New Britain societies several years ago. I have known her for about three years. Yes, she worked at Dillon's in this city, but that was
years ago."

The night before he was
Mr. O'Neil attended the meeting police board, but he was the member of that body who knev approaching ceremony, he said
The couple went to New Yor
the marriage and came here
ruary 19. They have been livin that time at Mr. O'Neil's hou 277 Farmington avenue. Mr. O'N appointed police commission Mayor Kinsella last year. He candidate for congress in 1902
mayor in 1906. He had been a w

Mr. O'Neil has the contract fifteen-story office building wh
American Industrial Bank & Tru
pany is putting up on Main stre church and for the addition to

ONER, AT 67,
AKEVILLE GIRL

F. O'NEIL.

MISS HARRIS WED TO B. J. BLESSING

Wethersfield, February 17.—Miss Dorothy Elizabeth Harris, daughter of Mr.
and Mrs. Henry A. Harris of Main street, Wethersfield and Burton Judd Blessing, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Blessing, also of Wethersfield, were married in Trinity church this morning at 11 o'clock. The Rev. Auguste T. B.
Curl, rector of the church, officiated and there were no attendants. Mr. and Mrs.
Blessing will live in Wethersfield.

Feb 20. 1920
Miss Elizabeth M. Ashley, daughter of Mrs. George Ashley, sr., of Murray street, New Britain, and Philip G.
Eaton of this city were married Friday noon by the Rev. Dr. Herbert Judson White, pastor of the First Baptist church, in the chapel of the church.
The bride was attended by her sister,
Mrs. Stanley Parker of New Britain and the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Alfred
B. Pimm of this city. Mr. and Mrs.
Eaton left for a short wedding trip and after April 1, will be at home at
No. 286 Farmington avenue. The bridegroom, who served at the Mexican border in 1916 with the First Connecticut infantry, first as a private and then as sergeant-major, was a first lieutenant in the Fifth-Elghth Pioneer infantry at Camp Wadsworth and was afterwards promoted to the rank of captain.

Although suffering from a broken shoulder bone, the result of a fall on the icy pavements last Monday, Bishop

Chauncey B.

tom of many

the address

service in Cl noon. Bish

while in Brar

on an icy pa

his left shou

bishop is ra

been perform

although his

ter cast and

hand. For the bishop hi

morning the

opened the

Those who ha

feel that the

without the first day and to disappoint

he has perform

ant duties sinc

celled a numb

them an invi

next week, the service so im

willing to be conditions.

In his addre

on "Lent—A

He has arrang

RT. REV. CHAUNCEY B. BREWSTER

Broken Shoulder Fails To Deter Bishop From Conducting Service.

Feb. 16, 1920
Rt. Rev. Chauncey B. Brewster Preaches Annual Lenten Sermon at Cathedral in Spite of Painful Injury Resulting From Fall on Ice.

MRS. WILLIAM F. O'NEIL of Farmington avenue, one of the patronesses. (C) Bachrach

43-116

Glowing tribute was paid to the pastorate of Rev. Dr. Edwin Pond Parker, pastor emeritus of the South Congregational Church, when the sixtieth anniversary of his installation of the people delved with scepter and with their staves."

The sermon follows in part:—
"This text is one of the most ancient of folk songs in the Bible. It is a ballad. It sings of desert days, of journeying to a promised land; it is reminiscent of the stern days when the well was a vital necessity, when the nobles of the people delved, when all lifted up the labor and experience into singing words, when Israel sang:—

Sing up O well! Sing ye back Well which the princes Which nobles of the people With the scepter and with their It is the song of the well,— to the lips of chiefs and kings, ds and herdsmen, long before dk called 'Numbers' was com- and descending like other bal- other borders and of border om generation to generation, lace to place, on the singing men. Israel sought and found l of water, and then Israel ex- hat national experience into g of the well, and later Israel fined to discover a well of liv- ter, and the song of the was evermore to be the song well.

Experiences of Israel.

Religion is very much like that ancient experiences of Israel. pilgrimage through a world to the infinite world, even as journeying was a pil- through the discipline of the o the promised land. It is an progressive, common experi- all souls and of all saints and aners, too, even as the ancient ie tribes and all the individ- the good and the bad together, he promised land. Religion much like the experience of respect to its leadership. For d their great leader, Moses, w the mountain heights of oth the glory that was Sinai, grandeur that was Pisgah, religion has had great seers, has been given the pattern fount and to whom has been en from the heights of prom- obtained, the vision of the t is very far off. And fur- gion is not unlike the desert e of Israel, in respect to water. It knows that the ge of the soul through this man to the presence of the vill never be successful un- discover and preserve for all d all sinners those wells of water whereof any man e shall never thirst again. ll the race has had her nd nobles who have digged ed even with the scepter their staves. No instrument lted and no instrument is too or the service of the water, r leaps up in reply to the e scepter and of the stave, well of living water break- esponse to the cry either of who bears the scepter or the d again religion is like the of Israel in this: We also e the song of the well. The ted up the experience of all to singing words, musical melodious phrases.

Hymns of the church are the the Well. The hymns of h are the triumphs of the he song of the well lives the time when water was m the well. The hymns of i live longer and carry an the creeds and dogmas. e hymn book all denomina- in a harmony which is any sect, or the melody of any church.

Year of Anniversaries.

"How true this experiences has been in the religious history of New Eng- land. For like the Israelites who sang the song of the well, New Eng- land has known the experience of the pilgrimage. This year marks the an- niversary of that unfading romance in faith which brought the Mayflower to Plymouth. This year marks the anniversary of the South Church in Hartford and reminds you of days when the river valley was a wilder- ness and when the first settlers

Pay Tribute To Memory Of Rev. Dr. E. P. Parker's Long Service As Pastor

Sunday Jan 11, 1920

Sixtieth Anniversary of His Installation to Pastorate of South Congregational Church Observed—Impres- sive Sermon by Rev. W. S. Archibald.

REV. DR. EDWIN POND PARKER.

ed to us. He has been a distinguished contemporary with the great leaders who gave expression to the larger faith of the new theology. We are proud of his achievement, and we re- joice that he, having seen the morn- ing and the morning light, has now the felicity of evening hours and light at even tide."

He then delivered the sermon on the text from the twenty-first chapter of Numbers, sixteen to eighteen verses "Then sang Israel this song: Spring up O Well! Sing ye back this! Well which princes digged! which

and the foundations of this church were pilgrims and sojourners as all their fathers were. Ever since those days of 1620 and 1670 the history of this city and the chronicle of our country has been in a profoundly solemn sense the record of a pilgrimage. It has been a pilgrimage of all souls and all saints and all sorts of conditions of men. It has been a continuous upward experience in our humanity.

"But best of all the religious history of New England has been a pilgrimage through humanity to God. We have never been content to make the things of New England the goal of our achievement. We have never been content to make even man the flying goat of all our strivings. Our pilgrimage in the ideal has been a journey on to God. New England at her best has one world to say and that one word is—God. The God and Father of Your Lord, Jesus Christ. God over all, in all and through all! For that very reason all men and women are members of the pilgrimage which in the words of Josiah Royce we call the 'Beloved Community.' Every church of Christ is a beloved community journeying through our dear humanity to the ultimate reality of God, the Father of all men and of our Lord, Jesus Christ.

"Like Israel also we have had not only the experience of the pilgrimage, but also the great leaders in this journey of the soul. We have had our seers. Who knew the mountain of the law and the hill of vision. One of our seers was Horace Bushnell, a name most familiar, most honored and most revered in this city. Horace Bushnell was not only the heir of rich legacies in religious thinking, but also the creator and originator of vital principles in divinity. Some men are living creatures—and some are live-giving creators.

Horace Bushnell's Work.

"Horace Bushnell was a life-giving man. He was original and creative in his thinking. He vindicated the original right of every child to be a birth right member in the Church of Christ and by Christian nurture to attain as the most natural and most blessed way, the character of Christ. He brought back to the pages of the gospels the Christ of Bethlehem, of Nazareth, Galilee and Calvary and gave reality once more to the words and deeds of the Lord, Jesus. He broke down the vicious wall of partition between the natural and the supernatural. He was the seer to whom the religious leaders in New England turned to receive their inspiration.

He added poetry where the Puritan divines had given prose.

"He gave the morning and the evening glow and glory of the imagination to the swift intuitions of his intellect. He was the Moses for the men who made the new theology in the nineteenth century. He was like the pioneers who made the Old Bay Path and mountain trails, which afterwards were developed into roads and highways. He blazed the trail which others widened into roads.

"The new theology was the work of the men who knew him and loved him and followed him. Dr. Twichell, Dr. Burton, Dr. Parker, Theodore Munger, George Gordon, Eberth Smyth, Washington Gladden, Henry Ward Beecher and Phillips Brooks. These are some of the men who led the religious thought of the nineteenth century in New England. They were the princes and nobles of the people who dug for us wells of living water. Each one of these leaders in his own individual way contributed to the progressive thought of this time. Dr. Munger was the biographer of Horace Bushnell.

Religion and Literature.

"He gave a fine literary expression to the life and character of his great teacher. Dr. Munger was a preacher and writer, who exemplified the vital and essential relations between religion and literature, and to the nobility and holiness of the religious experience he gave the beauty and dignity and the cathedral glory of English literature.

"Dr. Gordon has been the theologian of the New England religious movement which received its impetus from Horace Bushnell. He is a student of philosophy—and he has given the philosophic sweep and reach the historical continuity and relation to the swift intuitions of the spirit and the imagination. He has universalized our thought. He has exalted it above the provincial, and magnified it above the temporal. He has humanized his system of Divinity by his own great human spirit, by his loyalty and love for all that is best in our humanism, and by his great affection for that whole and enduring humanity which we call Greek literature. He has been one of the nobles of the people, and he has given us a deep river of living water.

"These have been the contemporaries of Dr. Parker, whose sixtieth anniversary we celebrate in this historic church today. He has been one of the princes and nobles, who with their sceptre and their staves, have digged and delved in order that all souls might drink of the well of living water. One notable and noble distinction in his service I may mention this morning. To him was given the honor of writing the 'Song of the Well.' He has written the 'Song of the Well' for the religious movement in New England which springs from Horace Bushnell.

Work in Hymns.

"He has written hymns which carry larger faith, and the larger hopes. He has written the hymn where others have written the history and the philosophy. And hymns are messengers whose feet never tire. They march from century to century, from continent to continent, with undiminished strength and inexhaustible power. They mount up, up, with wings as eagles, they run and are not weary, they walk and faint not. They are members of all churches and never need to be baptized again or confirmed, or converted. Dr. Parker's hymns are now appearing in many hymn books."

Rev. Mr. Archibald then quoted the words of Dr. Parker's hymn which opens with the line "Master, No offering costly and sweet May we like Magdalen lay at Thy feet."

He went on to say:—"Dr. Parker has lifted to lyric heights the principles of Bushnell and his contemporaries and to great doctrines of Christian nurture and the universal Fatherhood of God, he has given to the 'Song For All Souls.'"

Mr. Archibald then quoted this hymn and commented upon it saying:—

"There is written the 'Song of the well,' and then Israel sang this song: 'Spring up, O well, Sing ye back to her, well which princes digged, which nobles delved with the scepter and with the staves.' Today we have heard a hymn which is sung in our meeting houses and our public schools—'Thy name O Lord in Sweet Accord.'"

"This is a song of the well—well which the princes digged, which nobles of the people delved. It sings of the Divine Love and the Divine Light. These have been the guides of our religious leaders. Horace Bushnell in his book entitled, 'God in Christ' describes this guidance of the inner and Divine Light, as 'A Perceptive Power in Spiritual Life.' He confesses that he and all his friends and followers and spiritual ancestors are mystics. The world in which he lives is a 'mystic world,' the world of the new testament, and the Divine Love and the Inner Light. This was one of the wells of living waters which he made for us, and for this Dr. Parker has also written a 'Song of the Well.'

"So today the South Church rejoices in the sixtieth anniversary of Dr. Parker's installation as minister of this church. We give him today our love and our loyalty. A ministry of sixty years with one parish is a notable distinction and Dr. Parker's ministry will be remembered as one of the historic pastorates of Hartford."

The Hartford Courant

Established 1764.

FRIDAY MORNING, JAN. 10, 1919.

DR. PARKER'S ANNIVERSARY.

Fifty-nine years ago today, young Edwin P. Parker, twenty-three years of age, was ordained pastor of the Second or South Congregational Church of this city. In that capacity he served until 1912. Like Horace Bushnell and Joseph H. Twichell, he had but one parish during his service in the pulpit. It is most gratifying to his many friends that he is still in full vigor, and, though emeritus as a pastor, is finding useful and agreeable occupation as readers of "The Courant" find at various times and places.

The Hartford Courant

Established 1764.

MONDAY MORNING, JAN. 12, 1919.

DR. PARKER.

Rev. Dr. Parker had yesterday the peculiar fortune to attend the celebration of the sixtieth anniversary of his installation as pastor of the South Congregational Church. Scarcely, indeed, comes such a situation to a clergyman. As a rule, they shift from church to church, though Hartford has been fortunate in having three cases where a church and a life were spent together—Dr. Bushnell, Dr. Twichell and Dr. Parker.

Dr. Parker's service was the longest as active pastor, and his life is the longest of all of them. Though he walks more slowly and carefully than he did years ago, his mind is as clear as ever, his interests as broad, and his judgment wiser and his thought deeper by reason of his long experience. Ever since the "Sunday Courant" was established he has been its regular contributor of the "Optimist" articles, which not a few readers have pronounced an adequate substitute for church attendance. We refer to this relation because it has made the Doctor, as it were, one of "The Courant" family and here he has won the affection of all who have met him—as has been his way everywhere.

Parker, like his dear friend, Twichell, gets much of his hold through the fact that, while he is a holy man, he is also a human being, full of sympathy with those around him, interested in what interests them, and loved and trusted because of this sympathetic attitude. We speak for every one who knows him in wishing him life for as long as he wants and can enjoy it, and after that the reward that awaits his fruitful and beautiful career.

DR. PARKER AND "THE COURANT."

The "Sunday Courant" was established October 5th, 1913. It was an experiment. The "Connecticut Bible" made a novel plunge when it undertook to publish on Sunday. But it did plunge and the result has been a success alike to the publishers and to the people of Connecticut; for the "Sunday Courant" in a short time took its place as the state paper, which naturally belongs to one printed at the capital. Among the foremost factors that helped to put the experiment on its feet were the delightful "Optimist" papers, which Rev. Dr. E. P. Parker contributed regularly from the first day until last Sunday.

These have covered a wide field, as wide as the delightful range of the Doctor's thought. They have been a most enjoyable feature of the paper. We are hoping that some day a collection of them may appear in book form. It is with regret that we have to announce that Dr. Parker has decided no longer to be a regular contributor. He feels that he has not the strength to keep up with the constant strain that regular contributions involve and he has resigned. Of course, we can do nothing but accept the situation, but it involves a break that is at least as painful to us as to him.

He knows that whatever he may hereafter write will be most welcome, and that, as long as he lives, he will be reckoned "one of us" by all the "Courant" force. At the time when the paper needed help he was of the greatest help to it. It now has reached the point where it depends on no one man. While this is true, we at the same time are glad to acknowledge the great obligation which we are under to him for his services at a time when they were nearly indispensable. He will always be considered one of "The Courant" family, loved for what he is and gratefully remembered for what he has done for the paper and

SOUTH CHURCH SEES TWO AND ONE-HALF CENTURIES OF LIFE

July 24, 1919
Second Congregation Dates Back to 1670.

The Second Church of Hartford, commonly known as the South Congregational Church, is to celebrate its 250th anniversary of its organization. The church was organized as the Second Church of Christ in Hartford, February 22, 1670, by the withdrawal from the First Church, after dissensions that finally divided the mother church.

Not many years after the death of the Rev. Thomas Hooker (1647), pastor of the First Church, a controversy started in the church caused by a difference in opinion on certain ecclesiastical questions and intensified and complicated by local jealousies and opinions. John Whiting, senior pastor of the mother church, finally gathered around him thirty-one members and their families and founded the Second Church in Hartford, February 22, 1670.

The written covenant of the Second Church was consented to by John Whiting, James Richards, Thomas Bull, Robert Webster, Senator George Grave, George Stocking, James Ensign, Senator Thomas Bunce, Thomas Watts, James Steele, Joseph Nash, John Cole, Andrew Benton, Benjamin Harbert, John Biddall, Frances Stebbins, Sibilla Whiting, Susannah Bull, Sarah Bunce, Agnes Stocking, Margaret Watson, Elizabeth Watts, Sarah Ensign, Sarah Grave, Margaret Nash, Sanford, Steele, Hannah Benton, Sarah Biddall, Susannah Arnold, Christian Harbart, Whaples, Anne Cole.

The following children of the church, or members not then in full communion, who subscribed to the covenant: Nathaniel Standly, John Marsh, Stephen Hosmer, Thomas Bunce, Jr., John Seamer, Jacob White, John Eston, John Day, Joseph Bull, Jonathan Bull, David Bull, John Bunce, John Wilson, Samuel Hubbard, John Watson, Thomas Halee, Arthur Smith, Johnathan Gilbert, John Biddall, Joseph Biddall.

Sarah Richards, Susannah Bunce, Elisebeth Warren, Hannah Eston, Sarah Worthington, Elizebeth White, Sarah Merolds, Mary Seamer, Mary McKins, Lydia Smith, Ruth Bull, Lydia Cole, Hannah Benton, Hannah Smith and Sarah Biddall.

Rev. Dr. Edwin Pond Parker, pastor emeritus of the South Church, writes of this covenant as follows:

"This paper must be regarded as one of the most important documents pertaining to the early ecclesiastical history of New England. In its first part a statement of the reasons for withdrawal is given. The fundamental contention, underlying all personal differences and manifesting itself in various forms, was concerning the Congregational way of church order, by all manner of orderly establishments settled, and for a long time unanimously approved and practiced in this place. This Congregational way, as formerly settled, professed, and practiced under the guidance of the first leaders of the church in Hartford, was that which the withdrawers felt themselves bound in duty carefully to observe and attend. This they could not do in the First Church, and so, at length, they embodied themselves in a distinct estate. In its second part, the paper lucidly

ly and vigorously defines the main heads of original and sound Congregationalism, and its definitions are, perhaps, as complete and flawless a statement of the distinctive principles of Congregationalism as can anywhere be found.

"In its third part, it presents a form of covenant which, for its simplicity and dignity of expression, for its brevity, and for its easy comprehension of essential things, and its exclusion of things not essential, is deserving of the highest commendation. A comparison of this covenant with many which came into use in our churches at a much later date, would at once disclose its superior literary and religious merits. Dr. Walker quotes this document, and raises the interesting question, 'Can this be the original and otherwise missing first covenant of the Hartford church?' And he adds, 'The first suggestion, therefore seems a not unlikely one, that the first covenant of the old church may be preserved through the law.'

John Whiting was chosen the first pastor on the day that the church was organized. Of him Cotton Mather said: "He will never be forgotten till Connecticut colony do forget itself and all religion." He was born in 1635 and was graduated from Harvard College in 1653. He was the second son of Major William Whiting, a magistrate in 1637 and treasurer of the Connecticut Colony from 1641-1647. Major Whiting was a "man of wealth and distinction," an original Hartford proprietor, and lived in 1639 on the east side of Governor street. John Whiting preached for a time in Salem. He continued in the pastorate of the Second Church until his death in 1689. The first meeting house which continued in use during Mr. Whiting's period as minister and after that until 1754 was small and unsightly.

Rev. Thomas Buckingham was the second pastor of the church and he also held his place as church leader until his death in 1731. He was graduated from Harvard College in 1690 and four years later was settled as pastor of the Second Church. Dr. Parker describes him as "one of the most eminent ministers in Connecticut, a gentleman of engaging manners, superior abilities and exemplary character."

Rev. Elhanan Whitman, son of Samuel Whitman, succeeded Mr. Buckingham. He was formerly pastor of the Farmington church. The church was greatly increased in numbers and power between 1732 and 1777, the years of his pastorate. In this time came also the great revivals of Jonathan Edwards and Whitefield. Mr. Buckingham's mother made a gift of some land to the church and a new meeting house was built in 1754. Rev. William Patten was settled as colleague of Mr. Whitman in 1767, but was dismissed in 1773 and died at Roxbury in 1775.

From 1777 to 1784 the church was without a pastor, but after the Revolutionary War, in 1784, Rev. Benjamin Boardman was settled as minister. The city of Hartford was incorporated in the year of Mr. Boardman's ordination. Rev. Abel Flint was ordained pastor when Mr. Boardman retired in 1790. Dr. Parker comments that the "items of the bill for his ordination expenses show that good liquor in abundance was still enjoyed by holy men. Gallons of wine and of rum, quarts of brandy, pipes and tobacco, were thought to be necessary on the occasion."

At the time that Dr. Flint became pastor of the Second Church, Hartford was a manufacturing center. The Hartford Manufacturing Company, which was the first of its kind in the state, was organized in 1790. The Hartford Grays won their first

HARTFORD GRAYS
TOP THE HEAD
The Hartford Grays won their first Manufacturing Company yesterday.
to 3. Due to the late arrival of the Hartford Manufacturing Company yesterday.
Frame of the season from the Veeber
The Hartford Grays won their first
R. Grimes; Werre, Tyler and Werre; and pines, McLaughlin and Waters; time, 1:40.
Lindstrom 2; double plays, Lat. Braun and of Lindstrom 5; hit by pitcher, by sacrifice by Skiff; bases on balls, of Horner
his staff Martin, Brackett, Waters, Dece Steen bases. Lat. Gardella, sacrifice bases.

REV. DR. E. P. PARKER PRAISED AT SOUTH CHURCH CELEBRATION Pastor Emeritus's Many Years of Service Lauded by Hartford Clergymen in Commemorative Address MACKENZIE

WHEN SOUTH CHURCH OBSERVED 200TH ANNIVERSARY

Rocky
Tel
Chu

The
the Sec
ford, w
conclud
of its 2
service
even gr
night.
Macke
Semina
mon Po
First
speaker
pastor
in last sermon
benedic
anniver
when t
in the c
Many Edwin
of the c
day. E
the wor
his yea
numero
esteem.
Last
congreg
thodist
First
road, c matula
"proud
appreci
er. Dr.
of good
the Cer
morning
received

This reproduction of a print in the collection of Rev. Dr. E. P. Parker had its original in "Leslie's Weekly" and was "from a sketch by our special artist." Dr. Parker, who delivered the historical address, is seen in the

The and was "from a sketch by our special artist." Dr. Parker, who delivered the historical address, is seen in the tion was
I. H. Berg, former pastor, was prevented from being present at either service by an illness of influenza
while Rev. A. M. Ellis was also unable to attend because of the same illness. However Rev. John F. Johnstone, Rev. W. M. Butler, Rev. Dr. J.
J. Dunlop and Rev. Dr. C. F. Carter took part in the conduct of the evening service. Each of the principal speakers referred to the venerable history of the church. Dr. Mackenzie spoke of the general work of the
"Serving Church" in the field. Rev.
Warren S. Archibald, pastor of the church, introduced the speakers.
All members of the South Church and congregation were invited to attend the reunion at the Buckingham street chapel, tonight at 8 o'clock.
Rev. Dr. Potter.
On the occasion of the 250th anniversary I am very pleased to be with you," Dr. Potter said. "During almost the entire colonial history of the city and during the days of the Revolution the First Church and the Second Church served placidly the five needs of the city." The speaker then paid tribute to Dr. Parker's long service. He then referred to the separation of the Second Church (the South) from the First Church (the Center) 250 years ago. He said:

"The origin of differences between the First and Second churches is as obscure as the origin of the Connecticut river. The differences which separated the churches 250 years ago
have grown obscure in the long ago.
I was asked recently by a youthful member of the First Church concerning those differences and I had to admit to myself, with some embarrassment, that I really didn't know them.
"The little river separating the two churches may have been larger 250
years ago, but it was not a raging torrent; it did not prevent the people in the south end of the city from attending the First Church. Moreover,

What does this universal church
stand for? What would be the answer to the question of what the church is doing for the people of America is asked? It would be that we are trying to make them good and sound and useful citizens of America." The churches, Dr. Mackenzie continued, work for one purpose, pity, sympathy,
love and brotherhood for mankind.
"Primarily," he added, the Church of Jesus Christ is not merely a guild of human beings. It is something more mystic, even more poetic. There is something more to man than earthly life; man is a mystic being, living here for a time, but living for eternity. The church must continue its work till the end of time." The church, he said, must bring men and women into closer contact with God, for it is unlike any other institution in all the world.
Dr. Mackenzie recalled that this schools of the Hartford Theological Foundation," Dr. Mackenzie said.

"What a great purpose this church has served the thousands of men and women of Hartford in keeping alive
the word of the living God in their breasts.
"And despite the growth of the small struggling enterprise to a great commercial city, the church, despite the changing needs of the home, has carried on its super-human task of carrying on the work of the Universal Church of Christ.
"The universal church began in one of the smallest countries on earth, oppressed by an empire; from that small country it reached out and spread and continued to spread until it has entered all countries, has adapted itself to all people.
"When you speak of the Greek the Catholic or of the Congregational Church you are speaking of one living church. Something holds all together, makes them all partners in a great movement which from get-

tion to the home of the dead recorded in the "Odyssey."
"We think of Washington as a calm and passionless man," Dr. Gordon said,
"however, at the battle of Monmouth,
when the cause of his country was in jeopardy, we know of his intense fury.
After 117 years, through the sentiment he has created, his memory still lives.
"It was sentiment that took sons
from fathers and mothers to face
death in the war, and it was sentiment that took husbands from wives,
although little of it could be expressed. It was sentiment which sent Christ and the disciples to the Lord's Supper, and it is the Lord's Supper which is still the clearest and most impressive evidence of Christ's reality. The solidarity of the whole world is guaranteed and created by the Christian heart. I am here to say Blower

Dr. Parker's Greetings.

Rev. Mr. Archibald told the congregation that Dr. Parker was unable to be present, but that he had sent his best wishes, with deepest sentiment, and regretted that he was unable to attend. Dr. Parker, who was pastor of the church fifty years ago, is the only surviving member of the 200th anniversary committee, observed in 1870, George F. Hills, another member of the committee, who was also active in planning for the present event, having died last week. This loss to the church was referred to in a prayer read by the pastor.

The front of the church was simply, but effectively decorated for the anniversary, with palms and green ferns in artistic groupings, with an American flag on the left side. The musical

RECEPTION-REUNION AT SOUTH CHURCH

Completion of Observance of 250th Anniversary of Founding of the Society.

The reception and reunion of members of the South Congregational church in the chapel on Buckingham street Monday evening was a delightful affair.

There are fourteen resident members of the South church who had been members fifty years or over on February 22, the 250th anniversary. They are:

Miss Elizabeth W. Bidwell, 1858.
Mrs. Charles H. Smith, 1858.
Miss Anna M. Packard, 1858.
Alfred W. Sawtelle, 1858.
Rev. Edwin P. Parker, 1860.
Mrs. Samuel C. Colt, 1863.
James H. Knight, 1863.
Andrews O. Barrows, 1865.
Mrs. John E. Morris, 1865.
Mrs. Susan K. Giddings, 1867.
Mrs. George F. Hills, 1867.
Mrs. George Steele, 1868.
Nathan P. Sykes, 1869.
Olin H. Clark, 1870.

Mrs. Smith, already mentioned, Mr. Knight, Mr. Barrows and Mr. Clark were at the reception.

SOUTH CHURCH DECORATED FOR ANNIVERSARY CEREMONIES/920

HISTORY OF MUSIC

RCH
Out-
action ersary

meeting
evening,
reet, the
pastor,
in the
he anni-
church,
Christ in Sunday
that the
who was the church
was its
be pres-

lay even-destructive,
the South Church

that the usic. This,
e. Some ably John
of music,
mply pro-
music in velopement
and, from nial days
most in-

country
th them,
alm-book
version
d's and
nes, the
s. The ned no
was isc was gradu-
of the
it and were more ames

ary's
the
was sung
con-
llar
to ing
ess
re-
ng
ne

than fifty years, made him one of the strong men of the community and of the state.

Hartford has been singularly fortunate in having three great ministers, whose whole ministrations were here—Dr. Horace Bushnell, Dr. Joseph H. Twichell and Dr. Edwin P. Parker, each of them a leader in the church and the community.

pany responded in a manner that have delighted an old-time singer. "Northfield," "Coronation," "mark," "Hark, Hark, My Soul" others were sung with a will, particularly by the elderly members of church. To put on the finishing Mr. Archibald "lined out" the an "Old Hundredth," and the "congratulation" did it very well indeed.

Reference was made to a map, attractively framed, showing the location of the present meeting house and predecessor, prepared and presented to the church by Albert L. Washburn. Mr. Washburn has been in the hospital about ten days, following an operation.

Coffee, small cakes, nuts, candies and frappe were served throughout the evening. Mrs. E. S. Hilliard and Mrs. Lucius F. Robinson poured and the Misses Couch, Seymour, Clark and Robertson were at the frappe tables.

the need for kitchen or DON'T PUT OFF BUYING
Houseware
February
Of Our

REV. DR. EDWIN POND PARKER, PASTOR EMERITUS OF SOUTH CHURCH AND REV. WARREN S. ARCHIBALD PRESENT PASTOR

South Church -
250 Anniversary
Jan 1920

th (ce fre
1
to

EVENING TRANSFER OF T. WEL
A. E. F. Commander Smiles on Boston

General Pershing and Major General Edwards View Storm-Swept City From Front of South Station
among whom were a number of former

Charles L. Gifford
30 TREMONT BLDG., BOSTON
Telephone 4166 Haymarket

WSSt fe 4
FOR SALE AND TO LET DESIRABLE SUMMER AND YEAR-ROUND PROPERTIES AT FALMOUTH AND VICINITY
E. C. SWIFT'S R. E. AGENCY
PHONE FALMOUTH 17-2
FALMOUTH, Mass
SWtc jy 19

ALLERTON HILL
Ten-room modern house, electric lights,
hardwood floors, with fireplace in living room.
Unsurpassed view of Mass. Bay. Piazza on three sides. Garage. One-hour boat ride from Boston. Inquire NOW for particulars. Address J.D.H., Transcript, Boston 8.
(.)SWtc fe 21

TO RENT IN SWAMPSCOTT for summer months, furnished house of 8 rooms, near spot and beach; large piazza; garage near.
Middlesex Ave., Swampscott.
SWtc fe 25

NEW HAMPSHIRE
Chocorua, N. H.
FOR SALE
An attractive cottage of ten rooms, fully furnished, with veranda and sleeping porches;
modern plumbing; garage for two cars; icehouse; 55 acres of land. Apply to Mrs. E. F.
DAMS, Ware Hall, Cambridge, Mass.
WSW fe 25

LAKE SUNAPEE
SUMMER HOMES, COTTAGES, CAMPS
FOR RENT AND FOR SALE
Write for Booklet. Correspondence invited
SARGENT & CO., New London, N.H.
Headquarters SUNAPEE REGION REAL ESTATE
WS41t fe 14

Summer Home To Let
House with 8 rooms and bath, piazza and eping porch. Only 60 miles from Boston
d 500 feet above the sea level. One of the ost attractive places in southern New ampshire. DR. F. FERNALD, Nottingham,
H. (.)12t fe 21

CAMP ROYCROFT, on the Connecticut River
in WALPOLE, N. H.—Fine fishing, boating, furnished completely; fully screened;
leeping porch; garden. Address Mrs. I. S.
URT, Gainesville, Fla. SW6t fe 21

MAINE
AMDEN, MAINE Seashore and mountains combined; fully furnished summer cottages for rent. Best locations now. J. R. PRESCOTT, New tonlle, Mass. SW fe 21

Southern Winter Homes
BERMUDA
SMALL FURNISHED HOUSE, 7 rooms.
Beautifully situated on Ely's Harbor, Somerset. Rent $400 balance of season. Address
D.R., Transcript, Boston 8. (k)SWtc n 15

For Adoption
FOR ADOPTION
A beautiful baby boy, three weeks old. Only anily of character, responsibility and ability support the child need apply. For information
ress Mrs. Florence H. Perin, 23 Naples Rd., okino, Mass. Tel. Brookline 80. References
ired. to fe 24

A Select Family and Transient Hotel
Ideal Location. Modern appointments and Home-like. Good table. American plan $3.50 up daily; special rates by week Booklet. IRVING M. BALL, Proprietor.
SW76t

WASHINGTON, D. C.
Burlington Hotel
380 Rooms and Bath $2.50, $3, $4
WASHINGTON, D. C.
H. T. MILLER, Mgr.
WSMtc d 3

Boston Hotels
4 lines (24 words or less) $1.80 for three insertions a week—any days
Additional lines and insertions pro rata
No extra charge for display type or cuts
Money refunded on cancelled insertions

Hotel Priscilla
Exclusively for Women
307 Huntington Ave.
BOSTON 17
WS10t ja 28

Diamonds, Jewelry, Etc.
4 lines (24 words or less) $1.80 for three
insertions a week—any days
Additional lines and insertions pro rata
No extra charge for display type or cuts
Money refunded on cancelled insertions

Diamonds Bought
On Account of Our Enormous Output We Can Pay You The Full Market Value
THE E. B. HORN CO. Estab. 1839.
429 WASHINGTON STREET
SWtc d 6

ROY PAYS CASH
L 58 DIAMONDS
GOLD, SILVER, PLATINUM
I pay the top price, as there is a demand for diamonds now. No
private room for ladies; bank references.
Collateral Loan tickets bought, large loans on sale, low rate of interest. J. ROY, 77 Summer
St., Room 51, Boston 9. Tel. Beach 54515.
Established 17 years. Bank ref. fe 21

ALSTERLUND
Oldest Largest Reliable
FOR DIAMONDS, OLD GOLD, PLATINUM & SILVER
Collateral Loan Tickets
36 BROMFIELD ST
mh 4

DIAMONDS Norling & Bloom Co BOUGHT Estates Appraised
to (Established 1805)
387 Washington St
Tel. Fort Hill 3995
mh 19

Undertakers
Estab. 1840 Phone 665 Beach
LEWIS JONES & SON
UNDERTAKERS
No. 50 Lagrange Street
Reasonable prices, prompt service. Guaranteed embalming. Use of chapel free Located in heart of city. No funeral too small, none too large. Estimates given.
Correspondence everywhere. Auto hearse.
FTuto jo 16

FURNESS BERMUDA
Furness House, Whitehall
(g)SW

EUROPE BY AUTOMOBILE
There are a few vacancies
a private first-class motor EUROPE and the BATTLE
SAILING APRIL
Also three later similar Reservations should be made parties being limited to the booklet and information
THE CONANT MOTOR
P. O. Box 1229, Boston, Ma

FABRE LI
N. Y. TO PALERMO, NAPLES, ...
S. S. PATRIA ...
S. S. MADONNA ...
S. S. CANADA ...
S. S. PROVIDENCE (new) ...
AZORES—LISBON—MAR ...
S. S. BRITANNIA ...
S. S. ROMA ...
(From Providence the ...
NEW YORK TO PALERMO ...
S. S. CANADA ...
S. S. MADONNA ...
Cabin Accommodations at ...
J. W. ELWELL & CO., ...
17 State St., N. Y.
(g)MWStc

SCANDINAVIAN
AMERICAN
NORWAY
DENMARK
Costumed
FREDERICK
OSCAR II.
FREDERICK
UNITED STATES
For Passenger Rates
248 Washington Street
(g)WMtc

HOLLAND-AMERICAN
LINE
NEW YORK to ROTTERDAM
via
PLYMOUTH & BOULOGNE
S. S. NOORDAM ... Mar. 13, A
S. S. ROTTERDAM ... Mar. 20, A
S. S. NEW AMSTERDAM, Apr. 3, A
For Rates and Further Inform General Passenger Office, 89 Stat
(g)WSMtc

TRANSATLANTICA
Largest and Fastest Steamers Mercantile Marine
Direct Passenger Service
NEW YORK—GENOA—N
DANTE ALIGHIERI sailing from 1st Class, $250 up; 2d Class, ...
McDONNELL & TRUDA, Genoa
5 State Street, New York
W. H. EAVES STEAMSHIP AN AGENCY, 10 Congress St., Bos
General Cabin Passenger Ag
New England
(g)MWStc

BOSTON & YARMOUTH S.S. CO.
STEAMSHIP NORTHLAND LE
YARMOUTH, N. S. From Cen
Tues. & F
Fare, including War Tax
All Tickets and Information W
tel. Fort Hill 4300, or City Office
ington St., tel. Fort Hill 4825.
(g)Ntc

PERSHING IN BOSTON

Feb — 24, 1920
Army Head Greeted by Military and Civilians

For the first time since his return from France and the command of the American Expeditionary Forces in the World War, General John J. Pershing arrived in Boston this morning, on what is announced as a brief tour of inspection of the various United States Army interests in the Northeastern District.

General Pershing and his party traveled in two Pullman coaches from New service men who pressed forward to greet General Edwards.

Owing to severe illness and, a threatened attack of pneumonia, W. Cameron Forbes, of the citizens' committee to greet General Pershing, was not able to be present. Others of this committee who were present were President Lowell of Harvard University, J. R. Macomber of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, Everett Morss, Elmer J. Bliss, Willard L. Luther and V. W. Ogden. Charles F. Weed, A. K. Cohen and Henry V. Cunningham of the mayor's committee were among the welcomers.

The two cars in which General Pershing and his party arrived were the last of those which made up the Federal Express. Owing to the length of the train, these

23

Gen John J. Pershing and Maj-Gen J. Warren Keifer at Springfield, O. Gen Keifer, who is 83 years old, served in both the civil and Spanish-American wars. He is one of the three living former speakers of the House of Representatives.

intendent of the loved an panied by Brigadier General John W. Ruckman, commander of the North Atlantic Coast Artillery forces; Colonel Samuel G. Shartle, chief of staff to General Edwards; Lieutenant Colonel T. C. Dickson, in command of the Watertown Arsenal; Colonel H. G. Gallagher, Boston Zone supply officer; Colonel J. D. Tilford of the Motor Transport Corps; Colonel Edward Kimmel; Major John W. Hyatt, morale officer of the Northeastern Department, and Captain Charles D. Estes, aide to General Edwards.

In the hour or more which the military representatives of the New England district were obliged to wait they were surrounded by a crowd of several hundred people among whom were a number of former securares, Lieutenant Colonel Edward Bowditch and Captain J. T. Schneider.

Watertown Arsenal Visited

Upon the arrival of the party within sight of the Government reservation at Watertown a general's salute was fired from the arsenal armament. General Pershing and his escort went at once to the shops and for more than an hour were interested observers of the work being carried on in the manufacture of the new type of gun and small armament.

GET YOUR

STATE ST., BOSTON 1

Rule Marine Company

for this voyage only.

Apr. 12, Apr. 24, May 29, July 3
 Apr. 24, May 1, June 5, July 10

WEDNESDAY, FEB

THE NEW SP

In naming Bain
Boston

324 WASHINGTON STREET

(Entered at the Post Office
as Second Class)WEDNESDAY, FEB
WHY BAINBRI

It is hard to say if Colby has been selected Lansing as Secretary that he was a founder party in 1912; that he feated candidate for tor in New York in 1912 was active on the stu relection of Preside activity was rewarded appointment of comm a member of the Ur Board; and that his in the chairman, Mr. H retirement from the followed by his app member of the Ame Paris Conference.

The New Secretary tribution to literatu Who" is a pamphle Nomination for the was circulated as a 1912 by the Progress leges have conferre rary degree of LL. Moore's Hill College Memorial University tive office he ever ber of the New York he was elected for international Mercantile Marine ar the Twenty-Ninth city. The fact that the President today himself in opposition to Britis Director of the M policies. Particularly was he pron nent in 1913 in the moveme against the repeal of the Panam most intimate friend, canal tolls which was denounced in P. Tumulty, Private big mass meeting in Madison Squa Garden, New York, as un-Amer can and a surrender of America rights. Mr. Colby was the chief great office of Secspeaker at the mass meeting whic Colby's friends here was arranged by Mr. Hearst.

As further evidence that he is a brilliant conversationalist, much given to epigrams, and is effective on the stump as a campaign orator. It may be, therefore, that his installation in the Cabinet place out of which Mr. Lansing was recently forced presages the determination of the appointing power to stand pat upon the unpurged treaty and to send his Secretary of State to the people in defence of that document as it was signed at Paris. On that score there would be something to say in favor of the appointment. Just so the treaty gets into the campaign the people will be the gainers, regardless of the responsibility for making the treaty campaign issue.

CHOICE OF COLBY LITERALLY MAKES WASHINGTON GASP.

Politics, National and International, Involved in Selection of Former Republican and Bull Mooser—Friend of Hearst as Well as T. R. and Wilson.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE.

(Copyright, 1920, by Hartford Times.)

Special to The Times.

Washington, Feb. 25.

Bainbridge Colby, secretary of state. The appointment is not only a complete surprise, but it makes official Washington gasp. Politics national and international are involved in the selection. Mr. Colby is an amiable gentleman, a skilful lawyer, splendid after-dinner speaker, remarkable orator and spell-binder, and a charming personality. He is one of the few men who has been for both Theodore Roosevelt and Woodrow Wilson without feeling conscious of the few men who has had to William Randolph Hearst as both the democratic and prog men who in his time has b policies and been forgiven. I in 1916 and when the solon Hughes for the presidency, Mr. Wilson.

As a member of the United States shipping board, Mr. Colby showed himself particularly anxious to safeguard the American merchant marine and was responsible for the frustration of the deal which the British companies attempted to get control of certain ships that had been owned by the international Mercantile Marine and were under American registry. It goes along with the elements which have from time to time ranged themselves in opposition to British policies. Particularly was he prominent in 1913 in the movement against the repeal of the Panama canal tolls which was denounced in a big mass meeting in Madison Square Garden, New York, as un-American and a surrender of American rights. Mr. Colby was the chief speaker at the mass meeting which was arranged by Mr. Hearst.

There's no good excuse to-day for the spoiling of daily dress materials. As this is sewing week, now is the time to make a start on the summer dresses and later on, when the robins and blue birds call, there be no spring sewing to hinder you enjoying the beautiful weather. The hundred and one clever little aids to home dressmaking at the service of the 1920 sewing woman, quick ly teaches beginners how to cut, baste, turn hems and shir, to the hearst's content. With an adjustable dress form it is possible to make perfect duplicate of any figure—un- ing on, sitting and hanging.

Price of
Dr
Who Can Do Their Envy Tho
Fox &

No. 203
de in the ssmate of 7 selected
retary of eed Rob-oth were
at Will-has pleas-
r unders always p by his oon after
he gave ical abil-
ew peers.
fraternity
sion, if
ct. He did hletics as ays interning col-
port to portunity
ills with olby in a
ho should poet for
the very
new sec-
d Hitch-
t his su-
stances

CU
STATE

ed and
is

e nomi-
as sec-
ed late

objec-
of the
he sub-

and is sending all the Mer-can obtain from foreign to assist in extirpating the America. . . . It is a most alarming Situation. . . .
Colonies are called upon,
tly pressed, by the honorress of the American Colo-for mutual Defence, to large additional number of re and able Men. . . . I
e. . . . issue this procla-
e. . . . in behalf of their oppressed Country." One copies, $90.

ation, by Governor Trum-
st 25, 1780, relative to cor-
with the governments of aboring colonies relative to ree trade and transportation
from one state to another;
o known copies, $82.50.

Broadside occasioned "by shocking and Cruel Murder was represented on the
the most deliberate Murder ever perpetrated in Human murder of William Beadle, Britain, on December 17,
known to bibliographers,

nation by Governor Trumbull
the twentieth Day of No-783, Thanksgiving Day—the e United Colonies after the
on of Peace with Great Brit-ereas it has pleased the Su-ler of all human Events, to the late belligerent Powers
a Period to the Effusion blood, by proclaiming a
of all Hostilities by Sea and these United States are happily rescued from the
and Calamities to which they so long exposed, but their Sovereignty and Independnately acknowledged. . . .
three copies located and the e offered for public sale,

early Colonial and Revolu-
roadsides are of great imbecause they were printed
e were few newspapers and e many points of historical
e. The Congressional Li-Washington, the historical and many libraries in our es and at our universities
g more attention to them
before. The prices for them e accordingly.

a new office, incidentally, is not the which Mr. Colby has held under the administration. He was appointed ber of the Shipping Board and the gency Fleet Corporation in July, 1917.
also was a member of the American on to the Inter-Allied Shipping Con-at Paris in the same year. He d from the Shipping Board more a year ago.

Colby was prominently before the
in the recent prohibition controversy
it was declared that he was support-he "wets" in an effort to gain their
in his projected candidac for the stories and observation; the teaching and spelling and reading; the training of memory; the answering of questions; the encouragement of musical and dramatic talent; helping children in their school work;

culture through conversation; and so on up to the later years of childhood. For those who can make purpose of play without spoiling a child's birthright, we recommend these volumes.

"WYNDHAM'S PAL," by Harold Bind-loss (Frederick A. Stokes Company.)

This is a not especially interesting story of adventure, in which Mr.
Bindloss is far from his best. It drags slowly at times, and the promise of incidents and developments held forth in the first few chapters is not fulfilled. Wyndham is a young Englishman, heir to a trading house whose fortunes have waned because of a wild streak in some of his ancestors. Although possessed of a wild strain himself,
he wins the love of a fine English girl and tries to make good both his family's character and fortunes.

In illicit trading with natives of the African interior he almost fails
as regards the maintenance of his self-respect and Flora's love but through the aid of his pal, Bob Marston, who is the more solid type of Englishman, Wyndham comes out of the forests clean and repentant to such a degree that Flora still loves him. The closing chapter finds him horribly scarred but happy, with some chance of getting back on his financial feet through the help of his pal. The characters of Flora, Bob and Wyndham are almost too real and well drawn to be plunged into such a hodgepodge of a plot as the book turns out to contain.

"STUDIES IN SPANISH-AMERICAN LITERATURE," by Isaac Goldberg (Brentano's.)

This is said to be the first work
of its nature to be published in the English language, and, in view of the recent rage for a prominent Spanish author, it is probably the precursor of many more. Dr. Goldberg gives most of his attention to what he calls the modern renovation in Spain, as a result of which Spanish authors and writers and thinkers are coming into closer and broader contact with the literature armies. The picture of Radek, the Bolshevik journalist, greeting every German buck private in the room as "comrade," and shaking hands with them, is almost humorous, though symptomatic of the danger that lurks in handling Bolshevism with anything except sterilized gloves.

"HABITS THAT HANDICAP," by Charles B. Towns (Funk & Wagnalls Company.)

This book carefully and in great detail covers the subjects of morphine, heroin, opium and similar drug habits and shows what their effects and inroads are on users.
Other drugs or habits which he warns against are alcohol, excessive use of tobacco, together with headache powders, cough cures and similar remedies that have a habit-forming tendency. There is a foreword by Dr. Richard Cabot and the last chapter, which treats of "The Relation of Alcohol to Disease," is by Dr. Alexander Lambert, president of the American Medical Association.
R. T. T.

AUTHORS' NOTES

"As to spirit photography, the most successful results are obtained by the Crewe circle in England, under the mediumship of Mr. Hope and Mrs.
Buxton. I have seen scores of these photographs, which in several cases
re-produce exact images of the dead
which do not correspond with any pictures of them taken during life.
I have seen father, mother, and dead soldier son, all taken together with the dead son looking far the happier and not the least substantial of the three. It is in these varied forms of proof that the impregnable strength of the evidence lies, for how absurd
do explanations of telepathy, unconscious cerebration or cosmic memory become when faced by such phrenomena as spirit photography, mater-ialization, or the direct voice."
—From "The Vital Message"

(Doran). by A. Conan Doyle.

A collected, uniform edition of the works of George Edward Woodberry,
in prose and verse, is to be published by Harcourt, Brace and Howe. The first three volumes, which will include all his essays and lectures, will be ready shortly.

member of the Ne-
02. Governor W
the New York Co
curity and Defenc
prosecutor for the tigation of the a
and counsel for t ice Investigation
because, it was
tion not brought public. At any been one of the
which brought a vestigations in
In 1895 Mr. Co
wick of Stockl

ork Assembly in 1911
an appointed him to ssion on National Sen 1916 he was specia
vernment in its inv-
ed Print Paper Trust,
hompson Public Ser-
mittee, but withdrew papers and informavidence were made r date Mr. Colby had nel for the interests
the life insurance in-York.
married Nathalie Sedg-Mass.

of the foreign relations committee.
There was no record vote on confirmation.

Senator Lodge, republican leader
and chairman of the foreign relations committee, and Senator Jones,
republican, Washington, immediately
asked for the vote. Several republican senators who have been regarded as critics or opponents of Mr. Colby, were not present at the session.

Yale Man Who Jan Cabinet Rightly

Highly by Modern

A SMOOTH-FACED young Yale graduate is William C. Bullitt of the class of 1913 who was partly responsible for the recent political earthquake that resulted in the resignation of Secretary of State Lansing, following President Wilson's dictatorial attitude which surprised both friends and opponents of the present administration. For it was young Bullitt's revelations before the Senate foreign relations committee that made clear to this country just how Secretary Lansing, Henry White and General Tasker H. Bliss felt toward the peace treaty and the league of nations.

"Billy" Bullitt was one of the most prominent undergraduates of his day at Yale University, and belonged to about as many Yale societies and took part in as many undergraduate activities as one student can. He entered Yale with the class of 1912, but because of illness, was forced to remain out of college for several months, graduating with the class of 1913. After graduating from Yale, he entered Harvard Law School and then took up newspaper work, from which he was called to go to Paris with the peace mission in a confidential capacity.

He was prepared for college at the De Lancy School. At Yale he was an editor of the "Yale Daily News," president of the Yale Debating Association and winner of one of the Townsend debating prizes; a member of the Yale debating team which met Princeton in 1911; president of the Berkeley Religious Association; one of the leading actors of the Yale Dramatic Association, making a specialty of women's parts; a member of the Pundit, Elizabethan, City Government and University Clubs. He was a member of Psi Upsilon as a junior fraternity and of Scroll and Key as a senior society. He is the son of the president of the Pocahontas Coal Company of Philadelphia, Pa.

Before the Senate's committee he told of a private conversation he had had with Secretary Lansing the day

Mr. Bullitt resigned from the mission because of his dissatisfaction with the peace treaty and the league of nations. Mr. Lansing, Henry White and General Tasker H. Bliss, according to Mr. Bullitt, had "vigorous opinions" concerning the treaty which were not enthusiastic. Mr. Lansing was quoted as having said:—

(1) . . . that they immediately resist from the unwarrantable Practice." This extreme rarity, unknown to bibliographers, brought $67.50.

(2) . . . Other broadsides of great rarity and historical interest, with the prices which they brought, were the following:—

(3) . . . Proclamation by Governor Jonathan Trumbull, October 12, 1770, appointing the "Fifteenth Day of November 1770, a day of Public Thanksgiving." This is one of two copies, the other owned by the Massachusetts Historical Society. The preamble is of interest as showing the governor's first official utterance on the attack on the rights and "civil liberties" of the Colonies, which finally led to open hostilities. It brought $67.50.

Proclamation of Governor Trumbull appointing "Thursday the Twentieth of November next, to be observed and attended as a Day of public Thanksgiving thro' out this Colony." Historically important as it relates to the early revolutionary spirit in the Colonies. In the preamble he states: "Whereas it has pleased the all-wise, holy, righteous, and merciful God in the midst of Judgment to remember Mercy. . . Under the darkest Cloud, that ever hung over New England, . . . to show Favour to this Colony. . ." issued at a time when Connecticut was practically free from the noxious Stamp Act and other measures under which some of the Colonies suffered. It brought $67.50.

Proclamation issued June 18, 1776, by Governor Trumbull, relative to enlistment for the Connecticut quota for the Continental Army. "The Race of Mankind was made in a State of innocence and Freedom, subject only to the Laws of God the Creator, and through his rich Goodness, designed for virtuous Liberty and Happiness. . . . But, an unnatural King has arisen up violated his sacred Obligations, and by the Advice of evil Counsellors, attempted to wrest from us, their Children, the sacred Rights we justly claim. . . God Almighty has been pleased of his infinite Mercy, to succeed out attempts, and give us many Instances of Signal Success and on the study of the treaty may be, therefore, that his installation in the Cabinet place out of which Mr. Lansing was recently forced presages the determination of the appointing power to stand pat upon the unpurged treaty and to send his Secretary of State to the people in defence of that document as it was signed at Paris. On that score there would be something to say in favor of the appointment. Just so the treaty gets into the campaign the people will be the gainers, regardless of the responsibility for making the treaty campaign issue.

WILLIAM C.

oy. K2U3
X Xof

New Pilot for Ship of State

RD DAILY COURANT:

WAS CLASSMATE OF BAINBRIDGE COLBYHitchcock Recalls Days at Williams With Secretary of State.

Alfred M. Hitchcock of No. 203 Sigourney street takes pride in the fact that he was a classmate of Bainbridge Colby, recently selected by President Wilson as secretary of state on his cabinet to succeed Robert Lansing, resigned. Both were members of the class of '90 at Williams College and Hitchcock has pleasant recollections of their undergraduate days. Colby was always considered a congenial chap by his fellow students, he says. Soon after his arrival in Williamstown he gave evidence of possessing oratorical ability and in later debates had few peers.

Colby was a prominent fraternity man, a Delta Kappa Epsilon, if Hitchcock's memory is correct. He did not enter so heartily into athletics as other activities but was always interested in every matter concerning college life and gave his support to Williams every time that opportunity presented. Hitchcock recalls with pleasure how he defeated Colby in a friendly contest to decide who should have the honor of being Ivy poet for their class. This followed the very line of study in which the new secretary of state excelled and Hitchcock admits that it was not his superior ability but the fact that he took advantage of circumstances which won him the election.

GOLD CONFIRMED
AS SECY. OF STATENo Objection is Raised and No Record Vote is Taken.

Washington, March 22.—The nomination of Bainbridge Colby as secretary of state was confirmed late today by the Senate.

It was understood that no objection was raised to confirmation of the nomination which has been the subject of extended secret hearings by the foreign relations committee. There was no record vote on confirmation.

Senator Lodge, republican leader and chairman of the foreign relations committee, and Senator Jones, republican, Washington, immediately asked for the vote. Several republican senators who have been regarded as critics or opponents of Mr. Colby, were not present at the session.

(Photo by International)

Bainbridge Colby

Selected to Succeed Lansing as Secretary of State

on Shipping Board

This new office, incidentally, is not the first which Mr. Colby has held under the Wilson administration. He was appointed member of the Shipping Board and the Emergency Fleet Corporation in July, 1917, and also was a member of the American Mission to the Inter-Allied Shipping Conference at Paris in the same year. He retired from the Shipping Board more than a year ago.

Mr. Colby was prominently before the public in the recent prohibition controversy when it was declared that he was supporting the "wets" in an effort to gain their votes in his projected candidacy for the law in New York since 1902. He was a member of the New York Assembly in 1901-02. Governor Whitman appointed him to the New York Commission on National Security and Defence. In 1916 he was special prosecutor for the Government in its investigation of the alleged Print Paper Trust, and counsel for the Thompson Public Service Investigation Committee, but withdrew because, it was said, papers and information not brought out in evidence were made public. At any earlier date Mr. Colby had been one of the counsel for the interests which brought about the life insurance investigations in New York.

In 1895 Mr. Colby married Nathalie Sedgwick of Stockbridge, Mass.

STA

New Pre:
WithLILLIE, M
NEAL Become Cashier

Feb 2

George H. Burt, president of the State Bank since several years, and that vacancy caused by the death of George F. Hill, board of directors, A. Lillie, ca president; Arthur C. Mason, assistant cashier, was selected cashier and Harold T. Neering, discount clerk, was advanced to assistant cashier. The office of discount clerk has not been filled.

Until he became associated with the State Bank, as it was then called, in 1889, Mr. Burt was, for twelve years, with the firm of George P. Bissell & Co., bankers. Previous to 1877 he was in the mercantile business on State street. He is trustee and vice-president of the Society for Savings and a director of the National Fire Insurance Co. of Hartford, Conn., and of the Mutual Life Insurance Co. of New York, and of the John H. Hegeman Co. of Hartford, Conn.

Mr. Burt is a member of the Hartford Club, the Y. M. C. A. Club and the Y. W. C. A. Club. He was born June 23, 1857, in Hampton, N. H., and graduated from High School in 1877, as an assistant cashier in the State Bank. He was married to Miss Bessie Manchester in 1881. He is a member of the Hartford Golf Club, the Y. M. C. A. Club and the Y. W. C. A. Club. He was born June 23, 1857, in Hampton, N. H., and graduated from High School in 1877, as an assistant cashier in the State Bank. He was married to Miss Bessie Manchester in 1881. He is a member of the Hartford Golf Club, the Y. M. C. A. Club and the Y. W. C. A. Club.

Harold T. Neering, from the Hartford Public High School in 1909, being historian of his class, and from Yale University with honors, in 1913. Following his graduation from college, he taught in the high school for one year and entered the bank in 1914. He married Miss Jane Cary of Windsor November 11, 1916, and has one son, Harold C. Mr. Neering is a member of the University Club.

GEORGE H. BURT.

ARTHUR C. MASON.

DAIL
THE STAT

The direct Trust Co. y loyal and use from now on president, su F. Hills. Mr ed with this life and pres carrying the agement and

He is fully tion to which and to which expected to s long experier ness, his ind character are continuance career of the

Charles A. cashier, take that Mr. Burt becomes cash fact goes on changes are cellent illustra tion of services rendered.

CHARLES A. LILLIE.

HARTFORD DAILY TIMES HONOR FOR GEORGE H. BURT.

The election of George H. Burt to the presidency of the State Bank and Trust company, of which he has been vice-president and director for many years, is an honor worthily bestowed. Mr. Burt has in the State bank predecessor i George F. Hill ripe old age oc has been with years. Mr. Bu traditions of tl long and close Hills and the same will be b enlargement c Mr. Burt is re well grounded sound finance, worthy and " same time he ideas and polic the State bank quently confir in the Hart & the Johns-Prat tional Fire Ins the Johns-Prat National Fire and a trustee s the Society for tractive persons him ties of clo all his business find cause for honor that come

HAROLD T. NEERING.

him.

AIRPLANE FALLS OVER FIVE MILES

127

BOLLES PROMOTED

AT STATE BANK

Service Man Rises to Place Which Nearing Had Filled.

Calvin C. Bolles of the staff of the State Bank & Trust Company has been promoted to fill the vacancy caused by the promotion of Harold T. Nearing to be assistant cashier in the succession of changes made after the death of President George F. Hills. Mr. Bolles now has the trust bookkeeping and direction of sale and ex-

Shot at a Van-
Chip Off Original
Old Commodore

28—Cupid is play-
the fortune left by nelius Vanderbilt,
Vanderbilt family.
's arrow pierces the
or of the Vanderbilt
another chip off the ollar estate left be-modore Vanderbilt

urriage and the an-wo engagements of omodore Vanderbilt
emphasize the fact breaking up one of tunes ever accumu-Deaths and mar-
ided and subdivided
ine, but despite this
n sufficient amounts nderbilt heirs desircatches, both in this ad.

n London recently of Blandford, eldest son of Marlborough, who
of W. K. Vanderbilt, Mary Cadogan is as-arge part of the Van-
will remain perma-
The Marquis of first to marry of the children of the
is Vanderbilt. There ving.

ely on the announce-
arquis of Blandford's
ing Cornelius Vander-
brigadier-General and startled the Smart
cing his engagement
leton, younger sister
Littleton, the well-

Littleton had lived in number of years, she bly well known in set, and her engageure head of the Van-upset the carefully
several matchmaking

ageable daughters.
this came the an-
t Flora Payne Whit-
Mr and Mrs Harry was to become the Tower, of Philadel-

's mother was for-
Vanderbilt, a daugh-Cornelius Vanderbilt.

FAITH OF

EMOCRATS AT 98

To The Courier.)

Moosup, Feb. 22.

ist informed democrats is "Tina" Kenyon of is 98 years old. She about Jackson, Fill-Pierce, and their ad-
she does about Clevel-
on. Her sitting room pictures of prominent Jefferson down to Wil-
residential candidates,
ther leading democrats
h Little celebrated her
at Lebanon yesterday.
f Killingly is 98 years
he recent blizzard was
ery day.

CALVIN C. BOLLES.

change of Liberty bonds and thrift stamps and a general line of other work. He was previously a general utility man.

He was graduated from the Hartford High School in 1911 and went to the bank at once as messenger.
He has filled practically all the clerical positions lower than that in which he is now. He early joined Hartford Chapter, American Institute of Bankers, and has filled all of the executive chairs in the chapter. He was in these offices from 1913 to 1917, when he was president. He is chairman of the committee on education and a member of the committee on bringing the records of the chapter to date. He was in the first class graduated from the national institute's educational course, receiving the certificate in 1914. Mr.
Bolles is also the New England member of the institute's committee on public speaking and debate. On that he represents the First Federal Reserve District.

He is also an overseas man. He entered the service of his country
October 3, 1917, and in time was in France. His unit was Ambulance Company 303, 101st Sanitary Train, rising to the rank of sergeant he saw uty in several parts of the hero land of the war. After the signing of the armistice he was in Andernach, near oblenz, where for a time the Third division was also. His unit was attached to the Fourth Army Corps. He obtained his discharge June 20, 1919, after nearly twenty-one months in the service.

In 1917 he married Miss Edith J.
lmer of South Windsor. He is living at No. 1893 Main street, East Hartford.

Dayton, O., Feb. 27.—An airplane carrying Major R. W. Schroeder, chief test pilot at McCook field, today fell over five miles after reaching an altitude of 36,020 feet, said to be 5,020
feet higher than the world's record.

Tonight the major is in a hospital suffering from shock and temporary partial blindness. Instruments on the machine indicate that it fell more than five miles in two minutes. While still 2,000 feet above the ground, the airplane righted itself and glided to a graceful landing. When the plane settled, attendants, who rushed toward it, found Major Schroeder sitting erect in the machine apparently lifeless. For a brief time, residents of Dayton were sure that a comet had appeared in the sky. They had mistaken the trail of vapor escaping
from the machine as it swooped down
for a "stranger in the heavens."

Miss Lucy Viola Seidler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George M. Seidler, of No. 46 Capitol avenue, who has been employed by the Phoenix Mutual Life Insurance Company the last five years, resigned her position on Saturday and yesterday left for New York to enter the service of the National Board of Congregational Churches in that city. Miss Seidler is contralto in the choir of the Windsor Avenue Congregational Church.

MARRIED FOR ### HALF-CENTURY

E. J. Ryan, Proofreader on "The Courier," and Wife Celebrate Event.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Ryan of
No. 21 Dean street yesterday celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding with only members of their family and close friends attending. One of the unusual features of the situation is that the bridesmaid
at the wedding, Miss Katherine Howard, is living. She is a resident of Philadelphia.

HAS ONE BIRTHDAY

IN EVERY 4 YEARS

(Special to The Courier)

East Hartford, Feb. 29.

Only once in four years is it possible
for this item to be printed; that Miss Florence G. Bryant, older daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Percy S. Bryant of No.
1544 Main street has a birthday. Born on a February 29 Miss Bryant has scored barely over half a dozen "anniversaries" and her years are computable according to individualism in mathematics. Born on the first day after February 28 Miss Bryant, so it may be argued is a year older on each
March 1 aside from leap years.

Miss Bryant is a graduate of Wellesley College. She is the social secretary of the South Congregational Church in Hartford.

A black and white portrait of a young man with dark, wavy hair, wearing a dark suit jacket, a white shirt, and a dark tie. He is looking directly at the camera with a neutral expression. The background is a textured, mottled grey.

A black and white portrait photograph of a man with a beard and mustache, wearing a suit and tie. The image is grainy and appears to be a reproduction from a book.

To-day marked the years of continuous the policy department Mutual Insurance Elwyn N. Emmons, employ of the company years of service. 19 years old when I employ of the company ception of Walter I. of the company, husband with the Connecticut any employee or officer.

In recognition of the directors of the following resolution:

Resolved—In behav-
cut Mutual Life In-
the board of direc-
press to Elwyn N. I. appreciation of the
he has performed for ing fifty years of Throughout that lon-discharged his duties
ably and he has alwests of the company
he may enjoy many
and prosperity is th-
of friends.

A bouquet of fifty roses, a gift by the employees of the company, decorated Mr. Emmons's desk when he came to work this morning and gifts and letters of congratulation came in from many field agents of the company, who knew him while they were employed here in the home office.

Mr. Emmons remembers all the changes that have taken place in the leading personnel of the company during the last fifty years. James Goodwin who was president of the company in 1870 when Mr. Emmons entered its employ, was succeeded by Colonel Jacob L. Greene who died in 1905. John M. Taylor then became president and served until his death in 1918 when the present president, Henry S. Robinson, came to the head of the company. During the same period seven secretaries held office as follows: W. S. Olmsted, father of the present cashier, John M. Taylor, W. G. Abbot, Edward M. Bunce, Herbert H. White, who is at present treasurer of the company, William H. Deming and Jacob H. Greene who is the present secretary.

Former Choirmaster.

But insurance work has not had the exclusive attention of Mr. Emmons. Many of the older generation remember him vividly as a leader in choral and orchestral music. Emmons's orchestra was once a popular musical fixture of Hartford, playing at receptions and entertainments. Mr. Emmons plays the violin. Three churches were served by Mr. Emmons as choirmaster, the South Congregational during Rev. Dr. Edwin Pond Parker's pastorate, the Church of the Good Shepherd and St. John's of the Good Shepherd. In this work

approximately $180

MOVING DAY FOR JOHN W. COOGAN

Veteran Lawyer Migrates After 40 Years In One

Office MARCH 2, 1920.

John W. Coogan had yesterday, for the first time, a sensation which for many a time, he had known among other lawyers in his forty-two years at the Hartford County bar. He migrated from one office to another, quitting the rooms at No. 357 Main street by the old method of scoring, or No. 877 by the present numbering, and conveying his books, chattels and personal property of any and all kinds thereto appertaining to No. 9 Asylum street, which is hereafter to be his headquarters. In his new location, he has, as neighbors, Birdsley, E. Case and Robert P. neighbors, E. Case and Robert P. Butler, who aided and abetted him in the transfer.

Mr. Coogan entered the practice of the law in September, 1879, in the offices which he is just vacating. He had just been graduated from the Yale Law School, following his graduation from Fordham University in 1876, receiving the degree of A. B. from that university in that year and that of A. M. in 1878. His brother, Timothy C. Coogan, practiced in New York a short time and later went to San Francisco, where he is now located. Mr. Coogan began in the office of Mahlon R. West, who had been partner in the law firm of West & Calhoun from which Judge David S. Calhoun had advanced to the bench of the court of common pleas.

At the time when Mr. Coogan began his long legal career, Mr. West and the late John C. Parsons, father of Francis Parsons, were the only other lawyers in the building. On the floor below, Joseph Langdon and Benjamin Bliss, father of Fred S. Bliss, had dry goods stores, well remembered by older residents, stores suitable for their day and generation, but of a kind which has fallen before the swing of Father Time in the new Hartford. C. D. Woodruff had a hat, cap and fur store, long since lapsed. On the floor with the lawyers a Mr. Cook had a tailor shop. On the floor above a Mrs. Treat had dressmaking rooms, employing a number of girls.

At the time the common pleas court had its home in the Cheney, (now the Brown, Thomson Co.) building, and Buck & Eggleston had their law home in the same building. Sam F. Jones, successor in reputation as a criminal lawyer to Charles R. Chapman, had his office where the Sage, Allen & Co. building now stands. When the new young lawyer began his work, "Sam" Jones, Arthur F. Eggleston and John R. Buck had, as contemporaries, A. P. Hyde, Richard D. Hubbard, Henry C. Robinson, Judge Loren P. Waldo, Charles J. Cole, William C. Case, T. M. Maltbie and Judge Charles H. Briscoe, all of whom are dead.

The superior court sessions were then held in the old State house, now the old City Hall. It was at a later day that it went to the County building, erected in the middle eighties and there the court of common pleas also went.

The young lawyer from Windsor Locks—where the Coogan family has long been prominent—represented Windsor Locks in the general assembly of 1882 and the next year he came to Hartford to live. Here he has been prosecuting attorney, a member of the street commission and corporation counsel.

Mr. Coogan has given time to fraternal work. He is a member of the Knights of Columbus and of the Elks. He married Miss Susan Owens Nolan of Albany, N. Y., and has two sons, John W., jr., and Murtha T., student at Fordham University, from whom Mr. Coogan received of his office unique legal he late A. E. or of antique ed execution f the Wind- ert in 1730. court with table Robert as a picture M. Waller of ber of books by the late W. Eaton of Connecticut's horses.

129

JOHN W. COOGAN.

OW F DESK"

ut on Refor 1920

Sheehan will

W. Hayes "back of the desk" at police headquarters, beginning today. Policeman Hayes ceases active duty in the police department at 9 o'clock this morning, after nearly twenty-five years as a regular of the department and goes on the reserve list. Hayes, it is understood, will petition the police commission tonight for a year's leave of absence. Hayes plans to go to his small farm in Canada to improve his health. He will leave some

EDWARD W. HAYES.

went three place last t fall much hard winter of his gain. d fishing a in pastimes s associates gave him a shing outfit e presenta- urprisingly figuratively been in the ears. Sevu- ured while station on as crushed He was on but pulled ing active st summer a burly but Shee- a night actively in e sent him the worse is has oc- in the per- ack of the assist the in handling ce hospital to injured persons and to persons arrested who have suffered cuts and bruises by falling. Of the policemen "back of the desk" one, William J. Noonan, was made a street sergeant, another, Patrick J. White, is ill and has been at a hospital for many weeks, and Hayes has been placed on reserve. One desk sergeant, Patrick J. Finley, has been retired.

2/16/40

Miss Lillian W. Herter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Charles Herter of Park street and Edwin Raymond Carter, son of Mr. and Mrs. James

Former Ha
ant Sec
facturing

Thomas
city, has
tary of the pany of W mployed in department
more than

Mr. Myers
of the Con
district of revenue de
James J. W
before resig
with the W
that he was in the sec
Governor S
istration.

He was
lege, class
bachelor of Harvard la
years of ag
ward J. My

THOMAS B.

Lenox, March 3—Bart Blommer landscape artist, who since the summer of 1917 has had a studio at Lenox, was married this afternoon at the St Regis hotel, New York, to a beautiful pupil, Miss Vivian Kennedy, daughter of Mrs. John Berquist of Glen Head, I. Their acquaintance began at Lenox in the summer of 1917. Blommers had established his studio under the shadow of the Heights along the foot of which runs the romantic Housatonic river and enjoying the beauty of the region. Miss Kennedy came up to Berlin for the season. She was a guest of Mrs. Charles Pollock in Pittsfield. Kennedy, herself a talented artist and musician, was attracted by an admiration of Blommer's works and came his pupil. Thrown much together under the spell of the beauty of the surroundings, where Blommer's art achieved remarkable expression, the two temperamental young people found their way toward and in mutual attraction and love. For several seasons Miss Kennedy studied with Mr. Blommers. Then, when they last October, at the artists' colony at Provincetown on Cape Cod, they became engaged.

In honor of Miss Lillian W. Herter of Park street, a silk stocking shower was given Monday evening by Miss Olive Hale Witter at her apartment on Pearl street. During the evening, there were games and contests, for which prizes were awarded, also music. The gifts were arranged in an unusually attractive manner, being attached to a large "wedding ring," suspended from balloons. A buffet lunch was served. Those present were Miss Marion C. Herter, Mrs. Earle R. Carter, Miss Ruth I. Peterson, Miss Helen Thorsell, Miss Marian F. Birchard, Miss Gladys A. Reinert, Miss Ada M. Dietrich, Mrs. James Clayton Strever and Miss Gladys Chase. The wedding of Miss Herter, who is an assistant in the office at the Hartford Theological seminary, and Edwin Raymond Carter, formerly of this city, now assistant pastor in the Congregational church in Brookline, Mass., will take place early in March.

MARCH 3. MRS. EDWIN RAYMOND CARTER.

Edwin R. Carter.

high school, he engaged in religious work with the Center Church. He was also director of the young people's and boys' work. He has been in charge of the Center Church boys' camp at Columbia Lake for the past two years.

Besides these lines, he has had opportunity to engage in similar work. He has been director of religious work at the Asylum Hill Congregational Church, physical director of the American School for the Deaf and an instructor at the Hartford County Training School for Sunday School Workers.

Mr. Carter's place as educational and social director of the Webb Horton Memorial Presbyterian Church is considered one of prominence in the church world. He will have charge of the gymnasium, swimming pool and bowling alleys and will be general supervisor of the two Sunday schools and church publicity.

Hartford Man Transferred to London Office of Harris, Forbes & Co.

March 4
L. M. Hubbard, Connecticut manager for Harris, Forbes & Co., with offices

L. M. HUBBARD IS

GUEST OF HONOR

March 9
Farewell Dinner For New European Manager of Harris, Forbes & Co.

L. M. Hubbard, recently appointed European manager for Harris, Forbes & Co., was the guest of honor at a farewell dinner at the Hartford Canoe Club given last evening by bankers and brokers of Hartford. Mr. Hubbard, who has been Connecticut manager for Harris, Forbes & Co., will leave for New York in a day or two, and will sail early in April to take up his new work, his passport being made out for England, France, Belgium, Germany, Switzerland and other countries. His headquarters will be in London.

L. M. HUBBARD.

Among the guests at last night's dinner were Walter E. Bell, vice-president of Harris, Forbes & Co., and Theodore L. Bronson of T. L. Bronson & Co., investment bankers of New York and members of the New York Stock Exchange. Other guests were Ferdinand Richter and W. H. Putnam of Richter & Co., W. C. Goeben of Conning & Co., G. B. Beach of Goodwin Beach & Co., R. P. Crary, C. Rufus Knapp of Frisbie & Co., E. T. Andrews of Tripp & Andrews, Alden Cutler of Frisbie & Co., Kenneth L. Adams of Adams, Merrill & Co., E. W. Eddy of Richter & Co., D. S. Glazier of Hamilton & Co., A. H. Merrill of Adams, Merrill & Co., C. O. Bliss of Thomson, Fenn & Co., Samuel W. Hubbard of Harris, Forbes & Co., W. S. Conning of Conning & Co., A. W. Gregory of Thomson, Fenn & Co., Edward S. Goodwin of Goodwin, Beach & Co., Edwin F. Wilde of Lee, Higginson & Co. of Boston and Chicago, C. G. Frisbie, F. E. Bosson of Richter & Co., George Stevenson of Lee, Higginson & Co., A. W. Gilbert of Richter & Co.

No successor has yet been appointed to Mr. Hubbard's place. His brother, S. W. Hubbard, associated with the same house some time, will spend part of his time at the Hartford office.

March 4 1923

Miss Gladys H. Gridley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry H. Gridley of Springfield, Mass., and Cogswell Bentley of Rochester, N. Y., were married Thursday at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Philip W. Gridley, in Holyoke, by Rev. Dr. Edward A. Reed. The bride is a graduate of the Holyoke High School and for four years was employed in the Museum of Fine Arts in Boston. Mr. Bentley is a graduate of Yale University and of the Yale Law School. Mr. and Mrs. Bentley are spending a month in Asheville, N. C., and will live in Rochester, N. Y., on their return.

Mar Dwight N. Hewes to Marry.
Miss Fannie E. Gabriel of No. 147 Vine street and Dwight N. Hewes

McCLAUGHRY HANDS IN RESIGNATION AS STATE PRISON HEAD

March 4
Gives "Ill Health" As His Reason But "Talking Too Much" Is Said to Have Disturbed Directors.

RECENT INCIDENTS MAY BE RESPONSIBLE

Riot of Inmates Last Summer and Warden's Reply to Radical Threats Recalled —Moyer Suggested.

"Talking too much" is believed to be the real reason for the resignation of Charles C. McClaughry as warden of the Connecticut state prison at Wethersfield. Mr. McClaughry would not comment upon his action yesterday afternoon. "I may, have something to say after June 30," was all he would say.

McClaughry was not asked to resign, it was learned last night. He offered his resignation voluntarily to the board of prison directors, meeting at the prison yesterday afternoon. It is to take effect June 30. Owing to the absence of two members of the board, President Norris G. Osborn, now in Jamaica, and William O. Cheney, in Japan on a business trip, definite action was postponed for one month. It is understood, however, that the resignation will be accepted.

Says He Is Ill.

McClaughry gave "ill-health" as his reason. "You know, I was ill in December," he said.

Though neither members of the board nor McClaughry would comment on the "real" reason for the latter's resignation, it was said yesterday that recent incidents at the prison might be regarded as responsible for McClaughry's decision to sever his connection with the institution at this time.

During the summer a riot developed among convicts at the prison which resulted in the killing of a negro inmate by guards. At a subsequent inquiry by the board, the warden submitted affidavits from guards and other witnesses, showing that there was no other course open to him in such an emergency. He announced that the guards had acted under his directions and that he would take full responsibility for ultimate results.

Reply

It was late in 1919, that the letter from a convict of radical life. The warden "Verbal and made before living. The is fully aware I told him still shoot and come a

The warden intent to full ety, recount ences in a lo a prison exe time to time This has gi for "talking have disturb

It was his liam A. Moyer Sing prison, ceed McClau resignation stood about tried to pro McClaughy ing former

With CHARLES C. McCLAUGHY

McClaughy served as deputy warden of the federal penitentiary at Atlanta, Ga. Moyer, afterwards warden of Sing Sing, was warden of the government institution during Mr. McClaughy's incumbency there. At the time Moyer contemplated relinquishing his post at Atlanta, he is reported to have sought the appointment as warden of the prison at Wethersfield. McClaughy, however, was appointed instead.

Moyer was then appointed to the post at Sing Sing. Subsequent developments at the New York penitentiary culminated in his resignation. McClaughy, asked if he had heard of Moyer's reported efforts to secure appointment here, replied: "I should not be surprised, if he had. You know, he tried to come here before."

E. A. Fuller, a member of the board of directors, said: "I do not know that Moyer ever tried to be appointed warden here."

McClaughy had contemplated resigning for some time. He said yesterday that he had several offers in view, but has not decided which he will accept. He is an expert machinist and engineer. His prison experience is also wide.

Twenty-eight years in Business.

He has been connected with prison management for twenty-eight years. He came to the Connecticut state prison from the Iowa state reformatory at Anamosa, Ia. He served under his father, Major Robert W. McClaughy, as chief engineer and clerk of the identification bureau at the Illinois state prison at Joliet. He has served during his career as deputy superintendent of the Allegheny county, (Pa.) workhouse; deputy superintendent of the Chicago house of correction; deputy warden of the Indiana state prison at Michigan City. He occupied this latter position under former Warden Ward A. Garner, whom he succeeded as head of the Connecticut institution. From July 1, 1899, until May 26, 1902, he was warden of the Wisconsin state prison. After leaving the penitentiary at Atlanta, Mr. McClaughy went to the Missouri state reformatory as superintendent.

Mr. Har

Caesar had completed his conquest of Gaul, which conquest is now France, Belgium, and the future of civilization was fixed. De-Occidental civilization had been projected on the peninsula of Europe. Its projecting peninsular character had remained in the midst of the turbulent bar- now, with Egypt and the ends soon to be Roman power and civilization extended from the desert of Sahara to the Atlantic Ocean to the west. And by the conquest an end had been put, at least, to the great peril of the day, the eruptions of the day, the eruptions had first called into Gaul, and which at intervals from down to the latest in democratic government of stood the test of uni- and great material disorder and progress hand at the close of in 49 B. C. The laws but they had not been the confusion had be- that a dictator had been chosen. For one period of several years it had been impossible to elect a chief magistrate, so rampant had been party strife, and the mob violence of the politicians and their hirelings, such a condition as, but for cool heads, the United States might have seen in the days of the Tilden-Hayes controversy. Political corruption was rampant. Vast sums were spent in corrupting the franchise. Great capitalists loaned money to great politicians and found the politicians "complaisant" in return, while ambitious demagogues sought power by appealing to the proletariat with Bolshevistic talk and liberal donations.

At the same time it was an era of great material prosperity and intellectual awakening. Intensive cultivation had been introduced from the East and a class of wealthy and prosperous agriculturists had grown up corresponding to the Western farmers of America today. Commerce, manufacturing and allied industries had advanced in unison with agriculture, and Italy had become a great producing and exporting country. As a rule the busy, industrious middle class, the new bourgeoisie to which this industrial boom had given rise, kept strictly aloof from politics. All over Italy, even in the smallest towns, common schools had been established, in which "the son of a poor freedman sat on the same bench with the son of a senator or a free peasant or a knight." Great universities had been established and a group of talented young men were infusing a new spirit into literature, while a still larger group of revolutionists in letters formed a class like the devotees of free verse and erratic fiction today.

The composition of Caesar's army at the close of the Gallic War affords an interesting parallel to the army which America is just now demobilizing after a fight over the same ground as that fought over by the legions of Caesar. It was composed of men drawn from all parts of Italy and all classes of society, and in its ranks "the descendants of the most ancient houses of Rome jostled the sons of well-to-do and middle-class families" and adventurous youths from the farm, factory or city.

The colonial policy of Rome consisted at the time of sending out as governors "deserving" politicians without regard to their other qualifications for the job, who returned enriched from their posts. Which practice brought added wealth to Rome, if it was rather hard on the colonies. Such was the world at the close of the Gallic War. Party politics and the professional politician had brought Roman democracy to a crisis. Caesar crossed the Rubicon and established the empire.

(Copyright, 1919, by The McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

My Mr. Hargey Wants a Wife

are the bonds of con- that one who is frank to advertise for a wife slightly "queer" by a of people. Hartford has and why George M. Har- rover of the world, his wanderings and haven of the home way wants a home, first no wants a mother for for he has been mar-shallow philosophy of who has wearied him, for thing and takes all. At wants the companion- woman, with a love virtue and a love for links, are analogous. He as defined by the rest "If she can keep a little girl and make," he says, "that is all upulously accurate to Hargey advertised for confesses, he has been Someone played a that advertisement to a newspaper. This a bit farther and to the mayor of the philosophical.

"When I came to think of it," he said, when he first heard of the "joke," "it wasn't such a bad arrangement, after all. I guess I'll see it through."

His first advertisement stipulated communication with a certain young woman supposed to have sought a sailor husband through the press. This person, said Hargey, he knows nothing about. The letter to Mayor Moore characterized her as a "sailor's widow."

Philadelphia girls, and others in the vicinity, are evidently aware of how favorable is the present year to the feminine army of husband-snatchers. A flood of letters, perfumed and scrawled upon every conceivable shade of note paper, has swamped the mailbox of the house where he boards in this city. Some were coy, others pleading, and still others took that "motherly" and superior tone so maddening to a mere bachelor.

It was a bewildering display and as a consequence his avowed purpose has somewhat weakened. The other day he gathered up the litter of heart throbs and consigned them to the fire. So ardent were a few of his again should he fail to respond to their blandishments.

He fears the consequence of "entangling alliances," and "seriously considering the allurements of his brother's ranch near San Francisco. This brother, whom he has not seen for twenty-seven years, heard of his search for a wife. Henry H. "Hamilton," as he is called, was married years before. And Hargey says "Hamilton's" wife married John Hargey, father of George M. Hargey and of "Hamilton," while the latter was absent in the navy. "Hamilton" offers the alternative of employment on his ranch. 'Nuf Sed!

But Hargey has not altogether relinquished the idea. "I may change my mind, which I don't often do," was his remark the other day. He is not "queer," but just lonely. He has friends in this city who are inclined to judge him harshly. But it must be remembered that he has wandered into every port on the civilized globe. He has seen more of the world in his sixteen years of naval service, than most men in a lifetime. And he is just lonely and a trifle tired of it all. "Home Sweet Home," is his plea, and most feel that way ent instruc- Charles Noel League of the Academy of prize at is the in- She att institute f Rochester. t Williams illustrators.

133

Williams society of Fine the studied with Enrico died design ph Johnnot th Shippen Eastonbury. instructor terior deco- Massachu- and under Major. For of the art at East light in the colony at wster is a histy of Bos- ne.

n an f the Miss au- struc- to under Frank r Dr. on of

13 Our Own Leon

Robert H. Nisbet Combines Ballistics and Artillery Targets With Pic- tures of Nature's Vagrant Woods.

L EONARDO DA VINCI was about as near an approach to the universal man as the world has ever seen. He was sculptor, painter, architect, poet, musician, engineer, mathematician and about everything else of allied professions. He could turn from painting "The Last Supper" to devising new plans of fortifications or cannon.

Connecticut has an artist of international reputation who, in one respect, resembles Vinci. From painting "Lingering Summer," which took first prize at the recent exhibition at the National Academy, New York, Robert H. Nisbet of South Kent will walk to the Colt factory in this city and spend a most enjoyable three hours going through the factory. Or he will discuss, with an expertness few can deny or gainsay, the principles of ballistics; or spend his evenings at an armory pegging away at pistol targets for the fun of it. In fact, Mr. Nisbet has just recently been demobilized from the United States service, and while with the service his job was to paint targets for the artillery that they might learn to drop barrages, make a good percentage of hits and come somewhere near their target. As everybody who has been in the army knows, the targets used for this type of practice must be mathematically and scientifically in proportion; each church steeple and sighting point must be placed into the landscape proportionally correct so that the gunners will get acquainted with conditions of firing and bracketing and sighting that will approximate those to be found in the fight itself.

When Mr. Nisbet comes to Hartford, his first visit is usually at the studio of Nunzio Vayana, where the art activities and doings of Hartford and Connecticut are discussed, for Mr. Nisbet is president of the Society of Connecticut Artists, of which Mr. Vayana is secretary, and Mr. Nisbet, despite alleged attempts on the part of the other faction to corral him, has lined up with Mr. Vayana in the present little dispute as to who constitutes the board of governors of the society.

Unfailingly, Mr. Nisbet's next visit is to the Colt factory, where the artist who paints summer with the fading bloom on her cheek, holding her face for September's soft winds to turn's cold touch chills, revels in practical methods of schemes that have for their end the manufacture, perhaps, of a pistol with a grip that has perfect balance, or whatever it is a nice good-natured pistol ought to have.

"Lingering Summer," which won first prize at the National Academy, and which Mr. Nisbet will exhibit at the Connecticut Society's exhibition to be held at Vayana's Art Studio from March 15 to 31, expresses one side of Mr. Nisbet's art. Here he strikes what might be called his dominant note, that of picturing nature in all her exuberance. In "Lingering Summer" users of slang will find the origin of the expression that "Summer is sitting in the lap of Spring," only here it is Summer that is the setter,

"A

"LINGERING

He forfeited his bond and bench warrant was issued.

He loomed up again in the criminal world last July in Waterbury when he was arrested for housebreaking, and was sentenced to the state reformatory.

Friday the latest chapter in Patterson's life was told when he was taken from the institution to the state prison in Wethersfield where he is to serve an indeterminate sentence of not more than five years.

HENRY F. PATTERSON

When Patterson finishes his sojourn at Wethersfield he will be handed over to the Canadian police.

The Bertillon system, however, is only one of the progressive ideas which the state reformatory is employing in correcting or bringing to justice boys and young men committed there.

The inmates are men who between the ages of 16 and 25 are convicted for offenses for which they may be punished by imprisonment for a shorter period than life, either in the state prison or in jail, may be committed to the reformatory if they seem to the trial court to be amenable to reformatory methods.

The reformatory stands on one of the choice bits of land in Connecticut commanding a view of the beautiful Cheshire hills. There are 400 cells in the institution. And if ever wayward or criminally young people are given a chance to become useful citizens it is there.

Boys who have not completed their studies in the grammar schools before being committed are signed up for certain study periods a week while others who have had a grammar school training are assigned to the various departments in the trade school which includes printing, machine shop work, automobile repairing, blacksmith shop experience, carpentry and woodworking. There is a model dairy on the place with a herd of stein cows that are well known. The number of blue-ribbon

Class Work Starts at New Studio of Art Society

The new studio building of the Hartford Art society was used for class work for the first time, Thursday, when in the design room Miss Rachel Taft Dixon gave instruction in costume illustration. This marks the beginning of what promises to be many successful years of art study in the new home of the Art society, at Collins and May streets, where an almost ideal studio building is just being completed.

Description or illustration of the new studios are the office to the west and the library to the east, the latter containing a brick fireplace. There are dressing rooms for models and the basement contains lavatories, lockers and storage rooms. In the design room where the classes are now meeting, is taught costume illustration, magazine cover designing, fashion designing, commercial designing, textile designing and interior decoration.

The art classes have been meeting in the Dillon building, on Main street for Albertus E. Jones is resident instructor. He was a pupil of Charles Noel Flagg and the Connecticut League of Art Students. He is a member of the council of the Connecticut Academy of Fine Arts and won the Dunham prize at the academy in 1912.

Miss Rachel Taft Dixon is the instructor in costume illustration. She was a student in the Pratt Institute and Mechanics' Institute of Rochester. She studied under J. Scott Williams and Clara Elsen Williams, illustrators.

STUDIO BUILDING RECENTLY ERECTED AT COLLINS AND MAY STREETS.

building would be premature at this time as the interior is far from being furnished and there are a good many finishing touches to be put to the exterior of the long, splendidly lighted brick building. It contains two large studios with ample north light. One is the large life-class room where will be taught life drawing, portrait painting, etc. The other is the antique room where drawings are made from casts and paintings from still life.

Art society officers and students take pride in the clay modelling room which is said to equal any in Connecticut. It reaches from the basement to the roof and has identical north light. The design room at the east end of the building is ample and the whole effect, all through the building, is "plenty of elbow room," something the Art society has needed for years. On the main floor besides the entrance hallway and the

about two years since the society moved out of its home on Prospect street which it sold to the Knights of Columbus.

The school was founded in 1877. The present officers are:

President, Mrs. Howard Cheney; first vice-president, Mrs. Archibald A. Welch; second vice-president, Mrs. John O. Enders; secretary, Mrs. C. G. Johnstone; recording secretary, Miss Helen Forrest; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Walter Schutz; treasurer, Mrs. Thomas W. Hooker. Heads of committees are: Finance, Mrs. George C. Perkins; art school committee, Miss Elizabeth T. Stevens; sub-committee on scholarships, Mrs. Charles C. Beach; exhibitions, Mrs. Lewis D. Parker; lecture and entertainment committee, Miss Grace L. Plimpton; advisory board, Russell Cheney, the Rev. Francis Goodwin, Charles E. Gross and Franklin O. Whitmore.

Miss Katherine Stoddard Williams is the instructor in cast drawing. She was a student at the Art society of Hartford and a scholarship student from Hartford at the Museum of Fine Arts in Boston, 1917-18. She studied portraits in Rome, Italy, with Enrico Nardi. Miss Williams studied design with Marshal Fry and Ralph Johnnot and illustration with Elizabeth Shippen Green. Her home is in Glastonbury.

Daniel O. Brewster is the instructor in decorative design and interior decoration. He studied at the Massachusetts Normal Art school and under Vesper George and Ernest Major. For two years he was director of the art gallery on the moors at East Gloucester. He has also taught in the summer school of the art colony at Peterboro, N. H. Mr. Brewster is a member of the Copley society of Boston.

March 4, 1920

133

ne.

n an
f the Miss
stu-
truc-
to nder
Frank
on of

CENTENARIAN HEADS BLODGETT FAMILY OF FIVE GENERATIONS

From left to right (seated): Mrs. John Willehen, 43, of Hartford; Mrs. Mary A. Blodgett, age nearly 100 years, of Pittsfield, Mass., holding her great-great-grandchild, Irene Virginia Brooks, one years old, of Windsor; Mrs. Francis L. Green, 66, of Windsor; (Standing): Mrs. Arthur Brooks, 22, of Windsor.

makes her home, and when we marvel of expert needle work.

There is added interest in Mrs. Blodgett's 100th birthday because representatives of five generations of the family are living. They include her daughter, Mrs. Frances L. Green, aged 66, of Windsor, Conn.; her granddaughter, Mrs. John Willehen, 43, of Hartford; her great-granddaughter, Mrs. Arthur Brooks, 22 of Windsor, and her great-great-granddaughter, Irene Virginia Brooks, one year old.

When Marksmanship Counted.

Mrs. Blodgett was born in Salisbury, Conn., March 6, 1820, daughter of Captain Charles and Maria (Lee) Wright. Her father, an expert marksman and hunter who lived to be 91, was at the head of the company of militia in his town. When a wild turkey was wanted for a Sunday dinner, he always got it. Mrs. Blodgett was the oldest of a family of seven daughters and one son and is the last. She taught school in Washington, Conn., in her early life, walking five miles each way every day; she also taught in Vermont. Her marriage to William H. Blodgett took place at her home in Salisbury in 1845, and he lived to observe their golden wedding. All their married life was spent in Salisbury and Canaan. Their son, William H. Blodgett, jr., enlisted in the Connecticut regiment in the Civil war and became desperately ill with fever in Virginia. Mrs. Blodgett crossed the lines, visited General Lee's headquarters, secured the removal of a number of soldiers, including her son, to a hospital and helped to nurse them back to health.

And this New Tax Commissioner.
Of seven children born to Mrs. Blodgett, living. Besides Mrs.

HARTFORD BRIDE OF NEW MEXICO BRIDEGROOM

March 6

Miss Lillian Mary Thomas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Thomas of No. 108 Ashley street, and Alexander Kirkwood of Gallup, N. M., were married Saturday evening at the home of the brides parents by Rev. P. C. Wright, pastor of the Asylum Avenue Baptist Church. The bride was given away by her father. The maid of honor was Miss Florence Barkley and the bridegroom was attended by John Barkley, jr. The maid of honor and the best man are cousins of the bridegroom. Miss Martha Washington Doud, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Doud of Bristol, was flower girl. Miss Vera Hunt, a girlhood friend of the bride, played the "Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin."

The bride wore dress of white satin with embroidered panels and her veil was ornamented with a double wreath of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of sweet peas. The bridesmaids dress was of pink organdie and her bouquet was pink sweet peas. The flower girl wore white organdie and carried a basket of pink sweet peas.

Mrs. Kirkwood was born in Syracuse, N. Y., and she came to this city as a child and attended the public schools of the city. Mr. Kirkwood is a prominent engineer on the Santa Fe Railroad. At the outbreak of the war he enlisted in the Thirty-first Engineers and served with that organization in France until September 1919, when he returned to this country. After a trip through the West, Mr. and Mrs. Kirkwood will live in Gallup, New Mexico.

HAS LIVED A CENTURY, BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Lucy K. Upson of Southington Celebrates 101st Anniversary.

Special to The Times. 1921
Southington, March 10.

Mrs. Lucy K. Upson of No. 474 Main street, yesterday, celebrated her 101st birthday. She was born in Wolcott on March 9, 1820, and has lived in Southington for the past seventy-eight years. She broke her hip nearly twenty years ago and has been an invalid most of the time since. For the past ten years she has been confined to her bed. Mrs. Upson has been a life long member of the Congregational church. She is the widow of Lucius Upson, who died in 1881. She was the mother of nine children, three of whom are dead. Those living and their ages are Mrs. Josephine L. Downs of Bristol, 80; Miss Augusta Upson of this town, 76; Benjamin W. Upson of this town 72; Edward D. Upson of Van Nuys, Cal., 65; Arthur W. Upson of Sterling, Col., 63; and Frank E. Upson of Danbury, 60. Yesterday Mrs. Upson enjoyed a family party and received calls from a number of relatives and friends. She was also showered with cards and congratulatory messages during the day. Her eyesight has failed her and her health has become feeble the past year.

MRS. LUCY K. UPSON.

Captain C. H. Wickham, Mrs. Wickham, Mrs. C. S. Langdon and C. B. Langdon Reported "Perfectly Safe"
—Similar Announcement as to Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Bill.

Captain Clarence H. Wickham and Mrs. Wickham of Manchester and Mrs. Charles S. Langdon and her son, C. Barstow Langdon, of No. 63 Gillett street, this city, were at the Hotel Chamberlin, at Old Point Comfort, Va., which was burned yesterday and a telegram received in Hartford last night from Captain Wickham said that all were "perfectly safe," but that they had lost everything in the fire except the things which they wore. The Wickhams have been in the South several weeks and a letter written by Captain Wickham at Orlando, Fla., on February 28 indicated that he would start for home last Monday, with the Hotel Chamberlin as a stopping place. Mrs. Langdon and her son have been at the Hotel Chamberlin about a week. Mr. and Mrs. Austin R. Bill of this city have been staying at the burned hotel, but a telegram was received last evening by a brother of Mr. Bill, telling of their safety. Irving C. Treat of the hardware firm of Clapp & Treat was at the Chamberlin recently, but is now at Atlantic City. Hartford fire insurance companies are interested in the fire at Old Point Comfort, but officials of the companies were unable to tell last evening the extent of their losses.

BARBOUR CHOSEN FOOT GUARD HEAD

Captain Informed of Honor at Home—Loomis Declines.

March 8, 1920

CHOSEN MAJOR OF GOVERNOR'S FOOT GUARD

Barbour was for of the nor's Foot the company nomination of the nomi-a week ago Clinton F. nous choice, e committee necessary for t accept the vas asked to ut again in- at he could tee then se- to head the members of it last even-ecret ballot; received the en informed n and hence on, chief of l C. Doty ee to notify they visited and he re-e "Feeters" s. ld the com- the honor. nost to pro- e company. made by ex- rles E. Sted-

REBOUR

Frank L. Wilson, both for- any commanders. of the nominating com- re Captain Samuel C. Doty. Louis H. Stanley, Captain Buell, Sergeant John F. Sergeant James C. Cowli-

McKINLEY WEDS

IN GIRL

Bride of Or-

nt) arch 10. list of the and Miss tain, were r. McKin- alesburg. Knox Col- Harvard fe won a best mu- lass. His inley, was the Union Rockville. known in ughter of of No. 28 , and has w Britain

KINLEY.

March 20.

The Times New Home
Editorials from
other papers.
See large Envelopes

GOLD AND BOUQUET

FOR JOHN L. WILSON

50th Anniversary of

March

A purse of flowers will Capitol to Senger today and Mrs. John Mr. Wilson the Capitol. anniversary of Mrs. Wilson, quiet observation home with nee. Several messages will be state officials perintendent's purse of gold gift of the em office.

Mr. and Mrs. in Suffield on Dr. Dwight Ives name being Edren were born still living, be William J. Wilson of the Suffield the daughter i. Their grand-

Mr. Wilson William L. Wilson, and was Thompsonville, July 14, 1848. tended the public schools of the

MRS. JOHN L. WILSON
MARRIED 50 YEARS

MRS. JOHN L. WILSON.

Many messages of congratulation were sent from the Capitol yesterday to Mr. and Mrs. John L. Wilson of Suffield, it being the fiftieth anniversary of the marriage of the couple. Mr. Wilson, who is superintendent of the Capitol, was besieged with messages, and he and Mrs. Wilson were given a purse of $50 in gold. Various state departments sent congratulatory telegrams, and many telephoned their congratulations.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson were married on March 10, 1870, in Suffield, and have lived in that town ever since.

JOHN

Church Sends Congratulations On Their 50th Wedding Anniversary.

March 10, 1920

MRS. CHARLES F. GORDON.

CHARLES F. GORDON.

MRS. CAROLINE SCHLAYER.

(Special to The Courant)

Southington, March 11.

Mrs. Caroline Schlayer of East street, will celebrate her 92nd birthday today. She is still very active, having pieced two bed-quilts this winter, besides doing her usual amount of knitting. She retains all her faculties to a remarkable degree, and manifests a lively interest in current events and local affairs. The weather and roads, permitting, the usual family gathering will take place today.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Gordon of No. 199 Beacon street are commemorating to-day the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage and are the recipients of many tokens of felicitation by their friends, including a beautiful basket of fifty roses sent them by their friends of the Asylum Avenue Baptist church with which Mr. and Mrs. Gordon

MISS BOYINGTON WEDS IRVING H. GOODWIN

March 11
Mr. and Mrs. Herbert A. Boyington of No. 36 Capen street announce the marriage of their daughter, M. Elizabeth, to Irving Harrison Goodwin, son of Mrs. Louisa K. Goodwin of No. 5 Whiting lane. The ceremony was performed at the home of Rev. William Bragg, Friday evening in the presence of immediate relatives. Mrs. Hazel K. Dunn was bridesmaid, and Everett Clifford Goodwin was best man.

March 11
Miss Mildred Case Belcher of Hartford and Warren Ray Coffin, formerly

WHAPLES DIRECTOR OF AM. HARDWARE

Hartford Banker Is Honored by New Britain Company.

New Britain, March 12.
Meigs H. Whaples, chairman of the board of directors of the Hartford-Connecticut Trust company of Hartford, director of the American

139

MISS DOROTHY LITCHFIELD WITTER. March 11

Miss Witter, who has been acting assistant principal of the Hartford hospital Training School for Nurses since the resignation of Miss Lizzie L. Goepfinger in January, has resigned and is now awaiting her call to enter the United States public health service, having passed the necessary civil service examinations. Although uncertain as to her destination, she expects that it will be the government hospital at Spartanburg, Va., where Dr. George Wheeler and Mrs. Wheeler, formerly Miss Agnes Kullgren of this city, are now located, Mr. Wheeler also being in the government service. Miss Witter, who is daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Witter of Burnside avenue, Burnside, formerly of this city, was graduated from the Hartford Public High school in 1912 and from the Hartford Hospital Training School for Nurses in 1916. She has since filled various executive positions at the hospital, including those of anaesthetist, supervisor of some of the wards and assistant in the office of the principal. She expects to leave for her new duties later this month.

GS H. WHAPLES.

incorporation at a meeting of that company held this

tors elected were: Carlisle Philip Corbin, James F. Glover, Benjamin A. T. Kimball, Charles D. J. Sloper, Charles F. C. M. Thomson, Harris Roland S. Woodruff, Isaac Ernest Root. The state gross profits of the year net profits, $1,245,747. January 1, 1920, was $3.

es is a native of New g been born in that city the son of Curtis Whaples h M. Whaples. After his om the New Britain High ured the New Britain Na as a teller. He came to 863 as a teller in the Mer nal bank where he re- 1870, when ne entered the es navy as secretary to I O. H. Glisson and Rear les H. Boggs of the Amer n in European waters. ng his enlistment he re- artford and entered the ness again. After several iful service he was lected the Connecticut Trust and company, an office which il the consolidation, with Trust company when he man of the board of direc- Hartford-Connecticut Trust is a director of a number n companies and has also ent in civic activities.

With $2,500 raised in one year toward its object, the Hartford Female Seminary Memorial association, organized to secure a perpetual memorial to that institution in the form of a scholarship fund for young women, is hoping to get an equal amount as quickly as possible, that the graduates of this pioneer school for girls who have been active in work for the fund may see their aim accomplished. The idea of establishing a scholarship to furnish collegiate education for young women needing financial assistance, preferably descendants of those formerly associated with the seminary, was first suggested in June, 1915, at the fiftieth anniversary reunion of the class of 1865 held in the old seminary building which still stands in Pratt street but is now occupied by stores. The old Hartford Female seminary was the second school in this country for the higher education of women after having been established in 1827, and its alumnae are justly proud of its achievements. It passed from existence in 1888, but its graduates and students now include prominent women in all parts of the country and the children of deceased graduates, in many instances, are interested in perpetuating the memory of the institution.

When the scholarship memorial was suggested it was thought $10,000 should be raised for the purpose. But recognizing the demands for charity and the many worthy objects of philanthropy existing today, the association has decided that $5,000 will suffice to establish the scholarship, and about half that amount has been subscribed.

Although the scholarship was suggested in 1915, the Memorial association was not organized until March 10, 1916, when at a meeting at Center Church house the association was formed and its officers elected as follows:

President, Mrs. Henry E. Fowler of Guilford, who was graduated from the seminary in 1865; secretary, Mrs. W. K. Ackley of East Hartford, whose mother, Mrs. George W. Roberts, was a member of the class of 1865; treasurer, Miss Harriet Gillette, of No. 107 Evergreen avenue, whose mother, Mrs. Charles S. Gillette, was a graduate of '65, and who was, herself, the "class baby"; advisory board, Mrs. Jacob Knous of this city, '58; Mrs. Leverett Brainard of this city, '62; Mrs. Charles H. Smith of this city, '58, and Mrs. George S. Gilman of this city, '58. The members of the executive committee, all of whom are also residents of Hartford, are Mrs. Edward G. Hart, '72; Mrs. Louis R. Cheney, '66; Mrs. Charles C. Beach, '73; Mrs. Edwin H. Bingham, '73; Mrs. John R. Buck, '62, and Mrs. Edwin Strong, '69.

The Memorial association sent out to all the graduates and descendants of whom record was available, leaflets describing the object of the association and enclosing pledges for subscriptions, but a gratifying feature of the campaign has been that

GRADUATES ORGANIZE

Association Formed of Women Who Attended Katherine Stowe's Famous Seminary.

June 1916
When the class which was graduated from the famous old Hartford Female seminary in Pratt street in 1865 observed its 50th anniversary, it passed from existence in 1888, but its graduates and students now include prominent women in all parts of the country and the children of deceased graduates, in many instances, are interested in perpetuating the memory of the institution. When the class which was graduated from the famous old Hartford Female seminary in Pratt street in 1865 observed its 50th anniversary, it passed from existence in 1888, but its graduates and students now include prominent women in all parts of the country and the children of deceased graduates, in many instances, are interested in perpetuating the memory of the institution. When the class which was graduated from the famous old Hartford Female seminary in Pratt street in 1865 observed its 50th anniversary, it passed from existence in 1888, but its graduates and students now include prominent women in all parts of the country and the children of deceased graduates, in many instances, are interested in perpetuating the memory of the institution.

President—Mrs. Henry E. Fowler.
Treasurer—Miss Hattie Gillett.
Recording Secretary—Mrs. W. K. Ackley.

The Hartford Female seminary was established by Miss Katherine E. Beecher, and her sister, afterward Harriet Beecher Stowe, was among the pupils. That the memory of the first institution for the higher education of women in this state should be preserved by a scholarship in the newest college for women, and the only one in Connecticut, is especially appropriate. Plans were made to reach graduates of the seminary all over the country and interest them in the project, and meetings are to be held later.

Gossip

neer professional club. Before that Mr. Wright had made a tour of the west with the Washington Nationals, the only defeat suffered on the trip being that at Rockford.

In his early days on the diamond George Wright was a catcher, but an injury he sustained while playing that position cured him of any desire to backstop. He then went to left field, and later became a shortstop, winning his greatest fame in that job.

When the National association of professional clubs was launched in '71, Harry Wright became captain and manager of the Boston club, and George Wright was shortstop. The Bostonians won four straight pennants. George was shortstop of the Boston club which won the National league pennant in '77, and again in '78. The following year he was engaged as manager and captain of the Providence club of the National league, which won the pennant. He retired from baseball in 1880, and engaged in the sporting goods business in Boston.

Harry and George Wright were members of the Boston club which, accompanied by the Athletics, made a trip to England in 1874. They played cricket as well as baseball, and won every game with the crack English teams, except one, which was a draw. George Wright made the record for the largest score in a match, rolling up fifty runs at Manchester.

Having got so much publicity from its New Year's football game, it is rumored that Pasadena is planning gridiron contests for Washington's birthday, the Fourth of July, and All Fools' day.

"What sized fish gives most fun?" inquires a headline in the New York Sun. Without having read the article, we suggest that it is the big one—'bout so long, depending on your reach—which got away.

To-day in Pugilistic Annals.

Les Darcy is the latest of many great Australian fighters to seek to

FEMALE SEMINARY

May 22 1920
FUND RAISED

At the Hartford Female Seminary Memorial Association meeting at Center Church House yesterday afternoon it was reported that about $3,000 has been raised, which is to be turned over to the trustees of the Connecticut College For Women to be used as a scholarship fund, to be held in trust by the trustees to assist young women of the college. The fund is to be left open for an indefinite period and, until June 10, contributions may be sent to Mrs. William K. Ackley, No. 1,910 Main street, East Hartford, and, after that date, to the treasurer of the college, William H. Reeves, of New London.

Mrs. Ackley, Miss Harriet T. Gillette, treasurer of the association, and Mrs. E. G. Hart, chairman of the executive board, were appointed a committee to have charge of placing the fund.

CONTRIBUTIONS TO HARTFORD FEMALE SEMINARY FUND

141

Subscribers Pay Tribute of Affection to Institu- tion.

In receiving contributions to a fund to establish a scholarship in memory of the first school in Connecticut for the higher education of women many interesting notes have accompanied checks, showing in what way the old Hartford Female Seminary has been held in remembrance through the years. A few of the expressions are as follows:—

"In memory of Mrs. Mary Lowe Dickinson, assistant principal of the H. F. S. 1864-65, and the influence of her rare personality upon her pupils by one of them."

"In memory of their aunt, Anna F. Chittenden, a pupil at the H. F. S. in its earlier years."

"In memory of my mother, Elizabeth Lyman, a former pupil in Miss Beecher's School and later a teacher with her in Hartford and Cincinnati."

"In memory of his mother, Edith Hollister."

"In memory of his uncle, Arthur N. Hollister."

"In memory of his aunt, Mary Robinson."

"In memory of Frances Greenwood Stoddard, one of Catherine Beecher's early pupils, and companion of Harriet Beecher Stowe and Sarah P. Willis, by four granddaughters and a son-in-law."

"In memory of Miss Hilyer and Miss Bushnell."

"In memory of Grace Tuttle."

"In memory of his mother, Susan Goodwin, of the class of '53."

"In memory of Mrs. J. G. Rathbun nee Martha Buell, '53."

Letters have been received from distant parts of the country from former pupils, and descendants of such, asking for more definite information about the memorial, notice of which had been seen in newspaper items or by mention by some other person interested in the old seminary.

It is hoped that many more memorial funds will be sent in to make this

THE "SEMINARY."

There are many people still in active life who recall the "Hartford Female Seminary" as an important institution in the city and state. It was the educational home of the greater number of the young women growing here and hereabouts at that time. It became a great school under Miss Catherine Beecher, sister of Henry Ward Beecher, and it is affectionately remembered by many living pupils, while it was a household word a generation or two earlier. It died. Its old home on Pratt street was sold to the Good Will Club and by that institution sold again for business purposes. A letter from a graduate calls attention to the fact that an effort is making to raise money to endow a scholarship at some women's college to perpetuate the memory of this school. It would have taken a day to raise the money years ago. It ought to come in now.

*Memorial of the Hartford Female Seminary a Gift
of money to the Connecticut College Scholarship Fund*

*Names of Donors,
See "65" reunion*

15-Vol 34. W 148

WOMAN PASSES 102D BIRTHDAY

Meriden, March 13.—Mrs. Ju Copperthite, of No. 140 Hanover street Meriden's oldest resident, is starting day upon her 103d year in fair health and able to get around her home with aid of a cane and help in housework. Mrs. Copperthite has a remarkable memory and talks interestingly of the early days of Meriden, having settled here eighty-five years ago with her first husband, Nathaniel Robbins. She was Spanish influenza victim last year and had the grip this year pulling through when the doctors feared that she must succumb on account of her extreme age.

Mrs. Copperthite was born in Queer county, England. She lives with daughter, Mrs. Wilbur Skinner, and a son, Daniel Robinson, of Springfield, Mass.

March 13
Miss Lucy M. Beach of Farmington avenue and J. Oscar Johnson, jr., of this city were married Saturday evening at the home of the bride's brother Howard E. Beach on Hillside avenue the ceremony being performed by Rev. John W. Morrison in the presence of relatives and a few friends.

March 12 1921
Miss Josephine Mirteenes McCormick daughter of the Rev. Dr. and Charles W. McCormick of Stamford, formerly pastor of the First Methodist church of this city, and Richard Berthy Martin, jr., son of Richard Berthy Martin and the late Mrs. E. Oakley Martin of Whitney street will be married this evening at 7 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents. The ceremony will be performed by the bride's father, who is district superintendent of New York, district of York East conference, assisted by Rev. Dr. John Oakley of Yonkers, grandfather of the bridegroom. The bride will be attended by Miss Edith Oa Martin, sister of the bridegroom, maid of honor, and the bridesmaids be Miss Norma Allen, daughter of and Mrs. Norman F. Allen of this city, Miss Helen C. Russ of South Bend, a classmate of the bride at Goucher college, and Miss Priscilla P. Lanford of Crisfield, Md., another classmate sorority sister. The bride will wear a gown of white satin and beaded Georgette crepe, with a veil of tulle trimmed with orange blossoms. The shower bouquet will be of lilies-of-the-valley, white roses and forget-me-nots. The maid of honor's dress will be of yellow taffeta and she will carry a bouquet of lavender sweet peas. The bridesmaids will wear orchid taffeta and carry bouquets of daffodils. The bride will be given in marriage by her brother, Olin Foss McCormick. The best man will be Clyde Whetzel of Pittsburgh, and the ushers will be Grenville M. Parker and E. Bradford Ripley, both of this city, and John Sinkey of New York. There will be a small reception at the home of the bride's parents, following the ceremony, and the decorations will be palms and daffodils. Mr. Martin was graduated from Yale university in 1915, and from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in 1917 and he received a degree from Harvard university the same year. He served as a lieutenant in the Signal corps during the war. Miss McCormick was graduated from Goucher college in 1917 and was a member of the Alpha Phi sorority. Mr. and Mrs. Martin will be at home after May 15 at No. 111 Scotch Plains avenue, Westfield, N. J.

CHANCELLOR KAPP WAS BORN IN NEW YORK

New York, March 14.—Born in this city in 1858, Wolfgang Kapp, chancellor of the German government, in his youth re-

Photo by L. Fabian Bachrach.

MRS. RICHARD P. MARTIN, JR.

Mrs. Richard P. Martin, jr., who was married Friday evening in Stamford, was formerly Miss Josephine M. McCormick and is the daughter of Rev. Dr. Charles W. McCormick and Mrs. McCormick of Stamford, formerly of this city.

PRINCE OF WALES OFF FOR AUSTRALIA.

London, March 16.—The prince of Wales left Victoria station this afternoon for Portsmouth.

William H. St. John of Hartford was toastmaster at the annual dinner of the Yale University class of 1891 at the Yale Club in New York recently. George S. Talcott of New Britain and Hartford and William R. C. Corson of this city were among those attending. Congressman John Q. Tilson of New Haven was a speaker. Frederick C. Walcott of New York was another to speak. He has talked before the University Club here on the work of the Commission for the Relief of Belgium, for which he worked under the direction of Herbert C. Hoover. A report in a Yale paper awards St. John a crown as a "wonderful toastmaster."

CAPTAIN ANDREWS ASSUMES COMMAND

March—1920

—[Photo by Louis Fabian Bachrach.

Dec 10. 1920 MISS JULIA HOWELL.

Miss Julia Howell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Dawson Howell of Boston, who for many years lived on Prospect avenue, and Miss Julie Ripley, daughter of Mrs. Baillie Ripley, shared the honors at a debut ball given Friday evening in the large ballroom at the Copley-Plaza, Boston. Preceding the dance, Mrs. Howell and Mrs. Ripley entertained at a large dinner at the Copley-Plaza. Miss Howell and Miss Ripley attended Miss Winsor's school.

Mrs. C. L. F. Robinson and daughter, Miss Elizabeth Alden Robinson of Prospect avenue, were among the guests at the debutante dance of Miss Julia Howell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Dawson Howell of Boston, formerly of this city, and Miss Julie Ripley, daughter of Mrs. Baillie Ripley, at the Copley Plaza, Boston, Friday evening.

life Monday. He gave little thought to the anniversary, arguing that it was of scant interest to anybody besides himself and not being sure that it was of much interest even to himself. He began bank life as a messenger for the old Charter Oak National Bank, which was where the City Bank & Trust Company Bank is now, in 1870, when General Charles H. Hillyer was president. For seventeen years he was with the institution, rising through several grades, to teller, both paying and receiving.

In 1887 he went to the "River" Bank, joining Miles W. Graves as manager. At that time the bank was in the old part of the ground floor of the old building, now defunct. The bank was then a part of the Aetna Life Insurance Company, and the Aetna Life Insurance Company was then a part of the Aetna Life Insurance Company. The bank was then a part of the Aetna Life Insurance Company.

Erving was

D

5
2
4
2

ERVING.

50 Hld. C
10 Hanov
20 Colls
25 Nat. St

CHANGE BANK
RIS PLAN BANK
A NAT. BANK
BANK

CO.
S. D. CO.
TRUST CO.

NKS

harter 8000.

youngest sister, Julia will be a debutante next season. The wedding will take place March 17.

AMBASSADOR DAVIS BIDDEN FAREWELL BY NOTABLE GROUP

42-17-
Earl Curzon, Representing King, and Diplomatic Corps at Station.

—1921
London, March 9.—John W. Davis, retiring United States ambassador to Great Britain, left London for Southampton to-day on his way to the United States. Diplomats, government officials and figures prominent in the society of the British capital were at Waterloo station to bid him farewell. As representative of King George, Earl Curzon of Kedleston, secretary of state for foreign affairs, expressed regret that Mr.
Davis was leaving and voiced the hope that he would revisit England. Viscountess Curzon and Lady Reading presented Mr. and Mrs. Davis with a bouquet.

Among those at the station were Lord
and Lady Reading, Viscount and Viscountess Bryce, the ambassadors of Spain, Japan, Brazil and Italy, the Swiss minister and representatives of the French embassy.

Mr. and Mrs. Davis sail on the Olympic. J. Butler Wright, counselor at the embassy, will be in charge, pending the arrival of a new ambassador.

Marriage of the Eldest Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Dawson Howell to Charles Ward Cheney Will Take Place at the Family Home in Beacon Street

March 17, 1920
Notable among the comparatively few important weddings in the Lenten season is the marriage today of Miss Sylvia Burt Howell to Charles Ward Cheney, which takes place late this afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Dawson Howell, 119 Beacon street. Miss Howell is a graduate of Miss Sheldon and Miss Nixon's School in Florence, Italy. She is a member of the 1915 Sewing Circle and in that season was formally presented. She is a member of the Vincent Club.

Mr. Cheney is a son of Mrs. William H. Schofield, formerly Mrs. Cheney, before she became after some years of widowhood the wife of Professor Schofield of East Hill, Peterboro, N. H. Mr. Cheney prepared at St. Mark's School in Southboro, for college and is a graduate of Harvard, class of 1915. He is a grandson of Mrs. Benjamin P. Cheney of 32 Marlboro street. He served overseas with the Fourteenth Engineers, in the World War, and afterward was in the Division of Light Railways, American Expeditionary Forces. Miss Howell's engagement to Mr. Cheney was announced early in February.

Spring flowers used in profusion will form the decorations of the Howell residence, to mark the wedding, and white flowers will be conspicuous among those used, combined with masses of greenery. The marriage ceremony will be performed by Rev. William G. Thayer, of St. Mark's School, and the bride will be given in marriage by her father.

Two sisters of the bride, Miss Frances Howell, a debutante of the 1918-19 season, and Miss Julia Howell, will be the bridal attendants, Miss Frances Howell as maid of honor and the younger sister as bridesmaid. The bride is to wear a wedding gown of cream-colored lace and chiffon and a conventional bridal veil, and her bouquet will be of lilies of the valley, combined with orchids. Her attendant sisters will be in gowns of rose brocade and chiffon with hats of brown tulle trimmed with ostrich plumes matching their dresses.

George Benson of Salem has been invited by Mr. Cheney to serve as his best man and the group of ushers will be made up of Alfred Howell and George Dawson Howell, Jr., both of Charles. When living in this city, she was prominent in musical circles and was a member of the Hartford Musical club, being a harpist of ability. Her father, who was graduated from Trinity college in 1882, and brothers are all members of the Alpha Delta Phi fraternity. Captain Charles Hurd Howell, who was graduated from Trinity college in 1912, won considerable distinction as an aviator in the Royal flying corps; and while in England, was married to the daughter of the late William Russell, famous governor of Massachusetts, who was then living with her mother, Mrs. Michael Foster, in England. The bridegroom's mother is wife of Professor Schofield of Harvard university and he is grandson of Mrs. Benjamin P. Cheney. He was graduated from Harvard university in 1915 and served overseas with the Fourteenth engineers. Mr. and Mrs. Cheney will start immediately for South America, where they will remain for three years.

CHENEY—To Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ward (Sylvia Howell), Oct. 28, a daughter.

March Maine's 100 Years 18

If Maine becomes 100 years old as a state in the Union to-day, no one should infer from the fact that there is anything young and giddy in Maine, measured by the advent of the white man's civilization in America. Although Maine was a discontented part of Massachusetts when statehood came, the first unsuccessful efforts at colonization by Europeans on its coast were 16 years prior to the landing of the Pilgrims at Plymouth. It had summer visitors as far back as 1498, or thereabout, when the Cabots from England first sailed into its bays. The summer visitor business has flourished wonderfully down East in more recent times.

Why the singular name, Maine? Because the earliest settlers referred to it as part of the main land of New England, and the King Charles I charter called it "the province or 'countie of Mayne." If the centenary of the state's admission to the Union does no more than make one investigate the question, "Why Maine?" it is worth while. Of course, its fate in being merged with Massachusetts in 1691 was inevitable under the circumstances, that being the Massachusetts tendency of that period. New Hampshire merged with Massachusetts several times, and it did not permanently break away to enjoy the blessings of self-determination until as late as 1741. Massachusetts folks bear no ill will nowadays to Maine or New Hampshire for achieving their independence of this commonwealth, however much they may still question their taste.

Maine has made not a little history first and last. In these dry times, most people perhaps think of Maine only as the birthplace of prohibition. It is true that Maine led off with state prohibition as early as 1851 and stuck to it like a bitter-ender until the whole nation went dry also. Surely that is distinction enough for any American commonwealth. But Maine's very admission to the Union in 1820 was an important event in American history because of the celebrated Missouri compromise.

Missouri, it so happened, wanted to enter the Union at the same time Maine did. Maine was to be a free state, Missouri was to be a slave state. So, to balance up things between the North and the South, and stop a quarrel, the proslavery Senate and the antislavery House compromised by admitting both territories and prohibiting slavery forever after in all other territory of the United States north of latitude 36-30. Until the repeal of the Missouri compromise some 30 years later, the slavery issue was thus prevented from becoming a major political issue between the great parties. It was a triumph of the politicians and, like most compromises of a moral principle, it ended in the ditch.

Back when Daniel Webster was secretary of state, Maine was an acute international issue because of a boundary dispute with Canada. It was settled satisfactorily to the Maine folks, thanks to the Websterian diplomacy, but Canada gets hot even now in thinking about it. For that awful Maine wedge that is thrust far north into Quebec province spoils Canada's direct railroad route to the sea. You can always tell a true native son of Maine by asking him if he would not now consent to the cession of Aroostook county, the paradise of the potato grower, to the Dominion; whether in Eastport, or Castine, or Skowhegan he will show signs of fight.

It would be hard to say, after all what Maine is most celebrated for. Not to become statistical, it may suffice to say that it has been unique among New England states in its output of prima donnas. Maine's uncommonly smart politicians like Blaine—although Blaine was Pennsylvania born—and sterling statesmen like Fessenden have for many years been taken for granted; one might even understand how the poet Longfellow could be born in Portland; Maine's founders of new religious cults like the Holy Rollers have been no great mystery; Artemas Ward, Maine-born, can be dismissed as a freak like the author of the Rollo books; but how to account for Maine's world-renowned singers like Annie Louise Carey and Lillian Nordica is most difficult for people brought up on the Boston symphony orchestra and living at the Back Bay, Brookline or Chestnut Hill to explain.

The longest funeral sermon ever preached in New England so far as we are informed, was in Maine—taking the entire winter afternoon and still going long after sundown when the men present broke for home to do their chores. There's nothing quite like trolling for pickerel on a quiet, glassy Maine pond at 4 in the morning—except eating them for breakfast.

line

Harvard Historian Writes Message Which with Greeting of Governor Coolidge Will Be Read by Dr. Alfred Johnson of Brookline at Portland Tonight

Dr. Alfred Johnson of Monmouth street, Brookline, will be one of the speakers tonight in the Portland City Hall at the centenary celebration of the beginning of Maine as a State. Dr. Johnson's grandfather, Judge Alfred Johnson, was a member of the convention which acted upon the separation of the new State from its parent, Massachusetts. Dr. Johnson will carry the greetings of Governor Coolidge, and will read the following comment upon the State of Maine, by Professor Edward Channing, the Harvard historian:

"Maine to me stands for fearless patriotism and community spirit.

"The first New England settlement was made on her coast. That it failed was due to causes outside herself.

"In the Revolution and succeeding years, she did her part, always standing for what was right.

"One of the greatest reforms of the nineteenth century—prohibition—had the first effective impulse within her borders.

"She has contributed men and women to other States in extraordinary numbers and of the highest quality."

Over the Hills to the Poorhouse.

(With Apologies to Will Carleton.)

Over the hills to the poorhouse I'm wending my weary way,
I am a man of fifty-five, and only a trifle gray.
I've saved and laid by a little, to keep the wolf from the door,
But the Income Tax has "got" me, and the poorhouse yawns before.

I've raised a likely family (likely to come to want!)
And, while they're all in college, I'm taking this poorhouse jaunt.
The tax with surtax added does not allow for food,
Say nothing of education or clothes or coal or wood.

So, with the high cost of living, and dying higher still,
That Income Tax has brought me to the poorhouse over the hill.
Because I owned a hencoop and a hoe and some sealing wax,
They took my all and here I am, a victim of Income Tax.

ARTIST C. D. GIBSON BUYS CONTROLLING INTEREST IN "LIFE"

New York, March 21.—Charles Dana Gibson, the artist, it became known today, has bought a controlling interest in "Life," the weekly humorous publication, and will take control on April 1. The purchase price was not announced. G. B. Richardson and George Utassy will be associated with him in its publication. The deal was closed last Tuesday when, it is said, Mr. Gibson bought the majority of stock from the widow of John A. Mitchell, former editor.

Thirty-four years ago Mr. Gibson sold his first drawing to "Life" for $4 which was entitled "The Moon and I." Encouraged by this sale, he went home that night and produced twelve more sketches, all of which were rejected by "Life" the next day. Soon after, however, he became a frequent contributor to the magazine.

GENEALOGICAL SOCIETY'S 75TH

March 20

Open House Gives a Social Touch to a Notable Anniversary Celebration at Boston

Boston, March 23—When the New England historical genealogical society decided to give what may be called a social touch to its 75th anniversary it took a step that will undoubtedly be of benefit to it for years to come. Opening its house, as it did on Thursday afternoon, to members and guests is a long step in popularizing the institution, whose advantages are now better understood by many outsiders. Even some members have hitherto contented themselves with attendance at occasional lectures, with reading the Journal, and with a letter or two of inquiry on some genealogical point. Now they realize how much more they can accomplish by going for research to the large well-lit library and availing themselves of the members' privilege of going directly to the shelves in their search for books. The society, it is true, is very liberal to visitors, and though nonmembers may not go to the shelves all the books they wish may be brought to them in the library.

Last Thursday afternoon visitors wandered throughout the large building, which eight years ago succeeded the less spacious house occupied by the society in Somerset street for more than 40 years. They saw many improvements in the new house that were not possible when it was built eight years ago, they saw that many oil portraits of early officers of the society had been hung on the walls, they looked at many of its rare treasures—manuscripts and books—and they were impressed by the convenience and thoroughly fireproof character of the building.

A reception committee of men and women received all comers in Wilder hall. In the tea room across the hall the table was artistically decorated with flowers, and there was a small orchestra at the foot of the stairs. This opportunity for an informal interchange of opinions on matters historical and genealogical was a fitting prelude to the purely literary exercises of the anniversary in the evening in Ford hall, where the president, James Phinney Baxter, introduced the chief speaker, President Murlin of Boston university, who drew a contrast between the Pilgrim republic and the new republics in Europe. Mr Baxter talked briefly about the Pilgrim memorial hall that he had advocated building for the centenary—a plan that the war interrupted. He hoped that later the plan might be carried out.

But though this hall is yet for the future, the New England historical genealogical society has undertaken to establish a Pilgrim tercentenary memorial fund, and has been remarkably successful in the undertaking. Before forefathers' day of the present year it will probably have a fund considerably in excess of the $200,000.

TRINITY CURATE TO LEAVE HARTFORD

Rev. Robert E. Marshall Awaiting Return of Rev. Dr. E. deF. Miel.

Rev. Robert E. Marshall, curate of Trinity Church, has announced his intention to resign that office as soon as the rector, Rev. Dr. Ernest de F. Miel, resumes his duties, after a long illness.

Mr. Marshall will become rector of St. Matthew's Church in Bedford Hills, N. Y., the latter part of April. Much of the time during the past few years,

REV. ROBERT E.

TRINITY RECTOR TO RETURN SOON

Rev. Dr. Miel Will Take Charge of Former Parish Next Sunday.

Bishop Chauncey B. Brewster, Episcopal Bishop of Connecticut, in the course of his address at the morning service yesterday in Trinity Church, referred to the fact that next Sunday would see Rev. Dr. Ernest de F. Miel once again acting as rector of the church. He went on to say that the congregation would, unfortunately, soon lose the man who had borne the burdens of the work of rector in the absence of Dr. Miel. He said that he was sure Rev. Robert E. Marshall, acting rector and curate of the parish, would be successful in his work of the future, with the energy which he had displayed in his work in the parish. Bishop Brewster's address preceded his sermon and was given when he came to the confirmation exercises in the morning services when he confirmed of the church. He assisted about forty-five members in the parish activities, devotion.

It was learned yesterday that Mr. Marshall is to conduct his first service to the congregation. He in his new parish on Easter Sunday from Dartmouth College morning and he will then return to Trinity for a time. He will permanently assume his duties at St. Matthew's Church, Bedford Hills, N. Y., the latter part of April. Dr. Miel, who is expected to return from Dartmouth, has been away from the parish several years in teaching in a school in this state, almost continuously for over two years. He was overseas for nearly a year with the Red Cross and followed by Bishop Brewster's return to this country he was taken seriously ill. Recently he recovered from his illness enough to return to his home in this city from the Bronx section of New York, where he was in a hospital, and Sunday he will once again take charge of the Trinity parish.

RECTOR OF TRINITY GREETED BY THROGS

March 28 1920
Dr. Miel Thanks Church for Generosity During His Illness.

LAUDS HIS CURATE IN ELOQUENT WORDS

Preaches Palm Sunday Sermon on Loyalty and Devotion.

Thanks to his vestry and to other workers for the church were given warmly by Trinity's rector, Rev. Dr. Ernest deF. Miel, at the morning service yesterday, the first he has conducted since his operation at Roosevelt Hospital. The church was filled, ushers having a hunt to find seats for late comers, and the congregation having a familiar likeness to the throngs which greeted Dr. Miel, when he first returned from the war in France and told fighters' friends about the part played by Hartford soldiers at the front. After the service glad hands were stretched out to welcome the rector, who left in November for his operation at Roosevelt Hospital, New York City, and has since been building up his strength in Yonkers, N. Y., and Beaufort, S. C.

In prelude to his sermon, Dr. Miel said in part:—

Thanks to His People.

"I am loath to introduce personal matters in this service and yet I know that you will not think that I am turning your eyes away from that cross which this day holds up to you. You have been very good to me—you people—not only in this last rather critical experience of mine, but all through my life here. When I came to New England I expected to find it cold and a little hard. But it is not. There is generous warmth which keeps your blood flowing when chill creeps over the heart. There is generous, large-hearted and liberal spirit. I would be without sensibility, if I did not hasten to recognize it.

"Those messages which came down to my bedside were full of power and cheer. I would not put second the splendid gift which you gave, but I feel also the splendid sympathy which you showed. And there was always warm helpfulness which you manifested in various shapes.

"The vestry came right to the front, 'shouldering' things. There were the aid and the energy of Mr. Tilton (the organist) and Mrs. Merrill (the parish visitor) and of Mr. Marshall and the parish carried on.

"What came to me was the word: 'Stay away as long as you need to. Don't make the mistake of coming back too soon.' I think that I can say that I have not made that mistake. I am here to carry on, to carry on the work with all my health and energy.

"And now for Mr. Marshall. You know what he is. He is the last man to take credit for himself. He is fine in his devotion. He gives his flesh and blood and loyalty to you and yours. He has loved to work among your children and he has guided you and them. He postponed his departure out of consideration for you and for me and to allow me to go across.

"It is good to get back. One knows he is among fast and firm friends, who stay with one through shadow and storm and stress and suffering, as well as through sunshine."

Lesson of Loyalty.

His text Dr. Miel found in St. Matthew, 27:11—"Jesus Before the Governor." It was a part of the Gospel for the day, Palm Sunday. There

Dr. Miel said,

at the bar had magnanimity and on the judge. So appeared at his of strange re- w position had oral courage than and called on to alities in human often possessed eatness.

to the painting te" and showed on the prisoner p sullen and sor- the magistrate i. The title might before Christ."

at force settled d no faith in ap- only light which i Calvary. That ristians, rather o there was firm orge and Clem- he situation in obscure. Sacri- or a purpose, for s to win. In the shine and tri- sacrifice were rous giving of and energy, think more of al progress than en their noblest to think more ment and ascen- heroic effort in were not to be e best and the re saying that for more ser-

REV. DR. ERNEST DeF. MIEL.

Dr. Miel told the story of the English artist, George Romney, who married a North of England girl, but loved art more. Quitting his wife and going to London, Romney rose by brilliant ability and hard work to glorious heights of fame and success. He was a world figure in his loved profession. As youth faded his health failed. His skill fled. Then—his deserted wife found him and cared for him. She was with him, when life flickered out. She thought only of the lover of her youth. In her devotion was truer success than in all of his fame and fortune and achievement. That was the success and loyalty which Palm Sunday and the church of Christ was teaching.

"Set Your Clocks Right."

Prior to the sermon Dr. Miel gave out a string of about twenty-five announcements. Many of these dealt with services of today and tomorrow and the other days of Holy Week.

These are by the new schedule of daylight time. "Set your clocks."

Rev. Robert Eliot Marshall con-

WOULD EXPEL AUSTRIAN ROYALTY

Vienna, March 23.—(Delayed.)—

Princes Sixtus and Francis of Bourbon-Parma, brothers of former Empress Zita, are visitors in this city, and this fact was made the subject of an interpellation in the national assembly to-day, the government being asked if it was in a position to expel them. The motion claimed their presence in Vienna "caused political unrest and suspicion."

Prince Sixtus claims protection of the French mission, while Prince Francis takes a similar position with the Belgian representatives here, and the government was asked if it was prepared to make proper representations to France to secure the removal of the two princes.

Windsor Coun -
Mill River at Williamsburg
Infield Coun Brid City

The trend of the many questions which came to "The Courant" office Monday evening as a result of the aurora was as to what caused it and whether or not it had been predicted. Of course there were others such as what it might signify; where the fire was and how it was that the display occurred in mild weather when every one knew that auroras appeared during periods of bitter cold. There might have been more questions if "The Courant" had possessed more

City Stares in Awe
at Northern Lights;
Aurora Affects Wires

Serious Disturbances For Telephone and Telegraph Service—Display is Most Spectacular Seen in
Months. 22, 1928

The aurora borealis performed for Hartford last night, and the entire city gazed in awe at one of the most spectacular exhibitions which has ever appeared. Wires were grounded, electric lights flickered, telephone calls were mysteriously interrupted, and there was every evidence of an unusual electrical disturbance.

Corners were fringed and knotted with people who stared spellbound into the heavens. Trolleys sidled along and stopped, while crews and passengers alike craned their necks. Jineurs forgot the lure of the illusive coinage enough to wonder at the exquisite beauty of nature's spectacle; a display which no theater could hope to attain. And there were more people on roofs, sidewalks, curbstones—even in the middle of the streets.

Wires Grounded.

As the evening wore on serious disturbances became apparent in the operation of electrical apparatus. The wire chief of the Southern New England Telephone Company reported at 10:30 o'clock that both press wires between this city and points west were "dead." During the first part of the evening wires between Hartford and Boston were affected.

The Western Union Telegraph Company reported all wire ground shortly after 10 o'clock. The disturbance lasted for about half an hour. Operators at the Postal Telegraph Company reported no difficulty in communicating with Boston and New York. The telegraph operators of the Associated Press in "The Courier" reported serious wire disturbances. Telephone calls from the curious poured in during the evening.

As It Looked From Below.

No one cared to do anything for the moment but just look. Words were superfluous and attempted description unnecessary. The sky was awash with a milky sheen, which danced and writhed in spirals and glittering points of color. Some compared it to a ur-tain of the filmiest lace, ruffled into fairy shapes by an arrant wind. And others thought it like a giant opal, shot with the fire of unimaginable colors stirred to its smoky depth by arrows of violet, old rose, tawny yellow with a tinge of saffron about the edges, emerald green, and every hue, and shade one might dream of.

winter. According to tables kept in New Haven September leads in the matter of frequency with November second and March and July tied for third place hence the phenomenon is in no way dependent upon the temperature. In farm lore a display is looked upon as presaging colder weather but one must regard that bit of folk lore as being unsupported by fact.

One thing may be said for the display of Monday night, that being that the aurora took every form it theatre under the direction of Wincentia opened the meeting and congratulated the council on its success. He was followed by Mayor Joseph F.

Barton of Bristol, who told several of the achievements of the council. At the close of the speeches, Judge Coogan called for three cheers from the council, which were given heartily. Joseph E. O'Neil spoke on the early history of

—[Photo by C. A. Johnstone.

March 22-23 MRS. JOHN LAIDLAW BUEL.

he twenty-seventh annual state conference of Connecticut Daughters of the American Revolution, of which Mrs. Buel is regent, is being held in North-hartford today and Wednesday, the conference being called to order at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Reports of state officers and state committees will be presented; elections of state regent, state recording secretary, treasurer and three councilors will be held; the report of the committee on revision of the state by-laws will be presented and acted upon; and such business will be transacted as is to come before this meeting. Credentials committee, Mrs. Charles H. Armstrong, chairman, will be in session through all meetings of the conference until the opening of the polls Wednesday, for the registration of delegates and the giving out of the credentials. The rules for the registration of chapters and the seating of delegates in the state conference are the same as those for the continental conference, and will govern the action of the credentials committee; also "chapters failing to pay state dues shall not be entitled to representation at the meeting of the state conference." State officers (including councilors), chapter regents, delegates and alternates will secure their credentials immediately upon arrival at the place of meeting. Faith Trumbull chapter issued the invitation to the Connecticut daughters to be guests and the sessions will be held in the Park church parish house, North-hartford. Luncheon will be served in the dining room of the parish house on Wednesday and tea will be served there this afternoon. A social hour has been provided by Faith Trumbull chapter for this evening. Following a brief business session, the regent, Miss Florence S. Marcy of North Beacon street and Mrs. Harry A. Smith of Prospect avenue are delegates. Mrs. Edwin H. Bingham of Gillett street and George H. Gilman of Lafayette street are the alternates, representing the Ruth Wyllys chapter of this city. The Martha Pitkin Wolcott chapter of East Hartford will be represented by the regent, Mrs. T. E. Carroll, Mrs. Daniel P. Bidwell, Miss Mary Isabel Corning, Miss Jessie W. Hayden, Mrs. Charles C. Henner, Mrs. Harriett Killbourne, Mrs. George M. C. Lawton, Mrs. Joel B. Sexton and Mrs. Lucy B. Wilson, delegates and alternates.

Miss Gladys Harriet Adcock, daughter of Mrs. Dora Adcock of Vernon street, and Edwin David Wilson, son of Mrs. Albert E. Wilson of North-hartford, were married Wednesday afternoon at St. James's church by Rev. J. Frederick Sexton, assisted by Mr. Harman. The bride was attended by Miss Olive Parker as maid of honor. The best man was George A. Ward. The musical program preceding the ceremony, was furnished by Mrs. Belle Curtis Trischmann, organist of Faith Trumbull church, who played "The Wedding March" from Mendelssohn's "Midnight's Dream." The bride wore a traveling suit of violet blue, a hat to match, and her corsage was of bride roses and violets. The bridegroom wore an oxford gray with a hat to match, and a boutonniere of violets and Ophelia. The ceremony was attended by 150 guests, including relatives from Chicago, Detroit and Reading. The bride's gift to the maid of honor was a ring and the bridegroom gave gold cuff links to the best man. Mrs. and Mrs. Wilson left for a short trip to New York and Atlantic City.

"DOUG" FAIRBANKS' WIFE GETS DIVORCE

"Unknown Woman" Mentioned in Action Against Movie Star.

New Rochelle, N. Y., Nov. 30.—Beth Fairbanks was today granted an interlocutory decree of divorce from her husband, Douglas Fairbanks, well known moving picture star. The decree was granted by Supreme Justice J. Addison Young in chambers here. No alimony was ordered in the judgment, but it was ordered that Fairbanks had agreed to make his wife a large allowance. He was co-respondent in the case, being named, being classed as "an unknown woman."

Mrs. Fairbanks, who is a daughter of Dan Sully, the former cotton king, was granted the absolute custody of her child, Douglas, jr., 8 years.

The couple were married in 1907, at Watch Hill, R. I. Fairbanks did not put in any defense at the trial. After the complaint was filed against him he fled and was brought back through a New York law firm. He denied all the allegations, but he was ordered to pay further action.

The testimony was furnished by two friends of the actor, one an actor and the other a motion picture director.

MARY PICKFORD GETS HER DIVORCE

Weeps While Testifying in Court At Minden,

Reno, Nev., March 3.—Mary Pickford, motion picture star, was granted a divorce from Owen Moore last night at Minden, a small town in Carson City, on grounds of desertion. It became known today. She was married at the Campbell Ranch, nearby, since February 15. She was accompanied to the court room by her mother, Mrs. Smith, and she wept freely while testifying. Moore was not in court, though he was at Minden at lunch on Monday. He was represented by a lawyer in the proceedings. Miss Pickford is still at Genoa.

Los Angeles, Cal., March 3.—Mary Pickford, who was granted a divorce from Owen Moore at Minden, Nevada, on the grounds of desertion, was reported "out of town" at the moving picture

PICKFORD DIVORCE DENOUNCED IN NEVADA

Carson City, Nev., Jan. 3.—Mary Pickford, motion picture star, was granted a divorce from Owen Moore last night at Minden, a small town in Carson City, on grounds of desertion. It became known today. She was married at the Campbell Ranch, nearby, since February 15. She was accompanied to the court room by her mother, Mrs. Smith, and she wept freely while testifying. Moore was not in court, though he was at Minden at lunch on Monday. He was represented by a lawyer in the proceedings. Miss Pickford is still at Genoa.

MARY PICKFORD'S DIVORCE UPHOLD

Carson, Nev., May 31.—Mary Pickford's divorce from Owen Moore was sustained today when the Nevada supreme court affirmed the order of District Judge Frank P. Langan quashing service of summons in the action brought by Attorney General Fowler to set aside the decree granted the movie star.

MARY PICKFORD AGAIN A BRIDE

Mot:

comes Wife of Douglas Fairbanks, Los Angeles,

Fairbanks a Hollywood star, day

"Mary and Doug, visiting Connecticut," (right) by Miss Lydia Allen, Prospect Avenue, Hartford.

PUBLICATION IN PAPER

Minden, Nev., April 28.—As neither Mary Pickford nor Owen Moore are in Nevada to be served with summons in the state's suit to set aside the divorce decree granted to Miss Pickford, Judge Langan in the district court here today signed an order directing service by publication for six weeks in a Gardnerville paper, copies of which are to be sent to the two at Hollywood, Cal. Miss Pickford is referred to in the order as "Gladys M. Moore, known as Gladys M. Fairbanks." Her lawyers let it be known that they will contend service by publication is insufficient.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 31.—Mary Pickford's divorce from Owen Moore was sustained today when the Nevada supreme court affirmed the order of District Judge Frank P. Langan quashing service of summons in the action brought by Attorney General Fowler to set aside the decree granted the movie star.

"MARY" AND "DOUG" GUESTS NEXT WEEK OF WINCHELL ST MARY PICKFORD

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 23, 1923

"I hate to spoil a good story," she laughed, "but my motto is truth, first, last and all the time. Everything I bought in Paris"—she paused, and her lips moved in quick calculation—

DOUG SR. CONGRATULATES SON UPON FIRST PICTURE

BACK TO THE UNITED STATES AND GLAD OF IT.

lousy be-sr., and ofore the er of his
w father
out son's
eps Out."
ntly completed at the Paramount West Coast studio, was shown privately to Doug, sr., a few days ago and he wired the boy in New York that he is proud of him. Young Doug was present in person at the opening of the picture Sunday at the Rivoli theater, New York.

Handmade, you know, with handmade lace and embroidery. (them are of a new material, ing between crepe de chine and e." they the filmy kind which, ac- the cables, are delivered to in an ordinary corre- ope?" I asked.

more like the Queen little Pollyanna like ed. "No, I haven't am afraid. But w you what I hanger a nk, with he ex- ver- all-

The American boy of the silver sheet is Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., shown with his mother, Mrs James Evans (Paramount)

Los Angeles, February 1.—Between her husband and her son, Mrs. James Evans, jr., made the age-old decision of mothers. She has parted from her husband, whom she married shortly after her divorce from Douglas Fairbanks, sr. Her act was a deliberate choice between her life to her husband or to her son's future, Mrs. Evans declared. Douglas Fairbanks, jr., 15 years old, has just made a successful entry into the movies, following in his famous dad's footsteps. His first picture, "Stephen taps Out" was well received by critics, particularly as a first performance, and predicted a career as an actor for the boy.

On your new things announced to I protested. "Rock-a-bye, Baby, on the 1923

Queen
ry of the es" and her
l. Doug Fair-are back London
again

©
Moody
Cry.

Mary Pickford

SUPPLEMENT OF T

Groups Players Star

DOUG'S AND MARY'S THREATENED LIBEL SUIT HELD USELESS

Motion Picture Colony Dubious
as to Helpfulness of News
Given Out by Press Agent.

BY FORREST WHITE.

(Special Correspondent of The Times)
(Copyright, 1923, by The Times.)

Los Angeles, November 2.

If Douglas Fairbanks and Mary Pickford are truly actuated by a desire to protect others in the motion picture industry in their determination to bring suit for libel against an eastern film fan magazine for publishing a yarn that the Pickford-Fairbanks marital entente cordiale had been severely strained over the beautiful Evelyn Brent, they are engaged upon a thankless and seemingly hopeless task.

Members of the motion picture colony are wondering whether this move by Doug and Mary is really good press stuff. Foolish, of course, but, then, the thing was beautifully staged out at the Fairbanks-Pickford studio.

Reporters had assembled on the promise of big doings. Doug, undergoing a rubdown at the hands of his trainers, received them and had his say. Then Mary—charming Mary—in quaint costume of an olden day—backed up by the ever-present "Ma" (Pickford) Smith, appeared in a becoming doorway and had her little say.

Press Agent in Charge.

To-day, however, the press agent that staged the very successful affair at the studio is in full charge of the whole show, issuing statements and bringing up reinforcements in fresh material to keep the story going.

Strangely enough, neither Miss Brent nor her husband, B. P. Fineman, also her manager, appears to be greatly agitated over the proposed libel action. They are in sympathy with Doug and Mary, and Miss Brent strangely resents the use of her name as a peg over which to hang a story of disagreement between Fairbanks and Pickford. They are perfectly willing to aid in the prosecution of the suit, if it is brought, but they are not wildly excited about it.

Marguerite De La Mott, another beautiful leading lady who worked with Doug in pictures, whose name also was mentioned as having caused grief between Doug and Mary, is not at all sure that she wants anything to do with the libel suit, despite the earnest efforts of the Fairbanks-Pickford press agent to bring her in.

The story was simply that Mary Pickford's objections to Miss Brent as a member of her husband's company had led to a strained relation between Mary and Doug and that Miss Brent had been forced to retire from Doug's company without even an opportunity to play a part and that dissension over Miss Brent had led to a separation between Mary and Doug.

Here is the "hard boiled" motion picture "thinker's" view of the situation. Every studio is a rumor factory. News gatherers who make the rounds of the studios have been taught respect for these rumors. Gossip is also in their line, particularly if they write for the film fans. The rumor about Doug and Mary did go the rounds. They admit themselves that it was in circulation.

Libel Hard to Prove.

Libel is a tricky thing to fight under the law. Not only must damages be proved, but the question of animus, prejudice or bias is also likely to enter into the case. Take, for instance, some four or five years ago, when Mary Pickford and Douglas Fairbanks were both married, but not to each other. There was a rumor around the studios that they were to be married. Mrs. Fairbanks obtained a divorce. Then Mary Pickford obtained a divorce in a manner that was open to question by the courts of Nevada.

Mary Pickford returned to Los Angeles. She was met by reporters. They wanted to know—persistently wanted to know, whether she was to marry Fairbanks. Mary told them they were cruel even to suggest such a thing, and "Ma" (Pickford) Smith asked if they couldn't see that they were breaking Mary's poor young heart, and routed them with ready and appropriate language. The matter was spread in the public prints. But there was no suit for libel. And Mary did become Mrs. Douglas Fairbanks.

So much for rumors. As for Miss Brent, she is American born, but more English than American in type, manners and language. She is an opposite mold from Mary, intensive and non-Pollyannaic. She is interested in her art—not in rumors or gossip, or the family affairs of others. Her husband is a business man.

"FAUNTLEROY" FILMED

MISS PICKFORD AS MOTHER AND
LAD

Doubled Parts in Which She Excels Her Recent Work—Additions That Really Add—Cedric and "Dearest" Set in the Days and Ways of New York in 1895—
Fresh and Pleasing Inventions

CAREFULLY and cleverly set in the piping times of '95, when horse-cars jangled through Manhattan, small boys pursued ice wagons and prize-fighters and their adherents paraded before brown-stone fronts, "Little Lord Fauntleroy," once story, then play, now motion picture, comes to the Selwyn. Welcome illusion rests with these days and ways, with hansom cabs, high-wheeled bicycles, and bustles. Fauntleroy of 1895 is picturesque figure; Fauntleroy of today would be unbelievable. But it does not do to inquire too closely into the workings of Mrs. Burnett's tale; the happy coincidences, the virtuous personages. If one would have "Fauntleroy," here it is, undoubtably fortunate in the miming of Miss Pickford, exact as to most details, and skillfully spiced and garnished by Jack Pickford and his associate director. For once, at least, the invention of the motion-picture mind has proved beneficent, and Mr. Pickford's trimmings—a fight, a scene of hair-cutting, better and brighten the sentimentalities of the story. Even now, it seems, there are good "adaptors." For lest "Fauntleroy" drop to the banal, the super-sentimental, star and director have labored to give awkward movements their meed of verisimilitude, to conceive the bevelveted hero as other than posturing prig, to make scene and setting more than mere drab background. And so have labored the composers of the music. Airs of the times: "The Sidewalks of New York," "Annie Rooney," and many another bit have been snugly fitted, to succeed and precede more weighty matter.

Yet "Little Lord Fauntleroy" is distinctly Miss Pickford's film. Not since "Op o' My Thumb" or "Suds" as the screen called it, has she done so well, not since the days of "Stella Maris" have her talents been so laid under contribution. The dual part in "Fauntleroy" tries her mettle and finds her not wanting. Miss Pickford as the many-curved Cedric is not one whit akin to "Dearest." The latter part finds her grown in stature, more full as to face, different in every pose and posture. Here with Fauntleroy locks. Now, at last they may gloat in revenge. Cedric's curls have fallen!

If Miss Pickford and her brother have so succeeded with their own inventions, they have done no less well when they follow Mrs. Burnett. The old earl seems to step from an illustration by Reginald Birch; the castle is entirely believable, and New York of '95 sheds more than passing glory. Indeed, it is difficult to pick flaws in Fauntleroy as Fauntleroy. As film, it maintains no swift pace, but the halts, the faults, are those of the original story, not the limitations of star, of director, or yet photographer. For photography, harsh and soft, goes a pleasant way through the film. Arch and buttress of the castle throw deep shadow, an open fire sends pointed flickerings of light back and forth across a darkened room, face and figure stand out boldly, but not rudely. There are composition; there is play of light and shade. Scenes have welcome height and depth; detail is circumspectly seen. Never does the wizardry of double exposure seem "trick photography"; rather is it a matter of finished artistry impeccable in detail.

Inequality in the flooring may serve to lessen Miss Pickford's stature, but not all the djinns of the Arabian Nights could show her two selves, face to face, as it were. And if the credit of this be due to the camera it is due in even larger degree to Miss Pickford herself. The halves, the whole, are perfect. "Dearest," the timid, the fragile, the lady-like, might well stand alone as excellent characterization, not only as excellent work for Miss Pickford, but for any mime, stage or screen. Yet this is only a supplement, as it were to Fauntleroy himself. Less opportunity perhaps, Miss Pickford has as "Dearest"; yet does her better, finer work. She makes the mother a delicate, elusive creature; of Fauntleroy, a robust youngster, picturesque in velvet and feathered hat. A less clever actress would have depicted a Fauntleroy, as he was ever dangerously near becoming, half Pollyanna and half-prig. In like case, the part of "Dearest," might well have been blurred. Obviously Fauntleroy is no impossible part for a woman to play: Elsie Leslie proved that long ago. Certainly, Miss Pickford is in no such desperate case as Shirley Mason, who succeeded in miming a convincing Jim in "Treasure Island," only by sheer force of characterization, overcoming a total lack of resemblance.

Miss Pickford, duly ornamented with the velveteens and lace collar, with her hand on the head of the St. Bernard, might well have stepped out of Mrs. Burnett's pages pictorially. Her figure, her face, serve as Fauntleroy's even as well as they serve as those of "Dearest." Such felicity in

MARCH 23, 1924. 7

Above — MARY PICKFORD in "Dorothy Vernon of Haddon Hall," her latest picture, released through United Artists Corporation.

Mary Pickford and Douglas Fairbanks made their debut as radio speakers the other night.

MARY PICKFORD
 MARY PICKFORD
 IN "ROSITA"
 RD IN GROWNUP ROLE

ES ROSITA, DRUGS
 to spare Don Diego's life, the patient y
 suffering of her plea to this monarch, ir drunk with power and infatuation, of secretly wed to Don Diego, Count of Alcala, whom he has sentenced to dominant Queen in "Rosita." Miss

TRUE BROTHERS, Jewelers.

Smith college dramatic association presented "Helena's Husband" as their late play. Left to right: Audrey Josephthal as Analytikos, Grace Lowe as Menelaus, Glad Platter as Paris and Helen Carroll as Helena.

Give

dainty Blouse

(imported from France)

We have scores of adorable creations
prices incredibly low

And of course she
be delighted with a

Hand-made Bag

Bag :: :: :: ::
-here priced from twenty five

Mail Orders filled
with painstaking care

Bridge Street, 334
Springfield

